

The Lord 241

Chapter 241: King Remnant Soul

Zhao Fu temporarily didn't have time to look at these four items. He put them into his King's Ring for now before turning his gaze to the other battles.

First, there were countless soldiers at the left side of the passage, and the blood-red eagle was helping them. They were killing most of the Skeletons that were charging at them.

Below, the ground was littered with bones, all of them from Skeleton soldiers. They had fallen from ten or so meters up, and without their deathly aura supporting them, they became incredibly brittle and shattered easily. The bones of tens of thousands of Skeletons piled together was quite an awesome sight.

Out of the three Skeleton Generals, the first one to be killed was the Skeleton Archer General. It had originally been suppressed by Zhang Dahu and Old Logue, and with the Black and White Impermanences joining in, its fate had been decided.

In the end, the ones who had killed it were the Black and White Impermanences! The Skeleton Archer General was shot by an arrow from Zhang Dahu and stumbled backward, falling to the side. The Black and White Impermanences suddenly hugged together and waved their wooden sticks simultaneously, causing the image of a gray wooden stick that was half a meter wide and ten meters long to suddenly attack. The image slammed down on the Skeleton General, and the massive force crushed the Skeleton Archer General's body immediately.

After killing the Skeleton Archer General, they picked up the items that it dropped and walked towards Zhao Fu. As they moved, their large breasts rippled, making them seem extremely seductive.

Zhao Fu had ignored them before, and only now did he realize how shocking they were. Their clothes were unable to keep their breasts steady, and their breasts shook greatly as they walked. Zhao Fu couldn't help but feel his gaze attracted to them.

Hei Xiaojie detected Zhao Fu's gaze and smiled as she looked at him flirtatiously. Following this, Zhao Fu came back to his senses and looked at the other battles.

Saar slashed down with his large saber towards the Skeleton Shieldbearer General, causing it to bring with it a large ray of saber light. The Skeleton General used its shield to block as Doke attacked from the other side. His spear stabbed out suddenly, the spearhead giving off a cold light as it pierced towards the back of the Skeleton General's head.

The Skeleton General could only use its saber to block when suddenly, a massive figure appeared behind it. The Goblin Warrior, Lakje, raised his two-meter tall shield before slamming it down on the Skeleton General, and the massive force sent the Skeleton General flying backward.

Standing by the side, a white light appeared around Daisy, and she exuded a pure and holy aura as she lifted her hand and pointed towards the Skeleton General. A white light shot out, instantly reaching the Skeleton General.

Boom!!!

The white light split into seven rings and slammed against the Skeleton General. A massive explosion rang out as the Skeleton General's body collapsed and scattered in all directions.

Finally, Zhao Fu's gaze fell on the Skeleton Cavalry General. This Skeleton General was riding on its Skeleton horse and looked wretched as it was chased by the ten King's Undead Cavalrymen.

In the end, the ten King's Undead Cavalrymen caught up to it and once again encircled it. The Skeleton General unleashed a gray deathly aura from its body and swept out with its spear, bringing with it a powerful spear light, wanting to knock the King's Undead Cavalry and escape from the encirclement.

However, the ten King's Undead Cavalrymen's bodies shined with a faint golden light, and they simultaneously raised their spears and ignored the Skeleton General's spear light as they simultaneously thrust out.

Boom!!!

Ten golden spears, bringing with them a sharp golden light, pierced through the air and stabbed through various places on the Skeleton General's body.

The spirit flame in the Skeleton General's head violently trembled before finally extinguishing, and its body collapsed and fell from the Skeleton horse. Seeing this, the Skeleton horse whinnied sadly and chose to die as well; its spirit flame continuously grew smaller and smaller until it disappeared, and its body also collapsed.

This horse was quite loyal – it died with its master when they were both alive, and now, it chose to die with him again.

Following this, they cleaned up the rest of the Skeletons before collecting the spoils.

There were 136 casualties on Great Qin's side, and there were 1,300 soldiers who were injured. There weren't as many deaths as expected, and this was thanks to their preparations and the blood-red eagle. Without these things, Great Qin's casualties would have been far greater.

Comparatively speaking, their gains were far greater. They obtained 80,000 pieces of Normal grade equipment, 41,000 pieces of Blue grade equipment, 3,200 pieces of Silver grade equipment, eight pieces of Gold grade equipment, and one piece of Legendary grade equipment.

The reason why there were so many pieces of equipment despite there only being 50,000 or so Skeletons was because each of the Skeletons carried multiple pieces of equipment, whether it was armor or weapons.

However, by this point in time, equipment wasn't as important to Great Qin because they obtained 40,000 pieces of Silver grade equipment during the Ghost Festival. Now, each of the 20,000 Great Qin soldiers had at least two pieces of Silver grade equipment.

The equipment wasn't as attractive to Zhao Fu, but there was something else that greatly excited Zhao Fu – those were Soldier Souls. This time, they had obtained 178 Soldier Souls, and adding on the ones they had from before, he now had enough to fuse two General Armaments.

This made Zhao Fu feel incredibly excited – the value of two General Armaments was simply incredible. For now, he ordered the soldiers to construct some stairs to the bottom in preparation to start mining this large energy stone mine.

Afterward, Zhao Fu went to the bottom of the energy stone mine and stretched out his hand to touch a large vein of energy stones. This wasn't just a large energy stone but a super-large mine, and its value was many times that of the Bronze Concentrate Mine. With this energy stone mine, everything that he had done was worth it.

Zhao Fu returned to the surface feeling quite reassured, and he turned his gaze to the items that the Skeleton Generals had dropped. The Skeleton Archer General, Skeleton Shieldbearer General, and the Skeleton Cavalry General had each dropped four items.

First, each of their weapons was Half-Legendary grade equipment, and the weapons had most likely been Half-Epic grade weapons before.

They also dropped exquisite Refined Martial Souls that could give S grade skills and three Undead General Profession Change Stones. They would allow three people to become Undead Generals just like Li Wen. There were also three General Souls, which could also be fused into a General Armament.

What surprised Zhao Fu was that even the Skeleton Cavalry General's horse had dropped something – it was a Horse Jade Soul.

Horse Jade Souls were important for Horse Dens, as they could increase the number of horses that spawned per day and the strength of horses. It was a very good item, and its stats were the same as the Horse Jade Soul that Zhao Fu had obtained before.

Finally, the Skeleton Commander that had wielded the crystal sword also dropped four items.

The first was that crystal sword. It looked incredibly beautiful and gave off a faint crystalline light, and the blade was transparent. The blade was three finger widths wide and 1.3 meters long, and its style was quite western, looking like a cross.

[Earth Crystal God Sword]: Grade: Legendary, Stats: Strength +20, Intelligence +10, Constitution +12, Agility +11, Description: A famous sword in ancient times that has become Legendary grade due to the passage of time. This sword contains [Holy Crystal's Power].

Chapter 242: Abnormal Sign

Zhao Fu had personally experienced the might of this sword, and whether if it was its stats or destructive might, it was much better than normal Legendary grade weapons – as expected from a weapon that had once been Epic grade.

Zhao Fu didn't plan to use this sword, and he decided to leave it for Wei Liao to fuse into a General Armament. With this sword's strength, if it could become a General Armament, its might would become many times more terrifying. This was something that Zhao Fu looked forward to greatly.

Wang Jian had a Half-Legendary grade sword, and comparatively speaking, it was a bit lacking to be used to fuse a General Armament.

Zhao Fu thought to the Ghost Strengthening Stones that he had remaining and decided to use them. After all, they had obtained Wang Jian's sword from the underground region, and it contained a dense deathly aura. After being initially strengthened, it had become a Half-Legendary grade weapon, and its attributes were most likely suitable for Ghost Strengthening Stones to be used on it. Zhao Fu would take care of this later.

His gaze now fell on the second item – it was a golden orb of light that was about as big as a fist that seemed to have a dragon swimming around within it.

This dragon looked like a divine dragon, but the difference was that its horns were straight. It also had a pair of wings with golden feathers, and its eyes gave off a serious and dangerous aura.

Zhao Fu looked at this golden orb and had thought that it would have a human figure within it like Soldier Souls, but he found that it was actually a dragon. He held the orb in his hand and felt a powerful might within it – Zhao Fu was quite familiar with this power, as it was the same as the power that came from his King's Ring.

Zhao Fu fused the King's Ring using the Ancient King Armament Shard, which contained immense Ancient King's Power. This orb also gave off that sort of Ancient King's Power, but there was less King's Power within this orb than within the Shard. Moreover, even though they were both King's Power, they were from different sources.

Finally, Zhao Fu had also seen that dragon on many pieces of equipment that they had obtained from the underground region. Even the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation had this dragon's picture on it.

Suddenly, the dots all connected for Zhao Fu – he realized that this underground region was something that a powerful empire in the ancient times had left behind.

Zhao Fu knew very little about this empire, but he could tell how powerful it had been just from the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation alone. Moreover, the surrounding ten-kilometer radius area was filled with the skeletons of all sorts of powerful beings – Dragons, Angels, Demons, High Elves, and some other strange races. If this wasn't a good indicator of the strength of this empire, what was?

Zhao Fu suddenly felt a trace of danger towards the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation, feeling that it could be both a blessing and a curse. This empire had most likely fallen a long time ago. Zhao Fu had no way of telling how, but he was determined to find more information about it in the future.

Following this, he looked at the orb's stats:

[King Remnant Soul]: A powerful soul of someone directly descended from a Royal Bloodline created after death. This item contains King's Power and can be used to strengthen other items. It is the core item for fusing a King Armament.

“Fusing a King Armament requires a King Remnant Soul?” Before, Zhao Fu had thought that he would be able to fuse a King Armament out of an ordinary piece of equipment after gathering 24 General Armaments.

Within its sword, the Sky Demon stared at the King Remnant Sword, its saliva pouring from its mouth onto the ground. It had been greatly attracted by the General Soul, and this King Remnant Soul was much more attractive to it.

Detecting the Sky Demon’s gaze, Zhao Fu immediately put the King Remnant Soul into his King’s Ring and said without any room for negotiation, “Don’t even think about it! It’s impossible!”

The Sky Demon yelled unhappily before retreating angrily into the depths of the sword.

Following this, Zhao Fu turned his gaze to the third item. The item looked like an eyeball, but it was made out of crystal. It didn’t look like it had been carved; rather, it seemed to be like a person’s eyeball.

[Crystalrealm Eye of Destruction]: An eyeball created through special means that has an extremely powerful eye technique sealed within it. It is a very dangerous item.

“A very dangerous item?” Within the Heaven Awaken World, very few things were labeled as a ‘very dangerous item’ – only items with extremely terrifying power would have such a description. For example, the Ancient King Armament Shard that Zhao Fu had obtained had also been described as such – did that mean this eyeball had a similar power?

This seemed to be a single-use item, and because Zhao Fu had no idea how powerful it was, he could only put it away for now.

Finally, Zhao Fu looked at the fourth item.

This item was a dagger that was completely black and seemed to be made of iron or stone. It felt abnormally cold to the touch as if it was filled with an icy aura that would suddenly rush into one’s body. In fact, it even affected one’s vitality, and Zhao Fu immediately used his King’s Power to defend against that energy. He also noticed that there were many gray runes on the dagger.

This dagger was quite strange, and even when he was just holding it in his hand, it was already messing with his vitality. Once one’s vitality was completely disrupted or destroyed, one would die.

[Death Dagger]: A forbidden item that contains a large amount of deathly aura and has many forbidden curses. It is extremely lethal, and it can instantly destroy one’s vitality and kill (This dagger can only be used five times, and it costs one’s lifespan each time it is used. This dagger has already been used once and can still be used four times).

It seemed that this dagger was indeed quite monstrous – no wonder Zhao Fu had felt it interfering with his vitality when he had first touched it. That was most likely the massive deathly aura.

Zhao Fu felt that this dagger was very powerful, and it would be a great tool to use to assassinate someone. However, the cost to use it was quite great, and it could only be used five times in total. One’s lifespan determined how long one could live for in the Heaven Awaken World, and once one reached the end of one’s lifespan, one would get sick or die from old age in the Heaven Awaken World.

Looking at the Death Dagger in his hand, a plan formed within Zhao Fu's mind. This plan was incredibly shameless, sinister, and cruel, but it was still a plan that he wanted to use.

After Zhao Fu put the Death Dagger away, it was time for the exciting event. Zhao Fu took out 200 Soldier Souls and called Wang Jian and Wei Liao over to an empty plot of land.

"Wang Jian, give me your sword for a moment," Zhao Fu said with a smile.

Wang Jian understood what was about to happen, and he looked ecstatic. He drew his sword and respectfully handed it to Zhao Fu.

After receiving it, Zhao Fu took out a few Ghost Strengthening Stones and started to use them on Wang Jian's sword. The Ghost Strengthening Stones turned into traces of ghostly qi before entering the sword.

After using a few Ghost Strengthening Stones, the sword became an ordinary Legendary grade sword. It was now gray and gave a cold and eerie feeling when holding it.

Now, it was time to fuse the Soldier Souls.

Chapter 243: Chaos on Earth

Zhao Fu quickly fused the 100 Soldier Souls into ten Divine Soldier Souls and then gave the sword back to Wang Jian for him to complete the final steps.

Wang Jian walked up with a serious expression, and the ten Divine Soldier Souls shined with a brilliant white light and floated into the air, forming a circle with him at the center.

The light that the Divine Soldier Souls gave off became brighter and brighter and more and more piercing until they formed ten massive orbs of light, seeming to call and respond to each other.

BOOM!!! __

A grand explosion sounded out as the ten massive balls of light exploded with an awesome power, causing the heavens and earth to tremble.

In that instant, the clouds swirled, and the heavens and earth dimmed as a massive storm gathered around Wang Jian and erupted outwards. Sand and small rocks flew into the air as large trees trembled, making it seem as if there was some sort of natural disaster.

At that moment, the ten orbs of light condensed into the figures of ten soldiers, which then dissolved into traces of violet aura.

BOOM!! __

Yet another explosion rang out as a gigantic violet star, giving off a noble-looking starlight and a mighty aura, appeared above Great Qin.

As soon as this abnormal sign appeared, countless espers and ability-users from various factions detected something and hurried outside to look at the resplendent star in the sky.

In the center of the storm, under the violet star, Wang Jian raised his Legendary grade sword and yelled as countless traces of black aura streamed out from his body.

BOOM!!!

A massive sound that sounded as if something had been destroyed rang out as a black pillar of light shot out from Wang Jian's body and shot upwards towards that massive violent star.

The terrifying black pillar of light shot into the violet star, causing the noble-looking violet star to be dyed black in an instant. It now gave off a shocking black light and an icy killing intent that couldn't be restrained, and it seemed to want to destroy everything.

The countless people who were watching the violet star turn black felt their pupils constrict as they cried out in shock, "Army Destroyer!"

Out of all of the General Stars, the Army Destroyer Star was the most devastating star. It had incredible battle strength and destroyed all of its enemies. Wherever the Army Destroyer Star attacked, nothing would be able to stop it; everything in its path would be destroyed.

In history, Wang Jian's General Star had been the Army Destroyer Star – indeed, only someone with the Army Destroyer Fate could destroy five states and end that warring period.

Boom!!!

An explosion sounded out as a black pillar of starlight also descended from the sky and covered Wang Jian's body, causing the air to explode and sending ripples in all directions. Zhao Fu had long since prepared for that and used his King's Domain to defend against that energy.

Under the black pillar of starlight, Wang Jian started to change. As the starlight entered his body, he began to give off a terrifying aura that seemed to cause the air to freeze.

An air of savageness appeared about Wang Jian as traces of black aura came from his body – this was the Army Destroyer baleful aura. This aura made it feel as if he was a spear of destruction that nothing could defend against.

At that moment, the ten orbs of light drew towards Wang Jian and entered the sword that he was raising.

The gray sword was first turned into a majestic violet color before turning completely black and giving off a powerful attacking aura, and the words 'Army Destroyer' were inscribed on the blade.

Finally, the Army Destroyer Sword took form!

The black pillar of starlight gradually became smaller before disappearing, and the black star in the sky also gradually faded away.

Countless people stared at the Army Destroyer Star, feeling quite shocked inside. However, they weren't as shocked as when the Seven Murders Star had appeared – now that someone's General Star had already returned, it wasn't as shocking anymore.

However, it was still the Army Destroyer Star, one of the three Great General Stars, so countless people still paid attention to it and tried to guess who it was that had done this. What everyone cared about even more was that the Army Destroyer had yet again appeared in the north.

Could it be that the Army Destroyer Star was linked to Great Qin?

After not making a lot of noise in a while, Great Qin's fame had been gradually overshadowed by other things. Now that Great Qin had fallen silent, the other factions were able to let out a breath of relief.

However, now that the Army Destroyer Star had appeared, all of the factions couldn't help but gnash their teeth and wonder why Great Qin couldn't just give it a rest and had to make them so anxious all of the time.

Of course, whether it was the Seven Murders Star or the Army Destroyer Star, it was possible that they didn't belong to Great Qin – this was something that very few people could verify.

However, the places where they had appeared was simply too strange – they had both appeared in the northern area of the Midland Continent. In that region, the most powerful and mysterious faction was clearly Great Qin!

No matter what happened there, everyone couldn't help but think about Great Qin. Many of the factions in the north were able to develop in relative peace because they had Great Qin as a deterrent. This was especially so for some of the weaker factions that could secretly develop; this was quite a benefit for them.

Within Holy Light City's Westfall Restaurant, He Xianru was wearing an elegant but simple-looking purple dress as she stood at the top of the building and looked at the disappearing Army Destroyer Star. She slightly smiled and looked down at the long strands of Fate around her that looked like dragons – they had become stronger yet again. They hadn't increased in number but had rather increased in quality and strength.

"I await that day to come!" He Xianru looked away as she smiled and muttered to herself.

In another region, Zhang Heng was riding on his donkey when he suddenly looked into the distance and lightly laughed, "Great Qin has obtained another General Star, and it's the unstoppable Army Destroyer. Adding on the Seven Murders, I'm afraid no one will be able to stop them in the future.

"Senior apprentice brother, looks like you've made quite some trouble for yourself this time. I wonder if he can neutralize this danger? If he can't, even if master shows up, he might not necessarily be able to protect him."

At another place within the Midland Continent, Su Yan was wearing white clothes and had a folded fan in his hand as he stood at the summit of a mountain. He looked into the horizon with a serious look before laughing and saying, "Great Qin, you're indeed very powerful, and things have become difficult for me. However, I like it more like this! Great Qin really hasn't disappointed me; the more powerful it is the better. Only then will I use my full strength to fight against it and destroy it."

Si Ji, Di Wutian, Ji Shenming, and Liu Ye all looked towards the north, remaining silent. After a while, they turned to the people next to them and asked how they too could have their Generals' stars return to them.

All of the espers and ability-users could only bitterly shake their heads. Ever since the Seven Murders Star had descended, they had been trying all sorts of methods to unseal General Stars, but they all failed.

Just as everyone was about to look away, a gigantic violet star once again descended, but it immediately transformed into a resplendent green star.

This caused countless peoples' bodies to freeze as they once again looked at the sky in the north in shock.

Chapter 244: Myrtle Imperial Star

The green star in the north didn't hang far away, and it instead seemed incredibly close to the ground. The shining green light gave off a mysterious and cold feeling.

"Voracious Wolf!" countless espers and ability-users exclaimed as they stared with wide eyes. Not just these people, but even He Xianru, Zhang Heng, and Su Yan's expressions changed as they once again looked towards the north.

The other four Legatees of the five Great Dynasties also looked extremely shocked as they discovered the green star.

Below the green star, Wei Liao raised the Earth Crystal God Sword and raised it towards the Voracious Wolf Star as a green pillar of light fell on his body.

The Voracious Wolf Star signified strategy, resourcefulness, intelligence, and wisdom. However, there was also a sinister and cruel side to it, and while it couldn't compare to the Seven Murders Star or the Army Destroyer Star in power, those who had it as their General Star were extremely adept at creating sinister plots.

Wei Liao didn't have much fighting power, but very few could compare to his war management and strategies. He had a pair of eyes that seemed to be able to see past anything, and he could devise countless strategies and plots, allowing his side to win in the end. This made him very suitable for the Voracious Wolf Star.

Within the green starlight pillar, Wei Liao also underwent shocking changes. His aura became more powerful, and his eyes became green and gave off a chilling feeling, making anyone who saw him feel that he was extremely dangerous.

At the same time, traces of green aura appeared around Wei Liao – this was the Voracious Wolf baleful aura, and even though it wasn't very powerful, it was extremely hard to deal with and to get rid of.

The 13 General Stars all had their own baleful auras, and each of them had their own effects. This sort of General baleful aura was much more powerful than a normal soldier's baleful aura.

The green starlight pillar around Wei Liao gradually shrank, and the ten orbs of light in the air also slowly moved towards Wei Liao and fused into the Earth Crystal God Sword.

The originally transparent Earth Crystal God Sword, under the influence of the Voracious Wolf's power, became green, and it gave off a cold and mysterious aura, making it seem like an otherworldly sword. The words 'Voracious Wolf' were also engraved on the sword, turning the Earth Crystal God Sword into the Voracious Wolf Sword.

As the green starlight disappeared, the abnormal signs also gradually disappeared as well. After his experience with the Seven Murders Star, Zhao Fu had decided to fuse these General Armaments far away from the rest of the Great Qin Town. Not only were the abnormal signs quite terrifying, but they would also damage many of Great Qin's structures, creating a lot of debris.

Suddenly, just as Zhao Fu wanted to look at the Voracious Wolf Sword's stats, he realized that the green star in the sky still hadn't disappeared, and it was instead slowly descending as if affected by some sort of power.

Suddenly, Wang Jian and Bai Qi's Army Destroyer Sword and Seven Murders Sword gave off piercing black and blood-red lights, and a formless Fate energy descended. Wang Jian and Bai Qi were unable to control their bodies, and they pulled out the Army Destroyer Sword and the Seven Murders Sword and pointed them towards the sky.

BOOM!!!

A massive explosion sounded out as a blood-red pillar and a black pillar of light exploded out from Bai Qi and Wang Jian and rushed up into the clouds with great force.

The heavens and earth seemed to shake, and the surrounding clouds completely dissipated.

A blood-red star giving off a murderous air and a black star giving off a conquering air rippled with immense power and slowly descended from above, hanging at the same height as the Voracious Wolf Star.

The Seven Murders Star, the Army Destroyer Star, and the Voracious Wolf Star were all close to each other and shined with a resplendent light as a formless energy spread out.

Boom!!!

An explosion sounded out as if something had been destroyed, and a massive number of clouds started to gather. A wild gale also started to blow, and it seemed as if the entire Heaven Awaken World was being buffeted by that wind as countless tall trees trembled and swayed.

The sky gradually darkened, and it wasn't just the Chinese region or the Midland Continent that darkened but the entire Heaven Awaken World as a heavy feeling of suppression descended.

The countries outside of China had no idea what was going on, but they could see in the distance that there were three stars giving off green, black, and blood-red lights.

Tina Pendragon, the Roman Empire's Legatee, Egypt's Legatee, and countless Legatees all over the world felt an incredibly dangerous aura, and their gazes became dim. They all lost their composure as they looked at the three stars shining in the distance.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Sparks of lightning appeared in the sky, and they brought with them an incredibly dangerous aura, which grew more and more. Soon, lightning bolts that were thicker than buckets descended and repeatedly smashed down onto the ground.

It seemed as if the entire world was going to be destroyed, and countless beings trembled under this terrifying might and felt the aura of death creeping close.

There was a legend that said when the Seven Murders Star, the Voracious Wolf Star, and the Army Destroyer Star were gathered, they would form the 'Murder Destroyer Wolf' formation.

The Seven Murders was the bandit who threw the world into disorder!

The Army Destroyer was the general who swept across the world!

The Voracious Wolf was the scholar who created sinister and vicious plots!

Now that these three stars had gathered and formed the Murder Destroyer Wolf formation, the world would be sent into great chaos. War would erupt all over the world, with battles and disasters happening continuously. Many people would find it difficult to live, and this was something that was irreversible!

Because Zhao Fu had gathered these three General Stars and the General Armaments had returned to Zhao Fu's three Generals, they had formed the Murder Destroyer Wolf formation.

"Arghhhh!!!"

Under the three massive General Stars, Bai Qi, Wang Jian, and Wei Liao seemed to be guided by some sort of power, and they simultaneously roared, invigorating the General Star Power within their bodies, causing their veins to bulge and for their faces to look extremely savage.

BOOM!

Each of the three people exploded out with a wave of powerful energy, and when he detected this energy, even Zhao Fu was given a big fright. He stretched out his hand, and his King's Seal appeared on it as he unleashed his King's Domain with all of his might. However, he was still sent back by a step.

By now, the ground in a 100-meter radius had completely collapsed!

The three Generals' bodies lit up with blood-red, black, and green flames, and the three General Stars in the sky shined even brighter. Each of them was separate yet connected as if they were calling out to something.

BOOM!!!

A shocking explosion rang out, and the sky seemed to split as a gigantic and extremely majestic violet star of sovereignty slowly appeared in the sky.

Chi!

At that moment, countless Legatees – regardless if they were Chinese or from another nation – felt a pain in their chest as they coughed up a mouthful of blood, apart from Zhao Fu himself.

In the real world, the sky instantly darkened, making the world extremely dark, as a resplendent violet star appeared in the sky.

This shocked even many of the old monsters, seniors, and masters.

Chapter 245: Heaven Domain Boundary

“Myrtle Imperial Star!” countless elders, sect masters, and hidden experts cried out as they looked at that violet star.

The Myrtle Imperial Star represented an Emperor, and it contained boundless majesty and dignity. It represented absolute and supreme power; the power to rule the world.

Logically speaking, the Myrtle Imperial Star shouldn’t appear in the real world, as the world had become incredibly turbid and there hadn’t been true Emperors in the world for a long time.

Even though some countries still had royal or imperial families, they were mere symbols and figureheads without any actual power and thus quite different from traditional Kings and Emperors.

Of course, this had to do with the current times. Zhao Fu wasn’t sure why, but there weren’t any modern countries recognized by the Heaven Awaken World’s system.

The Myrtle Imperial Star disappeared after the Qing Dynasty, and this had heralded the end of imperialism in China. Many people expected the Myrtle Imperial Star to appear after the Heaven Awaken World devoured the real world, but never in their wildest dreams had they have expected it to appear now, and in the real world as well.

The Myrtle Imperial Star was extremely low in the sky, so it seemed enormous. Many people had no idea what it was, so they just took photos and posted them on the internet.

Many experts had no way of explaining what this star was, as it was so strange, and only some elderly people respectfully knelt down upon seeing the star.

Many young people didn’t understand why these elderly people would suddenly kneel down, and they only found out after asking. It turned out that the violet star in the sky was the Myrtle Imperial Star, and its appearance signified that someone with the Son of Heaven Fate had appeared.

However, most young people snorted and mocked the elderly people for believing in such things – they were simply a bunch of outdated and stubborn old fellows. However, these people had no idea what would happen after the Heaven Awaken World devoured the real world.

Within the Heaven Awaken World, the violet star shot down a violet pillar of starlight that covered Zhao Fu’s body. Zhao Fu felt both his body and spirit tremble – the energy from the pillar of light was extremely comfortable, and he felt as if both his body and spirit were being cleansed and evolving.

In the real world, Zhao Fu’s body, which was lying on the bed, gave off traces of noble violet aura.

At that moment, an elder wearing a white Taoist robe with a beard that reached his chest detected this violet aura and looked incredibly confused. He would never have thought that the person who had awakened the Myrtle Imperial Star would be in the Ying family.

Just who was it? Normal people wouldn't be able to awaken the Myrtle Imperial Star; at the very least, it had to be someone with a nation or state's Legacy. However, with the current situation, it had to be...

Suddenly, after connecting various dots, the Taoist realized something and felt cold sweat roll down his back – Great Qin's Legatee was incredibly devious; he had actually been hiding within the Ying family. No wonder the Ying family couldn't find him no matter where they searched!

However, the Taoist didn't dare to use any techniques to find Zhao Fu's specific location. Now that the Myrtle Imperial Star had descended, if he dared to do anything to Great Qin's Legatee, that would simply be seeking death. It was possible that he would be devoured by Fate and explode.

Within the Heaven Awaken World, Zhao Fu lightly closed his eyes and received the Myrtle Imperial Star's power. A 100-meter long black dragon appeared and circled around where Zhao Fu was.

Zhao Fu's Fate dragon was now no longer a shade but completely corporeal. It had black scales, sharp claws, a pointed horn, and a pair of eyes that gave off an air of seriousness and domineeringness as if it had a life of its own.

As Zhao Fu was enjoying the power of the Myrtle Imperial Star, the other Legatees wiped away the blood from their mouths and looked at the violet star. The Fate dragons within their bodies were curled up, not daring to move at all.

As soon as the Myrtle Imperial Star had appeared, it had brought with it a massive amount of Fate Power, causing the Fate within their bodies to shrink back and injuring them. Now, between them and Zhao Fu, it wasn't just a matter of strength but also the difference between a real dragon – a Heaven-Ordained Dragon – and a fake dragon.

Even though they had all received the legacies of nations and empires and a massive amount of Fate, without the Myrtle Imperial Star, they didn't have the right to become the rulers of the world or become a true King or Emperor.

This was a great blow to many of them, and some of them were in incredibly low spirits. They could all feel the massive suppression from the Myrtle Imperial Star in the distance.

They were all clear as to who had awoken the Myrtle Imperial Star – after all, that star was filled with Great Qin's aura.

When they thought of this, they felt quite bitter. It wasn't just the four other Legatees of the five Great Dynasties, but even Tina Pendragon's expression became quite dim.

Within a pavilion, there was also a trace of blood on Wu Qingniang's lips. Her beautiful eyes gazed at the violet star, and she felt helpless. She had once again experienced how powerful Great Qin was and felt that if Great Zhou faced off against Great Qin in the future, Great Zhou would definitely lose.

On a hill, Li Baiqing also had a trace of blood on his lips as he looked incredibly worried. He felt an immense sense of danger from Great Qin's Legatee – this was probably his greatest enemy in his lifetime!

On the Westfall Restaurant, He Xianru laughed wildly. Her cool and rational demeanor was completely gone, and there were very few things that could make her feel like this.

She had never expected that Zhao Fu would not only unlock the Seven Murders Star but also the Voracious Wolf, the Army Destroyer, and, most importantly, the Myrtle Imperial Star. This meant that he was destined to be an Emperor in the future; this was something that couldn't be changed. The other four branches of the School of Yin Yang had failed, while everything that she had done had been worth it.

Elsewhere, after steadying his emotions, a serious look appeared on Zhang Heng's face. Everyone had underestimated Great Qin and its potential, including himself. Great Qin's future was now unlimited, and he had been too self-confident.

Su Yan's expression was incredibly ugly – he had greatly underestimated Great Qin. Now that the Myrtle Imperial Star had descended, he understood that it was likely that he would lose. If he lost, his end would be quite tragic, and he started to feel much less confident. Now that Great Qin's Legatee had the Myrtle Imperial Star, even if he went through near-death experiences, he would still make it through.

Back at Great Qin, the violet pillar of starlight gradually became smaller, and Zhao Fu felt as if he had a new body. Every part of his body seemed to have been refined, and the azure sealing energy within his body had been fully erased, bringing him back to the peak of his strength.

As the violet pillar of starlight shrank, the abnormal signs also started to disappear.

Finally, just as the violet pillar of starlight became as thin as a finger, a wave of energy lightly raised Zhao Fu's right hand, and the starlight fell on the back of his hand. Zhao Fu felt a wave of pain as a mark appeared on the back of his hand.

This mark was a circle with eight mysterious and profound-looking symbols within it. They were arranged evenly around the edge of the circle, and there was a black dot in the center. Zhao Fu didn't recognize this mark, but it gave him a sense of familiarity.

Finally, the abnormal signs all disappeared, and the Myrtle Imperial Star and the other stars disappeared from the sky. At that moment, everyone in the Heaven Awaken World received two pieces of information.

Chapter 246: Calamity to the World

"System announcement! The Seven Murders Star, the Voracious Wolf Star, and the Army Destroyer Star have aligned, and the Myrtle Imperial Star has descended. The first layer of the Heaven Domain Boundary has been unlocked."

“System announcement! The Seven Murders Star, the Voracious Wolf Star, and the Army Destroyer Star have aligned, and the Myrtle Imperial Star has descended. The world will descend into chaos, and the first stage of the Chaotic World has been unlocked.”

After hearing these two system announcements, the government factions that knew what was happening grew extremely grim, while those who didn't know what was happening immediately looked into the detailed information of the system announcements.

There was no detailed explanation for the first system announcement about the Heaven Domain Boundary, so most people had no idea what it meant for the first layer of that to be unlocked.

There was detailed information on the second system announcement, the first stage of the Chaotic World. After the Chaotic World was opened, all villages, towns, and cities would have a Chaotic World Stone Stele, and attacking other factions would result in War Points, which could be used to exchange for items from the Chaotic World Stone Steles.

Taking down a Basic Village gave one War Point, taking down an Intermediate Village gave two War Points, taking down an Advanced Village gave three War Points, taking down a Basic Town gave four War Points, and so on and so forth.

The first stage of the Chaotic World evidently encouraged warfare and for people to attack each other, using massive benefits to attract people into fighting.

Even if someone was a pacifist and held on to his convictions and didn't attack others, in the face of such great benefits, others would still attack him and force him to fight back.

No one would be able to maintain righteousness in such an environment, and what was especially worrying was that this was only the first stage. That meant that there might be a second, third, fourth stage, and so on...

If the first stage was already so cruel, just how bloody would the next stages be? They would most likely be situations where anyone would be rewarded for killing. The restrictions on the system governmental factions would disappear, and they would be able to kill as they pleased. When that time came, everyone would be in danger, and there would no longer be a single safe place in the Heaven Awaken World.

After all, people would indiscriminately kill others in the face of the massive benefits, and when that time came, the Heaven Awaken World would become a world where there was no such thing as right or wrong.

Everyone looked at the description of the Chaotic World and realized just how cruel and bloody it was. Everyone became incredibly serious and started to think about the future.

Zhao Fu also received these two system announcements, and after going through them, his expression became extremely pensive. After thinking for a while, he cast this to the back of his mind as he had other things to take care of.

The first was the mark on the back of his hand.

[Earth Realm Mark]: The mark of being approved by the Earth Realm. It allows one to enter the Earth Realm's core and undergo the trial.

"Earth Realm?" Zhao Fu had never heard of that before, nor did he understand what it meant. However, after finding out that he could undergo a trial at the Earth Realm's core, he felt that it was most likely the mark for some sort of Legacy.

Even though he didn't understand it now, he would most likely work it out in the future. There was something else that was strange, which was that even though he didn't know this mark, it gave him a very strong sense of familiarity as if it had to do with his origins.

Zhao Fu simply couldn't figure it out, and he decided to stop thinking about it. He then looked at his Bloodline. Before, Zhao Fu had a Level 9 Royal Bloodline.

Each level of Bloodline was split into Upper, Middle, and Lower. Levels 6-9 were Advanced Bloodlines, and Levels 9-12 were Royal Bloodlines.

A Lower Level 9 Bloodline counted as an Advanced Bloodline, while a Middle Level 9 Bloodline was between an Advanced Bloodline and a Royal Bloodline. An Upper Level 9 Bloodline counted as a Royal Bloodline.

Before, Zhao Fu had an Upper Level 9 Royal Bloodline, and now that he had received the Myrtle Imperial Star's power, his Bloodline had also been enhanced into a Lower Level 10 Royal Bloodline.

The advancement in his Bloodline also caused Zhao Fu's King's Power to become stronger. Adding on the fact that the azure sealing energy had been erased from his body, Zhao Fu felt that even though he wouldn't be able to defeat a City Lord, he would be able to take on two Great Generals.

The black Fate dragon spiraling around Zhao Fu re-entered his body, making his aura seem even more noble and respectable. The dignified aura he gave off also made it difficult for people to look at him directly, and now, the aura about him was that of a true King.

Now, normal Legatees would feel a slight sense of inferiority before him. Even though Zhao Fu wasn't born as a King, he could now definitely be called a King.

"Congratulations, Your Majesty!" Bai Qi, Wei Liao, Wang Jian, and the other leaders came over and knelt down as they yelled in joy.

Zhao Fu also smiled – the Myrtle Imperial Star's descent had completely exceeded Zhao Fu's expectations, and he had never even given much thought to this. It was all thanks to Bai Qi, Wei Liao, and Wang Jian – without their three General Stars, his Myrtle Imperial Star wouldn't have descended.

After telling them to rise, Zhao Fu asked Wang Jian and Wei Liao to show him their General Armaments.

General Armaments required Soldier Souls, and when Soldier Souls fused to create a General Armament, they would unlock the General's Fate. The weapon would then be affected by the General Star, creating a General Armament. Because Zhao Fu didn't have the materials required to fuse a King Armament, he didn't obtain an Imperial Star Sword.

Looking at the black and green swords in his hands, the Army Destroyer Sword gave off an aura of destruction and conquest, while the Voracious Wolf Sword gave off a cold and mysterious aura. Both of them felt extremely powerful, and Zhao Fu started to look at their stats:

[Army Destroyer Sword]: Grade: Epic, Stats: Strength +28, Intelligence +15, Constitution +17, Agility +15, Description: A weapon strengthened by Ghost Strengthening Stones. After fusing with a General Armament and the power of the Army Destroyer General Star, it has become the General Armament Army Destroyer Sword.

[Voracious Wolf Sword]: Grade: Epic, Stats: Strength +20, Intelligence +25, Constitution +18, Agility +17, Description: Originally the Earth Crystal God Sword, but after fusing with a General Armament and the power of the Voracious Wolf General Star, it has become the General Armament Voracious Wolf Sword.

These two General Armaments' stats were both slightly better than the Seven Murders Sword. This was because the Seven Murders Sword had been formed from the Star Slashing Sword, which had only been Half-Legendary grade at the time.

On the other hand, the Army Destroyer Sword and Voracious Wolf Sword had both been formed from Legendary grade weapons. The Voracious Wolf Sword's stats were the best, as the Earth Crystal God Sword had originally been an Epic grade weapon.

The two swords each had six special effects. The first five, [General's Power], [General's Courage], [General's Light], [General's Soldiers], and [Soldier Aura Formation] were the same as the Seven Murders Sword.

The first four special effects could be stacked, and having three General Armaments was far more powerful than having a single one. The fifth special effect, [Soldier Aura Formation], condensed soldiers' auras into different forms – Bai Qi's was a blood-red eagle, and Zhao Fu wondered what Wang Jian and Wei Liao's would be.

Chapter 247: Regulus Sword

The two swords had different sixth special effects, which were [Destruction] and [Slyness].

These two special effects were just as powerful as the Seven Murders Sword's [Slaughter] special effect, but their uses were completely different.

[Destruction]: Causes soldiers to fall into a state where they destroy everything in front of them. They suppress defensive structures, formation arrays, and military formations. They also obtain [Army Destroyer's Power], increasing their attack damage and defense by 400%. Because the Army Destroyer's Power belongs to the Army Destroyer Star of the 13 General Stars, soldiers also receive Magic Damage -30%, Mental Damage -50%, and receive great resistance to illusions and mysterious arts.

The Destruction special effect not only gave powerful attack damage but also defense as well. Only then would the soldiers be able to destroy everything and unleash the Army Destroyer Star's full power. The power-up was weaker than what the Seven Murders Star's Slaughter gave, but the soldiers were able to maintain their rationality. Having control was always better than losing one's rationality and crazily massacring. The Seven Murders Star focused on killing, while the Army Destroyer Star focused on conquest; only by allowing soldiers to stay sane could they do this.

[Slyness]: Causes soldiers to fall into a strange state where their movements, speed, nimbleness, and strength increase. Soldiers will deal a massive amount of damage to Magic-type professions, and they also obtain [Voracious Wolf's Power] and the Voracious Wolf's Curse – any enemy they hit will be cursed. Because the Voracious Wolf's Power belongs to the Voracious Wolf Star of the 13 General Stars, soldiers also receive Magic Damage -30%, Mental Damage -50%, and receive great resistance to illusions and mysterious arts.

Slyness seemed weaker and less destructive than Slaughter and Destruction – after all, just from its name alone, one could tell that it wasn't for direct fighting but for strange and deceptive attacks.

This special effect made soldiers incredibly nimble and agile, and their attacks would carry the Voracious Wolf's Curse. This curse wasn't very powerful, but it was easy to cast and difficult to get rid of. It was one of the things that made Slyness so powerful.

After looking at the two swords' stats, Zhao Fu felt pleased and happily returned them to Wang Jian and Wei Liao. Afterward, he looked around at the desolated area around him and bitterly smiled, deciding to go even further away next time.

As the Myrtle Imperial Star in the Heaven Awaken World disappeared, the one in the real world also disappeared. Countless elders of families, sect masters, and hidden experts finally came back to their senses.

"The Myrtle Imperial Star has descended! The world will now descend into chaos!"

Normally, when the Myrtle Imperial Star descended during chaotic times, it foretold the appearance of the Son of Heaven, that the land would be united, and that peace would descend in the near future.

However, the situation right now was different – the Myrtle Imperial Star hadn't appeared for hundreds of years, and true Emperors and Kings had long since stopped existing. The world had been modernized, and there was no reason for the Myrtle Imperial Star to descend.

Perhaps it was because of the Heaven Awaken World that the Myrtle Imperial Star had descended in the real world. This foretold the fall of the modern era and the rise of the ancient world again. Emperors and Kings would rule once again, and China would rise. After not having the Myrtle Imperial Star descend for centuries, China's massive Fate had long since scattered and declined. Now that the first Myrtle Imperial Star had appeared in China, this meant that the lost Fate would start to return to China.

However, in this special period, there wouldn't be just one Myrtle Imperial Star – not only the Legatees, but any commoner could awaken a Myrtle Imperial Star as well.

This was because there were all sorts of Emperors and Kings in the past – many of them had been born as commoners, but they had become an Emperor because of the massive amount of Fate that they had gathered.

As such, the descent of the first Myrtle Imperial Star didn't signify peace but calamity to the world. These people all understand this, so they didn't hesitate to come out of hiding. Many of these people were more powerful than ordinary families – there were those who could leap onto roofs and fly over walls with their martial arts or blow a tree away with a punch.

The appearance of these people would, no doubt, cause a lot of chaos in the world. Many factions started to reveal themselves, mainly sects, ancient martial families, and hidden experts.

By revealing themselves all of a sudden, it almost caused the real world to collapse. Luckily, because of the efforts of the various other factions, they were able to stabilize the situation.

There were seven famous sects and 12 famous families – they didn't have the ambition to conquer the world and become Kings or Emperors, or they would have long since revealed themselves.

They didn't have any famed Generals in history, nor did they perform any glorious deeds. They represented the pure martial way. Some of them specialized in the art of war while others specialized in pure martial prowess.

If it wasn't for the Myrtle Imperial Star descending and heralding a time of chaos, they wouldn't have come out, and they would have remained in their mountains or forests. However, now, they could only choose to reveal themselves.

Apart from this, two super-factions that had existed for thousands of years in China also appeared.

One of them was the Ancient Clans. These Ancient Clans, being some of China's oldest Clans, had existed before even the Xia Dynasty had united the land.

They included the Fuxi Clan, the Xuanyuan Clan, the Shennong Clan, the Nuwa Clan, the Jintian Clan, the Youxiong Clan, the Shihuang Clan, the Kuafu Clan, etc...

These Ancient Clans often appeared in Chinese legends and myths – this demonstrated just how powerful and ancient they were.

If anyone from one of these Ancient Clans stepped out, anyone in China would have to give him face and treat him with respect. This was because the Ancient Clans were the seniors of everyone in China, so they had to be treated with respect.

These Ancient Clans didn't meddle in worldly affairs, and they instead lived in seclusion in mountains or forests. Many top-tier Chinese factions knew about their existence, but they didn't dare to disturb them, much less offend them. After all, they were the most powerful existences in China, and no other faction could rival them.

The other faction wasn't as famous as the Ancient Clans, as it had been hidden all this time – it was called 'Flower Moon.'

Flower Moon had existed very early on, ever since coins had been circulating. Legends said that it was created by a woman and that it primarily focused on business.

This faction could rival the Ancient Clans – it was not only incredibly ancient, but its influence also permeated every corner of China and the whole world.

Not only could its wealth rival that of nations, but it also controlled a lot of information – after all, the Heaven Awaken World forum had been created by Flower Moon. Currently, Flower Moon was more powerful than China’s military; this was sufficient evidence of just how terrifying it was.

All of this had been caused by the Myrtle Imperial Star. These factions had all come out because of one person, and that was the person with the Son of Heaven Fate. Right now, all of the factions were searching for this person, and countless Legatees also returned to the real world and desperately looked for information on Great Qin.

Right now, the Great Qin Legatee’s name had once again shaken the entire world.

Chapter 248: Chiyou Saber

As everyone started to madly search for Great Qin’s Legatee, the Taoist in the Ying family also started to move.

This Taoist was called Qiu Fengzi, and even though he wasn’t the Sect Master, he was still a fairly important figure. He was quite powerful, or else he wouldn’t have been able to be valued so highly by the Ying family.

When the Myrtle Imperial Aura had come out from Zhao Fu’s body, he had immediately sensed that Great Qin’s Legatee was in the Ying family. However, the Ying family was incredibly big and there were many people, so he couldn’t tell where the Legatee was. Moreover, because of the Myrtle Imperial Star’s descent, he didn’t dare to try anything at the time.

He didn’t plan to report this to the Ying family because there was no benefit to him. After all, if he reported this to the Ying family’s higher-ups, they would joyously welcome the Legatee, while he would’ve offended the Legatee since Great Qin’s Legatee didn’t want to be found.

Right now, offending the person with the most potential in the world would be incredibly unwise and would be making trouble for his future. Since Great Qin’s Legatee didn’t want to reveal himself, he must have his own reasons for that, so it was best that Qiu Fengzi didn’t interfere with those plans.

Right now, the best thing for him to do was to find Great Qin’s Legatee without anyone else detecting anything and join his faction. When he thought of the fact that Great Qin’s mysterious Legatee, who everyone had been madly searching for, was so close, Qiu Fengzi started to incredibly excited. This matter was incredibly important to his future.

The Ying family suddenly started to celebrate and cheer as it was someone from the Ying family had received the true right to become an Emperor.

When the elders heard about this, they laughed heartily too – Great Qin’s Legatee had never disappointed them, and now, all they wanted was for him to return to the Ying family.

The area in front of Li Wu, or Ying Wu’s residence, also became incredibly lively. Countless upper-class figures came to congratulate him and curry favor with him.

Only the core members of the Ying family knew about Ying Wu's true identity, and normal members of the Ying family all thought that he really was Great Qin's Legatee. As such, after the Myrtle Imperial Star disappeared, they all rushed to his residence.

Ying Wu maintained a smile as he spoke with all of them, but he felt incredibly gloomy. He knew that he was just a fake. The more powerful Great Qin's real Legatee was and the more famous Ying Wu became, the more ashamed he felt.

By now, Ying Wu had even started to feel a trace of hatred towards Great Qin's Legatee. He very much enjoyed having the identity of Great Qin's Legatee and everything it brought with it. The families that had been so high and mighty now lowered their heads to him and tried to do anything to please him. All of the goddesses who were out his reach before would take off their clothes willingly for him and climb into his bed to serve him. Now, he didn't want to lose this identity.

As for Ying Xi, she had completely given up on succeeding the Ying family. Now, all she wanted to do was develop her own faction – when she finally had the power to speak, she would no longer be a puppet for others.

Within a simple and unadorned hall, there were a few elders seated together with young people with extraordinary bearings kneeling in front of them. There was a handsome young man at the head of these young people.

Most people wouldn't recognize this young man. There was a sword at his waist that was completely golden as if it had been forged out of gold. There was a picture with mountain, water, birds, and beasts on it, and it gave off a holy aura.

This was the Regulus Sword.

The young man was from the Xuanyuan family, while the beautiful and gentle-looking young woman beside him was from the Nuwa Clan. Nearby, there was a good-natured young man from the Shennong Clan – these young men and women were all representatives of the various Ancient Clans.

"Now that the world has fallen into chaos and calamity will fall on all people, you all must open up new horizons!" the elder, who sat in the middle and gave off a dignified aura, said loudly as he looked at the young people in front of him.

"We won't let down the Elders!" the young people said with serious but excited gazes. They had waited for this for a long time; today, they could finally leave to make their way in the world.

The elders gave them a few more words of advice, and the young people humbly listened. Finally, the elders reminded them seriously, "Be prudent in your actions towards the person with the Son of Heaven Fate!"

Hearing this, all of the young people's expressions varied – some looked earnest, some looked serious, and others looked contemptuous and uncaring.

Following this, these people officially went out into the world. It wasn't just in the real world. They would also appear in the Heaven Awaken World. With their abilities and statuses, they would definitely cause quite a stir in the future.

Elsewhere, within a luxurious hall, 20 or so incredibly beautiful women with extraordinary bearings were seated at a long table, including superstar Su Yuyan.

"Sisters, what do you say we should do in the future?" a beautiful woman, who looked around 30 years old, gave off mature airs, and was seated at the main seat, slightly smiled as she asked.

The other women all gave different suggestions – some suggested maintaining the status quo by remaining neutral and not participating in any political or war affairs. They would continue to specialize in business and intelligence and develop in the Heaven Awaken World.

However, some of them were discontent that Flower Moon had continued like this for many millennia, and they believed that it was time for some change. Some even suggested establishing a Flower Moon Empire – after all, it was possible for Flower Moon to do such a thing.

The woman in the main seat swept her gaze across the women and looked at Su Yuyan, who hadn't spoken yet and asked, "Yuyan, what do you think?"

Su Yuyan raised her head and apologized for remaining silent before saying, "Elder sister, I was just thinking about Great Qin's Legatee and don't have any ideas currently. I would like to listen to the other sisters' opinions for now."

Hearing Su Yuyan mention Great Qin's Legatee, everyone in the hall fell silent. By now, anyone who didn't know how dangerous Great Qin's Legatee was was an idiot.

"What do you think about Great Qin's Legatee?" the woman asked as she maintained her smile.

Su Yuyan's gaze became serious as she replied, "Great Qin's Legatee has always given me a feeling of fear and alarm; if Flower Moon offends him, we must be pulled up by the roots. Whether or not we establish an empire or remain neutral, I feel that he is especially important."

Those words caused some dissatisfaction, and some of the women retorted that even though Great Qin's Legatee was powerful, Flower Moon wasn't weak at all.

They believed that Su Yuyan's words focused on Great Qin's Legatee too much. After all, with Flower Moon's current strength, they didn't have to fear anyone – why would they care about Great Qin's Legatee so much?

After hearing everyone speak, the woman in the main seat fell into her own thoughts.

Within the Heaven Awaken World, Zhao Fu returned to the Great Qin Town and saw a stone stele at the center of the Town. This stone stele was one meter tall, rectangular in shape, and a black and blood-red color. There were countless corpses engraved on it, and it gave off a dense bloody aura.

This was the Chaotic World Stone Stele!

This stone stele was only a Level 0 Stone Stele at the moment, and it could only be raised through killing and conquest. The higher the level, the better the items that could be exchanged, and Zhao Fu put his hand on the stone stele to see what could be exchanged.

Chapter 249: Great Qin's Legatee

One War Point could be exchanged for two gold coins, two War Points could be exchanged for 200 Normal grade materials, three War Points could be exchanged for 300 pieces of Normal grade equipment, four War Points could be exchanged for 800 Healing Pills, five War Points could be exchanged for a Basic Teleportation Channel Research Book...

Ten War Points could be exchanged for a Normal grade City Creation Stone, 11 War Points could be used to upgrade all of a Normal grade Village's stats...

There were many things that could be exchanged in the Chaotic World Stone Stele, but because it was only a Level 0 Stone Stele right now, only Normal grade items could be exchanged from it. These things had no attraction to Zhao Fu, but they would be very tempting to ordinary people.

If they could take down a Basic Village, they would be able to earn one War Point, which was equivalent to two gold coins or $200,000 in the real world.

$200,000 in the real world was enough to make people's eyes go red from greed. What's more, this was just an extra reward – they would also gain the village itself, the resources from it, any money it had, and the population.

The total benefits were enough to make anyone go mad and attack other Villages without restraint.

People could upgrade their Stone Steles to a Level 1 Stone Stele after gaining 20 War Points, and this wouldn't consume any of the War Points. Once someone obtained 20 War Points, that person would be able to upgrade it for free.

After looking through the Chaotic World Stone Stele, Zhao Fu went to the Town Hall. He found that through all of those events, the Twelve Metal Colossi and the Imperial Ruler's Seal had both received a lot of Fate and had become even more powerful, making Zhao Fu feel quite happy.

In the following days, Great Qin didn't make any big movements and entered a relatively calm and stable period. The soldiers were once again divided into teams and sent out to conquer.

They had also begun mining the energy stone mine. With this massive energy stone mine, the grade of Great Qin's soldiers was no longer limited – as long as they had high-grade corpses, they would be able to immediately refine them and obtain Grade Orbs to use to reward soldiers. Just like that, the soldiers' grades all became much higher.

After taking care of these matters, Zhao Fu returned to the real world.

Just like before, Zhao Fu asked his bodyguard to buy some food for him while he opened his laptop and started to look at the Heaven Awaken World forum.

There were many threads about him, making him once again the center of the world's attention. Zhao Fu bitterly smiled – there was a top-tier financial group in the west that was offering $50 billion to purchase information about his location. It seemed that all of the factions were desperately trying to find where he was.

There were also some important figures publicly expressing their desire to meet him, and even some female celebrities boldly declared their love for him in the heat of things. Some even leaked some photos, claiming that there was a relationship between them.

What made Zhao Fu the most speechless was that Thailand's number one drag queen was still infatuated with him. It was said that after waiting 24 hours for Great Qin's Legatee last time, who didn't show up, he had cried devastatingly and nearly committed suicide. This time, he had once again done a livestream to say that he would wait in the same place so that he could be with Great Qin's Legatee forever.

Zhao Fu was completely flabbergasted – normally, if he walked on the streets, there wouldn't be anyone who would even give him an extra glance. He had never thought that something like this would happen. Before, he would have been content if he could just earn a few million dollars and live comfortably for the rest of his life, but it was a pity that he wouldn't be able to go back to those days.

Zhao Fu didn't pay much mind to the news. However, what shocked Zhao Fu was that two major factions had surfaced.

The Ancient Clans from long hadn't disappeared and still existed. Zhao Fu had no idea about this because there was practically no information about them, and with Zhao Fu's identity in the real world, it was impossible for him to know of such things.

It was said that someone who had the Regulus Sword had appeared – the appearance of the number one sword of the ten Legendary Swords caused countless sword fanatics to go mad. Soon, there was also news of someone having the Chiyou Saber.

Swords represented Kings, while sabers represented Overlords. Ever since the ancient times, there had been many important clashes between swords and sabers, signifying clashes between the Path of Kings and the Path of Overlords. These symbols had continued for thousands of years.

Just as there were ten Legendary Swords, there were ten Legendary Sabers:

The number one saber was the Chiyou Sabre. Legends said that it was the demonic saber used by the tyrant Chiyou. It was created from otherworldly demonic materials and could rival the Regulus Sword.

The number two saber was the Goosecry Saber. It was said that when the Yellow Emperor created the Regulus Sword, there were some surplus materials that formed a saber by itself. The saber intent from it was too powerful and would devour its user, and seeing this, the Yellow Emperor wanted to destroy it. However, the saber transformed into a red magpie and flew away into the horizon. It was said that it was wielded by a mysterious person in the demon realm.

The number three saber was the Dragontooth Saber. It was one of the three Evil Weapons of the ancient times, and it was unknown who created the saber. Legends said that many evil and poisonous materials were used and that it contained many curses and the soul of a demon dragon. It was wielded by King Jie in the late Xia Dynasty. However, it was later shattered by the Regulus Sword, and its shards were sealed.

The number four saber was the Tigerwing Saber. It was one of the three Evil Weapons of the ancient times, and it was unknown who created the sword. Legends said that many evil and poisonous materials were used and that it contained many curses and the soul of an evil tiger. It was wielded by King Jie in the late Xia Dynasty. However, it was later shattered by the Regulus Sword, and its shards were sealed.

The number five saber was the Houndgod Saber. It was one of the three Evil Weapons of the ancient times, and it was unknown who created the sword. Legends had it that many evil and poisonous materials were used and that it contained many curses and the soul of an evil hound. It was wielded by King Jie in the late Xia Dynasty. However, it was later shattered by the Regulus Sword. The shards were obtained by an evil person, and the saber was reforged into the Houndgod Sabre using the fleshly essence of a thousand people.

The number six saber was the Great Xia Dragoneyes Saber. It was a massive bronze saber created for the Xia Dynasty's Emperor, and there were ancient snakes carved onto the blade, making it look both strange and beautiful.

The number seven saber was the Azure Dragon Falling Moon Saber. It was one that was often mentioned in novels, and it was wielded by Guan Yu, the Saint of War. He was incredibly courageous and practically invincible, killing all those who stood in his way. This sword only appeared in the Song Dynasty.

The number eight saber was the Marquis of Xin. During the Three Kingdoms period, when Zhang Fei was enfeoffed as the Marquis of Xin, he ordered a blacksmith to refine Scarlet Pearl Mountain Iron to create this saber. After being affected by righteous qi for a lengthy period of time, it became able to gather righteous qi from the heavens and earth, allowing it to slay evil creatures.

The number nine saber was the Chilling Moon Edge. It was something that fell from the sky and was reforged by the State of Zhao's Master Xu in the late Warring Kingdoms period. Its shape was like that of a new moon, and it gave off chilling qi. It was continuously refined after coming into contact with poison, turning into a poisonous saber that would immediately kill upon wounding someone. It was the saber that Jing Ke tried to use to kill the Emperor of Qin.

The number ten saber was the Kunwu Saber. It was forged from stone from the Kunwu Mountain and was abnormally sharp. It could even cut through jade like it was mud.

When the Regulus Sword appeared, so did the Chiyou Saber. There was an inborn enmity between the two, and Zhao Fu felt quite excited to see those two legendary weapons clash.

Now that these hidden experts had come out, the real world would fall into even more chaos.

As for Flower Moon, Zhao Fu had always wondered who could have created the Heaven Awaken World forum in such a short amount of time and attract so many people to it – it turned out that it was Flower Moon.

However, when Zhao Fu did some investigating, he found that this faction was monstrously powerful. It was present in almost every corner of the world, and Zhao Fu couldn't help but feel serious towards this powerful and terrifying opponent.

Chapter 250: Assassin Soul

After looking through these things, the bodyguard came back with Zhao Fu's food – some rice and two dishes. Zhao Fu quickly ate because he was going to return to the Heaven Awaken World as soon as he finished his meal.

"Mr. Zhao, your grandpa and grandma are outside and wish to see you," his bodyguard suddenly walked in and said.

"Grandpa and grandma?" Zhao Fu was quite surprised – normally, his grandpa and grandma wouldn't come to visit him. If there was anything, they would call him. Why had they come to find him... was it something urgent?

"Invite them in!" Zhao Fu said before cleaning up a little bit.

Afterward, he went to the living room and saw two elderly people with worried looks on their faces as he asked caringly, "What is it, grandpa, grandma?"

When they saw Zhao Fu come out, his grandparents quickly grabbed Zhao Fu's hands and pleaded with tears in their eyes, "Fu'Er, you must save your cousins!"

When he heard this, Zhao Fu thought that it was definitely something troublesome. However, seeing how worried they looked, he said reassuringly, "Don't worry; tell me what's going on first. If I can help, I'll definitely help."

Zhao Fu helped his grandparents to the sofa before listening to what they had to say.

The situation was like this – there were many talented youths from the big families, but there were also a lot of people who were scum. One of the young men from the Ying family's main branch had set his eyes on a woman, and he wanted to use money to obtain her. However, because this woman's family was quite rich as well, she wasn't tempted by his money.

The young man continuously tried to woo her, but he was repeatedly turned down. In his anger, he ordered people to abduct her. However, because of their carelessness, she was able to escape and bumped into Zhao Fu's hot-blooded male cousins.

Zhao Fu's cousins had learned some martial arts before, so they were quite strong. They injured the abductors and the young man from the Ying family's main branch.

Injuring a main family member as a collateral family member was a grave sin within the large families, so they were both caught. It was possible that their hands and feet would be broken, and if that young man insisted on not showing mercy, it was possible that they would be killed.

"Fu'Er! I heard that your relationship with Big Miss Ying Xi is quite good. With her status, she'll be able to take care of this." The two elderly people looked at Zhao Fu with hope and pleading in their eyes.

Zhao Fu's feelings towards his cousins were only so-so. They had met a few times for family gatherings, but there was nothing special between them. Zhao Fu was a stranger to familial love apart from his mother, so he was cold towards others.

If it was just an ordinary person, Zhao Fu definitely wouldn't help – after all, he was just a puppet for Ying Xi and didn't have the right to speak. Within the Ying family, he was only a very small figure.

However, seeing how worried and teary-eyed his grandparents were, Zhao Fu sighed and replied, "Grandpa, grandma, you should go back for now. Don't worry; I'll take care of this."

"Really? Thank you so much, Fu'Er." Zhao Fu's words greatly delighted the two elderly people. They simply had nothing that they could do, and it was possible that their two grandsons could lose their lives as a result of offending these people.

Zhao Fu bitterly smiled. After his grandparents left, Zhao Fu sat on the sofa and thought about this matter. His relationship with Ying Xi was just as her pawn. If it wasn't for Wu Qingniang, he would be a mere chess piece for Ying Xi, one that she could sacrifice at any time. Without her protection, it was likely that he would've been killed by the Li family long ago.

However, now, because Wu Qingniang had taken interest in him, Ying Xi had completely given him over to Wu Qingniang and hadn't paid any more attention to him. As such, Zhao Fu hadn't seen her for a while, so asking her for something like this would be quite difficult.

Zhao Fu thought about it and sighed before picking up his phone and dialing a number.

Following this, a car came to pick Zhao Fu up, and he came to a villa before following a female attendant to a luxurious room.

Wu Qingniang was wearing a sleeping gown, and her long hair fell past her shoulders. She looked like she had just gotten up from bed, so her hair looked a bit ruffled. Moreover, there wasn't that air of confidence and domineeringness around her; rather, her expression seemed quite dim and frustrated.

It was quite rare to see Wu Qingniang like this, so Zhao Fu asked caringly, "What is it, Qingniang?"

Wu Qingniang forced a smile onto her face and shook her head as she asked, "What did you come to find me for?"

Zhao Fu felt somewhat awkward as he told Wu Qingniang about his two cousins. Normally, he hated to make requests of other people, but he was unable to do anything about this situation. After all, he had nothing to rely on in the real world.

"Pfft!" Wu Qingniang lightly laughed as she said, "You were that uncomfortable just about this? It's simple! I'll mention it to Lil Xi later."

"Thank you very much!" Zhao Fu said with a tone of gratitude while letting out a sigh of relief.

Wu Qingniang smiled as she looked at Zhao Fu and asked, "Then, how will you repay me? None of my people in the Forest of Horrors have heard any news from you." Wu Qingniang suddenly came closer to Zhao Fu and stared into his eyes as she continued, "Don't tell me that you were lying and that you're not actually in the Forest of Horrors? And, where's the faction you promised to make for me?"

Zhao Fu felt quite awkward – he remembered this, but he hadn't done it.

"Don't tell me you forgot?" Wu Qingniang asked as she continued to stare at him.

Zhao Fu could only shake his head to indicate that he hadn't forgotten, but he didn't admit that he had neglected this matter all this time.

Wu Qingniang lightly harrumphed as she sat down on the sofa, feeling a bit angry, "Now that the Myrtle Imperial Star has descended and the world has fallen into chaos, I don't know what you're thinking. If you don't start a faction now, it'll be too late in the future. This is especially so for you because you're in the north with Great Qin's Legatee. I'm afraid the north won't be very peaceful in the future."

Hearing her words, Zhao Fu thought back to her dim expression from before and asked, "Were you worried about Great Qin's Legatee before?"

Wu Qingniang lightly nodded before sighing, "Who would it be apart from him? With him present, I can only feel a patch of darkness ahead with no light. Right now, Great Qin's simply too powerful. Not only has Great Qin been ahead at every step, but Great Qin has also awakened a Myrtle Imperial Star. The rest of us can't even keep up."

Zhao Fu felt quite amused – so she had been feeling like that because of him. However, he still pretended to comfort her, saying, "It's not that big of a deal to awaken a Myrtle Imperial Star; I'm sure that you can awaken one too."

Wu Qingniang rolled her eyes as she replied, "If only it was as easy as how you're making it seem! Do you think Myrtle Imperial Stars are as easy to obtain as cabbages? It's the sign of a Son of Heaven!"

However, Zhao Fu continued to look at her with confidence and said, "But I still believe you'll be able to awaken one!"

When she saw Zhao Fu's gaze, Wu Qingniang felt a wave of warmth in her heart. A slight look of happiness appeared on her face, and she didn't look so depressed anymore. A hint of her usual confidence reappeared on her face, and she stretched out her hand as a female attendant handed her the phone. Wu Qingniang rang a number and spoke for a short while before hanging up.

Following this, she said to Zhao Fu, "Your cousins will be fine; you can take them back now. However, don't forget to establish that faction as soon as possible!"
