

The Lord 431

Chapter 431 – Heaven's Chosen

“The person who ranked number one, who performed the best in the event, will receive a massive amount of Fate, a large Earth Realm Mark, and the acknowledgment of the heavens and the earth. That person will also receive six SSS grade Pills that can raise any grade to SSS grade; three Upper Heaven's Gift Treasure Boxes, which will give three top-tier Legendary grade items; one Extreme Heaven's Gift Treasure Box, which will give one ordinary Epic grade item; three SSS General Summoning Talismans, which can summon three SSS grade Generals; the Title of Heaven's Chosen, which will give Heaven's blessing and protection, a bonus 50% natural disaster resistance, and make it easier for indigenous residents to trust and submit to that person.”

No one had expected there to be bonus rewards at the end of this festival. Because this festival was quite special, not only did it give all sorts of item rewards, but it also gave a lot of Fate. Of course, the greatest beneficiary of this festival was the person who ranked first.

Not only did he receive a massive amount of Fate, but there was also the large Earth Realm Mark. Furthermore, he obtained six SSS grade Pills, three SSS General Summoning Talismans, and the title of Heaven's Chosen. Just thinking about these rewards could make one feel extremely excited.

Even though this person had chosen to hide his name, everyone knew that apart from Great Qin's Legatee, it was impossible for anyone else to take that position.

Zhao Fu also felt quite surprised – there were so many bonus rewards after this event had ended. Looking at the items continuously appearing in front of him, Zhao Fu couldn't help but laugh out loud.

After these rewards were given out, the massive stone stele in the sky, as well as the abnormal signs, gradually disappeared, and everything returned to normal. The Disaster Festival had finally finished.

Zhao Fu looked at the Earth Realm Mark on the back of his hand and found that it had become deeper. However, there were no other changes.

Afterward, Zhao Fu called over his Generals and gave out the SSS grade Pills. Raising Grades wasn't a big deal for Great Qin regardless because all it needed were corpses.

Regardless, these six SSS grade Pills were quite useful, and all of the Generals Zhao Fu called on a lot were SSS grade. Great Qin's Generals had become even more powerful, and those who received SSS grade Pills were incredibly grateful.

This was especially so for Li Wen – he had been the son of the Li Family Village and had only been A grade. Now, he was SSS grade, and his future would be limitless.

Next, Zhao Fu used the three General Summoning Talismans. The three violet talisman papers started to burn as three violet lights rushed into the sky, after which three figures slowly appeared before Zhao Fu.

“We greet Your Majesty!” After the three people appeared, they received some information and knelt down as they paid their respects to Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu looked at their stats and found that they were all SSS grade, had General professions, and had decent stats.

One of them was wearing coarse cloth clothes and had ordinary looks; he was called Du Kong. Another was wearing robes and looked quite handsome and refined; he was called Liu Yeqing. The final one was a big muscular man called Niu Shili.

“You may all rise!” Zhao Fu asked Li Si to help them familiarize themselves with Great Qin. None of them had General Stars, and they were just like any other spawned Generals except their Grades were higher. This made Zhao Fu feel slightly disappointed, but they were still quite good and would be quite useful.

Zhao Fu understood that General Stars weren’t that easy to obtain, which was why historical Generals were quite important.

Following this, there were the four Heaven’s Gift Treasure Boxes. After opening them, they all gave materials, but Zhao Fu wasn’t disappointed – with the massive gains from this Festival, Great Qin could already be satisfied.

Finally, after killing the different types of Disaster Beasts, Great Qin had obtained 30% natural disaster resistance, and with the bonus 50%, Great Qin had obtained an extra 80% natural disaster resistance.

After the Disaster Festival concluded, there were many people celebrating because the Disaster Festival had caused them many problems. Even though Great Qin wasn’t really affected, they still held a small celebration and prepared for everything to go back to normal the next today.

After the festival ended, Zhao Fu finally felt at ease and decided to take a rest. However, dark and cold currents started to move towards Great Qin.

The next day, Zhao Fu returned to the real world and sat seriously while facing the family leaders who also looked incredibly serious.

“The various factions haven’t come in peace, and the entire Ying family has been forced into a defensive position. However, the Ying family isn’t one to be bullied, so it doesn’t dare to do too much in the real world. However, they can act as they please in the Heaven Awaken World; please help Great Qin’s Legatee. If he needs the Ying family’s help, we’ll do all we can to help,” one of the family leaders said seriously to Zhao Fu. Zhao Fu nodded in response, and after talking for a bit longer, he returned to the Heaven Awaken World.

After the Disaster Festival ended, the Ying family in the real world had been attacked by a few unknown factions. Even though the losses weren’t great, they could sense a grave threat from this, making them quite wary and causing the Ying family to go into a defensive position.

They couldn’t find Great Qin’s Legatee in the real world, so they could only unleash their anger on the Ying family.

Now, because of Great Qin's Legatee, the Ying family was being viewed as an enemy by countless factions. If it wasn't for the fact that they were one of the five Great Families and had a deep foundation, it was possible that they would've been destroyed already.

Back in the Heaven Awaken World, emergency reports continuously streamed in. Great Qin's Merchant Alliances, restaurants, and other businesses had all been destroyed. They had been attacked by various local factions, and at least 10,000 of Great Qin's people had been killed or injured.

Even though Zhao Fu had kept a low profile when doing business, as Great Qin became more and more famous, people had started to investigate. Even some businesses that were suspicious but unrelated to Great Qin had been attacked by them.

As these factions acted, the northern side of the Midland Continent started to become chaotic.

It wasn't just the businesses. Within North Nam, some of the factions that Great Qin controlled started to have people who betrayed Great Qin and started rebellions.

Many of the Dynasty Legatees, including the Tang Dynasty due to Zhao Fu's identity, started to openly act against Great Qin. Because Great Qin had taken in Later Zhou, the Song Dynasty also expressed its enmity. Now, the Xia, Shang, Zhou, and Han Dynasties were all secretly supporting the northern side's Qin Resistance Alliance.

Other Dynasties also started to join as well. Apart from the Chinese factions, some foreign factions, such as those from Vietnam, Laos, Thailand, and Myanmar, started to participate.

With these factions joining, the northern side's Qin Resistance Alliance became incredibly arrogant and unbridled, and it attacked Great Qin's factions without any care.

This was the first time that Great Qin had suffered such great losses.

These factions couldn't stop themselves from acting against Great Qin, and none of them wanted to see Great Qin continuously grow more powerful. The massive benefits that Great Qin had gained during this Disaster Festival was the trigger that incited them to do this.

Chapter 432 - Civil War

At that moment, a soldier walked into the hall and half-knelt before reporting, "Your Majesty, there's a message from a person called Su Yan. He says that if Great Qin remains within one region and doesn't try to expand or attack any other regions or factions, he will spare Great Qin and cease the attacks against Great Qin."

"Hahahaha..." When he heard this, Zhao Fu's anger swelled to its limit, and he coldly laughed.

The atmosphere within the hall became incredibly cold, and all of the leaders lowered their heads, not daring to move. They could all feel Zhao Fu's anger and the killing intent within that laughter.

"Do you all think Great Qin should submit so easily?" Zhao Fu asked as he looked at his subordinates.

“Your Majesty, of course Great Qin cannot submit so easily. With respect to what has happened, Great Qin should retaliate and show everyone Great Qin’s true strength,” Wang Jian stepped forwards as he said.

“Your Majesty, this subordinate believes that with Great Qin’s strength, we can engage in battles that will open up the path to establishing a nation,” Bai Qi said as he stepped out, his eyes burning with passion.

“Your Majesty, I support Commander Bai Qi’s words. Now that Great Qin has many talents, we can engage in battle. Time is scarce, and we can officially begin restoring Great Qin as a nation,” Wei Liao said and stepped out after some consideration.

The other leaders all expressed their views as well. Within the boundless darkness, the massive star gave off a blood-red light, causing Zhao Fu’s eyes to give off a devilish blood-red light.

“Xianru, how can the Emperor Phoenix Statue be used?” After hearing the various leaders’ words, Zhao Fu turned to look at Xianru beside him.

Xianru smiled as she replied, “Your Majesty, all you need to do is take it to the Heaven Prayer Platform.”

“It’s that simple?” Zhao Fu thought there would have to be some sort of ceremony to use it.

Xianru nodded as she replied, “Your Majesty, the Heaven Prayer Platform is the place where the most Fate is gathered. Placing the Emperor Phoenix Statue there will be quite fitting, and the statue will naturally fuse with Great Qin.”

“I see,” Zhao Fu said before looking at his subordinates. “The road to restoring Great Qin’s nation has begun. However, we need to make detailed plans. Since our businesses in the various regions have been attacked, we’ll pause them for now. There’s no need to increase the casualties, and it will be better for us to focus on preparations.”

The various leaders all agreed, and they started to discuss among themselves.

Soon, Zhao Fu gave out a new order, “Bai Qi, train another 40,000 soldiers and raise Great Qin’s army to 200,000 people.” Bai Qi nodded and accepted this order.

Zhao Fu then looked at Wang Ergou and said, “Ergou, give me all of the information of those participating in the Qin Resistance Alliance. Don’t let off even a single one.” Wang Ergou also nodded and accepted this order.

Zhao Fu then turned his gaze to Little Sha and said, “Little Sha, I will expand the Eternal Night’s members to 30,000, and I’ll leave the training to you. Teach them all sorts of killing methods; Great Qin needs more effective assassins.” Little Sha also nodded and gave a blank ‘oh’ in response.

Zhao Fu then turned to Ba Qing and said, “Ba Qing, calculate our losses from these attacks and give benefits to those who were injured or killed. If we’re lacking people in any department, make sure those positions are filled soon.”

“Thank you, Your Majesty!” Bai Qi replied gratefully. Most of those who were injured were from the Business Department, and with this order from Zhao Fu, she would be able to give them good compensation.

Finally, Zhao Fu said to Guo Binglin, “Guo Binlin, give me all of the information you’ve collected on Heavenstone City.” Hearing this, Guo Binglin also nodded.

After everyone had their orders, the meeting concluded, and everyone went to carry out their orders.

Zhao Fu took Xianru to the Heaven Prayer Platform and placed the two meter tall crystal statue onto it.

“That’s it?” Zhao Fu asked.

Xianru lightly nodded, indicating that this was fine.

After this, Zhao Fu thought of something and said, “Xianru, since you can see Fate, stay by my side from now on.”

“Yes, Your Majesty,” Xianru said as she smiled. This was what she wanted – the closer she was to Zhao Fu, the higher her position would be.

After placing the Emperor Phoenix Statue on the Heaven Prayer Platform, Zhao Fu and Xianru went back to the hall, where Guo Binglin was waiting with the recent information on Heavenstone City.

Zhao Fu read through the information carefully. Ever since that large battle, the relationship of Heavenstone City with the three other main cities had been much better. Evidently, Heavenstone City’s City Lord wanted to ally with the three other City Lords to deal with Great Qin.

The three other City Lords knew this, but they didn’t agree or reject his offer either.

On one hand, they were afraid of inviting trouble to themselves – they knew that Heavenstone City had offended a powerful Dynasty’s Legatee. On the other hand, if their region lost a City Lord, their overall strength would go down, and it was possible that this Legatee would turn against them too.

Zhao Fu had to think about this carefully – if the four City Lords allied together, Great Qin wouldn’t be able to shake them at all. As such, Zhao Fu put this matter on standby for now and looked at the other information.

The Heavenstone City had already replaced the 10,000 soldiers who had died during that fight, but most of them were only Stage 0-7 or 0-8. They only had 90,000 or so Stage 1 soldiers. Right now, Great Qin had 80,000 Stage 1 soldiers, just 10,000 less.

In terms of residents, Heavenstone City had 360,000 residents, which was quite normal. Some of the more developed system main cities had 400,000 or so indigenous residents.

There was also information about how the Young Lord, Shi Wen, had turned over a new leaf, but it was too late.

After looking through the information on Heavenstone City, Zhao Fu came to a decision. Also, the Qin Resistance Alliance was quite a great threat. If all of the regions were connected, they would be able to join up together, and Great Qin really would have to step back.

Zhao Fu knew that Great Qin wasn’t powerful enough to face off against them directly, so he didn’t overestimate his capabilities.

For now, he didn't plan on doing anything drastic. After everything was prepared, he would deal with them.

In response, the many factions were quite surprised by Great Qin's lack of reaction. Some said that Great Qin was weak, while others said that it was the calm before the storm.

This matter caught the attention of the whole world because it related to Great Qin. Many of the foreign factions were quite happy about this civil war, with most of the Chinese factions banding together to restrain Great Qin's Legatee.

If China didn't become weaker, how could they have an opportunity to rise? If Great Qin wasn't destroyed, how could they be at ease? Great Qin was already a thorn in many people's hearts, making them feel pain and terror.

The Chinese factions all knew that this civil war would reduce their overall strength, but they were still determined to go through with it. This related to their life, and if they didn't suppress Great Qin now, they would all face destruction.

Chapter 433 - Wyvern

The civil war wasn't beneficial to anyone in China in the long term; any loss was a loss for China.

With the support of the various Dynasties, the factions in the northern side felt incredibly proud and confident, and they didn't even place Great Qin in their eyes anymore.

With the various factions added together, their people numbered in the tens of millions, and let alone Great Qin, they wouldn't fear even multiple Dynasty Legatees. That was how confident they felt.

However, their weakness was that they were unable to gather all of their forces together.

Even though Great Qin was weaker than all of them collectively, its military might wasn't something that any of them could individually rival. This was something that they all knew.

The Ancient Clans, the oldest factions in China, also knew this, and the ten or so elders gathered to discuss.

One of the elders said, "How about we do some mediating and end the civil war? If a civil war really explodes, all of China's northern side will take a great blow, and there are many hungry wolves waiting for an opportunity. For China, we need to do something."

Another elder said, "But the Qin Resistance Alliance has acted too savagely without any thoughts of consequences and hasn't given Great Qin any face. Will the bloodthirsty Great Qin really agree to settle?"

"Last time, when the Chaos Imperial Star descended, everyone could tell that Great Qin's Legatee would become the most bloodthirsty and evil Emperor. How could he give in?"

"Moreover, the Qin Resistance Alliance has an overwhelming advantage right now, and it has become incredibly arrogant. How could it be willing to negotiate with Great Qin?"

Another elder said, "Since things have come to this, we need to at least try. This civil war might shake the entirety of the northern side of the Midland Continent, and it could affect the entire world."

Hearing this elder's words, everyone else sighed and nodded. They had to at least try to stop this from happening.

The various Schools from the Hundred Schools of Thought were split into two factions: one hoped that a lot of fighting and chaos would result, and the one who won would be the sovereign. The other faction wanted peace – if a war exploded, China's strength would be reduced by at least a quarter, if not more.

There was another large faction within China that was also quite concerned, which was Flower Moon. Currently, 20 or so beautiful women sat around a large table.

"Big sis, should we sell items to the factions in the northern side? If we sell them now, we'll be able to make great profits since it's a time of need," one of the women said and smiled as she looked at the mature woman in the main seat.

Another woman rolled her eyes as she said, "If a civil war begins, our business activities in the entire northern side will be affected, and it will already be good if we don't make a loss."

"Right now, the northern side is in chaos, and all of the factions that might be even slightly related to Great Qin are being attacked. Even some of our factions have been attacked. However, I'm not worried about them. Rather, I'm afraid of Great Qin, which has been completely silent and hasn't responded at all – this is much more terrifying."

Another woman laughed, "When did you become so scared? Great Qin isn't all that. If it faces off against the entire northern side, it will definitely lose, which is why it hasn't dared to do anything."

"It's because you don't understand how terrifying Great Qin is!" the woman who originally spoke retorted.

Seeing that these two were about to start fighting, an older, gentler woman said, "Alright, stop arguing and listen to what big sis has to say as to whether we should participate or remain neutral."

The mature woman sitting in the main seat smiled as she looked at the women and said, "I think we should remain neutral for now; there's no need for Flower Moon to be caught up in that chaos just for a bit of profit. Great Qin has a massive amount of Fate, so it won't lose easily. Also, the civil war hasn't truly erupted yet. When the time comes, it won't be too late for us to get involved either. That's all for today!"

Hearing this, the women nodded before leaving.

"Yuyan, be careful with your matter." Seeing everyone leave, the mature woman suddenly smiled as she spoke to Su Yuyan, who had been departing.

Su Yuyan's face paled before she nodded seriously. "Understood, big sis."

Time quickly passed, and soon, a week had passed. The countless factions were all shocked that Great Qin still hadn't done anything or started up its businesses again. The Ancient Clans had offered to mediate and provide a peace treaty, but they hadn't heard a response.

It was as if Great Qin had disappeared, and there was no news about it – could it be that Great Qin was giving in?

The northern side's factions started to celebrate, and they were covered with an atmosphere of joy. This was indeed worth celebrating, as they had finally suppressed Great Qin, which had been overbearing. Now, Great Qin had seen how powerful the northern side's factions were and was scared.

The factions that had submitted to Great Qin also felt quite surprised – Great Qin hadn't done anything, and they hadn't received any information, making them feel quite unsettled.

"Mother, what do you think is going to happen?" Chai Shaohui asked as he looked at Nangong Shuyue.

Nangong Shuyue lightly shook her head and said, "I don't know either; His Majesty is most likely preparing something. I'm sure we'll know soon."

The situation was the same in the State of Wei. One of the State of Wei's people asked Wei Xin, "Young Master, Great Qin still hasn't responded; don't tell me it's truly afraid? After all, there are so many factions from the northern side."

After surrendering, Wei Xin had renounced the title of 'Majesty' and was now called 'Young Master.'

Hearing this, Wei Xin could only shake his head. He felt that there was a storm brewing where countless people would die. It would be a calamity for the entire northern side.

Back at the Great Qin City, Zhao Fu brought some people to the incubation room. There was a gray egg there, which was the Wyvern egg. After such a long time, it was nearly time for it to hatch.

The half meter tall egg started to tremble and give off a powerful aura as if there was a small being trying to struggle out.

Crack! Crack! Crack!

Cracks started to appear along the egg as bits of the shell fell off, and a mucus-covered head poked out. A pair of large, black eyes looked around curiously as the rest of the egg split apart and its body came out of the egg.

It was a Wyvern that currently looked like a lizard with a pair of wings. It was covered with gray scales and had a pair of little horns. Its body was covered with mucus, but it innately gave off an aura of suppression.

After getting out of the egg, it saw Zhao Fu, happily flapped its wings, and flew towards Zhao Fu. Because Zhao Fu had already bonded it to him using his blood, the little Wyvern already saw him as its closest person.

Zhao Fu hugged the little Wyvern, ignoring the mucus on its body. He stroked its head, and the little Wyvern had a satisfied expression on its face. Zhao Fu then took out a Raising Stone and fed it to the Wyvern before taking it to the Universal Den.

Chapter 434 - Beginning of the Calamity

Zhao Fu first revoked the Void Beast's conquering of the Universal Den and then had the little Wyvern conquer it. The little Wyvern was very obedient and flapped its wings over to the round stage before conquering the Den.

Afterward, Zhao Fu gave the little Wyvern over to those who were responsible for raising it, and when he looked at the Universal Den's stats, a satisfied smile appeared on his face.

This Universal Den would spawn Wyverns of random ages, just as the Origin would spawn residents of different ages. It was possible for the Universal Den to spawn juvenile Wyverns, mature Wyverns, and aged Wyverns.

Mature Wyverns had Stage 5 strength, and they would be Great Qin's most terrifying force. Even juvenile Wyverns had Stage 3 strength and would be able to be used immediately. Only newborn Wyverns wouldn't be able to be put to use immediately.

With these Wyverns, Great Qin could sweep away all obstacles in its path, and very few people would be able to stop Great Qin. However, the spawning time was a bit slow, which was ten days for one Wyvern.

What's more, this was only because of Great Qin's bonus stats and the Universal Den's Legendary grade. Without those stats, it would most likely only be able to spawn a Wyvern once every year.

Moreover, the Den was currently only a Basic Den, so it had a lot of potential. With mature Wyverns, they would be able to kill countless creatures, making the Den level up quickly. The Den needed time, so they would leave it for now.

Now, Great Qin had 200,000 soldiers. The soldiers that Bai Qi had been training were added in, and now, Great Qin greatly lacked Blood God Pills. The corpses that they obtained in Gloomy Jungle were far from enough to meet the demand.

Before, Zhao Fu had been preparing to attack Heavenstone City – this was something that he had been preparing for a long time. However, because of the Qin Resistance Alliance's crazed attacks and its arrogant behavior, Zhao Fu changed his mind and decided to cause a calamity.

This calamity would be horrifying, and Zhao Fu knew that countless people would die. However, Zhao Fu didn't care anymore – he had been suppressing his rage this entire time. Since they were determined to destroy Great Qin, Zhao Fu wouldn't show any mercy either.

What Zhao Fu was preparing for them was... the Undead Disaster!

Casting Undead Disaster required a massive number of corpses, and the best place for gathering corpses was the region that had been completely flooded.

That region had essentially become a land of ghosts. After the flood receded, it left behind a countless number of bloated bodies. There were both humans and animals, and the system main cities didn't relocate back because there were too many corpses there. There was now an aura of death, and the place had become a cursed place.

Any living creatures that went there would feel an uncomfortable and eerie feeling, causing their bodies to grow weaker. Moreover, relocating back was incredibly difficult, and continuously moving the City Heart would also damage it.

As such, there weren't any living creatures in that region, only corpses. Even if Zhao Fu didn't do anything, many Undead would spawn there.

For the next seven days, Zhao Fu ordered the Disaster Cavalry to continuously use Undead Disaster, reviving the countless corpses. Because they had a disaster attribute, the spirit flames in their heads were black. They also had many resistances and were much stronger than normal Skeletons.

Now, that region was filled with countless Skeletons, and there were at least ten million of them. This was because there were not only human Skeletons but also animal Skeletons.

With so many Undead, Great Qin had long since lost its control over them. In other words, Great Qin was unable to command them or stop them, and they simply acted on their instincts to kill all living creatures.

Great Qin seemed to be playing with fire, and Zhao Fu knew that he could no longer contain the situation. However, he was determined to do this.

Since the other factions didn't seem to care about the civil war reducing China's strength, Zhao Fu didn't care about it either. After all, Zhao Fu never planned on sparing any of Great Qin's enemies.

The entire region was covered with a deathly aura, and the sunlight couldn't reach the ground. All signs of life seemed to have disappeared, and the grass and plants lost their green color. The sound of wailing could be heard from time to time, and anyone who came to this region would feel his hairs stand on end – this was already a region of the Undead.

Zhao Fu stood in the air while the ten Disaster Cavalrymen, which were shrouded in darkness, waited for Zhao Fu's order.

"Begin the slaughter!" Zhao Fu ordered as he icily looked at the region in front of him.

The Disaster Cavalry drew their black swords and pointed forwards, and the countless Skeletons sensed something and started to amble forwards. The sound of them walking was simply deafening and completely frightening.

Even though the Disaster Cavalry couldn't fully control these Skeletons, because they were the summoners, they could still guide their basic instincts.

Zhao Fu's goal was to move the Skeletons to another region and allow them to run amok, causing a massive slaughter.

Gradually, the ten million Skeletons entered the region like an ocean of bones, and the deathly aura around them caused countless beings to feel shocked.

As soon as the ten Disaster Cavalrymen and the countless Skeletons entered this region, many creatures detected them, whether or not it was a bird or a beast. All of them were completely terrified and started to run.

Before the Undead army had fully arrived, a small flood of beasts had already formed as they ran for their lives.

The countless Skeletons detected these living creatures' aura, making them feel excited. They rushed forward after those living creatures, and the ten Disaster Cavalrymen could no longer guide them anymore.

Now, the massive slaughter had begun!

No matter what it was, whether it was a tiger, a pack of wolves, or even a lion, all of them seemed incredibly weak and pitiful in front of the countless Skeletons. Only by running could they perhaps survive. Those that were fast were safe for now, but those that were slower would be inundated by the Skeletons and die immediately.

When there were enough deaths, the ten Disaster Cavalry could once again use Undead Disaster, causing the Skeleton army to continuously grow stronger, turning the northern side of the Midland Continent into a living hell.

Within the boundless darkness, the massive blood-red star seemed to go through some changes.

Zhao Fu stood in the air, his blood-red eyes giving off a chilling light as he coldly watched everything. Howls and shrieks continuously sounded out, and fresh blood dyed the ground as countless creatures died in horror and pain.

Chapter 435 - Undead Disaster

The ocean of bones gave off a terrifying sound as it flooded forward. The massive amount of deathly aura condensed into gray clouds, and as the deathly aura passed by the ground, it started to lose its vitality. The grass and plants also started to wither and die.

The countless Skeletons were quite fast, and soon, the ocean of bones had swallowed up ten or so kilometers of land and continued rushing forward.

A small, defenseless village was soon inundated by the ocean of bones, and it was unable to resist at all. Ten or so Skeletons rushed towards a tiger and stabbed their sharp hands into its body, causing the tiger to howl before it died.

The Skeletons caught up to a few slow goats, and they bleated in despair before they were bitten to death.

A team of ten or so humans desperately ran, but soon, they ran out of stamina and were caught by the countless Skeletons, turning into ten or so corpses in just a matter of seconds.

The countless Skeletons didn't tire at all and excitedly ran forwards, killing all living creatures in their way and absorbing their aura of life, fueling their growth.

As time passed, the ocean of bones had swallowed everything within thousands of kilometers, and it gave off terrifying sounds as it continued onwards.

A deathly aura followed the Skeletons, covering the sky. From a distance, it seemed as if a massive storm was about to erupt.

Rumble...

Countless beats ran out from the surrounding forests and mountains: deer, wolves, leopards, rabbits, bears... countless animals, some of which would usually be prey for others, ran together, none of them attacking each other. All of them desperately ran away from what was coming behind them.

The beast flood was incredibly big, and it covered a ten-kilometer radius. The ground quaked beneath them, and countless trees were knocked over as they fled.

This beast flood could already cause people to feel terrified, but the unending white ocean of bones behind it was enough to make people feel utter terror and despair.

Soon, the ocean of bones covered a 10,000-kilometer radius, and above them, Zhao Fu once again gave the Disaster Cavalry the order to use Undead Disaster.

The ten Disaster Cavalrymen obeyed and raised their black swords. They gave off powerful auras as ten pillars of black light shot into the sky.

Explosions sounded out in the sky as a deathly aura wildly gathered and a one kilometer wide black-colored magic formation appeared in the sky, giving off a boundless aura of death. It started to rotate as waves of black light rippled out, bringing with it a mysterious summoning power.

Gusts of cold wind blew as the corpses on the ground started to go through changes – the flesh started to wither and fall off, leaving behind a Skeleton, and tongues of flames flickered to life within their skulls.

At that moment, the Skeletons seemed to come to life and crawled up from the ground, ambling into the ocean of bones.

Zhao Fu had no idea how many Skeletons had been added, but the number definitely wasn't small. After using Undead Disaster, the Disaster Cavalry became slightly weaker because Undead Disaster wasn't something that could be cast easily. However, with so much deathly aura around, it would be easy for them to recover.

At the same time, the massive sounds from casting the skill, the ocean of bones, and the beast flood caused some people to realize that something was off.

The gray clouds now covered everything within 10,000 kilometers. They were quite thick as well, giving off an oppressive aura, and not a bit of light could pass through them.

The powerful ocean of bones continued onwards with its unstoppable momentum.

Some players who had constructed their villages a bit further away started to feel that something was wrong. They first heard the ground rumbling before seeing countless beasts rushing towards them.

Instantly, they became completely dumbfounded and started to sweat cold sweat. They immediately started to ready their defenses, but because it was a beast flood, they could only watch in despair. They were completely unable to stop the dark flood of beasts.

What was going on? Why would there suddenly be such a terrifying beast flood?

They had no idea what was going on, but they were unable to stop such a terrifying beast flood and could only wait for destruction.

However, a miracle seemed to happen – the countless beasts didn't attack them and ran by them instead.

This made all of the people feel quite surprised and happy. One of the players even thanked the heavens for sparing them because a massive python had been less than a meter away from him. However, the python didn't attack or even look at him. Instead, it focused on moving forward.

However, after thinking about it, that player realized that the python seemed to be quite frightened because it acted as if there was something chasing it, forcing it to run for its life.

However, that massive python was ten or so meters long and had at least Stage 2 strength. It could easily devour a person, so what could cause it to feel such fear?

Soon, an even greater rumbling could be heard as an ocean of bones appeared before that player. There was simply no end to that ocean, and the player felt as if there was someone gripping his heart, causing his hairs to stand on end and for his body to continuously tremble.

The Skeletons looked at him, and the black tongues of flames within their heads gave them an incredibly evil look as they laughed eerily.

The player came back to his senses and turned to run, but it was already too late.

The white ocean of bones instantly swallowed him up, and a terrified howl sounded out, signaling that his life was over.

Many players had already seen how terrifying this ocean of bones was. The hope that they felt when they saw the beast flood rush past turned into despair, and their hearts were instantly chilled.

Following this, the ocean of bones mercilessly inundated them, causing screams to continuously sound out, leaving behind lifeless corpses.

The closest system main city had long since felt that something was off. A young man looked at where the gray clouds were gathered, feeling that things were about to take a turn for the worse.

The aura of death and disaster was coming closer and closer, and the young man didn't hesitate. He ordered for the city gates to be closed and for the city to go into a high-alert state.

At the same time, the players who had died were sent back to the real world, and because of fear, their bodies were still trembling. Their heads were filled with that terrifying scene, and they immediately went onto the Heaven Awaken World Forum to spread the news about the terrifying Undead Disaster.

This news was like a boulder that had been tossed into water, causing countless ripples. All of the nearby factions took notice of this because this was no small matter according to the news that was spread. It was something that could cause anyone to feel terrified, and everyone in that region was most likely doomed.

As for why such a massive Undead Disaster had appeared, people started to make guesses.

Chapter 436 - Undead Army

Everyone knew that the neighboring region had been completely flooded, and most people believed that some abnormal circumstances had caused those corpses to turn into Undead, resulting in this disaster.

However, none of them could have expected that the Undead Disaster had been caused by Great Qin. No one realized the danger of the situation, and everyone thought that only one region was doomed.

Many people started to feel a sense of wicked gleefulness, rejoicing that it wasn't their region that had been attacked by the Undead. However, the players in that region all started to worry.

In that region, the ocean of bones gave off an aura of suppression that seemed to cover the entire land, and they continued to swarm forward. They now covered tens of thousands of kilometers, and the Disaster Cavalry once again cast Undead Disaster, causing the ocean of bones to grow even bigger and for the aura of the army to become even more powerful.

Some of the Skeletons had already gathered enough life force to evolve, and their spirit flames became even bigger as they obtained some intelligence. Their bones also became bigger, and using the death energy they had, they condensed bone weapons.

These Skeletons could change professions by themselves, and some of them had become basic Skeleton Soldiers that were more powerful than ordinary Skeletons. Now, the ocean of bones had once again become more powerful.

The nearest City Lord looked at the approaching gray clouds and couldn't watch on any longer. He turned into a ray of light and flew towards the Undead army.

Seeing that endless ocean of bones, the City Lord was completely dumbfounded. His city was unable to stop such a massive army, and even if he used his City Lord Seal, he would be powerless against these Skeletons.

"What do I do?" Looking at the ocean of bones that was coming closer and closer to the city, the City Lord felt quite worried. Very few things could make City Lords feel this way – it was clear how terrifying this Undead Disaster was.

Suddenly, he sensed something and quickly flew towards the center of the ocean of bones. There, he saw a person, who gave off a powerful aura, wearing a black cloak and standing in the air.

Seeing this person and the ten Disaster Cavalrymen below him, he immediately realized that this Undead Disaster wasn't a natural disaster but something caused by this person. He felt quite furious and couldn't understand why this person would want to cause the deaths of millions of people.

"Sir, why are you doing this?" the young man loudly said as he furiously gazed at Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu's blood-red eyes glanced at the young man, and he lightly laughed, "Of course... it's so that countless creatures will die."

"You!" Hearing Zhao Fu's cold words, it was as if he saw the countless creatures as ants, and he couldn't help but feel enraged. He prepared to attack Zhao Fu.

He could sense that Zhao Fu had a City Lord Seal, and he also gave off an extremely dangerous aura. In the end, the City Lord decided to quell his anger because he didn't dare to attack.

However, Zhao Fu drew the Sin Dragon Sword, and a powerful aura swept out from him. If he could use this Undead Disaster to take down a few system main cities, that would be quite ideal.

Seeing that Zhao Fu was preparing to fight, the young man felt quite startled, and he drew a long saber and made preparations.

Suddenly, three rays of light flew over, revealing three figures that gave off mighty auras. They were the City Lords of the three other system main cities.

It was impossible of them not to know about such a massive Undead Disaster, so they had also come over to take a look.

They had also found that Zhao Fu was the cause of this Undead Disaster, so the four City Lords stood in the air and surrounded Zhao Fu. They believed that killing him would stop the Undead Disaster.

However, what they didn't know was that the Disaster Cavalry had long since lost control over the Undead Disaster, so killing Zhao Fu would be useless. Nevertheless, with Zhao Fu's current strength, it would be impossible for them to kill him.

The 4 City Lords were all men, and a big man said furiously, "You'd best stop this disaster, or we'll have to attack. Do you really think that you'll be able to fight against four City Lords just because you are also a City Lord?"

The three other City Lords looked at Zhao Fu seriously. Even though the Undead Disaster had only been going for a short while, millions of creatures had already died. If this continued, who knew how many creatures would perish? Today, they had to stop this calamity or kill Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu coldly laughed, "Do you really think you'll be able to kill me?"

An aura that was terrifying to the extreme burst forth, and it was as if space itself was unable to withstand this aura. The space started to crack. Zhao Fu not only used his Nation Armament's power but also his Clan Armament's power.

This massive force caused the four City Lords' faces to pale, and their confidence was instantly shattered.

In the end, the four City Lords could only take a step back and ask, “What do you want to stop this disaster?”

Zhao Fu also started to make alternate arrangements. The four system main cities would be difficult to defeat if they banded together. With players, the four cities had roughly six million people, and with the strength of the cities themselves, it would be quite difficult for the Undead army to break through them.

This was only the first region that the Undead army had stepped into, and it hadn’t started truly developing yet. Ordinary Skeletons were weaker than the average person, and there weren’t enough of them yet to take down an entire region.

Of course, with so many Skeletons, they would be enough to deal serious damage to the four main cities and could even destroy the main cities at the cost of most of the Skeletons being destroyed.

However, Zhao Fu’s ambitions were greater than this; his goal was to make this Undead Disaster sweep across the entirety of the northern side, turning it into a place of the dead. Not only would he be able to wipe out all opposition, but he would also be able to great benefits. How could he stop here?

Zhao Fu calmly replied, “This Undead army is already out of control, and I’m unable to stop it. However, I have methods to make you immune to this Undead Disaster, though it will cost you.”

Upon hearing that the Undead Disaster was out of Zhao Fu’s control, the four City Lords became quite startled, but hearing that Zhao Fu could grant them immunity, they let out a sigh of relief and asked, “What do we have to do?”

Zhao Fu smiled as he handed out a list and replied, “Expel all of these factions from your system main cities and list them as wanted criminals who will be killed as soon as they step into the city.”

The four City Lords looked over the list, and essentially all of the factions were player factions that wouldn’t affect them at all. As such, they happily agreed – otherwise, their cities, including their residents and soldiers, would die from the Undead Disaster.

Seeing them agree, Zhao Fu stated his second requirement, “In the future, I’ll need your help as well. Don’t worry. It won’t be detrimental to you at all.”

When they heard the second requirement, the four City Lords hesitated, but they still agreed in the end.

Chapter 437 – Grim Feeling

The names on the list were all factions that were part of the Qin Resistance Alliance. Since they had attacked Great Qin, Zhao Fu didn’t intend of letting them off and would show no mercy.

Without the protection of the system main cities, these people would quickly die to the Undead Disaster. Even if they survived by sheer luck, they would be listed as wanted criminals, no longer be able to enter system main cities, and be greatly restricted.

The second requirement was something that Zhao Fu was saving for the future.

After striking this deal, Zhao Fu smiled as he said, "Alright, go and close your city gates. Also, use this formation to suppress the life aura from your cities. I'll guide the Skeletons to not harm your cities."

Hearing that Zhao Fu only had these two requirements, the four City Lords let out sighs of relief and nodded their heads. They turned around, and their bodies turned into rays of lights as they disappeared over the horizon. Because the Undead Disaster was already out of Zhao Fu's control, they had to act quickly, or the consequences would be unimaginable.

The fastest was the young man because the Undead army was closest to his city. After returning, he immediately gave the orders to expel those people on the list.

The factions were completely dumbfounded and had no idea why the system main city was expelling them for no apparent reason. Moreover, at the same time, they found out about the Undead Disaster, so if the system main city was expelling them, they would definitely die. They begged and pleaded, but it was useless. Soon, all of them had been expelled from the system main cities.

Seeing these people being expelled, the other players felt quite afraid and were worried that they too would be expelled. There was no chance of survival in the face of that monstrous Undead Disaster, so all of the players became incredibly docile and didn't dare to cause even the slightest bit of trouble.

Rumble...

That terrifying sound came closer and closer, and the skies gradually darkened as they were covered by gray clouds. A chilling wind blew, making everyone's backs feel incredibly cold.

At that moment, countless Skeletons came over a mountain and started to appear. After personally seeing this unending ocean of Skeletons, countless people's legs gave out as they stared in horror. None of them had thought that the situation would be so grim.

The city gates were tightly shut, and the formation that suppressed the aura of life was activated. However, those who had been expelled weren't so lucky.

Facing the countless Skeletons, they couldn't even run from them. These people tried to leave the Heaven Awaken World and come back in a few days, but they found that they couldn't leave and were instead greeted with a system announcement.

"System announcement! A great disaster has happened in your region, and you are unable to leave the Heaven Awaken World!"

Seeing the people outside the main cities, the countless Skeletons excitedly rushed up. The people continuously begged the system main cities to let them in, but no matter how they pleaded, it was all useless.

After all, if they opened the city gates now, the aura of life would come spilling out of the city, causing the countless Skeletons to madly attack the city. If that happened, there would not be a single person left in the city afterward.

"Arghhhh..."

Cries of pain sounded out from outside, causing those inside the city to shudder. They knew how terrifying it was outside, and their bodies couldn't stop trembling.

Soon, all of the howls subsided, and because the Skeletons couldn't detect the aura of any more living creatures, the Disaster Cavalry were able to guide them onwards.

After everything settled down and the Skeleton army left, some people mustered up the courage to look outside. They saw countless corpses with terrified expressions peacefully lying on the ground. There were dismembered limbs and organs all over the place, and blood dyed the ground. The stench of blood filled the air, and it looked like a slaughterhouse of horrors.

Anyone who saw this scene felt incredibly horrified. Everyone also rejoiced that they hadn't been expelled, or else this would have been their fate.

The countless Skeletons continued onwards to other main cities, giving off an aura that could sweep across anything. The conclusions for those who had been expelled were the same.

As time passed, the Undead Disaster became more and more terrifying, and the region seemed to be bearing unspeakable pain and death. Death, and more death – Death was the only thing present.

This day was destined to be the most horrifying day for this region, and the aura of death filled the entire region. The sky lost all brightness, making the land seem incredibly dark. The grass and plants had become deathly gray, blood stained the ground, and the howls of the Undead could be heard everywhere.

The players in this region described this horrifying scene on the Heaven Awaken World forum, garnering the sympathy of countless people.

At the same time, more and more people started to pay attention to this Undead Disaster. Soon, all of China heard about how terrifying this Undead Disaster was.

Most of the creatures in a region had died – not just beasts but also villages in the wilderness and countless players. The land and plants had been infected with the aura of death and lost all vitality, and they wouldn't be able to recover in a long time.

The entire region had been severely damaged, but it wasn't a complete disaster – after all, the four system main cities, surprisingly, hadn't been attacked, and everyone inside had remained safe.

However, everyone was incredibly curious why none of the four system main cities had been attacked, and soon, news of some players being expelled was spread.

Many people realized that these people were all part of factions that were part of the Qin Resistance Alliance. A few factions being expelled from a system main city wasn't a big deal, but these specific factions being expelled was a bit too coincidental.

It was said that these factions were not only expelled but also listed as wanted criminals. Even if the players didn't die, they would only be able to stay in the wilderness, and they wouldn't dare to enter system main cities. Otherwise, they would be killed by the city guards.

If this really was done by Great Qin, their methods were savage and malicious to the extreme – they were cutting off all hope and not leaving any problems for themselves in the future. However, this was only a guess, and no one could confirm that this was done by Great Qin.

However, it was still enough to make many people feel a grim feeling.

After hearing about this, Su Yan's expression became extremely serious. There had been no news about Great Qin recently, which had made him feel quite uneasy. Recently, Great Qin had been like a silent beast that could launch a terrifying attack at any moment, so he immediately ordered his people to gather information on Great Qin.

None of the factions in the northern side had connected the dots, and all of them thought that this was a coincidence. After all, the northern side was quite big, and this was just a single region. Therefore, it wasn't a big deal.

The various Dynasty Legatees felt a bit worried, but they decided to see how things progressed from here.

The various Schools of Thought and sects also paid some attention to this. Some talented people could feel that something big was about to happen.

Chapter 438 - High-Grade Contract

The Undead Disaster continued in this region for eight days, and the ocean of bones had more than doubled in size. Under the guidance of the Disaster Cavalry, the countless Skeletons moved on to the next region.

Seeing the Skeleton army depart, the four City Lords finally relaxed and heavily sighed. They looked at the devastation around their cities and wondered how long this disaster would take to recover from.

At the same time, they were glad that they had reached a settlement with Zhao Fu. Otherwise, if the Skeletons were allowed to do as they pleased, the consequences would have been unimaginable. However, they couldn't help but wonder what Zhao Fu wanted their help with – after all, they had already signed a contract with him.

The contract was a High-Grade Contract, and Zhao Fu had spent a lot of money to buy it. It bound powerful experts to their word – after all, it was impossible for Zhao Fu to trust an oral promise that had no binding power.

Zhao Fu stood in the air and took out his map, looking at the next region that the ocean of bones would go to. This region was a plains region that had fertile land, and it had many types of crops. It was a pity that all of this would be destroyed soon.

The ocean of bones flooded into the Void Zone, and even the powerful creatures within the Void Zone started to run for their lives. The Void Zone, which was incredibly dangerous to others, wasn't even an obstacle for the Skeletons.

As the Skeletons entered the next region, the people in the region they had left gave expressions of relief, but the people in the region they entered became incredibly worried. The people who had just survived couldn't help but feel ecstatic – during the last few days, they had been incredibly worried that the Skeletons would enter the system main cities.

Only now could they relax. Looking at the aftermath outside, they felt incredibly shocked – they had escaped a great disaster.

While these people rejoiced, the people in the next region were about to suffer a calamity. By now, the ocean of bones had doubled in size, and many of them had become Skeleton Soldiers, making the army much stronger.

Soon, the Skeletons passed through the Void Zone and officially stepped into the next region, beginning their slaughter. After gaining more Skeletons in the previous region, the ocean of bones spread through this region even faster.

The region was quickly devoured by the white ocean at a speed at which the eye could see, and massive gray clouds of a deathly aura followed above.

“The Undead Disaster is attacking our region!!” A terrified voice suddenly rang out within a system main city.

After hearing this, countless people’s expressions became grim, and they asked the person who had yelled out if what he said was true and how he knew.

After being surrounded by so many people, that person nervously gulped before saying, “That Undead Disaster has long since entered our region, and many villages have been destroyed by it. My friend’s village was completely annihilated, and he was split in two by a Skeleton Soldier. I was only able to escape using a Teleportation Talisman.”

After hearing that person’s narrative, everyone started to feel quite afraid, and the news quickly spread. Soon, everyone within that system main city started to panic.

The countless Skeletons detected the aura of living creatures and became incredibly excited. They madly ran forward, devoured whatever they came across, and continuously advanced.

Of course, the Skeletons avoided the center of each of the regions because the aura from there was way too powerful. Those areas were where the most powerful creatures of the regions dwelt.

Facing such a terrifying disaster, the monster rulers didn’t dare to do anything either – evidently, even they weren’t very confident that they could take on so many Skeletons.

Rumble...

Countless beasts ran for their lives, their footsteps sounding like thunder as the ground continuously shook. The Skeletons chased after them, unwilling to let them go as if they were an ocean of beasts chasing after their prey.

Zhao Fu was at the center of the ocean of bones, and because he hid his presence and had the Disaster King Ring, he wasn’t attacked by the Skeletons. However, because of how large the ocean of bones was, he had no idea what was ahead.

Any villages that they encountered were instantly destroyed, and all of the people were killed. Zhao Fu had no idea what was going on because of how big the Skeleton army was, nor could he see any of the destruction.

Because Zhao Fu was unable to control the Skeletons, it was impossible for him to obtain things like City Creation Stones, items, money, and people.

Unfortunately, Zhao Fu had to remain at the center of the ocean of bones because that was where the Disaster Cavalry, who were continuously casting Undead Disaster, were. Even though they had Stage 2 strength, they were still quite weak against City Lords.

If the Disaster Cavalry were killed, the ocean of bones wouldn't be able to continue growing, and the Skeletons would turn into a pile of loose sand that would dissipate everywhere. They would no longer have the strength and momentum to destroy everything.

The sky was once again covered by a gray deathly aura, and the land gradually lost its vitality. Ten rays of black light shot into the sky, and a 1,000-meter wide magic formation appeared.

The Disaster Cavalry once again cast Undead Disaster, creating many Skeletons again, and the ocean of bones once again expanded.

Even more Skeletons had evolved after killing enough living creatures. The black flames in their skulls became larger, and their bones also grew and had a sheen to them. Their strength also increased.

"Dear, hurry and run!" The countless Skeletons rushed towards a small village, and it was quickly devoured. Pitiful howls rang out. A family ran away but was still caught by the evil Skeletons.

A big man picked up a pitchfork and yelled towards a woman carrying a baby before fearlessly rushing at the Skeletons.

The woman held back her tears as she looked at the big man before hugging her child and running away.

The big man furiously roared, and to protect his wife and child, he used all of his strength as he fought. He sent a Skeleton flying as he swung with his pitchfork, after which he punched another Skeleton away.

At that moment, the big man seemed incredibly dauntless and beat down three Skeletons. However, this was nothing to the ocean of bones, and after he was jumped on by multiple Skeletons, he was quickly bitten to death.

The woman was also soon caught up to. One of the Skeletons suddenly stabbed out, piercing the woman's body, and a few more Skeletons ran over. The woman coughed up a mouthful of blood, but she tightly held on to her child.

Just as the Skeletons were about to kill the woman and child, a white sword light flashed, slashing the Skeletons away.

Chapter 439 - Seven Days

An extremely beautiful woman in white held a sharp sword and descended from the sky. She quickly supported the staggering mother. However, the mother's chest had been pierced by a Skeleton's hand, and her clothes were dyed red – it seemed that she wouldn't have long to live.

The mother looked at the woman in white pleadingly and handed over the child in her arms before saying, “Miss, please take him in!”

The woman in white took the child and nodded seriously to the mother.

The mother had a peaceful smile on her face and closed her eyes, never to open them again.

The woman in white held the child in one arm and looked incredibly furious as she slashed out with her sword, sending out a sharp sword light that disintegrated the ten or so Skeletons rushing at her.

This woman in white was extremely powerful, and she was a City Lord-level figure. After killing those ten or so Skeletons, even more Skeletons rushed at her, and the rest of the ocean of bones gave off terrifying sounds as they also started to move over.

As such, the woman in white could only fly into the air and hide her presence. Looking at the ocean of bones, she felt quite enraged and sorrowful – just how many creatures had died to form the ocean of bones?

If the ocean of bones was allowed to continue developing, everything in this region was doomed. She had to think of a way to resolve this disaster.

Suddenly, the woman in white sensed something and flew towards the center of the ocean of bones.

Just as Zhao Fu once again ordered the Disaster Cavalry to cast Undead Disaster, a piercing sword light shot towards him.

Zhao Fu quickly drew the Sin Dragon Sword and blocked the attack as he looked at the woman in white in front of him.

The woman in white’s eyes were extremely cold, and she glared at Zhao Fu. She knew that all of this was caused by him, and when she thought about the countless people who had been killed and the countless families that had been destroyed, she cried out and attacked again. She slashed out a sword light that was ten or so meters long and gave off an astounding aura, and she sent it flying towards Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu coldly smiled and didn’t even bother to use his City Lord Seal. This woman was carrying a child, yet she dared to attack him like this. Zhao Fu raised the Sin Dragon Sword and sent his King’s Power into it, causing it to give off terrifying ripples. He slashed out, sending out a massive sword wind.

This sword wind instantly shattered the incoming sword light and continued onwards towards the woman in white. Because the woman in white was carrying a child, she couldn’t move freely, so she was forced to use her sword to block and was knocked back ten or so meters.

The woman in white’s expression became serious – she had never expected Zhao Fu to be so powerful. If she didn’t use her City Lord Seal, it would be impossible for her to defeat the person in front of her.

Indeed, Zhao Fu’s strength had already surpassed that of a Stage 4 expert. His own cultivation was about to break through to Stage 3, and with his Heaven grade, his cultivation speed was simply monstrous. With his stats and the Saint Armament he wielded, ordinary Stage 4 experts wouldn’t be a match for him.

The woman in white started to use her City Lord Seal, and a shocking amount of power radiated out from her, causing the clouds above to swirl.

At that moment, three rays of light flew over and turned into three figures. These three figures surprised Zhao Fu because they were all extraordinarily beautiful women.

Seeing them arrive, a look of delight appeared on the woman in white's face as she said, "Sisters, let's join together to kill this demon and prevent this disaster!"

Seeing the might of the ocean in bones, they understood how terrifying it was, and they all seriously nodded, preparing to attack.

An extremely terrifying might suddenly enveloped them – Zhao Fu once again used a bit of his Nation Armament and Clan Armament's power. He didn't waste any words as he directly said, "As long as you agree to my conditions, I can promise that your main cities won't be destroyed!"

His overwhelming might, which seemed to be able to shake the heavens and the earth, caused the four women's faces to go pale. Just this person's strength alone was enough to fight them to a standstill, and this wasn't factoring in the countless Skeletons below.

"What are your conditions?" a woman in red asked.

A trace of a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face as he handed over a list and said, "As long as you expel these people, list them as wanted criminals, and agree to help me with something in the future, you and your main cities won't be harmed."

After looking through the list, the other three women nodded seriously and agreed.

However, the woman in white looked at Zhao Fu and asked, "What about the people and creatures outside of our main cities?"

Zhao Fu looked at her and calmly replied, "Of course, they'll all die!"

"Unacceptable! You must stop this Undead Disaster, or countless creatures will die!" the woman in white immediately replied.

"Hahahaha..." Zhao Fu loudly laughed as he looked at the woman in white with his blood-red eyes. "And so what? If you have the ability, you can try to stop this Undead Disaster, but no one will survive from your main city. If you want your main city to be turned into dust, feel free to try!"

The woman in white was completely furious, but with her strength, she had no way of stopping this Undead Disaster. If she refused his demands, her main city would definitely be destroyed, and when she thought about her residents, who loved and respected her, the woman in white was unable to act.

The other three women also tried to convince the woman in white that saving her main city was the best result for now; otherwise, the entire region would turn into a region of the dead.

Under Zhao Fu's threats, the woman in white gave in. Following this, Zhao Fu took out four High-Grade Contracts and had them sign them before reminding them, "This Undead Disaster is already out of control, so it's best that you do this as soon as possible!"

The four women's expressions became grim, and they glared at Zhao Fu before quickly returning to their own system main cities.

Zhao Fu watched as the four women disappeared, and his gaze became icy cold again. He had the Disaster Cavalry once again cast Undead Disaster, and countless corpses, including the big man and the mother of the child, became Skeletons and joined the ocean of bones.

After the four City Lords returned to their system main cities, they immediately ordered their soldiers to expel the people on the list. Those who were expelled were completely dumbfounded, and when they thought about the Undead outside of the city, they begged to be spared. However, they were eventually dragged out.

Seeing this sight, the rest of the players settled down and kept a low profile, not daring to make any trouble.

The Skeleton army swept across everything in a grandiose manner, and because this region was mainly a plains region, there was nothing in their way. Soon, the ocean of bones covered the entire region, and the clouds of deathly aura covered the entire sky.

The region, once filled with vitality, gradually died, and the lighting became dimmer and dimmer, making it difficult to see into the distance. A gloomy aura spread out, making people's hairs stand on end.

Countless creatures tried to escape, but they were unable to, completely surrounded by the Skeletons. They could only die in pain and despair, and pitiful howls tore through the air continuously, reminding those who survived what sort of world they were living in.

The Undead Disaster went rampant in this region for seven days, one less day than the previous region, and the ocean of bones once again increased in size as it moved towards the next region.

Chapter 440 - Star of Disaster

The woman in white stood on the city walls and looked at the aftermath of the Undead Disaster. She clenched her fists, looking incredibly hateful. In the future, she was determined to make that demon pay in order to seek justice for the countless deceased beings.

The things that had happened in this region quickly spread to the real world, and the results of the Undead Disaster caused countless people to feel deathly afraid and terrified.

This Undead Disaster was a catastrophe that could destroy an entire region. Anyone, whether or not it was a player faction, an indigenous resident in the wilderness, or a wild beast, who caught the attention of the ocean of bones was doomed.

Moreover, all of the factions a part of the Qin Resistance Alliance had once again been expelled. Now, even idiots would realize that this incident had to do with Great Qin. The first time may have been a coincidence, but this was already the second time. No one would believe that this was a mere coincidence.

Now, the Undead Disaster had swept through two regions, and it had shown no signs of getting weaker. In fact, it had been growing more and more, and when everyone thought about the terrifying aftermath, everyone could guess that a terrifying storm was brewing.

Countless factions, Schools, and sects quickly held meetings to discuss this matter. Even though the Undead Disaster had only gone through two regions, they understood how terrifying it was.

The scale of the Undead Disaster exceeded anything Zhao Fu had expected, which allowed Zhao Fu to change his plans. Since this was the case, it was possible to have it not only sweep through the northern side of the Midland Continent but the entirety of China's territory, if not the entire Heaven Awaken World. It was entirely possible for this Undead Disaster to sweep through every corner of this world and bring a disaster to all beings.

No one knew what Great Qin's Legatee was thinking or what he wanted, but from his bloodthirsty and cold nature, they knew that it was entirely possible that the rest of the world could be affected as well, not just the northern side of the Midland Continent.

By now, the Undead Disaster had reached the third region, and its speed was even faster. The massive ocean of bones swallowed everything in its path, and everything before it seemed extremely weak and tiny.

Living creatures continuously died, and howls filled the wilderness as the Undead Disaster gave off a shocking aura and killed everything in its way, causing it to grow more and more.

At the same time, all of the factions a part of the Qin Resistance Alliance were expelled from the system main cities.

Countless factions understood how severe this situation was, and because they understood that their own faction could be affected, none of them dared to be careless.

Mohists: "We must stop this disaster as soon as possible; otherwise, if it truly develops, it will be able to sweep away everyone under the heavens, and countless people will die!"

Confucians: "Great Qin's Legatee is a star of disaster, causing countless people to suffer this calamity. He is extremely cold and bloodthirsty, so we must stop him."

Taoists: "This terrible disaster will cause the land to be dyed red with blood, and people's corpses will form mountains. This is simply against the peace of the Heavens; we must make Great Qin's Legatee stop!"

All of the factions wanted to stop this disaster because the consequences were too severe, and almost the entire Heaven Awaken World could be affected.

However, even if they wanted to stop it, they were unable to. After all, they simply lacked the power to do anything – if Great Qin's Legatee wanted to create a catastrophe for the Heaven Awaken World, they couldn't do anything about it.

Immediately, they felt incredibly helpless, and even though they knew that a disaster was coming and that countless people would die, they simply couldn't do anything about it.

For the Ancient Clans, ten or so elders looked incredibly worried as they met together. One of them said, "I knew that Great Qin's Legatee wasn't someone who could be easily offended. With how bloodthirsty and violent he is, how could he tolerate the things that happened in the northern side of the Midland Continent? This is great – now, not only the northern side but all of China might be affected."

Another elder said, "Back when we sent people to mediate between Great Qin and the northern side's factions, Great Qin's Legatee didn't respond. At that time, I already felt that something was off, and it was simply laughable that some people would think that Great Qin would submit and back down."

"Enough! There's no need saying these things. Right now, the most important thing is stopping this disaster. We don't have the power to stop it, so we can only hope to contact Great Qin's Legatee and ask him to stop this disaster," another elder said.

Hearing this, the others could only nod. Apart from this, they had no other plan.

At the same time, Flower Moon also held an emergency meeting.

One of the women said, "Now you know how terrifying Great Qin is. Seventeenth Sister, you helped the northern side's factions a bit before, and now, Great Qin has listed you as someone on its hit list. Luckily, Great Qin doesn't know much about Flower Moon, or we would've been doomed."

The woman referred to as Seventeenth Sister pouted but didn't say anything. She had indeed underestimated Great Qin's Legatee and had never thought that he would create such a catastrophe.

Another woman asked the woman sitting in the main seat, "Big sis, what do you think we should do? This Undead Disaster has already swept through three regions, and it's becoming bigger and bigger. If it truly develops, our business will be severely affected."

The mature woman in the main seat looked quite serious as she said, "Our business will indeed be affected by this, but will we be able to stop Great Qin's Legatee?"

This question caused everyone to fall silent – they were just as helpless as everyone else.

The factions in the northern side were incredibly worried, and they all asked Su Yan what to do. Su Yan felt a headache coming on – he knew that something was off from the beginning, and now, the northern side's factions' weakness had been revealed. Even though they had many people, they were unable to gather their forces.

If they could gather together, they could kill the Skeletons and end the Undead Disaster, but because they were scattered, this was impossible.

None of them had expected Great Qin to have such methods, and now, they could only try to negotiate with Great Qin and give back the territory they had taken from it with extra compensation.

They also needed to slightly restrict Great Qin from attacking whoever they wanted, rescue the dignity of the northern side, and gather their own strength.

After making this decision, Su Yan immediately sent people to negotiate.

Now, basically all of the factions in China sent people to the Ying family to ask Great Qin to stop this disaster, making the Ying family's residence as busy as a marketplace.

The Ying family's leaders secretly felt incredibly delighted and felt that they had been unnecessarily worried. They had never thought that Great Qin's Legatee would have such terrifying power, and the Ying family, which had been ostracised, suddenly became incredibly welcome by everyone.