

The Lord 591

Chapter 591 - True World

In actuality, the place that Zhao Fu was in was not the true Heaven Awaken World – the true Heaven Awaken World was a vast, boundless world, while the place that Zhao Fu was in was only what was called the Legacy Land.

Just as its name implied, the Legacy Land was a place where many Legacies were collected. Most of these Legacies were historical Legacies from dynasties, states, nations, and large families.

Every century, the Heaven Awaken World would devour some worlds. In order to prevent the new worlds from being immediately slaughtered, there would be protective regions, which was the Legacy Land.

The Legacy Land was not only a place where Legacies were collected but also a place that protected beginners from new worlds. This allowed those with Legacies to become stronger so that they would be able to defend against invasions from other worlds.

The Heaven Domain Boundary was a barrier that protected the Legacy Land. If the Heaven Domain Boundary disappeared, the Legacy Land would truly fuse with the Heaven Awaken World. When that time came, those inside would truly be part of the Heaven Awaken World as opposed to just within the Legacy Land.

Essentially, it was like a barrier around a small part of a very large map.

Right now, the Legacy Land was on the edge of the Heaven Awaken World. Because the Heaven Awaken World continuously devoured worlds, its size continuously grew, so the worlds that were devoured naturally appeared at the edge and continuously expanded the size of the Heaven Awaken World.

There were many benefits at being at the edge, as they could avoid facing off against some extremely powerful and ancient factions for now. Most of the factions at the center of the Heaven Awaken World had existed for tens of thousands of years, if not hundreds of thousands or millions of years.

How could people who had only entered the Heaven Awaken World for a few years fight against factions that had existed for over tens of thousands of years? They would be completely suppressed without having even a bit of power to resist.

From the demon god's information, Zhao Fu knew that most people in the Heaven Awaken World called the edges of the Heaven Awaken World the Border Wilderness Regions. Not only was there less Fate in such regions, but there were also not any benefits, so those ancient factions would not lay their hands on the Border Wilderness Regions.

That was why the Border Wilderness Regions were able to escape disaster. The only threat that they would face were from worlds that had been devoured the previous century.

After all, they would have developed for many decades, and even though they were weaker than the others, it would be easy for them to deal with the newer worlds.

Even though the ancient factions would not bother with the Border Wilderness Regions, others were still quite interested, as they would be able to obtain a large amount of Fate as well as countless slaves and resources.

Slavery was quite prevalent in the Heaven Awaken World, and essentially all the factions that conquered other factions would make the conquered factions their slaves. Very few people would accept people from other worlds, so after conquering them, they would normally view them as slaves rather than as their own subjects.

Zhao Fu knew that after the Heaven Awaken World devoured the real world, there would be a disaster, which was the invasion from other worlds. The other factions would have developed for many decades, while they would have only developed for a few years – they would be at a significant disadvantage.

In the past, many races had gone extinct or become slaves – these were all things that had happened before.

Most people in the Legacy Land did not know of this. The cruel Chaotic World was to train people to have the ability to resist in the future. They could limitlessly revive now, but things would be different in the future: once a person died, they would remain dead without any more chances.

Currently, this sort of knowledge was forbidden, because once it was revealed, it would result in mass panic, and they would no longer be able to properly develop.

If everyone in the world found out about this, they would make preparations. However, because of this, the Heaven Awaken World would deactivate the Heaven Domain Boundary ahead of time. As such, even if they made preparations, without enough time, they would still be easily slaughtered.

As such, the Heaven Awaken World had nurtured a group of powerful experts to make sure that the new worlds were not easily destroyed. As for those who were weak, they would become food for the strong.

Before, Zhao Fu had heard the Black and White Impermanences and the Ghostworld Soldiers mention the Legacy Land, but they were unable to say anything and had received warning announcements.

Luckily, Zhao Fu had devoured the Divinity of a demon god and obtained this information himself, or he would still be ignorant about it, only finding out after the Heaven Awaken World devoured the real world.

Right now, everyone in this world, regardless of their race or nationality or skin colour, was called 'Human' by the system.

The other worlds had similar titles, but 'Human' was the title unique to earth.

Zhao Fu was not sure how many other races there were next to Humanity, as they were all devoured in the previous century. It had not been too long, and because the information was not of great significance, the golden dragon did not know, and there was no information about them from the demon god.

Currently, everything outside the Legacy Land was a great mystery. If Zhao Fu could head to the outer world, he would have an incredibly advantage, and this would be very important to Great Qin.

The Heaven Domain Stone he had obtained some time ago could open the Heaven Domain Boundary, and Boundary Iron was an important material to opening the door to another world, while an Enhanced Spatial Stone could enhance spatial power.

What Zhao Fu had been waiting for was a Trans-Boundary Teleportation Channel, which could allow a person to cross from one world to another. It was something that could only be exchanged for after the Chaotic World Stone Stele reached Level 6.

The reason why Zhao Fu had never spent any of his War Points was because he had been saving up for this. It was extraordinarily expensive, and if he spent any of his War Points on anything useful, it would take a long time before he could finally purchase it.

Zhao Fu was in a hurry to see what the true Heaven Awaken World was like, and he wanted to know what his future enemies' strength was like. This would allow him to make sufficient preparations so that Great Qin could put up some resistance when the time came.

That was the reason why Zhao Fu wanted to quickly restore the Great Qin Empire. Only after establishing a nation would they have some form of resistance, or they would not be able to resist at all.

Right now, the battles within the Legacy Land were incredibly ferocious and intense, but they were completely meaningless in the end. Zhao Fu understood that his true enemies in the future would be much stronger, so he had to prepare to fight against them. His foresight was not as lacking as everyone else's.

Fighting between themselves would only result in everyone becoming weaker, which was not good. In this world, the weak did not have the right to live; this was how cruel this world was.

Moreover, because China's territory was at the center of the Midland Continent, the center of the Legacy Land, it had an advantage, as the invasions would start from other continents.

Zhao Fu was not sure how the future would be, how many people would die, or how many races would go extinct. Right now, Zhao Fu was still as weak as an ant.

The golden dragon was right – the human world was only an inferior civilized world, and there were superior worlds and Legacies. Humanity was indeed incredibly weak.

Chapter 592: Eight Major Races

There were also countless races in the Heaven Awaken World, and no one knew just how many they were. Perhaps there were tens of thousands or hundreds of thousands, but they were grouped into eight major races.

The first was the Human Race, which was like humans and had a certain amount of intelligence, as well as pure human bloodlines. Examples included the Humans on earth, as well as some other races that fulfilled the conditions.

The second was the Devil Race, which was mostly beast-shaped creatures. They also had intelligence, and high-level Devils could turn into human form, such as the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon and the Wind Dragon Lord.

The third was the Demon Race, which included all creatures with pure demon bloodlines.

The fourth was the Outlander Race, that referred to races like Elves, Orcs, Goblins, Kobolds, and the like. Even though they also had humanoid shapes, they did not have human blood, so they were referred to as Outlanders.

The fifth was the God Race, which referred to creatures with Divinity that had the blood of gods, as well as creatures created by gods, such as Angels and Elementals.

The sixth was the Water Race, which included all creatures that lived in water. There were many water regions in the Heaven Awaken World, and they were quite big. The Water Clan primarily lived in water, and there were all kinds of them: some were humanoid shaped and some were beast shaped, but because they did not belong to the Human Race or the Devil Race, they were called the Water Race.

The seventh was the Death Race, which included Undead creatures and monsters that belonged to the Underworld. This included the Black and White Impermanences and the Ghostworld Soldiers.

The eighth was the Spirit Race, which referred to all objects with spirits. Some rocks, trees, or fires that developed consciousness and intelligence would become part of the Spirit Race. Of the eight major races, the Spirit Race numbered the fewest.

Out of the eight major races, the Human Race was relatively weak, but because they had high tolerance and were able to accept the seven other major races, they had a lot of speaking power in the Heaven Awaken World.

The three strongest major races would be the Devil Race, the God Race, and the Demon Race.

The Devil Race controlled countless beasts, and their bodies were incredibly powerful, allowing them to easily cause destruction. The God Race and the Demon Race's innate stats were better than the other major races, so these three major races were stronger than the other five.

Apart from races, there were also different types and levels of kingdoms in the Heaven Awaken World. The weakest type was called a Barony, then a Marquisate, then a Dukedom, then a Royal Kingdom, then an Imperial Kingdom, then an Empire, and finally a Holy Empire.

Each of these was split into nine levels, so there were Level 1 to Level 9 Baronages. Baronages were usually created when a powerful kingdom bestowed land to a vassal state, allowing it to form its own kingdom.

Marquisates were like feudal vassals, and only Dukedoms had some strength. Only Royal Kingdoms and above were true kingdoms, while Imperial Kingdoms were above Royal Kingdoms, and Empires were above Imperial Kingdoms. The highest was a Holy Empire, which reigned above everything else, and they were extremely rare.

Apart from these were Divine Kingdoms, but they were controlled by gods and did not count within those classifications.

These ranks of kingdoms differentiated between the strength of kingdoms. When Great Qin first established a kingdom, it would be a Level 1 Baronage, and only then would it have some chance at survival. One could only imagine just how difficult it would be in the future.

Moreover, the currency would no longer be gold coins but violet gold coins, crystal coins, and high-grade saint coins. Violet gold coins were worth 100 gold coins, crystal coins were worth 100 violet gold coins, and saint coins were worth 100 crystal coins.

Only powerful kingdoms had saint coins, and they were things that lower-grade kingdoms would never even see. Currently, gold coins were the most common type of coin seen in the Heaven Awaken World.

There were also higher grades of equipment: above Epic grade equipment were Saint Armaments, Divine Earth Armaments, and Emperor Heaven Armaments.

Each of these were split into 12 levels, going from a Level 1 Saint Armament to Level 12 Saint Armament, above which was a Level 1 Divine Earth Armament. Divine Earth Armaments were equivalent to what ordinary gods used.

Regarding Cultivation, above Stage 9, there were also nine major realms: the Saint Realm, Earth Realm, Heaven Realm, Harmony Realm, World Realm, Divine Realm, Extreme Divine Realm, and Emperor Heaven Realm.

Each realm was split into Lower, Middle, Upper, and Complete, and all of these realms were incredibly powerful. Those in the Saint Realm could even kill gods – not just clones but actual gods. However, they would only be able to kill some weaker gods, but the higher one's cultivation was, the higher one's ability to kill even more powerful gods.

Right now, Zhao Fu was still a bit away from breaking through to Stage 4. He did not need to think about the realms beyond Stage 9 for now – that was simply too far away.

However, right now, Zhao Fu's grade was Heaven Grade, and he had a Sovereign Bloodline, so his cultivation speed was incredibly fast.

That was most of the basic information about the true Heaven Awaken World. Right now, the Chaotic World Stone Stele was not even at Level 6 yet, so it would still be some time before Zhao Fu could leave the Legacy Land.

Seeing that there was not much for him to do here, he decided that it had been quite a few days since he had returned to the real world. He was most likely famished, so he decided to return for a bit.

After his consciousness returned to his body in the real world, that familiar feeling of hunger immediately hit him. Zhao Fu opened his eyes and asked his bodyguard to order some food, and he heard that there were countless people who wanted to see him.

Zhao Fu thought about it and decided not to see them yet, at least until he had eaten.

After the bodyguard brought him his food and Zhao Fu had taken a few bites, the bodyguard came and announced that Wu Qingniang wanted to see him. Zhao Fu instinctively invited her in.

It had been a while since he had last seen Wu Qingniang, and she looked even more mature and beautiful. Zhao Fu looked at her and lightly smiled as he asked, "What is it, Qingniang?"

Qingniang smiled as she sat down next to Zhao Fu and hugged him, leaning her head against his shoulder and saying softly, "I obviously miss you!"

Zhao Fu felt quite startled, and he then hesitated as he didn't know what to do with his hands. In the end, he decided not to hug her and just nodded.

After hugging Zhao Fu for a while, Wu Qingniang finally let go and instead changed to hugging his arm and leaning against him. She said, "You've been so busy lately, and it's hard to even meet with you. Have you become too important for me after becoming the Ying family's proxy family leader and Great Qin's Legatee's representative?"

After saying this, Wu Qingniang pinched Zhao Fu's waist.

Zhao Fu dryly laughed in pain and could only apologize as he said, "I've been fairly busy lately. I'm sorry about that!"

Wu Qingniang nodded and said, "I've heard about what has been happening with Great Qin lately, so I won't blame you. That's right, Great Qin has become incredibly important to this shift in Fate. What are you all planning on doing?"

Chapter 593: Here's Your Reward

Zhao Fu thought for a moment before replying, "We'll do what we can! Even though Great Qin is recovering, after the shift in Fate ends, the other Dynasty Legatees and factions will turn their attention to Great Qin again and will most likely act against Great Qin again.

"However, it's impossible for Great Qin to not recover, and that would be bad for not only Great Qin but for them as well. As such, we'll do our best to help Great Qin recover as soon as possible!"

Wu Qingniang nodded and raised her head before kissing Zhao Fu. She smiled as she said, "Alright, I'll be going now. Do I need to make a meritorious contribution to see Mr Important next time?"

Zhao Fu grinned as he replied, "No, I'll tell my bodyguard to let you in next time."

Wu Qingniang smiled and harrumphed, "That's more like it!"

Wu Qingniang suddenly pushed Zhao Fu down on the sofa and pressed her delicate figure against his, her red lips kissing Zhao Fu's lips. Her domineering tongue snaked into Zhao Fu's mouth, and their tongues continuously wrapped around each other as both of them revelled in this experience.

After a while, Wu Qingniang got up, her face red as she said to Zhao Fu, "I'll be going now!"

Zhao Fu nodded, after which Wu Qingniang left. Zhao Fu sighed – he really did not know what to do about Wu Qingniang.

After eating, Zhao Fu met with the Ying family's leaders – they were all quite concerned about the current situation, and after Zhao Fu talked with them, they left feeling much more relieved.

Many other factions also sent representatives, as Great Qin was quite important to the shift in Fate, so they wanted to hear what Great Qin's thoughts were.

Even people from the governmental faction came and tried to persuade Great Qin to let go of their grievances and unite with the rest of China, and the other factions wanted to help Great Qin recover.

Zhao Fu did not bother meeting with these people, as he did not need their help. Zhao Fu told the family leaders to announce Great Qin's thoughts, causing them all to let out a sigh of relief.

There was nothing he could do about this – even though he did not want to help them, Great Qin could not just continue to stagnate; if that happened, Great Qin would suffer the most. Moreover, Zhao Fu knew of a bigger danger that was coming.

He could not allow Great Qin to be destroyed in the future just because of these people, so he could only do this.

Finally, there was another person who wanted to see Zhao Fu, Su Yuyan. She was most likely here for Flower Moon's people, and after thinking about it, Zhao Fu decided to meet with her.

Su Yuyan came in and angrily looked at Zhao Fu, saying accusingly, "Flower Moon hasn't opposed Great Qin, so why has Great Qin caught three of our people?"

Hearing this, Zhao Fu could only sincerely apologize, saying, "I'm very sorry!"

Su Yuyan never expected Zhao Fu to apologize so sincerely, and she felt much less angry. She then said in a softer tone, "When do you plan on releasing our people?"

"That's not possible; their bodies have already entered the Heaven Awaken World. With Great Qin's protection, they will be very safe!" Zhao Fu said as he resolutely refused.

Su Yuyan had thought that Great Qin would someday release their people, but after hearing this, she became angry again. "Flower Moon's people don't need Great Qin to protect them. Please release our people."

Hearing Su Yuyan's words, Zhao Fu's face became slightly cold as he said, "And so what? Do you think that Great Qin fears Flower Moon? You've opposed Great Qin before, and you can be counted to be Great Qin's enemies. You have caused a lot of damage to Great Qin. Do you think things will just disappear just like that? Moreover, Li Wu is still in your hands. Who are you trying to fool?"

Su Yuyan had said what she wanted to say, and she felt a bit of coldness within her heart. Great Qin indeed did not fear Flower Moon, and if they continued to oppose Great Qin, it would be Flower Moon that would suffer more.

At that moment, Su Yuyan made a decision and deeply breathed in before saying, "I'll deal with Li Wu, but if you're willing to release Flower Moon's people, my body will be yours!"

Zhao Fu felt quite startled and immediately laughed as he said, "I'm sorry, but I still can't agree. They've already become the Legatee's women and are doing quite well. You don't need to worry about them. However, I can help pass on a message for you."

"They've really already become Great Qin's Legatee's women!"

Su Yuyan's heart sank because this meant that there would be no hope in rescuing her sisters. She felt some anger towards Great Qin's lascivious Legatee.

However, she had no idea that the person in front of her was Great Qin's Legatee; who knew what she would think if she knew that this was the case.

Since there was no chance of rescuing her sisters, she could only hope that they would live happily. As such, she could only ask this of Zhao Fu, as he was someone favored by Great Qin's Legatee. With his help, they would most likely be able to live well.

"Zhao Fu, can I trouble you to look after Flower Moon's people?" Su Yuyan's voice was no longer as sharp and was much gentler now.

Zhao Fu lightly nodded and agreed. After all, Zhao Fu had no reason to harm them or to treat them poorly.

Su Yuyan felt much better and smiled as she walked over to Zhao Fu, bent over, and kissed him on the cheek, saying in a soft voice, "That's your reward!"

After that, Su Yuyan turned and left.

Now that Zhao Fu was the Ying family's proxy leader, he did not lack money, power, or women; he could have essentially anything that he wanted. As such, the only thing that Su Yuyan had to offer was herself. She had quite a lot of confidence in herself.

Right now, forming a good relationship with Zhao Fu was the same as forming a good relationship with Great Qin. It would not only be beneficial for the Flower Moon, but it would also be beneficial for her captured sisters.

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised and never thought that such a thing would happen – the big superstar Su Yuyan had actually taken the initiative to kiss him.

After returning to Flower Moon, Su Yuyan thought for a while, and in the end, she sighed and gave the order to kill Li Wu. After all, if they wanted to develop their relationship with Great Qin, he could not remain.

Li Wu did not know about any of this. Right now, he was conquering villages in the Heaven Awaken World and was doing quite well. Right now, he just wanted to make his faction powerful and marry Su Yuyan.

Su Yuyan was now his only hope, and she was the woman who he had set his sights on. Even though Li Wu had a few pretty women in his village, they were just tools for Li Wu to release his lust. His heart only belonged to Su Yuyan.

At that moment, Li Wu was shaken awake and fed a bottle of medicine. In just a few seconds, he was dead, without even knowing what was going on.

Su Yuyan had specially ordered for Li Wu to be killed with poison that was quick and painless. That was the only thing she could do for him – that was what the lives of minor characters were like; they could not resist at all.

Su Yuyan found a place in a cemetery for Li Wu's corpse and had him buried. Of course, Su Yuyan was not directly involved in any of this. After interacting with him for so long and then suddenly killing him, Su Yuyan felt a bit sad.

Chapter 594: Godly Spirit World

The last ones Zhao Fu met were Mei Xiaoyan and Zheng Jiao, and he directly asked, "What does your White Lotus Society want?"

Mei Xiaoyan directly sat on Zhao Fu's legs and wrapped her arms around his neck as she said coyly, "Nothing much, but is Great Qin really going to recover quickly? Slowing down the other Dynasties is actually quite beneficial – Great Qin just needs to not develop, but the other Dynasties will suffer heavy losses."

Zhao Fu understood what the White Lotus Society was thinking – they just wanted everyone to die together. However, Zhao Fu didn't want that, as he prioritised Great Qin. As such, he replied resolutely, "Great Qin's Legatee has already made his decision; no one can change his mind!"

Mei Xiaoyan tried to change his mind, but she was unable to do so. As such, she could only leave first to report this.

Zhao Fu turned to look at Zheng Jiao, who was sitting on the sofa beside him, and asked, "Do you have anything?"

Zheng Jiao's face became slightly red, and she looked around before sitting on Zhao Fu's lap and gently hugged his waist. She leaned her head against him and said softly, "Thank you for saving my family!"

Because of who Zheng Jiao was, Zhao Fu felt quite uncomfortable about this, and he tried to convince her, saying, "Just be at ease and be together with my cousin! You're safe now, and there's nothing that can threaten you. Plus, you like him."

"I don't want to! I already said that I'll be your woman. How about I break up with your cousin?" Zheng Jiao said with a slight pleading tone as she looked at Zhao Fu with wet eyes.

Seeing this, Zhao Fu didn't know what to say.

However, at that moment, Zheng Jiao suddenly stretched out her hand and caressed Zhao Fu's lower body. Feeling the changes there, she said embarrassedly, "You said that you weren't interested, but you're reacting like this!"

Zhao Fu felt quite speechless. Before, Mei Xiaoyan had been continuously flirting with him. With her sitting on his lap and pressing herself against him, it was only natural for his body to react; Zhao Fu wasn't a eunuch.

Zhao Fu decided it was better to end this conversation here; he couldn't allow this to continue. Just as Zhao Fu was about to say something and push Zheng Jiao away, she sensed this and raised her head, and she suddenly kissed Zhao Fu on the lips. Her delicate tongue entered Zhao Fu's mouth and continuously played with his tongue. This intimate kiss made Zhao Fu lose control, and he started to react more.

However, Zhao Fu still pushed her away. Zheng Jiao's face was completely red, and she embarrassedly laughed and said, "I'm your woman now; you can't run away."

Zhao Fu felt quite helpless, and even though he didn't want it, there was indeed a relationship between them now.

Zheng Jiao happily rested her head in Zhao Fu's embrace and stroked his chest. Zhao Fu did not push her away anymore, and he felt quite conflicted. His head started to ache.

Afterwards, he asked Zheng Jiao to leave.

Zhao Fu then returned to the Heaven Awaken World. By now, the door to the outside had been completed. Zhao Fu had it built a few hundred metres below, and he felt a bit worried that some things could pass through the door and force their way into the Legacy Land.

As such, Zhao Fu had built it a few hundred metres underground and set some restrictive barriers there. If anything unexpected happened there, they would be able to immediately destroy that place.

Another reason was to hide it away and prevent other people from discovering it. After all, the door to the outside world was very important to Great Qin.

Zhao Fu went to the place – it was an underground region that was 100 meters wide. There was a ten meter wide platform in the center, on which there was a magic formation and a pair of iron doors – or rather, door frames – at the center.

The door frames were two meters wide and three meters tall. There were iron pillars on either side that were three fingers thick, and there were many flowers and branches above. There was a Heaven Domain Stone at the center, which gave off a rainbow-colored light and looked quite beautiful.

Because there were only door frames, the inside was completely void, looking like a gray screen. Only with a Trans-Boundary Teleportation Channel would these doors be able to work.

However, these doors were more or less complete. With 1.2 million soldiers with Village Compasses, they quickly cleared out two-thirds of Red Plum Plains, and there was only one-third left.

The Chaotic World Stone Stele was now only a few hundred War Points away from rising to Level 6.

One of the teams brought back an altar. It was like the Demon Priest Altar that Zhao Fu had obtained in the past, and it was a godly spirit altar that could summon godly spirits and give a profession.

Zhao Fu felt quite happy about this. Since Great Qin had already killed a god before, they could do it a second time, a third, a fourth, a fifth...

Great Qin did not dare to make a move against the higher-grade godly spirits, but bullying some weaker godly spirits to refine their clones and obtain their Divinity would be quite simple.

Divinity was the source energy of a godly spirit, and losing even a bit would cause their strength to greatly decrease. Divinity was incredibly precious, and even in the real Heaven Awaken World, it was quite rare and ordinary people would not be able to obtain it.

Also, fusing with Divinity would cause one to obtain the God-Killer profession, but it would only cause a single person to become stronger. Now that Zhao Fu already had one, he could use ones he obtained in the future for other things.

There were many uses for Divinity – one could fuse them with one's body, equipment, or even things like trees. No matter what they were fused with, the thing that they were fused with would greatly change.

This altar could summon a godly spirit called Dokohl. Dokohl was a beast god and looked like a snowy-white horse with pure-white eyes that looked like gems.

There were many different types of godly spirits in the Heaven Awaken World, like the demon god from before, the Goddess of Life that the Elves worshipped, and the Water God that Zhao Fu had obtained. No one knew just how many different godly spirits there were.

However, because of their bodies, they were rejected by the Heaven Awaken World's laws, so they could only remain outside.

Apart from the boundless Heaven Awaken World, there was also an outside world that was quite big, which was called the Godly Spirit World.

That world was attached to the Heaven Awaken World and was filled with all sorts of godly spirits, which was why it was called the Godly Spirit World. Some other creatures that were rejected by the Heaven Awaken World's laws were also forced into the Godly Spirit World.

The demon god Kerr, as well as beast god Dokohl, both belonged to the Godly Spirit World, and because of the limits created by the Heaven Awaken World's laws, it was difficult for them to descend.

Of course, ordinary people entering the Godly Spirit World was impossible.

This godly spirit was quite weak, and it was even weaker than the demon god Kerr. However, Zhao Fu did not plan on killing it yet because the Chaotic World Stone Stele was about to level up, so Zhao Fu pushed back everything. Right now, entering the true Heaven Awaken World was the most important thing for Great Qin.

Chapter 595: Kirsh Kingdom

Two days later, a system announcement sounded out in Zhao Fu's mind saying that the Chaotic World Stone Stele had risen to Level 6. Zhao Fu couldn't contain his excitement and immediately went to the stone stele and bought the Trans-Boundary Teleportation Channel.

Looking at the orange ball of light in his hands, Zhao Fu went to the door to the outside world and fused the ball of light into the magic formation. The magic formation immediately activated and gave off waves of orange light.

The gray area in between the door frames became rainbow-colored and gave off mystical-looking light. They could now enter the outside world.

Zhao Fu suppressed his excitement and started to make some preparations. He did not know what it would be like outside, so he had to make sufficient preparations to avoid anything going wrong.

As for everything in Great Qin, Zhao Fu decided to hand over the management to Bai Qi. After all, Bai Qi was the subordinate Zhao Fu thought to be the most capable.

After making his preparations, Zhao Fu went before the door to the outside world and deeply breathed in. He had decided to go out by himself, as it would be quite troublesome to bring others around with him. Moreover, Zhao Fu had already recovered a bit more than half of his strength, so it would be no problem for him to protect himself.

After stepping into the door, Zhao Fu felt a massive power surround him, causing his head to feel a bit dizzy. This lasted for about a minute.

Zhao Fu soon came back to his senses and found that he was lying on a field of grass. He was now outside the Legacy Land. A trace of a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face before he found a hidden place and set up a teleportation channel to return.

Zhao Fu did not know where he was or where he was going, so he just continuously flew forward.

The only thing that Zhao Fu knew was that this was the border of a kingdom's territory due to the extremely powerful restrictive power. Almost all teleportation channels would not be able to work here, and even spatial equipment would not be able to be used.

For example, even Intermediate and Advanced spatial rings would not be useable, and only top-tier spatial rings would be useable. However, there were still great restrictions, and they would only be able to bring out small objects.

The border was about 50,000 kilometers wide, if not even wider. This was mainly to prevent other kingdoms from invading – without these territories, other people could directly use teleportation channels to reach the depths of the kingdom and bring a large amount of transportation equipment using spatial equipment.

That would put a kingdom into an incredibly disadvantageous situation, so they used their borders to put the invaders at a disadvantage. Not only would they have to travel by foot, but they would also have to carry their items by themselves.

On the other hand, even though the defending side could not use spatial equipment, they could freely use their teleportation channels and could quickly bring over a large number of people to defend their borders.

After flying for a while, Zhao Fu still had not found anyone or any villages. If he could not use any teleportation channels and relied on flying, it would take him at least two or so days if he could find the right direction.

The first day, Zhao Fu did not find anything, so he could only continue onwards. He took a brief rest at night before continuing onwards the next day.

The second day, Zhao Fu finally found something. It was a group of people with a carriage that was surrounded by a group of wolf-headed people.

These wolf-headed people had human bodies but had wolf heads, and they were incredibly ferocious.

The people who were surrounded had Asian faces, but their skin was a bit green. Their carriage was filled with food, wine, and cloth, and they were most likely a small group of merchants. Because they could not use spatial equipment and teleportation channels here, they could only rely on physically bringing everything.

The two sides started to fight – the merchant group only had ten or so people, and only eight or nine of them could fight. Their cultivations were at around Stage 0-8 to 0-9, while there were 30 or so of the wolf-headed people.

As soon as the fighting began, the merchant group was at an immense disadvantage. Two of them quickly died, while five of them were injured, and they were about to be slaughtered by the wolf-headed people.

A white-bearded elderly man from the merchant group felt immense despair, knowing that his group of people would most likely die here.

The wolf-headed people were extremely vicious towards humans, and even if they handed over everything they had, they would still kill them.

Suddenly, a few rays of sword light descended from above, killing ten or so wolf-headed people. The remaining wolf-headed people were given a big fright, and they soon saw a black-cloaked figure descend from the sky.

Seeing this person descend from the sky, the wolf-headed people immediately scattered and ran, as they felt that they definitely weren't a match for the person in front of them. After all, he had just killed half of them in just a single attack, so none of them dared to remain.

The white-bearded elder looked at the cloaked figure and immediately brought the survivors to pay their respects to Zhao Fu, and he said in gratitude, "Thank you for saving our lives, sir!"

Zhao Fu could not understand them, so he took out a language stone and recorded their words, then used it to learn their language.

Luckily, Zhao Fu had made preparations, or language would have been a big problem for him.

This language was called Grassi, and Zhao Fu automatically learned it. He could understand them perfectly, but it took some effort to actually speak the language, so he barely managed to say, "You're... welcome!"

Even though they felt that Zhao Fu's speech was a bit weird, they did not think much of it or say anything about it. After all, this sort of power could rule the world, and if they accidentally angered him, he might just slaughter them all.

"Where... are... you... going?" Zhao Fu once again spoke the Grassi language with great effort.

The white-bearded elder respectfully replied, "Sir, we're going to the Kirsh Kingdom to sell some things."

A trace of a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face, and he said, "I... also want to go... I... can protect... you!"

Hearing this, the merchants felt incredibly happy. With such a powerful person protecting them, they would not have to worry about any dangers.

As such, they quickly invited Zhao Fu in and prepared a carriage for him. Zhao Fu entered the carriage and did not say anything else for fear of revealing his identity.

Just like that, Zhao Fu travelled with the merchant group for three to four days before arriving before a large, grand wall. Zhao Fu had barely spoken during those few days, and the people from the merchant group had not disturbed him, only bringing him some food every now and then.

Essentially, every kingdom had a great wall, which was incredibly important for a kingdom's defenses. The great walls were not only simple defensive structures but also reinforced by the kingdom's power, making them incredibly tough.

The great wall was 20 or so meters tall, with soldiers with powerful auras guarding them. Below, the gates were ten meters wide with many people entering and exiting, making the place look quite bustling.

Zhao Fu saw that the soldiers did not try to check his identity and only took some fees for entering the kingdom, and he let out a sigh of relief.

However, just based on these soldiers' strength, Zhao Fu could roughly estimate the Kirsh Kingdom's strength. The soldiers here were all around Stage 1, the Captains had Stage 2 Cultivation, the Majors had Stage 3 Cultivation, and Generals had Stage 4 Cultivation.

Chapter 596: Grave Threat

From this, Zhao Fu could roughly gauge the Kirsh Kingdom's strength. Their soldiers were mostly at Stage 1, and there were also many Stage 2 and Stage 3 soldiers. In contrast, very few people in the Legacy Land had reached Stage 1, and Stage 1 was not yet common.

If they fought, earth's side would definitely lose – after all, the lowest-ranked soldiers were already so strong, and the kingdom's elite soldiers would definitely be much more powerful.

Zhao Fu wasn't clear as to the exact situation, so after entering the city, he said goodbye to the merchant group and looked for the nearest city.

The place with the most information would, of course, be a bookshop. Zhao Fu bought ten or so books and found a small inn. He stayed there as he read through the books he had bought.

About half a day later, Zhao Fu had read through many of the books and obtained a lot of information. First, the race here was called the Grassi People, and they were from a world that was devoured in the last century.

The Kirsh Kingdom had been founded for 64 years and had 300 or so regions. Its population was roughly 900 million. It had an army of 45 million soldiers, and they were essentially all at least Stage 1 soldiers.

What's more, the Kirsh Kingdom was just one kingdom from the worlds from the previous century – there were 40 or so kingdoms that had survived the invasion from other worlds. Of course, they had suffered heavy losses.

Many kingdoms and races had either been exterminated or turned into slaves. The battles between those worlds still had not fully settled, and there would still be some battles now and then.

The Kirsh Kingdom was a Level 3 Baronage and was a medium kingdom out of the 40 or so kingdoms. Its relations with the various other kingdoms was relatively friendly, but it had some conflict with a few kingdoms, making their relationship quite complicated.

Apart from these books, Zhao Fu also bought a large map that had this kingdom and the surrounding eight kingdoms. There was also a large gray area without any detail, which was the Legacy Land.

Zhao Fu was surprised to see that the nine kingdoms were so close to the Legacy Land. This meant that their world would have to face the invasions of at least nine kingdoms. If each kingdom had 50 million soldiers, that would be a total of 450 million soldiers.

They were all at least Stage 1 soldiers who were experienced and all decently trained. Their battle power was not something an ordinary person could compare to. What's more, they would also have many Stage 2 and Stage 3 soldiers. Their invasion would be quite terrifying, as currently earth's entire population was only eight billion.

Moreover, 450 million soldiers was already an optimistic estimate. After all, the Legacy Land was like a gigantic cake, so many other kingdoms might also move out. As such, it was possible that they would have to face 40 or so kingdoms.

If all 40 or so kingdoms decided to invade, they would have to face a force of two billion soldiers. The ratio between civilians and soldiers in most kingdoms was not 10:1 but 100:6, which was six soldiers for every 100 people, which was quite a good ratio.

This could guarantee the prosperity of a kingdom without injuring their foundations. Moreover, they would be able to provide a large amount of resources to their soldiers and help them continuously increase their cultivations.

If they really did invade, they could first double the size of their armies, meaning that there would be four billion soldiers invading. Most of these four billion soldiers would be Stage 1. With the Legacy Land's current strength, they would be obliterated.

This was the grave threat that the Legacy Land was going to face.

The layout of the lands in those kingdoms was similar to in the Legacy Land, with places being split up into regions, then regions being split into cities, towns, and villages.

Now, Zhao Fu had some basic information on his future enemies, and his goal for this time was more or less complete. Because he had left the border and the great wall and he was within the actual territory of the Kirsh Kingdom now, he could use his spatial ring.

Zhao Fu had brought a lot of money, and he wanted to see if there was anything good he could buy. These kingdoms had been integrated into the Heaven Awaken World for many decades, so the things they had would definitely be much better than in the Legacy Land. Because of this, Zhao Fu wanted to go on a shopping spree.

Great Qin now had so much money that it was difficult to spend it all, and this would definitely be a place where he could spend a lot of money and gain a lot from it. Zhao Fu went around, but because this was only a small city, he was not interested in most of the items, so he decided to head to a bigger city.

After teleporting ten or so times, Zhao Fu arrived at one of the Kirsh Kingdom's larger cities. Currently, Zhao Fu did not dare to go to its capital, as there might be many ability users and espers there, and that place was the center of the Kirsh Kingdom's power. As such, Zhao Fu had to tread carefully, so he decided not to go there.

This large city was tens of times bigger than ordinary system main cities and could accommodate ten million people. The city walls were incredibly grand and majestic, and Zhao Fu felt that he would be able to buy great things here.

After casually walking around, Zhao Fu found that there were many things that were worth buying here – equipment, skills, items, and materials. There was almost everything, and they were all high quality too.

Zhao Fu saw many shops selling Legendary grade and Epic grade equipment, but they were extremely expensive. Legendary grade equipment costed hundreds of thousands of gold coins, and Epic grade equipment costed millions of gold coins. Ordinary people would never be able to purchase them.

There were also many tamed beasts that could be purchased as pets. Some looked quite cute, but they were quite powerful or had special bloodlines.

Zhao Fu looked around and found a little beast with the Tao Tie bloodline, a little turtle with the Black Tortoise bloodline, and a python with the Feathered Serpent bloodline.

However, they only had a trace of those bloodlines, which was not of much use, and it was incredibly difficult to awaken them. As such, Zhao Fu did not buy them.

Apart from pets, there were also slaves. Slavery was quite prevalent in the Heaven Awaken World, and these people were kept in wooden cages. The men were made to do heavy labor, and they could also be trained to be slave soldiers.

The women could do some housework like washing clothes and cleaning, but the prettier women were used as female slaves. They all wore thin, transparent clothing.

They did not have any dignity or power, and their lives were in their master's hands. This was protected by law, and masters had certain powers over their slaves.

None of these slaves were Grassi people, as this was the Grassi kingdom – how could there be Grassi slaves here?

All of the slaves were other races, and other races would also make Grassi people slaves. That was why slavery was quite common.

This was a world where the strong devoured the weak – the strong did as they wanted, and this was what happened to the weak. If earth's humans were unable to defend, they would end up like this as well.

Zhao Fu felt quite disgusted towards actual slavery – even though Zhao Fu bought 'slaves,' he did not treat them as actual slaves, and he only did so to increase Great Qin's population.

Chapter 597: Province System

Zhao Fu could only glance at the numb-looking slaves, but he could not do much about their situation. After all, this was someone else's kingdom, and he did not have a say in how things were run. However, Zhao Fu had long since decided that Great Qin would never enforce actual slavery like this.

Anyone who willingly submitted and was willing to serve Great Qin would be viewed as Great Qin's subjects.

After walking around, Zhao Fu went to a very large shop filled with all sorts of luxurious goods. This was the city's largest shop, and it belonged to one of the largest financial groups in the Kirsh Kingdom, the Swan Goose Group. Zhao Fu would most likely be able to find everything that he wanted here.

Zhao Fu walked in, and a beautiful Grassi woman came up and smiled as she said, "What are you looking for, dear guest?"

Zhao Fu had been walking around for a while, so he knew what he wanted. Great Qin did not lack equipment and skills, and Legendary grade and Epic grade equipment was simply too expensive. As such, it would be better to buy a large number of battle items to increase Great Qin's overall strength.

What Great Qin lacked most was Talisman Stones. Great Qin could now create Talisman Equipment, and with how powerful they were, they would be one of Great Qin's greatest tools.

"Do you have Talisman Stones here?" After some practice, Zhao Fu could speak the Grassi language decently.

The beautiful Grassi woman smiled as she told Zhao Fu that most of the Talisman Stones being sold here were White grade and Blue grade Talisman Stones, but they had to be bought in bulk, which was just what Zhao Fu wanted.

"I'll buy all of the Talisman Stones you have here, regardless of grade. Bring out all of your Talisman Stones!" Zhao Fu said as he slightly smiled.

The Grassi woman's smile froze as she said, "Dear guest, our White grade Talisman Stones are one gold coin each, and there are 600,000 of them. Our Blue grade Talisman Stones are ten gold coins each, and we have 50,000 of them. The Silver grade Talisman Stones are 100 gold coins each, and there are 4,000 of them. The Gold grade Talisman Stones are 1,000 gold coins each, and there are 50 of them.

The sheer number of Talisman Stones was massive, and just the White grade Talisman Stones would cost 600,000 gold coins. She did not have enough authority to complete this transaction, and this was even more so with all of the higher grade Talisman Stones.

"That's right. I want all of them!" Zhao Fu said as he nodded.

The Grassi woman's smile became quite brilliant, and she quickly brought Zhao Fu to a private room before reporting to her manager.

A while later, an even more beautiful Grassi woman walked in with a bright smile and said, "Dear guest, I'm the manager here, and I'm called Roxi. I've brought what you've asked for."

Zhao Fu nodded and waved his hand, causing a mountain of gold coins to appear, which was enough to buy all of the Talisman Stones.

Roxi had never thought that the person in front of her would be so decisive and so liberal with his money, treating more than 1.5 million gold coins like nothing.

After going over the money, Roxi handed a spatial ring with all of the Talisman Stones to Zhao Fu before waving her hand and putting the gold coins away.

“Do you have any Trees of Life here? Living or dead ones are fine, as well as Fruits of Life,” Zhao Fu said.

Hearing this, Roxi felt quite delighted and replied, “We have three living Trees of Life, and they are 1.5 million gold coins each; we also have eight dead ones that are 500,000 gold coins each, as well as 16 Fruits of Life that are 100,000 gold coins each.”

Since Zhao Fu only needed the trunks of the Trees of Life to build the Well of Life, it did not matter if they were alive or dead. Zhao Fu thought about it and said, “I want five dead Trees of Life and one Fruit of Life.”

Roxi left and came back soon, and Zhao Fu spent another 2.6 million gold coins. Zhao Fu did not feel any pain. After all, this would allow him to create Water of Life, and he would also be able to mass-produce high-grade Talisman Weapons. Zhao Fu felt too happy right now.

The world outside the Legacy Land was indeed quite good; it had everything one wanted as long as one had money.

“Is there anything else you’d like, dear guest?” Roxi felt quite happy and maintained her smile as she gently and respectfully asked Zhao Fu.

“That’s all!” Zhao Fu felt quite satisfied as he put everything away and prepared to leave.

At that moment, Roxi took out a violet card with a Swan Goose on it and handed it to Zhao Fu, saying, “Dear guest, this is Swan Goose Group’s VIP card. In the future, you’ll receive a 20% discount at any of our stores.”

Zhao Fu looked at it and accepted it before leaving.

After Zhao Fu left, the original female attendant came in and said happily, “Miss, that was most likely an important figure, right?”

Roxi smiled as she nodded. Zhao Fu had spent four million gold coins in one go, which was equivalent to the wealth of a whole region. To be able to easily take out so many gold coins, his status was definitely quite extraordinary.

In the Kirsh Kingdom, there were only 20 or so factions that could have such great spending power. Even though Zhao Fu was wearing his black cloak, Roxi could sense an extremely noble aura from him, and she guessed that he was most likely a Prince.

However, they would never have been able to guess that Zhao Fu actually came from the Legacy Land. Currently, with the Heaven Domain Boundary’s protection, no one was able to enter or exit the Legacy Land. If Zhao Fu hadn’t collected so many things, he would not have been able to leave either.

After Zhao Fu left this shop, he headed to other shops and bought more Talisman Stones. Most of them were White grade and Blue grade, and any higher grade Talisman Stones were extremely rare. After buying the Talisman Stones and Trees of Life, Zhao Fu thought about it and decided there was not else for him to do, so he decided to leave the Kirsh Kingdom. After flying for a few days, he returned to where he had set up the teleportation channel and returned to the Legacy Land.

Zhao Fu had left for a bit over a week, and by the time Zhao Fu had returned, the clearing out of the Red Plum Plains was complete. After Zhao Fu returned to the Legacy Land, he received a few system announcements.

“System announcement! Your faction has unified Red Plum Plains, and Great Qin has obtained a large amount of Fate!”

“System announcement! Your faction has unified two regions; please set the Main Region and Subsidiary Region!”

“System announcement! Only after establishing a Great City here can you fuse with the Region Heart!”

After Zhao Fu returned safely, everyone let out a sigh of relief. Zhao Fu did not tell them about the outside world for now because he had to take care of Red Plum Plains first; the matter about the outside world would have to be talked about properly in a meeting.

So it turned out that one had to have a Great City before one could fuse with the Region Heart. Zhao Fu could only move one of the system main cities over, and following this, a three-colored light appeared in the sky, forming an orb of light that fused into the City Heart.

Of course, Zhao Fu set the Main Region to be the Xianyang Region and Red Plum Plains to be the Subsidiary Region. After doing so, the two regions’ energy fused together, and the Void Zones around them became even more powerful. The region stats also became a bit stronger.

Zhao Fu also changed Red Plum Plains’ name to Plains Province. From now on, he decided to name the regions as provinces and use a region system like in the ancient times.

Chapter 598: Water of Life

Now that the two regions had fused, the system asked if Zhao Fu wanted to keep the Void Zones between both regions, and Zhao Fu chose not to. This would make coming and going from the two regions more convenient in the future.

Zhao Fu’s next target was East Green because there were not many forests that obscured their vision or made moving around difficult. It was also next to Red Plum Plains and Xianyang, and the three regions could be linked. Zhao Fu once again left this to Great Qin’s army.

After clearing out Red Plum Plains, Great Qin’s strength had once again greatly increased. Its population was now 9.6 million, and they now had 1.8 million soldiers. From now on, Great Qin would face many battles and difficult situations, so they had to have a powerful military to support them.

As such, they couldn’t have a 100:6 ratio of civilians to soldiers. If things became calmer in the future and Great Qin successfully survived this disaster, Zhao Fu would no longer expand the army as quickly.

Right now, they had 19 Great Cities, 4 Cities, 18 Towns, and 1,869 Villages.

After dealing with these things, Zhao Fu gathered all of his Generals in the Meeting Hall and told them about the outside world.

Everyone looked extremely serious after hearing about the disaster that would come in the future, and that was only from the previous world. If other worlds also participated, no matter what the Legacy Land did, they would be easily crushed.

The future was filled with uncertainty, and Great Qin's only goal was to continuously become stronger. Only with enough power would they be able to nullify this disaster.

After discussing, Great Qin started to make preparations.

Zhao Fu went to a large empty area and ordered people to start digging. Zhao Fu wanted to start creating Water of Life, and because of the limits on their situation, Zhao Fu could only create a low-grade Fountain of Life.

The soldiers obeyed Zhao Fu's orders and dug out a large pit that was 30 meters wide and 250 meters deep, then started to build the walls of the well. The walls were made of trees that were at least a decade old, which was not too difficult as there were many of them.

The five dead Trees of Life were cut into small planks and placed every 50 meters down for the walls of the well.

After doing this, Zhao Fu collected a bit of blood from 100,000 Elves, which was quite easy to do, as Great Qin now had 400,000 or so Elves.

Following this, Zhao Fu had people use the blood to draw runes on the walls of the well, and after this was done, Zhao Fu took out a green fruit.

The green fruit was as big as a fist and was quite round and very smooth. It gave off a faint green light and had a faint fragrance – it was a Fruit of Life.

The higher the grade and the older the Trees of Life or Fruits of Life were, the better the Water of Life would be. However, because of various restrictions, Zhao Fu could only use these.

Zhao Fu dug a shallow hole next to the completed well and put the Fruit of Life in there before covering it up. After this, the well started to go through changes and gave off a faint green light.

The blood-red runes on the well walls seemed to come to life, and they completely fused with the well walls. The well walls seemed to also come to life and started to grow as the planks started to fuse so that there were not any cracks, making it seem as if the well walls were the inside of a gigantic tree trunk.

The Fountain of Life was complete!

A trace of a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face as he had his soldiers throw the thousands of corpses that they had prepared into the Fountain of Life until it was almost full, turning it into a terrifying well of corpses.

However, soon, pure fountain water started to appear as the corpses withered, turning into dry corpses. There was a great contrast between the clear fountain water and the dried up corpses.

One was filled with deathly aura while the other was filled with the aura of life. This scene looked quite evil, but Zhao Fu was long since accustomed to such things.

Beside the well, a small green sprout slowly rose up and quickly grew. Soon, it became a one metre tall sapling.

Zhao Fu looked at the sapling before turning back to the clear fountain water. He took out a small bottle and took some of the fountain water before looking at its description.

[Crude Water of Life]: A crude type of Water of Life that has life energy. Consuming it can quickly heal one's injuries and help one regain one's strength.

After looking at this description, Zhao Fu raised the little bottle and poured its contents into his mouth. Zhao Fu tried his best not to think of those corpses, or it would be like drinking corpse water.

After the Water of Life entered his body, it turned into a wave of green energy that rippled out and quickly healed his body's injuries. The effects were quite powerful, and it was not inferior to a Stage 4 healing pill.

A smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face. Even in the Kirsh Kingdom, very few people would have Stage 4 healing pills. Ordinary soldiers most likely only had Stage 2 healing pills, and this was despite the Kirsh Kingdom being quite powerful.

After all, the higher the level, the better their effects were and the more expensive they would be.

Great Qin had always been using relatively low-level healing pills. Even though they were the best healing pills that they could source, they were less than 10% as effective as the Water of Life. The Water of Life would give Great Qin a very big advantage.

Zhao Fu did not forget about his idea to nurture a large number of Divine Tree Warriors. He cut 100 branches off from the Tree of Life that he had planted. These branches were all quite small, so cutting them off would not harm the Tree of Life too much.

The chances of success for this sort of method was quite low, and the effects were not as good as using a Fruit of Life. However, Fruits of Life cost 100,000 gold coins, and if Zhao Fu wanted to plant 100 of them, he would have to spent ten million gold coins.

No matter how rich Zhao Fu was, he could not just spend money like this. As such, he decided to use the second method, which was to grow new trees using branches. Now that he had a Fountain of Life, he could use this sort of method.

Trees of Life required a lot of space, so Zhao Fu planted them at least 1,000 meters away from each other before pouring Water of Life on them and waiting.

It would take a few days to see if any of them successfully grew. Over the next few days, they would have to continuously water them with Water of Life. Only with many Trees of Life would Great Qin be able to nurture a large number of Divine Tree Warriors. This was quite exciting, as the Divine Tree Warrior profession was a B- grade profession.

Next, Zhao Fu turned his attention to the altar they had obtained. The godly spirit Dokohl was quite weak, and it would not be too difficult for Great Qin to kill its clone.

Zhao Fu already knew what he was going to use its Divinity for – he was going to fuse it with the Black Forest Horse Den. Right now, after using two Horse Jade Souls on it, the Black Forest Horse Den spawned Stage 0-6 to 0-7 horses.

If he fused the Divinity with it, the Black Forest Horses would be, at the very least, Stage 1. No one in the Legacy Land would have Stage 1 warhorses, and it was possible that Great Qin's warhorses would be as strong as the Kirsh Kingdom's warhorses.

Chapter 599: God-Killing

Most of the Grassi warhorses were a type of horse called the Azure Scale Horses, and they were roughly as big as normal horses but had azure-colored scales. They had Stage 1 strength.

In the outside world, Stage 1 warhorses were the lowest strength warhorses, as all soldiers were essentially at least Stage 1, and only after reaching Stage 1 would they be qualified to stand in the Heaven Awaken World. Otherwise, one would not even have the right to enter.

Now, it was time to kill another godly spirit.

Ordinarily, godly spirits would only descend if there was a sacrifice, and this was true for this beast god as well. Because they had already killed a god before, they had almost everything prepared. This time, Zhao Fu did not need the ordinary soldiers to participate – just him and the 23 City Lords were enough.

They first made the sacrifice, and just like last time, they used tens of thousands of animals and many people who were unwilling to surrender and tied them to wooden poles.

A priest loudly chanted on the altar, causing a massive, formless energy to ripple out from the altar. The people and animals bound to the wooden poles felt a sense of coldness and an immense sense of fear as they all started to struggle and scream.

However, all of their struggling and screaming was useless – their bodies quickly withered, and their screams gradually died down.

The scene was quite terrifying, and the panicked screams could cause one's hairs to stand on end.

Streams of blood-red qi gathered in the air, giving off a massive might. The priest loudly and sincerely shouted, "Glorious beast god Dokohl, your sincerest believer, Kasi, has offered 10,000 creatures to humbly request you to descend."

Boom!!

A gigantic explosion rang out as the blood-red qi in the air continuously writhed before forming an enormous vortex. An incredibly powerful and barbaric aura suddenly descended, filling the entire underground region, and the atmosphere became quite oppressive.

The countless bound people and animals gave one final cry before they all died, and their souls and fleshly essence were absorbed by the vortex.

A horse giving off a white divine light appeared at the centre of the vortex. It looked incredibly elegant and said in a proud voice, "Humble believer, why have you summoned Us?"

Zhao Fu looked at Dokohl and did not react much. He only felt curious as to whether all godly spirits were this proud.

No one answered him, because after the summoning was complete, the priest quickly left. As Dokohl's priest, he would be under Dokohl's control, and because Zhao Fu currently had nothing that could get rid of professions, he had the priest leave first.

The scene was quite awkward, because after Dokohl spoke, the area fell completely silent. Dokohl looked at the 20 or so people in front of it and felt that they were not its followers, making it feel that something was off. However, as a godly spirit, how could it be scared into retreating so easily?

Facing these 20 or so people, Dokohl did not put them in its eyes at all – that was the confidence it had as a godly spirit. How could it fear mere humans? Moreover, most of them only had Stage 3 cultivation.

"You'd best all kneel and worship Us and beg Us to forgive you, or We will make you taste the fury of a god." Dokohl felt quite angry and gave off a powerful might.

Zhao Fu lightly laughed and gave the order to attack. The City Lords unleashed their City Lord Seals, and by now, Zhao Fu's King's Crown was Gold grade. It was incredibly sensitive to the aura of godly spirits and King's Aura, and sensing Dokohl above, it trembled excitedly.

Dokohl's expression immediately changed – it had never expected them all to be City Lords. By now, it was able to confirm that this was a trap, and it did not have much confidence against 20 or so City Lords.

However, it was just losing a clone, so Dokohl did not want to leave. Instead, he wanted these people to taste its wrath.

What it didn't know was that even if it wanted to run, it would not be able to, as the underground region was filled with restrictive barriers and a barrier from the golden dragon in order to prevent the demon god Kerr from descending as well. Moreover, the barriers were able to weaken Dokohl as well.

The battle quickly exploded, and both sides unleashed their full power. Terrifying shockwaves rippled out, turning into gusts of wild wind, which would be able to cause any outsiders' hearts to tremble.

However, the situation was more favored towards Great Qin. Dokohl was not very strong, and it was even weaker than the demon god Kerr. It was one of the weakest godly spirits, and because of the barriers, it was unable to draw more power from its true body. As such, it was easily suppressed by the various City Lords.

"Roarr!!" Dokohl furiously roared and exploded out with a large amount of white light and vehemently counterattacked. It felt quite humiliated after being suppressed by this group of people and just wanted to kill everyone present.

Clang, clang, clang...

Countless chains shot out from the air and bound up Dokohl, who was about to go berserk. Zhao Fu had acted, but his power was still limited. He was unable to use his Nation Armament, so the others also helped out.

The City Lords grabbed onto the chains and sent their power into the chains, causing them to become even more powerful. They gave off various lights and tightly bound Dokohl, after which everyone dragged Dokohl towards the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation.

Dokohl desperately retaliated in humiliation and loudly roared that it wanted to kill everyone and make them die horrible deaths. However, he was still dragged onto the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation in the end.

Boom!!

1,000 energy stones on the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation immediately turned to dust as a formless energy grabbed Dokohl's body. At that moment, Dokohl felt a sense of crisis and started to struggle with everything it had. The City Lords gritted their teeth, vigorously pulling on the chains and causing them to go taut, not giving Dokohl an opportunity to escape.

Dokohl's body was covered by that formless energy, and its flesh started to be ripped away, causing it to howl in pain.

Zhao Fu saw that the thousand energy stones were not enough – before, they had been enough to refine a dead godly spirit, but directly refining a living one would take more energy, so Zhao Fu added another 1,000 energy stones.

Those energy stones were once again instantly disintegrated, and an even more powerful energy grasped Dokohl. This energy caused Dokohl to give his final scream before its body collapsed into countless motes of light.

A small, white tongue of flame as big as a fingernail appeared – that was Dokohl's Divinity, and it was much smaller than demon god Kerr's Divinity. However, Zhao Fu was still quite satisfied.

They had easily killed another godly spirit, and Zhao Fu smiled before going back and fusing the Divinity with the Black Forest Horse Den.

Because Dokohl was a horse, its Divinity was very suited to the Horse Den. After fusing, the Black Forest Horses' name was changed to Black God Horse, and the average horse was now Stage 1-5, which was much more powerful than ordinary Stage 1 warhorses.

They had successfully built a Fountain of Life and then successfully killed a godly spirit, causing Great Qin to burst into celebration.

However, others did not feel this way. After receiving the system announcement from before, the various countries understood that once Great Qin recovered, the shift in Fate would conclude. They only had this one chance, and because they did not want to miss out, they decided to do all they could during this period of time to obtain more benefits.

Chapter 600: Complete Collapse

The foreign countries' maddened attacks caused China's situation to become quite unfavorable. China bore immense pressure in the north, south, and east, while the western side completely collapsed as 30 million Indian players gathered together and attacked.

The other smaller countries also vigorously attacked and no longer chose to defend. This caused all of China to fall into a crisis. It looked like China was going to be unable to stop their onslaught; after all, China had to face 21 countries.

Within an elegant room in the Ancient Clans' territory, an incredibly beautiful woman was kneeling on the ground. She had a tall, slim figure; snowy-white skin; and a pair of large breasts. She was perfect in every regard and gave off a kind, motherly aura.

She was Nü Lü, Nü Wa's descendant, and the number one ranked woman on the Ancient Beauty Rankings.

"Elder, please agree to my request," Nü Lü said resolutely as she knelt on the ground.

In front of her, an elderly woman sighed as she said, "Do you have to do this? You've always been with your big brother Xuanyuan since you were young and always said that you wanted to marry him. To all of us old people, you're a perfect pair, so are you really willing to give that up and marry someone else?"

Nü Lü earnestly nodded – she had already made her decision.

The elderly woman in front of her couldn't help but try to persuade her, saying, "You have to understand that that person is not a good person. Not only is he cruel, but he's also violent and licentious. He already has many women there, and he will probably have more in the future. Do you know that you're jumping into a pit of fire?"

Nü Lü still determinedly nodded, saying, "Elder, I've already prepared myself. Not only will this be able to stop the shift in Fate, but if I stay by his side, I will be able to gradually change him. Perhaps this will save countless people's lives.

"As the King with the most potential in the world, this will not only affect all of China but also the whole world. I'm sure what I'm doing will be worth it!"

Seeing that there was no way she could change Nü Lü's mind, the elderly woman could only agree.

In the Ying family's residence, Zhao Fu was forcefully woken up. He felt quite displeased and asked, "What is it?"

The bodyguard quickly explained to him the situation, and Zhao Fu soon went to a guest hall. By now, Qiu Fengzi and woman were waiting there.

Zhao Fu looked at the woman and felt quite startled – as expected from the number one woman on the Ancient Beauty Rankings. She was indescribably beautiful and superior to even Wu Qingniang.

"What is it?" Zhao Fu asked.

Nü Lü faintly smiled and did not hide anything as she said, "I want to marry your Legatee and end this shift in Fate. You most likely need a large amount of Phoenix Qi, right? I have Phoenix Qi, and Great Qin is unable to reject me!"

Zhao Fu frowned – it was possible that the Phoenix Qi matter had been exposed. After all, the women that Great Qin caught all had Phoenix Qi, so it would not be too difficult to work this out.

Moreover, this woman was a bit too self-confident – did she really think her Phoenix Qi would be able to resolve all of this?

At the very least, her Phoenix Qi had to be able to heal all of his injuries. Great Qin's Fate had more or less recovered after unifying another region and killing a godly spirit.

Zhao Fu knew that an immense amount of Phoenix would be able to fully heal his injuries, so he felt that Nü Lü's words were a bit too overconfident.

As such, Zhao Fu wanted to directly refuse and have her return.

Qiu Fengzi could tell what Zhao Fu was thinking, so he immediately walked over to Zhao Fu's side and spoke a few words into his ear. Zhao Fu's expression immediately became one of shock – he had never expected the amount of Phoenix Qi she possessed to be so immense – it was more than a hundred times what Gao Li had. In fact, many Dynasty Legatees had pursued her before.

As Nü Wa's descendant, Nü Lü had a large amount of Phoenix Qi and was definitely the woman in China who had the most. If Zhao Fu was able to obtain her Phoenix Qi, perhaps he really would be able to be fully healed.

However, Zhao Fu still said, "Sorry, I refuse!"

Qiu Fengzi and Nü Lü both felt quite surprised, but Zhao Fu understood the current situation. He felt that it was too soon to end the shift in Fate, as this was a good chance to weaken the other factions in China as well as the foreign factions. Only after both sides had sustained great losses would it be good to end it.

Zhao Fu had decided not to deliberately slow down or increase Great Qin's growth; rather, he would keep a steady pace. However, if Nü Lü really was able to fully heal him, it would be too quick.

If the shift in Fate ended, everyone's target would once again be Great Qin, and they would ally together to deal with Great Qin. Even though Great Qin was not afraid of them, it was still quite annoying.

As such, Zhao Fu decided to refuse.

Nü Lü thought about it and immediately guessed Zhao Fu's reason for refusing, so she lightly smiled and said, "Don't worry. The various Dynasty Legatees are willing to negotiate for peace with Great Qin. They promise not to harm Great Qin within three years, but Great Qin must also not harm them. Furthermore, they won't care about the northern side of the Midland Continent!"

As the pillar of China's Fate, if Zhao Fu fell, everyone else would be heavily injured as well, and they could even perish. As such, Great Qin became an object that could not be harmed, so the Dynasty Legatees were forced to compromise.

This made Zhao Fu quite interested because the true threat was outside and not them. He did not have any time or energy to waste dealing with them.

Seeing this, Nü Lü smiled and said, “I trust that you realize that Great Qin is China’s pillar. If Great Qin falls, everyone else will be affected as well. However, if much of China is conquered, China’s Fate will be greatly reduced, and Great Qin will once again suffer a Fate backlash, making Great Qin the greatest loser.”

Zhao Fu sighed – this was something that he had been worried about as well, and the other factions knew about this too.

In the end, Zhao Fu could only agree, and Nü Lü smiled.

Following this, Zhao Fu returned to the Heaven Awaken World and headed to the boundary region with Vietnam. Nü Lü also headed there with a Top-tier Boundary medallion.

After meeting with Nü Lü in the Heaven Awaken World, Zhao Fu gave her a Reality Fruit. Zhao Fu did not trust this woman, so he wanted to take her into the Heaven Awaken World as soon as possible and have her fully within his control.

Nü Lü took the Reality Fruit and looked at it, and she understood that this was the method that Great Qin used to bring people into the Heaven Awaken World. She had long since made her decision, so she did not hesitate to eat it, and her real body entered the Heaven Awaken World.

Zhao Fu looked at the woman in surprise. He could not understand why she would give herself up – could it really be to save the world?

Zhao Fu could not do something like that, but if it was for Great Qin, he would give everything he had, including his life. Zhao Fu did not know how long Great Qin’s path was, but he knew that he would die one day. However, there would be people to take his place and continue to lead Great Qin onwards.

“Let’s go!” Zhao Fu said. Now that Nü Lü was fully within his control, he felt much more at ease.

Nü Lü followed behind Zhao Fu, and after seeing just how prosperous and powerful Great Qin was, she couldn’t help but feel shocked.

After arriving at the Meeting Hall, Nü Lü looked at the people gathered, who all had extraordinary auras. She understood that she was going to meet Great Qin’s legendary Legatee and felt quite nervous.

After following Zhao Fu in, Nü Lü stopped in front of where the main seat was. Seeing that it was empty, she thought that Great Qin’s Legatee had not arrived yet and that they would have to wait.

However, she saw Zhao Fu continue walking before sitting on the chair, and everyone paid their respects before calling out, “Your Majesty!”

Immediately, Nü Lü stared at Zhao Fu, feeling dumbfounded.