

The Lord 901

Chapter 901: Demon Sovereign King

However, what Zhao Fu did not expect was that there was yet another door. Even though this door was tightly shut, there was a terrifying aura leaking out of it. It could cause a person's body to instantly stiffen, and it was far more powerful than Spider Empress Elise's.

Zhao Fu could not help but become even more careful. He walked over to the large door and vigorously pushed it open, revealing another hall. The hall was 1,000 meters wide, but there was nothing inside it except a 100 meter long stone coffin.

The terrifying aura was coming from this stone coffin, and just as Zhao Fu was about to approach, the golden dragon warned him, saying, "Zhao Fu, be careful!"

Hearing this, Zhao Fu nodded and released his Emperor's Domain before walking over to the stone coffin. He testingly tried to push the top of the stone coffin and found that nothing happened. He then pushed off the top completely, revealing a 100 metre long corpse of a demon.

This corpse had an incredibly powerful-looking body, sharp claws, and violet scales. It also had a pair of violet wings, and unlike ordinary demons, it had the head of a very handsome-looking man that had a trace of coldness and ruthlessness.

The aura that the demon gave off was extremely intense, and it gave off a King's might. This corpse seemed to be the corpse of a Demon Sovereign King, and it was extremely terrifying.

Feeling this terrifying power, even the Sky Demon Sword slightly trembled in fear.

The Demon Sovereign King was a king of kings among demons, and it had immense Demon King Power. This Demon Sovereign King's King's Power was extremely pure, and it most likely had a true Royal Kingdom as opposed to just a Barony Kingdom.

After all, a Barony Kingdom gave Barony King's Power, which was a lower grade of King's Power. The King's Power that a Royal Kingdom gave was true King's Power.

This Demon Sovereign King had been dead for a long time, yet it still gave off such a powerful aura. A corpse like this was quite a good treasure, and it had many uses.

Zhao Fu wondered what he should use the corpse for when the golden dragon said, “You don’t need to make things so complicated. The Demon Sovereign King’s corpse has already created a second spirit, which is currently slumbering, and it requires a large amount of power to awaken.

“Zhao Fu, you can use your blood to set a restriction in his body. Your blood has a Sovereign Bloodline, so it naturally suppresses Kings. He won’t be able to break free from your restriction unless he also becomes an Emperor. You can then use your power to awaken him and fully control him.”

Hearing this, Zhao Fu smiled; subduing such a powerful Demon Sovereign King meant that he would have another powerful helper.

Zhao Fu used the golden dragon’s method to set down a restriction within the Demon Sovereign King’s body. In order to do this, Zhao Fu used his essence blood, forming a blood-red rune that he sent into the Demon Sovereign King’s body.

Its second spirit was something that it had only birthed after a long time, and this was incredibly rare. The second spirit did not have the first spirit’s memories, and it was a blank slate.

Now that Zhao Fu had set down the restriction, it was time to awaken it. This required an immense amount of power, so Zhao Fu using his Emperor’s power was quite beneficial.

Zhao Fu discourteously stood on the Demon Sovereign King’s massive head and took out the Great Qin Seal, releasing all of its power. A black flame erupted out, unleashing wild wind that rippled in all directions.

Following this, Zhao Fu controlled the Great Qin Seal to descend on the Demon Sovereign King’s head, and waves of powerful energy were sent by the Great Qin Seal into the Demon Sovereign King’s body.

The corpse filled with deathly aura started to have traces of lifeforce, which grew and grew.

Three hours later, the Demon Sovereign King suddenly opened his violet eyes and looked at Zhao Fu, who was standing on his head. There was no emotion in its eyes, only evilness and ruthlessness, causing Zhao Fu's hairs to stand on end.

In the next second, the Demon Sovereign King raised its hand to attack Zhao Fu, wanting to crush him. He felt no gratitude towards Zhao Fu awakening him, and it only wanted to kill all living creatures.

Zhao Fu coldly harrumphed and invigorated the restriction that he had set.

“Arghhhh!!” the Demon Sovereign King howled in pain. After the blood-red restriction was activated, it slowly twisted and cut away at the Demon Sovereign King's spirit before restoring it and then repeating the process.

This sort of pain caused the Demon Sovereign King to almost go mad, and it continuously howled as its body spasmed within the stone coffin.

Zhao Fu stood in the air above the stone coffin, coldly looking down at the Demon Sovereign King. Even though the Demon Sovereign King looked like it was in immense pain, with blood coming out of its five orifices and all over its body, Zhao Fu still did not stop.

Within the first hall, Elise heard these howls and felt a trace of fear within her heart. Evidently, Zhao Fu was no kind person, and he was most likely even more cold-blooded than she was.

The howls continued for six hours, and in the end, the Demon Sovereign King was only able to powerlessly lie there and moan. It could not even roar or howl anymore.

Only then did Zhao Fu stop – the Demon Sovereign King's gaze towards Zhao Fu was no longer so cold and ruthless; it was filled with terror instead.

Zhao Fu gave a slight smile of satisfaction, and soon, the Demon Sovereign King's appearance started to change. He turned into a 14 or 15 year old boy with violet hair, and even though he gave off an icy-cold, ferocious aura, he still followed behind Zhao Fu and looked quite frightened.

After going back to the first hall, Zhao Fu was quite surprised to find three extra women. They all had short, silver hair and blood-red eyes, and they looked quite beautiful. They were quite voluptuous as well and had elegant demeanours.

These three women's auras were the same as the three spiders' auras. Zhao Fu looked at Elise, who now looked at him with a trace of fear. He wondered if she had some way of turning them into human forms, or if they had always had this ability.

Just as Elise was about to explain, Zhao Fu waved his hand, signaling that he did not care too much. Elise's eyes flashed as she seemed to think of something, and she flirtatiously hugged Zhao Fu's arm, looking quite passionate.

The three other women and the Demon Sovereign King followed behind Zhao Fu and left his historical remnant. Just like that, Zhao Fu had finished going through the whole historical remnant.

Zhao Fu planned to return to Great Qin and take care of the Spider Den and Sect Armament before heading to the Dark Demon world. He wanted to form an alliance with other factions and use the alliance to clear out the smaller factions and system factions.

He would use the alliance to obtain as much benefits as possible, allowing the Night Dynasty to quickly develop. After obtaining enough strength, he would then turn on the larger factions and quickly unify the Southern Continent before expanding out to the other continents.

Chapter 902: Supreme Level

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu asked the golden dragon about the Sect Armament in detail. He found that he could not refine it yet, as this required Sect Fate, and required him to establish a Sect.

Moreover, even if he refined the Sect Armament, he could only use it as a Sect Armament, and it could not become a Nation Armament. There was no way to change its nature, because Sects and Nations were simply too different, so Zhao Fu gave up on his original thoughts.

Now, Zhao Fu had the Demon God Sect's Sect Creation Stele, so he could re-establish the Demon God Sect. Because he had the Sect Creation Stele, he had obtained a lot of information. This Sect Creation Stele not only contained the Legacy Art 'Demon God Profound Art' but also the Demon God Sect's history.

The first Sect Master created the Demon God Sect with the help of the Spider God, so the Sect Armament was a spider. Zhao Fu thought about Elise because she was somehow related to the Spider God; no wonder the Demon God Sect had that historical remnant.

Now, Zhao Fu wanted to re-establish the Demon God Sect, but it was more complicated than establishing a City – it first required one to learn the Legacy Art, then required another five people to learn the Legacy Art, and then another 100 people to learn the Legacy Art. This would provide one Sect Master, five Elders, and 100 disciples.

The Legacy Art was split into different grades like Great Qin's Legacy Art. As one's status increased, the grade of their Art would also automatically increase.

Zhao Fu thought about it and decided that he should still establish a Sect. The Heaven Awaken World was a world in which Sects and Nations co-existed, and he would have to face off against many Sects in the future. As such, establishing his own was essential.

Following this, Zhao Fu picked out 105 people to start cultivating the Demon God Sect's Legacy Art. At the same time, Zhao Fu started to cultivate it as well, as he had to re-establish the Sect. However, Zhao Fu did not want to continue using the Demon God Sect's name, and he instead changed it to the Demon Emperor Sect.

This was just a change of name, and the Sect would still be the Demon God Sect in essence. However, Zhao Fu could be said to be the first Sect Master of the Demon Emperor Sect.

After ten or so days of cultivation, everyone reached the requirements. Zhao Fu found a region filled with demonic qi and re-established the Demon God Sect as the Demon Emperor Sect.

A black light shot into the sky and turned into a massive spider. Demonic light filled the surrounding few regions, and demonic qi and Fate madly gathered as the Demon Emperor Sect was formally established.

The Demon Emperor Sect had just been established, so it was not very complete yet. Zhao Fu handed it over to others to take care of; the first thing to do was to gather a few million disciples. After all, the Sect Armament's power relied on the Sect's overall Fate, so they could not lack people.

Of course, Great Qin's main path was still of an Empire; having a Sect was just something on the side that would allow Zhao Fu to use the Sect Armament.

Because Zhao Fu was the Sect Master of the Demon Emperor Sect, he could naturally use the Sect's power and the Sect Armament. He would not have to refine it, as there was no bloodline requirement; being the Sect Master was enough.

After this matter was complete, Zhao Fu went to take care of another matter, which was the Spider Den. Zhao Fu had specially prepared a region for it in order to nurture a large number of spiders with divine blood.

Because Elise was the Spider Empress and had a large amount of Fate, Zhao Fu made her a Concubine, providing Great Qin with a lot of Phoenix Qi and Fate. The three short-haired women, her personal attendants, had also been made Concubines.

Zhao Fu had her manage the spiders because she understood this area more than anyone else. Of course, all authority over the Den still remained with Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu still did not trust Elise much. However, because he had obtained her Spirit Origin, he did not have to be too worried.

Next was the Demon Sovereign King. Because he had a new spirit, his mind was still blank, and he did not have any memories. Zhao Fu decided to name him Zhao Mo, similar to Zhao Sha.

Thinking about Zhao Sha, after three years, he had become a young man, but he still could not speak very well. Zhao Fu decided to send him to the Great Qin Academy to properly study, and he had performed quite well. His rankings there were not low at all, but because he looked quite savage and had a cold aura, he did not have many friends. He was only somewhat close with Wu Qing and the others.

His Sin Devil Bloodline had developed as he had developed, and his true power and might had been revealed. Out of the twelve people from Eternal Night, Tuoba Qing was the most powerful due to her Origin Bloodline, while Zhao Sha was the second most powerful.

Now that Tuoba Qing had left, he was naturally the most powerful. Before, he had only been weaker because of Tuoba Qing's Origin Bloodline; in terms of his killing techniques and calmness, he was number one.

The golden dragon had actually suggested wiping away Zhao Sha's consciousness and making him Zhao Fu's second clone. After all, the Sin Devil Bloodline was a higher being's unique bloodline and had unlimited potential. If Zhao Fu could have this clone, he would be able to have even more power.

Only this way would Zhao Fu be able to completely control Zhao Sha, who had so much potential.

Even without thinking about it, Zhao Fu rejected the golden dragon's suggestion. Even though Zhao Fu could be quite cold-blooded, he had his bottom-line; he would never lay hands on his own people.

The three strongest people in Great Qin right now would first be Bai Qi, then Ge Nia, and then Zhao Sha. Zhao Sha's battle abilities and potential surpassed Bai Qi, and he could even surpass Zhao Fu.

Now, if Zhao Fu and Zhao Sha did not use any special powers, it was likely that Zhao Sha could defeat Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu had been greatly nurturing Zhao Sha this entire time, giving him all sorts of medicinal pills and Arts. However, because his resources were limited, he had not been able to give Zhao Sha any top-tier things.

Zhao Fu went over to the Heaven Spirit Stele; it had been a while since he had been here, and if he wanted to obtain top-tier items, he would have to get them from here. At the same time, Zhao Fu thought about how to set things up in the Fish Scale world.

Zhao Fu's ambition was no longer limited to the human world; he wanted to develop in the other worlds as well in order to make preparations.

When Zhao Fu's consciousness entered the Heaven Spirit Stele, a chain of system announcements sounded out, making him feel quite startled. He found that his level had been upgraded to Supreme level, which was the highest level of user in the Heaven Spirit Stele. Only higher beings could have such a level.

However, Zhao Fu remembered that he had not completed any quests and had only given out a quest; why had he suddenly jumped to Supreme level?

Could it be that there had been an error? Could someone have accidentally raised his level?

After thinking about it, Zhao Fu felt that this was not very likely. After all, the Supreme level was the highest level of account in the Heaven Spirit Stele; no one would make a mistake like that.

What surprised Zhao Fu was that within his account's space, where items could be kept, there was a twelve-coloured badge.

Chapter 903: Heaven Spirit Badge

This badge was circular, and the diagram on it was formed with circles. There was a 'spirit' character engraved at the center; it was not in Chinese but in the Heaven Awaken World's most common script. The badge gave off a faint might, and it seemed to be a treasure.

Zhao Fu looked at the badge and could not help but looked shock. This badge was extremely famous and was the top-tier item of the Heaven Spirit Financial Group.

No matter where one was, any faction related to the Heaven Spirit Financial Group would treat one as a VIP and give them all sorts of benefits, such as discounts and free items. They would also enjoy the best service from the Heaven Spirit Stele.

Even ordinary higher beings did not have such badges, and yet they had given him one. Zhao Fu wondered if there was something wrong with his eyes, so he rubbed them and looked again. He saw that the badge was still there. Had the entire Heaven Spirit Financial Group gone mad? Why had they given him such a precious thing?

They had first raised his account to Supreme level and then had given him this Heaven Spirit Badge. Even if they were accidents, this was simply too coincidental.

There was definitely a reason for this, but no matter what Zhao Fu thought about it, he could not work out why, so he just gave up.

Zhao Fu took out the badge and looked at it, and he could not find any problems with it. He then showed it to the golden dragon, who confirmed that there was nothing wrong with it. This was an incredibly pleasant and unexpected surprise.

Originally, Zhao Fu's account was only the most basic account, as he had not completed any quests. He could only accept Level 1, Level 2, and Level 3 quests, but now that his account was Supreme level, he could look at and accept any quest.

He also had many powers, such as receiving discounts and receiving free information. He could also go through quests incredibly easily.

There was also an extra region, which was the Communication Region. Only high-grade accounts had this feature.

One's account leveled up through completing quests, and normally, people had to complete countless quests to raise their account to a high level. Zhao Fu's account had instantly been raised to the highest level, making him grin stupidly.

The Communication Region was a place for chatting. There was a chatting hall and private rooms. Creating a private room costed quite a lot, but for Supreme level users, it was free.

All of the names here were substituted with runes. Perhaps it could be said that there were only runes here, no names.

Zhao Fu felt quite curious and entered the chatting hall. There were many people talking here; some were giving out requests, others were selling things, and others were debating various things.

The language they were using was the most commonly-used language in the Heaven Awaken World. After all, the Heaven Awaken World was made of many worlds, so it had countless languages and cultures. Without a common language, people would not be able to trade with each other.

Zhao Fu had long since learned this language; this was quite simple, as buying a Language Stone with this language was all that it took.

After entering, Zhao Fu saw a person selling an Intermediate Human grade Art, 'Demon Art.' One could display the stats of an item here. Zhao Fu found that this Art was quite suitable for Zhao Sha, and it was a Human grade Art, which surpassed SSS grade Arts. It was definitely quite powerful.

The people here did not lack money at all, so the method of trading was mostly using bartering. This person selling the Art required five Ghost Spirit Jades, which were top-quality Epic grade materials. Great Qin had obtained some during the Ghost Festival, so Zhao Fu felt that it was quite worth it getting the Art.

As such, Zhao Fu wrote out a few words and sent them into the Communication Region, saying that he wanted to trade with that person. In the next instant, a sentence giving off rainbow-colored light, as well as an Emperor's domineering aura, appeared in the Communication Region.

Immediately, the bustling chatting hall quietened down. Zhao Fu was quite startled, as he had never thought that a Supreme level account would have such special effects when talking.

"Holy crap! There's a higher being in the chatting room? That really scared me!"

After a short period of silence, a person sent a message in surprise. Only higher beings could possess Supreme level accounts, and such people stood at the peak of the entire Heaven Awaken World. Countless people could only look up at them.

After the first person spoke, more and more people joined in.

"It... It really is a higher being. This little one, Minotaur Mountain's Zhang Xiaohua is lucky to meet you."

"Erm, higher being, are you lacking any female attendants? I'm still a virgin, and I'm willing to serve you. I promise you'll be satisfied!"

"Higher being, I'm so happy to meet a grand figure like you, so happy! I can't believe a grand figure came here."

"Look at you all, can't you act with more dignity? Erm higher being, are you taking any disciples? I have Human grade talent, and I'm very good at being a good disciple. I promise I'll treat you hundreds of times better than I treat my own dad; please take me as your disciple!"

Zhao Fu felt incredibly speechless. Before, all of them had all been talking confidently and domineeringly; after all, anyone who can access the Communication Region was quite powerful. However, they were now talking incredibly servilely, and to Zhao Fu, who wasn't even a higher being.

Even though Zhao Fu was not sure what had happened, he suspected that his Supreme level would be taken back soon. When he crashed back down to the most basic level, he would not be able to enter the Communication Region anymore.

As such, he had to quickly use this Supreme level account to obtain some benefits. Zhao Fu said, “I need the Demon Art, who was selling this before?”

Countless messages once again flowed in, asking Zhao Fu if he needed this or that. Some people tried to get closer to him, but he ignored them, and he saw the person selling the Demon Art immediately propose a trade.

A screen appeared before Zhao Fu, and he took out five Ghost Spirit Jades and placed them inside. The other person had never thought that a higher being would directly trade with him, and his mind went blank. To be able to trade with someone like this, his heart could not help but race.

“What’s wrong?” Seeing that the other person was taking a long time, Zhao Fu sent over a private message.

That person was standing there, his heart beating furiously. After seeing this message, he immediately sent over the Art and completed the transaction, obtaining five Ghost Spirit Jades.

Only then did that person realize what he should have done and regretted his actions; being able to talk a higher being was an immense opportunity, but he had wasted this opportunity. If he could have become friends with that higher being or received even a bit of advice, that would have been massive gains.

Chapter 904: Brain Bugs

After obtaining the Art, Zhao Fu started to go through items to see what would be useful. It would be best to control something in the Fish Scale world and slowly develop, becoming a large faction and unifying a Continent.

After looking for a while, Zhao Fu found a useful thing called a ‘Brain Bug’; it was a bug that could control City Lords and was incredibly powerful. After all, City Lords had City Lord Seals, and they were not so easy to control.

Brain Bugs could crawl inside a City Lord's head and devour their spirit, obtaining the City Lord's powers, memories, and even personality, allowing them to perfectly replace the City Lord.

The chances of being discovered were quite low; of course, it was not as effective as wiping away their consciousness, but it was already quite a good method.

Zhao Fu's goal was to use Brain Bugs to secretly control a group of City Lords in the Fish Scale world and control them, before attacking other regions and expanding their faction. With the Brain Bugs, they would be completely loyal to Zhao Fu to the death and would never betray him.

However, Brain Bugs were quite difficult to obtain, and Zhao Fu looked through quests with Brain Bugs with rewards. There were many quests, and they all asked for different things: materials, medicinal pills, equipment, information, etc.

The first quest that Zhao Fu saw was a Great City for five Brain Bugs. Even though Zhao Fu now had many Cities, he was not very willing to give away a Great City for five Brain Bugs.

As such, Zhao Fu could only look for more suitable quests. One of the ones that Zhao Fu saw was a Legendary grade equipment for three Brain Bugs. This was quite good, so Zhao Fu quickly accepted the quest and handed in a Legendary grade weapon before receiving three Brain Bugs.

The Brain Bugs were extremely thin and were only about one centimeter wide and seven centimeters long. They were transparent and kept in a glass bottle. These Brain Bugs were extremely dangerous, and if one was not careful, they would enter one's body. If they were not stopped, the person's body would be controlled, and their spirit would be devoured.

Now, Zhao Fu had to use his blood to tame the three Brain Bugs so that they only followed orders from him. This was quite simple, and Zhao Fu completed it smoothly. He then went to look through more quests, as these Brain Bugs definitely weren't enough.

Next, Zhao Fu found a quest that offered six Brain Bugs for an Epic grade material. This was quite good, so Zhao Fu immediately accepted it and went to find more quests.

A day later, Zhao Fu had completed dozens of quests and had obtained 150 Brain Bugs. Zhao Fu smiled in satisfaction; this meant that he could control 150 City Lords, and there were still many quests offering Brain Bugs. However, he had already spent a lot of resources, so he did not accept any more.

However, Zhao Fu would keep an eye on these quests and would accept any suitable ones. After all, the more Brain Bugs he had, the more City Lords he could control, increasing his forces.

After taking care of these matters, Zhao Fu was able to relax. He was not sure when the Supreme level account would be taken from him, and he felt quite curious as to what the Heaven Spirit Stele's top-tier quests were like.

After taking a look, Zhao Fu could not help but feel shocked. As expected from top-tier quests. None of them were things that ordinary people could complete; only higher beings could complete them, such as killing gods, finding incredible treasures, or exploring unknown worlds in the primal chaos.

Zhao Fu saw a few quests searching for the person who had awakened the Origin Bloodline. Seeing this, Zhao Fu could not help but think about Tuoba Qing. It seemed that she had drawn a lot of attention, and seeing the rewards, Zhao Fu felt even more shocked.

Some quests offered the Capital City of a Royal Kingdom, not just a Barony Kingdom, and others offered ten Heaven Realm Puppets. The Heaven Realm was a grade above Stage 9, and it surpassed even the Saint Realm.

It was quite easy to increase one's Cultivation in the early stages, but it became harder and harder the higher one went. For example, even now, the Great Qin army did not have many Stage 4 soldiers.

A single Heaven Realm cultivator could instantly wipe out waves of Stage 9 soldiers. These rewards were simply too shocking.

At the same time, Zhao Fu found quests about him. Anyone who could provide accurate information on the person who had obtained the Celestial Emperor Star would be given a Marquisate Kingdom from the Vast Sky Empire.

This made Zhao Fu feel quite startled; even Great Qin was only a Barony Kingdom, and after seeing this, Zhao Fu was tempted to sell himself out.

He laughed at himself before looking at other quests, and he found that there were actually many quests related to him. There were far more than the quests related to Tuoba Qing; perhaps they knew that the Origin Race was not so easy to deal with, while Zhao Fu could be easily crushed.

As such, as he looked at more quests, Zhao Fu's smile disappeared. There were many people who wanted to kill him – for example, anyone who killed the person who had awakened the Celestial Emperor Star and presented his head would receive a Divinity, the blood of a Demon Ancestor, or a five-colored divine dragon egg.

Divinities, blood of a Demon Ancestor, and five-colored divine dragon eggs were all incredibly rare treasures, and all they wanted was his life.

Only the higher beings could see these quests, and Zhao Fu felt a trace of coldness in his heart. There were many people who wanted to kill him, and all of them had quests for him. Facing them, Zhao Fu could only die.

There was also that higher being who had come after Zhao Fu for the Origin Mark. Nothing had happened for a while, but Zhao Fu still felt incredibly threatened.

More importantly, he had come for the Origin Mark, but he most likely knew that Zhao Fu had the Celestial Emperor Star, and he maybe even knew about the Nether Emperor Star. He also knew what Zhao Fu looked like, as well as the location of the human world.

If he came looking for Zhao Fu, with Great Qin's current power, it would be very difficult to defend. If he found a few helpers, no matter how fast Great Qin developed, it would all be for nothing, and Zhao Fu would still die.

However, it had been quite a while, and the higher being still had not done anything. It was possible that he had not found where the human world was, or else he would have long since come and slaughtered all of Great Qin before killing Zhao Fu to take the Origin Mark.

What made Zhao Fu quite worried was that almost everyone in the human world knew that he had awakened two Emperor Stars. Even though they did not know just what those stars were, they understood how terrifying those stars were. If they leaked this information to other worlds, the consequences would be unimaginable.

It was fortunate that the human world was currently at the very edge of the Heaven Awaken World, so it was quite difficult for people from the center to find him.

However, Zhao Fu was still a bit worried, as sometimes incredibly unlucky things still happened.

Zhao Fu continued to look through the various quests related to him. They were mainly two types of quests: One was to kill him, giving great rewards, while the other was to protect him, but this came at a cost.

Chapter 905: Deep Blue Empire

One of the most powerful Human Empires, the Deep Blue Empire, offered protection to the owner of the Celestial Emperor Star. However, Zhao Fu would have to marry into the Deep Blue Empire and become part of the Deep Blue Empire through marriage with their princess.

Marrying into the Deep Blue Empire meant that Zhao Fu would be joining them and throwing away his own identity. His children would not bear his surname and would bear his wife's surname, and he would be controlled in all sorts of ways. He would not have much power and would not even have the power to retaliate.

Zhao Fu did not want to live like that, so he did not seek their protection.

After looking through these quests, Zhao Fu felt a chill in his heart, and a sense of crisis descended. It was as if he was going to die in the next instant. If he had the choice, he would rather give up the Celestial Emperor Star than have problems like this.

Luckily, he had suddenly obtained this Supreme level account, allowing him to know what was going on. Otherwise, if people suddenly arrived and killed him, he would not even know why he had died; they were too powerful.

It was not in Zhao Fu's nature to just sit there and wait for death. He still had to develop and obtain even more power. If a higher being personally descended, a Barony Kingdom definitely would not be able to defend against them.

After withdrawing his consciousness from the Heaven Spirit Stele, Zhao Fu heavily breathed out and stopped thinking about all the quests wanting his death, and he started to work on his Fish Scale world plan.

There was still a massive rift open between the Fish Scale world and human world, making it easy to go from one world to the other, and Zhao Fu had obtained a lot of information about the Fish Scale world.

Even though the Fish Scale world was a water world, it was split into seven underwater Continents. There was an unfathomably deep abyss between each Continent, separating them. Originally, the eight aquatic beast kings had lived in those abysses.

At this point in time, the situation in the various worlds were roughly the same. They were all in the final stage of the Chaotic World, and because players could attack system main cities, many system main cities were gathered together.

Zhao Fu was continuously gathering information on the Fish Scale world in order to find targets to lay his hands on. The Netherwater Continent was too close to the human world, so even though it would be more convenient for Zhao Fu, it was easier to arouse suspicions. As such, Zhao Fu picked the central Continent, the Darkwater Continent.

After arriving at that Continent, Zhao Fu found a system faction that would be easy to make a move on. This system faction was in a remote location and had remained neutral, not wanting to participate in any battles. There were not any powerful enemies near them, only small, weak factions.

Zhao Fu felt that they were being quite silly – they had a great advantage and could clear out the surrounding factions to become even stronger. There was nothing wrong with remaining neutral, but if a bigger faction came and they did not develop, they would perish.

As such, Zhao Fu chose them. There were about 180 City Lords gathered here, but Zhao Fu only had 150 Brain Bugs and still lacked 30.

Zhao Fu quickly thought of an idea, and there was nothing to worry about. Zhao Fu made some arrangements for Great Qin before heading to the Fish Scale world. Of course, this was a secret operation, and no one knew about this.

Two days later, Zhao Fu snuck into the Fish Scale world and arrived at the central Continent. He found that system faction and waited for the right time to strike.

Time gradually passed, and soon, it was time for the Fish Scale people to rest. Zhao Fu completely hid his aura and stealthily entered a system main city. With his current strength, it was impossible for Stage 1 and Stage 2 soldiers to detect him.

Zhao Fu quickly found the City Lord. He was a middle-aged man and was quite portly. He wore gold jewellery and was snoring loudly as he slept, and he had a beautiful wife by his side.

Zhao Fu silently went over to his side and lightly sent out his Emperor's Domain to cover the room in order to prevent anything unexpected from happening. The City Lord was still loudly snoring, so Zhao Fu did not hesitate as he took out a Brain Bug and placed it on his head.

The Brain Bug squirmed around before finding a good place to enter. Its sharp body slightly stiffened before digging into the City Lord's skin.

By now, the City Lord finally sensed some danger and suddenly opened his eyes, seeing a person standing next to him. He immediately tried to explode out with his City Lord Seal's power so as to at least make some noise to let others know that something had happened.

However, Zhao Fu was completely prepared for this. His hand pressed down with immense power onto the man's chest, sealing his body and making it so that he could not move at all or even cry out.

By now, the Brain Bug had completely dug into the middle-aged City Lord's head and was crawling under his skin. It searched for the center of his head, and the middle-aged man stared at Zhao Fu in terror but was unable to do anything.

Soon, the Brain Bug found the City Lord's brain, and the City Lord's eyes became full of pain, anger, and hatred before becoming lifeless and empty.

The Brain Bug had devoured his spirit, and after a while, his blank eyes regained their liveliness, but it was now the Brain Bug controlling him. The City Lord now looked at Zhao Fu with an expression of trying to currying favor.

Zhao Fu removed his hand, and the power sealing the City Lord disappeared. Zhao Fu ordered the Brain Bug to act as the middle-aged City Lord had acted, and the sleeping woman did not detect a thing. Following this, Zhao Fu left and headed to his next target.

Just like that, Zhao Fu went and took over 80 or so City Lords. This went extremely well without any unexpected surprises.

Zhao Fu did not want to waste any time, and he continued to use this method. However, he soon ran into a problem. After entering a City Lord's room, because the City Lord was incredibly wary, he immediately discovered that someone had snuck in.

Zhao Fu immediately unleashed his Emperor's Domain, covering the room to prevent any sound from escaping. The City Lord was an ordinary-looking young man, and he did not hesitate to explode out with his City Lord Seal's power.

Zhao Fu unleashed the Great Qin Seal's power and stretched out his hand, causing a large, formless hand to grip the young man. The young man vigorously struggled, but he was unable to break free at all.

Zhao Fu's expression did not change as he walked over and took out a glass bottle. He placed a squirming Brain Bug next to the young man's eye, and the young man looked at the Brain Bug in terror as he continued to vigorously struggle.

As soon as Zhao Fu let go, the Brain Bug instantly dove into the young man's eye and entered his brain. The young man howled in pain, as his spirit was being devoured.

Because of Zhao Fu's Emperor's Domain, none of the sound was able to escape. All of the soldiers continued to either sleep or stand guard, and they did not know what was happening at all.

Chapter 906: Banquet Ambush

After dealing with this young man, Zhao Fu soon dealt with the others as well and used all 150 Brain Bugs, successfully controlling 150 City Lords.

By now, it was dawn, and Zhao Fu commenced his next plan. He first gathered all of the City Lords to hold an emergency meeting; those who were controlled by Brain Bugs naturally knew what was happening.

The remaining 30 City Lord did not understand why they were having an emergency meeting, as they had not been able to sense any danger. However, because everyone else was gathering, they wondered if something big had happened and also went.

However, when they arrived, they could not help but feel angry. Seeing the other City Lords eating and drinking at a banquet, it did not seem like an emergency at all.

Many people they were familiar with walked over with wine and warmly invited them to drink, and some of them felt too embarrassed to reject them, so they joined in. Others still had things to do, so they decided to return, and no one stopped them.

However, on the way back, a person stood in their way. The ten or so City Lords' expressions changed, as they could sense that that person's strength was incredibly powerful, and he gave off dense killing intent.

"Hurry! Let's split up and escape!" a person cried out. The other City Lords also understood that they were not a match for Zhao Fu, so they scattered and flew in different directions.

At that moment, Zhao Fu condescendingly laughed as the five pupils in his left eye spun and a terrifying power burst forth as countless chains brought with them shocking power and flew towards the escaping City Lords.

Before a few of the City Lords could realize what was happening, their bodies were pierced by the countless chains, and they immediately died. Their City Lord Seals floated out of their bodies.

The other City Lords were greatly shocked and released energy barriers to defend. However, they were unable to last for very long before their barriers were destroyed and countless chains pierced through their bodies. In the end, they all died without a single one being able to escape.

After putting away the City Lord Seals and corpses, Zhao Fu returned to the place of the banquet, where the other City Lords had been poisoned to death. Zhao Fu looked at his 150 City Lords and said, "Go and quickly take control of those 30 Cities, then gather your forces and clear out the regions around you."

Now that the 150 City Lords were completely controlled by the Brain Bugs, they naturally followed all of Zhao Fu's orders. Because they had made preparations, they had been able to take over those 30 Cities easily.

Zhao Fu did not take those 30 Cities away, and he instead left them there. After all, Zhao Fu wanted this faction to greatly develop, so he did not want to reduce its strength. He picked out a few decent people from the Cities that had pledged their allegiance to him; when he had more Brain Bugs, he would use them.

The nearby smaller factions did not pose much of a threat, but clearing them out could take some time. After clearing out all of the factions and becoming stronger, they would be able to start making a move against the larger factions.

The countless smaller factions felt incredibly terrified at the changes in the system faction. They could not understand why this faction, which had maintained absolute neutrality, had suddenly started to attack others. They did not know that the City Lords were now all controlled by someone else.

However, this did not draw much attention, as this sort of situation was quite common. In order to survive, plans often changed.

After dealing with this, Zhao Fu returned to Great Qin. Great Qin was still clearing out regions while building the third Great Wall. This required a lot of time and would not be finished anytime soon.

Seeing that there was not much to do, Zhao Fu decided to return to the real world.

Zhao Fu's wounds in the real world had healed, and he had returned to his own villa. Just like always, he was extremely hungry, and after having a large meal, he turned on his laptop to see if there was any important news.

Zheng Dong, the Class President of Zhao Fu's class in university, sent a message, saying that his faction had been developing quite well. Not too long ago, he had taken down a Basic Xiongnu City, and he was now a City Lord, with many of the people from their class joining him.

This included Zhao Fu's roommate, Zhang Yue, who he had a good relationship with. As such, he also invited Zhao Fu to join him and said he would give Zhao Fu a decent position because Zhao Fu had supported him in the past.

Everyone in the group were praising and flattering Zheng Dong, as he had been the most outstanding in the class, and even some of the teachers praised him.

Because the real world was in utter chaos, the news of the Heaven Awaken World devouring the real world became more and more widespread and believable. Those who were powerful in the Heaven Awaken World would be at the frontier of the new world, so many people started to make plans for their futures.

It was quite difficult to survive alone without a faction, so many people chose to join a faction. The most well-known faction was, of course, Great Qin; after all, Great Qin was about to sweep across the world with unstoppable momentum.

However, how could ordinary people like them join Great Qin? Even some of the large families or financial groups had tried to curry favor with Great Qin, but Great Qin had not responded in the slightest.

Of course, ordinary people like them could not enter, so they could only choose to join other factions. Now that Zheng Dong had become the City Lord of a Basic City, there were naturally people who wanted to join him; it was only natural that everyone was saying such good things about him.

“City Lord of a Basic City?” Zhao Fu could not help but lightly laugh. However, he politely rejected Zheng Dong’s offer; how could he be a subordinate of the City Lord of a Basic City?

Because Zheng Dong had asked him in the group, Zhao Fu also replied in the group.

In order to curry favor with Zheng Dong, some people said to Zhao Fu, “Zhao Fu, you’re not giving President Zheng any face. He’s already a City Lord, and others would be begging to join him; don’t regret it in the future!”

Someone else agreed, saying, “That’s right, that’s right. Only an idiot wouldn’t want to join President Zheng; we completely support the President.”

Zhao Fu didn’t know what to say in response to this, so he decided to just log off.

Following this, he decided to have a look at the Heaven Awaken World forum, but he found that he could not enter the forum. He remembered that he had captured all of Flower Moon, so there was naturally no one to take care of the Heaven Awaken World forum.

Mu Guilin soon came in with some documents; it was the information on the remaining Dynasties that Zhao Fu had ordered people to collect. If Zhao Fu wanted to unify China, they were his first targets. As such, he had people collect information on them to destroy them in the future.

There was nothing within the documents about their precise locations, making Zhao Fu feel quite disappointed. However, these people were nearly going mad that they could not take revenge against Great Qin, so they decided to take revenge against the Ying family. After all, the Ying family was the imperial clan of Great Qin.

Chapter 907: Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom

Even though the Ying family dying would not cause much of a loss to Great Qin, it would definitely cause Great Qin to be quite displeased, allowing those factions to achieve their goal. Since they were going to die anyways, they might as well take out their anger on the Ying family.

In order to respond to this, the Ying family mobilized all of the armies at its disposal. After all, the various large families held a lot of power in the real world, and they had created their own personal armies.

In response to this, Zhao Fu decided to properly think about it. Even though he could bring his real body into the Heaven Awaken World at any time, allowing him to not worry about this, not everyone could do this.

The Ying family was indeed not very important to Zhao Fu, as it was just the imperial clan of Great Qin. However, there were some people in the Ying family Zhao Fu cared about, and he did not want to see them all die.

Zhao Fu did not know what to do, as he did not have a way to bring large groups of people into the Heaven Awaken World. As such, he could only return to the Heaven Awaken World to ask the golden dragon.

The golden dragon gave a good suggestion, which was to use a Reality Magic Formation, but this would require many Spatial Stones. Spatial Stones were stones that contained spatial power, but they were extremely rare. However, with the Ying family's resources, gathering the spatial stones would not be a big issue.

Up until now, the various branches of the Ying family already had Great Cities and some Basic Cities. Even though they could not compare to Great Qin, within the eyes of player factions, they were already massive factions.

Zhao Fu prepared this magic formation so that even if the Ying family was broken through in the real world, they could all immediately enter the Heaven Awaken World. However, the Heaven Awaken World was a place that they were not in control of; it was Great Qin's territory.

Zhao Fu told the family leaders about this magic formation, and they gratefully thanked him and Great Qin's Legatee.

After taking care of these matters, Zhao Fu once again returned to the Heaven Awaken World and took care of some more things. Time passed day by day, and soon, it was May of the fourth year.

The sun shined brightly down on the earth, and there were no clouds to be seen in the blue sky. It was an extremely clear and sunny day.

Suddenly, a domineering dragon's roar sounded out, and the heavens and earth suddenly dimmed as a powerful aura swept through the entirety of China like a cyclone.

A black pillar of light stood between the heavens and the earth as nine massive black dragons circled in the sky, giving off incredible auras. They were incredibly domineering and could cause all creatures to submit.

Everyone in China had grim looks on their faces because the silent Great Qin had once again started to act up, and a bloody storm was about to arrive again. They all greatly feared Great Qin and could not help but feel terrified.

Zhao Fu smiled as he stood by the side – after six months of clearing regions and building the Great Wall, they had cleared out 950 regions and obtained three Barony Cities and five Capital Cities.

Now, Great Qin was a Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom. Not many people would be able to raise their Kingdoms to a Marquisate Kingdom before the real world was destroyed.

However, leveling up to a Dukedom Kingdom would be even more difficult. It would require three Marquisate Cities, six Barony Cities, and nine Capital Cities.

In actuality, the minor requirements were not so difficult, but leveling up to a Dukedom required unifying a whole world. Only with the world's power could one level up into a Dukedom; Region Power would no longer work, and they would have to rely on the world's power.

This was definitely a very long process, as Great Qin did not yet have the strength to unify the whole world. This still required a lot of development.

Right now, Great Qin was a Level 1 Marquisate. It had conquered 1,470 regions and required 1,000 regions to increase by another level.

The three Barony Cities were the previous three Capital Cities, which were Seven Kill City, Maurya City, and Demon King City. Great Qin already had a Capital City from taking down the Shang Dynasty, so they only needed to level up five Cities.

Zhao Fu did not continue to use Dynasty Cities for the five Capital Cities, as out of the three Barony Cities, there were already two Dynasty Cities and the Shang Dynasty's City. There were too many Cities from other Dynasties, so Zhao Fu decided to develop the other Cities.

The first was Celestial City, as its attributes were quite suited to Cultivation, and the residents living there were very happy. Next was Sword Mountain, as Zhao Fu wanted to increase its attack power and make it even stronger.

The third City that Zhao Fu chose was Disaster City, simply to make its Disaster attribute more powerful.

The fourth and fifth Cities were, of course, the Ice and Fire Cities. Before, they had only been Gold grade Cities, but they had leveled up into Legendary grade Cities. Zhao Fu had obtained an Ice Heart and Fire Heart from the Heaven Spirit Stele, which contained Legendary grade power.

The Heaven Spirit Stele was an extremely good thing and had all sorts of treasures. Anyone could obtain almost anything if they satisfied the conditions, and what surprised Zhao Fu was that his Supreme level account still had not been taken away.

This made Zhao Fu feel quite curious; even if it was a mistake, nothing had happened for six months. He could not understand what was happening, but he accepted it. Great Qin's Level 1 Marquisate City stats were as such:

Village Name: Great Qin Royal City (Human King)

Level: Marquisate Royal City (Level 1)

Village Area: 2,49,400 square kilometers

Village Territory: 232,421,800 square kilometers

Residents: 3,492,950/80,240,000

Military: 892,640/32,482,000

Popular Support: 86

Village Special Stats: Territory Crop Output +300%, Territory Crop Growing Time -300%, Population Limit +180%, Residents' stats can randomly +24, Soldiers' stats +29%, Population Attraction +250%, chance of attracting higher grade population +250%

Subsidiary Village Limit: 2,096,930

Subordinate Villages: Logue Village, Jean Village, Dorun Village, Li Family Village, Wolf Village, Ferocious Tiger Village...

Not only did the City become stronger, but Zhao Fu's Great Qin Seal's power also rose to a new level. Now that Great Qin was a Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom, its Kingdom Power was also greater. Zhao Fu could now have even more Civil and Military Officials, allowing Great Qin to become even more powerful.

Now, Great Qin had 1,470 regions and 8,820 Counties, meaning they could have 8,820 County Seals, 1,470 Province Seals, 147 Baron Seals, 14 Marquis Seals, and one Duke Seal.

These were only the Civil Official Seals, and they already numbered over 10,000. Now, very few factions dared to make a move against Great Qin. Even if hundreds of factions came, with Great Qin's strength as a Kingdom, it would be able to easily destroy them.

Now, Great Qin had an incredible 4.7 billion residents, and it had expanded its military to 470 million soldiers. There were 320 million Stage 2 soldiers, 92 million Stage 2 soldiers, 1.1 million Stage 3 soldiers, and 50,000 Stage 4 soldiers.

Great Qin controlled 1,470 regions with one Marquisate Royal City, three Barony Cities, six Capital Cities, 3,428 Capital Cities, 1,921 Cities, 1,660 Towns, and 99,489 Villages.

Chapter 908: Water God Corps

Great Qin now had 470 million soldiers, so it could have 4,700 Basic General Seals, 47 Advanced General Seals, and four Marquis General Seals.

Great Qin's strength was now quite monstrous, and it could cause countless people to feel quite afraid. It was a terrifying monster baring its fangs and brandishing its claws, striking fear into those around it.

It also had 160,000 Corpse Soul Soldiers and 3,200 Corpse Soul Commanders. Great Qin also now had 3,860 Wyverns, and among them, 3,000 of them could fight.

At the same time, Great Qin was nurturing Flower Devils. After such a long time and using so many resources, they had developed 5,000 Flower Devils. After maturing, the Flower Devils would produce three Flower Devil Seeds, which could be used to grow more Flower Devils.

Zhao Fu did not nurture these Flower Devils as combat-type soldiers but support-type soldiers, and he nurtured a type of Illusion Flower Devils.

These Illusion Flower Devils were not very strong, but they could release a type of pollen that had powerful illusion abilities. Anyone who inhaled the pollen would be brought into an illusion, and these Illusion Flower Devils had Stage 1 strength. This meant that Stage 1 soldiers would not be able to escape from the illusion.

At the same time, Great Qin not only had ordinary Flower Devils but also Elite class Flower Devils, Chief class Flower Devils, and a Lord class Flower Devil, which was Little Rose.

Elite class Flower Devils had Stage 2 strength when they matured and could send Stage 2 soldiers into illusions; Chief class Flower Devils had Stage 3 strength when they matured and could send Stage 3 soldiers into illusions. Lord class Flower Devils had Stage 4 strength right from the beginning, as well as had all sorts of abilities, and they were incredibly powerful.

However, the higher class they were, the rarer they were. Little Rose was still a two or three year old girl, and Zhao Fu had no idea when she would mature and produce some seeds.

There was also the Spider Den – because Great Qin had not had it for long, it had only produced 40,000 or so spiders. The Spider Empress Elise had worked hard during this period of time.

These spiders were all two meters wide and had Stage 2 strength. They were all incredibly savage and were not weak at all. They were demonic creatures that any human would be afraid of, and the thought of countless massive spiders crawling about was incredibly terrifying.

The reason Zhao Fu was interested in them was because they had another ability, which was that they could easily walk on walls like they were walking on the ground. This would make attacking Cities incredibly simple.

Zhao Fu was quite satisfied with the spiders' abilities; they would be quite useful on the battlefield, so he decided to greatly nurture them to help with attacking Cities, reducing casualties.

There were also the Corps – the 13 Corps had all become Level 10 Corps, and they had even more powerful stats. Now, each of the Corps could have four million soldiers.

However, this was still not enough, because Great Qin already had 470 million soldiers. In total, the 13 Corps could only have around 50 million soldiers, which was not even close to 470 million. Luckily, now that Great Qin was a Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom, it could create another ten Corps.

Every level that a Kingdom increased by, it could create another two Corps. Before, Great Qin had been a Level 5 Barony Kingdom, and now that it had continuously increased by five levels so quickly, it could create ten more Corps.

Now that it was a Marquisate Kingdom, every time it leveled up, it would be able to create an additional Corps; in other words, it would be able to create three Corps for every level that it leveled up by.

However, ten Corps could only have 40 million soldiers in total, and with the soldiers from the original 13 Corps, this would still not make up even 100 million soldiers. With Great Qin's army of 470 million soldiers, there was still a great lack of Corps.

Next, Zhao Fu's task was to create the Corps. Zhao Fu did not want any ordinary Corps, and because he only wanted to create Special Corps, he had to find appropriate vessels.

The first thing that Zhao Fu thought of was Tuoba Qing's City. The City Heart could not spawn people with the Origin Bloodline, but it could spawn some related bloodlines. The City Heart had also been affected by Tuoba Qing's awakening, giving it a bit of Origin Human Power.

This power was incredibly weak compared to true Origin Human Power, but it was still quite powerful. It was a pity that Tuoba Qing had immediately left after awakening; if she had sent her power into the City Heart, it would have even greater potential.

Even though the City was only a Gold grade City, Zhao Fu still felt quite hopeful and wanted to see if he could create a Special Corps. He found that it was not powerful enough, making him feel somewhat disappointed.

Dynasty Legacy Cities could definitely be the vessel for a Special Corps; they were Legendary grade and had powerful Legacy Power, and Great Qin had six Legacy Dynasties.

They were the Hong Bang Dynasty, Shang Dynasty, Jin Dynasty, Sui Dynasty, Song Dynasty, and Qing Dynasty. It would be no problem to use them to create Special Corps, but Zhao Fu would still lack four more.

At that moment, Zhao Fu thought of the Water God Temple. After conquering Vietnam, Great Qin faced the boundless ocean to the north. At the same time, Great Qin had greatly developed its fishing industry and navy. With the various blessings that the Water God Temple gave, it was naturally offered a lot of incense.

Now, the Water God Temple was Level 12 and had powerful divine power. Zhao Fu decided to use the Water God Statue as a vessel, as the Corps would have affinity with water. Great Qin had always lacked a good navy.

After going to the Water God Temple, Zhao Fu saw that it was crowded with people offering incense. As Zhao Fu walked in, the soldiers maintained the order and had those people temporarily leave.

“I greet Your Majesty!” The Water God revealed herself and slightly smiled as she bowed.

Zhao Fu lightly nodded before taking out a Corps Core and fusing it into the tall Water God Statue. A powerful aura immediately rippled out; it was an incredibly powerful godly spirit’s aura.

At that moment, the Water God Statue gave off a large amount of blue light, gathering a lot of water vapor in the surroundings and forming a mist. The water vapor gathered to form a woman made out of water, who looked a lot like the Water God.

[Water God Corps]: With the Water God Statue that possesses powerful divine power as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Water God Statue, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Water God Power, and the Corps Formation will be the Water God. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

After looking at the stone stele’s information, Zhao Fu felt quite satisfied and went to his next option, which was the Spider Den.

This Spider Den also had a large amount of divine power, and it was already an Epic grade Den. As such, it would definitely fulfill the requirements for being a vessel, which was why Zhao Fu decided to go there next.

The Corps Core easily fused into the Spider Den’s core and exploded out with a powerful aura. A demonic flame burst forth as a wave of evil and savage energy rushed out, shaking the surroundings.

Within the demonic flames, a spider crawled out and gradually grew bigger before becoming as big as a small house. Its aura was extremely powerful and ferocious, and it turned into a stone stele with a spider engraved on it.

[Spider Corps]: With the Spider Den as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Spider Den, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Spider God Power, and the Corps Formation will be a spider. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

Now, Zhao Fu still lacked another two vessels. Zhao Fu thought about it, but there did not seem to be anything else that could be used as a vessel.

Suddenly, Zhao Fu thought about Great Qin's five Ghost professions. These five Ghost professions all had immense power, and if they could create Corps, that would simply be too monstrous. They would be even more powerful than some Imperial Corps.

For example, the Dark Ghost World created by a few Hundred Ghost Illusionists was already immensely powerful. If four million people cast the Dark Ghost World, that scene would be able to turn the whole world into a world of Ghosts, allowing summoned Ghosts to attack those in the illusion.

When he thought of this, Zhao Fu felt quite excited, so he quickly went to the Barracks and tried to fuse Corps Cores into the Profession Change Stone Steles. However, he found that this was not possible for the Hundred Ghost Illusionists and Ghost Summoners professions, but the three other Profession Change Stone Steles could be used as vessels.

These three Profession Change Stone Steles seemed to have high affinity with the Corps Cores, while the two other Profession Change Stone Steles seemed to reject them. However, the Human Ghosts, Ghostgod Soldiers, and Ghost Eyes professions still lacked some power.

As such, Zhao Fu went to the Heaven Spirit Stele and used three pieces of Epic grade equipment to exchange for three powerful Ghost-attribute treasures, which he fused into the three Profession Change Stone Steles, making them more powerful. Now, they should be able to become vessels.

At the same time, Zhao Fu found that the similarities among these three professions were that they needed more Ghosts to become more powerful. For example, the more Ghosts that the Human Ghosts fused with, the more powerful they would become; the Ghostgod Soldiers needed to turn Ghosts into weapons, and the more weapons they obtained, the more powerful they would become.

This was the same for the Ghost Eyes; they needed to fuse Ghosts into their eyes to obtain powerful ghostly power. All three professions were professions that could directly fight, while the Hundred Ghost Illusionists were an illusion-type profession. The Ghost Summoners were a summoning-type profession, so they could not become vessels.

There was another difference, which was that the Hundred Ghost Illusionists and Ghost Summoners had a limit of 300 soldiers, while the three other professions had limits of 3,000 soldiers.

Because they were together, Zhao Fu could create them at the same time. He took out three Corps Cores and fused them into the three Profession Change Stone Steles. Three massive waves of ghostly qi rushed out, causing the surrounding temperature to rapidly decrease. An eerie aura covered the surroundings, making those nearby shiver.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Three explosions sounded out as the three Profession Change Stone Steles shined with intense ghostly light, and three Ghosts giving off terrifying power appeared before Zhao Fu. These three Ghosts' auras were extremely ferocious, and they gathered together, enough to make countless people feel terror.

The first Ghost was in front of the Ghost Eyes stone stele, and he looked like an elderly man. He wore a white robe and looked quite amicable, but he had six eyes.

The second Ghost was in front of the Human Ghost stone stele. He looked quite deformed, being three meters tall and having firm muscles, but he was hunchbacked.

The third Ghost was in front of the Ghostgod Soldiers stone stele. This Ghost looked quite normal and wore armor, and he also held a sword in one hand and a saber in the other with a bow on his back.

These three Ghosts turned into three ghostly steles.

[Human Ghost Corps]: With the Human Ghost Profession Change Stone Stele as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Human Ghost Profession Change

Stone Stele, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Human Ghost Power, and the Corps Formation will be a Human Ghost. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

[Ghostgod Soldier Corps]: With the Ghostgod Soldier Profession Change Stone Stele as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Ghostgod Soldier Profession Change Stone Stele, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Ghostgod Soldier Power, and the Corps Formation will be a Ghostgod Soldier. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

[Ghost Eyes Soldier Corps]: With the Ghost Eyes Profession Change Stone Stele as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Ghost Eyes Profession Change Stone Stele, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Ghost Eyes Power, and the Corps Formation will be a Ghost Eye. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

After reading through their information, Zhao Fu felt quite pleasantly surprised. Even though the professions' power had been slightly reduced after becoming a Corps, they definitely were not weak at all, and they were among the strongest Corps. After all, these three professions were already powerful professions.

Zhao Fu felt quite confident that these three Corps would become Great Qin's three great Ghost Corps and would help Great Qin sweep across everything.

However, these three Corps all required a large number of Ghosts in order to reveal their full might. They would not be much weaker than even the Sword Mountain Corps, which had the greatest attack power.

Zhao Fu would take care of this some other time, but it was a pity that the Hundred Ghost Illusionists and Ghost Summoners stone steles could not be used to create Corps. Otherwise, with these five Ghost Corps, Great Qin would be simply terrifying.

Zhao Fu decided to use the remaining five Corps Cores on the Dynasty Cities.

He first went to the Shang Dynasty's City and fused a Corps Core into the City Heart. A King's aura exploded out, and a powerful might covered the City Hall as the City Heart shined with a bronze light.

“Roarr!” A dragon’s roar sounded out as a bronze flood dragon gave off a powerful aura and appeared before Zhao Fu.

This flood dragon was nine meters long and had bronze scales and three claws. It had a short horn on its head, but it still gave off an Emperor’s might and domineeringness.

[Shang Dynasty Corps]: With the Shang Dynasty’s City Heart as the vessel, this stone stele has received a massive amount of power from the Shang Dynasty, greatly raising all attributes. All members of the Corps can receive Shang Dynasty Power, and the Corps Formation will be a bronze flood dragon. The limit for this Corps has increased by one million soldiers.

Following this, Zhao Fu created the Jin Dynasty Corps, Sui Dynasty Corps, Song Dynasty Corps, and Qing Dynasty Corps, five Chinese Dynasty Corps in total. Their Corps Aura Formations were all flood dragons; only the Great Qin Imperial Corps’ formation was a dragon.

These Dynasty Corps’ powers were not weak at all, but they were more ordinary compared to the other Corps and did not have any special attributes. They were not as strong as the three Ghost Corps either, but their power as Corps were enough.

Now that Great Qin had established another ten Corps, its strength reached a whole new level. However, they still needed a large number of Ghosts, so Zhao Fu planned to create a Ghost Gate to release countless Ghosts in order to have the three Ghost Corps fuse with more Ghosts.

After all preparations were complete, Great Qin’s plan would be to unify the northern side of the Midland Continent. After falling silent for so long, it was time to move out again.

Chapter 910: Four Countries

In the northern side of the Midland Continent, the northern part of China’s territory occupied 2,000 regions. There were also five other countries, which were Vietnam, Myanmar, Laos, Thailand, and Cambodia.

Right now, Great Qin had 1,470 regions, and apart from the 350 regions it had taken from Vietnam, it still had 1,000 or so regions. In other words, there were about 1,000 regions in China’s territory that it had not taken down yet, about 500 regions on its left and on its right.

These regions had been places of development for the other Dynasties, but those Dynasties had either been destroyed or had relocated out of fear.

Zhao Fu's plan was now to destroy the remaining four countries on the north and take over the remaining regions in the northern part of China's territory, effectively unifying the northern side of the Midland Continent.

Out of the four remaining countries, the strongest was Myanmar, which had 400 regions and about 100 million people, then Thailand with 350 regions and 80 million people, then Cambodia with 320 regions and 70 million people, and then Laos with 300 regions and 70 million people.

In total, they had 1,370 regions, around 4,000 City Lords, and four Nation Armaments.

The first was the Kingdom of Pagan from Myanmar, and it was the first Dynasty that unified Myanmar. In 849, King Pyinbya founded the city of Pagan, and in 1004, Pagan sent envoys to the Song Dynasty in China.

In 1254, Narathihapate ascended to the throne and was tyrannical and ruthless, causing rebellions to start up. The Shan people in the north rose up and continuously invaded Myanmar.

In 1271, the Mongols established the Yuan Dynasty and destroyed the Southern Song Dynasty. The Yuan army attacked Pagan, and Narathihapate surrendered to the Yuan Dynasty. The northern part of Myanmar became a province of China, and the Kingdom of Pagan perished.

The next was the Sukhothai Kingdom. During the Qin and Han Dynasties, the Dian Kingdom rose and fell, and the Sukhothai Kingdom was established. It was the greatest Kingdom in the history of Thailand.

In the 13th Century, the Khmer Empire had started to decline, and the southern part of Myanmar was invaded by Mongolians. The Dai people took this opportunity to rise up, and they established the Lan Na Kingdom in the north and the Sukhothai Kingdom in the south.

The Sukhothai Kingdom started to develop in 1240, and it was viewed as the first Kingdom in Thailand. The Sukhothai Kingdom drove out the Khmer Empire, integrated the Mon people and Khmer people, and established the Thai language. In 1438, it was devoured by the Ayutthaya Kingdom.

The third was the Lan Xang Kingdom from Laos. It was established in 1353 and was the peak of Laos history. The name meant 'Million Elephants and White Parasol.' The Lan Xang Kingdom was established by Fa Ngum, who was supported by Cambodia's Khmer Empire. The capital was Luang Prabang.

The Lan Xang Kingdom was a vassal of the Ming Dynasty. In the 15th Century, it was invaded by Vietnam's Le Thanh Tong. In the 16th Century, in order to avoid Myanmar, it relocated its capital, and it paid tribute to Vietnam until 1694.

From 1707, the Lan Xang Kingdom started to split into the Kingdom of Luang Phrabang, the Kingdom of Vientiane, and the Kingdom of Champasak, resulting in the demise of the Lan Xang Kingdom.

The fourth the Khmer Empire from Cambodia. It was established in the 8th Century and it intersected with the Tang, Yuan, and Ming Dynasties.

During its peak, the Khmer Empire occupied the entirety of Cambodia, as well as most of Thailand, Laos, Vietnam, and the south of Myanmar. It was one of the most powerful Empires in south-east Asia, and it created the famous Khmer civilization.

Because it was a Hindu-Buddhist empire, it spread Buddhism. Because of its continuous conquests using the blood and sweat of the common people, many commoners revolted, and many conquered regions staged uprisings. In the 13th Century, the Khmer Empire was finally defeated and perished.

These were the four strongest Dynasties of the four countries, and they each had a Nation Armament. These four were Zhao Fu's main targets; they were not only quite strong but also had many regions.

Zhao Fu viewed the 1,000 regions in the northern side of China as Great Qin's for the taking, as they barely had any strength to resist.

Zhao Fu and his subordinates discussed for a while and decided to send armies to the four countries while also sending out letters to the rest of the northern side of China, persuading the system factions to surrender. With Great Qin's unstoppable momentum, most of them would most likely make the rational decision, or else they would be conquered.

Because the four countries had allied together, if Great Qin attacked any of them, the others would send soldiers to resist Great Qin.

The four countries had 4,000 or so system main cities and around 400 million soldiers. If Great Qin was to attack one of them, it might have to face attacks from another three sides, which was quite disadvantageous.

As such, some Generals suggested sending 400 million out of Great Qin's 470 million soldiers and splitting them into four armies to simultaneously attack the four countries, destroying them together, while the remaining 70 million would defend Great Qin.

Even though they would have roughly the same numbers as Great Qin, Great Qin would have around 10,000 City Lords, while the other sides would have at most only 5,000 City Lords. That was including both system City Lords and player City Lords.

Because these countries were prepared, Great Qin could not launch any sneak attacks like before, and they could not clear out the regions in small groups, or they might themselves be ambushed.

Zhao Fu was not very afraid of a direct confrontation, because apart from the City Lords and Corps, Great Qin also had the eight terrifying Aquatic Beast Kings. With their strength, dealing with 500 City Lords each would be no problem.

Last time, it had taken 8,000 City Lords to suppress the Aquatic Beast Kings, which showed just how powerful they were.

At the same time, there were also the Wyverns and Corpse Soul Commanders that had fused with City Lord Seals.

With Great Qin's current power, how could Zhao Fu fear those four countries? So what if they allied together? In the end, they still would not be a match for Great Qin.

The only thing that they needed to watch out for was the four Dynasties' Nation Armaments. Zhao Fu thought about it and decided to take care of one of them, have Zhao Mo take care of one of them, Elise take care of another, and have the others deal with the last one.

After making some preparations, Great Qin officially moved out as four armies towards the four countries.

However, just as they moved out, they encountered an obstacle. There were two Void Zones between Great Qin and the four countries.

One was set down by Laos and Cambodia, and the other was set down by Thailand and Myanmar. The Void Zones spanned two or so regions, which also contained a large number of isolation barriers set up incredibly densely. With so many isolation barriers, ordinary methods would not be able to break through.

Great Qin had prepared many Restriction-Breaking Stones to break through those isolation barriers, but they were not enough.

As such, Great Qin had two choices: Either not use teleportation channels and continue to attack, or stop and break these isolation barriers before attacking.
