

THE LUST OF MY HUSBAND

Chapter 2 - 2: I'll Marry Him

Wendy recorded Miranda's will in her voice, which left most of the Sanchez's property to Stewart and a portion of it to Hope Primary School.

No, it was not her will, no!

Miranda wanted to fight back, wanted to scream, but she was slowly losing her life and she didn't have the strength!

She felt infuriated!

Wendy finished recording and looked at Miranda with a smile: "I forgot to tell you that I'm a voice actress and I've learned to imitate your voice."

She had spent ten years learning to do the voice acting for this day and she finally sounded exactly like Miranda!

Wendy smiled at her: "I will also use your voice to leave the last wish for Timothy to marry me, the murderer who kills you!"

Stewart was only a stepping stone for her to move up the ladder and a borrowed knife. There was no way she would marry him.

Wendy laughed as she asked Miranda, "Do you think Timothy would go crazy if he knew that the antidote he gave you was a deadly poison and that the one he married was the murderer who had killed you?"

She then answered her own question, saying: "He'll go crazy, won't he? He's the one who could die for you!"

Miranda shouted through gritted teeth with hatred: "Wendy!!!"

The more resentful she was, the happier Wendy laughed: "Miranda, I'll take the way of your life from now on! I will disclose those honorable identities of yours that you are not willing to disclose."

She knew about many of Miranda's skills and identities, such as hacker and professor of medicine...

But all these identities were going to be hers!

She leaned down close to Miranda and smiled maliciously: "In a word, everything you have will be mine... Ow!"

Wendy's face tingled. She raised her hand to touch it and found there was a bloodstain.

It was Miranda who scratched Wendy's face with all her might!

However, Miranda was dicing with death by doing that!

Wendy was furious. She reached straight for Miranda's heart and crushed it!

Miranda convulsed and stared wide-eyed, finally dead!

"Juliana, I'm telling you, the Leach family has named you. You're a ghost of the Leach family even if you die!"

It was the first thing Miranda heard when she woke up and all she heard in the past half hour.

And she finally figured out in the past half hour that she had come back to life.

However, she revived in the body of Juliana Lewis, the eldest girl of the Lewis family in F City.

Juliana was twenty, five years younger than she was.

But Juliana was famous as a good-for-nothing in F City, dropping out of school, fighting, seeking pleasure and everything, as well as keeping toyboys as her lovers, just because the man she loved did not like her and she wanted to show him that it didn't have to be him.

Today, Juliana escaped. She fell into the river by accident and was rescued.

But to Jermaine Lewis, her father, she did it for the man she loved because she didn't want to marry Benson Leach, a crazy and short-lived man.

After watching her remain silent for half an hour, Jermaine yelled, "Juliana, I don't care if you hear me or not. I'll send you to the Leach family tonight even if I have to put you in a coffin!"

Miranda raised her eyes and looked at Jermaine calmly: "I'll marry him."

There were two financial magnates in X Country, the Greene family in the north and the Leach family in the south.

Therefore, Miranda could only take revenge on Stewart and Wendy as the daughter-in-law of the Leach family and use the power of the Leach family!

From today onwards, Miranda became Juliana.

She would return to S City as Juliana Lewis, the young lady of the Leach family, to seek revenge on Wendy and Stewart!

Jermaine had no idea why Juliana, who would rather die than marry Benson Leach, suddenly agreed to do so.

But he didn't care what her reasons were, as long as she agreed.
