

The Noble 261

Chapter 261: Situation of Aurora

*****

I ran quickly through the corridors. It was something forbidden, and Elena who always tells me and warns me to mind my manners because of my family name, would scold me for doing it.

But now it was a situation that could potentially be urgent and I'm sure if she heard about it later, she would forgive me.

I looked around in case I caught a glimpse of Aurora down the road. It would be nice if I was just overthinking it, but I didn't see her, so I headed to her residence.

Because she used to hide her identity with a male one, she decided to live outside, but I knew her address.

Once, at a party, she got so drunk that I had to drive her back. We could barely make it with her inconsistent directions, but because of that, I knew where she was staying.

Bang!

Just as I was distracted thinking about the route to Aurora's house, I hit something.

I knew it was my fault for not paying attention as I turned a corner, but when I saw the other person, I thought it possibly wouldn't be entirely the case.

"I'm sorry, Miss Cordelia. Well, goodbye."

I didn't want to waste my time, so I was diplomatic and apologized to leave quickly, but....

"Wait."

"Miss Cordelia, let go of me. I have somewhere to be."

I didn't want to start an unnecessary argument, but Cordelia grabbed my arm, preventing me from continuing.

"Classes are about to start, where do you plan to go?"

"haaa~ a small matter came up, and I need to attend to it."

"Do you plan to keep absenting yourself? It's not too much even if you're from the Silvercrest ."

She said this as she looked at me with a pinched and threatening look.

I myself had recommended her to look at me firmly but this was not even close to what I meant, her look was pure hatred.

Honestly, I was starting to find it a bit infuriating not knowing why she hates me so much and why, every chance she gets, she seeks to harass or annoy me.

Usually, weighing in on the possibility of adding her to my harem, I would be patient and deal calmly with her.

But right now I didn't have time for this so I was blunt and for the first time showed my impatience and annoyance.

"That is none of your business. Let go of me and be on your way, I'm busy."

"..."

She didn't answer and just stared at me. I didn't want to have a staring contest at that moment, so I had no choice but to be physical.

"Get off me already!"

I quickly decided to act seriously and put force into my hand to get her off of me.

After all, I was already at the fifth metamorphosis and she was at the fourth, defense being her only advantage.

"..."

Without waiting for her to say anything else, I simply walked away and continued to search for traces of Aurora.

I expected her to follow me tenaciously or something, but when I looked back, she just stayed in place.

Honestly, no matter how hard I try I can't understand her. more than once, I've seriously considered giving up on her, but she's not a bad person, outside of with Seraphina and I don't know what to do with her anymore.

Cordelia always gave me a lot to think about, but now, the important thing was Aurora.

I continued on my way out of the academy. It was easy to get in and out as long as I had my student ID.

The guard, seeing who I was, didn't even try to stop me. Everything at the academy is supposed to be the same for everyone, but honestly, most of them, including the instructors, know that they shouldn't mess with high-ranking nobles if they want to stay safe.

Without paying much attention, I made my way to Aurora's house. It wasn't too far from the academy to begin with.

Knock!, knock!.

It was an area with several small houses clustered together. Considering how expensive land is in the capital, Aurora, even with this temporary house, was paying a considerable sum of money.

After losing the patronage of the enemies of the kingdom, it was up to me to pay, since it was like an unwritten law that the king's children did not receive any kind of help or patronage during this school time and were on their own.

The same, for the rest of the nobles, who want their children to fend for themselves, but I did not hesitate, every time I saw my father, when he came to the capital from time to time, asking him and looting everything he could was the norm.

After all, my techniques of abuse of authority still worked.

Well I guess it had been revealed that she was a woman, she could move into the female dormitories of the academy without any problem.

While I was thinking about all this, the door did not open no matter how much I knocked. I extended my senses to see and understand what was going on inside.

"...Indeed, only Aurora is inside."

She seemed to be lying on the floor, I felt something strange about her. I didn't wait for her to open the door for me and acted immediately.

I activated the shadow assimilation skill and moved under the door, until I came out the other side.

I had come here before, but I still had to say it was a mess. Her room was such a mess that, if Elena saw it, she would faint.

'It doesn't look like a princess's room at all, or maybe because she's a princess she doesn't know how to clean.'

Ignoring the mess for now I walked on, after quickly putting away an interesting little piece of cloth that came into my vision, I thought it might be an object of study later.

But when I got to her room....

"Uggg!!!"

"Oh, in hell!!... this is worse than I thought."

There was no time to hesitate anymore, I was not surprised that she now had horn and tail, but her hair was turning pink and her eyes were oscillating between gold and pink.

Aurora. was , writhing in pain. she seemed to be crying and I could tell it wasn't for a short period of time.

I had considered it before, but apparently, being half demon, specifically half Krixis, Aurora had to go through, to some extent, the growth spurt of these.

The loss of control of her skills. They were hints, and I thought that at most there was the possibility of her growing a tail and horns, but the situation was totally beyond my expectations, it was not to be.

The problem with hybrids between humans and demons is their different anatomy. That's why hybrids always have a dominant race and develop a heart or magic core.

I thought Aurora was from the human side. After all, when I first met her, besides her status and skills, there was nothing to indicate that she was a demon.

But now that I was observing her in this state, I saw how her demonic side was emerging strongly, wanting to overpower her human side, that shouldn't happen.

I watched her body through the eyes of lust and saw how her body was trying to create a demonic core... but she already had a human heart.

If that core ever formed, there would be no good outcome. Her body would go into imbalance, at best she would be crippled, but death was the most certain thing that would happen.

Her heart was certainly already beginning to fail, and the deformities in her body were in an advanced stage due to the clash between the functions of two different races.

She was suffering so much that she didn't even notice my presence. Who knows how long she had been struggling? This was not a fast process, but it was already in an advanced stage.

But it was not too late. I thoroughly examined her body, missing no detail with my eyes of lust to understand her current anatomy.

I knew everything I needed to know about human and demonic bodies. I even observed the deformations that were already occurring in her magical nervous system.

Definitely, even if I saved her she would be crippled if I didn't act correctly.

"Qetesh, don't wait, I'm the doppelganger."

'Fine, I won't ask you any questions for the next half a year.'

[[One year and we'll make a deal.]

'...Fine, but you know, I'll ask you if the situation calls for it.'

[[haaah...good]]

At that moment, I focused on my main self. Apparently, I was paying attention to this side and was already negotiating with Qetesh.

Who wouldn't help me if she wasn't in a potentially dangerous situation, I felt that if I wanted to I could force her, but I don't want to disagree with someone who will live with me for a long time.

It was better to negotiate already She definitely wouldn't move to help someone other than me and that because I think she's also semi forced by something, she's not a good ally at all.

' I definitely need to improve my control, so I don't depend on that unfriendly and hateful guardian'.

[[You know I can hear your thinking too, here let's get it over with quickly.]]

After hearing that, a golden Scalpel appeared in my hand out of nowhere, exactly what I wanted.

Well, by this point I thought it would be better if my main self was in my place, but now the important thing was to act fast.

I couldn't let her continue to suffer like this. I don't even want to imagine what it would feel like to have the body mutating from the inside, destroying and superimposing itself.

For what I'm about to do my eyes are enough.

A case like Aurora's, where the awakening of her demonic side influenced her to this point, was rare, and I had not seen any indication before that this would happen or had warned her.

To my knowledge, these processes ended in death or crippling. But there was one case that my alternate self knew of.

A person who also lived the same as Aurora and was fortunate enough to make the most of both his demonic and human sides, to the level that he arguably created a new race.

My alternate self was not able to examine him in depth, as the opportunity never presented itself or rather there was no reason to do so, but some impressions of that person come to mind and indeed that it was possible is already a good thing.

And now, based on my own knowledge and the art of lust, I think that, observing what happens to Aurora, I could trace the way forward in what I was about to do.

"Aurora, can you hear me?"

"Uggghhh..."

"You don't have to answer if you can't, I can't even empathize with pain you're in right now."

"Arghhhhh!."

"Listen, take it easy. Just hold on. I'm going to take that pain away from you, Stay aware..... If you do, you'll never feel anything like this again."

"UUagghhh!!!..."

Well, I'll take that as a yes.

Without further ado, I began. Without any hesitation, I ran the golden scalpel across her chest.

Thus began the process.

Chapter 262: Surgery

Parallel Thought Number Two came to help and my main self also focused on what was going on.

he was in the middle of a class, but Aurora had priority. They were both casting spells to help prevent bleeding and keep her condition stable and functioning.

I was doing hypothetical surgery, so I had to take the utmost care.

Slowly, I located her magic core in formation. I made sure not to damage any of its connections.

Concentrating, I worked my way from the center of his chest, where his core was located, to where his human heart was now beating almost imperceptibly.

His pulse was so weak that it seemed it would fail at any moment.

Here came the difficult part: somehow, I had to make his core and his heart unite, I had used all my knowledge, to find a possible solution and the end of my reasoning was simple.

In both races these two shared a similar function. In demons, the nucleus is the structural center of the magical nervous system, while, in humans, the heart is as well.

But the cores are more connected and assimilated with the magical nervous system, as well as the skill to store more mana, which is why they claim to be superior to humans.

And they are right, because thanks to this their mana statistic would grow easily unlike humans, in what only some have a talent for mana, but besides that both structures had the same function.

If I did it right, I believed I could make it.

Slowly, and without a moment's hesitation, I moved my hands. The nucleus to which I carefully made some openings, began to slowly fuse with the human heart, sharing the connections that both had as well as cutting some that overlapped.

I watched carefully as another of my hypotheses came true: Aurora's heart began to assimilate the core.

While the human race has many shortcomings compared to other species such as elves, giants or demons, it is also one of the most powerful.

And although many have a different opinion of the reason, what I believe is that it is because of our adaptability.

They were the only ones who could form hybrids with other races. That's why all living, healthy hybrids were always half human.

That was why I believed that the human body had the Ability to absorb the demonic core if I made the necessary arrangements.

I watched every detail carefully, prepared for any deviation or adverse reaction. But nothing unexpected happened.

Finally, after fifteen minutes, I saw how the core, which looked like a pink pearl, merged completely with his heart... and began to beat again, while the heart began to take on a crystallized appearance, like a pink diamond. I watched closely and...

"ufffff~...!"

I sighed in relief, there was no visible problem, I was glad it had worked, but Aurora was already in bad shape when I arrived and this wasn't over yet.

I had solved the biggest problem, but I was too late. Her body had already suffered repercussions from having been creating that demonic core.

I quickly closed his wound and cast healing spells. My mana was running low, but I made sure to control my breathing so I wouldn't run out of Mana.

I could save the rest for later, but I promised Aurora that the pain would pass quickly.

So, wasting no time, I began to trace the deformities caused by the previous conflict.

Without hesitation, with the help of the Scalpel which, under Qetesh's guidance, could cut things like the magical nervous system which was difficult to affect commonly, that's why I needed it.

With her help I cut and repaired the deformities.

Now Aurora's body was stabilizing, I felt it would naturally correct the previously deformed path, as her core and heart were one, creating something new and better.

I just had to remove the deformities, including those of the flesh. Honestly, Aurora's appearance was a bit grotesque, with veins and even her limbs a bit crooked.

I did everything I needed to do and cut and fixed what I thought I could. Still, this was an extremely delicate procedure. I even had to intervene in her head area and shaving her head was the only option.

It was my first time doing something like this, but honestly, I believed I had the potential to be a surgeon. I didn't hesitate at all.

Fortunately, I had many healing and restoration spells that allowed me to do things that no surgeon in my previous life could have accomplished.

When I was done, I closed all the wounds and, through my eyes, watched the result.

The fact that Aurora was back to her beautiful, immaculate self and not writhing in pain meant that this hypothetical surgery worked.

"good..."

To finish, I cast the legendary hair growth spell, a spell from the light regeneration branch of magic, which oddly enough right now is a lost spell of that branch was the easiest to use and as a lost spell, I am the only one who knows how to use it, until it is rediscovered.

'hum...bald..., I'll think about it positively...' (¯, ¯)

..

.

"Uhhh.... Haaa~"

While tidying up Aurora's room a bit, I heard noises. I assumed that she had woken up, While I was recovering my mana and cleaning up a bit, I kept an eye out for what might happen, though she woke up faster than I thought.

So I went to her.

"How are you feeling?"

I spoke to her from the doorway not forgetting to use my beautiful appearance to seduce her, I had taken off my glasses and combed my hair, after all and she had said that at least in appearance I was to her taste.

As I seriously observed every detail of her upper body that was uncovered, making sure everything was in order and fine.

'I thought they would grow, but it's good this way too.'

"..."

She didn't answer me and just stared at me blankly for a while, until, as if to make sure, she looked around.

She seemed to confirm that she was indeed in her room.

Then she looked down at herself, analyzed for a while and then looked at me again, she seemed to still be half asleep.

"Are you hungry? I'll prepare a nice meal."

I tell her while smiling sweetly at her, and well the food I had in my storage. It was some of what I brought from Akihara's.

I was thinking of sharing it with the girls during lunch, but I had plenty and I could give a portion to aurora and maybe earn myself affection points.

"Kyaaa!"

"Huh!!! What happened!!! Did something hurt!!! Did I do something wrong?!"

She suddenly screamed I was especially worried because she was clutching her chest, and I thought I had possibly done something wrong.

After all, it was my first time, and although I thought it was a success, I didn't know if there were any side effects.

So I approached her and truly, I set about analyzing with my "lust eyes" if there was a problem.

I even felt her chest to see if she felt anything strange through her mana channels and the now weak magical nervous system.

"Wait! What are you doing? No, wait..."

"Don't move, this is important, does it hurt if I do this?"

"No!!! it doesn't hurt. Just move away a little... Can't you see I'm naked?"

"...?"

'well obviously I see that you are naked, otherwise how do I examine you?'

I looked at her blankly, Come to think of it, her earlier movement was more like to cover herself than out of pain.

Now my question was, 'why?' it's not like I had much to.... I mean, we're both women right now.

Plus, I literally saw the inside of her a few minutes ago. Now I know her even more than I know the girls in my harem....

I always thought shame between women didn't exist. I mean, it would be normal if I looked like Chris, but if I'm Seraphina right now... but if I think about it....

"hum..., Aurora...don't tell me that..."

"Stop talking to me! Just come out, I'm going to get dressed. More like... what am I doing naked? What did you do to me?"

"Hey, don't you remember anything? I saved your life, you know? That accusatory 'what did you do to me' tone hurts me...ehem!.... but if you remember the probing at the end, it was to make sure everything was okay."

"...."

'I mean, I tried my best...at least I needed a little reward, plus I discovered that, while the top is skimpy, her hips and ... No, the important thing now was the previous topic.'

the fact that she was so embarrassed because I saw her naked meant that she was aware of me.

I knew about her tastes, but, even so, I never saw her embarrassed when interacting with the onee-san in Lily's club or another woman.

'So... you mean she likes me?'

'Hey, isn't that a bit forced logic?'

'Tell me then, what do you think?'

'Hmmm... that she has a lot of modesty? After all she's a princess isn't she?'

'this is not the time for that, ... it seems she is remembering what happened.'

After a short conversation with the other thoughts, I noticed that Aurora seemed to finally start to remember what had happened.

I didn't know if she was aware of it all, but she hugged herself as she shivered.

'I guess it was hard, living through something like that haaahh....'

I feel a little bad to see the always calm and lively Aurora seeming to have a breakdown, so I put aside the useless thoughts and walked over and wrapped my arms around her.

I wondered if she felt that cold, the cold of death?

My fucking alternate self, who always leaves out emotions that would be useful, like her feelings in the war, and leaves useless, like her hatred of Cordelia and Kiel....

In my second metamorphosis, he gave me a taste of what it was like to be on the brink of death, along with one of the memories where he almost died, he gave me what he felt at the time.

I almost had a breakdown that day that my blessing and Elena barely got me through. But I don't blame him entirely....

I had noticed it, but that helped me to be sharper and more decisive, and to understand what danger and the weight of death was.

In fact, that experience was a big part of the reason I developed such a sharp survival instinct so quickly.

It was like living the experience without really risking I ; in a way, I thank him for allowing me to live that experience, as it is now the basis of my mindset when it is time to put my life in danger.

Now thanks to that experience, I knew that at times like that it is essential to have something to hold on to, something that provides stability and prevents getting carried away by those overwhelming and at the same time empty feelings.

So I wrapped her in my arms and conveyed the warmth of life.

"Calm down, it's all right. I'm here, you're here, we're here. There is no problem. There is no more pain."

At that moment, Elena, still not understanding what was happening to me, transmitted me something similar, and I wanted to do the same now with Aurora.

" Waaah!~..."

Gently, I stroked her hair, I thought it was working as she started crying into my chest.

It was good to get the bad emotions out and crying is a good method.

That's not an easy experience, and honestly, I wish all my girls were exempt from ever feeling it.

But like with Aurora I know things are never the way you want them to be, but I'll still try my best to make sure it doesn't happen again.

At least, I want them to have that privilege in this fucking crappy world.

"Sniff!~..."

"It's all right, it's all over now."

Chapter 263: Culprits

..

.

"Could you... step outside for a moment...? I have to get dressed..."

Finally, after a long hour, Aurora calmed down. She stopped shaking and, as I thought she was so tired that she fell asleep in my arms, I heard her say that in a low voice.

When I looked down, I couldn't see her face as she was still pressed against my chest, but I saw that her ears were flushed.

"Well."

I didn't know the exact reason, but if she was already okay, I thought that was enough.

I left the room, tidied up the small dining room I had and started to take out the stored food.

..

.

"Chomp! Munch! crunch! Gulp!...haaa~ That was delicious!"

'yeah that's definitely not the way a princess eats, but well who am I to judge' .

"well now tell me, what happened to you, something like this shouldn't have happened?"

"haaa~ where to start..., let's see, as you know lately I haven't been able to meet with you because of the exam and the temple, but a few weeks ago, I started to feel bad and, days later, I grew horns and a tail, as you warned me."

"Yeah, I thought about that when you missed the exam and then I.... I mean, Elena saw you wearing the ribbons I gave you, in case you grew horns".

"Oh!, I really wanted to thank you for that, you don't know how much it helped me."

"That's good."

"Where was I? Oh, right!, at the time I thought it was over and I was feeling better already, but.... what day is today?"

"Monday, in the morning."

"It was Friday when they got in touch with me again, after months of incommunicado."

"..."

Well, that was something I expected. When I broke all their contracts, that didn't mean they had cut off all contact, Aurora had a communication gem.

By which she received orders, but they never communicated with her again.

It didn't seem so strange to me; after all, she had broken all contracts. Possibly they were left in doubt as to what happened.

Still, I told her not to discard it, just in case and to let me know if there was any contact.

But I still don't understand what that has to do with her demonic side getting out of control?

"My mother came to me personally and demanded an explanation."

"What the hell!!! What kind of crap are the barriers of this realm? How did a pure demon infiltrate all the way here? Fuck! This fucking backward kingdom..."

'Why doesn't his fucking capital have any anti-space barriers?'

No, come to think of it, it was already weird that the city Kiel was in had.... I mean, those barriers are super advanced, and it would already be weird to find them in their capital, at first I didn't take much notice because I didn't fully understand that realm.

But now I wonder if Akihara had something to do with it? Well, that's over now. It's too late to think about it in depth.

"She wanted to get the information out of me about how I broke the contracts and wanted to bring me back under her control."

"So..."

"Obviously I refused. We started a fight. She only has five metamorphoses and she's not even good at fighting, so I was able to defend myself."

"..." 'yeah I can see where this is going'

"she obviously didn't want to draw attention to herself, so before it escalated she retreated. But before she left, she gave me a wound with a weapon stained with something red... At first I thought it was poison, but no detox spell worked."

"Damn!!! There was the rub, let me guess the rest: then she left with a victorious smile and told you that, if you wanted to live, you had to contact her, right? And accept the contracts."

"Yes... How did you...?"

"And seeing how you were when I arrived, you refused and were determined to die rather than agree to be with them again. I imagine the time limit was only one day, right?"

"Yes."

"You sure are tough...that bitch used blood, maybe it was hers, to stimulate you now when you were at a delicate time of growth. After one day you would be unstable and so distorted that you would be unsalvageable and die, that bitch I'm going to kill her."

I think it was also the breathing technique I gave her earlier that helped her survive so long. It really bothered me that, if it wasn't for that and that I had arrived in time, she would have died.

It really bothered me. While Aurora wasn't in my harem yet, she was still a friend, and that infuriated me.

It was as if the world was telling me that my efforts were futile and that I would eventually lose the people around me, as happened to my alternate self.

That thought only fueled my anger more.

'I'm definitely not going to let something like that happen.'

"..."

As I continued to sink into my anger, I saw Aurora looking at me blankly. Then I thought:

"ah!, I'm sorry, she is your mother after all."

"No, you're right. I myself want to kill her too, ever since she made me sign those contracts."

"Yes, after something like that, that woman deserves no mercy. We'll hunt her down."

Fine, I'll hunt that fucker down and kill her or give her to Aurora for her to do it if she hates her too much.

That woman earned the first place on my personal list, of people to eliminate in this life.

"...umm. leaving that aside you said I was unsalvageable after one day, didn't you? they thought the same thing, so how did you help me?"

"ah! humm... well, family secret. If you join my harem, I'll tell you."

"Hey, can't you, at least once, put that topic aside? You have a serious obsession... But I'll think about it."

"Oh, you said you'd think about it...? It's the first time you've said something like that. I see, you were touched by how, like a prince charming, I came and saved you like a princess."

"you had to say it like that... that ruined everything you did..... I don't feel anything anymore... You know, sometimes you seem to forget that you're a woman too. You're worse than me..."

"Oh, sorry, it just slipped out. Well, we've made progress in our relationship.... By the time she notice, I'll be tasting that flat chest."

'shit I said the second thing out loud...'

I blurted out what I was thinking unintentionally....although now that I think about it I wonder if it will taste like Vey's... Maybe cherry? Strawberry?, after all Aurora had a sweet red fruit body odor, which makes my hypothesis plausible.

"You fucking pervert with no control! Forget what I just said! No way am I going to be in your harem!"

"Hmm, so you gained the courage to refuse me, huh? How bold."

"So what are you going to do about it?" ㄷ ( `□´ ) ㄹ

"( ㄹ □ ㄷ )...You know, Lately I was starting to get a taste for annoying you, because of how scared you were of me..., so it's not funny anymore.."

"it's your fault, the things you do and know are not supported by your personality".

"Well who cares, it also means you're closer to belonging to my harem, hey while we're at it, Aurora would you rather be the boy or girl in the relationship?"

"it's none of your business, I'm still not joining your weird harem"

"well I'll tell you up front, but I am, the boy , nothing will get into me, and that's absolute"

"I don't care!!!" o(≧□≦)o

"Fine, but at least you owe me your life. I'll go easy on you... Let me give it a lick and check something. Besides, you already leaned on my chest, so let me rub my face too."

"You-you-you're-"

"...Well, I'm just kidding."

"You didn't look like you were kidding!!"

'Damn, I tried, now I'll be left wondering if her breasts have taste or not'.

I think she became even more beautiful, maybe that's why my desires come out of my mouth more easily.

Now Aurora has a different appearance, besides the tail and horns, her hair has randomly scattered pink streaks like Silvia and now she has heterochromia with one eye being golden and the other pink.

"Well, leaving that aside... You're fine now, but your physique has changed a bit. And, truth be told, what I did on you was... how should I put it... experimental."

"..."

"So, if possible, I'd like you to move into the dorms... specifically, my room."

"you seriously at every opportunity-"

"don't misunderstand me, I really mean it, it's because of your.. wait!!!, there's something wrong...Fuck, what timing. "

Just as I was about to explain to her, that it was indeed important to have her around, to keep track of her condition, I felt the space begin to shake.

It was small, but I, who had experienced space magic, knew something must be about to happen.

Putting aside the crappy barrier this realm had, I wondered how the demons possessed this technology. As far as I knew, we should be even in that regard.

But there was no time for further thought. At that moment, suddenly, a crack opened up.

'Yeah the more I think about it, that variety they have in special magical technology, the more it all seems suspicious to me. '

"Ugh!, this thing is having more turbulence."

"Quickly, we can't waste time. you Take the body, it'll be good research material, and eliminate all evidence."

"Tsk, that unfilial girl decided to resist to the end..."

I started to hear the voices coming from the portal. I quickly braced myself and looked at Aurora just to confirm.

"That's my mother's voice..."

Before I even asked, Aurora told me directly, as pure anger filled her face and she emitted murderous intent.

Apparently, she was serious about wanting to kill her, and with everything that woman did, she deserved no less.

Just from what I just heard, I realize what kind of person she is.

Without leaving us any more in tention, The next moment, out of the crack came the woman, which upon seeing her appearance left me a bit dumbfounded and my thoughts got stuck for a moment.

"What is this!?"

"What's wrong, is something wrong, do you need help?"

"Hmm... No! I can handle it. I was just surprised she was still alive."

"What, that's even better! I have to study it any way I can, I'm sure we'll get more credits for this, bring her."

"Hee~..., not only that, in fact, this is better than we thought. The little princess of the duchy Silvercrest is here too!"

Chapter 264: Another Milf for my Harem?

I listened to that conversation. And finally I came to my senses, Apparently the other person was not planning to cross.

There must have been a reason why she didn't cross. Maybe he was too powerful and couldn't pass through the rift without attracting the attention of the kingdom.

Maybe their barriers were not that advanced, but still, they were on alert against demons and should have different methods to detect them.

I analyzed the situation. Aurora was focused on the woman and was looking at her with hatred, she was still in a delicate state so her fighting her was out of the question.

I felt the woman's aura in front of me and decided to act. As Aurora said, she was only five metamorphosis and was in the same rank as me. Before acting, I confirmed with her.

"Well, do you want to get rid of this horrible woman yourself... well horrible in personality, because she is actually beautiful.humm... In fact, she's incredibly beautiful."

"W-what the hell ...at a time like this!"

That woman was extremely attractive and seductive in fact too much so I would say.

I can see where Aurora got her beauty from.... Besides, she was a mature woman that... No! Focus!

"Oh, what's this, how interesting, you have my daughter's strange tastes, is that why you're here with her? You love her?, she's not totally useless after all Come with me. If you follow me obediently, I promise you a wonderful future. Mother and daughter... think about it."

At that moment, the woman seemed to notice my distraction. Certainly, sometimes beauty was a weapon, and I should know better than anyone.

Besides I definitely wouldn't fall for that mother-daughter temptation.

I quickly analyzed the woman with my Eyes of Lust. After all, that woman was a target to eliminate, I couldn't waver here.

"Wait, don't look her in the eyes, her charm is superior!"

"Ah?"

What was she talking about? After all, charm had no effect on me. But certainly... this woman was the sexiest and most beautiful woman I had ever seen. If she had charm, it would become dangerous.

Plus her wearing those kind of clothes that, gave the feeling that only a little more was missing, a little more and I could see something, I was getting a little distracted.

That woman is certainly using what she has to her advantage.

'she's very good'

The more I looked at her, the harder it was for me to shake the idea of bringing her into my harem. It was a shame not to have her, she had to be eliminated, I knew it, yet the thought persisted.

In fact... she could make many of my unfulfilled desires come true.

Although she was lacking in the chest area, despite being a lust demon.... Honestly, I was hoping Aurora would grow them when she went through her demonic growth phase, but looking at her mother, I see that's something I have to rule out.

'Looks like being a lust demon doesn't ensure anything... haa~'

Still, the possibilities that come to mind are many. If she and Astrid were to team up... huehuehueh.

Plus, her black hair and red eyes...it was a perfect set of things I liked.

"Hey! What are you doing, why are you standing still? Don't tell me that..."

'Tsk, how annoying.'

Aurora kept interrupting me. She was seriously thinking something here. Certainly, the closer the woman got, the more I could see how beautiful she was.

While she didn't have breasts she had a great ass and I thought Aurora was actually on the same path when she matured a bit more, which was a good thing after all I'm a man who appreciates that sort of thing too.

She was a mother, so she had experience...she was also a Krixis, so she would surely have a great lividity...and we could do many things....Even, the use of the legendary fourth mouth was within my reach....Huehuehue!

"Damn it! Move and kill that harpy?"

"Damn it, Aurora stop being annoying..."

Aurora was shaking me hard. But obviously, I couldn't treat someone who was going to be from my harem badly.

I might as well hear what she had to say first. After all, as she said, the three of us would be together for a long time and....

'Hey! Activate the blessing, you idiot! I get distracted for a moment and you end up seduced.'

'Huh? What happened here?' .... I didn't think anything else would happen.'

'aahh!!!Oh.... Fuck!'

At that moment, I came to my senses. The woman had approached me and Aurora, she was a few steps away from me and I saw that Aurora was about to jump on her.

She had not yet fully recovered, so it could be dangerous for her. So I acted fast.

"Ughhh! You how...?"

I quickly reacted and, pitifully for her, she was in my attack range. She seemed very confident in her charm, so she didn't even react to my move, and I easily grabbed her by the neck and squeezed it, bringing her under my control.

"Damn, I got careless.... I can't believe I fell for that silly charm."

It's a lucky thing that the other thoughts changed the skill, for me and allowed me to react, her charm made me forget about obvious things like I was a doopelganger, and could only use one skill at a time.

'well now I can interrogate her'

"ughhhb what did you do? you were totally under my spell!"

"I'm asking the questions, where do you get your magical technology from?"

"let go of me immediately do you think you can-?"

"You don't seem to be taking me seriously."

Swoosh!!!

"Aghh!!!, my arm!"

I didn't think too much about it and immediately executed the second Art of Lust pose and cut off her arm.

She was beautiful , but I won't hesitate, she was already on my personal Eliminate list and that wouldn't go away no matter how beautiful she was, plus she dared to charm me, I won't let that go.

"Now do you feel like talking? Answer me, or you'll keep losing limbs."

"I-I don't know!"

I avoided his eyes and Activated my Eyes of Lust and watched his bodily reactions closely. Even as a demon, I couldn't escape my lie detection.

I looked at her , looking for any hint of falsehood... and, I felt through my hand holding her by the neck, indeed, she was telling the truth.

"Tsk, why are they always disposable lackeys with no useful information?"

"Hey..."

"Oh, that's right."

Now that I thought about it, Aurora was in the same situation. My mistake.

Well, what was I supposed to do with this woman who sold and used Aurora like that and almost killed her? I said I would kill her, but Aurora wanted to do it too.

"ugghh.... can you let go of me, I promise to leave...., you know, I will let you do it with me I will give you an unforgettable night...., something that my inexperienced and virgin daughter can't do....., I will show you a pleasure intoxicate yourself"

"yeah , think about buying time let me tell you it's useless".

The other guy I was talking to through the portal had gone silent.

But I noticed he was trying to widen the portal. If I concentrated I could feel his anger and the aura he was emitting, It was much stronger than the woman, but it would take a while. it was enough time.

"Aurora, what do you want to do?"

I wanted to eliminate her, but Aurora was by my side and she was the one who was hurt the most, she had to decide.

"Kill her."

"No, wait! I'm your mother and I shouldn't-"

Schlick!!!.... Crack!!!

Without another second of hesitation and after receiving Aurora's verdict, I eliminated her. I pierced her chest with my hand and destroyed her core. She was no longer salvageable.

Beautiful or not, I had to eliminate her. And I didn't hesitate. Well, I felt it was a loss... and she was Aurora's mother, but if she didn't hesitate, I certainly didn't. In a way, I spared her the matricide.

It had only been a few minutes since I put her on my elimination list... and I could already cross her off. I was efficient.

"You! What did you do!!!!?! Damn you, I'll kill you!!!!!"

"Oh!... Aurora, looks like you had a new stepfather."

"This is no time to joke! Look at the crack, it's widening. Whatever it is, he's angry that you killed that harpy."

If she couldn't have been more at peace... she didn't even seem affected by her mother's death. It certainly is a tough world out there.

But the bitch had brought it on herself too...and plenty of it.

Well, I could no longer ignore the guy widening the portal, but first I had to warn Aurora.

"Listen Aurora, when I'm gone you're going to go to the academy and find Elena tell her what happened here. You will tell no one else, do you understand? No one, she will tell you what to do."

"What are you talking about? We have to run away and warn the guards!"

"Ligamen Plantae."

"Wait! Why are you tying me up? What are you going to do?!!!"

I was afraid Aurora would try to follow me or do something cliché like catch me at the last moment, so I tied her up with a spell.

"Well, I guess I'd better deal with this myself. There's only a few seconds left... You're still weak, and well, it's for the best."

"What are you thinking of doing!"

"Come on, calm down, it's no big deal, I'll be fine..... Hmmm, it's hard to explain, but if you join my harem, you'll know."

"Are you out of your mind?! This is no time for this! Set me free!"

' Well, I can't explain to you that I'm a Doppelgänger...or can I??'

Anyway there is no time for detailed explanations, I will explain later.

Aurora is still weak, and escaping would be problematic, plus too much chaos, could get her exposed as a half-demon, so I thought this would be best.

The spell will be undone in a moment and it will all be over. I just hope she follow my directions.

' Well, now... I'm going to take a little payback for what you've been doing to Aurora all this time.'

"You think I'm going to let you come over to this side, you fucker?"

It was a shame because I had just created this Doppelgänger, but Aurora's safety came first.

I ran towards the crack in an instant.

And now, as I passed through the spatial sensation of the portal, I began to activate one of my arts, which I felt I was using a lot lately, even though I shouldn't.

An art that wasn't even a training method, but something that was only good for one thing.

"SUPREME SACRIFICE ART: FINAL SURRENDER STANCE - ULTIMATE OBLITERATION."

And, the second I got to the other side, I barely had time to take a quick glance. But I knew it was an important place.

' good, this will give them a good blow.'

My art was already circling to a critical point when I realized something:

"FUCK!!, I SHOULD HAVE PUT ANESTHESIAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA...!"

BOOOOOMMMM!

Chapter 265: Incomprehensible Scene.

*****

Pov: Eirllys

*****

"Silv, what do I do? I don't know anything about it, I'm just a knight's daughter."

"I-I don't know either, I've never been to one, but it's still a long time away..."

"It's almost certain that we'll have to attend.... There's so much to think about."

"...Well, I think... I think I can ask someone for help."

"Really!!!? That's great, I don't think my dad or my brothers knew about that stuff."

"Well, I still have to ask...humm you know, being her, it's impossible for her to refuse."

"Hmm... Who is she? She sounds like she's close to you. Is she a noble friend?"

"Well... you could say she's a friend I made recently."

"Oh, does it have to do with you getting your hair done?"

"...N-no, this.... Lys, would you please go ahead? I remembered I have something to do."

Eirlys felt a bit of relief. She had been worried ever since she heard the instructor's words, but her friend Silvia eased her worries a bit.

She wanted to know more, but as she said, there was still a long time to go, so there was no need to rush.

Today Silvia had a new look, which also aroused a bit of curiosity in Eirlys.

Eirlys was eager to talk about girl stuff, as it was not something very common in her life. However, Silvia had left before she could deepen the conversation.

She gave it some thought and approached Alice and Elena. Usually they were not in her group, as at lunchtime they spent time with Miss Silvercres, with whom Eirlys had never had the chance to talk.

But today they were going with her group, and after not having seen them in over a week, she thought they might talk about some things.

Also, she had recently discovered that Auran was a girl and thought maybe she could be encouraged to talk more with her about female issues.

Unfortunately, Auran had not come. Eirlys was a bit worried, and in fact, that was the topic they were talking about before they left the classroom.

But Chris told them that she had already made sure and was only sick from overexertion due to the previous week. She would be back tomorrow.

Eirlys Ella had also taken Chris's advice and was absent to do a self-assessment of herself and the possible blessing she had received.

At the temple they only told her the name and which god it belonged to, but the artifact could not specify its exact function.

A week had passed and she still did not fully understand her blessing. She had some hints, but she wasn't entirely sure yet.

However, she felt that her art and movements were better and more precise.

It worked perfectly with her art which now did not understand its limit. At first, it was only her family art, and at most it allowed her to go through eight metamorphoses.

According to her father, it was part of a greater art, but she never believed him until she saw the rest of it in the fourth vault of William's legacy.

At that point, she was tempted to ask Chris, who had the most points, for help, but in the end she did not.

As that crow said, it was on the basis of her effort, so, with resignation she left it there, she believed it was not meant to be hers.

Only for, a month later, in front of her bedroom door, as if it were anything....

A gem appeared with his complete 'wind attribute rapier art' inside, it was the same art of his family but complete.

Suddenly, what generations of her family had searched for appeared in front of her for no reason or explanation, only with a note....

{Benefits of candidacy}

When she took a quick glance at it to see how real it was, she simply didn't understand and didn't understand its boundary it seemed like something completely different from what she practiced.

She didn't know what to do. For a week she hesitated whether to learn it or not, whether it was the right thing to do or not.

Finally, not understanding who had given it to her and asking for advice from her friends, especially Chris, who never hesitated to help her, his words were simple and curiously convinced her.

"If it came to you, it's because you are destined. Don't overthink it. Things like this don't happen twice."

That made her mind up. She didn't know who had given this to her, but she'd be sure to pay him back if she ever found out who it was.

But putting that aside, now after this week of absence, she wanted to ask Chris for advice about her blessing.

He always knew her flaws and weaknesses and always guided her. If there was anyone she could trust, it was him.

..

.

The group finally arrived at the dining room and, after ordering or taking out what they would eat, they sat down to eat.

They were like an adored and feared group at the academy; no one got too close while they were eating or in the hallways, well mostly because Chris looked menacingly at the boys.

When she asked about it, he said that if they didn't have guts just because of an intimidating face they didn't deserve to take his lessons, although Lys realized he didn't do the same with the girls.

But they ran away when Ivan, who was a muscular guy over six feet tall, approached them with a disturbing smile, earning a scolding from Chris.

It reminded Eirlys of when she used to play gangsta with her brothers and tease the other kids in the neighborhood, only to have their parents complain to theirs and get a scolding.

..

.

"Oh no..."

He looked around for Chris with his eyes. He thought, if he could, he would ask him for advice on how to use his blessing.

But she realized that she had gotten a little lost in her thoughts. He was now sitting at a close distance beside her. Eirlys realized that she had sat in a bad place.

Not because it made her uncomfortable to be near Chris, but because, between him and her, there was a specific person.

In all likelihood, she was now close to the chaos that was coming, and, as if to check it out....

"my little angel Di, ahhh!"

"aaahhh... yum, yum..."

"Grrrr..."

'I shouldn't have sat here...'

Eirlys was watching the now common interaction between those three people. Chris, who liked to spoil his girlfriend Selene, was feeding her, while Eira, from the side, was growling at her.

But, leaving aside that a fight was about to start and that it would be weird to switch places, honestly, Eirlys felt a little envious of Selene.

She too wanted a boyfriend who would treat her sweetly like that.

She had always been treated like a boy in her family. Since she was a little girl, she usually wore her hair short and was easily confused.

Only in recent years, when she came of age, did she decide to make a change.

By entering the academy, she hoped to be feminine enough, have female friends and, if possible, attract the attention of the opposite sex, or at least that's what she thought deep down when she imagined herself surrounded by people her own age.

However, becoming strong had priority.

She dreamed of becoming a powerful warrior and knight, someone who would make her family proud. That was paramount. Even if she wanted to, she had no time for romance.

Still, when she saw Selene and Chris together and happy, doubts and envy welled up inside her.

Eirlys, in fact, had already had her ideal type of partner in mind a long time ago, for her it had to be someone strong and loving, attentive and romantic.

Someone who would positively influence her life and push her to improve, someone who, instead of interfering with her dream, would help her achieve it faster.

She knew she was too idealistic a prototype, so she put aside the idea of having a boyfriend. Until she met Chris.

If she thought about it, Chris had all that and more... but, unfortunately, he already had a girlfriend.

'Let's not think about that. He's a good friend and he's obviously in love with Selene.'

Eirlys stopped those nonsensical thoughts and looked at the boys at the table. None of them particularly caught her eye, until her gaze landed on Will.

She thought about it for a moment, but still felt something was missing. Besides, she saw him more as a friend than a potential mate.

The guys in the group As usual, they seemed to be betting on who would win this time in the fight that was about to happen, which Eirlys didn't doubt either, though she wouldn't bet on it. That wouldn't be very girl.

"Oh, I see someone is especially jealous today."

"I'm not jealous, can't you just eat normally?"

It was something Eirlys always thought. Chris became unusually childish when she annoyed Eira.

Obviously, the latter didn't like Chris hanging out with her sister, and Chris wouldn't back down, provoking her until she got angry and they started a fight.

It was so normal that even after a week of not seeing each other, no one was surprised that they fought at the first opportunity.

But again leaving aside the inevitable Eirlys also noticed that Eira had a new look. She wondered if she herself should do the same.

The girls in her group seemed to be changing their appearance lately including Silvia who came in with tidier, trimmed hair.

She wondered if trimming her hair to shoulder length like Eira would suit her, or fixing her bangs a bit like Silvia might also give her more femininity.

Or maybe some nice buns like Alice started wearing, Eirlys took note and thought she would look more feminine if she varied a bit, but she only knew how to do a high ponytail....

' maybe the person Silv mentioned, can help me'.

"Okay, Selene, let's give the privilege today to Eira."

"Yep..."

"Hey, get off me, you bastard! Who said I wanted this?"

"Come on, I know this is what you wanted. Well, I'll pamper you too. My cute little kitty,"

"...."

But she put that thought aside when she saw Chris provoke Eira even more by taking her and sitting her on his lap, right where Selene had been sitting moments ago by this point the fight was about to begin. Eirlys knew that at any moment Eira would lose her patience and start a physical fight.

There were times when, if you were too close, the occasional scratch or bite could get you, and that's why Eirlys regretted being so close.

But the fight I was hoping for never came.

"See, I knew this was what you wanted. You know you can be honest and just ask, I'm not going to refuse."

"Hummp! Who said I wanted it? It's just you doing whatever you feel like."

"Yes, yes, whatever you say, my pretty kitty. I'll give you lots of cuddles."

"Hmph!!"

"Your snorting only makes me stronger."

"..." (all)

Eirlys and everyone around stood in Silence at the incomprehensible scene.