

The Power 56

Chapter 56 Proclamation

The emperor sat on the couch, with one leg bent, tapping lightly with his hand wearing a jade wrench, his eyes revealing a look of contemplation.

After a while, he said, "Then reward her with the title of county lord!"

In the depths of Xiaotianshui Lane, in an unremarkable house, the winding paths lead to secluded places, the rockery is emerald green, and the tall ginkgo tree canopy is like a canopy, covering several exquisite small courtyards. In the main courtyard, lanterns are lit along the road, and Before it was cold, a brazier was lit in the room, and Lu Yan, who had been tossing for a long time, finally couldn't hold on anymore and fell down on the couch.

After Wang Shipu took Lu Yan's pulse, he was so anxious that he was sweating profusely, and couldn't help complaining, "Lord Lu, you want to be ordered to die, why bother? There is no room in the cell of the Zhenfusi. You can also squeeze with other people."

When Father Tangyuan heard this, his legs began to wobble, "What should I do? This servant is going to invite Miss Xie to see the doctor!"

"Wait a minute!" Lu Yan pointed to an imperial decree on the table, "Take it to the Ministry of Rites for record, and then let Li Baozhen go."

If it weren't for the fact that he couldn't move, and he was afraid that the little girl would blow his hair, Lu Yan wanted to go there himself.

Tangyuan quickly hugged the imperial decree in her arms, and walked out the door without saying a word. Wang Shipu was a little stunned. Is Mr. Lu desperate? Sure enough, it's not easy for someone to sit in this position at the age of seventeen!

Xie Zhiwei stood at the door of the instrument, looking coldly at the four fierce nuns, she stared for a while, then turned and went to Chunhui Hall.

She had to go out for a while, but Lu Yan came back from Zhuangzi so soon, did he die? It's no wonder that in the previous life, people lived differently, ghosts didn't live like ghosts, they really deserved it!

Both Mrs. Xiao and Mrs. Qian were there, and so were the juniors from the second and third bedrooms. When they got together, they didn't know what they said, and they all laughed.

When Xie Zhiwei entered the yard, he could hear cheerful laughter floating out through the doors and windows.

The maid who opened the curtain cage at the door said "The big girl is here" into the room, and everyone in the room seemed to be strangled, and the laughter stopped abruptly.

Xie Zhiwei didn't care, she went in as usual and saluted the old lady.

The old lady didn't cry, Xie Zhiwei kept saluting for about half a cup of tea, the old lady couldn't help asking, "It's not too early or too late, what are you doing here?"

Xie Zhiwei took advantage of the situation and stood up, "My granddaughter has something to do, she needs to go out!"

It was related to the assassination of the emperor, and Xie Zhiwei did not dare to say that he had obeyed the emperor's order.

"Why, you still want to run away? Huh, didn't you say that Cui's birth is different? I've never seen any girl with such a wild heart, she ran out of the world. That's the case, yesterday What are you doing in there?"

The old lady had a seizure, and Xiao lowered her head slightly after hearing this, feeling extremely refreshed.

Thinking back when she entered the door, people would always compare her with Lu Shi, comparing her appearance, talent, dowry, manners, and demeanor, and they would comment on everything.

The old lady's words really touched her heart. Her sister Hui is not as good as Xie Zhiwei in any way, because she is not the Cui family, in the eyes of the world in this capital, her daughter is not as good as Xie Zhiwei.

I heard that the old man gave Xie Zhiwei one of his favorite chess records. Although chess records are not worth much to Xiao Shi, since the old man never leaves his hands every day, even a piece of waste paper is fragrant.

This represents an attitude.

"Miss Wei, don't blame your grandmother, the old lady is doing it for your own good. Don't rely on the elders' love for you, and do it too recklessly." Xiao advised, "Girls like us are The door should not go beyond the second door. I often tell Sister Hui, don't make a mistake and embarrass the Xie family."

Xie Zhiwei ignored Xiao Shi, and only took a deep look at Feng Shi, "What the old lady said is that my granddaughter will go back and think about her mistakes behind closed doors!"

After she finished speaking, she blessed herself, turned around and left.

There is always a time to ask the old lady to bow her head. Now that Lu Yan is back, he must have something to do without him. For a person like him, no one would dare to neglect him, and the hospital would not dare to let him go on a business trip. If something happened to Lu Yan, someone would definitely think of her.

Care leads to chaos. She was also a little too impatient.

After Xie Zhiwei figured it out, she was not in a hurry. She hurried back to the Qizhao Courtyard, stood at the gate of the courtyard and ordered, "Close the door, no one is allowed to open the door, just say that the old lady punished me to close the door and think about my mistakes!"

When the imperial decree conferring Xie Zhiwei as Duanxian county lord was filed with the Ministry of Rites, Zeng Shiyi, Minister of the Ministry of Rites, immediately sent someone to inform Xie Tiao, Minister of Dali Temple, and said that the father-in-law who went to Xie's mansion to proclaim the decree was Li Baozhen.

Li Baozhen is a person in charge of ceremonies and walks in Linde Palace. Since Lu Yan asked Li Baozhen to proclaim the decree, this person's status and power are naturally very important.

When Xie Tiao got the letter, his heart almost jumped out of shock.

The Xie family is a noble family, and has always been out of touch with those powerful people. It is different from the previous emperor who pointed out the noble daughters of the powerful families to the Xie family's daughter-in-law. , this is the highest honor.

Xie Tiao rode in the carriage and hurried home all the way. Once he entered the door, he did not lose his sense of propriety, and asked the family to prepare for the pick-up, but the person who received the order was Xie Zhiwei, so he had to make sure, so he asked, "Where is the eldest girl? Is she there?"

Shen Shuang hurriedly asked someone to summon Xie Zhiwei, and said that the old man had an invitation, but it was too late, the angel who delivered the order had already arrived, and the eldest daughter of Xie's family was invited to receive the order.

"Hurry up and tell the old lady to bring the eldest girl out to receive the order!" The old man hurriedly straightened his clothes and went out to meet him.

The person sent by Shen Shuang came back first and whispered something to Shen Shuang. Shen Shuang was shocked, but at this moment, she had no other choice, the old man had already gone to the front hall.

Fortunately, Li Baozhen was very talkative, so he told the little * who delivered the decree, "Say to the mansion that our house is not busy, so it's okay to wait a little longer, let the eldest girl slow down, don't worry, it's okay to take your time." thing."

Xie Tiao heard this, and felt a little bit upset. When he didn't know, what did his granddaughter do?

Who is Li Baozhen? How can Xie Tiao and his courtiers like the emperor not know, not to mention himself, those princes and princesses, the princes and concubines in the palace, which one should not curry favor with these eunuchs?

Otherwise, one might as well, whenever these people apply eye drops in front of the emperor, it will make people feel overwhelmed.

Li Baozhen's treatment of Xie Zhiwei can be regarded as flattery.

The old lady heard that she was going to receive the order, no matter how confused she was, she knew that this matter should not be careless. When she walked to Neiyi Gate, she was very upset when she saw that Xie Zhiwei hadn't arrived, and asked, "Where's the eldest girl? Could it be that my old lady is going to invite her in person?"
