

The Queen 1031

Chapter 1031: Rescue

Come On, I Want To Be Your Daddy: “Young Master Bo did an interview early on where he said that he liked staying with his wife. Every day after work, he would go home to play with his wife. But back then, others had said that he was not married. Now that his girlfriend is confirmed to be Su Cha, does that mean that by wife, he was referring to Su Cha? Oh my, if that’s true, it’s too sweet. Su Cha is only 20!”

“‘Play’? The word you used is quite meaningful.”

“Hahahahahahahahaha, what the hell is with the hot comment section?”

“I don’t know if I should envy Young Master Bo or Su Cha.”

“Su Cha’s figure is white and exquisite... I... also... want...”

“She’s just his girlfriend, but he directly said that she’s his wife? The angry tears of a single dog are streaming out.”

“Recently, I’ve been eating too much popcorn. Why do I think so much about the news? Everyone says that Young Master Bo’s temper is actually very bad... But he’s like a different person when facing Su Cha...”

“Is he the legendary type of person who only warms to his wife? He’s cruel to others and is gentle only to his wife.”

“The best in the world. Su Cha really saved the galaxy in her past life!”

...

Su Cha had also attracted the attention of many old friends.

Dai Xiaofu, Le Anqi, and her former classmates were all shocked.

No one expected Su Cha's boyfriend to be such a powerful person.

After expressing their concern, everyone advised Su Cha to get married as soon as possible.

It seemed that she would be letting Bo Muyi down if she did not grab hold of him tightly.

Of course, they had to get married early, but according to her identity card, she was not old enough. When the time came, they would naturally register their marriage.

To a certain extent, Su Cha and Bo Muyi were already an old couple.

After the relationship was announced, her work had to continue. Of course, the production crew of "Mo Clan City" had also found out that Su Cha's boyfriend was actually the boss of the Imperial Mu Group.

But the filming had ended by then. They regretted it that they did not get the chance to build a good relationship with Bo Muyi.

But soon, there was a big problem.

Something had happened to Joshua.

It was not entirely true that something had happened.

The main reason was that he was involved in a drug-taking party two days after Su Cha announced her relationship. It was very subtle.

Although many people felt that there was something wrong, they could not think too much.

Not only was there such a drug-taking party, but there was also a certain video.

The video started spreading crazily in Europe and America. Even Europe and America, who had high tolerance, were shocked after such a thing happened to Joshua. They could not believe it. At the same time, Joshua was facing prosecution.

As he had taken a drug, he probably had hallucinations and was suspected of sexually assaulting another woman.

It was hopeless.

Joshua had fallen in Hollywood.

No one knew why he went to this party.

Although his company had dealt with it urgently, they could not protect Joshua in the subsequent series of events.

Now that something had happened to Joshua, “Mo Clan City” would naturally be finished.

It was originally a big production with big investments, but now that the main actor was in trouble, the higher-ups would definitely not let the film pass the review when there was such a person participating in it.

The director almost vomited blood. In the end, the investors did not panic at all. Soon, they came up with a series of remedies.

Joshua’s role was to be filmed by someone else. All the expenses would be paid by someone else. The only difference was that it would now take more time.

Chapter 1032: Not Bad

Of course, Su Cha was dragged back to film.

She was not surprised that Joshua was replaced. If he had not done that, even if he had conflicts with Su Cha, it would not have affected him.

He had ruined himself.

The actor who replaced Joshua was another Caucasian actor.

Of course, the kissing scene had already been filmed by Bo Mui as a substitute, so there was no need to make up for it.

Su Cha naturally had compensation for the retake. Of course, the money was paid by Tan Yeluo.

Tan Yeluo: "I've never seen such a shameless person like your boyfriend. He got rid of someone and actually asked me to pay for the production crew???????"

Cha Yi: "...Then I don't want the rest of the salary."

Tan Yeluo: "Your salary is not even enough for the production crew to make a few days of promotion!"

Cha Yi: "..."

Thinking about it, Bo Mui's actions were a little wicked. As the Alliance Master of the Star Alliance, Su Cha could not squeeze her Vice Alliance Master so much, so she called Bo Mui to tell him about this.

In fact, she was just asking Bo Mui. She felt that Bo Mui would not do such a thing. After all, he was the one who dealt with Joshua. It was impossible for him to leave the cleanup to Tan Yeluo, right?

As expected, the man sneered. "I'm afraid she didn't tell you that I gave up the right to buy a piece of land overseas and gave it to her."

That piece of land involved a development project. In the long term, the profits behind it were at least dozens of transactions. Bo Mui gave it up just like that. It was certain that Tan Yeluo would pay the production crew.

Su Cha: "...How shameless."

After hanging up, she immediately sent a WeChat message.

Cha Yi: “My salary will be doubled” /Smile

Tan Yeluo: “...Ha, you are indeed as shameless as him.”

Tan Yeluo: “But female”

Tan Yeluo was lying through her teeth, so Su Cha ignored her. It would take a month to make up for the filming schedule.

And the female lead role that she would take on would immediately be seamlessly linked up after this drama.

Hence, she would be busy for the time being.

She had been going back and forth between school and the production crew. She was in her second year, and many things required more time and effort than before.

It was impressive that Su Cha had maintained a high score.

Initially, many people thought that she was not worthy of Bo Mui, but now that they saw her outstanding performance in various aspects, some people sincerely admired her. Outstanding people were always a match made in heaven.

If Su Cha was not worthy, no one else was worthy of Bo Mui.

While she was busy, Su Cha received a postcard from overseas one day.

The source was unknown. It was directly sent to her. Fu Mo found it strange and handed it to her.

When Su Cha saw it, she immediately knew who'd sent this postcard.

On it was a simple photo. In a corner of a foreign city, the sunlight was just right. There was an ordinary-looking foreign passerby. She did not look at the camera, and it was obvious that she had been photographed coincidentally.

There was a handwritten message.

[I once saw the light I wanted to change in you.]

Su Cha saw a slender shadow in the corner of the photo.

She immediately recognized the figure. It was Greya.

Greya...

Su Cha was surprised to see the postcard.

Ever since she disappeared, she had not received any news about Greya.

It seemed that she had gone to another country.

This was good.

Chapter 1033: This Script Is a Failure

After Su Cha finished filming her scenes in “Mo Clan City,” the new script she took on was “He Chun.”

This was a script from the ancient martial arts genre, but it had little to do with the martial arts world. It was more about the artistic style. Su Cha’s goal was very clear. A large part of the drama was about winning an award.

He Chun was the female lead’s name. She was a young lady from a wealthy family. She had been well-versed in the four arts since she was young. To outsiders, she was a perfect lady from a wealthy family.

Her name was not standardized like in ancient times. Later on, it showed that He Chun was not ordinary.

When she was 16 years old, He Chun met a man from the martial arts world and fell in love with him.

It was just that the family objected to it. Moreover, the man was naturally popular. After He Chun suffered a blow from this relationship, she passed away in the end due to depression.

Judging from the storyline, there seemed to be nothing to watch. If such a movie was released, a large part of it would feel like it would fail.

However, the reason why Su Cha accepted it was because she liked the delicate script.

From the beginning to the end, He Chun's story was filled with a certain degree of uncertainty. Although there were twists and turns, it was calm along the way. It had a rhythm that was as placid as water. He Chun was an ancient iconic woman. Because of this relationship, she had gone through a different kind of struggle. From a moral perspective, it gave off an anti-establishment feeling. Although He Chun passed away in the end, the intention of this film was still good.

Tan Jinsui had chosen this script for Su Cha because of its artistic exquisiteness. It was a rare ancient setting film, and the judges loved that the most.

If they filmed well, they might be able to create hype.

For example, ancient scenes could be used to create a grand background.

This way, even if the story was thin, the plot and scenes could be supported by them.

Most importantly, after playing the role of a peerless enchantress, Su Cha felt a contrast if she played such a graceful and delicate girl from Jiangnan.

If she acted well, those with eyes would not be able to criticize her acting skills.

After "The Legend of the Crane," Su Cha had become synonymous with her character, Yu Wan.

This script was written by a girl. When Su Cha took on this movie, there was no production crew attached to it yet. However, when the news of Su Cha taking on this movie spread, many companies immediately offered an olive branch to it.

What a joke. After all, it was Su Cha's movie. With the Imperial Mu Group backing it up, would they be afraid of losing money?

Even if they lost money, it would be worth it if they could build a relationship with the Imperial Mu Group.

However, Tan Jinsui decided to take on this movie himself. He planned to let Su Cha's agency produce it themselves. Naturally, there were ready-made investors.

Tan Yeluo: "I nodded off when I was looking at this script."

Tan Yeluo was a businessman, and a very realistic one at that. Hence, when she saw the script, she naturally rejected it.

Cha Yi: "Do you not like it?"

If Tan Jinsui had not accepted it, Su Cha would not have asked Tan Yeluo to invest immediately.

If she was willing, she could invest with Tan Jinsui. However, Tan Yeluo was an old partner...

Tan Yeluo: "Not even a little. Even if your husband is the guarantor."

Cha Yi: "How about this? You can discuss it with your brother. Even if you are not interested, would your brother Yezhu be interested in talking?"

Tan Yeluo: "?????? He's not interested. Thank you, there's no need to look for him."

Chapter 1034: A Movie

Facing this unexpected turn, Tan Yeluo proceeded to reply calmly.

Tan Yeluo: “How about this? What’s your target budget?”

Su Cha: “Uncle Tan said about 100 million. It depends on the situation. I’ll invest as much as I want.”

Tan Yeluo: “10 million”

Su Cha: “Will you pay me?”

Tan Yeluo: “Are you actually worth 10 million?”

Cha Yi: “What you said is so ambiguous.”

Actually, her worth was not even 10 million.

Su Cha was just joking.

Her current movie salary was only about five million yuan.

Such a female lead film would only pay eight million yuan.

After discussing, Tan Yeluo threw 50 million yuan to test the waters.

According to her, she did not expect this drama to make a profit. She was already prepared to lose so much that even her parents might disown her.

Su Cha was happy that she had managed to get an investment. She had relied on her own abilities to get it.

“Uncle Tan, the investment has been pulled. Tan Yeluo has invested 50 million.”

She'd called Tan Jinsui immediately. Tan Jinsui was silent for a while before saying, "You didn't threaten her, did you?"

Su Cha: "Am I such a person in your heart?"

Tan Jinsui: "...It's fine as long as you managed it."

Actually, this movie had no shortage of investors. Now that Su Cha's name had been announced, many people were willing to invest, but Su Cha had to drag Tan Yeluo along.

Of course, Tan Jinsui did not know Tan Yeluo's true identity.

After all, he had not had much contact with her.

News of the shoot for "He Chun" had spread. The industry insiders had been paying attention to Su Cha's next move, and they were surprised to see her take on the role.

With Su Cha's fame, she should have started to take on roles crazily, and the higher the salary, the better.

Why did she suddenly end up acting in such a movie?

"He Chun" was just a script, so many people did not know what kind of story this movie was. The director had long ago picked it up, and all he lacked was some investment.

Back then, the creator of the script did not expect that they could invite Su Cha, but Su Cha really agreed.

In the past, she had been worrying about how to get filming for this movie started. Now that Su Cha had taken on the role, all the problems were solved.

When the writer heard that Su Cha wanted a kissing substitute for the kissing scene in the original script, they naturally agreed without hesitation.

Although, they had not found a male lead yet.

There was also an awkward problem. Everyone knew that Su Cha's boyfriend was Bo Mui. There were not many male celebrities in the industry who'd dared to accept Su Cha's script.

If something were to happen or if there were any rumors, would he still be able to stay in the industry?

In the end, Tan Jinsui went to look for Hua Nie.

Hua Nie was the second male lead of "The Legend of the Crane." He'd also had scenes with Su Cha.

He was lucky. After the broadcast, he became popular. The male lead of "He Chun" matched Hua Nie's image, although his personality was pure and obedient.

Hua Nie's side originally had other things scheduled, but Tan Jinsui came to find him personally. Hua Nie thought for a while and agreed without asking his manager.

However, after receiving it, he was still sad. He expressed his indignation towards his assistant. "This is too much. It's bad enough that my one-sided love has been terminated, but now she even came to me for such a thing."

The assistant almost laughed out loud. "Isn't that good? Su Cha is so popular now. If you star with her, you won't have to worry about anything else."

Chapter 1035: Unexpected Person

Hua Nie was still holding a grudge against Su Cha.

The main reason was that Su Cha had extinguished his crush before he could say anything. He was sad for a while.

Although he got drunk.

It was fortunate that he got drunk.

Now that he thought about it, he had only worked with Su Cha for a while. It was hard for him to keep his heart calm then, but after not seeing her for a long time, Hua Nie had already figured it out. He was just kidding around.

However, when the actual filming started, Hua Nie learned that for the kissing scene in the script, he was to be replaced by someone else.

He was forced to have a substitute.

“I don’t think I need a substitute kisser!”

The child appeared to be confident. Su Cha, who was discussing the plot with the director, smiled. “Even if you don’t need it, you have to have one. The kissing substitute is my boyfriend.”

Hua Nie was dejected like a defeated rooster.

At the same time, he felt humiliated.

It was too much. She had asked him to act as the male lead but was forced to have a substitute kisser. He couldn’t even get his first kiss on the screen!

However, looking at Su Cha’s exquisite appearance and her smiling eyes, he could not say anything and could only accept it helplessly.

But he quickly reacted. “Your boyfriend?... The one from the Imperial Mu Group...”

When they were filming “The Legend of the Crane,” Bo Mui did not come to visit like he did with “Mo Clan City,” so Hua Nie had never seen Bo Mui.

Su Cha nodded. Hua Nie suddenly thought of the video he had watched.

He felt as if something had plastered his face.

That was such a legendary display of affection...

During the filming of “He Chun,” Su Cha had to take care of her studies while also working with the production crew. Hence, she was very busy most of the time and did not have time to return to the Lookout Pavilion, let alone to the Zong residence.

However, she would often video call Zong Yanxiu. It was normal for the father and daughter to chat. It was just that one time, Zong Yanxiu suddenly mentioned something that surprised Su Cha. “Xiao Cha, you haven’t contacted Su... your adoptive father for a long time, right?”

After he woke up, Su Cha had told Zong Yanxiu about Su Mingzhe. He was very angry, so he did not contact Su Mingzhe.

Su Cha had already cut off contact with Su Mingzhe. He was smart and did not jump out to cause trouble.

Otherwise, with the media the way it was, Su Cha’s original family would have been stripped.

However, Zong Yanxiu’s sudden mention of him today made Su Cha feel a little strange. “I didn’t contact him. Father, what’s wrong?”

“No, I just suddenly remembered and asked.”

He seemed to be a little emotional. “Actually, I didn’t expect him to be that kind of person.”

Su Cha was silent for a while and said, “Father, it’s all in the past.”

Her biological father was not a good person, let alone her adoptive father.

Only Zong Yanxiu was genuinely good to her.

This topic was simply brushed aside. Su Cha did not take it to heart and only thought that it was one of Zong Yanxiu’s occasional bouts of regret.

In the end, there was one time when she had time to return home after filming. Bo Muyi was at the company, so she was not in a hurry to return to the Lookout Pavilion. Thinking that she had not returned to the Zong residence for a long time and should go back to visit her father and grandfather, she went straight back to their residence.

In the end, she saw an unexpected guest there.

Su Cha's smile disappeared as soon as she entered.

She did not expect to see Su Mingzhe here.

Not only Su Mingzhe, but also Su Mingzhe's family.

Chapter 1036: Untitled

"Why are you here?"

Su Mingzhe and his wife, Gu Yanfang, were in the living room.

When Su Cha saw them, her expression darkened visibly.

She had not seen them for some time, so she'd become so comfortable that she almost forgot that these two people existed in this world.

Su Mingzhe did not expect Su Cha to suddenly come back today. He looked embarrassed and rubbed his hands helplessly. "Su... Su Cha, we..."

Gu Yanfang remained calm. She was as polite and indifferent as Su Cha remembered. "We've been here for a while."

Been there for a while?

Su Cha suddenly recalled Zong Yanxiu mentioning Su Mingzhe last time.

So he was here, and that's why Zong Yanxiu had suddenly mentioned him to her?

She sneered. "What are you doing here?"

As far as she was considered, they should never have interacted with each other again.

"You've received 500,000 yuan, but the benefits I've received over the years are not enough. Now you come here, what do you want?"

Su Mingzhe blushed. "I didn't expect Yanxiu to have woken up. I haven't seen him in so many years, so I came to see him..."

Su Cha did not speak.

At this moment, Zong Yanxiu appeared outside. As if he had received the news, he looked at Su Cha and coughed awkwardly. "Xiao Cha, you're back?"

Zong Yanxiu did not know about Su Cha's sudden visit.

He wanted Su Mingzhe to leave.

Su Cha turned around and looked at him with vigilance. "Father, why are they here?"

Su Mingzhe smiled bitterly.

Zong Yanxiu paused and said, "Nothing. They just came to see me."

Su Cha was suspicious.

It was hard to say anything, but she was still unhappy.

She turned around and looked at Su Mingzhe coldly. "You can leave after you've seen him. Mr. Su, you have to have a bottom line."

Her words made Su Mingzhe blush even more. Gu Yanfang frowned. "Su Cha, no matter what, we've raised you for so many years. Now that you've become a celebrity and have acknowledged your father, we are happy for you. Isn't your attitude too much?"

"I'm too much?"

Su Cha frowned and her expression turned serious. "I don't know what you think you're talking about. If you expect me to show filial piety, you will be disappointed. You know very well what my life in the Su family was like. You also know very well why I was living like that. You also know how many bad things you'd said about me while I was with you. Now that you've come to look for my father, the greatest kindness I can show you is not directly kicking you out. How dare you criticize me here? Who gave you the right?"

She spoke seriously and turned around to look at Zong Yanxiu. Zong Yanxiu was speechless.

After saying that, she shouted, "Auntie, send the guests out!"

She called the Zong family's butler.

The butler stood up. She looked at Zong Yanxiu hesitantly, but when she saw the angry Su Cha, she made a gesture of invitation. "Please?"

Gu Yanfang was furious. She wanted to say something, but Su Mingzhe stopped her.

He looked at Su Cha in shame and left with Gu Yanfang.

"Father, why were they here?"

After they left, Su Cha looked at Zong Yanxiu.

Zong Yanxiu looked a little embarrassed. He obviously did not expect Su Cha to come back directly. He said, "Aren't you very busy recently?"

"Can't I come back for a brief visit?"

Su Cha sighed. "If I hadn't come back today, how would I have found out about this? Tell me, why were they here?"

Zong Yanxiu knew Su Cha's personality. She was already on the verge of getting angry, so he told her the reason honestly.

As Su Cha had expected, Su Mingzhe did not come here for anything good.

Zong Yanxiu had some resentment towards Su Mingzhe because Su Cha did not receive good care from him as Zong Yanxiu had expected.

However, he was unconscious at that time. His father had only told him some things, so he did not know much.

After learning that Su Cha did not have a good impression of Su Mingzhe, he did not contact his old friend.

Su Cha was now famous. It was impossible for Su Mingzhe not to know it. Zong Yanxiu was satisfied that he had not appeared, and so he did nothing to Su Mingzhe.

Unexpectedly, something happened to Su Mingzhe.

His and Gu Yanfang's son fought with others at his school. It was originally just a children's game, but he accidentally pushed the other party down the stairs, causing the child to hit his head and ruin his life.

It seemed that the main responsibility was not on their son, but they had to bear some responsibility.

The other party had spent hundreds of thousands of yuan on medical expenses, which had drained Su Mingzhe's savings over the years. Moreover, because of this matter, he could not concentrate on his work. The higher-ups were dissatisfied with him for making mistakes, and they directly cut Su Mingzhe off with the layoff.

After that, the Su family had to bear a certain amount of medical fees and compensation. The other party also sued them in court. They even pulled some strings, causing the court to sentence Su Mingzhe to pay a sky-high medical fee.

They had sunk into poverty.

Su Mingzhe had paid all the price for his son. The house was the last line. Only by selling the house and losing money could he really have nothing. Moreover, his relatives had borrowed a lot of money before, but Gu Yanfang's sisters were unwilling to lend them money. Su Mingzhe was forced into a corner. After Gu Yanfang said something, he thought of the Zong family.

He knew that Su Cha had acknowledged the Zong family, so Zong Yanxiu must have woken up.

He knew Zong Yanxiu's temper. He also found out that Su Cha had been filming recently and was not in the Imperial Capital, so he brought Gu Yanfang to the Imperial Capital to look for Zong Yanxiu.

He had seen him. Zong Yanxiu did not want to bother with him, but they were friends after all. Su Mingzhe was old and crying. Zong Yanxiu could not stand it. Gu Yanfang took the opportunity to tell him about how Su Cha had been many years ago. At least Su Cha had grown up safely.

It was because of this that Zong Yanxiu's heart softened.

Su Mingzhe stayed in the Imperial Capital for a while. Zong Yanxiu only agreed to give him a sum of money after he promised that he would not hinder Su Cha in the future.

But he did not pay all of it. He only paid half of the compensation. He had to put pressure on Su Mingzhe and not let him have nothing to worry about.

"You gave it to him?"

Su Cha stared at Zong Yanxiu in disbelief.

Zong Yanxiu was a little helpless. "What else could I have done? If I hadn't given it to them, they might go out and talk about you in the future."

"Even if I gave them eight guts, they wouldn't dare."

Su Cha was a little angry. "Father, I've told you about those things. How can you take out money? They should bear the consequences of their own actions. I'm already kind enough not to hit them while they're down."

"When I gave them the money, I thought about what you would say in the future."

Zong Yanxiu was not in a hurry. He slowly said to Su Cha, "He's quite right. At least I have to thank him for letting you grow up."

Su Cha: "..."

As if she was holding her breath in her heart, Su Cha could not say that she had actually died once.

In Zong Yanxiu's heart, she was raised by Su Mingzhe.

He was thinking about this.

Seeing Su Cha's helpless expression, Zong Yanxiu promised, "Don't worry. It's only this time. He promised me that he will never appear again and will not say anything about you. In the future, the Su family..." Zong Yanxiu paused. "It has nothing more to do with us."

He was not overly kind. As he thought, at least Su Cha had grown up.

He knew that Su Cha had suffered in the past, so he would make it up to her as her father from here on.

If Su Mingzhe was not tactful, the Zong family would not be a pushover. Su Mingzhe was powerless and easy to deal with.

Su Cha's face was cold. Zong Yanxiu had already given them money, so she could not chase after them to get it back.

As Zong Yanxiu had said, if Su Mingzhe appeared again, Su Cha would not show mercy.

She was not here at the time. Zong Yanxiu had already done it, so there was nothing she could do.

That night, Su Cha stayed at the Zong family's residence for dinner. She probably felt a little depressed about today's matter. She did not rest at the Zong family's residence and returned to the Lookout Pavilion.

When Bo Muyi returned, Su Cha was playing with her phone on the bed. When he saw her, he glanced at her and asked, "Did something unpleasant happen today?"

Obviously, he knew something.

Su Cha told him about what had happened today. When she mentioned the Su family, she looked a little annoyed. "If I'd known, I definitely wouldn't have given them any money."

"But you can't criticize him. After all, he's your father."

Bo Muyi came over and sat by the bed. He touched her cheek and said gently, "And there are some things he doesn't know."

Just like Su Cha's rebirth.

"So you don't know what to say."

There were many things going on recently. Especially after Ruan Yin's death, Su Cha tried to talk less about things with Zong Yanxiu.

Otherwise, she was afraid that she would agitate him.

"It's over."

Bo Muyi was not interested in anything other than Su Cha. Especially since this was his father-in-law's doing, he would not get involved.

It was rare for Su Cha to come home. Of course, he wanted to do that with her for a while. Unfortunately, Su Cha was angry when she came back. She was really not in the mood. After speaking to Bo Mui, she lay on the bed and said, "I'm so tired. I'm going to sleep."

Bo Mui: "..."

He felt that Su Cha was lying to him.

At the thought of this, the man's face darkened. However, when he saw her closing her eyes quickly and looking a little tired, he lowered his head and kissed Su Cha's forehead. He did not do anything else.

Chapter 1039: It's Ugly, Take It Away

After "He Chun" officially wrapped up, it was already the next spring.

Ever since the news about Su Cha's boyfriend was made public, she had been silent for a long time.

During the filming of "He Chun," Su Cha had had to immerse herself in this character's mental state, so she became much more depressed.

This melancholy was not part of Su Cha's personality. It was as if she was affected by the character in the movie.

Tan Jinsui said that this was a good thing. It proved that Su Cha's acting skills were improving.

However, he still asked Su Cha to see a psychiatrist.

Some actors were like this. If they were overly addicted to a role, they would easily fall deep into it and not be able to extricate themselves. There were many in the industry who got lost in their role, especially those tragic characters. After acting, they would suffer from depression.

Although Su Cha had a strong mentality, Tan Jinsui felt that something was wrong with Su Cha.

She used to be very calm, but she had been going a little overboard with her calmness during this period.

For example, at some point in time, she had ordered Fu Mo to buy food for her from afar.

It took an hour to go back and forth. When she asked Fu Mo to buy it, Tan Jinsui said, “It’s so far away. Why don’t you go with Fu Mo after filming?”

Tan Jinsui usually spoke like this, but for some reason, Su Cha’s face darkened and she said directly, “I want to eat it.”

Of course, Fu Mo tried to coax Su Cha. Hearing this, she smiled and said, “It’s okay, Uncle Tan. I’m taking the car anyway. I’ll just buy it for Classmate Su. I’ll be back soon. Please watch over Classmate Su.”

“How old is she? Does she need me to watch over her?”

Tan Jinsui rolled his eyes. After Fu Mo left, he looked at Su Cha, who was frowning, and said bluntly, “Su Cha, are you acting like a big shot now that you’re popular? Isn’t it too late for you to realize that? Haven’t you noticed that you’ve become... a little pretentious recently?”

His words were subtle.

It was hard to imagine that this word would be used on Su Cha one day.

Unexpectedly, Su Cha said seriously, “I think so too.”

Actually, she could not be blamed. She had been feeling unhappy recently.

For some reason, she suddenly found her surroundings unpleasant. It was the same as usual, and no one had offended her.

When she suddenly thought of something, she’d want it. If it was food, she must eat it.

She had always been very self-disciplined. It was impossible for such a thing to have happened.

At times, she seemed to be unreasonable.

After Fu Mo left, Su Cha seriously thought about what had happened to her for the first time.

Was it because “He Chun” was in a melancholic state and she was too immersed in her acting that she was affected?

But it was impossible. Her understanding of “He Chun” was not so good that Tan Jinsui should praise her...

At this moment, Hua Nie and his assistant carried a small statue over. Tan Jinsui said, “Hua Nie bought some nonsense online again...”

The statue looked like a work of art. It was hard to explain. Hua Nie lifted it and placed it on the resting table. Su Cha stared at it and suddenly said, “It’s so ugly. Take it away!”

Hua Nie: “...”

He suddenly looked over and looked a little hurt. “Ah, is it ugly?”

His assistant looked at Su Cha in disbelief.

This ugly thing... was not doing anything to Miss Su.

Chapter 1040: Get a Checkup at the Hospital?

“Su Cha, aren’t you too much?”

Tan Jinsui could not stand it anymore and said to Su Cha, “Hua Nie likes it even though it’s ugly. It’s not in your way.”

The entire production crew was surprised.

After all, other than Tan Jinsui, no one else dared to say anything about Su Cha.

But they felt it.

Something was wrong with Su Cha recently.

The usual Su Cha had an explosive aura and a cold beauty.

But she had nothing to say to others. She was not very warm and friendly to others, but she also did not look arrogant. When you greeted her, she would respond politely. She did not act like a big shot.

But recently, Su Cha had been making people feel that she was not easy to get along with...

It was not that kind of performance, but the change in aura seemed to catch people off guard.

Now that Tan Jinsui said this, Su Cha seemed to be stunned in front of everyone. Then, she felt flustered and irritable. She turned around and rushed into her lounge.

She seemed to be venting her anger.

Tan Jinsui was stunned.

Anger?

It was the first time Tan Jinsui had spoken like that to her in front of so many people. Was she really angry?

However, Tan Jinsui instinctively felt that something was wrong.

Su Cha was not usually so petty.

Seeing that Su Cha was actually angry, Hua Nie started to worry. “Ah, I will take this away immediately. Su Cha, don’t be angry...”

“That’s not the problem.”

Tan Jinsui shook his head. He felt that the problem was not with Hua Nie, but with Su Cha.

Hua Nie’s assistant had a strange look in his eyes. He suddenly approached Hua Nie and whispered to him, “Don’t you feel that Miss Su has been acting strangely recently?”

Hua Nie was stunned. He looked around and hesitated. “She has been a little strange...”

It was hard to tell what was strange, but Su Cha seemed to be a little more impatient than before.

Hua Nie was also very nervous. He had been studying the script crazily recently, afraid that he would drag Su Cha down.

“Is it...”

The assistant hesitated for a moment and did not dare to say it in detail. He whispered to Hua Nie, “Is she pregnant? My sister used to have a good temper, but she suddenly became very angry when she got pregnant...”

Hua Nie was stunned.

He immediately thought of something and stammered, “That’s impossible... Su Cha... How old is Su Cha?”

“She’s 20, her birthday is coming up soon!”

The junior assistant was very clear. “It’s very normal.”

Her boyfriend was already 25 years old. It was not uncommon for Su Cha to live with him.

Other than pregnancy, the assistant did not know what could have made Su Cha change so much.

Tan Jinsui had already followed her in, so he did not hear the junior assistant and Hua Nie's discussion. Now that they thought about it, they felt that it was similar, but they could not be sure...

Who could be sure?

It seemed that the person involved did not know. If they spoke nonsense and it turned out to be nothing, wouldn't it cause trouble?

After Su Cha entered the room, she was stunned for a long time.

Actually, she did not know why she was angry. She just felt that her tolerance for small things was getting worse.

"What's wrong with you recently? If you're too stressed, why don't you go to the hospital?"
