

The Queen 171

Chapter 171: Is It You Or The Higher Ups Who Are Stupid!

Hearing her speak so resolutely, Wu He was greatly reassured. Now she was just beginning, Wu He also hoped that Su Cha wouldn't come across such bad things.

After the call ended, Su Cha received joyous news from Le Anqi and Cai Ziya.

There was no movement from Mr Su's side till now. He probably didn't know that her results came out.

Phone calls from the Education Bureau and the school came in one after another. After Su Cha answered it, the other party's joy seemed to drown Su Cha out in the phone call. Although the other party was very excited, Su Cha's few and calm words threw them off. These people who were usually of high ranks also began to calm down, and expressed their congratulations to Su Cha, offering her a generous reward.

Towards the first provincial champion of Yonggu Town, the Education Bureau would not be stingy.

They would give Su Cha 100,000 yuan, and the school would give her a 30,000 yuan scholarship.

The topic of scholarships was sensitive. Even if they gave rewards, they couldn't do so too openly, hence the money was first awarded to the school by the Education Bureau, after which the school would transfer it to Su Cha.

Imperial Capital University had also promised Su Cha a scholarship. After all, her results were already considered high flying, it was expected for her to be offered a scholarship.

Su Cha now did not need to worry about her tuition and other living expenses.

The speed of her embroidery slowed down, and she began to concentrate on preparing for the competition.

The school sent a notice for Su Cha to make a trip to school that afternoon.

Now that the results were out, the school also needed to gather.

Su Cha thought of her bet with Yu Chuai, and the corner of her lips curved upwards.

In school, there were preparations for the third year's graduation talk, and also some embarrassing matters.

As the teaching director, Cao Yanhua who previously said that Su Cha cheated was not dealt with properly. He also hinted that the truth would come to light in the college entrance examination.

Now, the truth indeed did come to light.

Not only did her score improve, she also directly became a provincial champion.

Provincial champion, this was the first time in history for Yonggu Town!

This time, not only the teachers were dumbfounded, but Cao Yanhua felt that he could not hold his head up.

It was because he felt too ashamed.

That day, due to disbelief he said those words. He didn't expect such things to happen now!

The principal even screamed at him when he found out. If things were not handled properly, Su Cha could casually say a few words to the media, and the news would ruin their school reputation entirely.

Did he suspect that the college entrance exam was cheating?

That was simply a big joke.

Of course, the school needed to quickly commend Su Cha, hence Su Cha needed to go up on stage for the afternoon's graduation speech.

Cao Yanhua had a lot of things on his plate. While the third years were having their graduation, the second years were still having extra classes in school. He was too busy.

Chang Wugui came over to him with a pale face.

“Director, this is definitely not right. Even if she got 600 points, but in only one month, she directly got 730? Was it that she was hiding her potential all along? She must have done something. Cheating in the college entrance examination...”

Bang!

This time, Cao Yanhua wanted so badly to spit in Chang Wugui's face. “No wonder you have been teaching in Class 7 for so many years! What kind of place is the college entrance examination venue? The surveillance videos of the city's top ten scorers all have to be re-examined, not to mention those of the province's.”

“Even the higher ups couldn't find anything, only you, you would know? You tell me, in that kind of place, how can she cheat? Like you said, use her phone to look to someone for answers? Is it you or the higher ups who are stupid?”

Chapter 172: A Bright Future Thanks To A Student

Being reprimanded by Cao Yanhua in this way, Chang Wugui's face flushed red.

He couldn't believe this, or believe that Su Cha could get such a high score.

But now, what could he do?

Cao Yanhua glared at Chang Wugui, frustrated by his obstinance. “If you don't want to apologize, don't add to this mess either. The school now has a provincial champion, if you utter any more ugly words, you won't be able to teach again in this lifetime! Su Cha is now our school's lucky star. If you dare to scheme, don't even mention your current job as a teacher, you will immediately lose your license to teach!”

Hearing Cao Yanhua throw this stern warning, making Chang Wugui's cheek muscles tense up even further. "... I... I get it."

Whatever the circumstances, he dared not joke about his career.

He could only watch the graduation speech that afternoon.

What made him feel so resentful was that He Qun, the class teacher of Class 5 who used to be as lowly as he was, now probably had this opportunity to soar into the skies.

Being able to teach a provincial champion was already glorifying. Being granted the fame of an excellent teacher was more than enough, not to mention other rewards.

Although it seemed that this had little to do with He Qun, who let her be the class teacher?

The class teachers felt unsettled and rather jealous, but they couldn't do anything, they could only sigh about He Qun having such a good life.

When Su Cha arrived at the school, the principal personally welcomed her into the office.

As soon as she entered, she saw the teaching director Cao Yanhua smiling meekly inside, as well as her own uneasy class teacher He Qun.

"Student Su, I really congratulate you. I didn't expect that. That day, Teacher was blind, I was too narrow-minded, please do not take it to heart."

Since Cao Yanhua was a teaching director, he still was able to act pragmatically.

This time he apologized directly to Su Cha, and there was nothing to be embarrassed about. At least on the surface he had done enough.

Su Cha was not petty. Knowing that she would not be involved with these people in the future, she did not mind at all, and said with a light smile, "Teaching Director exaggerates, I did not take it to heart."

Everyone had a tacit understanding, they let the matter pass with an apology.

The principal warmly asked Su Cha, “Su Cha, will you give a speech on behalf of the student body for the graduation?”

Su Cha shook her head directly. “Principal, there’s no need. I came to school for another reason.”

If not for the gamble with Yu Chuai, she would not even come to school.

As if he remembered something, the headmaster glanced at Cao Yanhua with an awkward expression.

Apparently, Su Cha and Yu Chuai’s gamble was also known to the school leaders.

At that time, everyone treated it as a joke, but seeing that Su Cha was serious about it, they suddenly did not know what to say.

If this thing really happened, it would not be good for the school’s reputation.

But what mattered was that they did not really have a say in the matter, hence they retreated first to make arrangements for the talk, leaving only He Qun and Su Cha in the office.

Seeing Su Cha and that the leader had left, He Qun stood up and smiled, a little embarrassed. “Su Cha, I really have to thank you.”

The principal had just informed her that day about her guaranteed promotion and salary raise, and she would also receive an award from the Education Bureau, on top of being transferred straight to the top class in the future.

She originally did not have much hope for her life, and just wanted to teach honestly.

She never expected to have a bright future again, thanks to a student.

Chapter 173: How Did You Do It?

There were too many such teachers in schools. They led ordinary lives, received their salary with occasional bonuses, though it wasn't bad, but it was rather meaningless.

Once transferred to the top class, her status would be different.

A teacher of the provincial champion, could her future still be bad?

The main point was that no one expected the provincial champion to emerge from such an ordinary class.

Therefore, while being in disbelief, others could only be envious.

Others said getting into a good university was the way to the skies, but now this teacher relied on her student to reach the skies.

Su Cha pursed her lips and smiled softly, her gaze gentle. "Teacher, this is all because you taught well. For three years, I've been under your care."

He Qun in the past was not especially good to Su Cha, but she had not been harsh on her and she also did not give up on her.

Some time ago, when she had to participate in the program, in such a nerve-wrecking period of time, she was willing to let her take leave, that was already out of the ordinary.

She had fulfilled her duty towards Su Cha. She had done her job as an educator. Getting this treatment today was unexpected.

He Qun felt warm in her heart for a while. Although Su Cha looked different now, she was still the little girl who had just entered high school in her heart.

"I saw on the Internet that you are in the top 50 in the competition, do your best. When you advance, Teacher will vote for you, together with your juniors."

He Qun smiled brightly. Su Cha too smiled softly, her gaze mesmerising. "Thank you Teacher."

After speaking with He Qun, Su Cha left the principal's office.

The graduation speech ceremony was imminent. There were quite a number of third years who had returned to school, but some of them had already bought tickets to travel or report directly to their universities.

Su Cha did not stand on ceremony. She went directly to Yu Chuai's class and asked, "Is Yu Chuai coming?"

The classmates who were tidying the class saw her, and all started stuttering, "She... She didn't come, it seems she won't be coming."

Su Cha today was already the provincial champion that everyone looked up to.

Even the excellent students in the top class lost all arrogance in front of Su Cha.

Too frustrating!

Su Cha was not on her high horse, she only targeted Yu Chuai.

At this time, when she heard that Yu Chuai didn't come, she let out a light tsk.

It was a kind of scornful contempt. Standing too high made others feel powerless.

She was qualified to look down on Yu Chuai, even these students looked down on Yu Chuai now.

She didn't come to school after she lost. If she asked herself sincerely, if it were Su Cha who lost, Yu Chuai would've appeared here long ago.

"Su Cha, Su Cha, you are here."

Le Anqi was panting and running over with Cai Ziya, her face full of resentment. "Don't look for Yu Chuai that useless trash, once the results were released she fled immediately on a flight, she didn't come to school at all. She simply has no guts!"

Being unable to see the scene in her imagination play out, Le Anqi was agitated.

What a coward, she ran the moment she lost.

Su Cha actually expected this result, she did not expect Yu Chuai to honour her word.

She was already being accused by many of being spineless and being a sore loser. If she really knelt before Su Cha, she wouldn't be able to lift her head for a lifetime.

If she didn't run first thing in the morning, when would she?

Unexpectedly, though Yu Chuai couldn't be found, Su Cha heard a hoarse voice from behind her.
"How did you do it?"

Chapter 174: Only Second Place, How Can You Face Me?

The three of them turned their heads and were shocked by the person speaking.

Su Cha raised her eyebrows, a little perturbed.

It was Min Chen.

But now, Min Chen's appearance was a little scary.

Her hair was rather messy, her face so pale it was frightening, and her eyes looked as if she had stayed up all night and not slept, so bloodshot it seemed it would ooze out.

Looking at Su Cha at this moment, closely examining her appearance, it was rather scary.

Le Anqi couldn't help but grab Cai Ziya's arm upon seeing Min Chen. The two felt the goosebumps on their bodies.

Min Chen's cold aura, why was it so strong?

Many people saw Min Chen and started gathering around curiously. Upon seeing Min Chen's appearance, they were shocked without exception.

She always had the cold and perfect image of a genius girl, how could she now look so... so fallen?

"Are you asking me?"

Su Cha frowned slightly and looked at Min Chen.

"Yes."

Min Chen nodded and walked a few steps towards Su Cha. "How do you do it, within a month?"

She asked persistently. Le Anqi worried that Min Chen would step up and grab Su Cha's hair to question her. After all, it seems that Min Chen was in a horrible state – not only externally, but mentally as well.

It was just second place, why was she so scary?

Fortunately, she stopped a few steps away from Su Cha.

Su Cha looked at her with an inexplicable feeling, and felt that Min Chen seemed a little strange, but just replied, "It was just like that, I studied insanely for a month, there's no other reason."

This was the case.

Saying it this way, most people would not believe it. After all, one month was too scary.

Min Chen took a deep look at Su Cha, turned her head and left.

Looking at her back view, Le Anqi and Cai Ziya panicked. "What's wrong with Min Chen?"

Su Cha's gaze was deep, but no emotions showed.

After the commencement of the graduation speech, Su Cha was reluctant to go on stage. The principal did not force her and just boasted for ten minutes on stage.

He boasted that Su Cha must have known that she was incredible from a very young age.

The students around were naturally envious and sighed, most were jealous.

The principal later selected several students from the top three to four positions who had performed outstandingly in the exams to speak on stage, but Min Chen was not there.

This was a little strange. In the past, Min Chen was the frontline of outstanding school spokespersons.

While others wondered about it, Su Cha didn't think much. After the speech, she went to the principal's office, and the principal officially handed the scholarship to her.

Probably because everyone had run off after the ceremony, no one followed when Su Cha went there. There should've been no staff in the office at this time, but when she arrived outside the office, she heard the shrill voice of a female.

"We didn't even expect you to get first in the province. The first place in the city was our lowest expectation of you. In the end, you got second place? We spent so much money to raise you, so that you can reward us in this way? Aren't you embarrassed for me to come to school today?"

"You were already no match for your older cousins, if you don't improve in your exams, how can I take you back home! What a shameful thing!"

After this shrill female voice, followed the principal's awkward consolation. "Ms. Min, in fact, it is already very good for Min Chen to get second place in the city. If not for the first place's extraordinary performance, Min Chen's score would have been the best in the city. She didn't even regress, 718 is Min Chen's best performance."

"Failure means failure, I don't want to hear this!"

Su Cha stepped forward and saw Min Chen's side profile, her face drooping.

Su Cha can't see her expression, but could see the numbness in her expression.

Chapter 175: She May Know Her

Su Cha's sudden appearance outside the principal's office made the principal cough.

Standing in front of him, a woman next to Min Chen with her back to Su Cha immediately turned around.

Even if she was old she had a pretty face. It was visibly well cared for. Unlike most women in Yonggu Town, she had a different temperament.

Seeing that face, it was hard to imagine such sharp words came from her mouth.

Her eyes and Min Chen's had some similarities, it was not hard to guess her identity.

Probably because she saw a student approaching, she smoothed her hair out with her nails and glanced over arrogantly.

Even if Su Cha's beauty was out of the ordinary, she seemed not to want to take a few more looks.

Seeing Su Cha's figure, Min Chen's numb face turned, without emotion in her eyes.

However, when Su Cha entered the office and asked for the principal, Min Chen's mother suddenly turned her head again.

At this moment, her eyes were locked on Su Cha, as if she hadn't seen her just now, she took a closer look and her brows slightly twitched.

Her reaction was very strange. Both the principal and Su Cha noticed, and both looked at Min Chen's mother, puzzled before they even spoke.

“Ms. Min, do you know...”

The principal smiled and tried to ask courteously, but before he finished speaking, Min Chen’s mother interrupted. “I don’t know!”

Compared to the harshness and sharpness just now, her tone of voice now was just full of pride and indifference, which was brought out by a natural sense of superiority, not just towards Su Cha, it could be seen that she was treated as an equal by the principal.

But Su Cha still keenly noticed that even though the woman said she didn’t know her, her gaze still fell on her several times.

This was Su Cha’s conclusion, but in her memory, Su Cha was quite sure that she didn’t know such a person.

Unless she watched the show “Dream in Progress”, but looking at her expression, she suspected she didn’t know her from TV.

She appeared calm and showed no expression.

Min Chen’s mother looked at Su Cha twice, pulled her Hermès scarf, and glared at Min Chen. “You remember to come home early!”

After she said this, she strutted off.

Walking with high heels, the loud click-clack sound carried with it arrogance, it was obvious she was no ordinary woman.

The principal also accompanied her and saw her to the door with a warm and respectful smile. “Ms. Min, please watch your step!”

Realising her mother was leaving, Min Chen didn’t look at her back view from the beginning to the end, and only hung her head, it was unclear what she was thinking.

Su Cha looked at her thoughtfully.

With just a few words, Su Cha suddenly understood Min Chen's behaviour. It seemed that the perfect genius girl from others' rumours wasn't as perfect as they thought.

At least her family wasn't.

Seeing the principal's attitude, Min Chen's family status was definitely not low, and her mother was no ordinary person, otherwise she would not be received with such enthusiasm by the principal. Min Chen's mother's attitude was horrible from beginning to end.

Towards rumours regarding Min Chen's household, Su Cha had some understanding.

"Student Su Cha."

When the principal returned, there was no lingering embarrassment from other parents' outrage. He smiled and said, "Your reward will be transferred to you after you sign for it. The Education Bureau needs you to sign a confirmation document."
