

The Queen 191

Chapter 191: With A Rhythm

After she sent the text message, her face fell.

If not for what happened in her first life, perhaps she would really accept this Mr Su.

It's a pity that there was no if.

The tragic ending of her first life was there, becoming a scar in her heart that could never be removed.

And without going through it, she simply could not have the ability to return to life, nor could she get the top spot or know how to fight back.

She would live with Mr Su's indifference and his accidental control all her life, and never know herself.

Her life was meaningless.

Most importantly, from then on, the only person she could not let down, was Bo Muyi.

Who else needed so much care from her?

The text was like a boundary, drawn clearly.

Mr Su was her father. After all, he had raised her for so many years.

However, there was only responsibility between them now, and nothing else.

He could also live his family life with Gu Yanfang. For so many years, he did not miss her.

After the text message was sent, there was no reply for a long time.

Pausing slightly, Su Cha got up and began to pack.

She had booked a ticket to return to Yonggu Town today.

Although it was very close, after all, across the province, Su Cha took a direct flight.

As for his biological parents, Su Cha didn't have much idea.

She felt that she could put herself in the hands of Sufu. She had already explained the reason side by side. At least 80% of the reason was that she did not want to return to her previous life.

Because she experienced too many things, she now has no expectation for her parents. Even if there is a biological parent, she is not prepared to spend any effort to find, everything is natural.

Even if she can't find it in her life, it is enough for her to live by herself.

Even if there are many mists in front of her, she can only wait for the time to dial away one by one. Now she is eager to figure it out, and it will only disrupt her current rhythm and become a mess.

Finally reborn, her main goal is to make herself better, not to worry.

At noon, when she just got on the plane, she saw Le Anqi sending herself a WeChat message.

Angel: MMP Su Cha, you go to the official website to see the interview of the man on the 30th, it's almost! ! She deliberately takes you in rhythm! !

Su Cha frowned, but now the plane was about to take off. The announcement was urging shutdown or turning on the flight mode. She hesitated and sent a message to Le Anqi.

Sucha: I'm on the plane now, I'll be there in about an hour, and I'll watch it later.

With that said, she turned on flight mode.

The plane quickly reached Yonggu City, and Su Cha turned on her phone as soon as it landed.

Le Angel: Ahhhhhh, wait until you arrive

Le Anqi: I admire why there are such women. She is obviously intentional. Many netizens also said that she looks so simple, just a fart!

Le Anqi: Why doesn't she say Jin Eye! Can't you bother Jin Jin?

She could see that Le Anqi was very excited and sent her several messages in a row.

Su Cha doesn't know what the contestant said during the interview, but it's not good to think about it.

Otherwise, Le Anqi would not be excited like this. She walked out of the airport and went to the official website of the program group.

Chapter 192: Su Cha's Not Easy To Get Close To

The video from the previous interviews were released today.

Several popular contestants had been interviewed at the time, so they were all compiled together in one video.

Su Cha clicked on the interview video, and watched it once through.

After watching it, she knew why Le Anqi was so agitated.

The videos were sequenced according to their ranking number. There was no problem with the sequence, but with the duration of the videos.

Since Su Cha's interview was simple, the program team uploaded the full version of the interview. She looked as refined as gold, and even had a nonchalant expression. When she mentioned Jin Mou as her favourite contestant, her expression didn't change at all.

In the comments, many netizens thought that Su Cha was being fake, or looking down on others, hence casually mentioning a contestant's name.

But some people thought that Su Cha was really cool.

Both praise and mockery were not Su Cha's concern. The main reason each contestant's interview length varied was in order to express themselves. Of course they spoke a whole lot of nonsense. Mona was a typical representation of this. What they said wasn't really nonsense, but they wanted to occupy more time.

Jin Mou had the same style as Su Cha. Unexpectedly, the contestant that Jin Mou said she liked (appreciated) was also Su Cha.

She also gave a reason. "Because she not only sings well, she also has good grades."

Speaking of this, Jin Mou, who appeared cold in the video, actually smiled, "I like good academic performance."

The comments section exploded with LOL's.

Compared to Su Cha's indifference, Jin Mou's answer was very good. At least, many people thought that Jin Mou was particularly cute.

Su Cha also could see that Jin Mou said this sincerely.

She thought about it. When they were interviewed, their college entrance examination scores hadn't come out yet. Jin Mou shouldn't know her academic achievements at that time, so obviously, this interview video of her was added on at a later time.

She got special treatment.

But Su Cha didn't care, her eyes were on contestant no. 30 Dong Yishan.

This was a girl with a similar style to Le Anqi – lively and cute. Compared with Le Anqi, Su Cha thought it was a fifty/fifty.

It was not to cheer Le Anqi or devalue this girl. In terms of appearance, Su Cha felt that Le Anqi still needed to win a point.

Because Dong Yishan's ability and popularity were average, Su Cha was really not very concerned, but what she said in the interview was intriguing.

“Ah... My favorite contestant? Actually I think I have several favourites, Sister Mona! And Sister Jin. As for Sister Su Cha and Sister Anqi... Hahaha they are both younger than me! Huh? Whom I think is the best? Did you just dig a hole for me to jump into?!”

Dong Yishan in the video covered her mouth and rocked with laughter, and her crescent-shaped eyes looked particularly attractive and charming, making her seem really pure and lively. “I think they are excellent, but when comparing, I think I can talk about their style. I prefer Sister Mona's performance on stage. She's really hot and charismatic! I'm rooting for her...”

As she spoke, her tone suddenly changed. “Sister Su Cha, off and on the stage, she is very cold, she's not easy to get close to...Sister Anqi also dances rather cutely...”

When she finished, she also flashed an innocent smile.

In the comments, many netizens did not notice the trap in her speech, and all spoke of her cuteness. Of course, this type of person had more people gagging at her words, many viewers left good comments, but laughed disgustedly.

Chapter 193: Cold? Or Bad-tempered?

The viewers congregated to spit fire. Every contestant was insulted, even if they did not do anything notable.

In almost everyone's interviews, someone would randomly stand up and speak nonsense, this was nothing. But Dong Yishan's words made Su Cha squint.

She was cold on and off stage, and not easy to get close to?

It was a fact that her temperament was a little cold now. As for being difficult to get close to, she at least acknowledged when someone spoke to her. Unless it was someone like Mona who had offended her directly.

She had no special interaction with Dong Yishan. The girl greeted her at the time and she responded with a light smile.

Turning her back, she said that she was hard to get close to, even comparing her to Mona.

Her intentions were clearly sinister.

There were celebrities whose selling point was their coldness, but in general, in the entertainment circle people should only be cold and imposing in appearance. When faced with the viewers they should still show their amicable, friendly side.

Called out for being someone “hard to get close to” was the same as being called bad-tempered.

Coldness and bad temper were two different things.

She had a bad temper which caused people to not dare to approach her easily. This was what Dong Yishan meant.

No wonder Le Anqi said that Dong Yishan was sensationalising Su Cha. She wanted the viewers to think Su Cha had a bad temper.

Perhaps some of the audience would ignore it, but some would really think it was true.

Judging from Su Cha’s own performance, they would definitely think that Dong Yishan is speaking fact.

Su Cha remembered that Dong Yishan and Mona were in a group. When the competition had just begun, she couldn’t be bothered if she flattered Mona, but she shouldn’t have compared her to others.

There was a fact. When Dong Yishan greeted Jin Mou, Jin Mou didn’t even respond.

When she didn't mention Jin Mou, but only Su Cha, her intentions were obvious. She was picking her targets well.

Jin Mou was fortunate to have her family background – she didn't dare to mess with it.

She wanted to create hype that dragged others down, and picked Su Cha.

Of course, to the program team, this was not a big deal. For those who proactively engaged in such hype, they would definitely not delete these words.

A delicate smile bloomed on the face of the exquisite and beautiful girl, but it seemed to stop on the surface. It always made people feel that there was a surging undercurrent, subconsciously causing fear.

Dong Yishan?

Who knew where this clown jumped came from. Perhaps if she didn't know her privately she wouldn't bother much about her, but now that she publicly sensationalised her in the program, things were different.

She squinted. She didn't plan to take action for now.

The last round of eliminating twenty to ten had not begun, the 29th was important. Now, Su Cha was not anxious, and instead started on her embroidery beside her.

Though Su Cha was not anxious, Le Anqi was even more so.

As soon as the interview video came out the competitors from the district of Yonggu Town were not very popular. There were still some fans, but their discussions were mediocre.

The focus was on what was said in the interview. As expected, Dong Yishan's mention of Su Cha being hard to get close to and being cold made some viewers feel that Su Cha had a bad temper.

Now a small group of fans have started to build fanbases in private, and they have created discussions for Su Cha on Weibo and Tieba. Although there were not many active people, only about two hundred in total, it was the same for other contestants. Mona was undoubtedly the most popular.

At this time, fans should discuss Su Cha's performance, but under the subtopic about Su Cha, some fans made the following remarks.

Hey, she's an academic genius, being cold and hard to get close to is normal

Seeing the appearance of our Su Cha, I don't think it's that surprising?

Young lady Cha should be taking on the image of a cold person in the future I suppose? Supporting a cold idol is the most exhausting

Mother fxxker who cares about what other contestants say, does Su Cha have Weibo, does she?!

Chapter 194: Ah, Su Cha, You've Become Bad!

Most of the fans were still at peace but the discussions outside were more intense.

Every contestant in this season does not seem simple, especially this Su Cha...

I like Mona better, I don't know who owed this Su Cha 5 million, she's so capable yet doesn't care for people around her!

Reasonably speaking, I think Su Cha's stage presence is quite good, and she's quite adorable on stage? Her last love song was explosively cute, this can be considered reversed cutesy right?

Oh, I think she must have had cosmetic surgery

Why does everyone talk about Su Cha but not Jin Mou? Jin Mou is also very cold...

I'm taking my Jin Mou without saying anything, please don't drag others down together!

I think this woman's fame is quite something!

Talking about Su Cha, must whatever this Dong Yishan says be the truth? In any case, Su Cha is the champion, her singing is amazing, she has great hard power, it's not something this group of peasants can step on!

By this time, most of the contestants were on the Internet to check each other's standings. After all, Yonggu Town's district was not outstanding.

But signs of fanbases tearing each other apart had already started to appear.

Passerbys, fans and haters were caught in a messy war. Even at this time and although Jin Mou said that she liked Su Cha, the fans who supported her didn't seem to.

Because of Dong Yishan's words, many audience members dragged Jin Mou down, saying she was similar to Su Cha, which made fans uncomfortable.

At this time, there were still not too many fans speaking out. Including Su Cha's fans, who did not stand out to defend her.

Su Cha's strength was very great. Her natural singing skill was outstanding among the contestants. If her hard power was strong, the fans of other contestants would see and they understood in their hearts and inevitably felt conflicted.

After all, she was the rival of their idols.

Le Anqi was angered upon seeing this, and spoke up for Su Cha while on live broadcast, expressing, "Our Su Cha is dazzling!"

Although her fans expressed support, her live broadcast was picked out by other contestants. Seeing her stand up for Su Cha, they felt that she was targeting Dong Yishan. For a time, Dong Yishan's fans quarreled with Le Anqi.

Dong Yishan's fanbase was not able to do anything to Le Anqi now. Le Anqi also fanned the flames among her fans. These few days before the finals had even begun, the district's forum was already banned from the official website.

In addition to a few popular regions, this year Yonggu Town district was the first to be banned.

Le Anqi also called Su Cha to notify her. After Su Cha found out, she expressed her disagreement. "Anqi, you are too impulsive. I know you did it for me, but you have to remember that you are now participating in the program. To enter the entertainment world, you can't take action for this kind of thing on your own, people can screenshot this and put you to death in the future."

Su Cha had never been in the circle before, but the strategies she learned in the court could not be compared to these people. Especially for Le Anqi in such a public place in the group, with just a screenshot, her life might turn upside down.

"I know I know, I used my own subaccounts, not many fans know it is me."

Le Anqi was still witty, Su Cha directly replied, "As long as someone knows there is a risk."

Not many. But that is also a few.

Le Anqi stuck out her tongue over the phone, and seemed to be able to imagine Su Cha frowning. "But Su Cha, you said you can't take action on your own, would we have to become fish in muddy water? Ah, Su Cha, you've become bad!"

Su Cha: "..."

She felt that Le Anqi's language standards were not very good.

Chapter 195: Embroidery Unionists

Aside from the lively treasure Le Anqi, Su Cha's embroidery app on Meiyin had begun to have new developments.

She had only posted three videos. It was still trending after being recommended by customers, but some commented under her video that the embroidered clothes she sold were truly expensive, sarcastically ridiculing her.

Su Cha didn't care in the least.

Many could send private messages to the creator of the videos if they were interested in them. Su Cha too often received private messages, but most of them were harassment messages and were meaningless.

But today Su Cha saw a rather strange message.

Qing Douchu opened a private chat: "Hello, may I ask if the embroidery you used in the video belongs to that of Cloud embroidery, or is it of the five famous embroidery names? I am a member of the Imperial Capital Embroidery Union. Can you leave your contact details for communication?"

When she first saw this private message, Su Cha was not surprised.

Her embroidery technique was not hidden and she knew it would soon attract attention.

Tang embroidery was considered an extinct embroidery type. It was different from the embroidery method still circulating today. Sooner or later, it would be noticed by experts.

It was normal to want to contact Su Cha.

Su Cha thought for a while and returned a WeChat message to the other party.

At present, she did not intend to reveal her true identity. She could still discuss with others to find out how many embroidery methods had been handed down in China and what the current pattern of embroidery was like.

After all, Su Cha only learned embroidery in ancient times. She still didn't know much about the embroidery technology in modern society.

Su Cha was currently working on her fourth embroidery work. The finals were about to begin on the 29th so Su Cha had already begun altering a piece of clothing she had bought a few days back.

She embroidered a little squirrel holding a pine nut on the side waist of the clothing.

The area of this squirrel was not small, especially since the animal lines were more complicated, but it was not difficult for the current Su Cha.

When the time came, she would wear this dress to the finals.

In the evening, an unfamiliar number added Su Cha on WeChat, and the verification message left by the other party was the Meiyin account Qing Douchu.

Su Cha acknowledged the verification, and the other party's message reached quickly.

Ya Yazhou: Hello! Is this S who uploads embroidery videos on Meiyin?

Cha Yi: Yes, hello

Ya Yazhou: It's really you! hello, I'm too excited! I have watched all your embroidery videos at this point, I am also good at embroidery, but I am not part of Cloud embroidery, I belong to Suzhou embroidery, but I am also familiar with other embroidery methods and styles. I feel your style is quite different from what I've seen so far, the 3D rendering effect especially is amazing. If you don't mind, can you tell which type you belong to? Are you currently in a union?

Cha Yi: I did not join an Embroidery Union. As for the style I belong to, I don't know if you will believe it. I am using Tang embroidery that has been lost in China.

There were no notifications for quite a while, and it was not until a long time before another message was sent.

Ya Yazhou: Tang Embroidery?!!!

Ya Yazhou: That should be impossible!!

Ya Yazhou: I'm sorry I may have been too excited, daring to ask about the lost art of Tang Embroidery. Where did you learn it from?

Cha Yi: It's a coincidence, I'm sorry I can't say it now, it's personal privacy. I guess if you can not distinguish whether my skill is Tang Embroidery, you can get confirmation from an expert.
