

The Queen 276

Chapter 276: Preemption

Bo Muyi's gaze never left Su Cha. However, because he was busy with work, he had to go out for a while. When he came back, the competition was almost over.

All he got to see was a girl in the crowd talking to Su Cha with a dejected look on her face.

Bo Muyi narrowed his eyes.

Although she was a girl, she was standing very close to Su Cha. One side of her body appeared to have brushed against Su Cha's shoulder for an instant. Bo Muyi felt uncomfortable with her intimate posture.

He gripped his fist tightly, his deep eyes exuding an abyss-like aura that could make one shudder.

Le Anqi felt uneasy all of a sudden.

"What's wrong?"

Su Cha was originally listening to Le Anqi's complaints. As Le Anqi did not pass, she was destined to be in that position.

Although the situation was within her expectations, Le Anqi could not help but feel a little defeated. She leaned against Su Cha's side and sighed for a while. She was clearly crying, but no tears were shed even after a long time, which was funny.

Le Anqi suddenly had a serious look on her face. Su Cha asked after her at once, and Le Anqi shook her head. "I don't know, I felt a chill down my spine..."

She felt uncomfortable.

Su Cha was baffled. She felt the air conditioner and said, "Maybe the air conditioner is too cold."

Le Anqi: "...Really? I think it's just the right temperature..."

Her heart turned cold.

She suddenly shivered. "Do you think that some pervert has targeted me through the TV? Perhaps he's thinking I'm as beautiful as a flower and wants to kill me as a memento..."

Su Cha: "..."

Holding back her laughter, she knocked on Le Anqi's head. "Did you lose your mind because you didn't pass? It's just a matter of time before you have to prepare for the next round."

"Oh."

Le Anqi stuck out her tongue and sighed again.

She did not pass the first time around. How tragic!

...

After the competition, Su Cha and Le Anqi went back together.

However, the two of them parted ways halfway.

Su Cha crushed her long since crushed WeChat contact slip into pieces and threw it into the bin. She did not even want to look at it.

Su Cha was happy that she got first place. Now that she had directly made it to the Top 50 in the country, she did not have to compete anymore.

It was already a little late when she arrived home. After all, the competition had ended late.

She was excited and could not wait to share the happy news with Bo Muye.

When she reached home, the sky was already dark. The entire Lookout Pavilion was brightly lit, but the place where they lived was quiet and without a single light on.

This was strange.

Even if Bo Muyi had not come back yet, the servants always turned on the lights for her. Something like this had never happened before.

She walked into the room and felt someone...

Through her enhanced vision, she saw and felt a familiar aura.

However, the man's gloomy and irritable aura made her feel that he was in a bad mood.

Su Cha thought about it carefully. She did not offend him today.

When the man in the shadows moved slightly, Su Cha attacked first. "You scared me."

The man who had not been able to vent his anger immediately apologized, "I'm sorry, Cha Cha..."

Chapter 277: Just a While

Hearing his apology, Su Cha walked over. In the darkness, she accurately grabbed the man's palm. "Are you in a bad mood today?"

She remembered that he was normal when she went out this morning.

"I saw you on the show live," the man answered directly. "Who was the one leaning on your shoulder?"

When he said this, his voice became gloomy, as if the girl who leaned on Su Cha's shoulder had committed a grave crime.

It was also because of this that he could not even be bothered to say the word “girl.”

Su Cha suddenly understood. Was he referring to Le Anqi?

“Anqi is my classmate. She joined the show with me and we have a good relationship. Isn’t it normal for friends to be close?”

Holding Bo Mui’s hand, she felt around for the light switches and then waited for the lights to turn on.

The whole room lit up.

The bright light shone on the man’s face. Due to the angle, the light seemed to have been cut into pieces and scattered on his face. His face was illuminated by the light, making his expression unclear.

The only thing she could feel was his aura.

There was a light fragrance that had a similar quality to his voice. When it entered her lungs, it filled it with coldness, one that seemed to seep through her limbs and bones.

“I don’t like it.”

Bo Mui hugged her and pulled her into his arms.

She was clearly about 1.7 meters tall, but right now, she looked like a delicate little girl. After getting her to sit on his lap, the man rested his forehead on her neck and said in a low voice, “I just don’t like people approaching you. I don’t like that anyone can touch you, no matter who it is.”

He was a little gloomy. He should have said what he meant more directly.

But he said it that way because he was worried that Su Cha would not like it and that she would be angry.

As far as he was concerned, Su Cha was his and no one else could touch her. Although he knew that was unrealistic, he thought that she should at least not let him see it.

“But I can’t...”

The girl hugged him back and gently kissed his cheek. “I will work with a lot of people in the future. The makeup artist can apply makeup on my face, but I will definitely not let irrelevant people touch me. I don’t like it either.”

She would not like anyone to be overly intimate with her, be it male or female.

For example, Le Anqi only held her arm occasionally. She was not as intimate as other girls. She could tell that Su Cha disliked such contact.

Bo Mui lowered his eyes and hugged Su Cha quietly, feeling slightly better.

Su Cha’s body was fragrant. Her entire body smelled good. Every day, he just wanted to hug her and not get up.

As he sniffed the air, his movements suddenly became cautious. From Su Cha’s neck to her cheek, his originally quiet fingers became restless as he crawled into her clothes.

Su Cha shrank her neck and patted Bo Mui’s back. “I haven’t had dinner.”

After the competition ended, she went home directly. She did not have time to prepare anything and had not even eaten dinner yet. Naturally, she was a little hungry.

Bo Mui, who was a little infatuated, hummed, “Shall we go and eat later?”

His voice was deep and husky at this moment. When he spoke with such a clear voice, it was as if he had grabbed the tip of her heart, causing her to be restless.

Su Cha's restrained body also softened. "Just a while..."

Bo Muyi chuckled and placed Su Cha gently on the bed. "Okay, just a while."

Chapter 278: Is This Woman Crazy?

It was indeed just a short while.

While the two of them were in a trance, Su Cha's phone suddenly rang.

That ringtone was usually pleasing to the ears, but in Bo Muyi's eyes, it was no different from the most unpleasant noise. Not only was it ear-piercing, but it also had an additional attribute that made one's mood irritable.

Blue veins popped on his forehead. The moment his phone rang, he felt the urge to smash it.

Su Cha was pressed under him. Her eyes were originally misty, but when she heard the ring, she regained consciousness.

Her eyes regained their calmness. Su Cha turned from within his arms and tried to reach for her phone. "Maybe it's something important."

Very few people knew about her phone number since she was yet to announce it to others.

Le Anqi knew that she lived at her boyfriend's house. She would usually send WeChat messages and not make calls.

Most of the other contacts were on WeChat. Only a few could contact her straight on her mobile phone.

Bo Muyi wanted to push Su Cha back, but his tone was stubborn and domineering. "Hang it up!"

Su Cha rolled her eyes. Under Bo Muyi's fierce gaze, she took her phone and looked at the number. It was an unfamiliar one.

She did not know who was calling, but she picked it up.

Seeing that he was helpless, Bo Mui lowered his body and leaned on Su Cha to listen.

Su Cha answered the call and said softly, "Hello."

"Hello!"

It was a slightly flippant male voice.

Su Cha was not the only one who was confused. Bo Mui narrowed his eyes fiercely the moment he heard the man's voice. His entire body tensed up.

Su Cha quickly pressed his head to the side of her neck, but he did not move.

"You are?"

Su Cha frowned. She did not know the man's voice, but she guessed that he was not from the production crew.

"We just met on stage, did you forget so quickly?"

The man pretended to be sad and seemed to be in disbelief. "I'm Zi You. Didn't you add me on WeChat?"

Su Cha: "..."

Bo Mui heard everything clearly.

She'd felt on the stage that this person was seeking, and now he even called her directly.

He had announced her name without saying anything else, which had made her into a target.

However, Su Cha was also disgusted by this person's harassment. As he was a judge, Su Cha did not go overboard. "I'm sorry, I don't think I need to add you."

Even if this person was the emperor, she would not add him if she was unhappy with him.

"Hehe, can't you give me some face?"

Hearing Su Cha's blunt rejection, Zi You felt bad.

Ever since he became famous, he had constantly been praised by others. Even the seniors in the industry would give him some face. In addition, he knew how to behave well, so he was considered a good person in the industry. Su Cha was the first person who showed him such disrespect.

"I gave you a good score today. Can't we chat on WeChat?"

He sounded impatient. He just wanted to seduce Su Cha because she was pretty, but he did not expect her to not take the bait at all.

He had been waiting for a long time on WeChat, but there was no news. He directly asked the production crew for Su Cha's number and called her without any consideration. Su Cha did not want to add him.

Su Cha no longer had the patience to argue with him. She did not even want to give him face. "Even without your ten points, I could still have gotten first place. You think too highly of yourself."

With that, Su Cha hung up.

Zi You: "..."

Chapter 279: I Have Something to Do

This was the first time that someone hung up on him.

Seeing Zi You's ugly expression, the assistant asked cautiously, "What's wrong, Brother Zi You?"

“F*ck, I even called that woman with the surname Su. How dare she hang up on me? I’ve been in the circle for so long, but I’ve never met someone so arrogant.”

Not only was Zi You criticizing Su Cha behind her back, but he was also scolding her.

The assistant at the side found it hard to explain.

Although Zi You was known as a handsome, pretty man and often acted cute on shows, he was actually a very good person in private.

Although the assistant did not know what Su Cha was thinking, it was definitely not a good thing for her to be targeted by a judge. He could not help but sympathize with her.

She was too beautiful.

The atmosphere was tense.

After hanging up, Su Cha could only hear Bo Muye’s heavy breathing.

He did not speak first. Su Cha thought for a while and said, “This person was our judge during the competition today.”

“I know.”

Bo Muye suddenly stood up and looked at Su Cha with a deep gaze. Even though he tried his best to suppress his anger in front of Su Cha, it was still a little intimidating.

Although Su Cha did not feel this way, she could not tell what Bo Muye would do.

“Cha Cha, you can go eat.”

Suddenly, the man got up and asked Su Cha to have dinner.

Su Cha also sat up, puzzled. "What about you? Aren't you going to accompany me?"

"I'm here. I'm not going anywhere."

Bo Muyi kissed Su Cha on the forehead. "I'll get someone from the kitchen to serve you food. I have something to do."

"..."

Su Cha could guess what Bo Muyi was up to.

This man was clearly angry. He would never ignore the call just now.

However, Su Cha did not plan to.

This Zi You was indeed seeking death. He should know that some people were not people he could flirt with as he wished. It was fine if he could, but if he could not yet still tried to, that made him a lowlife.

Judging from that person's tone, Su Cha guessed that he would find trouble with her if she hung up so straightforwardly.

Since that was the case, Bo Muyi should act on it.

She remained silent and waited for the kitchen to serve the dishes. Then, she started eating quietly. Bo Muyi went to the study room and made a phone call. He came out soon after.

His expression relaxed as he sat down to eat with Su Cha.

After Su Cha finished eating, she returned to the bedroom and saw that Ya Yazhou from the Embroidery Union had sent her a message.

Ya Yazhou: “Are you there?”

Su Cha saw what was coming and did not avoid it.

Cha Yi: “I am here.”

Ya Yazhou: “That’s great. It’s like this, cough, maybe you really think it will be very abrupt, but I wanted to ask, if we can’t meet, can you give me a phone number? My teacher wants to discuss some questions with you.”

Cha Yi: “If anything’s the matter, you can say it. My number is not convenient for strangers.”

Ya Yazhou: “...I’ll ask my teacher. I can ask her to add you on WeChat.”

Cha Yi: “Sure.”

After that much had been said, Su Cha did not refuse.

Although she did not know what the Embroidery Union members were thinking, it was not a big deal to chat with them. Besides, they were also participating in the competition, so Su Cha did not have much time to deal with other matters.

Chapter 280: Self-inflicted

The next day, Su Cha found out what Bo Muyi had done.

As Le Anqi had just woken up, she gave Su Cha a rare call. “Oh my god! Su Cha, did you know something big has happened to our production crew?”

Her tone was full of surprise and fear, which made Su Cha, who had just woken up, feel a headache. “Anqi, take your time and speak slowly, okay? No matter how serious it is, as long as the production crew doesn’t say that it’s over, it’s not a big deal.”

“...” Le Anqi choked and continued, “It’s not that bad, but wasn’t there a Zi You among the judges of our production crew yesterday? He’s currently very popular. Something big has happened! When I woke up this morning, my classmates’ group had exploded!”

After spending a second to digest Le Anqi's words, Su Cha immediately thought of Bo Mui's call.

Thinking of this, Su Cha curled her lips. What a petty man.

She lifted the blanket and got up. As she prepared to wash up, she asked leisurely, “What happened?”

She was not in a hurry to read the news. A gossip expert could tell her everything right here.

“He's got a patron! Actually, he's got an entire harem of them. He really knows how to play!”

“Puff...”

Even Su Cha almost spat out a mouthful of water when she heard the reason. “Did he get photographed?”

“That's right, and it's all because of last night. It's been some time since then, and even the matter about him having a sugar daddy got blown up. He has both men and women... The entire Weibo has exploded, you know? The production crew sent an emergency notice this morning to stop filming for a day and to notify us tonight. Now that such a thing has happened, there's definitely going to be a change in the judges.”

Le Anqi's tone was full of disbelief. “My god, Su Cha, when I saw him in person yesterday, did you know that I thought he was quite handsome? I didn't expect him to be so loose...”

As she spoke, she could not help but feel disgusted.

Everyone knew about the messy business within the entertainment industry, but it was rare for such chaos to be brought to light. If Zi You was exposed, he must have offended someone.

“Is he handsome?” Su Cha thought for a while. “I don't think he's good-looking. He's quite greasy...”

“Is that the main point?” Le Anqi was shocked. “Su Cha, your focus is really off-target. Something must have happened to him, right? I think my classmates are speculating that Zi You has offended someone. The entertainment industry being what it is, there would usually be a buffer period for news like that to be released. But after a media outlet exposed it, several marketing accounts also exposed the unspoken truths about Zi You. His abandonment of his first girlfriend was also dug up.

“It seems like whoever did it wants to torture Zi You to death. His fans have gone crazy now, especially his teammates’ fans. I heard that they went to the main entrance of the company to cancel him and kick him out of the group. They don’t want him to drag the other members down.”

Sometimes, Le Anqi was really spot-on.

Bo Muyi would definitely kill Zi You.

And here Su Cha had been thinking that she would have to use some trickery. Now, it seemed that Zi You was completely black...

That would have been fine if nothing had happened to him. But now that something had happened, it turned out he was hiding a huge pile of dirt. Since that got exposed, this was the end for him.

If he had not called her last night, this might not have happened.

He deserved it.
