

The Queen 351

Chapter 351: The Appearance of a King

Su Cha was surprised by what Jin Mou said and asked directly, “Where are your parents?”

“My parents are very busy. After visiting my sister, they went back.”

Jin Duan explained for Jin Mou while Jin Mou smiled helplessly.

Su Cha understood and did not ask further.

She’d planned to go back, but it was very late. It would be inconvenient for her to go back if Jin Duan did not send her back.

After hearing what Jin Mou had said, she felt that it would not be a problem for her to stay for a night.

She sat down to chat with Jin Mou, and Jin Duan got up and walked to the kitchen.

He knew his master’s personality very well. Since this was a critical period, their whereabouts should not be easily exposed. Why would he let an outsider like Su Cha stay over?

As he walked into the kitchen, he saw the old man preparing the dishes skillfully. Standing at the door, Jin Duan leaned his tall body against the door frame and asked in a low voice, “Master, why did you let her stay?”

The old man continued to prepare the dishes. They gave off the warm atmosphere of a home. However, the words that came out of his mouth were different from normal. “An auspicious sign implies a benefactor has come.”

“Benefactor?”

Jin Duan’s eyebrows twitched. “You mean her?”

The old man did not speak.

At this moment, Jin Duan became a little impatient. He wanted to take out a cigarette to smoke, but when he thought about the fact that he was in front of his master, he suppressed his impulse and said, “Master, she is just an ordinary person. She is a contestant who joined the competition with my sister. She cannot be involved in our matters.”

The old man paused and wiped the water off. “I spent a few years calculating and only got a result for the future of the Martial Union. Today, I have a guest here. No matter who it is, it must be our benefactor.”

Jin Duan could not contain his shock. “Master, how does she look like our benefactor? Ever since senior brother passed away, you...”

As if he was talking about something he should not have said, Jin Duan stood up straight and lowered his eyes. “Master, I’m sorry.”

The old man sighed. “Jin Duan, I do not have much time left. Your senior brother was killed by the people from the alliance, and the covenant between the three alliances was broken. If it wasn’t for the deadlock between the families, the war would have begun long ago. The future of the Star Union has to be entrusted to you. You are still too young, and you can’t control the rest of the Star Union. Whether she is the benefactor or not is no longer important. The most important thing is my deduction, even though there is no chance to prove it.”

Jin Duan’s lips trembled. “I don’t want the Alliance Master position. Master, we can think of a solution. The future Alliance Master of the Martial Union will not sit back and watch the people of the Killing Alliance be arrogant.”

“The Martial Union can’t even protect itself now. The Bo family is willful and will not give the Tang Sect any face. The election for the Martial Union’s Alliance Master is postponed. I don’t know when the results will be out.”

He placed the oil into the pot and started cooking while talking about something that would leave others dumbfounded. It could make one wonder if they were acting in a drama.

“Go. There has never been a problem with the Heaven Secrets Chapter’s deductions in the past hundreds of years. If she is really a noble, she must be extraordinary. Jin Duan, you are a police officer. You should know that it is impossible to judge a person based on their appearance. I knew that she was not ordinary at first glance.”

The old man paused for a moment. “Her footsteps are light and silent. Ordinary people can’t reach this stage. Look at her face, she has a dignified appearance. It’s impossible for just any woman to look like this.”

Jin Duan was puzzled. “What is it about her face?”

The old man: “The appearance of a king.”

Chapter 352: I Don’t Understand, I Don’t Want to Listen

Su Cha stayed for dinner.

Jin Duan’s master was surprisingly good at cooking. Even Su Cha, who was used to delicacies, was amazed.

It was really delicious.

His master did not like talking, and neither did Jin Duan. Since Jin Mou could not speak, Su Cha did not say anything either.

The entire dining table was filled with the sound of eating.

After the meal, Jin Mou took the initiative to clean up the dishes. Jin Duan also went into the kitchen to wash the dishes.

Su Cha stayed in the living room with the old man.

She did not feel awkward. She took out her phone and sent Bo Muyi a message.

She was embarrassed to video call him in front of others, so she sent him a message first.

While sending the message, the old man suddenly said slowly, “Your name is Su Cha, right?”

It was his first formal conversation with Su Cha tonight. Su Cha nodded. “Yes, my name is Su Cha.”

The old man nodded thoughtfully. “What a good name.”

Su Cha smiled and said, “Thank you for your compliment.”

This surprised the old man.

Usually, when people spoke of a topic like this, they would feel very awkward, as if they could not find the words to continue the conversation. But Su Cha went ahead with it naturally and smoothly, as if he was really praising her.

Girl, can’t you tell that I was just being perfunctory?

“You know Jin Mou because both of you are contestants in the same competition. But you seem to have known Jin Duan from even before?”

“Hmm?” Su Cha then relayed the story of how she met Jin Duan.

The old man narrowed his eyes when he heard Su Cha’s words. “So it’s related to Yonggu City?”

The place was neither big nor small.

The traitor from the Tang Sect had killed a person who passed by, but he did not expect that the person from the Bo family would have sent someone to kill him. This was the beginning of a troublesome matter.

However, Shi Wei never thought that this matter had something to do with the girl in front of him.

Shi Wei was the old man’s name.

Su Cha looked at the old man with a smile. “Old man, you also know about it? I’m one of the insiders. That person just so happened to die outside my window, so I was interrogated by the police the next day. Captain Jin came over to say that this matter was not under their jurisdiction for the time being, and that’s why I remembered Captain Jin. But I didn’t expect Captain Jin to be Jin Mou’s brother when I met him.”

Shi Wei vaguely felt that the girl in front of him had something more to say.

However, Jin Duan and Jin Mou had finished their work. Jin Mou smiled and dragged Su Cha away.

Su Cha followed Jin Mou into her room. Jin Duan stayed behind and whispered something to the old man.

After entering the room, Jin Mou found a new set of pajamas for Su Cha. After all, Su Cha suddenly wanted to stay and she did not bring any change of clothes. Naturally, she wanted to borrow Jin Mou’s clothes.

Su Cha received a reply from Bo Muye, but he did not comment on Su Cha’s stay with Jin Mou. Instead, he said, “Cha Cha, call me if a strange number calls you. Don’t pick it up.”

Su Cha paused when she saw that. Bo Muye’s words came out of nowhere. What did he mean by “don’t pick up a call from a strange number”?

Sometimes, Su Cha’s mobile phone would receive unfamiliar calls. Sometimes, it might be a call from someone in the circle. Su Cha could not determine if it was a strange number or not.

She thought for a while and called Bo Muye.

The call went through quickly. “Cha Cha, I’m a little busy...”

It was not an impatient tone, but since he had said so, he must be very busy. Su Cha quickly said, “I’m sorry, I’ll call you again later...”

“Cha Cha, don’t hang up. Listen to me.”

Su Cha: "..."

She did not understand what was going on so she did not really want to listen.

Chapter 353: Did Someone Call You?

Over the phone, Bo Muyi was talking about work. Su Cha put on her earphones and chatted with Jin Mou.

Jin Mou looked at her interface and typed with a smile: [Are you chatting with me while still being in a phone call?]

Su Cha shook her head and laughed. "He's talking about work. I don't understand, but he refused to let me hang up."

When she said this, there was a rare gentleness in her voice. There was also a hint of helplessness and affection.

Jin Mou rarely saw this girl showing such an expression.

In her memory, the first time she saw Su Cha, she thought that she was similar to her.

She was tall and cold, but her coldness was different from Jin Mou's. Su Cha's coldness seemed to be natural, making people feel that that's the way she was.

Other than that, she also gave off a strong aura. When Su Cha lowered her eyes and spoke, Jin Mou felt that she was an especially noble person.

She would respond politely to other people's greeting, but there were others who could not dare to approach her.

Back then, Jin Mou thought that like her, she had put on a cold and aloof appearance because she was too irritated with social events in the outside world. But Su Cha was not that way. She was really cold to the core.

But there were times when she would think that Su Cha was a very cute person.

Like now, for instance. This was a very rare occurrence for Jin Mou. What kind of man could make Su Cha reveal such an expression?

He must be very outstanding.

Jin Mou felt that Su Cha had a good taste.

While Jin Mou found their interaction amusing, she also felt a sense of happiness that did not require words to prove.

Jin Mou was two years older than Su Cha. She was also at that age where she was looking forward to romance. She smiled and continued typing: [Actually, I also hope that I can be as happy as you in the future.]

Su Cha smiled and touched Jin Mou's hair. "Yes, you will be."

Hearing Su Cha's words, Jin Mou smiled happily.

Even if she seemed to be fine, the fact that she could not participate in the competition due to her vocal injury was a huge blow to her. Hence, it was better for her to do something that would make her happy.

Bo Mui was talking about work on the phone. He spoke in English and had no accent. Even ordinary words sounded elegant and noble when he said it.

His voice was pleasing to the ears.

He spoke smoothly and quickly. Many of the words were professional terms. Although Su Cha had been working hard to learn English since she was reborn and often listened to English radio dramas, she could barely understand what he was saying right now. She had to work out the general meaning with difficulty. Su Cha felt that she still needed to work hard.

Su Cha only heard Bo Mui's usual voice when she was almost done chatting with Jin Mou. "Hello, Cha Cha."

Su Cha grabbed her phone. As it had been too long, it was already hot.

“Yes, I’m here.”

The girl’s quick response and gentle tone made the man’s slightly exhausted body relax. He had just talked a lot about work, and his heart was exhausted. However, when he heard Su Cha’s voice, he could feel that the exhaustion was gradually fading.

“What are you doing?”

Since Su Cha had started to chat with Bo Muyi, Jin Mou picked up the tablet and watched TV. Su Cha glanced at Jin Mou and chuckled. “Nothing. I was just chatting with Jin Mou. I will stay here tonight.”

“Oh?”

Bo Muyi frowned when he heard that Su Cha wanted to stay at Jin Mou’s place. He thought about it and said mysteriously, “Did anyone call you?”

Chapter 354: Then Go Back

Once again, Su Cha heard him talk about that.

It was just an unexplained message before. Now that he’d said it again, Su Cha felt that something might have happened. She said, “You’ve been talking to me. No one else can call.”

Although she could pick up the caller ID on the phone if someone did, no one called Su Cha.

“Just make sure you don’t.”

Su Cha felt that Bo Muyi’s intention was obvious, so obvious that she had to ask, “Is there something going on? Why would someone call me?”

Bo Muyi was silent for a while. Then, Su Cha heard the sounds of people packing their things and Bai Kun’s respectful tone.

Probably after getting up and starting to walk, Bo Mui said, "It's nothing special."

Su Cha: "..."

Su Cha could not ask about the past, but it was obvious that Bo Mui wanted her to ask.

She did not know whether to laugh or cry. "Mui, just tell me what happened."

Bo Mui said casually, "Cha Cha, do you still remember your biological parents? They might already know about your existence."

Su Cha: "..."

She did not expect this to happen.

She asked, "And?"

Her biological parents knew about her existence.

But she did not seem to care.

"Cha Cha, have you forgotten that you are participating in a show? If you appear on TV, many people will notice you."

Bo Mui vaguely hinted at Su Cha, "Do you think I look like my parents?"

Why else would he say she'd been noticed while appearing on TV?

She raised her eyebrows. "So you're saying that they might call me?"

"Cha Cha, if they call you, you can choose not to pick it up. They might make you go back to them, and then you will have to be separated from me. You will not do that, right?"

So it was because of this.

Bo Mui felt that her biological parents might take Su Cha back when they came for her, so Su Cha would have to leave the Lookout Pavilion.

Hence, Bo Mui did not want her to pick up calls from strange numbers.

If this was in the past, Bo Mui would have definitely been reluctant to say such words. Now, however, Su Cha felt that Bo Mui did not seem to care about this matter as he appeared indifferent and calm.

So she smiled and said directly, “Why do I feel that this is not the real reason?”

She heard the car honking and the sound of the car door closing. Then, Bo Mui’s clear laughter could be heard. “I can’t hide anything from you, Cha Cha. But I won’t tell you right now. There will be something fun in the future. Would you want to go back to them?” he asked seriously.

Su Cha thought for a while and frowned. “No.”

She hesitated for a moment and thought about something. Even though she was not so decisive, she still spoke decisively.

Bo Mui’s smile blossomed instantly, like that of a seductive demon. His smile was so enchanting that even the driver took a second look at him. He complained in his heart that the young master was indeed a monster. When he smiled, his smile was deadly. And Miss Su, who could make the young master smile like this, was also a monster...

“I’m relieved to hear that.”

He was very happy and whispered gently, “But it doesn’t matter. If they asked you to go back, you can go back.”

Su Cha was stunned.

Chapter 355: Your Biological Parents Might Know About You

Su Cha felt that something was amiss.

When did this person become so easy to talk to?

When she had to move to the dormitory, he would not agree until he had left the country.

Now, if her biological parents came for her and asked to take her back, he actually said that she was free to do so?

There was nothing more hilarious than this.

Su Cha raised her eyebrows. "If you say so, I will act accordingly."

Of course, that was impossible. She did not even know her parents.

"But who do you think my parents are?"

She had always known that Bo Muyi might know about it.

Only she was clueless about this matter. Bo Muyi seemed to know the answer very well.

"It doesn't matter who they are."

Bo Muyi chuckled. "What matters is what you think."

Su Cha narrowed her eyes. She had a feeling that Bo Muyi was up to something else.

She looked at the time and saw that it was late.

There also seemed to be something on Bo Muyi's side. After Su Cha ended the call, Jin Mou turned around with an unconcealable surprise in her eyes.

She typed: [Your parents?]

She did not intend to listen on purpose, but she was by Su Cha's side and Jin Mou could not help hearing her clearly. Su Cha was talking about her parents.

She did not know Su Cha very well. Judging from her tone, Su Cha did not seem to know who her parents were. Didn't she have a father?

Seeing Jin Mou's question, Su Cha nodded and said directly, "My father is actually my foster father. I was raised by him. I don't know who my biological parents are, but I've been told that they might have found me and are planning to look for me."

Jin Mou's eyes lit up. [That's a good thing. Is there anything better than being able to reunite with biological parents?]

Su Cha smiled and said nothing.

To others, this might be a good thing, but Su Cha vaguely felt that something was wrong.

When she first came to the Imperial Capital, she had not figured out what her intention was. Moreover, that was the first time she'd left her hometown in 18 years. Yet as soon as she arrived in the Imperial Capital, her biological parents popped up.

It was Bo Muyi who'd informed her.

Why did she feel that the two incidents were connected?

Jin Mou was not stupid. Seeing Su Cha's expression, she realized that her thoughts might be different from Su Cha's.

She did not expect that Su Cha, who was so pretty, would be an orphan. She wanted to ask more, but she felt that that would be too intrusive. Jin Mou bit her fingertips and felt that it was better not to ask.

After a while, Jin Duan came over and knocked on the door, asking them to go to bed early.

He even said righteously that girls must get their beauty sleep.

Su Cha and Jin Mou looked at each other and burst out laughing.

Although she had experienced a lot, Su Cha was still an 18-year-old girl. The two girls chatted for a while, but they did not talk much. Soon, they fell asleep.

After breakfast, Su Cha was about to leave.

The only good thing was that Jin Duan's master was really good at cooking. At least, Su Cha had been fed by the best chef.

Before Su Cha left, she saw the old man standing on the stairs of the villa. He was looking at her from afar, as if conveying a deep intention.
