

The Queen 426

Chapter 426: I'm Not Going Back

After so many years, it was the first time that the Bo family head had admitted they had a girlfriend in public.

Not only that, but this was probably the first time anyone had heard that he had a girlfriend.

Lian Chi's father, Lian Xiaofeng, had been through a lot, so he reacted in time. "Congratulations, Xiao Yi. You have such a beautiful and magnanimous girlfriend."

Anyone could say beautiful words, so they could not take this seriously.

Everyone also came forward to congratulate her.

She did not care about their blessings at all. They were just taking the opportunity to talk to Bo Mui.

However, Bo Mui was indifferent to everyone's blessings. With his status, he did not need to thank them.

Because of the interruption, even Lian Xiaofeng had almost forgotten everything.

Su Cha saw Lian Chi looking at her from among the crowd. His eyes had regained their calmness, and there was an inexplicable emotion in them. No matter how she looked at it, it was unfamiliar.

She held Bo Mui's hand and smiled, concealing her hatred for Lian Chi deep in her heart.

Bo Mui's announcement also meant that Su Cha was now associated with him.

She believed that when she went back, many other people would know about Su Cha immediately. She would not be able to hide the fact that she was the Zuo family's daughter for long.

In the end, the banquet ended because of Zuo Zhici's incident.

The Zuo family's daughter almost got into trouble on the cruise. It was a scandal, especially since it was the Lian family's home ground.

Zuo Shaoxin had always been a man of few words. The Lian family probably wanted to devour the two of them.

Lian Chi's birthday banquet was not peaceful.

On their way home, the man asked casually, "Do you know him?"

Su Cha replied, "You mean Lian Chi?"

They must know each other. There was no need to hide it at this time. Su Cha said directly, "He was my old neighbor. He moved away when I was in high school. I thought he went somewhere, but I didn't expect him to be here."

As she spoke, her tone was calm as if she did not care.

"Don't you want to catch up with him?" the man said calmly.

Su Cha frowned and looked at him. "What's there to catch up on?"

She knew that Bo Muyi must be jealous, but she did not know what was so good about jealousy.

She and Lian Chi were destined to be impossible. They might even be life and death enemies. Even their last trace of kinship would be erased.

Although Su Cha spoke decisively, her tone was cold, which made Bo Muyi understand something else.

His eyes darkened as he hid his thoughts and clenched his fists tightly.

On the way back, the two of them did not speak much. In the end, Su Cha noticed it, but she was puzzled. "Are you angry?" she asked directly.

Bo Mui remained silent and did not answer her.

Su Cha: "..."

Alright, he was just throwing a tantrum.

Although Su Cha liked to coax him, she would not spoil him, especially when he was being angry for no reason.

Even if it was because of Lian Chi, Su Cha did not think that there was anything between her and Lian Chi that Bo Mui should worry about. Even if they were childhood sweethearts, she had already explained it clearly.

Bo Mui had a temper, so why couldn't she show hers?

At the entrance of the Lookout Pavilion, the driver opened the door for Bo Mui. When the man was about to get out of the car with his long legs, Su Cha suddenly said, "I'm going to my friend's place today, I'm not going back."

Chapter 427: Your Tone Changed When You Mentioned Him

Bo Mui turned around.

His eyes were dark and gloomy. His thin lips were pursed tightly, and his face was tense.

The driver shivered involuntarily.

Su Cha was calm. She looked at him without any emotion.

Miss Su is really a warrior!

Just when the driver thought that Bo Mui would get angry, he suddenly frowned and reached out to pull Su Cha's fingers. He said helplessly, "Don't make a scene."

"Is it me or you?"

Su Cha slapped his hand away. "I asked you and you didn't say anything. Weren't you making a scene? Do you want me to see your sullen face?"

Her every move was challenging Bo Mui's limits.

The driver could see the veins on Bo Mui's forehead popping out. It was obvious how angry he was, but he had to endure it.

If it were someone else, they would have died.

Su Cha was simply making history.

The driver looked at Su Cha in admiration. Even though the secret guards were around, everyone looked at the angry couple and did not dare to say a word.

Whoever spoke would die.

In the tense atmosphere, everyone thought that Bo Mui could no longer endure it. At this moment, he lowered his head and his hand, which was slapped aside by Su Cha. It looked like the calm before the storm.

His body exuded a gloomy aura that made people feel cold from head to toe. It was so oppressive that even their breathing became irregular.

All of a sudden, he raised his hand slightly, and the driver's eyes twitched. He subconsciously retreated, thinking that Bo Mui was about to lose his temper. Unexpectedly, he just sat back in the car. Although his face was tense, his mouth was honest. "I'm not angry anymore."

The driver: "..."

Su Cha: "..."

Su Cha was amused by Bo Muyi's behavior, but the atmosphere was ruined.

She deliberately put on a poker face. "You still didn't say what you were angry about."

The driver: "..."

Miss Su, I beg you, look at how he has already given way to you. Don't seek death. A murder is about to happen!

This scene should be taken and hung in the family home, letting them see how ruthless the Yama King could be in front of his girlfriend.

People fear comparisons!

They felt like crying.

Bo Muyi felt a little awkward. He extended his hand to Su Cha. "Come back with me first."

Su Cha sighed heavily and did not say anything in the end. She placed her hand in Bo Muyi's and held his hand as they got out of the car.

Seeing them leave, the driver heaved a sigh of relief.

On the way back to the bedroom, Bo Muyi said, "Your tone changed when you mentioned him."

Su Cha: "..."

She could tell that.

"It's normal for it to change. I didn't expect to see him here. He used to be my neighbor."

With every word she said, Bo Mui tightened his grip on her hand. Su Cha found it funny and said, “But it’s been so long. We’re just strangers at most, and we didn’t have much interaction. Are you bothered about this? Do you want to be angry whenever I meet someone familiar?”

No matter what, Su Cha would never let him do this.

If he did not say anything every time, it would definitely be exhausting.

Su Cha was not such a person, and she would not allow Bo Mui to become like this.

Just make it clear.

Chapter 428: Let’s See What You Can Do

“He stayed with you for a long time. He grew up with you and accompanied you for a long time.”

As Bo Mui spoke, although he tried his best to remain calm, there was still a faint tremble.

Su Cha heard it and said calmly, “Mui, in this world, there are always some people who will become passersby in your life. That was all in the past. The one who is by my side now is you. Are they going to spend the rest of my life with me? Isn’t that too much? Why do you care about people you shouldn’t worry about?”

It did not matter if he was worried. Time could prove everything.

Bo Mui knew that Su Cha really wanted to keep being with him.

Perhaps it was because she said it seriously, but the man calmed down. He did not look as gloomy as before and replied with a calm “mm.”

Su Cha smiled, grabbed his shoulder, and jumped onto him. “Take me in.”

Bo Mui smiled and hugged her waist tightly. He held her and carried her back.

Seeing this scene, the secret guards were amazed. It just so happened that they were about to prepare for a fight. In the blink of an eye, they reconciled. Even the young master was different from others when he was dating.

...

After this incident, Su Cha stopped caring about other things and focused on preparing for the competition of Dreams in Progress.

The competition was getting more and more intense. With fewer and fewer contestants, various other programs had started to seek out contestants who were currently participating in the show.

Dreams were popular when they were in progress. Now, there were discussions all over the Internet.

Although Su Cha appeared to be very popular, she was actually very low-key. In addition, she was ordinary in the past. There were not many rumors about her. Occasionally, a few fans who saw Su Cha on the streets would think that although she looked cold, she was more easy-going. She never rejected signing anything.

The main point was that she was really pretty. There was always a feeling that when she smiled at you, you felt that she was really beautiful.

Of course, as her popularity increased, it was impossible for her to appear alone in public. Besides, she did not live in the dormitory, so naturally, the topic of discussion about her was not as good as other contestants.

During the competition, Su Cha was also very calm. She did not show any emotions like other contestants. In the latest episode, Su Cha did not directly pass the 15th and 14th round of the competition. She only managed to advance to the next round after the final round.

But regardless of whether it was when she entered the waiting area or when she was in the competition, she always appeared calm and imposing. Because of her performance, she once again broke the internet.

The production crew did not expect such a popular topic.

The main reason was that during the 15th to the 14th place competition, Gong Ruixin was going to be eliminated. Su Cha was also waiting for the same result.

This person was the fake kid who used to have a good relationship with Mona. She was the kind of girl who had put on the persona of a relatively cool girl in the show.

However, when she was being eliminated from the competition and realized that it was really going to be for real, before the results were announced, she cried miserably. She did not look like a cool girl at all.

The girls who were close to her also hugged Gong Ruixin and burst into tears.

There were also a few contestants who were watching like Su Cha. They were not very close to each other. It was good enough that they did not laugh after you were eliminated. How could they hug you and cry?

Sorry, I can't cry.

Su Cha just watched quietly. She was sitting on the chair and waiting for the results. She was not flustered at all. When Gong Ruixin suddenly cried, her nails must have happened to get itchy. She glanced at her nails and suddenly heard Gong Ruixin's loud cry. She subconsciously raised her eyes and glanced at Gong Ruixin.

This scene was screenshotted and made into a meme.

[Let me see what else you can do.]

Chapter 429: Dirt

Big gossip in the industry: "Hahahahahahaha, just watching a show. Su Cha is really my source of happiness. She is also waiting for the results to be announced. Her performance is too obvious, either her mental fortitude is too good or her mental fortitude is too weak. Anyway, I'm dying of laughter."

"When Gong Ruixin suddenly cried, Su Cha raised her head and made me laugh."

Everyone was dumbfounded when they saw this scene. They were all waiting for the results, the difference in mentality was obvious.

“It’s really ugly... Su Cha’s persona is perfect for a beauty. The scene of Gong Ruixin crying with tears and mucus all over her face is too cruel.”

“Hehe, I don’t believe that I can be so confident. It’s just a cover-up. Is it because she’s sure that she can pass?”

“Dreams in Progress?”

—“At present, all the voting results were announced on the official website. All the audience members had cast their own votes. Was it a joke when you said that there were behind-the-scene dealings?”

—“Is there a problem with being popular? No matter what, the difference in mentality tells everything. Su Cha has never panicked since the competition began. I like such confident and calm contestants.”

There were always people who could change the topic.

As the meme became popular all over the internet, there were also doubts. In the end, Gong Ruixin was eliminated and Su Cha passed.

So, why was Su Cha so confident?

Was it because she knew that she would definitely pass?

For a moment, many people questioned whether Dreams in Progress had secret deals.

Su Cha scoffed when she saw that.

Even if she simply had a better mentality, she would still be able to pull all the blame?

Su Cha accepted the result calmly. Could it be that she should cry on stage just like Gong Ruixin?

Su Cha would never break down.

This topic was accompanied by the fact that Su Cha's popularity had finally become number one. She was now the number one in the competition.

In the past, she did not have any foundation to become an internet celebrity. It was the production crew and fans who'd supported her to reach this stage.

The current Su Cha was popular, but she was not originally so. It was just because of the trending topic brought on by this show, but at least she was popular.

She was the only contestant left from Yonggu City.

At the same time, she was the provincial champion of the college entrance examination. She was pretty, and her singing ability was recognized by others. Even the others could not help but praise Su Cha for being outstanding.

However, there were a lot of gossips about celebrities. As they became popular, these get exposed anonymously.

Not long after the 15th and 14th round, rumors about Su Cha started to spread.

This dirt started with the famous gossip forum.

[The obedient girl in your eyes, Su Cha, can you follow her series of tricks?]

Anonymous OP: "I'm fully responsible for what I've said. Recently, I couldn't bear to see a popular contestant selling an outstanding persona. Do you want to understand the series of coquettish operations she did in high school? Her grades used to be a mess. A month before the national college entrance examination, she went from 400 points to 600 points. She directly went to score 730 points during the national college entrance examination. How could she make such a big leap? And she's clearly a third-year student, yet she already has a boyfriend. During the college entrance examination, she even went to participate in a show. Before, she's not popular among her classmates, and her overall popularity was very poor. Now that she has become an outstanding representative, I'm impressed."

Chapter 430: Public Relations

1L: "Huh, it's such a textbook move. Digging up any dirt on someone after she becomes popular?"

2L: "I've finished reading it. I think the OP is here to smear her."

3L: "Reading it first."

4L: "Look through the whole section... What the hell! She came to participate in the competition during the national college entrance examination and became the provincial champion. She is super awesome!"

5L: "Why do I feel that this dirt is not dirt? It's a forced joke, right? Can't you bear to see others being too outstanding so you'd forcefully slander them? What's wrong with having a boyfriend? Who didn't have an innocent first love in high school? As for the fact that the three tests had a huge improvement, although it might seem ridiculous, it doesn't mean that some people could cheat during the college entrance examination. Cheating gets you a sentence. I hope you understand."

6L: "I knew she's not ordinary. She doesn't look like an honest woman. Who knows how bad her private life is? How many people have played with her?"

7L: "How malicious are the people nowadays? With this anonymous revelation, they can simply determine that the owner is speaking the truth?"

This post could be said to be extremely hilarious. Since the person could not find any loopholes, they pulled out Su Cha's many unusual behaviors to create scandals.

Of course, the most important thing was that Su Cha had a boyfriend.

Even though the times had improved, having a boyfriend during the national college entrance examination was still a difficult thing to accept for many people. For a moment, Su Cha became the subject of a heated debate.

Many people did not know about Su Cha's matter. Of course, they had all sorts of speculations about this boyfriend. In the end, Su Cha's private life in high school became chaotic. She had a dozen boyfriends, and many malicious commenters started to spread such unrealistic rumors.

This was the first time Su Cha was in a big dispute.

Naturally, Su Cha also saw this post. When she saw the contents of the discussion, she could not help but laugh.

She had long known that such a thing would happen, but she never thought that the original people would be so malicious.

[I've been playing with her for a long time. Is there a need to say such things?]

[My Goddess is a pure and innocent bitch!]

[No wonder she was poisoned. She deserved it. Why didn't she die?]

Su Cha posted on Weibo.

Even she did not want to see such malicious comments.

Let alone others.

Le Anqi was trembling with anger when she saw the news. She sent her fans to defend Su Cha, but in the face of endless malicious attacks and bystanders watching the show, she was too weak.

The production crew also called Su Cha and asked her to clarify the rumors online. After all, if there were too many malicious comments, it would affect the production crew's reputation.

Besides, Su Cha did not have a company backing her up. Since she had not dealt with it yet, the matter would only become worse.

Not long after the production crew called, Bo Muyi also received the news in the company.

Bai Kun only dared to tell him that Miss Su was in trouble and did not dare to let Bo Muyi read the comments online.

Even so, this man was still enraged.

Soon, the most famous public relations team under the Bo corporation received a notice. Not only were they tasked to clear the malicious comments about a contestant, but they also had to deal with the people who spread the rumors behind the scenes.

While the production crew was still considering how to deal with this matter for Su Cha, they saw that the discussions online had started to disappear at a visible speed.
