

The Queen 461

Chapter 461: The Car Parking Lot Incident (1)

Li Miyi was playing in the living room. When he heard that Su Cha was leaving, he stood up and looked at her. “Where are you going?”

“I’m going to work.”

Xian Zi knew that Su Cha would only record for two days. She coaxed Li Miyi, “Your Sister Su Cha has something to do. She will come to see you in the future.”

Li Miyi turned his head. “Hmph, who wants her to come back to see me?”

Xian Zi: “...”

She had just said that he’d become honest. Was he going to reveal his true nature again after Su Cha had left?

Su Cha did not lower herself to the kid’s level, nor did she waste time. After saying goodbye to the two, she left.

After she really left, Xian Zi went to the kitchen to prepare dinner for Li Miyi. Li Miyi stood alone in the living room. No one knew what he was thinking, but he suddenly threw the toy in his hand away and snorted!

Although she had been recording with the kid for two days, Su Cha did not feel tired. When she reached home, she started preparing for her competition.

After the two days she was recorded by the other production crew, the next episode of Dreams in Progress would be broadcasted. The official Weibo account would also start to promote it online.

However, on the day after the production crew finished recording, Su Cha received a reply from Tan Jinsui.

It contained a sentence.

Tan Jinsui: "My flight to the Imperial Capital is today."

When Su Cha saw it, she had not yet managed to remember who Tan Jinsui was.

Then she realized that Tan Jinsui had just accepted the request to become her manager.

Su Cha remembered that her friend request had been sent out two days ago. It was only when the news came out that Su Cha found out that Tan Jinsui was returning today.

Bai Kun said that Tan Jinsui was coming back to discuss something with him.

She paused and replied with an "ok."

She did not say anything to Tan Jinsui. She had not even seen him before.

Su Cha still had to participate in the production crew's photoshoot of the national Top 10.

After several filming sessions and the recording of a variety show, the ten contestants were now very clear about some procedures. However, they had a common goal, so they were a little reluctant when they were filming with Su Cha.

No matter how outstanding the photoshoot crew was or how well the contestants dressed, as long as the camera focused, they could only serve as a foil to Su Cha.

Even the focus of the photographer could not help but move towards Su Cha.

She stood there without any pretentiousness. With just a look or a casual glance, she could become the muse in people's hearts.

After this difficult shoot for many contestants, everyone went back to their own rooms.

There were not many things on schedule after that. After their participation in the show, the Top Nine competition would begin next week. They could rest for a while.

Almost all the contestants were still living in the villa. A driver sent them back together. Su Cha no longer lived in the dormitory, so she naturally did not follow them.

Moreover, Tan Jinsui was about to arrive.

Bai Kun arranged for a driver to pick him up. Su Cha also planned to meet Tan Jinsui, so she went straight to the airport.

The driver arranged by Bai Kun was waiting in the underground parking lot.

It was getting late. They were in the parking lot under the building. Many people had left after work. Su Cha walked alone in the basement. As she was going to pick someone up, she was wearing a long, thin windbreaker with a simple T-shirt and shorts. She took off her coat and put it over her wrist. Her stiletto heels stepped on the ground and made a “click-clack” sound in the parking lot.

Chapter 462: The Car Parking Lot Incident (2)

Su Cha’s footsteps did not seem to change.

The parking lot was huge. The driver was parked in Zone C, and Su Cha had to take a slope to get through.

There were many cars parked around, and the surroundings were empty.

At this moment, a masked black figure suddenly came out from behind a blue Passadi and rushed behind Su Cha.

It seemed like he was going to reach out and knock Su Cha out.

Just as he was about to approach Su Cha's back, he raised his hand high, making him look even taller than Su Cha. The girl who was walking smoothly suddenly turned around quickly and kicked him.

Her movements were swift and overbearing, and her reaction was unbelievably fast. The person who was rushing up to her did not expect that she would directly kick him. With a "bang," this person was directly kicked and staggered, his figure smashing towards the pillar next to him.

"Ah...!"

There was also a scream of pain. It sounded like a male voice.

Su Cha stood on the spot and glanced at him coldly. The two secret guards in the dark heaved a sigh of relief.

They had wanted to rush out immediately, but seeing that Su Cha had resolved it herself, they felt that it was unnecessary.

After all, ever since her martial arts skills were exposed, the secret guards no longer regarded her as an ordinary person.

Unexpectedly, as the man fell to the ground, several shadows suddenly appeared around him. The secret guards were shocked. The shadows launched an attack aimed at Su Cha.

Su Cha quickly lowered her body and dodged a stick.

There were people lying in ambush around her. She had sensed it when she entered the parking lot.

Her aura was clear.

Bang!

After avoiding the stick aimed at her back, Su Cha clenched her fist and threw it back at the man with lightning speed. She used her inner force to punch the man's body at full speed. Other than the pain, a cold force seemed to have entered his body, making him feel extremely uncomfortable.

The man holding the stick groaned in pain. Su Cha took the stick from his hand and attacked another shadow in the dark.

“Clang!”

The sounds of weapons clashing could be heard. These people were carrying steel rods, but they were obviously not ordinary hooligans. They clearly had martial arts backgrounds and just wanted to pretend.

This person’s reaction was extremely fast. In a panic, he used the steel rod in his hand to block. The moment they clashed, he felt his hand go numb. The rod seemed to be about to leave his hand. The force of the collision was so great that it shocked him.

The next moment, he was not so lucky. The secret guard rushed out and used a few moves to make this person fall into a passive heap.

The remaining two were beaten up by Su Cha. After getting up, they wanted to charge at Su Cha, but round after round, they were beaten down again.

Bang!

One of the two secret guards was knocked unconscious, and the other was pressing an attacker against the front of the car, forcing their faces to stick to the hood. The secret guard’s voice was hoarse and dangerous. “Who sent you here? Someone from the Killing Alliance?”

From the exchange of blows just now, he could tell that they were not ordinary people. They all had martial arts foundations. He did not know if they were the same group of people as last time.

“No.”

The girl shook her head and walked over calmly. She looked at the face that was pressed on the hood and instantly took off one of the masks. “They are not as good as the last group of people.”

Chapter 463: Let Them Go

After removing the mask, Su Cha saw a young man's face.

He glared at Su Cha and blushed. "Are you from the Killing Alliance?"

Obviously, they even knew about the Killing Alliance.

The secret guard took off another person's mask. To everyone's surprise, the two men looked alike.

And they gave Su Cha a sense of familiarity.

She narrowed her eyes slightly. "Whose people are you?"

The two young men looked at each other with difficulty and gritted their teeth. "We are from the Cheng family."

"The Cheng family?"

Su Cha frowned, not knowing who the Cheng family was.

The two secret guards looked at each other. Then, one of them said to her, "Miss Su, the Cheng family is a sect under the Star Alliance."

Su Cha: "..."

She looked at the two young men seriously and suddenly asked with interest, "You're people from the Star Alliance? Why did you attack me?"

"This has nothing to do with the Star Alliance."

The young man gritted his teeth as if he did not want to implicate the Alliance. "You bullied our sister. We are here to avenge her."

"I bullied your sister?"

Su Cha raised her eyebrows in surprise. “Who is your sister?”

When did she bully others?

Why did she not have any impression?

“Don’t play dumb.”

The young man’s face was red with his grievance. “Yesterday at the Taekwondo dojo, my sister said that you threatened to cripple her hands. I thought you were just a celebrity. I didn’t expect you to be one of us. Are you from the Martial Alliance?”

“Miss Su is not from any alliance.”

The secret guard spoke slowly. He did not intend to tell them Su Cha’s identity. Moreover, they did not know that Su Cha had become the Alliance Master of the Star Alliance.

“I was wondering who it was. It’s about the Taekwondo club.”

Su Cha instantly understood. She sneered and said sarcastically, “I can understand your complaint about being bullied, but you have to understand that your sister was the one who started the trouble. This time, I’ll let you off on account of the Star Alliance’s Heaven’s Secrets Sect. Next time, your Cheng family will know the consequences.”

The two young men shuddered.

The coldness in her words did not seem to be a joke.

But what did she mean by on account of the Heaven’s Secrets Sect?

Although the Heaven’s Secrets Sect was the pillar of the Star Alliance, the Heaven’s Secrets Sect was not the only sect that had joined it. The Cheng family also did not belong to the Heaven’s Secrets Sect. Other than the Alliance Master, they did not even have any dealings with the Heaven’s Secrets Sect.

Who was this woman?

They were Cheng Xisha's brothers. The person on the ground was also their brother. The Cheng family had originally planned to find someone in the industry to resolve the matter that day. However, when they found out that this woman might have a backing, they could not resolve it in ordinary ways. They were angry and wanted to stop this female celebrity.

They would not use too violent a method, but it would definitely be unforgettable for her. However, they did not expect that they would be beaten up instead.

They did not expect this woman to be so violent and strong. Her reaction was enough to catch people off guard.

Now that they were being suppressed here, they could not say anything. More than humiliation, they felt terrified.

The Killing Alliance was now enemies with the Star Alliance and the Martial Alliance. If the other party was a member of the Killing Alliance, their lives would be in danger.

But it did not seem like it.

Su Cha lifted her chin and gestured to the secret guard. "Let them go."

The secret guard was surprised. "Are we just going to let them go, Miss Su?"

Not only did they dare to cause trouble for the Bo family, but they also said that Miss Su was the one who bullied them...

Chapter 464: Worldview Collapse

Young Master would blow up again if he found out.

The young master had already sought revenge on the Killing Alliance for what happened last time. This time, it seemed the Star Alliance had come to cause trouble again.

They were forcing the young master to turn against them!

Su Cha tilted her head. She would have to attend the meeting of the Star Alliance. When the Cheng family saw her, the new Alliance Master, their expressions would be interesting.

Finding trouble with the new Alliance Master was definitely seeking death.

The two young men did not expect Su Cha to let them go so easily. Although the secret guards felt that it won’t do, they listened to Su Cha’s instructions and let the men go.

The two of them heaved a sigh of relief. At this moment, one of them felt a faint pain in his chest—unsurprising given how he was hit several times by Su Cha’s inner-force punch.

Su Cha had taught him a lesson. The force of her inner force was enough to make his body ache from time to time. When the time came, he would not be able to resolve it himself. After he went back, he would lie obediently on the bed for a few months.

The two of them quickly helped the unconscious brother up and left dejectedly.

They did not expect to meet someone from the same sect. The Alliance had a rule that one could not attack one another in private. Otherwise, if the Alliance Master found out, their entire family would suffer.

Of course, they would never have thought that they would provoke the new Alliance Master...

Su Cha suddenly walked to the other side of the car.

There was a black ordinary car parked there, but from the outside, the scenery inside could not be seen clearly.

Su Cha knocked on the car window. Soon, a man smiled stiffly and slid the window down. “Is anything the matter?”

Probably out of fear, he'd used honorifics.

This person looked like a rich second-generation heir. Sitting next to him was an influencer with heavy makeup.

The two of them looked at Su Cha nervously.

The influencer was still holding her phone.

Su Cha raised her brows and pointed at her phone. "You'd better delete the video."

"No... We didn't take a video!"

The heir rolled his eyes. He was clearly nervous.

Su Cha smiled. It was creepy. "You saw what happened just now. What do you think we should do?"

She had felt it when she was beating someone up just now. Someone was holding a phone and taking pictures of them.

Perhaps it was a coincidence, but Su Cha would never let such a video be leaked.

The two secret guards came over and said to him politely, "Sir, please let us check your phones."

This was a very rude move. Although the secret guards were very polite, their tall figures and imposing manner made the two of them instantly understand that if they did not hand them over, they would not be able to leave the underground parking lot safely today.

The young man swallowed his saliva and handed the phone to Su Cha. He even keyed in the password.

Su Cha found the video app and saw a recording. There was indeed a video of them fighting.

Although it was not filmed from the beginning, Su Cha's fight in the video was clearly filmed. If others saw it, they would definitely think that it was a movie.

She chuckled and deleted the video. Then, she threw it back to the person and left.

The rich second-generation young man and the influencer watched her leave nervously. The two secret guards who were following her suddenly moved and spread out from both sides. Then, their figures disappeared, leaving only Su Cha walking.

The rich second-generation heir and the influencer looked at each other and saw the world collapsing.

Chapter 465: Tan Jinsui

Su Cha got into the car and asked the driver, "What time will Tan Jinsui arrive?"

"6:30 pm. There's still an hour, Miss Su."

Su Cha nodded. "Let's go to the airport now."

The driver started the car.

On the way to the airport, Su Cha searched Tan Jinsui's information online.

Tan Jinsui was only in his forties. He did not look like a typical middle-aged man. He was 40 years old and had a successful career. He was elegant and looked like an elite successful man.

There were many photos of him and Zou Manni attending an event. He did not look inferior to those popular male celebrities.

He was still single. Some people said that he was willing to remain Zou Manni's guardian.

He had said that he would protect Zou Manni forever, so he was not married.

Of course, there were also people who said that the real reason why he did not get married was that he was gay.

Society's attitude towards gay people was slowly changing. More and more people were coming out of the closet, but that did not mean that the public could accept it. Moreover, Tan Jinsui had never admitted or denied such words in person. For so many years, he did not have any intimate men or women by his side. He had always been by Zou Manni's side.

Hence, most people thought that he was infatuated with Zou Manni.

Many people mocked him. Even Zou Manni's husband was wary of him, but Tan Jinsui's talent could not be ignored.

For Zou Manni to be able to reach this stage and even get married and have children at her peak, Tan Jinsui was undoubtedly the biggest contributor.

He was also a legend in the entertainment industry. And now, this legendary manager who once said that he would protect Zou Manni forever and not take on other celebrities was about to start taking care of Su Cha.

If this news were to be announced, it would be equivalent to Zou Manni announcing her return.

It was obvious what kind of explosion would occur online.

After checking the information, Su Cha put her focus on Tan Jinsui. She did not have a deep impression of Zou Manni.

Such a queen was a legend in the entertainment industry, not something Su Cha could touch.

Su Cha was not interested in her.

When they arrived at the airport, the car drove quietly into the parking lot to wait.

Su Cha did not get out of the car but asked the driver to pick Tan Jinsui up.

He did not inform anyone about his return. Besides, he was a manager. Other than the paparazzi who knew him, his fans would not especially target him.

When it was about time, Su Cha saw the driver walking over with a tall man from the parking lot.

He was wearing sunglasses, and his aura was a little cold. His figure was half a head taller than that of ordinary men. He was clearly a charming uncle, and he was qualified to make the little girls scream.

Those who had been bewitched by many beauties were not interested in this type, so when she saw him, she came out of the car with a comfortable posture and a faint smile. "Mr. Tan, hello. I'm Su Cha."

Tan Jinsui paused when he saw her.

Then he walked over and extended his hand to Su Cha. "Hello, Miss Su."

He was formal and serious without any extra emotions.

Su Cha: "Mr. Tan, you don't have to be so polite. Just call me Su Cha. I still have to rely on you in the future. I'm not that unfamiliar with you."

Tan Jinsui glanced at her.

He was wearing sunglasses, so she could not see his expression clearly.
