

The Queen 671

Chapter 671: She Knows Everything

“Maybe it’s because there’s too little time. I should cultivate a few more times.”

Su Cha was not worried about Bo Mui’s words. She just felt that the time was not right.

After all, Bo Mui’s body was already done maturing. This kind of thing was usually best cultivated while he was still young.

She had spent a few days to draw in the Heaven Earth Yuan Qi.

Bo Mui did not have much time. He still had work to do. He was in the hospital now, and Su Cha was worried about where to go. However, she had to film tomorrow.

Ah Chen assured her that this was a hospital and he’d be around. The Killing Alliance had also been exposed. They would not be so stupid as to come again. As long as the killer did not die, for the time being, the people from Tree Hall would not dare to come looking for trouble.

It was said that the Alliance Master of the Killing Alliance was returning to the country, so this matter could only be resolved after the Alliance Master’s return.

On top of that, this was the most grievous incident in the history of the Killing Alliance.

Not only did Su Cha cause trouble, but the old lady almost fainted when she found out.

Especially since Bo Mui had not told her. The old lady only found out about it after she saw that he had not returned.

This was the first time Su Cha saw her angry. She came to the hospital to confront Bo Mui, but she was the only one who spoke.

“You’ve never treated me as your grandma all these years. Why didn’t you send someone to tell me about such a big thing?!”

“If I hadn’t found out, how long did you plan to hide it from me?”

“Bo Mui, Bo Mui, you are as hard-hearted as your grandfather!”

The old lady was probably angry. After saying this, she was a little disappointed when she saw Bo Mui looking down at some documents. She turned around and left.

Bai Kun went after her. Su Cha glanced at Bo Mui and went after the old lady.

“Grandma.”

She was about to reach the elevator with her butler when Su Cha stopped her.

The old lady stopped in her tracks and raised her head slightly. She brushed her fingers across her eyes and steadied herself before turning around. “What’s the matter, Su Cha?”

At this time, her tone changed quickly, but she seemed to be holding it in and trying her best to maintain her gentle tone.

Su Cha sighed. “Mui might not want you to worry too much. We will resolve this matter.”

“The person who tried to assassinate him this time is from the Killing Alliance. Do you think I’m old and stupid? Don’t I know the severity of the matter?”

The old lady was a little angry at Su Cha’s words, but she took a look at Su Cha and held it in. She turned her head and sighed. “Forget it!”

After she and the butler left, Su Cha looked at her back and could not stop her.

She returned to the ward with mixed feelings. When she saw Bo Mui, she stood by his desk and swiped his document. The man looked up at her silently.

“Why didn’t you tell Grandma about this? Do you really not like her?”

Even after so long, it seemed that Bo Mui could not get close to the old woman.

Hearing this, Bo Mui shook his head slightly. "Telling her these things will only make her worry for nothing. Moreover, she will definitely use the Ye family's power to intervene, but the Ye family is not happy with me."

He said casually, "Everything leading to where she is today was chosen by her. She liked my grandfather back then but did not marry him when she was young. After that, when my grandfather found that there was no one left in his family and I was still young, he married Grandma. This was just a transaction, and she knew it clearly."

Chapter 672: I Can Only Give Myself to You

She did not expect to hear such a secret.

Su Cha recalled the old lady's complicated gaze when she left and realized how sad she was.

However, Bo Mui did not seem to not understand his grandma at all. After all, it was probably Bo Mui's attitude that allowed his grandma to stay in the Lookout Pavilion.

These things were other people's family matters. It was too complicated, and Su Cha did not know much about it, so she could not say anything.

She had to continue filming tomorrow, so she planted people from the Star Alliance with Bo Mui.

She only had time to care about Weibo for the next two days.

When the incident first happened, news about her had trended on Weibo. Today, the situation had changed.

#Imperial Mu International Ends Cooperation with Artists Under Zhang Sen Media#

This trending topic was firmly placed at number one.

Su Cha searched and did not find much about herself.

She raised her eyebrows and went in to take a look.

It turned out that some of the brands under the Imperial Mu Group had terminated their collaboration with celebrities under Zhang Sen Media. The reason was unclear at the moment, but this unreasonable operation by the Imperial Mu Group brought about public opinion. The Imperial Mu Group said that they would compensate for the breach of contract, but they had divulged no other reason.

The celebrities whose contract terminations were suddenly announced were dumbfounded.

The compensation was not a big deal. On the contrary, it was the Imperial Mu Group who terminated the contract for no reason. It seemed to be a little treacherous, but they had compensated for the breach of contract. Moreover, the Imperial Mu Group's international influence was too vast, especially in the area of luxury goods. If the Imperial Mu Group terminated the contract for no reason, it would easily make other brands suspect that the celebrities had done something wrong, and that had led to this operation by Imperial Mu.

If they were suspected, the celebrities' resources in the fashion industry would become almost extinct.

If a celebrity could not get basic resources in the fashion industry, the blow would be devastating.

In the beginning, it was said that the contracts were terminated individually. Later on, when they saw that they were all artists from Zhang Sen Media, the netizens realized that something was wrong.

Especially when it came to one of the watch brands. It wasn't just Zhang Sen Media that this brand was working with, but they terminated the contract only with Zhang Sen Media's artist. The other artist was fine. If one could not note this, one would be a fool.

Not only were the netizens dumbfounded, but Zhang Sen Media was also panicking. They had always been working well with the Imperial Mu Group, and they were not qualified to be associated with the headquarters. At least they had a close relationship with the brand. In the end, the other party said that it was an order from the headquarters, and there was no turning back. Upon learning there's nothing they could do, Zhang Sen Media was even more dumbfounded.

When did they offend such a powerful person from the headquarters?

As it was such a big move, this decision to terminate the contracts had to have been approved by the highest-ranking person in the headquarters, right?

Then who was it?

After Su Cha finished reading the whole story, she thought that all of this was Bo Mui's action. She was not amused. "If they find out one day that you terminated the contracts so openly just to help me vent my anger, won't they be very angry?"

"This is not venting."

Bo Mui pulled her to sit on his body and corrected her seriously. "I'm helping my girlfriend solve a problem. If I can't even deal with people who offended you, why would you want me as your boyfriend? Besides, you helped me solve a problem yesterday. I can't repay you, so I can only devote my life to you."

Su Cha: "..."

Chapter 673: How Could I Know These Things?

The next day, Su Cha rejoined the production crew.

Due to the interference of Imperial Mu International, Zhang Sen Media was now in a mess. This matter had brought a shock to the entertainment industry. On the second day after the production crew reconvened, many people were discussing this matter.

Because of this sudden incident, some celebrities in the industry who worked with Zhang Sen Media were a little upset.

The actors from the production crew of the Legend of the Crane had little to do with this matter. However, there was an awkward point. Mu Jiao was from Zhang Sen Media.

After she became popular, she left to start her own studio when the contract expired. However, she had a good relationship with Zhang Sen Media. She did not know if this matter would implicate her. Anyone could tell that Imperial Mu International was targeting Zhang Sen Media.

When Su Cha rejoined the production crew, Hua Nie came to look for her with a regretful expression. "Are you okay? I think it's really strange what happened this time. You have the ability to be number one."

He said this as if his words were not careful.

He was a straightforward person who could not be swayed. His words sounded like they were poking at Su Cha's wound.

Su Cha shook her head. "I'm in the top three anyway."

Hearing Su Cha's words, Hua Nie was relieved. He smiled and said, "That's good. Actually, there's not much difference between being number three and number one. Look, you have the ability to act in a drama now. You are much more capable than those two. As long as you have resources in the entertainment industry, you don't have to worry about those no-names."

Although Hua Nie was innocent, he knew some things. The entertainment industry was indeed like this. As long as there were resources, it was fine. Even if Su Cha could not get first place, everything she had now could beat others.

Su Cha nodded and smiled. "Thank you."

As soon as she finished speaking, she saw Shao Tianwen and Mu Jiao standing together. Mu Jiao frowned and looked a little unhappy. She seemed to be a little irritated. She did not avoid smoking in front of the production crew. Shao Tianwen was saying something.

Seeing Su Cha's gaze on the two of them, Hua Nie whispered, "Su Cha, do you know about Zhang Sen Media? This time, all the collaborations between Zhang Sen's artists and the Imperial Mu Group have been terminated. It's said that the higher-ups did not give a reason. Moreover, because of this matter, several contracts between Zhang Sen's other artists and other partners have been lost. This matter has blown up. Sister Mu Jiao used to belong to Zhang Sen Media. She's no longer under them, but she has some shares in Zhang Sen. This matter has affected her."

Su Cha raised her eyebrows. “How did you know about this and why did you tell me directly? Aren’t you afraid that Sister Mu Jiao will deal with you?”

Hua Nie smiled in embarrassment. “Everyone in the production crew knows about this. It’s nothing for me to tell you. Hey, don’t you think it’s strange? Why did Zhang Sen and Imperial Mu suddenly stop working together?”

Su Cha curled her lips. “I’ll have to ask their boss.”

Since Zhang Sen Media could use its power to blacklist Su Cha, why couldn’t Bo Muyi, Su Cha’s boyfriend, deal with Zhang Sen Media?

Hua Nie sighed. “This matter has blown up. No matter how hard Zhang Sen Media’s public relations work... But...”

Hua Nie suddenly asked Su Cha in a low voice with a gossipy tone, “Su Cha, I heard that you got third place because of someone’s shady dealings. Are the shady dealings related to Zhang Sen Media?”

Su Cha: “...”

This child looked innocent, but he was really gossipy.

Even if she could not tell him the truth, Su Cha could not help but laugh. “How would I know?”

Chapter 674: Counterattack

Hua Nie nodded. “I don’t think Zhang Sen Media will deal with you, right? You don’t have anything to do with them.”

Su Cha just smiled and did not say anything.

In the beginning, she did not mind offending Qin Bei.

In the end, Zhang Sen Media flew into a rage out of humiliation because Su Cha and Tan Jinsui did not know what was good for them. They spoke arrogantly. Zhang Sen Media felt that if they did not teach Su Cha a lesson this time, how else could they let her know the immense difference between heaven and earth?

Su Cha did not know.

Anyway, she was not the one who was anxious.

No matter what, they still had to film the scene.

Han Yongbing did not say anything about Zhang Sen Media and Su Cha. Instead, he asked the production crew to keep quiet about it and not post it on their Moments.

If someone took a photo of her or recorded something, it would be another bloodbath.

In the end, no one knew about this matter. Speculation would only lead people into a pit.

Su Cha had been away for a week, so she had to make up for her scenes. Hence, Su Cha had been acting with someone else all day.

She had to wear a thick and heavy palace gown. Even though the weather had turned cold, it was still unbearable for her to wear it all day.

Especially since the sun was still out today.

Shao Tianwen and the other actors were wearing thick armor and sweating profusely. They had drunk several bottles of water during filming, but Su Cha had never drunk much water. She did not even sweat.

Mu Jiao came over. Although she was not in a good mood today, she asked enviously, “Aren’t you hot?”

She was so hot that her hair was almost curling up. She was puzzled when she saw Su Cha’s refreshing appearance.

Su Cha shook her head with a smile. “Sister Mu Jiao, I have a special physique. Unless I’m especially hot, I don’t sweat often.”

With her inner force protecting her, Su Cha found an excuse.

Mu Jiao’s gaze became even more envious. “How nice.”

If she did not sweat, she would not need makeup touchups. It would not cause her to feel greasy. Her appearance on camera was perfect. This was what celebrities paid the most attention to.

Mu Jiao had touched up her makeup several times.

Mu Jiao’s assistant suddenly called her, “Sister Mu Jiao, you have a call.”

Usually, when filming, she would not be called unless it was an emergency.

When she heard this, Mu Jiao’s expression changed. She hurried over and picked up the phone. She did not know what the other party said, but her expression was visibly gloomy. “I’ll take the plane back immediately! You have to let me arrange the time. I’m still in Director Han’s production crew. Don’t I need to say hello?”

With that, Mu Jiao hung up and left angrily.

Su Cha felt that it had something to do with the matter with Zhang Sen. She turned to Fu Mo, who was standing by the side. “Fu Mo, go and investigate what happened to Mu Jiao.”

Although Bo MUYI wanted to take revenge on Zhang Sen Media, she knew Mu Jiao. If anything happened, she would help her.

Fu Mo nodded and went elsewhere to investigate. She returned quickly. “An artist from Mu Jiao Studio had originally taken on a Japanese jewelry endorsement, but that brand was worried about offending the Imperial Mu Group. Mu Jiao is a small shareholder of Zhang Sen Media, so they took back the endorsement deal with that small artist. Mu Jiao went back to deal with this matter.”

Su Cha fell into deep thought.

This matter could not be blamed on Bo Muyi. The main reason was that this operation was too sudden. The other small brands were worried and did not dare to offend the Imperial Mu Group, so they made the decision themselves.

If she bothered Bo Muyi because of this matter, she might be blamed by that jealous person.

Chapter 675: Other People's Credit

Su Cha did not move for the time being.

Mu Jiao had to be gone for half a day. The scenes for the next day were slightly changed. In the afternoon, Su Cha saw Mu Jiao coming back.

When she came back, she walked over. Han Yongbing was talking with Shao Tianwen and Su Cha. There was no one else around. Seeing that Mu Jiao was back, Shao Tianwen asked directly, "How is it?"

Su Cha paused. Shao Tianwen did not avoid her. It was obvious that he trusted her.

Mu Jiao sat down and fanned herself with all her might. She felt extremely angry. "I don't know. Director Che has asked all his connections to the executives of Imperial Mu, but they didn't get an accurate answer. I don't know how they offended the Imperial Mu Group this time."

Han Yongbing said indifferently, "It seems that the Imperial Mu Group broke the contracts one-sidedly."

Mu Jiao sighed. "So what if that's the case? What status does the Imperial Mu Group have compared with what Zhang Sen Media has? The world only recognizes Imperial Mu. The artist under me is still fine. Even without this endorsement, we can talk about other things. I heard that those others who are implicated have lost a large piece of resources that are being discussed overseas. Director Che is so anxious that his hair is turning white."

Shao Tianwen pondered and said, "I think there's only one reason for this. A big company like the Imperial Mu Group has no reason to target Zhang Sen Media. I think that Zhang Sen Media might have offended the Imperial Mu Group in some way."

He had a sharp sense of smell when it came to the industry. This matter was strange, so it was easy to guess what had happened.

If it wasn't due to one offense, it was due to another offense. The source of this matter might be somewhere else.

Director Han said casually, "What happened to Zhang Sen Media recently?"

"What can't have happened?" Mu Jiao was impatient. "There are many artists under them who are lousy. You know Director Che... Let's just talk about Qin Bei's recent matter..."

Mu Jiao paused.

She subconsciously looked at Su Cha and saw that Su Cha was just standing there quietly, listening attentively to the gossip.

Shao Tianwen and Han Yongbing followed Mu Jiao's gaze and looked at Su Cha.

In an instant, they seemed to have thought of something terrifying.

Shao Tianwen asked tentatively, "Mu Jiao, why are you looking at Su Cha?"

Mu Jiao stared at Su Cha and suddenly smiled in disbelief. "Su Cha, how did you resolve the matter between Qin Bei and you in private?"

She was no longer an artist under Zhang Sen and did not pay much attention to her. She only knew about Su Cha and Qin Bei's arguing when the news came out.

She had spoken up for Su Cha. Qin Bei was not a good person, but Director Che was protective of her. Naturally, people would not listen.

Mu Jiao did not think much about it.

Su Cha smiled with her eyes wide open. "It's not resolved. We just don't want to apologize to each other."

Mu Jiao's heart skipped a beat.

She immediately recalled that when Su Cha joined the production group, she had directly gotten rid of Jin Jiayu and become the second female lead. Jin Jiayu's background was not negligible. It was said that Producer Yang, who was backing her, did not even fart in protest when he was strong-armed by the female investor. However, he was also a producer, so how could he so casually give up on the second female lead he had invested in?

Moreover, the female producer's background was mysterious. Now that she thought about it, if it was related to Imperial Mu, then the matter about Zhang Sen...

Didn't that make sense?

Once again, the credit that should have been Bo Muye's was given to someone else.

If he knew, he would probably teach Tan Yezhu a lesson.

Chapter 676: Friends

They were not stupid. Mu Jiao's actions made Han Yongbing and Shao Tianwen understand something.

They looked at Su Cha in shock.

But, was the matter regarding Zhang Sen Media really done by the person behind Su Cha?

Was it related to that producer?

The main point was, how could the producer dote on Su Cha so easily? It was obvious that the Imperial Mu Group got enraged for the sake of a beauty. Such a large corporation would rather carry the reputation of breaching their contracts than give a real reason. Was it to protect Su Cha's reputation?

This was true love!

Shao Tianwen suddenly felt that his future was bleak.

The matter had gradually become clear, but it was impossible for the few of them to say it out loud. Mu Jiao probed Su Cha, "Su Cha, how do you think your relationship with Qin Bei will end?"

"I don't know. It depends on Qin Bei."

Su Cha smiled. Since the matter had already surfaced, she did not hide it too much. "Some things have already happened. It's meaningless to pursue the matter and apologize. Perhaps the Imperial Mu Group wants to teach Zhang Sen Media a lesson? I'm not sure."

This reminder was very obvious.

Mu Jiao wanted to hammer Qin Bei to death.

She did not expect such a big Buddha to be backing a newcomer who had just debuted.

No wonder Tan Jinsui was her manager. He could get rid of Jin Jiayu as the second female lead.

With such a background, why bother with the entertainment industry!

However, this also made Mu Jiao heave a sigh of relief. It seemed that the Imperial Mu Group's intention was to teach Zhang Sen Media a lesson.

After receiving the news, Mu Jiao immediately turned around to make a call.

Of course, she would not be stupid enough to tell others about Su Cha. She would only make the Chairman of the Che Corporation apologize to the Imperial Mu Group. He could only grit his teeth and bear it.

Han Yongbing looked at Su Cha meaningfully. "Is the conspiracy true?"

It was true that Qin Bei's matter had not reached the point where Zhang Sen Media would be in trouble. The rumors online that Zhang Sen had tampered with Su Cha's results were most likely true.

It seemed that this had really offended the Imperial Mu Group.

Su Cha was also puzzled. "Maybe?"

Of course, there were some things that she would not say in front of others. It was good enough that they knew.

These people knew their limits. Shao Tianwen did not avoid her when asking Mu Jiao about Zhang Sen because he trusted her, so Su Cha gave him a hint.

As long as Zhang Sen Media was not stupid, they'd know what to do next.

Shao Tianwen thought about how the netizens were still attacking Su Cha, but he shuddered at the thought of her methods.

She even dared to directly rebut Jin Jiayu. Zhang Sen Media had caused her so much trouble and even bribed an Internet Water Army to bash her. It was certain that things would not end well for them.

Even if this move did not hurt the tendons, it would still hurt the bones.

To the outside world, a company that had offended the Imperial Mu Group was basically someone that they could not work with.

Shao Tianwen thought for a while and gritted his teeth. "Su Cha, what's your relationship with the producer?"

This question was not difficult to ask, but now that Shao Tianwen asked, she felt strange.

Han Yongbing looked at Shao Tianwen in surprise.

Su Cha frowned slightly. “Best Actor Shao, what do you think is our relationship?”

Shao Tianwen probed, “Is she your cousin or some relative?”

If they were just friends, Shao Tianwen did not dare to imagine how much more she could do for her.

Su Cha was puzzled. “We are just friends. We are not related.”

Shao Tianwen: “...”

Chapter 677: Reminder

In the entertainment industry, some things were not uncommon, but the rare occurrences were also kept extremely under wraps.

Shao Tianwen could not tell if Su Cha was the kind of person he imagined.

After this thought flashed through his mind, he threw it away in disgust. “It’s fine. I’ll go and prepare.”

Su Cha and Han Yongbing watched him leave. Han Yongbing saw Shao Tianwen’s back and patted Su Cha’s shoulder. “Middle-aged men have complicated thoughts. You don’t have to think too much.”

Su Cha: “...”

What thoughts was he thinking?

However, she also understood what Shao Tianwen meant.

Did he think that she had something going on with Tan Yeluo?

Su Cha felt as if she had been struck by lightning.

Goosebumps crawled all over her body.

She did not know why Shao Tianwen thought so. Could it be that he thought that Tan Yeluo was the one who'd helped her?

However, even if Tan Yeluo were under Su Cha's thumb, Su Cha could not have troubled Tan Yeluo with such a matter. It could only be said that Shao Tianwen did not know the truth and could only make wild guesses.

This guess was funny.

Now, the two main leads knew that Su Cha's background was shocking. There was no shortage of people with mysterious backgrounds in the entertainment industry, but there were not many who were as shocking as Su Cha. If others had backgrounds like hers, they would at least have some rumors about it flying around. However, Su Cha was very low-key. Even though her actions when attacking Jin Jiayu showed that she was not deliberately low-key.

However, it was hard to guess at times. After all, Su Cha was a real provincial champion who got in from a local school.

Her family seemed to be ordinary. How did she get involved with Imperial Mu International?

Mu Jiao did not want to think about how a girl like Su Cha would accept unspoken rules, but some people could not tell even if she was being slept with.

Mu Jiao could not be blamed for thinking this way. Su Cha's identity was too difficult to find out, and she had nothing to do with Imperial Mu, so she was dumbfounded.

Right now, they believed that the female producer was connected to Imperial Mu. Su Cha had a good relationship with that female producer. How was this line connected?

Everyone kept their questions to themselves. After filming, Mu Jiao privately asked Han Yongbing about Su Cha.

Han Yongbing was not surprised to see Mu Jiao looking for him, but his eyes were meaningful. “I know you will ask me, but if she’s willing to give hints to you about this, it means that she doesn’t intend to attack the people around her. No matter what, she has something to do with Imperial Mu. You can’t know what she’s capable of.”

Han Yongbing said this to warn Mu Jiao.

The industry respected seniors, but when it came to people with powerful backgrounds, they had to avoid them no matter how popular they were.

Su Cha looked like a good person. She knew her limits when dealing with people, but you could not guarantee that one thing or another would not provoke her. When interacting with such a person, the good and the bad were mixed.

Jin Jiayu had ended up like that, although she was indeed too much.

It could be seen that Su Cha was clear about her likes and dislikes. She would never tolerate things that she did not like.

Just the fact that she had dissed Jin Jiayu and caused such a big commotion online but had never cared about it showed that this girl’s mental fortitude was not ordinary.

“I know what you mean.”

Mu Jiao nodded and frowned. “I just don’t know if I should warn Director Che.”

The storm in Zhang Sen Media was quite big. As one of the shareholders, Mu Jiao could not ignore it.

Chapter 678: Understand

“Director Che...”

Han Yongbing had seen Chairman Che of Zhang Sen Media a few times. “He has some tricks up his sleeve, but it’s not enough against Imperial Mu, which got involved this time. Besides, isn’t this matter because of his lover, Qin Bei? If Qin Bei doesn’t do as she must, won’t this matter never end?”

Mu Jiao instantly knew what to do.

She called Director Che to remind him about the call he’d received from Tan Jinsui regarding Su Cha.

“There are two choices in front of us.”

Meanwhile, Tan Jinsui seriously analyzed the consequences of this matter as he talked to Su Cha. “Muyi has helped you settle the matter with Zhang Sen Media. You can vent your anger all you want, but if you clarify the matter regarding what goes on behind the curtains, you will break the rules of the entertainment industry. Moreover, the matter of the Imperial Mu Group taking revenge for you will be linked up. If you don’t want to publicize your relationship with Bo Muyi for the time being, you might gain the title of a sugar baby in the future.

“If you don’t clarify, Zhang Sen Media will apologize privately. Qin Bei will be banned, but your unrealistic third-place win will be left as is. As compensation, the television station behind Zhang Sen Media and Dreams in Progress will definitely give you a lot of resources. Otherwise, they will completely become enemies with you. Because once you make a clarification, the votes doctored by Dreams in Progress can’t be shaken off. This will be a devastating blow to their show. They can’t bear the consequences.”

After hearing Tan Jinsui’s words, Su Cha narrowed her eyes. “Uncle Tan, what do you think I should do?”

“Of course it’s to clarify!”

Tan Jinsui’s voice was a little cold. “I only told you the second thing because they called and apologized with snot and tears. This matter was started by Zhang Sen Media. Why should we give them face? You have the Bo family backing you up, and you are the Alliance Master of the Star Alliance. Who are you afraid of?”

Su Cha smiled and said, “Uncle Tan, I think what you said suits me. Let’s start clarifying the matter now.”

“Yes. I can make arrangements for this matter, but I still have to remind you that if your relationship with Mui is not made public, the netizens will definitely guess that you have a sugar daddy behind you. There will still be a lot of rumors and slander. I’m sure that you can bear it, but I don’t know about Mui. However, I personally don’t recommend you to make it public. Your foundation is not stable enough now, mainly because Mui’s identity is beyond the imagination of ordinary people. It’s not good for your image and your path in the entertainment industry. If you want to continue, it’s best to sink for a while. Let them speculate about this matter. If it’s too outrageous, I will send a lawyer’s letter. As long as you can persuade your other half not to make it public, that will do.”

Tan Jinsui was speaking from a manager’s perspective.

Bo Mui must want to announce his relationship with Su Cha, and Su Cha might have the same intention.

But the problem was that if she wanted to survive in the entertainment industry, even if Su Cha was outstanding enough, she did not have any achievements yet.

Once it was made public, with Bo Mui’s identity, outsiders would only think that Su Cha was a girl who relied on others to climb up the social ladder. It would not do for her local standing. No matter where she appeared in the public in the future, she would be looked down upon by others. As a manager, Tan Jinsui was not willing to see such a situation.

Since he had chosen to accept Su Cha, he naturally had to make Su Cha the second Zou Manni, or even someone to surpass her. There were some things that he knew better than the two of them.

Chapter 679: The Big V

Su Cha had actually thought about whether she should announce her relationship with Bo Mui if the matter could not be held back.

Hearing Tan Jinsui’s words, she thought it made sense.

Now that she had entered the entertainment industry, she wanted to rise through the ranks. Bo Mui was still her lover. It was enough that she knew.

There was no need to tell others. In the future, if she really had to announce it, she would definitely choose to do it herself.

That would definitely be the day she wanted to quit the entertainment industry.

Thinking of this, Su Cha nodded. “Let’s do it your way.”

Tan Jinsui was very satisfied. It was rare for Su Cha to listen.

“Okay, don’t worry. This matter will end in less than three days.”

After hanging up, Tan Jinsui started to make arrangements.

Su Cha stayed with the production crew and focused on filming while having Fu Mo pay attention to the Internet.

Soon, late that night, a veteran celebrity gossip account involved in the entertainment industry posted a shocking piece of news.

Adding bricks and tiles to the gossip industry: “I found out a very unexpected piece of news. After thinking about it for a while, I decided to say it. If I’m saying it, it’s naturally because I have evidence on hand. I really did not expect that a famous talent show would actually undermine its decades-long reputation because of the coercion of a company. It chose to defame a contestant’s votes, causing a huge change in the rankings. Even after the contestant’s fans questioned it, the show still chose to resist. On top of not being able to give a reasonable explanation, it kept slandering the contestant’s fans for spreading rumors. As a talent show, they caused such a betrayal. Is what they did really worthy of what the founder said back then? Fair and just, and never forget the original intentions?”

“What... What the hell? It’s the middle of the night. Wawa, do you want someone to join you in sleeplessness!!”

“Is it such a wonderfully juicy scoop? I swear, I fall asleep within two minutes, but I woke up when I saw your Weibo post. You have to compensate me for my sleepiness!”

“The direction is too obvious. The production crew is Dreams in Progress. Is Su Cha really the one whose votes were blocked? So Su Cha is really number one? What the hell? Which company is so awesome that they could force this production crew to directly defame the champion?”

“—Wawa, this is not like you. You’ve changed”

“The conspiracy is so disgusting! It’s too obvious. If what Wawa said is true, I really feel sorry for Su Cha’s fans.”

“I’ve already said that the audience’s reaction was not right. It’d have been fine if the production crew just did not explain, but they even said that the contestants’ fans were spreading rumors. Now, look at how badly the contestants have been criticized. They had the ability to make Su Cha number one, but in the end, their votes in the finals were the lowest since the competition began. Who the hell would believe that?”

“Do you have evidence? Have you considered the feelings of the other contestants? As a verified account, you actually spread rumors. How can you be so vicious?”

“Are some people around here idiots? The first thing that came out of Wawa’s mouth was that they had evidence on hand. How could they dare to say anything without evidence? The stinky thing was the production crew itself. Did Su Cha say anything even after being bashed for a few days? The two other contestants have been groundlessly called the champion and are still celebrating. Are you not satisfied with that?”

“Dreams in Progress has a huge backing... Although I doubt your motives, I can only eat this juicy scoop if there’s evidence. I don’t know how the production crew will react now, or would they continue to fight until the end?”

“So you guys aren’t going to ask who this company is that can force the production crew to tamper with the votes? I think this might be a shocking juicy scoop. Don’t you think there might be a deeper secret behind it?”

Chapter 680: An Apology Announcement

Just before, everyone was still being spoon-fed by the celebrities under Zhang Sen Media. Now that a verified account had posted shocking comments in the middle of the night, netizens expressed that it was like the new year, and joyous news came one after another.

The veteran production crew that had been around for decades actually falsified the votes and blacklisted the champion?

They'd even made a statement saying that the fans who questioned the contest results were spreading rumors and were obviously biased, causing that contestant's fans to be attacked for a few days and nights. The contestant herself was even bashed to the heavens.

In the end, someone came forward to say that the voting results were indeed fake!

Su Cha was the champion!

The name "adding bricks and tiles to the gossip industry" sounded like it was a variety of marketing accounts, but in fact, it just sounded a little playful. Every time they posted, it was about something very serious. Moreover, the account owner specialized in criticizing big events in the entertainment industry. Many celebrities' revelations were released by them. Moreover, it was said that there were individuals who offered tens of millions of yuan for the account, but they could not buy this owner off. They still exposed the dirt without changing their stance.

People did not know who this person was, nor did they know which celebrity they were tied to. Anyway, all the celebrities in the industry would turn pale at the mention of them. Those celebrities were afraid that they would be targeted one day.

Now that this account had made a move again, it must really be regarding a big matter that could be recorded in history.

On the surface, this was just a matter of a contestant being blacklisted. However, "adding bricks and tiles" was as good as going against the television station behind the production crew.

Even if this was the truth, they did not dare to reveal it, but this account did not want to stay silent.

Of course, this matter was premeditated. One could not say that "adding bricks and tiles" was doing this just because they could not stand the results.

Those who could tell the truth were definitely not ordinary people.

The account owner said that they had evidence on hand. If they had evidence, it would definitely be from the person who'd tampered with the votes, and the target range was too small.

But those staff were loyal to the television station. How could they reveal such a thing?

It was obvious that if someone had made a move, even if there was no evidence, stepping up alone would become “evidence.”

For a moment, the netizens who were watching the show were dumbfounded. The passersby and anti-fans who had been attacking Su Cha were dumbfounded. Su Cha’s fans were crying tears of joy. They said that they had been wronged. Their Su Cha was number one!!

As for the fans of the other contestants, some of them pretended to be dead after seeing through the trick while others could not accept it at all. They directly questioned the production crew and asked them to stand up again to prove it.

The discussion forums and Weibo were once again trending because of this matter.

Countless posts appeared, causing the netizens to be dumbfounded. They felt that this matter might just be a big shot spreading rumors. After all, it was not easy to get evidence for such a matter. Even if the production crew faked the votes, they would not admit it. But the production crew of Dreams in Progress stood up and directly deleted the statement they previously released before quickly posting an apology statement.

It was only the reason that had been slightly changed. In the apology, they said that it was because of a staff member’s mistake that the votes were counted incorrectly. They had not found out about it a few days ago, but now they finally found out. The insiders who had handled the improper counting had also apologized to Su Cha and the other two contestants, and they would return Su Cha’s title as champion.

They gave this explanation to preserve their reputation and maintain their last bit of dignity, but their apology was shocking enough.

They actually apologized?

Just because of a contestant?

Even if they were against a verified account, they were backed by a television station! Why should they be afraid?!

Of course, when Su Cha saw the production crew's announcement, she immediately forwarded the apology statement and attached a thank you emoji.

It seemed that the production crew had given her justice and she was thanking them.
