

The Queen 681

Chapter 681: Untitled

Su Cha's reply was quick. In fact, the production crew did not ask her to respond. When they saw Su Cha's response, the production crew felt bitter.

As for why, one could tell from the comments on Su Cha's post.

"Oh my god, Baby, after suffering such a huge grievance, you actually reposted it to express your gratitude?"

"The production crew is really disgusting!! My heart aches for you!!"

"So why should you suffer this grievance? Just act well in your 'Legend of the Crane' role and go to school. Continue being a genius. Why should you have to rely on a production crew?"

"This is the most disgusting production crew I've ever seen. I could imagine you being pressured by the neck while asking you to forward their post. You even had to thank them. It's really a stinky production crew!"

"Seeing your post, I don't dare to imagine how cold you must be feeling in your heart. Is this enough compensation for the real champion?"

"We've been criticized for so many days. We've suffered so much. How can they explain it away by saying it's just a staff's mistake?"

"Dreams in Progress's reputation has been ruined today."

"The verified account clearly revealed that the votes were changed because of the pressure from a certain company. How could it be that a staff just made a mistake? So the production crew is still lying?"

It was normal for Su Cha to respond, but since she knew how to make use of the situation, fans would think that Su Cha felt wronged. They thought Su Cha must have been forced to repost it.

After all, the production crew had defamed the other party's champion. Could they explain it just by saying that the staff had made a mistake?

Over the past few days, Su Cha had been mocked by everyone on the Internet. Not only did they not officially apologize to Su Cha, but they also just casually returned the championship to her?

For a moment, Su Cha's Weibo post was filled with people who felt sorry for her. They bashed the production crew at the same time.

The speed at which they deleted the comments could not keep up with the speed at which the netizens attacked. The production crew had no other choice. In just ten minutes, they saw that there were more than ten thousand comments. The hot comments were filled with criticism again, so they simply turned off the comment function and stopped people from commenting.

This time, the fans who were filled with anger and could not vent their anger started to appear on various platforms.

Su Cha's popularity was not low. Even if just a portion of her fans went after them, her fan club seemed to be huge. Of course, the production crew could not handle such an attack.

The fans of the other two contestants also kept quiet.

The production crew had come forward to clarify that the votes were fake. What else could they say?

Actually, everyone in the industry could tell that Su Cha's repost was probably not forced by the production crew. It was more important for Su Cha to make a statement of forgiveness than to thank them.

Hence, many people could tell that the production crew and Su Cha had had a falling out.

Even if they did not cause trouble, they definitely did not have a good relationship.

However, marketing accounts often get wind of the main point. The big verified account had given detailed information that the vote manipulation was because of the coercion of a company. Now, the production crew said that there was a problem with the votes because of the operators' mistakes. Wasn't this a slap in the face?

In other words, if what the production crew said was the truth, wouldn't that mean "adding bricks and tiles" was creating rumors?

They had a famous verified account. It was obvious that one of the two was lying.

Whoever did not have integrity would be suspected.

Chapter 682: Old Man's Owner

At this time, the production crew no longer had much of a reputation. Naturally, the people did not believe in the production crew.

The public relations department of Zhang Sen Media, who had not been exposed yet, broke out in a cold sweat.

They were indeed considered powerful in the entertainment industry, but after being dealt with by the Imperial Mu Group this time, they did not dare to act recklessly regarding the company's reputation. Zhang Sen Media was anxious and wanted to find out who had ordered them to do this.

Su Cha scrolled through Weibo for a while. Sure enough, someone soon stood up and said, "Is that company Zhang Sen Media?"

I have a dream: "Didn't someone expose this matter at the beginning? Could it be Zhang Sen Media? The television station behind Dreams in Progress is a satellite channel after all. Could ordinary companies make them hack the votes? Recently, the artiste under Zhang Sen Media, Qin Bei, had a conflict with Su Cha. If it was not rumored that Qin Bei's backer was the president of Zhang Sen Media, then there wouldn't be any other explanation for this action, right? And now that the situation was suddenly clarified, it meant that Su Cha must have a big power involved. Zhang Sen Media had recently been completely banned by the Imperial Mu Group. Is there a need to explain this further...?"

"What the f*ck, bloggers are born to do big things. Doesn't your explanation instantly make things clear?"

“Su Cha is backed by the Imperial Mu Group????!”

“Awesome!! Such a powerful background??”

“I remember what you said, blogger. When Su Cha just joined Weibo, didn’t Imperial Mu Jewelry follow her? At that time, she was not very popular. Not many people followed her, but many people did not know about this... Now that you’ve said that, isn’t it obvious?”

“I’m really drunk. How could the president of Zhang Sen Media mess with someone else just for an artist? How could he do such a shameful thing? And the Imperial Mu Group? Don’t talk nonsense. Someone who could do such a big thing could not be an executive of the Imperial Mu Group, right? How could Su Cha have the ability to climb up the ranks of the Imperial Mu Group?”

“Nothing is impossible in this world. I think Su Cha is related to the Imperial Mu Group and was waiting to dig someone’s grave.”

“Even Jin Jiayu didn’t stand a chance. Isn’t it obvious? I believe what the blogger said. I’m more inclined to believe that Su Cha has a sugar daddy behind her. Otherwise, I don’t believe that some insignificant person can hold so many resources just after entering the entertainment industry.”

“Did you forget about Tan Jinsui? Isn’t it strange that she has Tan Jinsui as her manager?”

“The question now is, why did Tan Jinsui choose Su Cha among so many newcomers? Why did he become Su Cha’s manager? Is Su Cha worthy?”

...

Seeing these comments, Su Cha was not angry. She had already expected it.

Actually, their guess was right. A large part of the reason she had these resources was because of Bo Muyi.

However, unlike ordinary people, she had the ability to manage these resources first. Also, Bo Muyi was her boyfriend, her future husband...

As for the term sugar daddy...

Su Cha thought for a while. Well, since he was to be her husband, so be it.

Of course, in the eyes of these netizens, Bo Muyi, this sugar daddy, was definitely a middle-aged man. He was probably especially ugly.

As for the mysterious person who had reported about the Imperial Mu Group, they were only 25 years old. They would definitely not be linked to one another because it was too unbelievable.

Chapter 683: Untitled

That night, the production crew's apology post became particularly lively.

Many people tagged Su Cha. In the WeChat group, a group of sleepless night owls tirelessly spread this rumor.

Martial Alliance Elder, Yun Zu: "Oh my, in the version I saw, Bo Muyi has become a wretched-looking middle-aged man with a general's belly [How exciting!]."

Vice Alliance Master of the Star Alliance, Tan Yeluo: "Why aren't you sleeping in the middle of the night? You're already so old. Are you just waiting to die?"

Martial Alliance Elder, Yun Zu: "It's fine if I can die. Anyway, I've lived enough at 73. For a sudden death at such a young age, I will definitely set off firecrackers to celebrate."

Vice Alliance Master of the Star Alliance, Tan Yeluo: "Trash!"

Martial Alliance Master, Mo Weiyuan: "Sigh, we are all in the same group. Let's be more peaceful. Now that the little Alliance Master is being embroiled in a dispute, shouldn't we find some connections to help explain things?"

Vice Alliance Master of the Star Alliance, Tan Yeluo: "Her boyfriend hasn't said anything. Let's not bother about him."

Martial Alliance Master, Mo Weiyuan: "..."

Su Cha watched them chat and did not interrupt, in case the topic involved her again.

She thought for a while and looked at the time. She sent Bo Mui a message and asked if he was asleep.

He had not recovered yet from his injury. Even though she was filming, Su Cha still missed him.

Two seconds after the message was sent, Su Cha received a call from him.

“Not yet.”

The man’s voice was as clear and noble as ever, with a gentleness and affection for the girl. “Cha Cha, are you ready to sleep?”

“Not yet.”

She was living in the same room as Fu Mo, so Su Cha took the phone and opened the door. She walked to the empty corridor to call him.

“Are you feeling better now? Don’t ignore your health when you’re busy with work. Don’t keep asking me to hang up before you.”

Su Cha frowned slightly. Sometimes, she did not want to nag. She felt like an old woman.

But she was used to being upfront with Bo Mui, just like how Bo Mui treated her.

“No, my body is almost recovered. I’m being obedient.”

He said happily, “How can I not listen to you?”

He would never get sick of Su Cha’s concern.

Su Cha nodded. "That's good. Mui, how's Bai Kun's investigation on the Killing Alliance?"

"It's not ideal, but there's no movement for the time being."

Bo Mui paused for a while. "The difference between the Killing Alliance and the Star Alliance's Martial Alliance is that their branches are not involved with each other. Right now, the person behind Dawn is unwilling to bear this responsibility. The people from Tree Hall can't be found. That assassin is dead, and he did not give any useful information."

"Dead?"

Su Cha frowned and said coldly, "He must have had a tough mouth."

Su Cha had no sympathy for those who had hurt Bo Mui. She even wanted to have dealt with them herself.

"Don't worry, I'm here. The Bo family is not to be trifled with."

Bo Mui sounded dissatisfied. It seemed that ever since Su Cha became the Alliance Master of the Star Alliance, she had become more in control of these things.

Bo Mui, who had always wanted to protect her, had now become the target of his girlfriend's protection. It was not that he was unhappy, but he liked the way Su Cha used to act coquettishly in his arms.

She should have been a good girl. Now that she was so strong and powerful, he secretly felt sorry for her. He did not know how much she had suffered to become like this.

Chapter 684: Master, You Also Like to Read Gossip?

Su Cha paused when she heard Bo Mui's words. Then, she smiled and said, "Of course I know, but the Killing Alliance is a common enemy of our Alliances. Let's do it together."

The Star Alliance was also doing their best to investigate the Killing Alliance.

"However, there's something I plan to do first."

Su Cha thought for a while and told him her plan. She wanted to ask for suggestions. “Among the five elders of the Star Alliance, other than Master Buzhou, the other four are a stumbling block to me and the Star Alliance. I haven’t taken the initiative to ask them about what I’ve told them before, but they clearly don’t have the self-awareness to tell me themselves. None of them came to report to me about their subordinates. So, who do you think I should touch first?”

“Cheng Deyue.”

Bo Mui was very decisive. “He’s a stupid person. He doesn’t have any sense of judgment. He’s often used by the other three as a tool. We have to get rid of him first and force the other three to take action themselves. Only then can we start on a better footing.”

Cheng Deyue was also an old man. If he knew that he was being evaluated by a junior, he would probably vomit blood.

Su Cha agreed with Bo Mui’s judgment. Cheng Deyue was indeed the stupidest among the five elders.

At least, even if the other three were dissatisfied, they still had to maintain their reputation, especially since Mo Weiyuan almost got into trouble this time. The traitor was from the Tang Sect. Tang Hefei had been as quiet as a chicken for the past two days, and he would not cause any trouble in the short term. Su Cha could take advantage of this time to get rid of the others.

“Yes, I think so too. But to get rid of his position as an elder, we have to find a suitable opportunity.”

Su Cha touched her chin and started to think about how to begin.

“Cha Cha, have you forgotten about his grandchildren?”

The man chuckled. “I didn’t move much back then. I was just waiting for today.”

Su Cha’s eyes lit up. “Muyi, you’re right!”

Bo Mui's words reminded Su Cha. She instantly knew what to do, but she had to find a good excuse.

Hence, she had a simple chat with Bo Mui. After hanging up, Su Cha entered the room and spent the first half of the night discussing this matter with Tan Yeluo.

She was Bo Mui's "brother," the Vice Alliance Master of the Star Alliance. She was promoted by the old Alliance Master, so Su Cha naturally trusted her unconditionally. When this fellow heard that Su Cha was going to stir trouble, she could not wait to praise her with both hands. She had long disliked this group of elders. Now that she had the support of the new Alliance Master, it was naturally easier for her to do half the work.

The next day, even though Su Cha did not sleep much, she was still energetic when she woke up in the morning. She went to join the production crew with Fu Mo early in the morning and got the stylist to start styling her. As she had thought of a good idea, she looked energetic. She exuded a lively light today. Even the makeup artist praised her. "Miss Su, you look good. You are really in high spirits."

The makeup artist was implying that Su Cha was happy because the Dreams in Progress production crew had clarified things yesterday, but she did not know that Su Cha was happy because she was thinking of doing something bad.

"Really? I forgot to check Weibo today."

With the makeup artist's reminder, Su Cha recalled that the matter on the Internet was not over yet, so she turned on her phone directly. After the stylist left for a while, she went on Weibo to continue watching the online battlefield.

Whenever something big happened, she usually did not log on to her Su Cha account. The continuous tagging and messages could give anyone a headache. When she went in to read the comments as S, she accidentally liked one.

Su Cha was silent for a while and quickly canceled.

Although S was an embroidery master, she still had many fans after the previous incident. However, no one should notice such a slip of the hand, right?

She had canceled it.

In less than two minutes, Su Cha saw a private message from a fan: “Master O.O, you also like to read gossip?”

Chapter 685: Fawning

Most of the time, such messages would get buried, so even though Su Cha saw it, she did not reply.

It was understandable that fans would pay attention to celebrities’ activities at all times, but it did not make sense for a master like her to have fans paying close attention to her.

After all, she had over 100,000 followers and had not bought any of them. Su Cha could understand.

She pretended not to have seen it and continued scrolling through Weibo. After the stylist came in, she closed the Weibo page.

After all, she was being styled right now. The stylist could see her phone screen when she lowered her head. Su Cha did not want her S identity to be exposed for the time being.

After reading the news on Weibo, the production crew naturally refused to admit that they had been coerced into changing Su Cha’s votes. Anyway, there was no movement after the announcement. As for Zhang Sen Media, who was involved, they would not admit that they had been suppressed by the Imperial Mu Group. Otherwise, where could they put their face?

Zhang Sen Media could only awkwardly let the netizens discuss it. They could neither speak nor rebut. They did not know if the Imperial Mu Group would move again if they did.

Initially, some media outlets thought that the Imperial Mu Group’s actions were treacherous, but now it seemed that Zhang Sen Media was the one who’d caused trouble first. No wonder the corporation took action.

But it seemed that Su Cha was quite favored?

Yes, almost everyone, including those in the industry, had guessed that the financial backer behind Su Cha was the Imperial Mu Group. However, the person in charge of the Imperial Mu Group had said in a magazine interview that he had a wife, so it was naturally impossible for him to call her a wife. And Su Cha was only 18 this year. Logically speaking, since there was not enough information to prove it, they did not hesitate to directly let the person in charge of the Imperial Mu Group off the hook. Moreover, they did not think about it at all because they subconsciously felt that Su Cha was not worthy of such a person, even if he was only a sugar daddy.

All that was left was to search among the shareholders of the Imperial Mu Group or among some other higher-ups.

People in the industry generally believed that this person was the producer who invested in The Legend of the Crane. After all, the producer had a mysterious background and was very rich, although she was a woman.

But weren't lilies^[1] accepted nowadays?

There were also many wealthy men who liked male celebrities.

But those who did not know were making wild guesses. Anyway, the core idea was that even if Su Cha was wronged this time, it would not be good if she had a sugar daddy.

After all, the entertainment industry was a big cesspool. Everyone thought so.

While the makeup artist and stylist were styling Su Cha, they discussed this matter. The stylist gossiped, "The production crew of Dreams is too unreliable. I don't know how many times they verified the staff's mistakes. It caused you to suffer on the Internet. But Su Cha, your mentality is really good. If it were someone else, they would have broken down many times."

They were both from the industry. Although they did not know if it was Zhang Sen Media, they knew that the crew could not get away with it. They could not even fool the netizens after making such an excuse. How could they believe it?

They just could not say it clearly and found an excuse to talk to Su Cha.

Now that it was known Su Cha had such a powerful backer, who would not want to suck up to her?

Hence, Su Cha only smiled lightly when she heard that. “In that situation back then, when I got third place, I thought, so be it. What else could I do? The other two contestants are not bad. It’s not impossible for anyone else to get first place.”

Chapter 686: Get Used to It

There seemed to be nothing wrong with her words. In addition, she had been quiet since the incident happened. The makeup artist was surprised. “Su Cha, were you really not angry back then? Even when the Dream Team came out to speak, didn’t you feel wronged?”

No matter how good an ordinary person’s mentality was, it was impossible for them to be so good, right?

“Since I participated in a competition, I could only accept the results.”

Su Cha played it down and did not waste her breath. “If one couldn’t accept this, why participate in a competition at all?”

Even if she had something to say, she could not say it.

There were too many people around, and she did not trust these two.

She was not very angry, but she was unwilling to accept the fact that what she deserved had been cheapened for no reason and that she had been mocked repeatedly online.

What belonged to her was hers. If someone did not want to give it to her, they would have to pay the price.

The two people behind looked at each other and admired Su Cha’s mentality.

Indeed, although this girl usually had conflicts with Jin Jiayu when she joined the production crew, anyone with discerning eyes could tell that Jin Jiayu was the one who’d caused trouble first. She deserved to be kicked out.

During this period of time, Su Cha had been quiet and not causing trouble for the production crew. She was not a smooth person, but at least she did not have a petty temper. She could fulfill the director's requirements and endure hardship.

There were not many newbies who could film seriously.

It seemed that many things on the Internet were started by others.

Su Cha's personality could only be said to be too straightforward. She would not endure it. She had the capital not to do so.

More importantly, her acting was also good!

After filming for such a long time, the director was very satisfied with Su Cha's performance. The stylist and makeup artist could guarantee that the performance would definitely become popular if it was broadcasted!

Director Han's production was led by Shao Tianwen and Mu Jiao. With such an outstanding supporting role, it was hard not to become popular.

While Su Cha was being styled, she received a call from Zong Yanxiu.

"Xiao Cha, what are you doing now?"

There was something wrong with his voice. Su Cha could feel him frowning.

Su Cha raised her eyebrows. "Father, what's wrong?"

"How dare you!"

Zong Yanxiu was a little angry. "Such a big thing has happened. You've suffered so much, so why didn't you tell me? And you even joined hands with your Uncle Tan to hide it from me? On top of your ranking being faked, you were also attacked by people on the Internet. What kind of lousy program did you participate in?"

“Hmm...”

Su Cha paused. “It’s not that I didn’t want you to worry. It’s just that I don’t really care about these things. They’ve already settled it.”

She could not move while being styled, and there were others listening, so Su Cha spoke very vaguely.

“Can’t I help you?”

After Zong Yanxiu finished speaking, Su Cha heard Zong Bingyi’s angry voice on the other end of the phone. “She has lost all her face. What’s up with arguing with a third-rate celebrity? Is that kind of person qualified to argue with her?”

Although he sounded like he was blaming Su Cha, it was obvious that he was defending her.

Su Cha could not help but chuckle. “Is Grandpa angry?”

“Yes, he’s even angrier than me.”

Zong Yanxiu was still angry. When he heard Su Cha’s words, he could not help but laugh. “Grandpa said that you have lost face.”

“Then I’ve lost it.”

Su Cha said, “Get used to it.”

Chapter 687: Drag

Zong Yanxiu said helplessly, “I don’t dare to tell him that.”

He paused and said, “Xiao Cha, I see that the Internet is guessing about you and Muye. Have you decided not to announce it?”

“You should ask Uncle Tan about the details. He will explain it to you.”

It was not convenient for Su Cha to say anything now, so she asked Zong Yanxiu to ask Tan Jinsui.

“Okay. Don’t worry. I will stand up for you regarding Zhang Sen Media! I think Muyi has not done enough. Any Tom, Dick, or Harry can bully our daughter. Does he think that our Zong family has no one?”

The influential Zhang Sen Media in the entertainment industry was nothing in front of them. If they could not make a move to completely bankrupt their company, it would at least be enough for their company to suffer.

Su Cha felt warm inside.

She could not say much, so she said softly, “Father, do what makes you happy. I’m still getting styled, so it’s not convenient for me to say too much. I’ll hang up first, okay?”

“Okay. Bye now.”

She’d been preoccupied with Zong Yanxiu.

After she hung up, the makeup artist asked her with a smile, “Was it your dad?”

Su Cha’s voice was very low. She also used her strong hearing to listen so as to avoid being heard by others.

The two of them could not hear anything clearly. They only knew that the caller was her father.

Su Cha nodded. “He called to ask after me.”

“They must have been sad after they saw what happened online. Our parents are old, so they will inevitably let their imaginations run wild. Su Cha, you have to explain it well to them.”

They were kind. Su Cha nodded to express that she understood.

She did not show any impatience and just listened. This made the makeup artist and stylist have a better impression of her.

There was a big scene in the afternoon.

There were many scenes in “The Legend of the Crane,” so the production crew had hired a special director, who was a famous senior in the industry.

Yu Wan was a woman with peerless martial arts skills, so there would definitely be fighting scenes in the drama.

The martial arts director was instructing Su Cha and the rest on how to act in the next scene. This scene was between her and Mu Jiao. Su Cha naturally listened attentively and did not intend to correct her.

The director asked her to act however she wanted.

When the staff tied her waist for the first time, Mu Jiao smiled and asked, “Su Cha, this is your first time acting such a scene. This must be your first time using a harness, right?”

Su Cha nodded. She never needed this thing, so of course it was her first time.

Mu Jiao instructed her, “When you are suspended in the air later, your body will feel weightless. After you’ve stabilized and relaxed, it will not be difficult. The other movements will be done according to the requirements of the martial arts manual. We will just do a few simple movements in the air. It will not be difficult.”

Although it was not going to be difficult, it would be hard for her if she forgot her lines while suspended on wires. If she did it quickly, it would be difficult for her not to panic. If she did not act well, it would not feel good to hang in the air for a few hours.

Mu Jiao said this to ease Su Cha’s nervousness.

Su Cha was not nervous. She pursed her lips and smiled. “Thank you, Sister Mu Jiao. I will try my best to adapt and not drag you down. Let’s end this scene early.”

“I didn’t say that you were a burden,” Mu Jiao said casually. “I was afraid that I would be a burden to you.”

Han Yongbing looked at the two of them discussing. “Alright, you’ll know when you go up.”

Chapter 688: Stunned Everyone

After the staff confirmed the arrangement, Su Cha found she was indeed not used to hanging up.

Since the lock of the wire was hanging on her waist, it would definitely make her waist feel uncomfortable.

Ordinary people would not be able to hang on for long.

While floating in the air, Su Cha used her inner force to relax her body, but she did not rely entirely on it.

Otherwise, people would suspect her...

At least it did not feel uncomfortable anymore. After Su Cha’s toes started to float in the air, Han Yongbing asked, “Su Cha, are you okay?”

Su Cha nodded. Han Yongbing waved at the staff.

The harness around her waist tightened again. Su Cha’s body swayed and she was suspended in midair.

The first time she went up, she lost her balance instantly. Her body would subconsciously turn and tilt. Su Cha was steady and did not have any major problems.

Many people came to watch her first scene.

Shao Tianwen and Hua Nie stood by the side and watched. When Hua Nie saw Su Cha's calm expression and steady body, he was so envious that he was about to cry. "We are both humans, but why is the difference so huge?"

During his first time, he almost threw up.

Shao Tianwen could not help but laugh. "Who asked you to be afraid of heights!"

As Hua Nie was very tall, he was trembling non-stop when he was hung up on the wire. He almost fainted from rolling his eyes.

His willpower was quite strong. He slowly got used to it and forced himself to overcome it in the future. However, he still had the stunt double complete the difficult aerial action.

He was afraid of heights, and there was nothing he could do about it. However, since he could not do it himself, Hua Nie was a little regretful. Han Yongbing was also dissatisfied that he could not take a shot of Hua Nie.

But this was human nature. He could not force others.

Looking at Su Cha's calm appearance during her first time in the air, Hua Nie cried a million times in his heart.

After Su Cha was hung up, Mu Jiao was also hung up.

She had filmed harness scenes many times and was familiar with it. However, she was still an ordinary person, so her body was unstable in mid-air.

They also had to do some movements. Usually, such scenes needed to be filmed several times or more than ten times.

Unexpectedly, both of them performed well this time. Su Cha "deliberately" made several mistakes. After Mu Jiao made a few mistakes, the fight scene was easily over.

The main reason was that the movements were not difficult at the moment. The difficult part was the final battle. The flying up and down would test one's skills.

After Han Yongbing nodded, Su Cha was put down first. After she landed, the rope on Mu Jiao's side was lowered. In the end, a staff member screamed, "F*ck!"

Then, Mu Jiao's harness suddenly fell from the sky.

The sudden change stunned the others. Mu Jiao felt her body suddenly lose weight in mid-air and she screamed subconsciously. The martial arts extras moved to rush forward to catch Mu Jiao.

Although there was a cushion on the ground, it was not very soft. It was not a joke to fall on it from the sky.

At this moment, Su Cha, who was being untied by the staff, was still wearing the thick palace dress. Her figure rushed out at lightning speed. She reached out and accurately grabbed Mu Jiao's waist. She held Mu Jiao's waist horizontally and spun around to slow down the landing. Her red dress fluttered, making for a beautiful scene.

Then she pushed Mu Jiao's back slightly, and Mu Jiao stood steadily on the ground.

As she had caught her quickly, Mu Jiao's arm wrapped around Su Cha's neck instinctively. The production crew was stunned when the scene stopped.

Chapter 689: Recorded

Was there something wrong?

It was as if time had stopped. Everyone was dumbfounded and did not know how to react.

Until Su Cha asked her with a faint smile, "Sister Mu Jiao, are you okay?"

Mu Jiao came back to her senses. She blinked and swallowed her saliva subconsciously. "I'm fine."

She had suddenly felt that the harness had let go of her and her body was falling rapidly. Then, as if someone had caught her, she was twirled around. After she was helped to stand up, she found herself hugging Su Cha's neck.

It was obvious that Su Cha had saved her.

Mu Jiao felt that something was wrong.

The martial arts director did not have time to react. She stood awkwardly at the side. Han Yongbing was the first to regain his senses. He subconsciously patted the cameraman. "Did you take that shot?"

His voice was filled with excitement.

The cameraman looked at the machine that he had not turned off and nodded in a daze. "I think it was taken."

Everyone came back to their senses.

The martial arts director looked at Su Cha with bright eyes. The staff member who was controlling the machine walked over with a bitter expression. "S-sorry, Director. The machine was stuck for a while. It loosened when I used too much strength..."

Then he bowed and apologized to Mu Jiao. "I'm sorry, Mu Jiao. I'm really sorry."

Although Mu Jiao was shocked just now, she had already regained her senses. She looked at the staff and shook her head. "Forget it, it's fine."

She looked at Su Cha and smiled. "Su Cha, thank you."

She did not expect Su Cha to save her in such a dangerous situation.

Han Yongbing instructed someone to check if it was a problem with the machine. After all, this was the fault of the props team. Everyone came back to their senses and looked at Su Cha differently.

Just now, when she went to save someone, her smooth and natural figure was like that in a real movie. It was unbelievable!

Hua Nie and Shao Tianwen walked forward, their eyes dull. “Su Cha, Mu Jiao, are you okay?”

Mu Jiao shook her head. The martial arts director looked at Su Cha and could not help but say excitedly, “You are still a girl. How could you react like that under normal circumstances? Did you practice martial arts before?”

Ordinary people would be frightened when they saw someone fall down. They would take it head-on if they could. How could they easily take a turn to soften the impact? Their strength would have to be considerable.

Mu Jiao suddenly fell from the sky. Under normal circumstances, someone would have had a concussion.

Han Yongbing also came forward and said, “Isn’t this the first time you’ve been hung up on harness?”

Su Cha smiled. “I’ve never been hung on a wire before.”

She did not explain in detail, and everyone looked at her differently.

The martial arts director looked at someone else. Just as she was about to speak, Hua Nie suddenly said to Su Cha, “Su Cha, you are so awesome. Can you be my stunt double? I saw how handsome you were when you saved someone!”

As soon as he finished speaking, Han Yongbing slapped the back of Hua Nie’s head. “Do you have nothing better to think about?”

Everyone laughed.

Her doubts were dispelled.

The others helped Mu Jiao to the side to comfort her. Han Yongbing asked someone to check the props again. It would be best if this was an accident, but it might not be an accident. However, it was unlikely that someone had deliberately framed her.

Su Cha also went to rest for a while. Han Yongbing and the martial arts director watched the recording more than ten times.

Chapter 690: Flirting

“Tsk tsk, look at her smooth movements. She also has a lot of strength. This female celebrity is not ordinary...”

The camera was not turned off just now, so the scene of Su Cha saving someone was recorded.

Han Yongbing touched his chin and pondered. “Although it was an accident, this accident gave me a surprise.”

No one expected Su Cha, who looked like a weak little girl, to be so agile.

“She must have been trained!”

The martial arts director said firmly, “It’s very difficult for ordinary people to do such a thing. It seems like she doesn’t need a stunt double at all. No wonder she performed well on her first time in a wire harness. Her body was also stable. She’s much more familiar with it than many celebrities who often hang in harnesses.”

Mu Jiao stood at the side drinking water. The assistant massaged her shoulders to help her relax. After the fright just now, Mu Jiao’s body was still a little tense.

As the assistant massaged her, she smiled and said, “Sister Mu Jiao, you didn’t see it just now. During such a dangerous situation, Su Cha rushed over without hesitation to catch you. I think she snatched the job of our male celebrities.”

“Even male celebrities didn’t dare to catch me.”

Mu Jiao swallowed the water and looked at Su Cha. “I’m already an adult, but I was saved by a little girl. Moreover, she’s like a hero saving the beauty in a martial arts drama. Isn’t it interesting?”

“This is not a drama! Her movements were so cool!”

The junior assistant was excited. She could not help but be excited as she looked at Su Cha. “If the scene just now where she saved you was leaked, I think both of you will become a couple in fans’ eyes.”

“This cannot be revealed.”

Mu Jiao frowned and looked at the assistant sternly. “This was an accident. It shows that the production crew’s supervision was not up to par. It’s fine since nothing happened to me, but if something had happened, the production crew would find it hard to explain. Director Han probably doesn’t want such a thing to happen. This video is good for Su Cha, but it’s also bad for the entire production crew. Did you record it?”

The junior assistant quickly shook her head nervously. “No, we were all paying attention to your harness scenes at that time. We didn’t have the right to take a video. But I think Director Han asked the cameraman if he had taken the scene just now.”

Mu Jiao: “...”

She looked at Director Han and the others, then at Su Cha, who was standing aside casually. At this moment, she probably felt Mu Jiao’s gaze on her. The other party looked over, her red lips parted slightly, and she smiled calmly. Her face was clearly exquisite and gorgeous, but it exuded a clear and cold feeling, bringing with it a sense of beauty.

Mu Jiao’s heart skipped a beat.

She was not a little girl anymore. She had seen countless handsome male celebrities, including Shao Tianwen, who was a charming man. In the end, instead of being seduced by these male celebrities, she was... seduced by a girl?

Mu Jiao felt that she had probably gone crazy.

Her cheeks were a little hot. She avoided Su Cha's gaze and fanned her face. "You are so naive."

The assistant looked up at the sky. There were no clouds in the sky, and there was even a cool breeze.

The assistant thought of a perfect reason. "Sister Mu Jiao, you are still wearing your armor. It might be too hot."

Mu Jiao nodded.

Han Yongbing asked the production crew to check things again. After confirming that there was nothing else wrong, he announced that they would continue filming.

The martial arts scene had ended. All that was left were the lines in the script. After the filming, Su Cha and Fu Mo went back together.
