

The Queen 821

Chapter 821: Are You Questioning Me?

In the hospital ward, Zuo Zhici was guarding Ruan Yin. She looked a little haggard.

She did not sleep well all night. She did not expect Ruan Yin to faint in front of her last night. She was terrified.

She called for help in a flurry and was scolded by her father angrily. When she arrived at the hospital, the doctor said that she had fainted because she had been too agitated. She would be fine after she woke up.

But she had been asleep for a night. It was noon, and Ruan Yin had not woken up.

Zuo Shaoxin did not deal with the matters in the company. He stood outside in the corridor and smoked. He had not slept for a night, and green stubble had appeared on his chin.

Zuo Zhici's heart ached for her father.

She could tell that her father really loved her mother, but how could he do those things back then?

She really could not imagine that her tall and imposing father would be such a ruthless person.

Holding Ruan Yin's fingers in her palm, Zuo Zhici wanted to apologize, but her lips trembled and she could not speak.

Suddenly, her fingertips trembled. Zuo Zhici panicked and looked up. She saw Ruan Yin's eyelashes trembling as she gradually woke up.

She was overjoyed. She opened her mouth and was about to call her father to tell him that her mother was awake, but after thinking about it, she fell silent.

Ruan Yin gradually woke up. When she saw Zuo Zhici guarding her, she could not help but feel sorry for her.

She knew that she had fainted, but she did not know how long she had been asleep. When she woke up, she looked at Zuo Zhici with a weak breath. “Zhici, how long have I been asleep?”

Zuo Zhici pouted. “Just one night. It’s noon.”

Ruan Yin looked at the surrounding scenery. She was not unfamiliar with the hospital’s ward facilities. She sighed. “Were you scared?”

Zuo Zhici nodded.

Ruan Yin touched her cheek with her fingers. “Actually, it’s not your fault. Mom just can’t bear the price.”

She sighed and looked around the ward weakly. “Where’s your father?”

“Outside,” Zuo Zhici whispered.

Ruan Yin touched her head. “Call your father in. I have something to say to him.”

Hearing this, Zuo Zhici stood up silently and went to call Zuo Shaoxin.

After a while, Zuo Shaoxin walked in quickly and asked anxiously, “Are you awake?”

Seeing Ruan Yin awake on the bed, Zuo Shaoxin heaved a sigh of relief.

He walked over and sat by the bed, holding Ruan Yin’s fingers.

They were a little cold.

Ruan Yin did not smile at him like before. She just looked at Zuo Zhici, who had silently followed Zuo Shaoxin in. “Zhici, go out and close the door.”

Zuo Shaoxin frowned. Seeing this, Zuo Zhici had no choice but to walk out silently and close the door.

“What do you want to say?”

Zuo Shaoxin touched her hair with his fingers. “You’ve just woken up. You’re too tired. Let’s talk about it later.”

He felt that Ruan Yin could not say anything good. Now that he knew the reason why Ruan Yin had fainted, he did not want to talk to her about anything.

Ruan Yin held him tightly in her palm. She looked at Zuo Shaoxin and smiled sadly. “I will say it sooner or later. Why don’t you want to hear it now?”

Zuo Shaoxin’s heart sank bit by bit. “Did you just hear your daughter’s nonsense? Are you going to question me now?”

Chapter 822: It’s All My Fault

“You know very well if she’s lying or not!” Ruan Yin screamed.

After so many years, her emotions broke down again. “Don’t you know what she said? Didn’t you do those things?”

Zuo Shaoxin sneered and held down the agitated Ruan Yin. “So what if I did? Don’t you know it yourself? Why didn’t you stop me back then?”

“Stop you? How could I have stopped you? Zuo Shaoxin, would I dare to stop you?”

Ruan Yin’s eyes were red. She had just woken up and was too agitated. Her forehead was throbbing. She glared at Zuo Shaoxin, and her veins were popping. “I just want to ask you something. Just one thing. Did you see her back then? Did you see that child? Was she there?!”

With a loud bang, the question seemed to bring her back to the dark past.

That day, the wind and rain mixed together as thunder rumbled.

Ruan Yin saw Zuo Shaoxin asking someone to push Zong Yanxiu down, and she fell into a frenzy. She screamed hysterically and was directly sedated by Zuo Shaoxin.

She fainted from anger. In her trance, she seemed to have heard a girl's cries.

However, the rain was too loud and she could not hear it clearly. She did not know if she had heard wrongly.

For so many years, she had never dared to think about it.

If that child had seen it that day...

In her eyes, her father was murdered by them...

At this moment, when she asked, it was as if she had asked about her nightmare of many years.

If it was true, she did not know how to face all of this from now on.

Zuo Shaoxin's eyes also started to turn red. The difference was that his eyes were oozing with red blood. He was like a demon that had crawled out of hell, giving off a terrifying aura.

After a long while, he looked at Ruan Yin and smiled. "Yes, I saw her."

Ruan Yin froze.

She looked at Zuo Shaoxin in disbelief. Her hand moved faster than her brain, and she slapped Zuo Shaoxin's face.

With a loud slap, Zuo Shaoxin turned his head.

"Are you still human? Are you still human?"

She questioned him continuously and sobbed. Her tone was sharp and desperate. "I don't know why you hate her so much. I told you long ago that she is your child. She has nothing to do with Zong Yanxiu. Don't you know why I hid her after giving birth to her? You are really a beast!"

She had already fallen into an abyss of anger. She started to push Zuo Shaoxin hard and told him, "Get out, get out!!!"

Zuo Shaoxin was expressionless. Compared to Ruan Yin's madness, he sneered and left.

Ruan Yin was left alone.

Zuo Zhici, who was guarding outside, saw Zuo Shaoxin push the door open. She was about to ask something when she saw a red mark on Zuo Shaoxin's face.

She paused. Zuo Shaoxin did not look at her. He walked past her and left.

Zuo Zhici had a bad feeling. She looked inside and saw Ruan Yin crying. She walked in and asked carefully, "Mom, what did you tell Dad?"

Ruan Yin hugged her fiercely and cried on her shoulder. "Zhici, Mom really let her down. I really let her down... It's all my fault, it's all my fault..."

In the end, she could no longer speak.

Chapter 823: Gratitude

After Su Cha left the Zong family residence, she went to see Le Anqi.

She was in a special situation now. It was impossible for her to stay at Fu Mo's place forever. Bai Kun had also found a house for her.

Only then did Su Cha learn that she had been living with Di Li. Other than her taking drugs, nothing serious had happened. As long as she stopped taking drugs, everything would be fine.

The house was in a mess. Su Cha planned to find her another place to live after Le Anqi quit the drug addiction.

As for her school, they applied for her to take a short leave.

Su Cha asked Bai Kun to fake a call from Le Anqi's parents. He said that there was something urgent at home and asked Anqi to go home for a month. She would be back after that.

Actually, almost all the teachers in the school knew about Le Anqi. They'd been feeling a little regretful, but seeing that she was on leave this time, they agreed without saying anything.

There were all kinds of people in Imperial Entertainment. They looked glamorous on the surface, but there were many people like her in private.

There were many like Le Anqi.

Le Anqi was in a newly rented apartment. Bai Kun worked very fast. Of course, he could not supervise her the whole time, but he was also very fast at finding people to do things.

When Su Cha arrived, she found the place fully furnished. Fu Mo was also here.

"Aren't you going back?"

Su Cha was surprised to hear that Fu Mo also planned to stay here.

"I can take care of her."

Fu Mo looked at Le Anqi, who had woken up today and was eating quietly. She was much better now. Other than being overly thin, there was nothing wrong with her.

Su Cha paused and did not force her. "It's up to you. Do whatever you want."

Fu Mo nodded. Le Anqi was eating. After a silence, she wiped the corner of her eyes. "Thank you, Su Cha."

"Why are you thanking me? I just want you to work hard."

Su Cha sat next to her. "We are friends. I can do whatever I can, but I'm just your friend. I can care about you and help you, but your life belongs to you alone. You have to be clear about that."

She did not intend to blame her. She just told her this indifferently, as if this matter was in the past.

Le Anqi could not help but cry again. "Actually, I also know that I liked him too much..."

She was alone again. She was alone. Those people were prepared. They had aimed for her long ago. She got hooked. Many things that happened later were her own fault.

She was indeed too stupid.

Su Cha had been treated by Zhai Yao the same way, so she understood Le Anqi and did not say much. As long as life started anew, who could not live on?

Le Anqi had learned her lesson this time.

However, Su Cha got to be reborn, but Le Anqi could not. As a friend, Su Cha could only help her clean up the past.

"I can rest assured with Fu Mo taking care of you. Fu Mo is my assistant. She goes out with me for various activities. If you have anything you need, you can ask her. If you really need help, just ask me. I'm willing to help you with anything I'm able to. From now on, just talk to me. At the very least, I can give you some advice."

Le Anqi nodded. She had no trauma about living with Di Li before. After all, she was not so pedantic. She admitted that that was because she liked him.

But she did not dare to let her parents know that she was taking drugs. She was grateful that Su Cha could help her.

Chapter 824:Clean It Up

Le Anqi was a person who could differentiate between good and bad, but she had been bewitched for a long time.

She knew that Su Cha was doing this for her own good. She wanted to quit drugs and live well again.

Actually, she also had a turtle shell. Hearing that Su Cha could help her deal with these things and never expose them, she was a little glad.

It was also because of this that she could quickly put down her burden. If the evidence of her taking drugs could be found at any time, she would probably live in fear for the rest of her life.

Su Cha's assistant had told her a lot last night, so she could figure it out.

She had decided that after she quit drugs, she would start a live broadcast again and be a positive person. Then, she would study hard. The first thing she would do was to return Su Cha's money.

"Let me tell you something."

Not only did it make sense now, but Su Cha also had to force her to face what she had to face.

She knocked on the table and asked Le Anqi, "How are you going to deal with Di Li?"

Hearing Di Li's name, Le Anqi bit her lips. She still liked Di Li and did not want to face him, but she could not forgive him for what he had done last night.

Even if she'd been forgiven by Su Cha, she felt that she no longer deserved to be her friend...

"He owes me a lot of money."

Le Anqi paused and thought about everything carefully. "I liked him in the past. Let's not talk about that. He owes me a lot of money. I need him to pay me back."

Di Li had taken drugs and borrowed hundreds of thousands of yuan from her.

For ordinary people, it was not a small amount.

Su Cha nodded. Fu Mo secretly noted it down. After a while, Le Anqi did not know what to say. She just looked at Su Cha and asked carefully, “I don’t know what to do next. Should I... beat him up?”

She stammered. She had beaten people up before, but she had never flaunted her strength. Otherwise, when Su Cha was in school, she would not have been so surprised to see Su Cha daring to attack Yang Nuanru. Moreover, she was intimidated by Su Cha.

“No need.”

Su Cha had made a decision. “I know what to do.”

She glanced at Fu Mo, who instantly knew what to do.

She took out her laptop and quickly logged on to the website. “Ah... How much does he owe you? More than 100,000 yuan, right? The bank card under his name... Tsk, there are still hundreds of thousands. He actually spent your money?”

Le Anqi did not expect Fu Mo to find Di Li’s bank account so easily. She was shocked. “Is this true? Didn’t he always lie to me that he has no money?”

Su Cha sneered. “Since he lies to you, can’t he lie to others?”

Le Anqi’s expression darkened.

“I’ll give you back 200,000 yuan. The rest will be his retribution.”

She quickly typed on the keyboard and blinked at Su Cha. “Classmate Su, I’ve dealt with it. An amount of 200,000 yuan has been transferred to Anqi. The background is definitely legitimate. It can’t be traced that it’s Di Li’s money. In addition, I’ve given the police the video of Di Li and the group of people taking drugs.”

Drug abuse?

Of course it was a crime.

It was different if they took the initiative.

Hearing that, Le Anqi's forehead twitched. "Then I..."

Fu Mo waved her hand. "Don't worry. It's none of your business. You won't be implicated. I've cleared all your information."

Chapter 825: Sell You?

Le Anqi was surprised to see Fu Mo do this.

"Fu Mo, other than being Su Cha's assistant, what else do you do?"

"She can do more."

Su Cha smiled. "Okay, call me if you need anything. You've been at home recently. Someone will be watching you in case your illness relapses. Don't worry. These are my people. At other times... Well, try not to go out as often as possible. If it's unavoidable, I will get someone to escort you there. After all, I told your school that you had returned to Yonggu City. It'd be so awkward if they saw you back already."

Le Anqi smiled and nodded.

After Su Cha had checked up on Le Anqi, she left to go home.

Time passed slowly. Everything was much calmer during this period.

The weather gradually turned cold. Recently, it had started to snow in the Imperial Capital.

It was a rare natural scene.

Ever since Su Cha participated in the show last time, she had gained a lot of fashion resources.

However, the strange thing was that most of them were jewelry brands. In contrast, Chanel, Hiberia, and many other big shots who had led her to fame last time made no moves.

It seemed that Su Cha was just a flash in the world's media spotlight.

As the big-name endorsements had not deepened their connection with her for a long time, the public's mockery of Su Cha started to rise again.

Even after receiving praise from the Chief Designer of Hiberia, Su Cha was just a small Chinese celebrity. No big shot was willing to give her an official endorsement.

Compared to her fame in the show, she now seemed a little lonely.

Eunice, the socialite she met on the show, occasionally called Su Cha. She seemed to be puzzled as to why Su Cha did not have any activities in the fashion world. Who could Su Cha ask about this?

There were some. At least, she already had a few endorsements. These were not world-class luxury brands, and her status in the industry was not so bad. It was just that she was too outstanding. The other celebrities could not catch up to her in the limelight, so people were especially harsh on her. It was as if she had to get a big brand endorsement or a cooperative ambassador to prove her identity.

Actually, Su Cha did not care much about it. She just lived her life and took money for the endorsement deals. How satisfying was that?

And doing embroidery was profitable.

Moreover, her album was about to be released. Tan Jinsui had planned all her activities for next year. He bombarded people repeatedly, demanding that the quality had to be good.

They did not take on another television drama for the time being. Even if Su Cha was famous now, some scripts that came to her door were not very good. The other parties who liked her did not do so enough to let her take the lead role. Tan Jinsui did not force her. After The Legend of the Crane was broadcasted, everything would be different.

On the first day of the national calendar, the trailer for The Legend of the Crane would be broadcasted. Su Cha officially started a promotional activity in the Imperial Capital with the production crew.

Su Cha, who had been busy in the company, had to rush to the official drama press conference tonight. Time was a little tight, but Tan Jinsui asked her to wait for a while, saying that he had a surprise for Su Cha.

The makeup artist was helping Su Cha touch up her makeup. She had been busy for the whole day. Even though she had to leave now, she had to wait for Tan Jinsui. Time was running out.

When Tan Jinsui arrived, he did not say anything else and handed a contract to Su Cha. "Sign it after you read it."

Su Cha took it and signed it without even glancing at the content. She only noticed that it was an English contract.

Tan Jinsui could not help but laugh. "Aren't you afraid that I will sell you?"

Chapter 826: Hiberia's Endorsement

"What am I to be afraid of? With my boyfriend around, should I still be afraid of breaching the contract?"

She was never afraid due to having a rich and powerful boyfriend.

Tan Jinsui was speechless.

Fu Mo came over curiously. "Uncle Tan, what contract is this for?"

Su Cha urged Fu Mo, "He could tell us when we return. There's no time now."

Tan Jinsui raised his eyebrows. "You should at least listen to it. With this kind of contract, even celebrities in the industry will jump."

Su Cha was impatient. "Then tell me quickly!"

Tan Jinsui: "...You've signed to be the spokesperson of the Asian brand of Hiberia. Isn't this a big surprise?"

Su Cha was stunned for a moment before she urged Fu Mo, "Let's go, we're going to be late."

Tan Jinsui: "...Can you at least show some surprise?"

The staff at the side finally reacted and nearly fainted from joy. "A brand spokesperson! Oh my god!"

"She's actually a brand spokesperson now, and it's even Hiberia. Did I hear wrongly? Is she the spokesperson for a certain product? Is she the whole brand's spokesperson?"

"...Ah, but hasn't Hiberia always gone with regional spokespersons? Why is there now an Asian spokesperson?"

Su Cha pulled Tan Jinsui over. "Get in the car and tell me."

Of course, she knew that this meant a lot, but what could she do? No matter how happy she was, she could not show it.

Tan Jinsui said to Su Cha after they got into the car:

"Hiberia has been discussing this matter for a long time. The news I received said that the chief designer's original idea was even crazier. However, because the brand's higher-ups did not agree, the board of directors did not reach an agreement and chose a compromise. Hiberia has established an Asian regional endorsement. If there are no problems with your endorsement and it can promote sales, you will be Hiberia's global spokesperson in two years."

Hiberia's endorsement had always been snatched by world-class celebrities. This time, the global brand spokesperson was a real world-class superstar. Su Cha was worlds apart from her.

As for Chinese celebrities, they'd never dared to think about a global endorsement of this magnitude. It had never been Asia's turn in so many years.

Hiberia had only ever given product endorsement deals to China. Becoming their brand spokesperson and being given other titles were unheard of.

She had been mocked for not having a big shot endorsement, but now, she was here. It was really a coincidence.

“It’s your New Year’s gift.”

Tan Jinsui flipped through the contract and explained the general situation clearly. “After the New Year, we will go to the United States to film the advertisement for the brand endorsement and do the cover shoot. The official cooperation will be announced after the New Year. Anyway, the contract has been signed, so there’s no need to worry about anything else. Besides that, your endorsement fee this time is 10 million.”

Su Cha paused. “Hiberia is so generous.”

After all, she had not come out yet, but they were generous enough to give her 10 million yuan.

Tan Jinsui smiled. They’d arrived at the venue for The Legend of the Crane press conference.

Tan Jinsui gave Su Cha a script. These were the questions that the reporters would ask at the scene. The script gave instructions on how to answer. This was common in the industry. Su Cha did not refuse and took it directly.

After she reached the press conference venue, Shao Tianwen and Mu Jiao had also arrived. Han Yongbing came over and asked Su Cha if she was ready. Su Cha nodded.

She had never been afraid of anything during such occasions. She simply looked at the script in her hand and memorized the answers.

Chapter 827: Fire

Everything went smoothly at the press conference.

After all, this was Han Yongbing's home ground. Su Cha was the second female lead, and though she had many mysteries surrounding her, others had to be mindful of who the main character was. No one was tactless enough to ask something they should not.

Later on, the official preview of The Legend of the Crane was launched.

The production cost of The Legend of the Crane was high and the visuals were grand. Every piece of grass and every piece of wood in it seemed real. The usual 50-cent special effect was nowhere to be found, making the audience gasp in amazement.

Then the characters appeared one by one, and the actors in the dazzling scenes were all beautiful.

Shao Tianwen's role as the Crane Emperor was grand and magnificent. He had the appearance of a king. His early days were also incomparable.

But the most surprising thing was Yu Wan.

In the official trailer, Yu Wan's appearance was followed by her voice.

The voice was Su Cha's own. It matched Yu Wan's performance and was very stunning.

"He is an abandoned child, and you are the Crown Prince of this dynasty. Are you afraid?"

Her voice was not seductive, but it was enchanting. There was a domineering tone in her voice, but her laughter was spell-binding. It was obvious that she was a demoness.

Following this voice, a woman wearing a gorgeous phoenix gown parted the beaded curtain and revealed only her side profile.

She looked up gently. In an instant, one could understand what it meant to be drop-dead gorgeous.

In real life, Su Cha was not a top-notch beauty, but as long as her makeup was appropriate, her charm was in place, and her role was compatible, she did not give people the feeling that she was out of place.

It was the same as when she'd amazed everyone at the fashion show.

Yu Wan was clearly evil. Everyone knew that she was a bad character, but she was a character that people could not help but love.

In the latter part of the trailer, when she started to monopolize the power in the palace, she was enchanting and domineering. She was so beautiful that she seemed to have the ability to steal people's hearts, but they could not get close to her.

"You can have this world, but why can't I?"

"Between us, there will always be someone who first has to pay the price."

There came a scene where she moved closer to Emperor He and breathed in his ear. At that moment, the camera was focused on their profiles. On the surface, it seemed that Emperor He was a little nervous. Su Cha's aura was not inferior to that of Shao Tianwen, who had been in the entertainment industry for many years. She even faintly overpowered him.

She radiated beauty.

There would always be a role that could instantly capture one's heart.

Su Cha's Yu Wan was a typical vicious beauty, but she instantly captured the hearts of many media personnel.

Everyone could tell that Su Cha was not at a disadvantage in any of her scenes with Shao Tianwen. She was indeed amazing.

Every time she raised her eyebrows slightly or raised her eyes, you would feel that she had a thousand things to tell you. As she looked elsewhere in advance, you would feel a faint sense of loss.

After the trailer finished playing, the venue erupted in enthusiastic applause. Everyone was very interested in Yu Wan's role. In one of the scenes, Su Cha's role as the Empress Dowager stood in front of thousands of troops, as if she was leading them.

She stood at the highest point and looked down at everything.

This scene was unforgettable and could arouse everyone's interest in her in an instant.

They had a feeling that Yu Wan's role would become popular.

Chapter 828: Second in the Batch

The press conference ended successfully. The previews and videos began to be released on Weibo and on TV.

On Weibo, the long-silent Legend of the Crane account started to release the first round of previews.

Crane Emperor's Official Weibo: "#Legend of the Crane's first official preview# Attack, which character do you like? @Shao Tianwen, @Mujiao, @Su Cha, @Hua Nie."

"Fight for our Best Actor Shao!!!"

"F*ck, Su Cha was so beautiful in the preview. She's acting as the Empress Dowager. My innocence has been shaken..."

"This has shown that Su Cha completely surpassed Jin Jiayu..."

"The comparison is too tragic. Su Cha's acting skills are actually so good. Based on the preview, she did not lose to Best Actor Shao. Even if the official account did not release snippets, one can tell the true character of Yu Wan."

"Hua Nie is also gorgeous, but in front of Empress Dowager Su, he's just a little pitiful."

"Judging from the character's lines and the previews, is she going to be a poisonous beauty? Oh my god, it's so cool. I like it so much that my nose is about to bleed."

“Su Cha should play such a seductive role more often. Her aura and presence are overwhelming. She’s like a queen.”

...

When the trailer was released, many viewers’ eyes lit up.

There was nothing wrong to be seen with Su Cha’s acting just from the preview. She was stunning.

Moreover, judging from the trailer, hers was a very strong character. Such a strong character was generally very popular among many actors.

The act of an innocent white lotus was no longer popular. People preferred to love and hate.

Of course, Su Cha’s character was still far from being lovable. After all, there was no emotional scene shown.

It was originally included, and it was with Shao Tianwen.

However, Han Yongbing decided to remove the emotional scene to match Su Cha’s aura.

The whole emotional scene was about Su Cha and the old emperor getting close.

This saved them from Bo Mui’s anger.

Although Su Cha’s role was contradictory, if she fell in love with the Crane Emperor, she would feel that she had become just another cliché.

In her heart, she should only have power. She was not interested in relationships.

While she admired Emperor He, she also regarded him as a stumbling block in the path of power. She wanted to take him for her own use, but Emperor He did not agree. She definitely had regrets.

This was Su Cha's entire emotional transition.

Of course, the audience could not tell this from the trailer, but they could already feel how invincible Su Cha's beauty was from it.

To Su Cha, the most important thing happening after the press conference was the announcement of the results before the semester ended.

Grades in the acting department were different from those in the other departments. Most of the grades were determined by physical performance. The rest were the grades from the cultural classes.

Those who entered the acting department of the Imperial Capital University had good cultural achievements. Even if they specialized in acting, their grades would not be bad. In the cultural class, some basic courses were ranked from one grade to another. The rest were ranked by the specialized departments.

The acting department would only produce results at the end of the semester.

Su Cha's performance results were perfect. Basically, she was an A+ at everything other than the drama performance. She only got an A and ranked second in the department.

But her basic cultural grades were incomprehensible.

Chapter 829: Celebration

When the classmates saw this situation, they had complicated feelings.

These basic courses were all cultural classes. It was not simple or difficult, but everyone had to study acting and take care of their professional grades. It was good enough that they could produce excellent grades.

But Su Cha was ranked second in the whole batch. Not only was the performance department shocked, but the other departments were also shocked.

“F*ck, I heard that she did not attend any classes this year, right? She participated in all kinds of activities outside. I’m really not convinced that she can become number one in the whole grade!”

“Who asked the Imperial Capital University to be so crazy as to classify all the classes? I don’t dare to say anything since I’m ranked 200th.”

“This is too f*cking nonsensical. First the trailer for her drama got released, and now she can even get second place. I really have to kneel down to her.”

“Have you forgotten that she entered the acting department as the provincial champion? She was still participating in a television show before the college entrance examination, but in the end, she became the champion?”

“Where did she come from?”

“If she’d entered another department, she would have been a game-changer. Why did such a good talent enter the acting department? It will affect her future!”

“More to the point, Fu Mo is her assistant. Those two are so depressing. Fu Mo often accompanied her on shows, but she actually got first place???”

“Her assistant, Fu Mo, is still the number one while working...”

...

The school forum was in an uproar.

Due to the different departments in universities, the grades of each department were measured differently. Moreover, the final rankings could be influenced by the students’ external awards and various achievements. As such factors could affect the grades, the students were not ranked by the entire batch.

The Imperial Capital University was an exception. It ranked an entire batch based on the students’ grades in the basic courses. There were not many basic courses, but they were all compulsory for all batches. Moreover, as the grades came from their examinations, the rankings would not be affected by other factors. Hence, the university had a comprehensive ranking for each batch.

For many people, being able to become number one in a department or in a certain project was already very impressive. Not to mention, in the past, the acting department had never produced a student that could clinch the top spot in basic courses.

She was busy filming various advertisements and dealing with the media and a drama series. How could Su Cha have time to study?

Coach, I want to report her for cheating.

Not only were the students surprised, but the teachers were also shocked.

Her teacher, Jing Yilan, originally had some objections to Su Cha's busy schedule. She was more popular than students from other performing schools, but in the eyes of Teacher Jing, she had just entered university and should settle down first.

However, she was relieved to see Su Cha's final grades.

Su Cha did not have any major problems with her performance grades. In addition, she had been trained by the production crew, so it was expected that her results would be good.

Such an outstanding talent was considered a positive existence in the acting department.

After receiving the results, Su Cha immediately sent it to the Alliance group and called Zong Yanxiu.

He was extremely happy and asked Su Cha to bring Bo Muyi back to the Zong family for dinner tonight. He said that he wanted to congratulate Su Cha.

After Su Cha returned from school, she told Bo Muyi, who was still at the office, that they'd be dining at the Zong family's house tonight. He would go over directly later. Su Cha then went to visit Le Anqi first.

After half a month of treatment, Le Anqi had recovered a lot. Her face was rosy and her cheeks were full. When she saw Su Cha, her eyes lit up. “You’re here? I heard you got your report card, right?”

Imperial Entertainment’s vacation time was different from the Imperial Capital University’s. Although she had applied for leave, she had to return to school to take some exams.

Chapter 830: Righteous

Su Cha handed the report card to Le Anqi. “Here.”

The results had been sent directly to her phone.

Le Anqi almost fainted with joy. “Oh my god, second place in the whole batch, so awesome!”

She was not stupid. There were so many people in the batch, so it was already impressive for Su Cha to place second. But Fu Mo, who was first, was even more heaven-defying than Su Cha.

Fu Mo was really good at studying.

Su Cha nodded. “Fu Mo is still number one.”

Le Anqi had become close with Fu Mo recently. When she heard that Fu Mo was number one, she almost fainted. “What kind of monsters are you two? Were you reincarnated?”

Su Cha sniffed and smelled the fragrance coming from the kitchen. “Are you cooking?”

“Yes.”

Le Anqi nodded happily. “I bought a hotpot base. Let’s have hotpot tonight to celebrate, shall we?”

Su Cha looked a little troubled. “I promised my father that I would go home for dinner. Why don’t you come with me?”

“How can I bear to go to your place? Let’s do it another day. It’s fine if you don’t want to eat. Fu Mo and I can just eat at home. I didn’t expect you to come over. Anyway, I prepared a double portion.”

She spoke quickly and was understanding. Su Cha scratched the tip of her nose. “I’ll be free tomorrow.”

Le Anqi chuckled. “Okay.”

With a smile on her face, Su Cha casually asked, “Did it flare up recently?”

Le Anqi instantly understood what she was referring to. She answered naturally, “No. The last time was five days ago.”

Then, she went to prepare the ingredients for tonight’s hotpot, looking very happy.

Su Cha was relieved. Le Anqi’s calmness meant that she was recovering day by day.

Su Cha still had to go to the Zong family. After they’d been chatting for a while, she saw Bai Kun coming with the doctor.

Bai Kun was not surprised to see her. He said gently, “Miss Su, I took a blood test for Miss Le today. I brought the doctor over.”

Su Cha nodded. “Okay, call me if anything happens. I’ll go to my father’s place first.”

Bai Kun nodded and saw Su Cha off.

Le Anqi sat in the middle of the living room and let the doctor wrap the equipment around her arm to draw blood. She had become accustomed to it recently.

The man who was wearing a black suit next to her was tall and slender. She had seen him twice and knew that Su Cha had called him over to help her. He looked like an elite who specialized in dealing with all kinds of things.

Such a person was extraordinary.

Le Anqi admired him. Out of boredom, she asked, “What’s your name? I believe Su Cha seeks you out for various matters?”

Bai Kun lowered his head and glanced at Le Anqi. “Miss Le, just call me Bai Kun.”

“That’s a little rude. Shall I call you Brother Kun?”

He was definitely older than Le Anqi. Le Anqi mumbled, “But that’d make it sound like he’s a gangster.”

When she was with Di Li, she would always call him brother. Now that she thought about that, she felt a headache coming on. She now wanted to call him sir instead.

Bai Kun’s expression was serious as he replied, “I am indeed working for a gangster.”

The young master was more of a gangster than a gangster, after all.

Le Anqi burst out laughing.

She was not stupid. How could the people Su Cha interacted with be from the underworld?

He looked very decent.