

The Queen 981

Chapter 981: Kissing Someone So Ridiculous

Fu Mo almost laughed out loud.

Of course, everything a handsome guy said was right. Even if the other party was a challenge, they could still flirt.

However, it was awkward to flirt with someone who was already taken.

Su Cha obviously thought that Joshua was speaking nonsense. When the rest of the crew saw Su Cha chatting happily with Joshua, they were amazed by Su Cha's English-speaking skills. After all, most of them spoke to Joshua through translators.

Mu Jiandong and Ji Shu's English were excellent, but they could not get along with Joshua.

The director saw Joshua chatting with Su Cha and came over to tell him that Su Cha needed a kissing substitute.

He felt like he was making a big fuss—the producer didn't come here personally, and the director felt too lazy to say anything himself. However, Joshua needed this explained to him.

Upon hearing that there was to be a kissing substitute, Joshua immediately refused. "No. Why is a kissing substitute still necessary? It's just a kiss, just a light peck. Are you guys kidding me?"

In Joshua's heart, a kiss that included tongue was considered normal, and this was just a light peck. If he had to kiss someone else, wouldn't that be the biggest joke in the world?

"That's the producer's position. We can't help it."

The director directly used the producer to pressure him. Joshua was speechless for once.

But he didn't understand why there had to be kissing replacements here.

Did he need a kissing substitute?

He had been filming kissing scenes all these years...

“Does Su think it’s better to kiss a substitute than me?”

How many women had wanted to leave a kiss on his face? This would be a dream come true for them. Even though Su had such an opportunity now, why would she need a substitute?

He’d only heard about kissing substitutes after coming to China...

“Of course not, but this kissing substitute is her boyfriend.”

The director left without another word.

Joshua was stunned.

He looked at Su Cha, who was standing at the side, and walked over in disbelief, “Su Cha, do you need a kissing replacement for our scene?”

“Why not? Joshua, this wasn’t my idea. My boyfriend isn’t happy about it. It’s just a kiss. He’ll only show his back. You don’t have to worry about anything.”

Joshua almost laughed with anger. “Your boyfriend doesn’t like you doing kissing scenes?”

“Yes.”

Su Cha admitted it directly. Joshua widened his eyes. “Then you won’t be able to shoot any kissing scenes in the future?”

“This is none of your business, Joshua.”

Su Cha shrugged her shoulders and could not be bothered to answer. Joshua found it unreasonable and returned to his manager. “Is this Chinese actress crazy? She needs a kissing substitute to shoot a kissing scene with me? Most importantly, this kissing substitute is her boyfriend!”

The manager’s eyes widened when he heard that. “Oh my God, how could they do something so ridiculous?”

Su Cha’s actions were indeed shocking, but things didn’t end there. It meant somebody else would kiss Joshua. After all, Su Cha would not kiss him.

However, the director mainly wanted to show Su Cha’s psychological state, so the camera would be aimed at her face. Naturally, she would be kissing someone.

Other than Bo Mui, there was no one else.

Joshua had wanted to get closer with Su Cha, but he was angered by Su Cha’s need for a kissing replacement. He could act like a big shot to a certain extent, but the contract was signed. Moreover, the producers this time were not simple. Even if he was a Hollywood superstar, he had to maintain his composure. Joshua could only endure this anger.

Chapter 982: Do You Understand?

But what Joshua did not expect was that this was not the only thing that would make him suffer.

Their kissing scene was in three days, which meant that Su Cha’s boyfriend would be at the scene in three days. During this period, they would naturally film other scenes together.

Since Joshua was putting on airs, everyone naturally gave in to him. However, there was nothing to criticize about his acting skills. Among the younger generation in Hollywood, he had acting skills that were considered to be top-notch. Otherwise, he wouldn’t have become so popular so quickly. He was still very serious about his part. There were a lot of Chinese lines in the script, and he was also willing to learn them. At least, his attitude was much better than that of some domestic actors.

But in other aspects, it was hard to explain.

Halfway through the filming, he delivered a line. Usually, he and Su Cha passed their scenes very quickly, but both of them needed to get used to each other. Hence, there were many NGs in the early stages. Both Joshua and Su Cha were similar in that.

But sometimes, when there were more than two or three NGs, Joshua would call for a pause and say that he needed to rest.

The director had not spoken yet, and Su Cha was trying to build up her emotions. As she felt that she was gradually getting better, Joshua's calls for a break would indeed obstruct her. It was as if her inspiration had been interrupted.

The main point was that it was difficult for the production team to criticize him. Even big shots like Mu Jiandong and Ji Shu had to give in to him. Who asked him to come from Hollywood in the first place?

In a situation where there was no direct confrontation, they could only give way to whatever the other party did.

And this would also delay filming time.

The director had a lot of opinions, but Joshua was also hired by another producer with a lot of money. They didn't want to offend him, so they could only endure it.

Once again, just when Su Cha felt that she would nail it after taking two more shots, Joshua, who was sitting opposite her, showed a hint of impatience. He clapped his hands and said in English, "I'm a little tired. I'll rest for ten minutes."

Another ten minutes passed.

This was the third time.

Fu Mo noticed that Su Cha's eyes were focused and realized that she was about to fly into a rage. She smiled and looked as if she was watching a good show.

As the director was about to say something, Su Cha spoke in a calm and cold voice, "Joshua, you are wasting my time."

She spoke in English, so other than those who could understand her, everyone else was a little confused.

But those who understood were even more confused.

As if he had heard an unbelievable joke, Joshua laughed mockingly. “Did I hear wrongly, Su? You said that I am wasting your time?”

“From the start of filming until now, you’ll rest after a few NGs. You keep doing it. Not only are you wasting my time, you’re also delaying the production team’s schedule. You’re an actor, and this is your job. If you don’t plan to commit yourself to this, then why did you take on this job? Perhaps the money was enough to tempt you?”

After Joshua’s smile froze, he seemed to want to say something. Su Cha continued, “I don’t have time to talk to you. Joshua, I’m telling you, this is the last time. Before I deliver the end of this scene, no one can say it’s over!”

She suddenly moved closer to Joshua and stared at him with her calm eyes that seemed to contain some kind of vortex storm. There seemed to be a hint of a chilling aura in her eyes. “Do you understand?”

Joshua wasn’t intimidated, but though he was just being stared at by those eyes, it was as if he were being restrained. There was a moment of stagnation, and he felt like he didn’t know what to say.

When he came back to his senses, his scalp suddenly felt numb.

Chapter 983: You Are Not Even Fit to Carry His Shoes!

Many people were shocked by Su Cha’s gaze.

She didn’t look very fierce, but the murderous intent in her eyes made people unable to look at her directly.

Joshua also instantly stopped, unable to even speak.

The director was stunned.

There were also Mu Jiandong and Ji Shu.

The reason Joshua was so arrogant was because he was a Hollywood superstar. Moreover, the current market was somewhat skewed, so people here were very accommodating to him. Regardless of their own status, no one here would dare to provoke him.

Unexpectedly, Su Cha was straightforward.

Even if they did not understand the English words Su Cha used, they could tell that she did not say anything good when they saw the stagnant atmosphere.

Su Cha took a step back. It was only then that Joshua seemed to come back to his senses. He looked at Su Cha in shock and felt an indescribable chill down his spine.

The director braced himself and asked, "Do you need to rest now?"

"No need, Director. Let's continue."

Su Cha looked at Joshua with a calm face. Joshua did not seem to react and subconsciously nodded along with Su Cha's words.

After the filming started, Joshua saw that Su Cha, who had just been so sinister to him, suddenly became a character who simply admired him.

He seemed struck to see the most sincere love in those eyes.

Oh, hell!

This woman's acting skills would be wasted if she did not win the Best Actress Award.

Not only was Joshua embarrassed, but he was also unable to immerse himself in the drama. Now that he saw Su Cha's acting skills, he was even more terrified.

After a few NGs, even Su Cha was getting impatient. The director could tell that Joshua had not recovered from the shock and decided to stop the filming.

Once they were done, Su Cha returned to her seat. Fu Mo handed her a bottle of water and grinned from ear to ear. "This is so funny. I think he doesn't even know his own name."

After being scared by Su Cha, he still had not recovered his senses.

Su Cha curled her lips. She saw Joshua walking towards his nanny van angrily. His manager was still in the car. He must have gone to complain.

He was filming in China and was threatened by a female Chinese star. If news of this got back home, he really didn't know how he would face others.

Soon, the manager heard the news and walked out angrily. Although he looked in Su Cha's direction, he walked towards the director and scolded him. His attitude made people feel that even if he spoke English, it was not a string of good words.

The director was also a man of status. Even if he was Joshua's manager, he was a little impatient and did not respond to him. Seeing that the director was not taking charge, the manager went straight to Su Cha.

Everyone in the production team looked over.

On the first day of filming, Su Cha had a conflict with Joshua. Now that Joshua's manager had stepped forward, it would be unfair to society if they did not watch the show.

However, everyone's phones were confiscated during filming, and no one could take them out to film.

Right now, they could only watch.

From the corner of her eye, Su Cha saw Joshua's manager walking towards her. Joshua was leisurely standing beside the nanny van, as if he was watching a show.

What a coward. He even got his manager to stand up for him.

“Are you crazy? Are you crazy? How dare you scold Joshua? Do you know that you’re not even fit to carry his shoes?!”

Chapter 984: I Will Deal with Her Sooner or Later

As expected, when the manager came over, he scolded her fiercely. His attitude was even worse than Joshua’s.

He was obviously looking down on Su Cha and was shocked that Su Cha had dared to provoke Joshua.

Su Cha did not open her mouth, but Fu Mo frowned and said, “Sir, please make yourself clear. Who scolded Joshua? We did not curse at him. Besides, this is China.”

Fu Mo’s righteous words made the manager even angrier.

He pointed at Fu Mo’s nose. “And what are you? Did I talk to you?”

“Then who do you think you are? Didn’t Joshua just send you to find trouble with me? Is he trying to be a good-for-nothing by hiding behind your back?”

Su Cha curled her lips into a mocking smile. Her casual words spread to every corner of the production set. Ji Shu could not help but pinch his arm while whispering to Mu Jiandong, “This Su Cha is more impulsive than the rumors say. She is a ruthless person.”

Mu Jiandong smiled. “If she wasn’t ruthless, how could she have swiped Jin Jiayu’s role?”

From her performance in the entertainment industry, it could be seen that Su Cha was not an ordinary person.

Not only was her background extraordinary, but she was also arrogant enough.

She did not care about her background being exposed. Even if others said that she was being kept by a sugar daddy, she clearly did not care.

Su Cha's voice was not low either. On the other side, Joshua heard her clearly. His expression immediately changed. He did not expect Su Cha to directly turn against him.

His face darkened. He had wanted his manager to step in and make Su Cha bow down for the sake of a Hollywood superstar.

From the looks of it now, he had no choice but to lower his head. If things went wrong, he might even lose his life.

“Are you crazy? How dare you talk to Joshua like that? Are you Chinese people crazy? Are you just going to watch this woman go crazy? Who invited you?”

The manager widened his eyes and looked at Su Cha in disbelief. He then looked at the people around him. It was obvious that he needed an explanation.

Su Cha was too lazy to watch him go crazy. She held her hands at her waist and said lightly, “If you don't want to act, you can terminate the contract.”

Although Joshua was a superstar, he had signed a normal contract. If nothing went wrong, he would have to pay four times the penalty for breaching the contract, and the amount would be sky-high.

A quadruple default fee was enough to make Joshua bleed.

It was impossible to break the contract. Seeing Su Cha's confidence, Joshua almost vomited blood. Ever since he joined the production team, everyone had been respectful to him. Who knew that this actress who acted with him would anger him to death on her first day?

Back then, he had thought that she was beautiful and charming when he saw her in the newspapers. How blind was he?

“Ben, stop talking!”

Joshua finally stepped forward to stop the chaos. He could see that everyone around him was watching the show and had no intention of helping.

Given his status, there was only one explanation for this. This woman was just like him. The crew could not afford to offend her.

Otherwise, she wouldn't have the confidence to directly rebut him.

Joshua walked over and pulled Ben away. When he returned to the nanny van, he looked back at Su Cha. He could still see the coldness in the woman's eyes. He turned back and sneered in his heart. Sooner or later, he would find a chance to deal with her.

Chapter 985: Quite Romantic

"You're really a tiger sister!"

The assistant director could not help but give Su Cha a thumbs up.

However, he also knew that Su Cha was the daughter of the Zong family. She had the confidence to not care about such a Hollywood superstar. Obviously, this superstar did not have such awareness.

The crew was impressed by Su Cha, but a minority of them had some opinions about her.

Including Joshua's female fans.

It was already stated that Joshua was a charming and sexy Hollywood male celebrity. With his looks, he wouldn't do anything disgusting in front of others. He was the most attractive person in the eyes of women.

He had been with the production team for so many days, and many women had been charmed by him. Even though it seemed like Joshua was finding fault with them, they all felt that Su Cha was the one finding trouble.

If Joshua has a problem with that, can't you just bear with it?

Yes, when some people were being unreasonable, they were incomprehensible.

It was just that Su Cha's status in the production team was not insignificant. Most of the female staff who were dissatisfied with her did not have enough contact with her, so there was basically nothing they could do. Even their phones were confiscated, and they could not get any evidence if they wanted to spread this news.

After the incident with Joshua, everyone was afraid that the two would start fighting again.

However, the amazing thing was that even though the two of them were at odds with each other, there was nothing to worry about when it came to acting. Once Joshua became serious, his scenes with Su Cha went much faster.

Just one second ago, these two were still deeply in love with each other. The next moment, when the director shouted "Cut!" they instantly changed their expressions and turned to look at each other as if they wanted to throw something at each other. It was simply stunning.

Of course, this was just the imagination of the masses.

Su Cha was not that childish, but it was true that she changed her attitude quickly when she ignored Joshua.

Once she left the scene, the temperature in her eyes visibly dropped.

Even Ji Shu and Mu Jiandong were impressed by them.

Fortunately, Joshua was relatively easy to talk to. If it had been any other Hollywood superstar, they would probably have become a demon.

After all, this was not the first time such an example had been made.

But this was the first time Su Cha had defeated a Hollywood superstar.

During the following three days, Joshua and Su Cha did not have many scenes. Most of the time, both of them read their own scripts. Joshua had an additional task to learn Chinese. His manager had advised him to just wing it, but Joshua still felt that he could not lose his professional integrity.

Even if this group of Chinese people made news about him, they wouldn't be able to talk about his acting skills.

Back when he'd just debuted, and for a long time after, he had been nothing but an eye candy. It was only after his blockbuster became popular that he proved himself. Therefore, he hated it when people treated his acting skills as nothing.

On the third day, the crew started to spread the news that Joshua's kissing substitute was about to arrive.

In fact, they did not know why there had to be kissing replacements. Even Ji Shu, who had seen the script between Su Cha and Joshua, asked the director in disbelief, "It's just a kiss on the corner of the lips. Are kissing replacements necessary?"

If the director had not taken on the project from the start, he would have a headache facing the two of them now. He could not do anything about the kissing scene. "Su Cha's boyfriend does not allow her to film kissing scenes, so Joshua's kissing scene will be filmed with her boyfriend."

Ji Shu was dumbfounded.

After a long while, he sighed. "Am I getting old? I actually feel that young people nowadays are quite romantic."

Chapter 986: Bo Muyi Arrives

The director rolled his eyes.

Initially, the director was unhappy that Su Cha did not want to shoot a kissing scene. However, Su Cha's acting skills were good and she was obedient. She'd even indirectly helped him fight against Joshua, who did whatever he wanted. As a result, Joshua became more obedient and the director found Su Cha more pleasing to the eye.

Once the movie was released, they had to speak up for Su Cha.

It was just a kissing substitute, it was not a big problem!

Ji Shu looked at Joshua. “It’s very difficult to capture the kind of flavor that Joshua’s appearance has.”

The director pondered for a moment and said, “When the time comes, we will shoot the back view, not the front. The main thing is Su Cha’s expression. If Su Cha passes, the audience will be attracted by her and won’t notice that she used a substitute.”

They were also worried. Joshua’s figure and looks were top-notch. It was not an exaggeration to say that he was praised to the skies by his fans.

It was very difficult to find a substitute for such a person.

They indirectly did not think that Su Cha’s boyfriend could compare to Joshua’s appearance and figure...

It could only be blurred from various angles.

While Su Cha was still reading the script, she asked Fu Mo, “When will Mui arrive?”

Fu Mo looked at her watch and said in a low voice, “He’s still on the plane at this time, right? There’s still two hours before he arrives.”

Su Cha could not look at her phone when she was filming, so she told Bo Mui that she could not answer his call. When he arrived, he would come directly to the set.

He was also very busy, but because of this matter, he especially took a day off. Even Bai Kun came along.

Fu Mo was even more excited than Su Cha. “I’m thinking about how big a commotion your boyfriend will cause if he appears here.”

Su Cha smiled lightly. "I don't think so. They don't know Mui's identity. At most, he's a little handsome..."

But Su Cha was not sure.

Bo Mui looked very ordinary.

Just as they were preparing for another scene, a black commercial car suddenly drove in from outside the production set.

The car window was covered so tightly that no one could see the person in the car clearly.

At this moment, Ji Shu and Mu Jiandong were rehearsing their scenes. Su Cha, who had been watching attentively, suddenly turned her head as if she had sensed something.

She saw that on the other side of the set, about ten meters away, the black commercial car stopped. Then, Bai Kun, who was wearing a black suit, got out first, jogged to the other side, and opened the car door.

To be honest, Bai Kun looked like a business elite on the outside. His action of opening the car door attracted more people to look inside.

The car door opened and a man in a black shirt got out of the car. He was wearing sunglasses, and the moment he got out of the car, he exuded a luxurious aura that was completely different from that of the casual crew members.

He was pulling on his shirt, revealing his fair wrist that was wearing a Patek Philippe watch. When he looked up, it displayed his handsome face that was as cold as an ice sculpture. His entire body exuded a dazzling and domineering aura, and he looked extremely charming.

He was about 1.8 meters tall, almost 1.9. He gave people a sense of oppression. He was like an arrogant emperor who could invade every corner of a person in an instant.

At that moment, even Ji Shu and Mu Jiandong, who were so engrossed in their scenes, seemed to have been bewitched. Their eyes instantly opened.

When they saw this man, they were all stunned.

Chapter 987: Indeed Not Ordinary

Everyone was stunned by the man's aura.

No one would be able to take their eyes off of such a perfect person. Even Joshua, who was hiding in the nanny van, could not compare to this man in terms of looks. In terms of temperament, there really was no comparison.

Even Ji Shu and Mu Jiandong, who were in the middle of a scene, were stunned.

Perhaps it was because it was too sudden, but they only came to their senses when the man began to stride towards them.

It was also at this time that Su Cha saw Bo Muyi and walked towards him in front of so many people.

This was an extremely eye-catching scene even under normal circumstances.

They were shocked to see Su Cha walking over quickly. The man seemed to have quickened his pace when he saw Su Cha. His perfect thin lips were slightly curved with a hint of indulgence. When Su Cha walked in front of him, he opened his arms. The man lowered his head without any restraint and held Su Cha's waist with one hand. He kissed her forehead passionately and sincerely.

It was a natural kiss without much effort, but it was easy to feel the man's love for Su Cha.

Su Cha was not shy. She hugged his waist and raised her head. She said coquettishly, "Was the journey here tiring?"

"I'm not tired. I rested on the plane."

The man had responded with a deep voice. He was naturally very happy to hear Su Cha's concern. When more people saw their interaction, they were obviously shocked out of their wits.

“Is that... Su Cha’s boyfriend?”

“Oh my God... I was beginning to think...”

“Is this a legendary rich second-generation heir?”

“Just based on his aura alone, I wouldn’t believe that he’s an ordinary person!”

“Oh my god, Su Cha’s boyfriend... can’t be described with ordinary words. He is the best among men!”

...

In terms of appearance, he was able to kill a bunch of men in seconds. Furthermore, he had a strong and noble aura. No one would believe that he was an ordinary person.

With so many conditions added together, he had a genuine quality that could make other men jealous with just one look.

Many people in the entertainment industry were dumbfounded. It was bad enough that Su Cha was good, but how could she be so good at finding a boyfriend too?

Many people didn’t know what to say after seeing this scene. Their expressions were complex, but some women felt even more unbalanced in their hearts. After being unbalanced, they felt even more powerless.

She was young, famous, and successful. She had a bright future ahead of her, and she actually had such a wonderful boyfriend on top of it...

Even a lot of foreign staff were shocked when they saw Bo Mui. Then, their eyes lit up.

While they were still in shock, Su Cha had already walked over with Bo Mui, obviously intending to introduce him to the director.

At this moment, Ji Shu grabbed Mu Jiandong's arm. "I feel like I've seen this man somewhere before. It was not a simple occasion."

Mu Jiandong hissed, "Have you ever pinched your own hand? Why are you pinching me? What's wrong? Is this man not ordinary?"

Ji Shu retracted her hand calmly. "It hurts so much to pinch oneself. Moreover, look at him. Do you think he can be considered ordinary?"

Mu Jiandong: "..."

He was indeed not ordinary.

Chapter 988: Completely Different

"Director, Sister Ji Shu, Brother Jiandong, let me introduce you to someone. This is my boyfriend. His surname is Bo, and he is also Joshua's kissing substitute."

Su Cha introduced Bo Muyi with a smile. She did not introduce Bo Muyi's identity to all but only to a few important people.

Others naturally knew what she meant. It was likely that they were not worthy of knowing this person's identity.

Hence, it was only a brief introduction.

Furthermore...

Their expressions were strange. Such a man was going to be Joshua's kissing substitute?

For a moment, they thought that Joshua should be the substitute...

The women couldn't even describe their jealousy.

Could it be that this kissing scene was also forbidden by this boyfriend in front of her?

If they had such a boyfriend, they would have shown it off to others 24 hours a day. Why would they hide it like Su Cha did?

No wonder she'd dared to announce that she had a boyfriend before she had even stabilized her footing.

They were also willing to announce it if they had this boyfriend.

For a moment, they were confused. They'd thought that perhaps Su Cha had exposed her boyfriend to help Bo Mui, but the man seemed to be from a wealthy family. Perhaps he was unwilling to reveal his identity?

He seemed to love Su Cha though.

No matter how jealous he was, this was the truth.

Bo Mui did not take the initiative to introduce himself after Su Cha introduced him. He just lightly lowered his chin and swept his gaze over the group of people. He did not even see them. His attitude was filled with contempt and arrogance, but it made people feel that he was born this way.

The director observed his expression and immediately understood that this person was not an ordinary person. He quickly extended his hand and smiled. "Hello. I've heard Su Cha mention you before. I didn't expect to see you today. Mr. Bo is indeed a talent."

Bo Mui looked at the director's outstretched hand. He hesitated for a second and only reached out with his hand when Su Cha's elbow bumped against his.

He even seemed a little reluctant.

He had no choice. With his status, he did not need to bother with these people. He was only doing it for Su Cha's sake.

This was his nature. He did not care what others said behind his back.

Perhaps seeing Bo Mui's actions, the director tactfully retracted his hand after touching Bo Mui's palm before Bo Mui even opened his mouth. He smiled calmly and composedly to salvage the situation. "You arrived early. The kissing scene will take a while. You can familiarize yourself with the scene."

Since the director was so tactful, Ji Shu and Mu Jiandong could tell that the two of them could only greet Bo Mui with a smile. They did not get closer to him.

Seeing that they were tactful, Bo Mui nodded his head, which was rare for him. Then, his eyes fell on Su Cha.

Su Cha was a little helpless against Bo Mui. She smiled and said, "Director, I'll bring him along so he could familiarize himself. He still needs to change into Joshua's costume later, right?"

The director nodded. "Yes, you can apply the makeup appropriately first."

The man in front of her was so perfect that there was nothing to nitpick on. Even his face looked like it was blasphemy. Although it was just going to be a shot of his back, the side of his body had to be fixed. It had to look more like Joshua's. Otherwise, with his imposing manner, it would be obvious that he was a substitute.

Chapter 989: Freezing Cold

"Who is he? Is he from the entertainment industry?"

"Impossible. If there was such a person, he would have become famous a long time ago. He's definitely not from the entertainment circle."

"He probably doesn't have any business dealings with the entertainment industry, right? Otherwise, he would have become famous a long time ago. I don't believe that no woman would want to climb into his bed given his appearance. He would have been pestered long ago."

"Oh my god, how could there be such a thing in this world? I feel like my feelings for Joshua have changed..."

“Joshua’s looks are exquisite, but his skin is too rough. He even had makeup on. Only his blue eyes... F*ck, this man’s skin is so good, and he’s not feminine at all. We’re all humans, how can there be such a huge difference in looks?”

“Oh my god... he must like Su Cha a lot. I think he’s been hugging her ever since they sat down... Even her assistant has run away...”

Bo Mui, who was at the center of the discussion, did not care at all. He only focused on Su Cha and hugged her. He tilted his head and watched her memorize the lines. Occasionally, he would kiss Su Cha’s face.

It was as if he couldn’t stay idle, but he didn’t let anyone see the slightest hint of evil in him. It was as if he liked someone to the extreme, and that was why he was so doting.

Su Cha did not stop him. She only told him how to perform in front of the camera. It was a simple matter. He would understand after listening to it once. He just looked a little careless.

Su Cha did not know what to do with him. She could not bear to continue reading her script. She looked around. Most of the passionate gazes were focused on Bo Mui. It was hard to ignore him. The key was that Bo Mui was still calm. Su Cha laughed softly. “How much hatred did you attract for me?”

Many women would be jealous when they saw such love because it was something they didn’t have.

Perhaps it was better if they had never seen it before, but once they did, it was really hard to calm down that kind of perceived imbalance. The naked jealousy in some women’s eyes when they looked at him was very obvious.

However, even Ji Shu did not disturb this pair of lovers. On top of that, he had his real girlfriend by his side. No matter how thick-skinned other women were, they could not do anything to hit on Bo Mui, especially since Su Cha was not someone to be trifled with. If she could even insult Joshua, who would she be afraid of among the crew?

“Is Joshua’s kissing substitute here?”

Joshua's manager walked out. He looked a little impatient. Someone pointed at Bo Mui with an amused expression. "There, the one hugging Su."

The manager was stunned for a moment. Then, he took a look and his expression immediately changed.

Normal men could feel Bo Mui's strong aura, especially the suppression.

Bo Mui also seemed to have felt an unfriendly gaze on him. He turned his head slightly, and his dark and indifferent eyes reflected a dark light that was lurking in the abyss, like a sign that something was about to wake up. Just this glance made the manager feel a chill in his heart.

He shuddered and took a step back. He didn't even have the courage to step forward and show off. He retreated back into the nanny van to report to Joshua.

Some people also noticed Bo Mui's gaze. Although he quickly turned around to look at Su Cha, that look still sent chills down their spines. Compared to his initial strength, this person had a cold aura.

Chapter 990: Humiliation

This feeling would only disappear when he was with Su Cha.

Joshua was out in a moment.

It was probably because the Americans were naturally exaggerating, or because his manager had used some extremely exaggerated term to describe them. In any case, Joshua couldn't help himself.

When he saw this so-called "kissing substitute" that even he did not agree with, for the first time, Joshua felt threatened.

It was a feeling that only men would have. It was a feeling of pressure that he might not be able to match up to.

Joshua suddenly regretted it.

The main point was that the director might have noticed his awkwardness and hurriedly pulled him over to ask him questions. It was clearly a kissing substitute, but he introduced him as if he was the other party's substitute.

As for that kissing substitute, his eyes were fixed on Su Cha from the beginning to the end, as if he did not even bother to look at him.

Joshua was puzzled. The man looked perfect, but was he blind?

Why would he fall for such a woman?

It was almost time for the kissing scene to be filmed. Bo Mui would only stay here for a short while. After Su Cha finished filming today's scenes, she could go back with Bo Mui.

From the start, Bo Mui could not be bothered to get to know Joshua. However, the moment he saw Joshua, he did not even bother to size him up. It was obvious that he did not take Joshua seriously.

Joshua's heart was filled with anger, but he didn't know this man's background, so he couldn't react accordingly.

He could only hold it in.

When the makeup artist first started to fix Bo Mui's face, she was so excited that her hands were trembling. But in the end, she realized that once this man could not see Su Cha's figure, he would become cold, fierce, and impatient. She was so frightened that her hands and feet trembled even more. She had no choice but to quickly finish his makeup and retreat, giving up Su Cha's position.

From afar, this man looked like an immortal orchid flower. From a closer distance, he looked like the King of Hell!

However, when he was about to change into his costume, Bo Mui frowned at the costume that Joshua had worn in front of everyone. He was obviously unhappy.

Su Cha understood and quickly asked, "Is this the only costume?"

If it were any other kissing substitute who wasn't such a big shot, he would have been scolded by the stylist long ago. However, the stylist did not dare to provoke him just by looking at his aura. She hurriedly said, "Yes, yes, there are two sets of costumes. The other set, Joshua, has not worn it yet. It's the same."

Hence, she took out the brand new costume for Bo Mui to change into.

After changing into this costume, no matter what, his essence, energy, and looks were definitely a hundred times better than Joshua's. However, after some makeup, there was a hint of resemblance to Joshua on the side. It was as if his original brilliance had been extinguished. However, the masculine aura was still not to be ignored.

When they brought him out, the others were obviously shocked.

Why didn't the director choose Bo Mui to play this role?

However, he felt that he did not have the guts to ask Bo Mui if he was interested in entering the entertainment industry. It did not seem realistic.

When Joshua saw Bo Mui, his expression was definitely not very good. At this moment, Bo Mui seemed to have sensed it. He turned his head and saw Joshua. He revealed his first smile since they met. That smile did not contain any emotion, only obvious mockery.

It was as if he did not even need to make it obvious that he was mocking him. From his appearance to all the conditions, he gave Joshua an invisible pressure.

It was the first time in his life that Joshua had ever felt that kind of presence and pressure from someone of the same sex. This was what it meant to be humiliated.

Joshua: "..."

Son of a b*tch.
