

The Return of the Reborn Princess

Chapter 009: Follow the Princess's Arrangement

After hearing what Ouyang Haonan said, he immediately thought about it. A good man never suffers the consequences. Besides, neither she nor Xixi had any martial arts skills. If she really encountered those robbers, she would suffer a lot.

"You, please don't leave. We have two daughters, can you bear to leave us here?" Yao Muzixi said weakly.

"Since the princess asked me to stay and protect you, of course I must obey the princess's arrangements." Ouyang Haonan said with a proud smile.

Yao Muzixi looked at Ouyang Haonan and thought to himself that he was indeed not stable enough! Otherwise, why would he have been so reckless in saving her in his previous life and died from thousands of arrows piercing his heart.

"Then you have to listen to my orders carefully and don't let yourself get upset." Yao Muzixi's words sounded somewhat unclear to Ouyang Haonan.

"Princess, please close your eyes. I will take you to the inn soon." Ouyang Haonan looked at Yao Muzixi and was lost for a moment.

"Oh." Yao Muzixi and Xixi closed their eyes obediently. For a moment, Yao Muzixi felt as if she had become very light. She felt as if she was floating, oh, no, I should say flying.

"Ouyang Haonan, can you open your eyes?" Yao Muzixi only heard the whistling of the wind in her ears, and a strong hand was wrapped around her waist.

"If the princess is not afraid of heights, there is no harm in opening her eyes." Ouyang Haonan's voice had a hint of joking.

When Yao Muzixi opened her eyes, she only saw the clear night sky filled with stars. The moonlight shone on Ouyang Haonan's face, which was unusually enchanting and handsome yet resolute. The wind was blowing Ouyang Haonan's fluttering hair, how beautiful it was.

The words are great.

Yao Muzixi was a little stunned in Ouyang Haonan's arms. Ouyang Haonan's arms seemed so strange and familiar. Looking at Xixi again, this girl was actually stupid. She stared at Ouyang Haonan without blinking.

Suddenly, there was a slight blush on his face.

Soon Ouyang Haonan took Yao Muzixi and Xixi to find the best inn in Landu, prepared food for Yao Muzixi and Xixi, and then went back to the room to sleep.

The next morning, Yao Muzixi, Xixi and Ouyang Haonan wandered leisurely on the street after eating and drinking. As a princess, Yao Muzixi had never left the palace, and she didn't know that it was so lively outside the palace and the streets were small.

People come and go in the alley.

Yao Muzixi looked at this and that curiously, like a child who had never seen the world. Ouyang Haonan just followed behind but smiled without saying a word.

"Princess, this is beautiful." Xixi shouted happily, holding a phoenix hairpin in her hand.

Yao Muzixi rolled his eyes at her, pulled her aside and rolled his eyes: "Are you an idiot? Are you afraid that the world won't know that I am a princess? I want to call you young master."

"Oh." Xixi replied weakly.

"Let's go! Don't call her princess anymore. We are on a patrol incognito. If people find out, what's the point of leaving the palace?" Yao Muzixi gently tapped Xixi's head.

"I understand. Gong...zi...just wait for me!" Before Xixi finished speaking, Yao Muzixi walked to the front stalls and ignored Xixi who called her from behind.

Ouyang Haonan followed not too far behind, with a smile on his face.

"Get out of the way, get out of the way, everyone in front of you, get out of the way..." The sound of horse hooves and shouts came from the distance, slowly approaching. Pedestrians on the road consciously moved to both sides of the street.

"Sir..." Seeing that the carriage was about to hit Yao Muzixi, Xixi's eyes were frightened. Her princess was still standing in the middle of the road, not knowing what was happening.
