

Chapter 6

BRIANNA'S POV

My heart was beating so loud that I could hear it in my ears. The sight of three stunningly handsome boys staring at me with puzzled expressions was enough to drive me crazy. . They were unlike anyone I had ever seen before. The magnetic pull I felt to them took my breath away.

"Mates" my wolf whispered.

I stared at them in awe. No....it can't be. All three of them? How could this be possible? I was still mated to Jonas. Could they be my second chance mates?

They were the most gorgeous guys I had ever laid eyes on. Each one of them was more perfect than the last.

As I stood there with my heart pounding and my breath coming in shallow gasps, I could feel the mate bond pulling at me. The bond I felt was even more powerful than Jonas' and I's bond. It was a strong force that connected me to the three boys in front of me. It was unlike anything I had ever experienced before. It was a bond that reached deep into my soul, linking me to them on a what felt like a spiritual level.

The rst boy was tall, muscular and had piercing blue eyes. With him, the bond felt like an electric current, sparking between us. When our eyes met, I felt a rush of energy and adrenaline that made my heart race. His presence was magnetic. The bond drew me to him with an intensity that left me breathless. I could feel his strength and his protectiveness.

The second boy had sandy blonde hair and light brown eyes. Our bond was different from the rst boy. The connection between us was softer, more comforting. When he looked at me, I felt understood, as if he could see the real me.

The third boy had raven-black hair and green eyes. The bond between us felt like a steady force. I could tell he had a calm demeanor. He seemed like the stable type which is why our bond was steady for some reason. The connection between us was direct. Just one look at him made me feel like I could lean on him, rely on him, in a way I hadn't been able to with anyone else.

I gazed at them with so much admiration. I couldn't believe they were standing in front of me. Who are these guys? I had never seen them before.

They were gorgeous as hell. They looked like the human representation of Greek gods.

Before I could say anything, the door behind me opened with much force. Jonas stormed in. He grabbed my arm roughly, pulling me away from the classroom.

"Let's go," he growled

"Jonas, please let me go," I begged, trying to pull away from him.

The boy with the blue eyes stepped forward.

"Release her immediately." he said.

Jonas stopped, turning around to face him. "And who the hell are you to tell me what to do?"

TREVOR'S POV

My brothers and I found an empty classroom for us to have a conversation. We wanted to discuss our strategies now that we were in a new pack. We were in the middle of our conversation when the door opened and a petite girl entered. As soon as I laid eyes on her, my breath got stuck in my throat. She was gorgeous - the most beautiful girl I had ever laid eyes on.

She had long brown hair that cascaded over her shoulders. She had deep blue eyes and the most luscious looking lips I had ever seen. Her skin glowed brightly under the rection of the sunlight that came in through the windows.

"Mate" my wolf whispered.

I could feel my wolf stir immediately. It came alive at the sight of her. Looking at her alone, send waves of electricity through me. I was drawn to her. She had an irresponsible magnetic pull that made me want to grab her and pull her close to me.

I looked at my brothers, Kevin and Anthony. We exchanged a look, and I could tell they were thinking the same thing. This girl, this beautiful, ethereal looking person, was our mate. I could feel it in every ber of my being. The connection was undeniable.

Just as I was about to introduce myself, the door opened again. A boy stormed in with annoyance. He charged at the girl, grabbing her arm roughly.

"Let's go," he demanded, trying to drag her away.

She struggled, looking at him with fear "Jonas, please let me go!"

"Release her immediately" I said rmly.

The boy stopped, turning to face me and my brothers. His eyes were dark and lled with fury.

"And who the hell are you to tell me what to do?" he spoke.

"Stick around and you just might nd out"

He released the girl, stepping forward to confront us. Kelvin moved forward. I could feel the annoyance radiating off my brother. His fangs were bared in a snarl. It was obvious that he wanted to attack the boy. I knew that it wouldn't end well. I placed a hand on his shoulder.

"Calm down, Kelvin," I said quietly "This one's different."

I could tell from his scent and the aura of power radiating off him that he wasn't an ordinary wolf. There was something stronger and more dangerous about him. I realized that he might be the Alpha's son, the one who supposedly ran the school. We had heard about him even before coming here.

I sent the thought to my brothers through our telepathic link. Kelvin and Anthony nodded, agreeing with me.

"What's your problem?" the boy sneered, stepping closer. "Why do you care what happens to her?"

"None of your business" Anthony said "Touch her and you'll regret it".

I glanced past him to make sure she was alright. In that moment, I realized the space behind him was empty.

She was gone.
