Chapter 21 The Wang Family Comes

Later, on the issue of raising Yunshang, the old Yun family was even more unable to open their mouths. Even if they knew in their hearts that Widow Wang wanted to kill Yunshang, they also knew that Yunshang would not be able to live a good life with Widow Wang, but because of their hearts. Guilt, because of Widow Wang's frantic and tangled posture, she still let go of Yun Chang.

This is also the main reason why the Lao Yun family has been deaf and blind to Yun Chang's predicament for so many years.

When Yun Dachuan died, not only Widow Wang could not stand the blow, but the old couple of Yun family also carried a heavy ideological burden. They avoided Widow Wang on weekdays, not only to avoid bringing up Widow Wang, but also to avoid bringing up Widow Wang and their old couple. of sad things.

Or maybe the old couple of the Yun family, who blamed themselves in their hearts, felt ashamed to see Widow Wang.

Yun Chang guessed that the Yun family not only avoided Widow Wang, but even her and the Yun family were probably not happy to see her.

After all, every time I see her, I can think of the reason why Yun Dachuan went up the mountain in the middle of the night, and it can evoke those unpleasant memories of the Yun family.

It was also at this time that Yun Chang wanted to understand why Mr. Yun would sneak up on the wall and listen to the corner, instead of knocking on the door openly and saying that he was here to see his granddaughter.

The people of the old Yun family treat her well, not because they love her so much, but because the Yun family is loyal and kind, and they didn't completely blame her for the accident that happened to Yun Dachuan, but for the sake of Yun Dachuan's love for her, the Yun family wanted to do their best for Yun Dachuan.

As for whether the Yun family had any grudges against her, Yun Chang didn't know or guess.

"Before my man died, he was still talking about finding a jade brand for you. You are such a scourge that my man can't even die in peace! I should have killed you earlier! You killed my son and my man, and now again come to harm me..."

Widow Wang was lying on her side, crying non-stop, tears fell on the ground one after another down the corners of her eyes. Yunshang could feel the overwhelming sadness all over Widow Wang while sitting on the chair.

Yun Chang couldn't help but feel astringent in his heart. If Yun Dachuan was still alive, he would definitely not want to see Widow Wang become what she is now.

Seeing Yun Chang drooping her head and not speaking, even if she was scolded by Widow Wang, she did not respond. Gu Shinian knew at a glance that she was feeling uncomfortable, and she was soft-hearted towards Widow Wang and could not do anything.

But Widow Wang is too strong and stubborn, she hates Yun Chang in her heart, and will not change her attitude towards Yun Chang just because Yun Chang is soft-hearted and let her go.

Widow Wang wanted to slowly spar with Yunshang before, which gave Yunshang a chance to change the core, so that she could completely control Widow Wang. Once Yun Chang's heart softens and Widow Wang is let go, she will definitely fight back as soon as possible, and she will be hit with a single blow, and will never give Yun Chang a chance to live again.

At that time, not only Yun Chang could not escape the poisonous hands of Widow Wang, but even he would be implicated.

The situation between Yun Chang and Widow Wang is already a life-and-death situation. No matter how excusable the reason for Widow Wang to torture Yun Chang before, it is not within Gu Shinian's consideration.

He has only Yun Chang as a relative in this world. If someone threatens Yun Chang's life, no matter who the other party is or whether the other party is innocent, he will not be soft-hearted.

Seeing that Yun Chang's eyes were a little red, Gu Shinian frowned and asked word by word:

"A-Shang, do you know the consequences of soft-heartedness?"

Yun Chang pursed her lips, nodded and said:

"I know, if I relented and let her go, I would die, and you would die too."

She called Gu Shinian's name many times in front of Widow Wang. In this era of strict household registration control, it is not very difficult to find someone.

"Second brother Gu, don't worry, I know what to do." She could keep the widow Wang in the space and provide food and drink for the rest of her life, but she would never let her go because of a momentary soft-heartedness, and bring her and Gu Shinian's gifts to herself and Gu Shinian. scourge.

It was getting late now, Yun Chang took Widow Wang into the space, and Gu Shinian also got up and went out.

Take another look around the yard.

Thinking that Yunshang had dug a pit for Widow Wang in the village before, Gu Shinian was worried that someone would come into the yard to steal chickens in the middle of the night, so he called Yunshang to take the remaining three hens into the space, and the two returned to the house. Take a break.

Yun Chang didn't sleep well all night, Gu Shinian set the alarm clock and called her to get up and enter the space to give Widow Wang a dose of medicine every hour. After waking up, the two of them threw the sleeping widow Wang onto the kang.

When I woke up in the morning, there was a strong wind outside, the weather was gloomy, and there were still a few snow particles floating in the sky.

Yun Chang looked up at the gray sky, hurried to the backyard to put the hen back into the chicken coop, and ran back to the room timidly.

Gu Shinian was clumsily squatting in front of the stove to light the fire, preparing to burn some hot water to wash his face. It was probably because of the wind outside, the air was pouring in from the chimney, and the thick smoke from the stove kept pouring into the house. Choking.

Yun Chang coughed a few times, opened a window for air, moved a small bench, held a small chin, and sat silently beside Gu Shinian.

The flames in the stove grew stronger and stronger, and Yunshang stretched out his hand to start the fire.

"Second brother Gu, that jade lock is not in the hands of Widow Wang, nor in Lao Yun's house. Do you think it was taken away by Lao Wang's family?"

"Probably not." Gu Shinian thought for a while and then continued, "Back then, Yun Dachuan and Widow Wang didn't go to Lao Wang's house to ask for jade locks. They should have confirmed that the old Wang's family did not succeed." The temperament, had come to the door to snatch the jade lock back.

Yun Chang looked back at the widow Wang who was sleeping soundly on the kang, stretched out her hand to touch her empty neck, and muttered:

"I didn't think about finding the biological parents of this body. It's just that the jade lock has been worn since childhood, and now it's lost, I feel a little unaccustomed to it."

"Go back and look for it in private. If you can't find it, I'll find a way to get you a better one."

Gu Shinian is not fooling Yunshang casually. Good quality ancient jade is difficult to find in later generations. It is really not difficult to find in this era.

There was a sudden loud knock on the door outside, and a woman called Widow Wang's name outside.

Gu Shinian immediately got up and went to the kang and pushed the widow Wang, confirming that she was still asleep, and scanned the room again to confirm that nothing out of place appeared in the room, and then followed Yun Chang to the courtyard.

"Hua'er, are you at home? Hua'er, open the door..."

"Come on here! Who is it?" Yun Chang asked as he opened the courtyard door.

A tall woman with small eyes stood at the gate. Seeing Yun Chang open the door, she immediately squeezed in with a smile.

"Yo, girl Chang has grown so big! Don't you know me? I'm your aunt, where's your mother? Are you at home? Hua'er! Hua'er, my mother asked me to see you..."
