Section 16

"Indeed, I am still a mortal now, and I have also left the wilderness."

"No way, are you so powerful?"

"Don't underestimate yourself. As long as you practice for a period of time, even if you haven't upgraded yet, your strength will still improve a lot. It's no problem to deal with some monsters."

"Yes, I can break a big tree with a bowl with one punch now, and I haven't upgraded yet, I'm still a mortal."

"Speaking of the big guys who have entered the first level of Qi training, how many are there now?"

"I don't know, the big guys usually don't show up."

"Haha, I've already reached the first level of Qi training, and I've also learned a fireball technique. After I go offline, I'll give you a live show."

"Big guys are awesome."

"I'm really jealous."

Chapter 15 Bookstore

Looking at the information on the chat channel, Zhang Yuhe felt that he was a little out of tune with other players.

Not to mention those players who have already gone offline, just those who are still persisting.

The highest cultivation level is just the first level of Qi training, and he himself has already reached the great perfection of Qi training several days ago.

The huge gap feels very unreal.

Zhang Yuhe felt that he was gradually becoming an NPC.

Once he appeared, who would regard him as a player? Because at this stage, only NPCs would be so strong.

After closing the chat channel, Zhang Yuhe took another look at the trading market.

Unlike the beginning, there were already players listing items on the trading market.

Of course there were no good things, but just some messy sundries.

For example, steamed buns, clothes, etc., the price was the smallest unit, a spiritual stone.

Selling these sundries for a spiritual stone was simply a joke, and it was impossible for anyone to buy them.

He was completely crazy about money.

Although the current trading market seemed unreliable, in his opinion, in the entire game system, perhaps this trading market would help him in the future.

He believed that after a period of time, when the players' strength grew a little, with the business acumen of the Blue Star people, there would definitely be dealers.

At that time, if he wanted to buy or sell items, he might be able to go through the trading market, which would be much more convenient.

After eating the barbecue, Zhang Yuhe walked into the inner hall of the pavilion and lay down on a stone bed to rest.

The next morning, a stream of light passed through the Yinhe Peak and flew away.

Zhang Yuhe quickly passed by mountains and lakes. When he passed a small pavilion on the water, he found several purple-clothed disciples sitting and talking about Taoism.

However, he ignored them and continued on his way. Zhang Yuhe did not have social skills and was not interested in greeting people he did not know.

When those people saw him flying by, they all showed surprised expressions. After all, it was unreasonable for a cultivator in the Qi Refining Stage to appear in the Daosheng Sect.

One of them asked.

"Brother He, who is this person? Do you know him?"

"I heard that a cultivator in the Qi Refining Stage joined the inner sect yesterday with a token in hand. He should be this person."

"No way, there is such a thing?"

"It is true. I have heard people talk about it."

"Hey, I think there are some old rules that the sect does not need to follow anymore. Just like this time, a young cultivator in the Qi Refining Stage can join the inner sect with just a token. This is really unfair to the 100,000 outer disciples."

"Yeah, not to mention those outer disciples, even I feel a little unhappy. I think Lu Ziming has practiced Taoism for hundreds of years and finally achieved the Nascent Soul Avenue and was promoted to an inner disciple. This kid can be on the same level as me with just a token. It is simply unreasonable."

"Who said it is not true? It is really unpleasant."

Just when several people were complaining about Zhang Yuhe's entry, a voice suddenly came from a distance.

"Don't complain like the women in the mortal world. You might as well practice more."

When they heard the voice, they immediately stood up and shouted respectfully to the distance.

"Hello, Senior Brother."

A young man in purple with a golden crown and a long sword flew quickly and came to the front of them in an instant.

The young man with the golden crown swept his sharp eyes over the crowd and said sternly.

"The Daosheng Sect has been in this world for millions of years, relying on rules. Don't let me hear such words again in the future, hum."

After the young man with the golden crown finished speaking, he turned into a stream of light and disappeared in front of everyone.

He just passed by and heard several people discussing the rules of the sect, so he stopped them.

The young man with the golden crown flew away, leaving several people looking at each other at the scene.

After a long time, one of them said with envy.

"Big Brother's aura has become stronger again. He will not advance to the realm of refining emptiness soon."

"It is very likely. Big Brother has a natural spiritual root and a body of fire spirit. He is not comparable to us."

"Big Brother's cultivation speed is really too fast."

"Yes, he has only been practicing for a thousand years and he will break through the transformation of spirit and advance to the realm of refining emptiness. Big Brother may be the first person in the history of Daosheng Sect."

"Well, it is true. It depends on when he breaks through the realm of refining emptiness."

"No more talking. I also want to go back to practice. I swear I will not come out of retreat until I enter the transformation of spirit this time."

Several people bowed to each other and said goodbye, then left in a stream of light.

Zhang Yuhe did not know the episode. At this time, he appeared in front of a magnificent attic.

On the plaque above the attic, there were two big characters "Shulou".

Yes, he did not go directly to the Sutra Building to exchange for the skills, but came to the Book Building first.

Zhang Yuhe plans to look around the library first to enrich his basic knowledge.

To be honest, at present, he can only be regarded as a semi-illiterate cultivator at most.

All his knowledge of cultivating immortals comes from the storage bag of Jia Huwei of the Wu family in Feiyun City.

But Jia Huwei is only a young cultivator at the sixth level of Qi Refining, and he has not learned much knowledge.

Since he has entered the Daosheng Sect and has this condition, he naturally needs to enrich himself first.

As for going to the Sutra Building to exchange for the skills, there is no rush for the time being. Anyway, he will not be short of them, and he can go anytime.

Moreover, knowing more about cultivating immortals will definitely be of great help to his choice of skills in the future.

Otherwise, he would not know how to choose the skills in front of him.

The Daosheng Sect Library is divided into four floors.

The first floor is open to all disciples for free. It is full of various common sense of cultivating immortals, travel notes of celebrities, strange stories, as well as some basic skills and various kinds of miscellaneous knowledge of cultivating immortals. It is all-encompassing and has all kinds of knowledge of cultivating immortals.

It can be said that as long as you look through the library, you are basically a know-it-all in the world of cultivating immortals.

The second to fourth floors respectively housed Huang, Xuan, and Earth-level skills and magical powers, and required corresponding merits to enter.

Zhang Yuhe had just entered the sect, and his merit value was zero. Even as an inner disciple, he was not qualified to go up.

However, he was not interested in those skills and magical powers now, he just wanted to read quietly.

Zhang Yuhe showed his identity jade card and entered the first floor of the library.

There were endless rows of bookshelves, and various jade slips were neatly placed on the shelves, and there were even some paper books.

He released his spiritual sense and looked slowly all the way.

There were so many jade slips and books in the library that it would take a very long time to read them all, but Zhang Yuhe was not in a hurry.

Sharpening the knife does not delay the chopping of wood, and a tall building rises from the ground.

He felt that if he wanted to practice smoothly in the future, he must first take off the hat of being illiterate in cultivating immortals.

Illiteracy has no future.

As time passed, Zhang Yuhe was immersed in the ocean of knowledge.

"Yufantian Chronicle"

"Analysis of Spiritual Roots"

"What is a Spiritual Body"

"Five Elements Basic Techniques"

"Introduction to the Dao of Alchemy"

"Introduction to the Dao of Talismans"

"Basic Knowledge of Refining Equipment"

"Introduction to Formation"

...

"So that's how it is."

As I finished reading one book after another, the things I didn't understand before became clear and simple.

I don't know if it's because of his comprehension, but Zhang Yuhe reads very fast.

And as long as he reads, he can remember everything and integrate it.

He really knows it at a glance.

Although many things have not been put into practice, Zhang Yuhe feels that he really knows it.

More than a month later, Zhang Yuhe walked out of the bookstore with a slightly tired look.
