

Triplets On SM 1041

Chapter 1041-Hearing this, Tony also became serious.

He came to Sean, looked at the bright red screen and the letters “SSS” that appeared on it, and swallowed.

“Why does he suddenly contact you in this way? He knows you’re recovering!” Sean squinted his eyes. “Maybe he is in trouble.”

“Then he shouldn’t have contacted you. You are...” Tony twisted his eyebrow and looked worried, thinking, ‘Mr. Anderson will finally be able to walk again.

Why can’t they give him a break at this critical moment?!’ Sean did not respond but raised his hand and pressed the enter button.

The red alert on the computer screen disappeared instantly.

Soon after, there was a sound, “Master...”

His tone was full of respect and piety.

Molly stood in the yard for a long time before she finally recovered from her worries.

For the time being, she didn’t know whether she should go to Domster.

In the end, she decided to talk to Sean about this thing.

After all, he would be her husband and was also her intimate lover. They have agreed to face anything together, so she should discuss such a big thing with him.

After making up her mind, Molly quickly walked into the house.

When the butler saw her, he smiled and said without her asking, "Mr. Anderson is in his study."

"Thank you." Molly smiled back, then went upstairs, and knocked on the door of the study.

At this moment, Sean had finished the call and was in a slight trance.

It was Tony who opened the door.

When he saw that it was Molly, he greeted her politely, "Mrs. Anderson."

Then he stepped aside to let Molly in.

Molly slowly came to the desk and asked Sean softly, "Are you done?"

Sean regained his mind, closed the computer, and gently replied to her, "Not yet. What's the matter?"

Molly opened her mouth and wanted to tell him the thing about the free clinic.

However, she suddenly couldn't say it out.

Instead, she said, "Check on the results of your recent rehabilitation! How about we take a break? Get up and walk. Let me see how your legs are."

"Okay." Sean held the table and tried to stand up.

Seeing this, Molly hurriedly held his arm to prevent him from falling.

Sean gently watched her. Then he stood up without using too much strength.

Moreover, after standing upright, he looked stable.

“Wow! Your legs are much better than before.”

Molly was a little surprised and also happy, “It seems that you have followed the advice!”

“Of course I have.” Sean tilted his head in her ear and said, “How dare I not listen to my wife-to-be’s words?”

Hearing the word “wife-to-be,” Molly froze for a few seconds, and then her ears became hot and red.

This was the first time she had heard him call her that.

She felt her heart was full of love and sweetness.

She couldn’t help smiling happily, “Good boy! Keep walking. If you behave well, I’ll give you a reward.”

Sean was amused by her words and then moved his pace obediently.

Chapter 1042-It was certainly easier for him to move than it had been before.

He still needed someone to support him, but his gait was almost smooth.

Moreover, he could hang on longer.

Before, every ten minutes he walked, his legs might not be able to bear it.

Now, he had been moving for ten minutes, but his legs just felt a little sore.

“I can hang on longer.”

Sean looked at Molly and said.

Molly wanted to see where his limit was, so she agreed, “Then you can go on, but if you think you can’t do it, you must stop. Don’t push yourself.”

“Okay.”

Sean nodded and continued training.

She patiently accompanied him.

They walked up and down the study many times.

After about ten more minutes, finally, Sean couldn’t hang on.

She helped him sit down immediately.

“You have walked for twenty minutes. It seems that your rehabilitation effect is better than I thought.”

She poured Sean a glass of water and smiled happily.

After so long of treatment, she was happier than anyone to see her loved man back on his feet.

Sean took the glass of water and sipped. He also looked happy, “You get all the credit.”

She shook her head, "It isn't all my credit. You've put into effort yourself, otherwise the effect would not be so significant."

Speaking of this, she raised her hand and pulled out a few pieces of tissues from the nearby tissue box. She wiped the sweat from his forehead and then added, "I am sure that before long you will be able to stand up and walk on your own. I'm looking forward to that day."

"I'm looking forward to it, too."

Sean put down the glass of water and looked at her softly.

He had been looking forward to this day for a long time.

Molly didn't get a chance to mention the free clinic with Sean because she had discussed his rehabilitation plan with him.

The next morning, after breakfast, she took Brycen and Sawyer to do their physical examination.

When they got their physical examination results, Molly was satisfied, "Brycen, you are recovering well. There's nothing wrong with any of your physical indicators. The nerves in your legs are recovering. But it will be some time before you are fully recovered again. Ramp up your training."

Brycen was pleased with himself, "I told you my health wasn't too bad. A year later, I must be definitely recovered."

Caitlyn routinely threw cold water on him, "Do you remember the pain during your treatment? In the next sessions of your rehabilitation, you will feel ten times as much pain as you did in the previous treatment. I hope you can keep your voice down by then."

Brycen didn't believe that at all, "How can it be possible? Don't lie to me. I see that it is easy for Sean to recover. He's not in pain at all."

“That’s because Mr. Anderson has strong willpower to bear the pain. Do you think others have to shout like you every time?”

Caitlyn said this on purpose to discourage him.

Brycen was startled immediately, “It is impossible. You must have said that to scare me...”

He asked Molly about it, “Molly, what she said is false, isn’t it?”

Molly looked down at Sawyer’s medical examination report without looking up, “It’s true. Your legs were knocked so badly. It’s no different than having your bones ripped apart and reassembled. If you want to recover completely, you will have to suffer ten times more than usual.”

“What?”

Brycen felt discouraged, “I think my great days will come. I have no idea that the pain I am about to suffer is just beginning.”

He was on the verge of tears and grabbed Molly’s hem, “Molly, is there a way that doesn’t hurt at all?”

Chapter 1043-“Certainly.”

Molly took a glance at him and said, “If you choose that way, although you can walk, you might be unable to drive your beloved racing car for the rest of your life!”

Brycen’s eyes widened. “No! Racing is my life. I can’t live without it!!!”

“Then stick to the rehabilitation training for your life.” Molly closed the file and patted him on the shoulder comfortingly.

Brycen was not comforted. He turned to hug Russell and complained, "Why is my life so hard..."

Russell sighed and shook his head.

He felt that his life was even harder as Brycen's assistant!

Molly ignored Brycen and turned to look at Sawyer.

"Sawyer, a couple of your numbers are still not where they should be. You should eat more nutritious food. Besides, are you very tired these days?"

Insomnia is not a good sign...

"Take some time to exercise every day. Exercise can promote metabolism, build up your body, and keep you happy! Your illness is mainly caused by mental stress! Even without my reminder, you must attach importance to it yourself."

Always cooperative, Sawyer followed her advice. Nodding, he replied, "Okay. I'll pay attention to it. There are indeed a lot of tasks, but I'll arrange them appropriately."

Molly was satisfied. "We gonna have an acupuncture treatment tonight. After that, your illness is unlikely to break out again. In addition, if you can't fall asleep, ignite one more sleeping incense. The incense is made entirely of ingredients that are natural. It is harmless."

"I got it." Sawyer nodded.

After checking her two brothers, Molly asked Russell to drive them back.

She stayed to prepare the drugs.

Caitlyn came over to help her. Looking at Molly's slightly worried expression, Caitlyn asked in confusion, "Since Mr. Anderson and your brothers are getting better, you should be happy. Why do you look worried? Do you have something on your mind?"

Molly became stunned and looked at her. "Is it that obvious?"

"It's not obvious. But I've worked with you for a long time, so I know you well."

Caitlyn spoke softly with a smile, "If it's okay, you can talk it to me."

Molly didn't plan to hide her worry from Caitlyn and told her about the free clinic.

After hearing it, Caitlyn knew why Molly was anxious.

She pondered for a while and asked, "Do you want to know my opinion?"

Molly uttered, "Certainly."

Caitlyn stared at her seriously. "As your friend, I don't advise you to work in the free clinic for some time because that place is very dangerous. I can't imagine what will happen if anything wrong occurs. Besides, I don't think your family members will allow you to go there, especially Mr. Anderson... He cares about you so much, and the two of you are going to get married. If something bad happens, he will probably go crazy, right? And you have three children. They can't accept anything wrong with you!

"However, as your colleague, I think it's normal to participate in the free clinic activity. We're doctors, and our duty is to save people. So, I can understand why you are hesitant and worried."

Caitlyn paused for a while and added, "Anyway, discuss it with your family members as soon as possible. No matter what decision you make, you must talk about it with them and know their ideas."

Molly felt that Caitlyn's words were reasonable.

So, after preparing the drugs, she drove directly to Anderson Corporation.

Chapter 1044-Before she came, she didn't notify Sean, and she didn't make an appointment in advance. So when she was about to go upstairs, she was stopped by the receptionist.

"Sorry, you can't meet Mr. Anderson without an appointment."

Molly was calm, and revealed her identity, "I'm Mr. Anderson's fiancée."

When the receptionist heard this, she couldn't help but look Molly up and down, and then said with a disdainful smile, "Please change your excuse! Someone has already used this! You are the eighth girl this month who has tried to impersonate Mr. Anderson's fiancée!" Molly couldn't help being stunned.

The eighth girl? It seemed... even if they were about to get married, there were still so many people who wanted to hit on her fiance.

Molly couldn't help gasping. She simply took out her mobile phone to call Sean.

But before she made the call, she saw Sean and Tony coming out of the elevator not far away.

It was time for lunch. The two were about to go out for lunch.

After Molly saw it, she decisively took back her phone and walked over.

Seeing this, the receptionist was a little nervous for fear that the woman would bump into Mr. Anderson, so she was going to stop her.

Unexpectedly, the woman walked to Mr. Anderson quickly. She even lifted Mr.

Anderson's chin boldly, and said in a seductive tone, "Mr. Anderson, nice to meet you. I was wondering if I'd have the honor to invite you to lunch."

The receptionist was stunned. It was the first time she had seen such a bold woman! She could even imagine how this woman would be thrown outside later.

Sean hadn't expected that Molly would come and even tease him in this way.

He raised his eyebrows and said with a faint smile, "Nice to meet you?"

Molly said seriously, "Yes! I said I was your fiancée just now, but the staff didn't believe me and claimed that I was the eighth girl who had said this month... My false identity has been exposed and it's so embarrassing!"

When Sean heard the jealousy in her tone, he smiled.

But he didn't show it, and deliberately cooperated with her, "So, what do you want?"

Molly blinked and smiled charmingly, "I want to ask you, do you mind having another fiancée? Or replace the current one? I think I'm a better choice for you." Upon hearing this, Sean pretended to think about it, and then asked, "What do you know?"

Molly winked at him, "I know a lot! I can be a good host and a good cook... I can do whatever you want. I will be a good fiancée."

"Really?" Sean looked thoughtful, raised his hand, and brushed off her hand on his chin. Then he leaned over, and asked in a voice only they could hear, "Are you good in bed? I just want this."

Molly was stunned for a moment, and she suddenly blushed.

What was going on? Before she settled the accounts, she was teased instead.

Molly couldn't help being a little ashamed.

But she had started the show herself, and she had to go on.

She could only grit her teeth and say, "Yes! I can do everything."

Sean smiled, "That's fine. I can accept you as my fiancée."

The receptionist was dumbfounded when she saw this scene, and she was blown away.

Is this the noble, cold, abstinent Mr. Anderson she knew?! Was it him?

Also, it turned out...Mr. Anderson liked such an active and wild girl. If she had known it, she would have thrown herself at him!

Just when the receptionist was shocked, Tony couldn't stand it anymore and said, "Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson, could you flirt at home? If this continues, Mr. Anderson's image will be completely ruined."

Chapter 1045-After being reminded by Tony, Molly suddenly realized that there were more people around. They were looking over with widened eyes.

Molly was embarrassed under their gaze. She had been so jealous just now that she hadn't noticed that she was surrounded!

She couldn't help but glare at Sean, "Why didn't you remind me?"

"You were having fun and I had to cooperate with you." Sean smiled dotingly, and raised his hand to hold hers, "Have you had enough fun now? How about I take you to lunch?" Molly blushed slightly, feeling a little ashamed, and snorted. But she did not break free, allowing him to hold her hand.

Sean smiled and took her away.

In the lobby on the first floor, the atmosphere suddenly became lively.

“My God, did you see that just now? Mr. Anderson smiled so dotingly! It turns out that when he smiles, he’s so stunningly handsome! I’m in love. I’ve fallen in love with him forever!”

“Wake up. He was smiling at Mrs. Anderson. What does it have to do with you?”

“So that’s Mrs. Anderson. She looks so beautiful and has a good figure. She makes a good match with Mr. Anderson. I heard that she is a top-notch doctor.

She cured Mr. Anderson’s legs.”

“No wonder! Such excellent people should be together. The two are simply a perfect match, a match made in heaven!”

“Just now Mr. Anderson was even acting with Mrs. Anderson! It turns out that a cold-hearted man can flirt with the woman he loves, right? I’m so envious and brokenhearted...”

Molly had no idea what a stir her visit had caused.

After she and Sean went to the restaurant, she still remembered what the receptionist had said just now.

She asked, “Mr. Anderson, please explain. The eighth girl, what’s that??”

Sean sat next to her, pretending to be calm, “I don’t quite understand. What the eighth girl?”

“Really?” Molly narrowed her eyes, not believing it at all, and turned to look at Tony, “He doesn’t understand, but you should know, right?”

Tony was suddenly implicated, and he wanted to say that he didn't know.

But Molly's eyes were sharp, and she asked, "Be honest."

Tony had no choice but to respond wittily, "Those girls just admire Mr. Anderson one-sidedly. When they heard that he was going to get married, they didn't give up and came to make trouble! Mr. Anderson is usually not close to women. He only has you in his heart. Other women are nothing in his eyes and he wouldn't even look at them!"

Regarding this, Molly believed it.

However, they were about to get married, and there were still so many girls hitting on him. Hadn't there been more of them in the past?

Molly pursed her lips, and couldn't help but complain, "You attract so many admirers."

Sean couldn't help laughing and said, "You too. One of them even went to your home!"

Molly was just about to refute when she suddenly thought of Eaton. The scene at home that day was still vivid. She quickly shut up.

Seeing her reaction, Sean thought it was funny. He raised his hand and pinched her face, and automatically changed the topic, "Why did you come here without telling me?"

"I came to see you for lunch."

Molly responded casually and said after a pause, "There is one more thing I want to discuss with you, and it's about the free clinic."

"Free clinic?" Sean raised his eyebrows and asked, "What happened to the free clinic?"

Just as Molly was about to speak, a waiter happened to come over to serve the food.

She suggested, "Let's talk about it while we eat."

Sean had no objection.

Soon, several delicious dishes came to the table, most of which were Molly's favorites.

After the waiter left, Sean picked up a piece of fish for her, "Try it. This dish in the restaurant tastes good. I think you will like it."

"Okay." Molly took a bite and found it was really good.

But right now, she was not in the mood to enjoy the food.

Sean saw a trace of worry on her face, and he couldn't help but frown, "What's wrong? Why are you so upset? You just said that you want to talk about the free clinic. Did something happen to the free clinic? Has the Shepard family rejected you?"

Chapter 1046-Molly hesitated and plucked up her courage. "No. Selon called last night to say that the location of the free clinic had been decided. Originally, I thought it was in our country, but it isn't."

"Not in our country?"

Sean paused. "So you are going abroad? Which country?"

He said softly, "It doesn't matter. If it's close, it will be convenient to take a flight over. It will only take a few hours at most. Besides, you won't be there for long."

Molly shook her head and said with difficulty, "I asked Selon this morning. We will be in Domster for at least a month."

Sean was visibly stunned.

Tony was slightly surprised. "Isn't that place at war? It's not wise to go there at this time!"

Sean frowned sullenly. "How come the Shepard family suddenly wants to go to that place? It's okay if you want to do charity work, but why do you have to go to such a dangerous area?"

Seeing this, Molly knew that he definitely did not approve of her going.

However, she explained, "It was a decision at the last minute. I've heard that...

there are our compatriots and hundreds of children trapped in the slums there."

Healers were always kind.

Thinking of those hundreds of children, she felt anxiety and pity.

Her thoughts were shown on her face without reservation.

Sean frowned for a few moments and asked in a deep voice, "Do you want to go?"

Molly hesitated for a few seconds and said honestly, "I don't know."

She bit her lip. "I went to a lot of poor areas for charity when I was abroad, and at that time, I thought it was so nice to be able to save lives. But now, I don't know if I should go..."

If it were in the past, she would have agreed to go without a second thought, but now things were different.

She couldn't bear to leave her three kids, Sean, and the other family members.

She cared a lot about them.

Seeing this, Sean lost his appetite.

He put his fork down. His eyes locked on her face as he asked through clenched teeth, "What if I don't agree?" Molly was not surprised.

She closed her hands, silent for a long time before she slowly replied, "Then I won't go."

Sean froze.

She just made a choice without much hesitation.

He lowered his eyes, sizing her up for a moment, his tone grim. "Do you really think so?"

"Yeah."

Molly nodded.

Although she said that, Sean sensed that she was going against her will.

He could feel that Molly wanted to go.

However, he knew that her purpose was not to get the so-called ancient medical book.

Before, just because Beth scolded him, Molly gave up the opportunity of participating in the famous free clinic.

Now it was even more unlikely that she would take such a big risk for that medical book.

Obviously, she wanted to go there to save lives.

Sean saw through her mind, but he couldn't convince himself to let her go to Domster.

The place was too dangerous. If anything happened to her, he would absolutely go crazy.

However, he did not want to selfishly tie her to his side either.

Sean fell into silence, his face a little upset.

Seeing this, Tony hastily tried to persuade Molly. "Mr.

Anderson and you will soon get married. The wedding is now in the preparation period. The Anderson family is looking forward to it. If you leave and get in danger, where will he be able to find the bride? So ... please don't go."

Chapter 1047-king for a while, he said, "I think you should talk to your family about it.

Even if I allow you to go there, they may not. Now you are the three kids' mother. Moreover, you are Grandpa Dave's granddaughter, and you are Brycen and Sawyer's younger sister... I think you should tell them about it."

Hearing it, Molly felt a little sad.

What Sean said proved that he had clearly guessed what she was thinking.

She could have chosen not to go.

But... When she thought she could use her leechcraft to save many people's lives, she couldn't refuse.

"Sean..."

She didn't know what to say but to call his name.

"Let's have lunch first," Sean said, with a little coolness on his face.

Molly nodded.

But neither of them was in the mood to eat.

After lunch, Sean sent Molly back and then went back.

All her family was there.

Her grandfather and Sawyer were playing chess.

Brycen accompanied the three kids to play with Danny.

Danny had been raised well and was yelling, "I want beef. I want beef..."

Brycen said, "Say 'you are handsome', and I will give you some beef."

Danny shouted, "Uncle Brycen is ugly. Uncle Brycen is ugly."

The three kids echoed nearby, "Uncle Brycen is very narcissistic."

Molly felt nice and warm when she saw this scene.

Suddenly she didn't want to go.

She had a nice family, three cute kids and... Sean, whom she loved so much.

If something happened to her, they couldn't bear it.

Thinking of this, Molly suddenly decided to send Selon a message.

She wanted to refuse the free clinic.

But she didn't expect that Selon had just sent her a message.

The message was a few pictures, which were about the injuries in the slum in Domster.

In the pictures, several kids lay on the ground, covered in blood.

Those little lives were dying.

Then Selon sent her a news link and another message, "The government has called for volunteers to go to the war zone and save those kids... I hope you can lend a helping hand."

Molly's finger stopped suddenly.

"Doctor Shepard, I am sorry. I won't go..."

She couldn't type these words.

She froze for a while.

“Mommy, what’s wrong with you? Why are you in a daze here? What happened?” Until Claudia came running to her and asked, she came to her sense.

“Nothing...”

She took a deep breath, rubbed Claudia’s head and said.

At the same time, she made up her mind.

“I’ll go with you.”

She sent a message to Selon.

Selon replied soon, “Dr. May, thank you for your kindness.

We’ll set out at the beginning of next month directly. This time, the government will send extra staff to protect the health-care workers. You can rest assured.”

After reading the message, Molly didn’t reply. She just put away her cell phone and called her family together,” Grandpa, Brycen and Sawyer, I have something to talk to you about.”

Grandpa Dave and Sawyer, who were playing chess, and Brycen looked over

Chapter 1048-will be official personnel responsible for the safety of the medical team... I didn’t want to go either, but there are a lot of people in need of medical care, including a lot of disabled and injured children...”

“Even so, we don’t agree! The slums are so messy and chaotic that no one can guarantee that nothing will happen to you, even the government! I don’t agree!”

Molly, we only have one sister. And you are going to get married to Sean. What about him? And what about my three little nephews and niece? We don’t allow you to put your life on the line.” Brycen persuaded Molly.

After saying this, he pulled Alex and said, “Say your thoughts to your Mommy.”

Claudia and Ben drooped their head and said nothing.

Of course, they didn’t want Mommy to leave, and they also didn’t want Mommy to take risks.

But... they knew it was something Mommy wanted to do.

After meditating for a long time, Alex looked up at his Mommy and asked, “Does Mommy have to go?”

Molly was almost heartbroken.

Her eyes were a little red. “I don’t have to go... I just don’t want to see those children lose their lives. I’m sorry, Alex, Claudia, and Ben, am I being too egotistical? You all need mommy, but mommy...”

Alex, Claudia, and Ben trembled slightly, and their eyes turned red.

However, at this time, Ben asked, “Mommy, are those children seriously hurt?”

Molly nodded, “Yes, very seriously. Some of them don’t have a chance to grow up.”

Ben didn’t say anything.

Claudia suddenly said, "Mommy, go and save those children..."

Chapter 1049-"Mommy, you can go. Don't worry about us." Alex said.

Hearing what Alex said, Brycen, Sawyer, and Grandpa Dave were all shocked.

"Kids, I want you to stop your mommy, not to support her! Do you know the consequences of letting her go?"

Brycen was so anxious that he really wanted to explain to these three children what it meant to be separated forever.

Although they did not understand the danger of going to Domster, they knew that their mom might be injured when she went there.

They didn't want her to take any risks.

But...

Alex said, "Uncle, it is every doctor's duty and mission to cure the sickness and save lives. If Mommy wants to go, we will support her. We also know that Mommy may be injured, but this is what she wants to do."

Ben nodded and said, "That's right. We are very reluctant to let Mommy go, but I feel very proud at the thought that Mommy can save many people."

Claudia agreed, "In our hearts, Mommy is the best doctor in the world! Those children must really need her! We will wait for Mommy to come back."

Alex, Ben, and Claudia showed serious expressions and expressed their views.

Molly was shocked when she heard what they said.

She didn't expect that her children would be the first to stand up for her.

Brycen, Sawyer, and Grandpa Dave were silent.

Meanwhile, the villa next door.

Tony gently pushed open the door of the study on the second floor and looked worried at Sean sitting in front of the window.

Sean had been sitting there since he came back, motionless and silent.

The whole study was in an atmosphere of depression.

Tony sighed slightly and could not help complaining in his heart. 'Isn't it good for Mrs. Anderson to stay at home? Why does she have to go to such a dangerous country for the free clinic? It's very difficult for Mr. Anderson.' Tony didn't dare to utter these complaints, so he had to wait quietly.

Tony didn't know how long he had been waiting.

Suddenly, Sean said in a cold voice, "What happened to the high-level alert sent by Chester a few days ago? Has he reported the progress to you? Who is going to deal with the disaster in Domster?"

Tony came out of his reverie and then replied respectfully, "Mr. Merrick has arranged for someone in the Stars Group to handle it."

Stars Group?

“Really? That’s okay. Let them contact me later. This time, I will go to Domster in person. I need you to arrange things in the company for the next two days.”

Sean showed a faint expression and his voice was calm.

But these words were like bombs.

Tony was completely dumbfounded.

A few seconds later, Tony raised his voice and said, “What? Are you going to Domster personally?”

Sean glanced at him sideways, with an invisible threat in his expression. “Why?

Do you have any problems?”

Of course, there was a problem!

It was quite a big deal!

“Are you kidding? You know it’s very dangerous to go to Domster now. Your leg injury has not recovered at the moment. Those guys caused the early chaos of Domster, and Mr. Merrick sent the Stars Group is also to deal with them. If they know the news that you are going to Domster now, they will certainly spare no effort to keep you there.”

Tony burst out in a cold sweat and tried to convince Sean,”

You must not go to Domster!”

However, Sean made his decision firmly, “As the master, I have great responsibility for the trouble caused by those people. I have to go this time.”

Chapter 1050-Tony was worried. "You went to Domster for Mrs. Anderson, right? Mrs.

Anderson is a defenseless doctor, not a soldier. She shouldn't go to such a dangerous country! Even the Stars Group took action. You can imagine how crazy those people are! Mr. Anderson, you must think twice!"

Sean answered calmly. "It's been a few years since we came back, and it's time to go back when it's all messed up out there. I will take this opportunity to clean up all the things that should be cleaned up... I can also protect her well."

Tony's lips twitched. He wanted to say something, but he swallowed the words back.

He knew that once Sean had made his decision, he would not change his mind.

He nodded resignedly, "I'll make the arrangements and send more men."

Sean nodded.

Then Tony left.

Sean had made his decision, but Grandpa Dave and Brycen would not allow Molly to go to Domster.

Molly couldn't get their approval, so she gave up on the present.

At dinner time, Sean arrived and was joined by Mr. Anderson Sr. who had been away for two days and was now coming to see his greatgrandchildren.

At dinner, everyone had a sullen face except Mr. Anderson Sr. who didn't know what was going on.

Brycen looked at Molly, who was eating dinner, and said, "Sean, talk to Molly.

You're getting married. She'll listen to you." Apparent concern was in histone.

Immediately, Molly tensed up.

If Sean talked to her, she would definitely go soft.

Mr. Anderson Sr. sensed something was wrong, so he asked, puzzled," Brycen, what's going on?"

Brycen told Mr. Anderson Sr. that Molly wanted to go to Domster.

Hearing the story, Mr. Anderson Sr. frowned and looked at Molly. A look of disapproval was in his eyes.

"Molly, it's good that you are so kind and brave. But you need to think about your family. You and Sean are finally getting married. You guys should live a happy life."

"I..." Molly didn't know what to say. She turned to Sean.

The others were looking at Sean, too.

They all wanted Sean to stop Molly.

Molly also thought Sean would stop her.

However, Sean, who had been silent, said, "If you want to go, go."

Everyone was shocked.

“... Are you out of your mind?” Brycen stared at him incredulously.

Molly was also surprised by Sean’s response. When he heard Molly’s plan at noon, he opposed it.

To the stunned stares of the crowd, Sean explained, “I’ve learned that there are troops in the slums and protecting the civilians.

“The war won’t spread there, and I’ll make arrangements to protect Molly.”

Brycen didn’t believe Sean.

“Are you kidding me? I don’t believe you’re so powerful in Domster.”

Facing Brycen’s question, Sean cast a cold glance at him. “I meant what I said!

Molly will be back in a month unharmed.”

Brycen was so anxious that he almost jumped up from his seat.

“Sean, how do you guarantee that? I know you have a lot of bodyguards, but in Domster, your bodyguards probably couldn’t keep themselves safe, let alone protect Molly.” Sawyer argued.