

Triplets On SM 1391

Chapter 1391-At this time, in Xesxia, Kara was tied to a chair in her apartment, and several silver needles were inserted into her body.

Eaton was standing beside her with a faint smile. He reeked of weirdness and coldness.

He looked like a demon climbing up from hell.

“Ah!” Kara cried out in pain.

The Mother Insect in her body began to move non-stop due to the stimulation of the acupuncture points pierced by the silver needles.

The pain came in bursts, almost deep into her bones.

“Eaton!!!1 Kara was sweating from the pain, staring at Eaton, “You bastard, why are you torturing me like this? Why...”

“Hush!” Eaton approached her and made a silent gesture.

The two looked at each other.

He sneered.

“Keep your voice down. It will attract the neighbors.” His voice was very gentle.

As he spoke, he took out a handkerchief from his pocket, folded it slowly, and stuffed it directly into Kara’s mouth.

“Hmm...” Kara couldn’t yell out. She could only stare at him with eyes full of despair.

Why had she fallen in love with such a cruel and merciless monster?

In his eyes, she was not a person, but a tool that could be used ruthlessly, regardless of her life or death.

She hated herself for having been wrong about him, and hated him even more!

Eaton ignored her hatred, went straight to the sofa, and sat down, holding the phone in his hand with a smug smile.

He was going to show Molly how painful Sean was.

In this way, she would probably change her mind!

... Norfolk.

Mr. Ballard was already sweating on his forehead. A lot of silver needles were inserted into Sean’s body, but he was still in pain, and there was no sign of relief at all.

Huge pain struck again, and Sean finally lost consciousness completely.

“Sean!” Molly turned pale with shock, and turned to look at Mr. Ballard, “Mr.

Ballard, what’s going on?”

Mr. Ballard sighed heavily, and explained with a serious expression, “It should be that the Mother Insect has been stimulated, and the Child Insect can’t calm down naturally.”

The Mother Insect!

As expected, Eaton was playing tricks! Molly's face darkened, and her eyes were cold.

Mr. Ballard didn't notice her reaction, and continued, "The Love Curse Sean was drugged with is probably the most difficult kind. The person who did it is vicious.

One attack once or twice will be fine. But with several times in a row, I'm afraid Sean finally won't be able to survive it."

Upon hearing that Sean's life might be in danger, Molly couldn't hold back the anger surging in her heart, and said through gritted teeth, "Eaton Scott!"

"I wonder where the Mother Insect is." Mr. Ballard didn't hear it, and muttered to himself, "Didn't Sean send someone to investigate it? Is there any news?"

He raised his head and looked at Molly.

Only then did he realize that her face was gloomy. He couldn't help being startled, and quickly asked, "Molly, what's wrong with you?"

Molly suppressed the anger in her heart, and said, "I've found the Mother Insect."

"Really?" Mr. Ballard was very surprised, lifted his spirits, and hurriedly asked, "Where is it? Has the host been caught?"

Molly forced herself to calm down, and said, "Mr. Ballard, let's go out and talk."

Mr. Ballard nodded, "Okay."

They quickly left the room and left Sean in Tony's care.

When they got outside, Mr. Ballard immediately asked, "Molly, what's going on?"

Chapter 1392-Molly told Mr. Ballard about her visit to Xesxia during the day.

"So Eaton planted the Venomous Insect?" Mr. Ballard's eyes widened in disbelief.

He was under the impression that Eaton was a very humble young man, and he couldn't connect this matter with Eaton at all.

"It is indeed him!" As soon as Eaton was mentioned, Molly couldn't help feeling angry.

"I didn't expect that boy to be so vicious!" Mr. Ballard scolded angrily, "It's abominable! He calls himself a doctor!"

At this time, Molly kept thinking about the scene of Sean in great pain just now, and she felt so sorry for him.

When he was in pain, she felt tormented herself.

A sense of helplessness instantly overwhelmed her.

"What should I do? How can I help Sean?" Seeing that her eyes were red and her voice was crying, Mr. Ballard couldn't help feeling sorry for her.

He patted her on the shoulder and comforted her, "Don't worry. Let me think about it."

This was the first time Mr. Ballard had seen such a powerful Venomous Insect.

He really couldn't think of any way for a while.

He suggested, "The Grandset is still our hope. It's where I can actually make a difference and find a solution."

"In that case, we will leave tomorrow," Molly said without even thinking about it.

Anyway, they would go back to the Grandset sooner or later.

Mr. Ballard had no objection to this.

After they agreed, they went to the next door together and told Molly's family about the decision.

"What? You are leaving tomorrow?' Brycen frowned deeply, 'Isn't it too rushed?"

He cast a questioning look at Molly.

"I know... But everything abroad has been arranged, so we have to leave tomorrow." Molly found an excuse casually.

Grandpa Dave and the others didn't say anything more. They just didn't want them to leave so soon.

When Molly returned to her room to pack her luggage, Grandpa Dave suddenly came in.

"Grandpa, why are you here?' Seeing him, Molly tried to behave as naturally as possible.

Grandpa Dave said with a sullen face and a serious tone, 'Tell me honestly, is Sean okay?"

Before Molly could speak, he said, "You are my granddaughter. You can fool others, but you can't fool me! You're leaving in such a hurry all of a sudden.

Something must have happened.' "Grandpa..." Molly wanted to lie.

Grandpa Dave said, "Molly, why don't you tell me honestly? Otherwise, I wouldn't feel at ease when you leave."

Histone was firm.

Molly thought she was hiding it well, but he had already seen it.

Molly had tried to deny it at first. But seeing the worried look on Grandpa Dave's face, she finally decided to tell him about the Venomous Insect.

Hearing the story, Grandpa Dave was so angry that he pounded the floor with his cane, "Nasty coward! Thinking of the pain his granddaughter and grandson-in-law had endured these days, he couldn't wait to rush to Xesxia to teach Eaton a good lesson.

"Grandpa." Molly stepped forward, took his arm, and put her head on his shoulder. Her voice was a little choked, 'I'm sorry I couldn't spend more time with you."

The always peaceable old man was heartbreaking. He raised his hand, touched her head, and said, "Silly girl, don't say sorry. I don't blame you! Hurry up and go abroad to cure Sean as soon as possible. I believe you can do it.

Chapter 1393-Hearing what Grandpa Dave said, Molly almost cried.

She sniffed and forced a smile, "Thanks for your understanding, Grandpa."

Grandpa Dave sighed, "Molly, am I an outsider? We're a family ... I'm getting old. I just hope you, Sean and the children live well for the rest of your lives. I didn't expect..."

Speaking of this, anger welled up in his heart again, "I didn't expect that you would meet a villain. Why would anyone do such a thing?" Molly didn't want Grandpa Dave to worry about them, and comforted softly, "We'll be fine."

“That’s for sure.” Grandpa Dave patted her hand.

“Oh, right, Grandpa.” Molly seemed to have thought of something, raised her head, and said, ‘You must not let Grandpa Anderson and Sean’s parents know about this. I’m afraid they will be very worried when they find out.’”

Grandpa Dave nodded, “Don’t worry. I won’t tell them.”

“Thank you. Grandpa.” Molly forced a smile.

“You’re welcome!” Grandpa Dave glared at her, pretending to be unhappy.

After the chat, Molly felt more relaxed and smiled, “Grandpa, it’s getting late. I’ll help you go back to rest.’ Grandpa Dave nodded, glanced at the suitcase on the floor, and said, “Let the maid tidy up the luggage. Don’t worry about it. Go to bed early.”

“Okay, Grandpa.”

After walking Grandpa Dave back to his room, Molly went back to the next door.

At this moment, Sean hadn’t woken up yet, and his face was still pale. Molly sat lightly on the edge of the bed, took his hand, and kissed his hand lightly.

She locked her gentle eyes on his handsome face without feeling sleepy,” Sean, I will cure you!”

In Xesxia, Eaton pulled out the silver needles from Kara’s body.

Kara had been tortured to the brink of death. Her hair was drenched with sweat, and she looked like a mess. Eaton stared at his phone, frowning tightly.

According to his expectation, Molly should call him impatiently. Now that Kara had become like this, then Sean was not much better.

But by this time, there were still no calls.

Could it be...she found a way to resolve the Venomous Insect?

In the next second, Eaton denied this idea.

Impossible! He knew how tricky this Venomous Insect was.

No matter how capable Molly was, she couldn't easily resolve it!

Then why didn't she call?

The more he thought about it, the more annoyed he became. He found Molly's phone number and called her directly.

"Sorry, the subscriber you dialed is busy now..." After hanging up, he dialed again several times, but they were all prompted by the same cold female voice.

Only then did he realize that his number had been blocked.

"Damn it!" Eaton cursed. Then he tried to send a WhatsApp message to Molly.

But he found Molly's profile picture was no longer visible to him.

Eaton's face darkened, and his eyes were frighteningly gloomy!

He hadn't received a call from her. It turned out that she had blocked me!

It seemed that she hated his guts! Eaton suddenly laughed angrily, but he was not impatient at all.

He believed that Molly wouldn't remain indifferent as long as the Venomous Insect wasn't resolved.

Thinking of this, he immediately called his assistant.

Once connected, he ordered, "Book two tickets to Northfolk for me."

Chapter 1394-The next morning, Sean finally woke up but was very weak, his face frighteningly pale.

So sorry for him, Molly regretted her last night's decision.

"It'll take at least more than 20 hours to fly to the Grandset. I'm afraid you won't be able to stand it. If your condition breaks out at high altitudes, then ... then..." She didn't dare to think further at all or casually joke about his health.

Then the anger suppressed deep in her heart resurfaced. She even wished to rush into Xesxia to fight Eaton to the death!

Seeing that her face was so pale, Sean thought she was simply worried about him. 'I'm all right. I can endure it,' he comforted her softly.

Molly looked at him, gritted her teeth, and said a little hesitantly, 'But...'

"You and Mr. Ballard are with me, aren't you? I'll be fine, right?' Sean comforted her gently.

After careful thinking, Molly still chose to go abroad today.

So, after breakfast, they headed for the airport.

Tony had completed the formalities, and they would take the private jet of the Anderson family this time.

When they were about to go through the security checkpoint, Brycen hugged the three kids one by one. "When you're abroad, you guys should listen to your mommy and daddy. Got it?"

"Got it," the three kids answered in unison.

"Good kids!"

Brycen then looked at his sister and her husband and, unwilling to part with them, said, "I'll visit you sometime soon."

Molly said with a smile, "Okay, we'll be waiting for you."

"Call me when you get there," Grandpa Dave instructed.

"I will, grandpa."

Grandpa Dave, Brycen, and Sawyer stood there, watching them go through the checkpoint. Even when Molly had disappeared from view, they were still unwilling to turn and leave.

Not long after, waiting in the VIP lounge, Sean suddenly felt a sharp pain in his chest again.

His neck was again covered with blood streaks, which had almost reached up to his face.

Molly's eyes turned slightly gloomy.

Why did his condition remerge?

Was it because he was provoked last night? Or had Eaton done something to him again?

“Lie down and rest, sir.”

Tony took him to the sofa, letting him lie down.

The three kids were terrified to see this.

This was the first time they had witnessed Sean like this.

“Are you all right, daddy?”

“What’s wrong with Daddy, mommy? Why does he have such red things?”

“Daddy seems in great pain!”

They were so worried.

Now Molly even didn’t know how to explain. She could only say, “Daddy is sick.

Don’t disturb him.”

Then the three kids shut their mouths and stopped talking.

Mr. Ballard once again took out his silver needles to treat Sean, but it almost didn’t work at all. It was obvious that this reemergence was much worse than that of yesterday.

Due to the emergency, they didn’t board the plane in the end.

Seeing Sean's great suffering, Molly felt like her heart was being stabbed hard, wishing to bear the pain for him.

She had had enough of it!

She couldn't bear to see him suffer for even a moment!

While Mr. Ballard was treating Sean, she walked out of the VIP lounge.

In an unattended corner, she took out her phone, released Eaton's name from the blacklist, and called him.

The man at the other end of the line soon answered her call, "Molly..."

Before he could finish it, Molly questioned angrily, "What the hell is wrong with you, Eaton Scott?"

Chapter 1395-"You're finally willing to call me. Molly, I thought you would never come to me,"

Eaton said with joy.

Molly felt disgusted to hear that.

She questioned angrily, 'You did it on purpose, didn't you? You're forcing me, right?'"

"Molly, I didn't intend to! But you didn't listen to me, and you insisted on taking Sean abroad. Then I had no choice,' Eaton said in a seemingly helpless manner.

Molly's face turned a little dark.

How could he know she was going abroad?

Did he send someone to watch her?

Molly subconsciously turned and looked around.

People at the airport came and went, but she didn't see anyone suspicious.

But she was not relaxed. Instead, she felt a chill down her spine.

She looked so pale.

She didn't want to be coerced by Eaton, but now for Sean, she had to agree!

Yet, this didn't mean that she would terminate her marriage with Sean.

"Eaton, do you think that since you ask me to break off my marriage with Sean, he will easily agree? Stop dreaming about it! Even if I truly go stay with you, he won't give me up!"

"I know! But that won't last long."

Eaton answered in a carefree manner, "Your coming to me is more important to me than that."

Molly gritted her teeth, "I'll be going, but just for the sake of Sean's health!"

Eaton, no matter what happens, I'll never ever fall in love with you. To be frank, now I don't like you and even hate you! Are you sure you want me to go stay with you? Aren't you afraid I'll kill you someday?"

Eaton's face turned slightly stiff.

But he said stubbornly, "Of course! I'm not afraid. Molly, you won't kill me."

Molly took a deep breath and thought, "If possible, I want to kill you now. If I'm not afraid of dirtying my hands and winding up in prison and don't think this is worth it, I'll do it!"

She suppressed her wrath and said coldly, "I'm going to see you this afternoon!"

Then she hung up.

Hearing Molly hang up, Eaton smiled and said quite confidently, "Molly, come to me, and I'll make you fall in love with me! In this life, you can only be mine..."

When Molly returned to the VIP waiting room, her face was still dark. Obviously, she had not calmed down from the insulting conversation.

Mr. Ballard was treating Sean with silver needles.

The man had not recovered from the outbreak last night yet, and he had now been tortured again.

Molly felt so sorry for him.

Seeing her expression, Mr. Ballard immediately comforted her, "Don't be so worried. He'll be fine." Molly nodded and carefully wiped away the sweat on Sean's forehead.

Half an hour later, Mr. Ballard was done treating Sean. Only then did she ask, "Mr. Ballard, I have something to tell you. Let's go outside and talk." Mr. Ballard looked at her and agreed, "Okay."

After asking the three kids to watch Sean inside, the two went outside and came to a spot where there was no one around. Only then did Molly tell her decision.

"I'm gonna see Eaton." "What?"

Mr. Ballard was stunned for a moment. Then he frowned and asked, "Why are you gonna see him?"

Molly answered honestly, "He wants me to break up with Sean and go to him."

This is the only way I have to let him stop provoking the Mother Insect, and Sean will be free from suffering."

Chapter 1396-Mr. Ballard didn't allow Molly to do that. "No. What if something happens to you on this trip? And what about Sean? Will you really break up with him?" "Of course not."

Molly shook her head. "Sean and I are already married. This is the relationship approved by law. It will never change in this life. Why am I going? It's just expediency. I just want to stall Eaton. Only by doing so can we stop him from harming Sean!"

"But..."

Mr. Ballard was still worried.

Molly interrupted him, "Mr. Ballard, I want you to take Sean to the Grandset!

When you get there, please take good care of the insect in him. And I also want to do other things on this trip to Eaton. One, I want to work out ways to take Kara away. There's a Mother Insect in her. When we treat Sean someday, she will definitely play a key role. Two, I want to find the antidote from Eaton. Even if there is none, if I can find out how he got the insects, that's also a good result.

We have to adopt both strategies!"

Mr. Ballard knew these words were reasonable.

But he really objected that Molly was going there alone.

Then he had to use Sean to persuade her, "Sean might not agree to your decision! You might as well discuss it with him, okay?"

"He'll disagree. He would rather be tortured than let me... so we can't tell him for now. He's now still unconscious. All of you can board the plane, heading for the Grand set! When you get there, then tell him about this and let him cooperate.

Tell him that is my idea. He'll listen."

Molly was obviously determined.

Mr. Ballard was a little hesitant. "Your words sound reasonable, but can you be sure Eaton won't do anything to you? The guy is so unscrupulous. What if he assaults you?"

"Don't worry. I have ways to deal with him! If he really dares to use force, I'll let him suffer."

Molly's eyes were fierce when she spoke this.

Mr. Ballard knew she had made up her mind. After hesitating for a little more while, he agreed.

After agreeing on that, the two returned to the VIP lounge.

Sean had not woken up yet.

Molly said to Tony, "Get prepared. The flight is going as planned."

Surprised, Tony asked with concern, "Can Sir endure it?"

Molly mollified him, "He'll be fine. With Mr. Ballard being present, I promise his condition won't re-emerge."

Tony thought her words sounded weird.

But he trusted her medical skills, so he didn't think further.

About ten minutes later, when they were about to board the plane, Molly didn't go with them.

"You're not going, Mommy?"

Alex and Ben looked at Molly, so surprised.

Molly consoled them gently, "My dear kids, listen to Mr. Ballard and Daddy when you're in the Grand set. Mommy might be going there in a few days."

The three kids were a little panicky.

Alex immediately asked, "What are you gonna do, Mommy?"

"Nothing important. There're things yet to deal with, so I have to stay. Don't worry. Mommy will be going to see you."

Molly rubbed their heads and promised them.

The three kids finally nodded with skepticism.

"You will be coming over soon, Mommy!" Claudia said worriedly.

Molly replied with a smile, "Okay."

Tony frowned, took two steps forward, and whispered, "Madam, did anything happen? Why don't you go with us? If... He wakes up, I'm afraid it'll be hard to explain." "You won't have to explain anything! Mr. Ballard will tell him the details.

Go!

Take care of Sean, and wait for me to go to the Grandset."

After that, Molly waved to them and turned to leave.

Chapter 1397-Tony stood there, a little hesitant, and he couldn't help but look at Mr. Ballard.

"Mr. Ballard, will Sir really be fine?"

"He will. Trust her."

In fact, Mr. Ballard was not sure, but now he could only say that.

And Tony had no choice but to accept the answer.

Soon they boarded the plane, heading for the Grandset.

Molly came out of the airport and called Eaton.

"Where are you?"

Eaton answered, "I'm at Orchid Yard Hotel in Northfolk."

Molly lowered her beautiful eyes a bit.

Sure enough!

This man was in Northfolk. Otherwise, he wouldn't know what she had been doing so clearly.

Suppressing her disgust, she said coldly, "I'm at the airport. What are you gonna do next?"

Eaton chuckled, "The meals and desserts of the hotel are very good. I'll reserve a table. Come to eat lunch with me, okay?"

Molly said with some anger, "Eaton, don't make such demands under such circumstances. I'm afraid I'll feel sick when I see you."

Eaton didn't mind her angry words.

He said still with a smile, "Molly, you have no choice. Remember, Sean's health is in my hands." Molly was so angry that she almost lost her senses.

But she suppressed it in the end!

After hanging up, she hailed a taxi and headed for Orchid Yard Hotel.

When she arrived, Eaton was already waiting at the hotel entrance.

Molly got out of the taxi, her face almost freezing.

As if he didn't see that, Eaton smiled, 'Molly, you came anyway?'

Molly looked at him expressionlessly, as if to cut him into pieces with the gaze.

Of course, she didn't respond.

Eaton smiled helplessly, "I know I'm now unpleasant to your eye, but it doesn't matter. We have a lot of time. Let's go! It's a little too early for lunch. Let me show you around."

After that, he led the way.

Molly gritted her teeth and said coldly, "I'm not interested. If you want to walk around, go yourself."

Eaton stopped to look at her. "So what are you interested in? Tell me."

Molly chuckled and said ironically, "Why do I have to tell you? You're nobody to me, and you don't deserve to know my interest!"

"If I don't deserve to know, who does?"

Eaton finally stopped smiling. He tightened his lips and said coldly, "Sean?"

"Don't ask such silly questions!" Molly snapped unhesitatingly.

Eaton finally couldn't maintain his calm expression. He said coldly, "Molly, if you're now unhappy, I can tolerate your angry words. But don't challenge my patience! It has a limit! I hope you stop talking about him from now on!"

"Hah, I can stop, but can you expel him from my heart?"

Molly laughed more ironically, "Eaton, I didn't expect you to hoodwink yourself to such an extent." Eaton's face turned dark. "Now you can't, but it doesn't mean you won't in the future."

“Then I can only say you’re dreaming!” Molly said mercilessly.

Eaton was angry to hear that.

He didn’t like such an aggressive Molly.

But now, if he kept forcing her, she would dislike him even more!

Then he suppressed it, but narrowly.

“There’re many things that are unsure in this world. Molly, don’t be overconfident about a few things. When Sean falls in love with someone else someday, you won’t hold this view.”

Molly couldn’t be bothered to glance at him.

She thought that speaking one more word with a person like Eaton was a waste of energy.

Sean, her man, would never fall in love with someone else!

Chapter 1398-Since Molly was not cooperative, Eaton couldn’t show her around.

Instead, he could only sit with her in the hotel lobby, waiting for their food.

While sitting there, Molly lowered her head and sent WhatsApp messages to Sean, showing no sign of chatting with him.

Not minding it, Eaton poured her a glass of water and said, “I’ll return to Xesxia this afternoon. You’ll be going with me then.”

Molly frowned with disgust, but didn’t make a sound. Instead, she continued typing at high speed.

The whole screen was full of words of love for Sean.

“When you get off the plane, you should cooperate with Mr. Ballard to treat your illness and wait for me to go back to you. I know you’ll be mad that I hid the truth from you! I knew you wouldn’t allow me to go to Eaton. You would rather endure the pain than let me go, but... I don’t want to see you suffer.

“During the past two days, when I saw that you were being tortured by the Venomous Insect, I even wished to bear everything for you. Therefore, even if you’ll blame me, I did that insistently.

“Don’t worry. I’ll protect myself and you. Trust me.”

After saying all this, Molly wanted to continue sending messages.

But a pair of big hands suddenly came from opposite her.

Molly quickly realized it, hoping to avoid them, but Eaton’s hands were quicker.

He snatched her phone away and glanced at the words on it.

Molly exploded, “What are you doing, Eaton? Give me back my phone!”

Eaton turned off the screen with a dark face and said, “What affectionate words!

Molly, do you remember your current condition? Or am I so kind to you that you forget why you came to me?”

Her beautiful eyes cold, Molly said, “Don’t you know why I came? Eaton, don’t dream I’ll be completely obedient to you. You should know what kind of personality I have. The more you treat me like this, the more I hate you!”

As she spoke, she took a deep breath, reached out her hand, and shouted angrily, "Give me back my phone!"

The look in Eaton's eyes was more vicious.

He knew that the woman could be persuaded by reason but couldn't be cowed by force, but he wanted to tame her!

Thinking of this, Eaton tossed her phone into the fish tank beside them.

The phone sank to the bottom soon.

So shocked to see him do that, she widened her eyes, ready to retrieve her phone.

But before she could move, Eaton took her wrist.

The man pulled her to him with great force.

Molly struggled furiously. "Let me go. What are you doing?"

Eaton didn't move an inch, but shouted fiercely, "Molly, I told you not to challenge my patience! Since you've chosen to come to me, then you must forget the other men, even including Sean. Otherwise, I'll let you see how he dies with your own eyes."

Molly's beautiful eyes turned cold and fierce. "You may try. Eaton, if you dare to move an inch, I'll let you pay the price!"

The two of them threatened each other with harsh words. Neither of them chose to back down.

While confronting each other, they attracted a lot of attention.

Molly didn't want to be a spotlight, so she shook Eaton's hand off hard. Then she turned and took her phone out of the fish tank.

But she couldn't turn on the water-soaked device.

No matter what she did to it, it refused to wake up.

Angrier, Molly glanced at Eaton with coldness and hostility.

Chapter 1399-room and then locked the door. She had no intention of letting Eaton inside.

Eaton wasn't worried at all that Molly would run. After all, he was the one with the bargaining chip.

It was just that when he returned to his room, he didn't look happy at all.

Whenever he thought of the romantic words Molly had sent Sean, he felt his head full of anger.

Kara sat on the sofa and looked at what was happening in front of her.

When she passed out the previous night, she had woken up once and knew she had been taken to Northfolk.

That torture had sucked all the strength out of her.

She couldn't even flick a finger even if she had the chance to escape.

She couldn't help but snort when she saw how angry Eaton was.

'Some men are so low!' she exclaimed inwardly. 'They don't like the women who like them, but go after the women who don't belong to them.' However, when Kara thought about it, wasn't she doing the same?

If it weren't for the fact that she was so stubborn, how could she end up here?

"What are you laughing at?" Eaton asked with a dark face.

He had good ears and heard the snort.

Eaton walked slowly up to Kara with a face as cold as ice. He looked at her as if he was a snake looking at its prey.

Kara was a little scared, but the hatred she had deep down wouldn't allow her to back down.

Her voice was hoarse as she said, "I'm laughing at whoever deserved to be laughed at. If I had realized what kind of person you are and stayed away from you, I wouldn't end up like this. There's you as well, Eaton Scott. It doesn't feel good to be rejected, does it? You thought you could have a chance of making Molly yours after you've brought her to your side, but in reality, she would never do what you want. She would only dislike you even more..."

"Shut up!" Eaton shouted angrily. He felt frustrated because Kara was right.

The shouting wasn't enough for him. He even grabbed Kara's neck. "Look at yourself. You can't even keep yourself safe. What right do you have to laugh at me? All you have to do is do your job as a container! I might set you free if I'm feeling nice one day. If you dare to provoke me again, then don't blame me for not keeping your life!"

With that said, Eaton took the chance to stuff something in Kara's mouth.

He only chose to let go when she was forced to swallow it.

As soon as Eaton let go, Kara began coughing violently.

She wanted to cough out whatever was in her mouth.

However, all her efforts were to no avail. Instead, she felt something cold slide down her throat and into her stomach.

She couldn't help but raise her head and looked at Eaton." What did you just give me now?"

Eaton looked at her and said with a cold voice, "I've already told you, you're just a container. What I've given you is obviously a Venomous Insect."

Kara looked at Eaton with eyes full of disbelief. "Are you crazy? I can't even take care of the Love Curse within me. Why did you give me another Venomous Insect?"

'To control you obviously. Don't worry. The Venomous Insect this time is only to control you. As long as you're obedient and don't go running around, then you'll be fine. However, if you dare to run, then the Child Insect will eat your organs bit by bit and then suck your blood and flesh dry. It won't stop until you're nothing but bones!"

When Eaton said those words, he seemed to be very calm.

However, Kara felt that he was emitting a cold aura and a chill was sent down her back. 'Why is this man so terrifying?

He planted two Venomous Insects inside of me just to control me.' What Kara didn't know was that Eaton did all of this as security.

He was worried that Molly would find out that Kara was the key to solving the Love Curse and would find a chance to take Kara away. Therefore, Eaton acted first to take care of this problem.

Chapter 1400-When Molly went back to her room, she looked for a hairdryer in an attempt to save her phone.

It was a pity that the phone was soaked through and was completely ruined.

Molly gritted her teeth in anger and was planning on going to buy a new one.

However, she had just taken two steps but stopped again.

Eaton didn't restrict her freedom, but if he saw a phone, he would definitely break the phone again to stop her from contacting Sean.

Therefore, it would just be a waste of money to buy another.

With that thought in mind, she had no choice but to give up on the idea of buying a new phone. She sat back on the chair and thought about what to do next.

The first thing she needed to do was to find out the whereabouts of Kara.

Since her plan was exposed, Molly knew that Eaton would hide Kara.

That woman was the key to solving the Venomous Insects. Molly had to take her to the Grandset at all costs.

With that thought in mind, Molly was a little regretful.

She only decided to take Sean out of the country for treatment the previous night so that she didn't have to worry about Eaton.

However, she didn't expect Eaton to be so shameless.

If she knew things would turn out like this, she should have told Tony to take some men to Xesxia to kidnap Kara.

If she did that, she wouldn't be at such a disadvantage.

However, it was too late now...

Molly forced herself to calm down and was about to go talk to Eaton.

Before she reached the door, she heard the doorbell rang.

Molly frowned and went to open the door. That was when she saw Eaton and Kara standing outside.

She widened her eyes in shock and stared at the latter.

Kara's face was paler than ever. She looked so weak, it was as if she could fall to the ground at any moment.

She glared at Molly with her blood-red eyes.

Her gaze was like poison.

This caused Molly's heart to race.

'Eaton isn't hiding Kara?' she wondered. 'Is it because he believes there is no one can break the curse or is it because he's confident that he can keep Kara under his control, and that's why he brought Kara in front of me?' Thoughts flashed in Molly's mind. She was even thinking of ways she could contact people of the Anderson family, so that they could come here and capture the two of them in front of her.

Eaton seemed to have guessed what Molly was thinking. He said deliberately, "She doesn't look so well. I hope you don't mind, Molly. I've just given her another Venomous Insect just now, back in the room. She had been coughing for quite a while and that's why she looks the way she is at the moment."

Molly's face stiffened. Her eyes were filled with disbelief." What... what did you just say?"

'Another Venomous Insect?' Molly asked inwardly.

Her voice was full of shock. "Eaton, are you out of your goddamn mind? One Venomous Insect is already a lot to handle for a normal person. How could you give her another? Do you want Kara dead?"

Eaton's voice was indifferent. "She won't die. The second Venomous Insect is just so that she will behave herself. It won't kill her, unless... she leaves my side.

If she doesn't then why would I kill her?"

With that said, his lips curved into a faint smile.

Molly felt a chill down her back after listening to Eaton's words.

The man was way too terrifying.

Molly could tell that the reason why Eaton did that was to make sure she didn't do anything on her side.

That was why he gave Kara another Venomous Insect without caring if she would die or not.

Molly realized that at that moment, there was no point in trying anything else.

Even if she was able to take Kara away, Eaton would still use the Venomous Insect to torture Kara.

If anything happened to Kara, it would mean that there was nothing Molly could do about the Venomous Insect inside Sean's body.

Therefore, there was nothing Molly could do unless Mr. Ballard was able to develop the cure.
