

Triplets On SM 1551

Chapter 1551-Molly pulled herself together and went down to making medicine with Mr.

Ballard.

At the same time, Blackrose and the others came back.

They had turned the research base upside down and then managed to escape.

As soon as they came out, they rushed to the basement nonstop and reported the situation to Sean, "Master, we destroyed several labs of the base."

Looking at their leisurely status, Sean didn't hide the approval in his eyes, and said, "Thank you for your hard work. Take a good rest later."

"Master, we're not tired and we can do a lot more." Blackrose brushed her somewhat messy hair and said with a charming smile.

They all wanted to destroy the entire base if they could.

Seeing her thoughts, Sean smiled, "Don't worry. There will be opportunities for you to take action in the future."

Blackrose smiled, "Then well be waiting for your orders, Master."

They didn't stay long and left soon.

Molly didn't know that Blackrose and the others had been there because she had been concentrating on the medicine. Whenever she thought that the medicine was to save Sean, she would not allow her nerves to relax in the slightest.

She didn't stop working until Sean came to see her at night.

"Molly, go back and rest. I'll do the rest."

Mr. Ballard saw Molly's tired face, and sighed softly, feeling very distressed.

Molly rubbed her temples, and nodded, "Thank you, Mr. Ballard."

"You're welcome. Hurry back with Sean." Mr. Ballard pretended to be impatient and waved his hand.

"Let's go." Sean left with his arm around her.

On the way back, Molly learned from Sean that Blackrose and the others had returned.

"They're finally back." She breathed a long sigh of relief.

"I said they'd be fine." Seeing her relieved expression, Sean smiled dotingly.

As soon as they got home and entered the house, the three children who had been playing in the living room rushed over immediately, "Daddy, Mommy."

Molly bent down, touched their little faces respectively, and asked with a gentle smile, "Have you behaved at home?"

"Yes, we have." The three children nodded hurriedly.

The children hadn't seen Molly all afternoon, so they were clingy to her all night. Sean frowned fiercely. Was he shooting himself in the foot?

She had to accompany the three children. How could she have time to accompany him?’ No!

He would certainly let the children sleep by themselves at night!

They couldn’t occupy his wife again!

At dinner time, Selon and Alkaid came. Molly greeted them and asked them to sit down and have dinner together, talking about things while eating.

After taking his seat, Selon didn’t pick up his fork immediately, but looked at Sean and said, “I’m afraid the whole island will be under lockdown later, and the Martial Art Union may send people over.”

Hearing this, Molly frowned, “Is it because of those research rooms?”

“Yes.” Selon nodded, “Those are not simple labs. There were some core projects ongoing in these labs. The Martial Art Union attaches great importance to it.”

Molly stuck out her tongue, “Blackrose and the others knew how to choose!”

There were so many research rooms in the entire research base, but a few of the most important ones had been destroyed.

Sean seemed to have expected it, and said lightly, “Selon, please keep an eye on it. If you have any news, please let me know as soon as possible.”

Chapter 1552-“No problem.” Selon nodded.

Then, Sean turned his head and told Alkaid, “Stay close to Mr. Shepard and protect him.”

Alkaid was eating. When she heard this, she frowned, “No.”

She rejected quite flatly.

Molly looked at her in surprise, wondering if she had heard it wrong.

Alkaid refused Sean's order?!

Even Sean raised his eyebrows.

This was the first time Alkaid had disobeyed his orders.

Alkaid swallowed the food in her mouth, glared at Selon, and snorted heavily, "This man tricked me into jumping into a garbage dump. I won't do it unless he also jumps once."

Molly couldn't help laughing, "Haven't you forgiven him yet?"

Selon was startled and then laughed out loud.

This girl was so vindictive.

"Then you follow him and let him jump for you anytime," Sean said calmly.

After Alkaid heard this, her eyes lit up, "That's right. Why didn't I think of that? Master, I will follow him closely."

Revenge is a dish best served cold!

There would always be a chance to let Selon jump into a garbage dump.

Thinking of this, Alkaid felt much better. Her appetite improved, and she ate two plates of food in one go.

After dinner, she obediently followed Selon and left.

Molly played with the three children for a few hours and then took them to take a bath.

At first, the children wanted to sleep with her, but Sean stopped them.

‘Don’t you want younger siblings?’ He asked seriously.

When Ben heard this, he was stunned, and then nodded, “I do... But Daddy, you said this a long time ago. Why haven’t we had any younger siblings yet? Daddy, your efficiency is too low.”

Sean choked.

Hearing Ben’s complaint, Sean really wanted to give her son a flick on the forehead.

Alex was an observant and smart boy. Fearing that Ben would be in ‘danger’, he quickly turned to Ben and said, ‘Let’s listen to Daddy and sleep by ourselves tonight. Our siblings can’t be created in a short time. I hear it will take a year. It took Mommy a year to give birth to us before.’

“Is that so? Well...okay.” The other children reluctantly compromised.

Seeing this scene, Molly chuckled for a long time. She watched the three children fall asleep and then went back to her room.

When she walked in, Sean had already taken a shower and was sitting on the bedside looking at his phone.

When he saw her coming, he waved to her.

Molly walked over obediently.

As soon as she got closer, he grabbed her wrist and she lost her balance.

When Molly reacted, she found him on top of her.

Her fair face was slightly flushed, and she muttered, "What are you doing?"

"Ben complained about my low efficiency, and I want to improve it..." While talking, Sean lowered his head and kissed her cheek.

It was a very light kiss.

"It's itchy!" Molly shrank her neck, a little amused, "Are you angry with your son?"

"Even my son can't complain about such a thing." Putting his hands beside her face, Sean stared at her deeply. His eyes were as deep as a whirlpool as if he wanted to suck her in.

A bright smile bloomed on Molly's face. She raised her arms, wrapped them around his neck, and leaned forward to kiss his lips.

"Okay, in order not to make you embarrassed in front of the children, then... let's work hard."

In her sweet voice, there was a hint of softness. Sean blinked and directly lowered his head to kiss her lips.

Molly put her arms around his back and let him take her.

The air in the room was turning hot.

After a long while, everything finally calmed down.

Molly snuggled into Sean's arms. Thinking about Selon's words at dinner, she couldn't help asking worriedly, "If the Martial Art Union has more people in this operation, it will be even more difficult for us to leave the island."

"Don't worry." Sean kissed her on the forehead, and continued, "They won't be able to come. The Martial Art Union built this research base here definitely because they were worried that the Grandset would know."

Chapter 1553-"Why do you say that?" Molly asked, puzzled.

Sean paused and realized he hadn't yet had a good chat with her about Unbounded Land.

He immediately said, "The Grandset and the Martial Art Union have checked and balanced each other in the Unbounded Land, and we have our own rules and laws there. Thermal weapons and things that endanger people's lives are not allowed! The Martial Art Union secretly built a base and has been developing harmful things. If the word gets out, the Martial Art Union will get into trouble! So, they don't want the Grandset to know about it!"

"I see." Molly suddenly realized what was going on.

Sean's eyes darkened. He tightened his grip on her waist and continued, "Don't worry. I will arrange everything for this matter. You just need to do what you should do, okay?"

Molly nodded softly.

With him around, she felt at ease.

Then, she found a comfortable position in his arms, hugged his waist, and fell asleep.

The next morning, when Molly woke up and opened her eyes, she didn't see Sean. She thought that he had already gotten up and gone downstairs.

Without thinking too much, she got out of bed and went straight to the bathroom.

When she walked to the door, she immediately saw Sean standing in front of the mirror.

The pajamas he was wearing were loose, and there was a mass of blood streaks spreading on his chest.

Molly's face turned grim, and she immediately went to check...

Ten minutes later, her pale face turned even whiter.

When Sean had a Love Curse attack before, the blood streaks would soon subside.

But this time was different.

The blood streaks were fixed directly around the heart.

It seemed that it was because the Love Curse invaded his heart!

When Molly realized this, her heart tightened, and she couldn't breathe.

She stared at the blood streaks for a while, slowly raised her head with a stiff neck, and met his dark eyes. Her throat felt a little tight, and she said with difficulty, "How are you feeling ... about me now?"

For a while, she couldn't ask any more questions. She bit her lower lip, and tried to hold back her tears. Sean lowered his eyes. He could see her expression fully and knew clearly what she was worried about.

So, he put on his clothes, hugged her, kissed her forehead, and comforted her softly, "It's okay. As I said, I wouldn't be affected."

Molly breathed a sigh of relief, but she still felt a little worried.

When she thought that he would look at her as if she were a stranger and look at Kara with affectionate eyes one day, she felt she would probably have a breakdown.

Just thinking of that scene made her suffocate.

During breakfast, Molly had no appetite because of this incident.

The three children found that something was wrong, and they all asked with concern.

"Mommy, what's wrong with you?"

"Are you not feeling well?" "Or you don't like today's breakfast?"

Facing the concerns of the three children, Molly just pulled herself together and smiled at them, "I'm fine. Maybe I didn't sleep well last night."

The three children didn't suspect anything and just told Molly to take a good rest and not to put too much pressure on herself. Then they obediently ate their breakfast. Sean didn't say anything. He gently took her hand and gave it a reassuring squeeze.

But...how could she not think about it? After breakfast, Molly went to the underground research base with a heavy heart.

Mr. Ballard could tell at a glance that she was in a bad mood, and he couldn't help but frown, "Are you worried about Sean again?"

Molly didn't hide anything and told him the truth about Sean's situation.

Chapter 1554-Okay.”

In order not to affect Sean's health, she had arranged for someone to look after Kara, providing her with nice food and drink.

She simply hoped that Kara could recover soon.

In the following days, she focused on drug development. The project was on track, and Mr. Ballard was always around, so the whole research went smoothly.

In the afternoon, Alioth anxiously came to the underground base to meet Sean.

“Master, Eaton has slipped away,” he reported the shocking news.

He stood at the desk, head down. He felt that the moment his master heard the news, the room temperature seemed to drop sharply.

His forehead was covered with cold sweat, and his back was also wet.

Back then, his master had asked him to watch Eaton, saying repeatedly that he must keep a close eye, but the man had slipped away.

Of course, he was responsible for the huge mistake he made.

“How did he slip away?” Sean asked in fury.

He stared at Alioth, his imposing manner shown on his handsome face.

Alioth reported truthfully, "When we infiltrated the base a few days ago, I ordered my men to watch Eaton. But they didn't keep a close eye, and he sneaked away."

Sean narrowed his dissatisfied eyes and scolded sharply, "Are you justifying your neglect of duty?"

"I dare not!" Alioth immediately denied it. "Master, this is my fault. I'm willing to accept any punishment."

Eaton's escape would be a hidden danger to their following plan.

If they couldn't find him in time, they would have trouble!

So Sean said coldly, "Go receive your punishment when you return to the Grandset! But your top priority now is to find Eaton."

"Yes."

"Remember, never let him come into contact with anyone at the base. Keep a close eye on all those who have good relationships with him. Got it?"

Alioth replied with trepidation, "Yes, Master. Rest assured. I will find him and bring him back!"

After that, he turned around and quickly left.

Sean tightened up his handsome face, unhappy.

When he got home that evening, Molly, who could tell that something was bothering him, asked him what was going on.

Sean didn't hide anything from her.

Molly was stunned after hearing that.

Eaton had slipped away?!

Not wanting her to worry too much, Sean said, "We have people looking for him.

I believe we'll find him soon."

Molly believed what he said, but couldn't shake off the feeling of unease.

She was so afraid of Eaton's trouble-making ability.

What if he escaped and plotted something against them in secret?

She didn't dare to think further.

Sean came over and hugged her, comforting her softly," Don't be afraid. I'm alive. He'll be caught."

As he comforted her, he took her back to their room.

"Sean, promise me, you will find him!" Molly held his hand and pleaded urgently.

"Yes, I will. Don't think too much. Sleep now."

Sean pecked her on the lips and then watched her close her eyes. After a while, when he heard her breathing become steady, he finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Looking at her peaceful sleeping face, his eyes turned gloomy at the thought of the escape of Eaton.

Chapter 1555-The next morning, Sean received a call from Tony.

“Sir, martial law has begun on the island. The research base said it would give the doctors a vacation, but it goes back on its word now. Those families couldn’t accept it and made a scene. Some were beaten and almost lost their lives, and some were detained.”

The loudspeaker was on, so Molly could hear Tony from the side. She knitted her thin, beautiful brows subconsciously.

Although Selon had come and reminded her in advance, she had never expected it to happen so soon.

And the incident was so serious. How was Lesley doing now?

“Keep watching. Report to me anytime if there are any updates,” Sean said to Tony at the other end of the line.

Then he hung up, came to Molly, and asked softly, “Worrying about Lesley?”

Her face was full of worries, so it was easy to see through her thoughts.

“Yes.”

Molly nodded and said, “Lesley has been outside the base these days. After something so serious happened, I’m wondering if she was affected.”

Lesley finally reunited with Logan. Nothing should happen to them!

Sean held her gently in his arms. “Then let’s go there after breakfast.”

"Can we?" Molly looked up at him.

"Of course, we can."

Sean kissed her hair and said, "Don't think too much. We should believe Lesley is smart. She won't put herself in danger."

After his comfort, Molly became more or less relieved. But if she couldn't see with her own eyes that Lesley was safe and sound, she wouldn't be fully relieved.

After breakfast, they went out together.

Lesley had been sleeping at the coffee shop in recent days, and she would rise early to open the door. When she saw Sean and Molly come in, she was so surprised.

"Why did you come so early?"

"Lesley."

Molly scuttled over and held her arms, examining her from head to toe and asking, "Are you all right?"

"What?"

Lesley was a little confused, looking with perplexity at Sean walking over.

"She's worrying about you because of what happened at the base," Sean explained tersely.

Seeing the light, Lesley could not help smiling, "Don't worry, Molly. I'm perfectly fine."

Molly was finally relieved. "That's great."

Knowing Molly was worrying about her, Lesley felt her heart warm. She went up and hugged her.

Then she spoke of the details of the incident.

“When the families were making a scene, I was present. But I left when I saw things were going wrong.”

“Now, not to mention the base, the whole island is unsafe.” Molly frowned and said, “So, don’t go there anymore in the future.”

Lesley nodded with a smile, “Okay, I see. I won’t go.”

After confirming that Lesley was all right, Molly soon left with Sean.

But she was still a little worried on the way back.

Sean held her hand and asked softly, “Still thinking about Lesley’s matter?”

Molly turned her head, looking into his black eyes. She bit her lips and asked, “Do you think the base will suspect Lesley in the future?”

After all, the fuse of this disturbance was Logan jumping into the sea.

She was afraid that the base would realize it was a trick.

Sean stroked her head gently and smiled, “Don’t worry. I’ll send men to protect Lesley. She’ll be fine.”

Of course, she believed he would make Lesley perfectly safe, but she was somehow a little worried.

She did feel something would happen.

Chapter 1556-On the way back, Sean felt a faint sting in his chest. Although it was not serious, it felt a little uncomfortable.

Walking in front, Molly didn't notice his condition.

Soon he suppressed the pain and returned to normal, moving on with her.

Later today, he sent Molly to the research laboratory and returned home.

Once he was home, he went straight to the bathroom. He faced the mirror and unbuttoned his shirt. As soon as he tore it open, he saw that the spider veins on his chest were larger. Immediately, his handsome face sank.

Meanwhile, Molly was now on her drug research, not knowing his condition.

Only when it was afternoon did she spare some time to visit Kara.

Someone was attending to her, and Mr. Ballard was also helping to treat her, so Kara's condition had improved a lot in the past few days.

As soon as she saw her come in, Kara became agitated. She pointed at her nose and shouted, "Don't you feel ashamed of coming here, Molly? Where's Mr.

Anderson? Give him back to me!' Such words were no longer hurtful to Molly.

Kara's shout was loud, proving that her condition had improved a lot.

Molly told the nurse to give Kara more thorough health care and report anything happening here to her in time.

Then she left without looking back, leaving Kara shouting in the room.

Mr. Ballard came to the research lab at night.

“Molly, stop what you are doing. I have something to tell you. If Molly stopped her work and walked to him. “What’s up, Mr. Ballard?”

“I have a new plan to remove the Venomous Insect.”

Molly immediately became spirited. She asked anxiously, “What plan?”

Then Mr. Ballard told Molly about the plan in great detail.

After hearing that, Molly frowned and asked, “Can it work?”

“Yes, it can, but it’s a little dangerous, so I want you to help with another experiment.”

“No problem.”

This was for Sean, so Molly took everything seriously. Soon she and Mr. Ballard began doing the experiment.

Then she forgot about the time.

Only when Sean came to visit her did she realize it was already a few minutes past 11 p.m.

Now the experiment was almost over, with only the result to come out tomorrow.

“Go back with Sean,” Mr. Ballard said.

Molly agreed and nodded, leaving with Sean.

When they walked past Kara’s ward, the latter saw Sean. Instantly she rushed up to the window and widened her eyes, staring at Sean.

“Mr. Anderson, it’s me! Take me out of here!”

Molly frowned and quickly left with Sean.

She had forgotten that Kara’s ward was beside the lab. Of course, Kara would see Sean when they left.

She had been trying hard not to let Kara see Sean, but her plan had a loophole.

She was lost in thought, unaware that Sean knitted his brows slightly.

He ignored Kara, but apparently, his heart had just felt uncomfortable again.

Faintly...

Back home, Molly went to see the three kids, and Sean went straight to their room to shower. When he took off his clothes, he found the spider veins were even a little larger.

Sean knitted his dashing brows unconsciously.

What was going on?

Why were they suddenly spreading faster?

He remembered that when he felt his heart uncomfortable in the underground base, Kara was calling to him.

Were... they expanding because he was too close to Kara?

Chapter 1557-Sean couldn't think it through. Now, what he could only do was put it aside and shower first.

As soon as he finished his shower and came out, Molly returned from the children's room.

Sean's hair was wet, water dripping down.

As he dried his hair with a towel, he asked with a smile, "Are they all asleep?"

"Yes!" Molly answered smilingly.

The kids were always well-behaved. She didn't have to worry about their sleep and eating at all.

Sean nodded, put the towel around his neck, and said, "Go take a hot shower. I will help you dry your hair."

Molly smiled and readily agreed.

Soon she went to the bathroom to shower and wash her hair.

When she came out, Sean's hair was already dry. Now he was waiting for her on the sofa.

She came to him and sat on the rug, letting him dry her hair while reading a book at her leisure.

Sensing the dryer's warm air and Sean's gentle movements, she thought, 'If only time could stay this way forever!' But after less than ten minutes, this mood disappeared completely!

After drying her hair, Sean told her about his health condition.

He had promised her that he would never hide anything from her.

The spider veins were now spreading faster, which was definitely a bad sign.

If she only learned it when his condition flared up, she would probably get angry and worried.

In fact, she already looked bad now!

Seeing that the blood streaks on Sean's chest were twice as large, Molly looked intensely worried.

She raised her hand nervously, pressing his chest, and asked, "Does it hurt?"

How do you feel?"

Sean shook his head and said, "It doesn't. As for how I feel..."

He said with listless eyes, "Want to hear the truth?"

"Yes, of course!"

So anxious, Molly gave him a feigned glare.

Sean smiled, held her hand that was moving on his chest, and said, "I feel... if you keep caressing, I might not control myself, Mrs. Anderson."

Molly was stunned, looking at him in confusion.

Sean's eyes were profound, brimming with deep emotions and gentleness.

"Although they are spreading, I'm not feeling so uncomfortable or anything. I just know... I love you as always. It Then he leaned over and kissed Molly's lips, his movements so gentle and romantic.

Molly was dazed, letting him kiss her.

Then she came back to her senses, her panic and uneasiness gone.

Her eyes instantly turned red. She put her arm around his neck and began kissing him back.

They were passionate, which was something rare.

Soon they couldn't restrain themselves from their emotions.

Sean picked Molly up and put her on the sofa, lying on top of her.

Deep in her sensual feelings, Molly felt like she was in paradise.

In the blink of an eye, everything quieted down again in the night.

Molly was lying in Sean's arms, sleepless.

Seeing that her eyes were wide open, Sean chuckled, kissed her forehead, and coaxed, "Stop looking. Even if you keep looking, these things won't disappear now. Aren't you going to sleep tonight?"

“How could I fall asleep? ... I’m afraid they will be larger tomorrow when I wake up,” Molly frowned and muttered.

But she knew that even if she kept staring at them, they wouldn’t disappear.

She could only look up and comfort Sean, “Wait a little more while... We can take action in a few days. Mr. Ballard and I are fully prepared. Please wait for us for a little while, okay?”

Chapter 1558-Seeing that, Sean sighed unconsciously.

He thought she would be less worried after sex, but that seemed useless.

In this case, they should do it a few more times.

“Looks like you aren’t going to sleep. Then let’s stay up throughout the night, okay? I’ll try to imprint your smell in my mind. Even if the Venomous Insect causes trouble, I won’t forget you.”

After that, Sean kissed Molly again.

Before she realized what was going on, she was kissed deeply.

But she didn’t refuse him!

If he could remember her forever in this way, then she would be glad to quit sleeping!

The intense heat wave lasted until almost dawn. In the end, Molly was too tired to keep up and fell asleep.

Seeing that she was finally quiet, Sean was relieved. Then he held her in his arms, falling asleep.

Molly didn't wake up until noon the next day.

She sat up, feeling sore from head to toe.

She gasped gently and massaged her back, a little regretful.

If she had known this result, she wouldn't agree to Sean's absurd proposal!

Why was he so tireless?

In the end, she could only beg him to stop.

Though exhausted, she went to wash up. After that, she finally went downstairs.

Now Sean and the three kids were busy with something on the laptop on the sofa.

Seeing her come downstairs, Sean asked, "You're up?"

Then the three kids greeted her.

"Good noon, mommy."

"We made lunch for you, mommy!"

"The dishes are your favorites!"

After hearing the four's greetings, Molly felt her heart warm.

She nodded with a smile, then glanced at their laptop screen, and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Sean didn't answer, but simply glimpsed Alex and Ben beside him.

Alex immediately answered, "We're running the program. I asked Dark for help the other day. Now we're checking if there're any bugs."

"Oh?" Molly raised her brows and said with disapproval, "Is Dark still alive?"

Alex seemed to be gagged by something, but then said, "Mommy, although he likes to play disappearing all year round, he has been alive and well indeed..."

Molly snorted, "Is it? If you didn't mention his name, I almost forgot when I heard it last time."

Since she returned home from abroad, the person had never contacted her.

He seemed to have evaporated!

If not for her son suddenly mentioning him, she almost forgot him.

When Molly was taunting him, an alluring voice suddenly came out of the working laptop.

"Babe, are you missing me? What a resentful tone! I just let you stay alone for a while. I didn't do anything else, did I? Don't worry. In this world, apart from codes, I love you the most."

Before Molly could make a reply, Sean had narrowed his eyes.

Apparently, this was also the first time he had heard this voice.

Alex, Ben, and Claudia didn't expect that the man was watching them at the other end of the network.

Alex warned in a childish tone, 'Dark, if you want to live longer, I suggest you watch your mouth.'

"You either don't show up or risk your neck to talk when you appear. Master Dark, I think you'd better keep missing..."

"If my Daddy and Mommy have a marriage crisis, you'll be held responsible!"

After hearing the three kids' comments, Dark sneered, "Are you talking about Sean Anderson? I'm not afraid of him, am I? Taking the chance when I was isolating myself to cultivate and was careless, he took my babe away from me.

I haven't settled accounts with him yet! And look at you three! I haven't seen you for just a while, but you turn your backs on me, eh?"

Chapter 1559-Oh no! Does Mr. Dark think things aren't complicated enough yet?' The three children all turned to look at Sean.

Sean squinted his eyes. His handsome face was calmer than ever. There was only something flashing vaguely in his eyes.

"How do you want to settle the scores?" he said slowly. His voice was indifferent. "She's mine. You're here just in time. I want to settle the scores of you calling my wife babe!"

Dark, who was on the other end of the terminal, didn't expect Sean to be present as well, but when he remembered that it was Sean who had taken his babe away from him, he snorted. "Alright then! I'm not scared of you!"

With that said, the call ended.

The three children looked at each other and didn't know what to do.

Molly didn't know whether to laugh or cry. She felt that the two men were very childish. One really dared to make a threat, and the other really believed him.

She just wondered if Sean was really mad.

At that moment, the three children ran up to Sean and said," Daddy, Mr. Dark can be annoying at times, don't take his words to heart."

Sean looked at the three cute faces and didn't say anything. He just nodded slightly.

It was as if he didn't really care.

Seeing this, Molly breathed a sigh of relief inwardly. She thought Sean was going to be mad, but she seemed to be overthinking things.

Therefore, she didn't take this matter to heart either. She then turned and went for lunch.

After lunch, Molly went upstairs to pack her things and was about to head to the research laboratory.

"Let me give you a lift, babe."

Sean stood up and placed the computer on the table.

When Molly heard the word "babe", she nearly slipped and fell. She looked at Sean and wanted to laugh. She moved her lips and wanted to ask if there was anything wrong.

However, she swallowed the words that she was about to say.

She realized that Sean just pretended not to care, but was actually very jealous.

Molly felt that Sean feeling jealous was actually very cute.

“Alright,” she said with a smile.

Sean still kept a straight face as he took her back and held her hand as they walked outside.

On the way to the research laboratory, Sean suddenly asked, “What’s the relationship between you and that Dark guy?”

Molly was a little taken aback. “Nothing special.”

However, this answer was clearly not something Sean was satisfied with, so he furrowed his brows.

After all, he had heard Dark call Molly “babe” with his own ears. This was clearly not something she could explain with the words “nothing special”.

Therefore, Molly added, “He taught Alex about hacking and he’s also a top hacker as well.”

“A top hacker?”

Sean was a little surprised. “How come I’ve never heard of him?”

He knew a lot of top hackers as well, but he had never heard of the name “Dark”.

“Dark likes to keep a low profile,” explained Molly.

‘A low profile?’ Sean cocked his brows. “So low profiled as to call you ‘babe’ He emphasized the word “babe”.

Molly couldn't help but smile. She sniffed and teased, "Why do I feel that someone's jealous?"

However, she still explained seriously, "The nickname 'babe' was something that Dark had been calling me since we first met. He had never changed the nickname he addresses me by."

Seeing that Sean was still frowning, Molly held his hand to coax him. "Don't be mad. I'll tell him not to use this nickname anymore."

'You think he's going to change the way he addresses you?' wondered Sean. 'I don't think so!' With that thought in mind, Sean pursed his lips and an unhappy expression appeared on his face.

If he had the chance to see Dark in person, he would definitely make him change the way he called Molly. He would never let him call Molly "babe" ever again!

Chapter 1560-Sean drove Molly to the research laboratory and then went straight home. This could avoid bumping into Kara.

He was worried that if he came too close to Kara, the blood streaks on his chest would spread again.

On the other side, as soon as Molly saw Mr. Ballard, she immediately told him about Sean's situation.

'Mr. Ballard, the blood streaks on Sean's chest are spreading again.'

After saying that, Molly's face became very serious.

Mr. Ballard patted her shoulder to coax her. "When the Venomous Insect enters the heart, the process will speed up. The spreading of the blood streaks is normal. All we can do now is wait." He then said after a short pause, "We have to wait until Kara recovers so that she can withstand the treatment before we can do anything."

"I know, Mr. Ballard. It's just that..."

Molly bit her lip. Her brows were tightly knitted together.

She knew that Mr. Ballard had a point, but deep down, she still felt desperate.

Truthfully speaking, the longer that the Venomous Insect was inside Sean's body, the more she would feel worried.

Mr. Ballard understood what Molly was going through. However, if she kept on being so worried, he was afraid that it would delay the research progress.

Therefore, Mr. Ballard changed the subject. "By the way, Logan did some experiments on the Venomous Insect that we took out of Kara's body last time.

Do you want to see the data?"

The change of subject was so fast that Molly didn't have time to react.

Seeing that she was in a daze, Mr. Ballard let out a helpless smile. "I've heard Logan say that you're interested in Venomous Insects as well. That's why I mentioned this to you."

Molly knew why Mr. Ballard changed the subject, so she didn't refuse his kindness.

She calmed herself down and smiled. "Alright, let's go take a look."

The two of them talked as they headed towards Logan's research lab.

As soon as they arrived at the door, they heard a shriek from Edmund. This startled them.

Then, they heard Edmund screaming. "What the fuck? Don't let me hold this!"

Mr. Ballard came back to his senses and shook his head with a smile. "Edmund isn't like a doctor at all. I can't believe he's scared of bugs."

Molly smiled but didn't say anything. She then walked into the research lab.

Logan stood in front of the workbench and stared at the Venomous Insect on the petri dish.

Edmund, who was beside him, looked as if he was in pain and his facial features were all contorted. "It's still disgusting even if it's got smaller."

As he said those words, he quickly backed off and put some distance between himself and the Venomous Insect.

He had never expected to make a truce with a Venomous Insect.

Logan was already used to this, but he still couldn't help but tease, "Edmund, are you sure you're a doctor? You should have seen a lot of bugs by now, right?"

"How... how can that thing be the same?" Edmund looked at the Venomous Insect, which was wriggling and frowned in disgust. "This is a Venomous Insect.

It's disgusting as it is, alright?"

"If you're going to be such a pussy, then I'd advise you exit the medical industry."

Logan's words echoed in the research lab. Edmund was definitely not going to accept the suggestion and immediately retorted. "Are you wanting the medical industry to lose a good doctor like me?"

In order to prove himself, Edmund walked towards the Venomous Insect. He forced himself not to feel disgusted.

Molly chuckled at those words. She walked in and took a look. Logan was torturing the Venomous Insect.

Seeing that Molly walked over, Edmund asked in surprise, "How come you have the time to come over? Shouldn't you be helping Mr. Ballard to make the antidote?"

"You guys have some research results, don't you? So I thought I'd bring Molly over to take a look," Mr. Ballard explained.

Edmund nodded and didn't say anything else
