

105 CHAPTER 105

Niyol's POV 1

Even though I was the one teasing, I was the one even in more pain, because there was nothing I wanted more than to just thrust into her, but then I was holding myself back and it felt like my member was going to rip my pants and fling up in her face.

Tonight, I did not want to rush anything. I wanted her to savor every moment, to be filled with the desire that I had for her and to express it in the way only I could, so when I asked her that question it took every fiber of self-control to not just go into her at the moment.

It had just come off my head and slipped right through my lips without me even realizing it and there was no way I could take it back.

Our eyes met and her face was so red, even more than usual which was really saying something; and I couldn't help but admire how cute she looked that way and my member ached more.

Even when she wasn't doing anything, but just looking at me, it was enough to drive me to the borders of my sanity at full speed. Even so, I strengthened my steel resolve.

I wanted her to be truly comfortable with me so that her heart wouldn't jump to her throat's anytime I told her that I wanted us to be intimate and went ahead with it.

I wanted to see her wild side to see her own desire control her, it was as if I was really out to torture myself tonight since I was having all of these thoughts while there was nothing I could do at the moment than to add to the pain that I was feeling downstairs.

As I was thinking about this I suddenly heard her voice.

"Niyol,"

I realized that she had actually been calling me for a while, but because her voice was so low, almost as low as a whisper and I was so buried in my thoughts I had not caught it before. I smiled looking down at her.

"Yes? I'm sorry I asked you a silly question you can forget about-"

"I want.. you.. to.. make love to me." she stuttered.

And that was it for me, before I knew it I was thrusting it to her as if I was possessed, all the pressure that had built up from all the teasing had finally gotten to my head.

I was not able to hold myself back anymore. I picked her up as I was still thrusting and then locked my lips with hers, this time my kisses were not soft and tender, but was hot and passionate.

My tongue was going deeper and deeper into her mouth and tangling and dancing with it, as my member continue to slam against her butt.

She moaned into the kiss and I thought I was going to go crazy as her insides massaged my member stroking everything, every vein and every bump on it till I could no longer hold back anymore, and then I leaned back finally breaking the kiss so that we could come out for air.

"Koko I'm about to cum.. ugh... Let's cum together!"

Then my lips went down over to her nipple and began to suck like a newborn baby that needed it for sustenance all the while never stopping in my thrusting as I felt the pressure building up into a mountain.

Before I knew it, it was as if my legs were no longer touching the floor as I reached my climax and then that also triggered her own and both of us came together and it seemed like it would never stop.

We were both breathing heavily. Our love making was so intense that my member was still rock hard. And as we were lying down on the bed recovering ourselves, she asked with a shy expression pointing to my member.

"S-shouldn't we take care of that?"

I smiled, almost taking the bait, but I shook my head.

Tomorrow was going to be a Scarlet's and Henry's trial and if we both tired of ourselves tonight, then we would not be able to function properly tomorrow.

"Koko, we have some business to take care of tomorrow so when we are done with it, we will get back to this..."

I said to her as she pulled across my chest and then I could feel her smile against my warm and broad chest.

A trial in the Kingdom was usually headed by me, of course, and then I had the support of the Elder council.

Only a few people were allowed in the trial hall.

Koko had asked me to make sure that the number of commoners that were going to be there should be a lot.

The whole point of this trial was actually just to build her image as to how she would act like a queen and what would happen to anyone else who dared to defy her.

I liked how she was not cowering in fear of the people that had hurt her like before, but was standing firm against them and warning anyone who would try anything like that.

Normally the trial was supposed to be headed by the Alpha King and the Luna Queen, but since she had not been officially crowned as Luna Queen, she could not sit by my side yet, she would have her own spot, but it was going to be somewhere among the audience and not on the judging table.

I allowed her to sleep, but then instructed her to wake up as soon as possible so that she would begin to get ready to see how everything was going to go down.

Before the trial could even begin, Henry's father came again of course, I expected him to attend to see the full downfall of his son. What I had not expected was that he would still be shamelessly begging me but in a more irritating way.

"Your majesty, please I want you to have mercy on my son... You have already taken everything from me.. I have nothing left.. at least let me have my son.. please, that's all I ask for Alpha King Niyol...!"

"Well then would you prefer if I also take your life too? Then again I'm afraid that your son will still have to face trial..."

The former Alpha looked at me, his face had gone completely pale and I let out a sarcastic smile.

"Is there anything else that you want to offer me as a bribe or is that all?"

I said to him crossing my legs on my throne and he immediately shook his head.

At that moment Chester came over to me walking into my throne room and telling me that the hall had been prepared for the trial.

I looked at the former Alpha, not only was he going to lose his son, but also he had lost his position as an alpha, to become a mere commoner.

I turned to Chester and said.

"Well, let the trial begin..."
