

Two Trillion 2391

Chapter 2391 - A Fruitful Harvest (Part 3)

For now, it's not certain.

However, given the scale of "Green Sky," the astonishing profits generated this way, if given to a small group of people, is enough to make them take risks.

"It seems that this trip was not in vain," Bai Xiaosheng couldn't help but think to himself.

Since it's a group business, if there really is a problem, then it should be his responsibility.

Just as Bai Xiaosheng was thinking, the office door was pushed open.

The General Manager of "Green Sky," old Mr. John, returned. Seeing no one on the sofa, Vice Mayor Samba and Bai Xiaosheng were appreciating porcelain and looking at the paintings on the wall, respectively. He immediately smiled and said, "Distinguished guests, I've arranged everything on my side. Shall I take you around?"

Bai Xiaosheng and Vice Mayor Samba turned around, smiling, and responded in succession, "Sure." "Great!"

"Green Sky" currently owns an entire headquarters building here, with business planning and advertising design based here, as well as some management personnel responsible for factories and production lines working in this location.

This vast and comprehensive company has plenty to see.

Bai Xiaosheng, Vice Mayor Samba, along with old Mr. John, went on a tour, followed by Lin Weiwei, Lei Ying, and Mr. Samba's entourage.

Vice President Zack, who hadn't been able to join them in the office, once again did not follow. Instead, he was sent by old Mr. John to prepare the lunch banquet.

However, preparing a luncheon to ensure the distinguished guests eat and drink well is also an important task. At noon, being able to accompany them at the dining table, Vice President Zack was happy to take on this assignment.

The group toured the Green Sky Building together.

At first, old Mr. John played a trick, showing them non-core businesses, thinking he could pass the time and invite the two guests to an early lunch, then see them off.

As a result, without Bai Xiaosheng having to speak, Vice Mayor Samba questioned and said he wanted to see the core businesses referenced by "Green Sky" in their communication with the city government.

Old Mr. John, left with no choice, had to show them a bit more.

Of course, for the rest, old Mr. John only said they were being reorganized and there's not much to see.

Vice Mayor Samba, however, didn't press further.

Finally, old Mr. John accompanied them until noon and happily sent them off to lunch.

The sumptuous meal with local flavor left everyone quite satisfied.

After the meal, Bai Xiaosheng and Vice Mayor Samba finally bid farewell. Old Mr. John expressed some reluctance and strongly invited the two to visit again next time, full of sentiment.

Vice Mayor Samba once again arranged the transportation, even with the same car, same driver, to send Bai Xiaosheng and the others back to Banjiao City.

On the way.

"Xiaosheng, what did you discuss with Mr. John this time? Did you gain anything?" Lin Weiwei couldn't help but ask Bai Xiaosheng in Huaxia language.

The driver couldn't understand at all, so there was naturally nothing to worry about.

"Gains?" Bai Xiaosheng smiled, "Of course there are, and they aren't small!"

This smile was unmistakable to Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying, who turned their heads from the front seat. In the past, whenever Bai Xiaosheng had found his "prey" as an Affairs Officer or Senior Affairs Officer, it was always this smile.

"That Mr. John and that Green Sky... there's really an issue!" Even though Lin Weiwei knew the driver didn't understand the Huaxia language, she couldn't help but glance at his back and, lowering her voice, spoke to Bai Xiaosheng with some excitement.

Unexpectedly, this visit could also earn some group performance.

After all, Bai Xiaosheng is the second-in-command of Zhenbei Group's Headquarters Inspection Department. Taking an interest in this kind of matter is part of his job.

"It's not just a simple matter of a single Green Sky. Have you forgotten someone else, Weiwei?" Bai Xiaosheng smiled at Lin Weiwei, "Think about it, haven't you overlooked a... big fish!"

Chapter 2392 - My Troubles Are Gone

Bai Xiaosheng initially proposed a visit to "Green Sky" company, believing that the company might have some issues. This visit confirmed his judgment, which was a big gain.

Not only that, Bai Xiaosheng mentioned another "big fish" appearing, which surprised Lin Weiwei and even Lei Ying.

"What other 'big fish'?" Lin Weiwei exchanged a glance with Lei Ying, asking in confusion.

Bai Xiaosheng didn't beat around the bush and whispered to the two of them, "Don't you think there's something off about Miss Jenny?"

Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying looked at each other in dismay.

She indeed appeared to be a femme fatale, vindictive and ruthless, but to say there were other issues...

That would still connect her to them and Green Sky...

"Is it because she's also from the group?" Lin Weiwei recalled the moment in the lobby when Jenny stifled Mr. Samba's secretary, and suddenly, a realization dawned on her.

"It's not a problem that she's from the group; the key is, who sent her!" Lei Ying also realized, speaking more directly.

Bai Xiaosheng chuckled, "Don't you think this woman's English carries a bit of... a Ganande regional accent?"

A simple statement was enough without further explanation.

Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying were startled by what they heard.

Ganande English might be one of the closest to standard English. It's not a dialect, and even those with excellent English skills may not discern the differences.

In any case, these two hadn't noticed it.

However, since Bai Xiaosheng brought it up, they immediately trusted his judgment due to his extraordinary proficiency in various languages.

"A Ganande accent, doesn't that mean she's..." Lin Weiwei exclaimed.

She is indeed sent by the North American region's chief, Caroline, who has long been at odds with them!

After all, Ganande is Caroline's jurisdiction. Everyone in the group under her ranks is under her control.

"Could it be that this is just a routine visit between companies, and it's not as serious as we think?" Lin Weiwei said.

Without Bai Xiaosheng needing to say anything, Lei Ying shook his head, "You see that arrogance in Jenny; is it something ordinary people have? Even the person in charge of a company doesn't possess it. Weren't Ye Liena and Melanie once showing similar traits? Without Caroline dispatching her people, such a person wouldn't arrive here quietly and be received discreetly by old John, which is very telling."

Lin Weiwei couldn't help but nod.

The key is, what is Caroline's purpose in sending Jenny?

It's unlikely to be just a simple visit!

With Caroline's status, shouldn't she be connecting with the highest official of the group's African region instead of sending someone to flirt with the lower departments in the African region?

Does the business president of the African region know?

Or have they reached some agreement!

Bai Xiaosheng just confirmed the issues with "Green Sky" company. These two matters combined, this problem is probably very intriguing!

Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying immediately focused with furrowed brows.

"Didn't expect this time; we really stumbled upon a big fish." Lei Ying murmured.

"We must take action. Just with 'Green Sky' alone, Xiaosheng couldn't sit back and do nothing with his current position." Lin Weiwei couldn't help but look at them and said, "But we are on a diplomatic visit with Huaxia's discussions, and we are about to gather and leave for the next location. What should we do here?"

Bai Xiaosheng couldn't possibly tell Hou Yuncheng that there are matters in his group, and he needs to leave the group to investigate for ten days or half a month; it doesn't make sense.

If they first follow the delegation, who knows how long before they can return, and their visit here can't be kept secret forever. If the other side catches even the slightest hint, by then, all issues might dissipate into thin air.

"Otherwise, the two of us stay behind to investigate while you follow the commerce delegation on to the next part of the itinerary, Xiaosheng, what do you think?" Lin Weiwei couldn't help but suggest.

Perhaps, this is the best option?

Lei Ying also said, "Coincidentally, we have investments in Dilu City; leaving someone behind to monitor is understandably normal. Plus, Mr. Samba treats us as honored guests. Bringing him in can provide significant assistance. Even if General Manager John doesn't take us seriously, he still has to give face to Vice Mayor Samba. Continuing the investigation won't be difficult. The challenge is to be thorough and confidential, which might slow down the investigation, perfectly allowing you to finish on your end."

Seeing Lei Ying say so, Lin Weiwei also nodded in agreement, but she felt uneasy not being by Bai Xiaosheng's side to look after him.

Bai Xiaosheng found the proposal somewhat tempting but still shook his head, murmuring, "It's not that I don't trust your abilities, just that if many things require you two to appear, you might get exposed. Whether it's that Jenny, or old John, or Caroline behind them, or someone else, one is more troublesome than the next. I'm worried you'll find yourselves isolated and unable to cope, eventually falling into someone's trap."

Caroline, that woman—Bai Xiaosheng knew all too well her cunning nature was otherworldly. A blink, and she would be envious, leaving Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying abruptly staying here, making him uneasy.

"Then what do we do?" Lin Weiwei couldn't help but ask, "Do we just ignore it and let these problems slide?"

When she said this, Lin Weiwei always felt a bit unwilling.

Lei Ying also frowned, reluctant.

Bai Xiaosheng pondered for a moment and said, "Let's go back first; there is still time. I'll see if I can discuss it with Director Hou to let me stay here for a couple more days to at least ensure your arrangements are solid."

Chapter 2393 - My Trouble Is Gone (Part 2)

"Or, I could directly contact Mr. Wen Yan and have him take over here," Bai Xiaosheng suggested another solution.

These two ideas still couldn't satisfy Bai Xiaosheng.

Next, the three of them fell into a bit of silence.

Even the driver couldn't help glancing at them curiously through the rearview mirror, puzzled as to what was going on with these three people. They had been excited, surprised, chatting enthusiastically a moment ago, and suddenly fell silent.

But the driver was merely curious; he didn't understand Huaxia language, and naturally didn't know what they were discussing. Even the names mentioned in their conversation sounded quite different from proper English under their deliberate pronunciation, leaving the driver clueless about who was who.

Bai Xiaosheng and his companions rode in the car before one o'clock, entering Banjiao City. Fortunately, as Dilu City had eaten early, there was no traffic congestion here, and smoothly, they were about to meet with the business group.

This time, Bai Xiaosheng not only invested and cooperated in Nalinta City but also acquired an entire company from Luka, restructuring into a new "North Africa High-Tech" company. Along the way, he also prompted four companies within the business group to cooperate with Dilu City and persuaded them into his business alliance. It can be said Bai Xiaosheng is the big winner of this business trip.

The next stop, the business group will leave Naliya and head to another country's city for a friendly visit.

Perhaps, another encounter awaits.

The car arrived outside the hotel where the business group was staying. Before getting off, Bai Xiaosheng thanked the driver who brought them and asked him to pass his thanks to Mr. Samba. The driver, with a smiling face, indicated it was part of his duty and assured to convey Bai Xiaosheng's regards to Mr. Samba.

Bai Xiaosheng and his companions got off the car, watched it leave, and then headed inside, meeting some familiar faces from the business group along the way, exchanging polite greetings.

In the ground floor lobby, Bai Xiaosheng and his companions ran into Hou Yuncheng who was about to leave.

"Sheng, you're back. I was just about to look for you," Hou Yuncheng said with a smile as he saw Bai Xiaosheng.

During this visit, everyone else followed the plan, regardless of whether the cooperation succeeded or not, and the gains were either big or small. Only Bai Xiaosheng's actions stirred the leaders and high-level figures of the business group. Dilu City's continuous gratitude, Nalinta City's high praise, made the Naliya high-level very pleased, repeatedly thanking the Huaxia Business Group for its contributions and frequently summoning the group's leaders.

The achievements of Bai Xiaosheng and his team in promoting economic cooperation and exchanges, enhancing mutual trust and friendship between the sides, coincided with the business group's initial intention. Naturally, Hou Yuncheng was delighted and praised Bai Xiaosheng greatly, eager to inquire about the details as soon as Bai Xiaosheng returned, and convey the accolades from above, encouraging him to keep up the good work.

Now, upon meeting in the ground floor lobby, Hou Yuncheng naturally wanted to chat with Bai Xiaosheng.

"Director Hou, what a coincidence. I have something to discuss with you too," Bai Xiaosheng also replied with a smile.

Along the way, Bai Xiaosheng kept pondering over the two plans he thought about in the car and still wasn't keen on passing the "Green Sky" issue to Wen Yan's side for resolution.

It's not that he didn't trust Wen Yan, but this was a golden opportunity to fulfill Bai Xiaosheng's duties within the group and earn points for promotion, so how could he simply let it slip away.

Moreover, pushing problems to others isn't Bai Xiaosheng's way of handling things.

Therefore, Bai Xiaosheng intended to ask Hou Yuncheng if he could delay for a couple of days. Once things were arranged here, he would swiftly go to meet with the business group.

Hou Yuncheng, seeing Bai Xiaosheng speak like this, was suddenly curious, then smiled, "Oh really, you have something to say to me? Let's chat over there."

Hou Yuncheng pointed to the resting area in the corner of the lobby, where there were few people, making it convenient for conversation.

Seeing this, Bai Xiaosheng nodded in agreement.

Just then, Bai Xiaosheng's phone rang. He smiled apologetically at Hou Yuncheng, took out his phone, and glanced at who was calling him.

At a glance, Bai Xiaosheng's expression turned slightly surprised.

"Director Hou, I'm sorry, please wait a moment while I take this call," Bai Xiaosheng apologized to Hou Yuncheng.

"No worries, I don't have anything urgent. I'll head over there and wait for you, but make sure to keep it short and quick," Hou Yuncheng smiled and said.

"Certainly." Bai Xiaosheng promptly nodded, sending Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying to accompany Hou Yuncheng over to the seating area.

After settling everything, Bai Xiaosheng hurriedly took his phone to the corner before answering.

"Hello, Ye Liena?" Bai Xiaosheng chuckled.

It was Ye Liena, previously an executive manager under Caroline, who called Bai Xiaosheng, but she was later acquired by him.

"Mr. Bai, I have something to discuss," Ye Liena said on the phone.

However, her voice carried a hint of hesitation.

"What's the matter, Ye Liena? You can speak freely, no need to have reservations with me," Bai Xiaosheng said with a chuckle.

Bai Xiaosheng was also curious, wondering why someone as straightforward as Ye Liena suddenly sounded hesitant as if she was about to discuss something difficult to articulate.

"Well, it's like this, Mr. Bai. My friend Melanie, do you remember her..." Ye Liena said timidly over the call.

How could Bai Xiaosheng forget? Melanie was involved in one of Caroline's plots against him, even deceiving Ye Liena.

"I remember, what happened?" Bai Xiaosheng replied calmly.

"It's like this, she has always felt guilty towards both me and you," Ye Liena took a deep breath and said, "This time, she heard some information by chance from a former colleague and told me right away. I knew the information was related to you and couldn't help but call. But, I am not sure about the authenticity of the information, nor can I verify if there's any issue, just wanted to let you know. Also, Melanie never intended to harm you..."

Ye Liena ultimately couldn't forsake her friend, and spoke on her behalf, fearing that Bai Xiaosheng might be upset or unwilling to listen, hence her hesitation and timidity.

"I've long forgotten about the past; it wasn't any deep grudge. I can forgive her no matter how excessive she was before, especially on your behalf," Bai Xiaosheng said with a smile.

Ye Liena was a rare talent, so to retain her, Bai Xiaosheng was willing to not hold grudges against the minor Melanie.

This reflected Bai Xiaosheng's appreciation for talent.

However, as a woman hears this, she might overthink it a bit.

"Is that so, then, thank you," Ye Liena stammered.

"What did you want to tell me?" Bai Xiaosheng sensed a misunderstanding and, while unsure how to explain, immediately asked.

Ye Liena steadied her breath and then said, "It's like this; Melanie heard from a former colleague that this person has a friend who is close to Caroline—a woman named Jenny—recently went to Africa carrying documents to sign cooperation agreements with several group companies on-site. They also mentioned signs indicating that the Greater China Region, that is, your side, is sending corporate representatives to Africa to discuss cooperation with local group enterprises, and they're planning to obstruct it. Upon hearing this information, Melanie immediately came to me, asking me to warn you to be very cautious!"

Bai Xiaosheng was stunned upon hearing this.

It's like being gifted a pillow when you're about to doze off.

Turns out Jenny is carrying important "evidence," making their investigation much more convenient.

"I understand now, thank you, Ye Liena, and also thank your friend," Bai Xiaosheng said softly over the phone.

After communicating with Ye Liena, Bai Xiaosheng hung up the call, pondered for a moment, and put his phone away, then started walking towards Hou Yuncheng and the others.

At that moment, Hou Yuncheng was chatting with Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying, laughing.

Bai Xiaosheng approached and said, "Director Hou, what were you chatting about? It sounds lively."

Upon seeing Bai Xiaosheng returning, Hou Yuncheng laughed heartily, "Talking about your remarkable achievements during this trip."

Lin Weiwei playfully eyed Bai Xiaosheng, always amplifying his image, which she excelled at.

"Oh, that's too much praise, don't listen to her exaggerations," Bai Xiaosheng said with a grin.

Hou Yuncheng chuckled, "Why not? As long as it's based on facts, clarifying glorious deeds is perfectly fine."

Then Hou Yuncheng asked, "Have you finished your call?"

Bai Xiaosheng nodded.

"Right, what did you want to tell me? You first, since what I have to say is all praise," Hou Yuncheng grinned.

"Me?" Bai Xiaosheng laughed, "I don't have anything to discuss anymore. Initially, I had a matter to bother the leadership with, but after that call, the issue has been resolved."

Chapter 2394 - Bai Xiaosheng's Decision

Seeing that Bai Xiaosheng initially had some problem he wanted help with, but after taking a phone call, the problem disappeared. Although Hou Yuncheng was surprised, he didn't ask much. He just smiled and reminded Bai Xiaosheng seriously, "If there's any problem, feel free to tell me. Especially since this trip is abroad, in a foreign country, if you encounter any problems, don't avoid talking about them. We, the heads of the business delegation, are here to support you businesspeople."

"Alright." Bai Xiaosheng nodded with a smile.

"Okay, since your problem is gone, let me talk a bit." Hou Yuncheng pointed to the seat opposite him, "Come, Xiaosheng, sit. I have to pass on all the praise I've heard in the past two days to you at once. My ears are almost calloused from hearing it!"

Then, Hou Yuncheng relayed the high recognition and praise from the Naliya government and the two local governments to Bai Xiaosheng word for word.

Hou Yuncheng spoke excitedly, Lin Weiwei felt encouraged, and even Lei Ying couldn't help but nod.

Only Bai Xiaosheng, the person involved, remained incredibly calm, as if he were listening to someone else's story.

"Wow, you're something else. I'm over here parched, my throat burning, while you sit tight like a mountain, completely unperturbed." Hou Yuncheng saw this and, amused and exasperated, said.

Bai Xiaosheng shrugged and mumbled, "I'm just doing what a businessman instinctively does, and I don't feel their high praise from the two local governments is really warranted, nor do I think there's anything particularly commendable about what I did."

Hou Yuncheng rolled his eyes at Bai Xiaosheng, pointed at him and laughed, "Should I say you're modest, or that you have too little sense of honor?"

"Alright." Hou Yuncheng slapped his thigh, stood up, and said to Bai Xiaosheng, "Anyway, I've said what I needed to say. If you think there's nothing remarkable about what you've done this time, then next, give me more of these actions that are unanimously praised by both sides. I'll feel proud as the team leader."

"Now, I also need to attend to my own matters. You all get ready, we meet in the lobby at 2:15, and by 2:30 at the latest we need to depart. Flights won't wait for us." Hou Yuncheng instructed.

"I'm off." After saying that, Hou Yuncheng turned and left.

Bai Xiaosheng and the other two quickly saw him off for a bit.

Until Hou Yuncheng waved at them, telling them it wasn't necessary, did the three finally stop.

Watching Hou Yuncheng leave, Bai Xiaosheng and the other two also returned to their places to pack their things.

Once they closed the door, Bai Xiaosheng told Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying about the phone call from Ye Liena.

"Ye Liena's friend Melanie unexpectedly overheard information about Jenny. How coincidental!"

"So, that Jenny actually carries the evidence we need with her! This saves us from having to painstakingly investigate!"

Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying were both surprised and delighted.

Bai Xiaosheng, however, paid a lot of attention to one of Lin Weiwei's comments, muttering, "Yes, but this is a bit too coincidental!"

Having been with Bai Xiaosheng for so many years, Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying were very familiar with his nature and way of speaking, and they exchanged a glance immediately.

Lin Weiwei tentatively asked, "Xiaosheng, what do you mean? Do you think Melanie is unreliable? Or do you think this information is false?"

After all, Melanie had previously deceived even her own friend under Caroline's instruction to deal with them.

Who can guarantee that there's nothing wrong this time?

"The other side wouldn't have known our whereabouts so quickly, or noticed we were focusing on Jenny and 'Green Sky', right? That would be too scary!" Lei Ying said in a deep voice.

Even though he said this, if the opponent is indeed Miss Caroline, Lei Ying really believed she had that capability. In his mind, she was a terrifyingly cunning woman, occupying a high position, with access to numerous intelligence sources, making her exceptionally difficult to counter.

In fact, Lei Ying felt that among all the women he had encountered, that woman's mind was so sharp she could be considered top-tier.

Bai Xiaosheng shook his head and said, "A proud woman like Caroline wouldn't use a pawn twice; Melanie probably genuinely overheard the information..."

He didn't finish the latter half of the sentence, which was that a discarded pawn by Caroline could also be unwittingly used.

Otherwise, this coincidence would be like winning the lottery.

They were worrying over here, and the other side just delivered the evidence on a silver platter.

If this really isn't a coincidence, and the other side deliberately leaked it, then what is Caroline's purpose in doing so?

Leading them to focus all their attention on Jenny, then elsewhere, pursuing more significant cooperation with others, openly building the road while secretly bypassing the stronghold?

Or perhaps enticing them to investigate Jenny, where Jenny's so-called inappropriate cooperation is actually reasonable and compliant, and this is a trap to ensnare them?

If there's a scheme here, then it proves Caroline knows they're here. Who told her, did Jenny recognize them?

There is no basis for further inference on all this, Bai Xiaosheng isn't a deity, he can't say for certain.

In fact, he can't even tell right now if this is truly a coincidence or if he's overthinking it.

Lin Weiwei and Lei Ying, seeing Bai Xiaosheng lost in thought, dared not disturb him.

Finally, when Bai Xiaosheng's focus returned, Lin Weiwei cautiously asked, "Xiaosheng, what do we do? Do we follow this lead to gather evidence, or ignore it and stick to our original investigation path?"

Rather than constantly feeling led by the nose, it's better to avoid that potential trap.

Chapter 2395 - Bai Xiaosheng's Decision (2)

Bai Xiaosheng looked at Lei Ying, who was gazing at him intently.

"Are you thinking what I'm thinking?" Bai Xiaosheng suddenly asked with a smile.

Lei Ying also smiled, "It seems we have the same idea. Trust me to handle it."

"I trust you." Bai Xiaosheng nodded with a smile.

Their cryptic conversation left Lin Weiwei puzzled, looking around, trying to understand.

Finally, Lin Weiwei couldn't help but say, "Can you two stop beating around the bush? Speak up, I'm still here."

Bai Xiaosheng and Lei Ying looked at Lin Weiwei and laughed.

"Keep this up, and I'll be mad!" Lin Weiwei huffed angrily.

Were they treating her as an outsider or underestimating her intelligence...

"Don't you understand? Sheng wants me to get hold of the documents that woman carries, and we'll know if they're real the moment we see them. I can ensure all this happens without alerting her. Once I give Sheng the confirmation, we'll decide our next move!" Lei Ying explained to Lin Weiwei.

"That's it." Bai Xiaosheng nodded in agreement.

Conducting a check discreetly and then deciding on the next course of action—this approach wasn't particularly clever, but with Lei Ying involved, it was undoubtedly the best method.

After all, Lei Ying used to be a battlefield ghost; the other party might not even realize it after he's thoroughly investigated them.

"Brilliant," Lin Weiwei couldn't help but praise.

Bai Xiaosheng looked at Lei Ying, "You stay here and clear up those matters over the next couple of days. We'll keep in touch remotely and then decide on our next action."

"The feeling of sneaking in on the battlefield and stealing information is coming back," Lei Ying's lips curled with a confident and sharp smile.

...

At a quarter past two in the afternoon, everyone from the Huaxia Business Group gathered in the lobby on the first floor, mingling with each other.

The news of Bai Xiaosheng being commended by Naliya had already spread.

Lu Yun, Jia Chengshan, Lu Tiandao, Dong Tianlu, Zhang Qinglin, Wang Xuantian—these top-notch businessmen in the group all joined forces to congratulate Bai Xiaosheng.

After all, being commended by one country and praised by your own country is a huge honor.

Businessmen value two things most: fame and profit. Being able to achieve both wherever you go makes you remarkable, earning the admiration of even these top businessmen.

Moreover, Bai Xiaosheng had acted as a bridge, bringing everyone into an invisible grand business alliance, akin to the "Alliance Hierarch" of ancient times, and enjoyed good relations with everyone, prompting them to draw closer to him.

Even those with relatively distant relations secretly pointed at and discussed Bai Xiaosheng from afar.

Finally, Hou Yuncheng appeared with the leaders of the business group, calling everyone to gather for a chat.

The crowd quieted down.

Hou Yuncheng publicly, on behalf of the higher-ups, commended Bai Xiaosheng.

Applause erupted immediately, with Lin Weiwei next to Bai Xiaosheng clapping particularly enthusiastically, her face beaming with a bright smile.

However, Lei Ying was not nearby; he had already returned to Dilu City to conduct investigations and verifications as instructed by Bai Xiaosheng.

Bai Xiaosheng had already informed the group leaders about this.

Since Lei Ying was not a formal member of the business group, just an accompanying staff, and given Bai Xiaosheng's popularity, the leaders readily agreed.

After the commendation, Hou Yuncheng announced that the business group would set off to the next country—Xisuli.

The prominent businessmen in attendance took their belongings and followed the leaders in an orderly manner, the buses outside ready to take them to the airport.

In the crowd, Bai Xiaosheng glanced in the direction of Dilu City, his eyes flickering, hoping Lei Ying would soon bring back good news...

...

In Dilu City, at 6 PM local time.

In a private room of an upscale restaurant near the "Green Sky" company, Old John was hosting Jenny for dinner.

The two of them dined alone, enjoying a French meal, savoring each dish slowly, a setting suitable for eating and conversing simultaneously.

"Miss Jenny, how did you end up in such a serious tangle with that guy named Bai? Was it just on the road? Nothing happened before?" Old John put a juicy steak in his mouth, chewing it slowly as he asked, "I heard from Zack that you even considered embarrassing him in public."

If they really put that guy named Bai in a difficult position at their "Green Sky" company, it could be a big problem.

Of course, Old John still didn't know Bai Xiaosheng's true identity, otherwise, he wouldn't have the appetite to eat tonight.

"How would I know what kind of background he has? If I knew, I would have stayed far away from him, and could have tolerated any conflict," Jenny took a sip of white wine, her response slightly ambiguous and double-meaning.

Jenny also hadn't disclosed Bai Xiaosheng's true identity to Old John.

Otherwise, the old fox sitting opposite her would have flipped out, possibly reporting to his superiors, which could jeopardize this cooperation.

This was something Jenny didn't want to see.

After all, she had traveled a long way, and encountering Bai Xiaosheng was an unexpected twist—if anything else went wrong, she would have no way to explain it to Miss Caroline.

In Jenny's view, since Bai Xiaosheng left, there was no difference if she mentioned it or not...

Even if Bai Xiaosheng hadn't left, once she signed the cooperation, she would have to leave, and any issues arising later wouldn't involve her...

Old John probably didn't realize that Jenny had also devised a plan involving him.

Chapter 2396 - Bai Xiaosheng's Decision (Part 3)

Just now, Old John casually asked, seeing that Jenny wasn't willing to discuss it, in order not to make this meal awkward, he immediately laughed and said, "Fortunately, their business group left in the afternoon, that 'Bai' also left, and didn't reach any cooperation with us. No matter how much conflict there was, no matter how difficult it was, it's all over. From now on, the cooperation between you and me is what's most important."

Jenny immediately smiled and raised her glass to toast Old John.

After taking a sip of the wine, and with no outsiders in the room, Old John leaned forward and whispered, "Miss Jenny, did you bring the stuff from your side? My superior is extremely concerned about the performance and earnings from our official cooperation, but he's even more attentive to our under-the-table dealings. After all, that's where the money is!"

Two types of cooperation: one is for reputation, the other for profit.

This was also the agreed price with Miss Caroline.

Seeing Old John's expression, Jenny laughed, "I brought it, rest assured!"

The reason for signing both official and secret contracts is to give both parties leverage. This step can't be skipped.

"And—" Jenny said, "Before leaving, Miss Caroline asked me to pass a message to your superior... that the business president in the African region might soon retire. Miss Caroline said she and Vice Chairman Morgan will strongly support that gentleman at the upcoming headquarters meeting. Don't underestimate him just because he's only a deputy executive president now, he also has the chance to leap ahead and become the business president!"

As the saying goes, when someone achieves the Dao, even their chickens and dogs ascend to heaven. Once the leader is elevated, naturally everyone else benefits too.

Old John beamed upon hearing this.

Even at his age, he still has a chance to advance further; the allure of more fame and wealth is irresistible. What's happier than that?

"Great, great! Then I'll thank your side in advance for the support on behalf of that gentleman. Once our guy becomes the business president of the African region, the cooperation between us will be even more sincere, and we'll form a solid alliance at the headquarters!"

At this point, Old John suddenly remembered something and said, "However, the retiring business president, that older gentleman, has a very strong sense of pride, to the point of being a bit extreme. When he sees two subordinates fighting over the position, will he get angry, intervene, or maybe even support the other side?"

"What are you worrying about? Someone will naturally arrange everything. At worst, wait until that old gentleman steps down, and then let the battle begin," Jenny said indifferently.

In her view, Old John was worrying unnecessarily. Was this really something he should be overthinking?

"Right, right, there's no need to care about how the higher-ups do things, let's talk about what's in front of us," Old John couldn't help but glance at the handbag Jenny placed on the table, hesitantly asking, "Miss Jenny, surely you wouldn't carry those contracts in such a small bag with you, right?"

Old John's words made Jenny burst out laughing.

"How could that be? This is just my personal bag; those things are in the room."

Seeing Old John a bit worried, Jenny laughed and said, "Don't worry, I stored them in a safe worth ten thousand US dollars. That safe is unbreakable, can't be pried open, and even if you set it on fire, it'd remain secure. During the brand's testing, they hired several top-notch lock-picking experts and they still couldn't do it!"

"That impressive?" Old John asked, wide-eyed.

"Made in America, American quality!" Jenny said proudly.

At this moment, in Jenny's room, that safe she praised to high heaven was open.

Lei Ying packed up his tools, picked up the documents inside with his gloved hands, and casually muttered, "This safe is far worse than before. Ha, truly each generation is worse than the last."

Chapter 2397 - Unbreakable Speed

Xisuli, the second country visited by the Huaxia Business Group, has a territory and economic development far superior to Naliya.

Moribido City, the first city the business group arrived at in Xisuli, where Bai Xiaosheng and his team were given an exceedingly grand welcome.

Before the welcome ceremony was over, Bai Xiaosheng felt his phone vibrating in his pocket amidst the crowd.

He stealthily took out his phone and glanced at it, seeing a message from Lei Ying.

Along with some photos.

With one look, Bai Xiaosheng memorized the content of those photos, assisted by Red Lotus in organizing the information and remotely logging into the company's intranet to review related content.

After several upgrades, Red Lotus's assisting capabilities now included remote login, initially "charged" by deducting Bai Xiaosheng's score value, but as Bai Xiaosheng's level increased, this "charge" was waived although it had a limited monthly usage.

Bai Xiaosheng rarely utilized this kind of assistance.

The photos sent by Lei Ying contained key contents of contracts, involving the company's North American and African divisions and five strong medium and large enterprises.

These deals were not normal, more like an exchange of interests.

Though he had anticipated it and was mentally prepared, Bai Xiaosheng couldn't help but be shocked, unexpectedly realizing how bold these people were to openly conduct such cross-continental dealings.

Bai Xiaosheng's expression was solemn.

These contracts were not meant to see the light of day, yet to both parties, they actually held a stronger "binding force," because each had evidence of each other's wrongdoing.

If such matters were contracted, then it was obvious this wasn't the first occurrence.

For so many companies to engage simultaneously in an interest exchange, there unquestionably had to be someone like Caroline behind the scenes for the North American division.

So who was pushing from behind in the African division?

Through Red Lotus, Bai Xiaosheng remotely searched and found that the enterprises involved in these contracts were overseen by the African division's Deputy Executive Vice President, making that person the prime suspect, although the business president or executive president of the African division couldn't be exempt from connection.

At minimum, they were guilty of failing to detect.

Bai Xiaosheng had truly not expected to encounter such a "surprise" upon stepping foot in the African division as the Deputy Head of the Headquarters Oversight Department, regardless of whether it translated into performance or score, it was bound to be significant.

But this also signified the presence of severe conditions within the company's senior management, fallibility and disgrace!

Even though Bai Xiaosheng was eager to score and level up, he really did not wish for such a "surprise" in his heart.

With a slightly grave expression, Bai Xiaosheng's phone vibrated again.

Lei Ying sent another inquiry, asking him what to do next.

"Take the items away, await instructions."

Bai Xiaosheng, unable to speak with Lei Ying, simply typed a few words.

"Okay." Lei Ying immediately responded.

After the welcome ceremony temporarily concluded, Bai Xiaosheng found a convenient place to talk and immediately placed a call.

Not to Lei Ying, but to Wen Yan at Ganande Headquarters.

Despite his grave mood, Bai Xiaosheng needed to handle the situation, specially as this was part of his oversight duties.

Given the magnitude of the issue, involving the highest levels of responsibility in two major zones, Bai Xiaosheng had to notify Wen Yan, the head of the company's headquarters oversight department.

And to seek some support.

Bai Xiaosheng trusted that Wen Yan had personnel deployed in the African division, an authority belonging to the oversight department.

In this matter, Bai Xiaosheng believed Wen Yan knew certain details.

Only compromised by the two business presidents, he had not sufficient evidence and did not wish to act rashly.

Certainly, even if now "the evidence is conclusive," Bai Xiaosheng did not think it would intimidate someone like Caroline at that level, at most, she would only receive some reprimanding from the board members.

To find someone to take the fall and clear herself, for someone like Caroline, was exceedingly easy.

Even if pursuing this matter to the end doesn't dislodge the actual big figures behind both sides, Bai Xiaosheng was determined to "investigate and deal with it decisively."

Not sitting back allowing them to go rampant simply because they cannot be taken down, they dare cross the line, then hands will be severed, feet cut, their claws will be clipped one by one. Let's see if their pawns are greater or the sword of regulation sharper!

"Hello, Sheng?" The call dialed by Bai Xiaosheng was connected, and Wen Yan's gentle voice was heard from the other side, "I heard you went to visit Africa with the Huaxia Business Group, what made you decide to call me? Is there something up?"

Trying to build rapport was evidently not appropriate at this moment, and it wasn't the right time.

Bai Xiaosheng didn't hide it and plainly stated, "Mr. Wen Yan, indeed something has come up!"

"Oh, what's the situation?"

Bai Xiaosheng's slightly stern tone made Wen Yan's voice also two degrees more grave.

Over the phone, Bai Xiaosheng briefly informed Wen Yan of the situation on his end.

From the feedback in the call, Bai Xiaosheng discerned that Wen Yan had some surprised emotions but wasn't too shocked.

Bai Xiaosheng speculated that Wen Yan was aware of some occurrences.

"You are the Deputy Head of the Oversight Department in our headquarters, and being on site, you are entrusted to handle this matter fully."

Finally, Wen Yan calmly said, "Be frank, you called me to ask how I can support you?"

Speaking to smart people meant simplicity and directness.

Bai Xiaosheng received authorization and even got Wen Yan to proactively offer support.

Bai Xiaosheng wasn't modest, "Mr. Wen Yan, I lack manpower on this side, please channel some local personnel from our department here to assist temporarily. Also, you must be under considerable pressure at Headquarters."

Chapter 2398 - Only Speed Is Unbreakable_2

Obtain authorization, request personnel, and have the leader withstand the pressure.

In Bai Xiaosheng's view, this should be pretty much enough.

"Pressure? I'm used to it. I'll arrange people right away!" Wen Yan responded crisply, "I'll call you in less than half an hour."

After finishing the conversation with Wen Yan and hanging up the phone, Bai Xiaosheng couldn't help but take a deep breath, his gaze distant.

At this moment.

In America, in Ganande, inside Wen Yan's office. Wen Yan also put down the phone, falling into a brief contemplation.

Beside Wen Yan were Ruan Yu and that white-haired old man Huang.

They also heard the conversation between the two.

Ruan Yu couldn't help but murmur to Wen Yan about the matter, "The situation that Bai Xiaosheng mentioned, our people had already found some clues. However, since it's a significant matter and there's no conclusive evidence, according to your orders, we've temporarily sealed it and are investigating secretly. This time, the company called 'Green Sky' has relocated, and it seems they've noticed our presence, making significant personnel changes. From what Bai Xiaosheng said, it seems they have obtained some important evidence. But they just arrived in Africa, this is really..."

Ruan Yu felt like Bai Xiaosheng and his team had accidentally won the jackpot.

Huang couldn't help but remind, "Young Master, this is not simply a matter of a few companies. It involves two top-tier figures; just Caroline alone is hard to shake. They might react intensely in some areas or even join forces. This is very troublesome! Also, it seems that Mr. Bai Xiaosheng doesn't know what a volatile temper the President of the Africa division has. He's about to retire, and if a scandal breaks out under his watch, who knows what might happen..."

"How about you inform Bai Xiaosheng of the situation and advise them to pause their actions so we can discuss it thoroughly first?" Ruan Yu suggested.

"At the very least, we can't let Bai Xiaosheng's reckless actions cause problems for us." Huang also said.

Wen Yan listened silently to the two, his gaze distant.

The two of them were at a loss for words.

"That man, still hasn't met Bai Xiaosheng yet." Wen Yan murmured, "Compared to me actively engaging with Bai Xiaosheng, he seems unwilling to contact him."

The mention of "that man" by Wen Yan made Ruan Yu and Huang feel serious.

Wen Yan sighed with such an off-topic comment and suddenly refocused on the matter at hand, saying calmly, "I actively befriend Bai Xiaosheng and help him selflessly. The goal is not to be like a nanny taking care of him in everything. Flowers raised in a greenhouse ultimately won't grow up."

"What I need is a bold and wise ally. Bai Xiaosheng has shown potential in this regard before."

"Leave this matter to Bai Xiaosheng; let him shoulder the credit and the trouble. I'll give him authority and support, everything he needs!"

"But I will never point out the truly dangerous areas to him, even if I know them easily, but he doesn't. In doing things, one must know whether they're stepping on a vortex or quicksand with each step. This is the most basic ability as my ally!"

Wen Yan said in a deep voice, "I hope he can resolve the current issue and the trouble that follows!"

Ruan Yu and Huang exchanged a glance and both nodded slightly.

They had always supported Wen Yan's decisions.

"Now, arrange to deploy personnel to fully cooperate with Bai Xiaosheng's side." Wen Yan decisively instructed, "I want it done in twenty minutes!"

"Yes!" Ruan Yu and Huang responded in unison.

Half an hour later, Bai Xiaosheng received Wen Yan's response. The personnel had been arranged and could be dispatched at any time. Bai Xiaosheng didn't need to worry about the headquarters. As the head of the group's internal affairs department, not even the deputy chairman could budge Wen Yan one bit.

Bai Xiaosheng was greatly appreciative of Wen Yan's support and, after putting down the phone, contacted Lei Ying again.

In martial arts, speed prevails.

Now they were also playing a "speed" game. No matter who the opponent was, and no matter how cunning, if they couldn't react in time, the odds of winning would be significantly increased for them.

If the matter was delayed even a night, unforeseen changes might occur, so it was best to act now.

Lei Ying had been waiting for Bai Xiaosheng's call.

He had obtained the evidence, although he had manipulated it a bit, if that woman Jenny noticed something was amiss, she might report it.

The situation might change then.

Lei Ying also thought it was best to act that day; once decided, even if rushed, they had to take action.

At Bai Xiaosheng's call, Lei Ying was immediately excited, and upon hearing that additional personnel had been arranged, he was even more ready to act.

From Bai Xiaosheng to Wen Yan, and then to Lei Ying, everyone was busily preparing for action.

Meanwhile, the other side had just enjoyed a delicious meal.

Jenny and old John were savoring their dessert, chatting, and laughing.

The meal lasted two to three hours, but for a leisurely French meal, that wasn't much.

"Miss Jenny, forgive my boldness, but I'd still like to take a look at the contract between us, just to have a sense of it. Of course, I'll also bring the contract prepared on our side. In fact, I have it with me." Mr. John patted his bag and smiled at Jenny.

Some things are best done promptly, the sooner the better, for peace of mind.

Mr. John didn't know why, but he just had a slight feeling of unease today, though he couldn't put his finger on the reason.

Jenny looked at Mr. John, then at his briefcase, and burst into a smile, "It seems, Mr. John, your decisive style is something you just can't change."

"Well then, alright." Jenny agreed.

Mr. John was immediately pleased.

The two of them skipped dessert and immediately got up to leave.

The attendants waiting outside saw the two coming out and immediately surrounded them, leading them out of the restaurant.

In the car, they headed straight to Jenny's current residence, which had been arranged by Mr. John. There were no safety concerns, and Jenny felt at ease.

When the two arrived at the hotel, they took some people to the room.

Outside Jenny's residence, they instructed their attendants to wait outside while they entered the inner room alone.

The luxury suite in such a high-end hotel had a safe with a very high security level, and Jenny opened the room's safe to take out her box.

It was a dark box with a non-reflective surface, yet it looked incredibly sturdy.

During lunch, Mr. John had heard Jenny repeatedly praising how the box was waterproof, fireproof, and theft-proof, made of titanium alloy, incredibly strong, with three bright and dark locks. Using the wrong one would lock it, requiring another set of codes.

As Jenny took out the box and saw Mr. John's eyes glued to it, she gently patted the surface with her smooth, delicate hand and laughed, "How about it, with the documents in here, they're absolutely safe!"

Mr. John also laughed and, feeling a bit impatient, said, "Then Miss Jenny, could you open it and let me see the contract?"

Upon hearing this, Jenny laughed, bent down to half cover the box, and began to maneuver.

At the last step, the lock suddenly made a slight "click" sound.

It...locked!

Jenny was stunned.

Mr. John was even more taken aback.

"Did you enter it incorrectly?" Mr. John couldn't help but ask.

Jenny frowned, "How could that be? I'm familiar with this code, as constant as remembering my birthday."

"What do we do then?" Mr. John didn't care how well Jenny remembered.

Anyway, the box was locked tight now.

"No worries, there's a backup unlocking code, but it's just a bit tricky to operate." Jenny said.

Mr. John nodded and watched Jenny unlock a small mechanism at the corner of the box, initiating the backup code operation.

This took a good half an hour, with tiny beads of sweat forming on Jenny's forehead.

Finally, with a slight "click", Jenny's face broke into a smile, and she let out a long sigh of relief.

"Mr. John, please take a look!" Jenny smiled at Mr. John and opened the box.

Mr. John was transfixed, muttering, "Miss Jenny, your box has so many mechanisms, where are the documents?"

"Aren't they just in..." Jenny looked over puzzled and suddenly froze, eyes wide open.

Then, Jenny let out a terrifying shriek, "Where are my things!"

The documents stored in the double safes had vanished without a trace.

Mr. John, witnessing this scene, was even more astonished.

Just then, they heard a commotion outside.

Someone was shouting, "Who are you, you can't go in there!"

Then, a somewhat familiar voice followed, "Not going in? Fine, then please ask your Mr. John, and that Miss Jenny to come out. For an investigation!"

Chapter 2399 - Breaking Through Mental Defenses

Locked in a double safe, the supposedly infallible important documents disappeared without a trace. Jenny went berserk on the spot.

This involves not only business secrets but also crucial evidence they can't expose!

Five contracts, concerning five companies. Every time Jenny, the "special envoy," arrives, she must exchange a contract with the collaborating company. Naturally, the other party also has the same contract for exchange.

Jenny brought five contracts when she came, and when she returns, she must take back five as well.

Each of those contracts bears a signature, the signature of the highest person responsible in the involved company, along with a seal.

If the contracts are exposed and the group investigates thoroughly, those people won't be able to escape!

Those people bear the risk of going to jail and naturally enjoy the astonishing wealth-sharing that the risk brings.

The famous book has said that with appropriate profits, capital becomes bold. At fifty percent, it encourages daring and adventurous actions. At one hundred percent, it disregards all laws. At three hundred percent, it makes some people fearless of death!

Huaxia also has an old saying: With money, one can make the devil spin the mill!

So, these people are willing to sign their names under the supervisor's instructions.

Those who can participate are not merely capable of managing a large enterprise; they must also possess a bold and fearless love for wealth. They all must be the masterminds behind the scenes, the most trusted individuals!

These people also hold some more advanced secrets.

It can be said that once something happens, both minds will stir in fear of exposure, and they will actively seek rescue!

Of course, talk of saving and rescuing is a later matter.

Right now, with such a major incident, there will always be a "source of disaster."

It can be said that no matter which side, including those holding accountability later, will never let go of that source.

And now, this "source of disaster" is herself!

At this moment, Jenny felt like she was on the verge of collapse.

Accompanying her in tension and even panic is John, the head of "Green Sky" Company.

After all, on this same rope, neither you can run nor can I jump.

Just as their minds were blank, they heard a commotion outside.

After many words, they finally heard the key thing clearly—asking them to go out and accept investigation!

Suddenly, Jenny's face went pale as old John's face turned black with blue.

"Who is it?!" Jenny screamed at old John.

Even her voice changed.

"No idea." Old John looked at the door, his voice containing some hoarseness, "But the visitors must have come prepared, or how could they come here to confront us!"

Jenny grew more anxious, frantically said, "Can't sit and wait for death, I must leave immediately!"

There was only one door, and Jenny headed straight for the window.

Old John was shocked, quickly stopping her, yelling fearfully, "This is the eighteenth floor!"

Going through the window?

That would make you into a meat patty!

"Then what to do, or should I hide!" Jenny said fearfully.

Old John looked at the door with a grim face, instead calming down quickly, "Hiding is impossible, when you came, so many people outside were watching! The opposite party won't rest until they find you!"

Listening to him, Jenny felt a drop in her heart, feeling ice cold all over.

However, Old John's straightforward words had an unexpected effect, making Jenny grit her teeth and start calming down.

After all, this person was chosen by Caroline; she might temporarily lose control, but she would never remain in a panicked state for long.

Once she recognizes reality, she quickly adapts and adjusts her mindset.

"We don't know who's outside; maybe they're just bluffing! Now, we can only go and see, respond as it comes! At that time, if something unfavorable appears, deny everything! While delaying time, also think of a solution!" Jenny said fiercely, "Even if it comes to the last step, we still have people backing us! There's no need for despair!"

Old John looked at the composed Jenny, finally nodding, "That's right!"

In fact, Old John's fear was far less than Jenny's.

After all, the problem was hers, it was her side, nothing to do with himself.

The stolen contracts didn't have his handwritten signature; at that time, he would deny everything.

Moreover, with the protection of his backer, the Deputy Executive Vice President of the Africa Region, the later events wouldn't be too tragic.

The real trouble lies with Jenny.

However, this woman is smart, she wouldn't dare randomly bite until the moment of despair.

Even if she ends up spilling everything, his side already thought of the countermeasure, and there's no fear.

Old John had this thought, naturally calming his heart, nodding, "Then we'll go have a look!"

"Who exactly is outside, shouting to investigate us!"

...

Outside the corridor, people from Jenny and Old John's side were blocking a group of people.

The leader of the arriving group, a tall and strong figure, with sharp and cold brows, was Lei Ying.

"I've warned you, step aside! If you don't step aside, don't blame me for being rude!" Lei Ying said icily.

This time, he came with identity, Wen Yan's people granted him full command over this operation.

With the headquarters Monitoring. Department's authorization, equivalent to holding the Imperial Sword, does Lei Ying need to be polite to these people in front of him?

"You say you were sent by the upper management of Zhenbei Group, but this is not the company! It's a hotel!"

Chapter 2400 - Breaking Their Psychological Defense (Part 2)

"Your identities have yet to be verified, we suspect you're imposters, you are not allowed to enter!"

Two men, each 1.8 meters tall, blocked Lei Ying and shouted.

But the next moment, they were grabbed by Lei Ying, one in each hand, and their expressions changed dramatically, grimacing in pain, their tough stances turning limp.

Lei Ying only used fifty percent of his strength, casually pushing them aside like two doors, and they didn't even have the strength to resist.

This scene made the people blocking the doorway immediately turn pale.

These people looked at Lei Ying as if he were a bear, making the two colleagues who regularly work out appear "frail" in front of him, let alone the others!

As those people quietly moved aside, preparing to be imposing in spirit but seeking self-preservation in action, they heard a noise from the hotel suite's door behind them. Turning around, they saw the door open and Old John and Jenny walked out.

"Who is making such a ruckus outside?" Old John said in a deep voice.

"And they're talking about investigating us, what a big talker!" Jenny frowned slightly and snorted coldly.

The two had quite an imposing start.

Lei Ying saw them and a faint cold smile appeared at the corner of his mouth.

Along with disdain.

Even though they have fallen into the trap, they are still able to keep their composure. Just don't know how long this calm can last!

After Old John and Jenny spoke boldly, they saw a big man on the opposite side looking at them coldly.

The two were stunned.

He looks... so familiar!

"It's you!" The two exclaimed in unison.

No wonder the voice outside sounded somewhat familiar just now.

Isn't this the Huaxia person who follows that guy named Bai around?

Seeing the main targets, Lei Ying didn't waste words and extended his hand to the person beside him.

Accompanying him were people sent by Wen Yan, and the leading person handed over a credential right away.

Lei Ying directly showed the credential to Old John and Jenny, "I am a special investigator from Zhenbei Group's headquarters Inspection Department, now officially conducting an internal investigation procedure, please cooperate!"

Seeing that credential, Jenny couldn't help but twitch the corner of her eye, and Old John's throat moved slightly.

Lei Ying handed the credential back to the person beside him, and that person said to Old John and Jenny, "If you think the credential has issues, you can call the headquarters to verify."

With words at this point, how could Jenny and the others not believe it!

It's said that the headquarters' Inspection Department employees are of all sorts, of all kinds, but never thought there would be someone among the Huaxia Business Group.

Could that Bai guy also be part of the company, also in the headquarters' Inspection Department?

Old John began to doubt Bai Xiaosheng's true identity.

And Jenny, who knew part of Bai Xiaosheng's true identity early on, didn't know that Bai Xiaosheng also served as the second in command of the headquarters' Inspection Department!

Caroline had not informed her about this either!

But to Jenny, it seemed normal for someone from the Inspection Department to be arranged around Bai Xiaosheng, after all, people from that department are ubiquitous.

Just don't know, did they inadvertently detect their issues this time or was it premeditated? Are the missing documents in their hands!

If so, it could be troublesome...

Jenny grew tense again.

Even Old John couldn't stay calm anymore.

"It's inconvenient to talk here, why not go inside, after all, it's an internal affair," Lei Ying calmly said to Old John and Jenny.

A real move does not need screaming and yelling, does not need to appear terrifying, simple and plain, yet it can break through the opponent's psychological defenses.

"Though... I feel there might be a misunderstanding, but I... am willing to cooperate to clarify." Old John smiled proactively at Lei Ying.

Jenny also remained silent.

The attendants around the two, seeing even their boss act this way, naturally did not dare to make any moves, and retreated to the sides.

With a faint smile on his face, Lei Ying walked past the two, directly pushed open the door behind them, and went inside. He was followed by several companions, leaving a dozen others outside, watching over the onlookers.

Old John and Jenny had to follow Lei Ying and his team back into the room.

Lei Ying's group moved to the suite's living room, sat directly on the large sofa, and put two single seats together in front of them, leaving them for the two.

Old John and Jenny just sat in that position.

This had the air of an interrogation.

"Let's get straight to the point, it's getting late, everyone's time is valuable," Lei Ying sat upright in the center, even smiled at the two.

Facing this situation, Jenny and the others could actually completely calm down.

Next, according to regular thought, Lei Ying and his team would certainly ask Jennifer about her purpose of coming here, which was asking about her itinerary and objectives, and they would also inquire what cooperation Old John was discussing with Jenny.

It seemed it wouldn't end tonight without two or three hours.

Then, it would continue tomorrow.

However, with this night's round trip as usable time, the two could accomplish many things, like seeking help from above, communicating with each other...

And the lost contracts, if they were indeed in the hands of the Inspection Department personnel, certainly wouldn't reappear easily, waiting to be used as a detonating bomb at a critical moment later.

While Old John and Jenny were thinking these things tacitly, Lei Ying directly took a document from the person next to him and slapped it in front of the two with a "bang".

"Explain these secret contracts," Lei Ying said expressionlessly.
