315 LIFE IS UNFAIR

Jasmine had two things to do. 1

The first and most important was to meet Urma and discuss what Maria had told her.

But first she knew that she had to face Anna.

It was a chore she was dreading but knew she had to face

She reached Anna's room and then she knocked at the door.

"Go away." Anna screamed.

Jasmine stiffened and then proceeded to open the door.

She peeped in and saw Anna seated by her window overlooking the entire pack.

Sobbing, Jasmine assumed.

Jasmine gently stepped inside and Anna turned to look at her.

"I said GO AWA-

She stopped short when she saw Jasmine .

"You." She said accusingly. "You are the last person that I ever want to see in my entire life!

Get the hell out!"

"I just want to talk to you." Jasmine said.

Anna picked up a near by vase and flung it at Jasmine.

"I SAID GET OUT!" She screamed.

But Jasmine was able to dodge it and it went crashing at the wall and down on the floor into a thousand pieces. 1

"I said that I do not want to speak to anyone! I just want you to be left alone!" Anna raged in anger.

From her pink face and red nose, Jasmine knew that she had cried.

She did not blame her.

She had lost the only mother she had ever known.

Even though her mother had been a tyrant and raised Anna to be a little devil herself.

She was still her mother and that was something that Jasmine had never had the opportunity of.

Even though it was all so ironic that it was her moment who had been the reason why she had grown up without a mother.

"I came here because of Xaden." Jasmine said.

When it was apparent that Jasmine was not going anywhere, Anna dropped back to the window sill and sat down.

She gathered she feet together and leaned her head on her knees, then she looked towards the pack .

"I am sorry that you are hurting from your loss." Jasmine said.

Anna let out a very cruel laugh. "Oh please Jasmine, spare me the fake empathy. We both bloody well know that you hated my mother and you are happy she is dead."

"You confuse me." Jasmine said as she drew nearer. "I came to sympathize with you and your loss. But I never said that I was sorry your mother died did I?" 1

Anna's face fell.

"I knew it. You came to mock me! GET OUT!" Anna said even though that last part came as a hoarse whisper because she had intact lost her voice.

"I hated your mother." Jasmine stated. "She is the main reason why I had no mother and you along with her were monsters to me. I have not yet forgiven that. But I look at you and all I can just feel is pity."

Anna's face fell instantly.

"You are all alone. Your father is dead, same with your mother and then you only realized that those who had spoiled you rotten and raised you as their own had stolen you from you only after they had murdered and the destroyed your real family." Jasmine began. "Your identity is a question mark because now you have no idea who you are and what to believe. You probably despise Maria for what she did to you along with Bale, but she was your mother and you still loved her. In a twisted way, none of this was your fault. The life you came to have. You are just a victim like I Am."

"Stop it! I am absolutely nothing like you!" Anna screamed.

"Deny it all you want. We are all victims of life. And if there is one thing that I have learned? Life is not fair to anyone. Life happens." Jasmine said. "Feel free to mourn her because as much of a monster she was still your mother. Xaden does not understand that. But it is something that I can understand because we were almost in the same shoes."

Anna said nothing for a while. "So what now? You think your useless pep talk will make any new changes in my life? You think that I would speak to my brother and he will give you some special treatment?"

Anna laughed and got up for her feet and faced Jasmine.

"Look at me you whore. You have always been raised as a whore and a slave. I was stolen from my parents and yet Bale and his wife took me in as their own over you. Boss as can that be you? All that pain, all that miserable life scrubbing my feet, those whips you received to your back. All of it, only for you to still end here. Only for fate to be so cruel to you that it turned out I deserved a good place. That when you had hoped life will go well for you, it was revealed that Bale was your father. And now all that you worked for is being taken away from you by the snap of my fingers."

And the Anna snapped her fingers alerting Jasmine to wake.

"Gone. Just like that. And yet it is U who is here. It is I who has been given a special seat at my home pack. It is my who is the stolen daughter of my home pack. It is all me!"

Anna stopped to eye her and then she began to laugh.

Laugh so hard that her stomach began to hurt.

"Perfect and obedient Jasmine." She said with a wicked smile. "Life simply did not go the way you wanted it did you? You will still be the one to serve me in my home. You were right about one thing though Jasmine. Life is unfair." 2

Jasmine looked at Anna. "I have said all I can say."

And with that Jasmine walked out of the room, her head held up high.
