378 CHERRY'S RAGE

Cherry burned off the candle with a snap do her finger and instantly became irritated. 1

This Jasmine girl was ruining everything.

Pregnant? How did her of all people get pregnant for Xaden?

It made no sense.

Few knew the accurate story but there were rumors of Xaden being impotent.

She had clarified that it was Marie who had made it as such.

She still didn't know the details as to how it happened, but she had investigate and was hundred percent sure she was the one.

So how had she gotten pregnant.

Cherry prayed and hoped that Jasmine had gotten pregnant by another wolf.

If that was the case then she could rid herself off her for good

There was only one person she could confirm if this story was true or not.

She had not spoken to Marie in a while, but this was of the most importance.

She lay down on her bed, interlaced her fingers together and made some incantations.

She went on changing for about two minutes before she finally closed her eyes.

By then time she was awake, she was in Marie's bedroom in her small cabin.

She had used astral projection and left her body in the castle while her wolf soul traveled.

"What do you want?" Came Marie's demand.

Cherry turned and saw Marie seated on her favorite green couch glaring at her.

Marie maintained a straight face. "I needed to see you. I hadn't sent my condolences and respect since your sister's death. I know you two weren't close bu-

Marie threw her head back and laughed and laughed frantically.

When she was done she wiped a tear.

"Spare me the fake show of concern. You and I both know that you don't care." Marie said. "In fact you might have been the one who killed my sister."

"There are lines I would not cross and this is one of them." Cherry said. "The official investigation and report was that Bale had killed her to trigger Xaden. As you know, she was his adopted son."

"Officially yes." Marie said as she stood up from her chair and walked to her dinner table.

She picked up an apple and a knife and then pointed the knife at Cherry. "But you and I know that's just for formalities. Half of the shit they say as official reports is barely true. We both know that Bale wasn't capable of killing my sister. Didn't have the balls to."

And then Cherry expertly sliced the apple and put one in her mouth. 1

Cherry sighed. "Yes. I am aware. Xaden has many enemies. Who knows which of them could do that."

Marie gave a devilish smile. "You see that's the problem. I searched. My sister and I weren't on good terms but still she was my sister. So I searched for the people who could have murdered her and it was almost impossible to trace. It was like she had been killed with absolutely no trace. Like the person who had done it had purposely been thorough to handle it."

Marie but at her apple again and then she slowly began to walk towards Cherry.

Marie now stood at Cherry's front. "Astral projection. How smart of you. It saves you from being harmed by me."

Cherry gave a tight lipped smile.

"My sister was not as strong as I am, but still no one could just simply kill her. Not even any witch or werewolf. She had to be killed by an equal like me or someone close to me." Marie pointed out.

"You see. I am still very much looking for the person who murdered my sister. And if I happen to find them. I will make sure they suffer very very painfully. So painful that they will beg for death and I won't event give them death. Do you think that is fair enough for the people response for killing my sister? Don't you agree?"

Cherry smiled. "Of course I do. And I will be here to execute it with you. I have your back."

"I don't need your back." Marie snapped sharply and then a sweet smile appeared on her face. "But thank you for offering."

And then Marie turned away and Cherry literally breathe a sigh of relief.

She had been the one who had killed Eleanor. 1

She had done it to weaken Marie because Marie had become a weak link and she needed to sever all weak links.

It had been very difficult but she had done it.

She was going to tell Xaden about Jasmine's true identity.

She had found out and would have ratted out.

She had been left with no choice but to terminate her.

~~~~~~~~

A few days after Xaden had gone in search of the cup of life for Jasmine, Eleanor had discovered the truth about Jasmine.

Jasmine was royal blood and not just royal blood she was the true heir to the wolf crown.

She was the one they had been waiting for, for centuries.

She had also discovered that Cherry was the one who had ordered for Alexander's death along with using Aurora as vessel to almost murder Jasmine.
~~~~~~~~

She was the true villain and she had been waiting to report to Xaden.

She had been in the forest gathering herbs for Jasmine's ailing health when she had felt a presence.

She acted like she hadn't noticed she was alone and very gently used her magic to form an ice dagger from the snow and immediately swung it at her intruder.

Cherry rose her hand up and it turned to instant water and fell to the ground.

"You." Marie said. 2

"In the flesh." Cherry said as she pulled down the top of her fur coat.

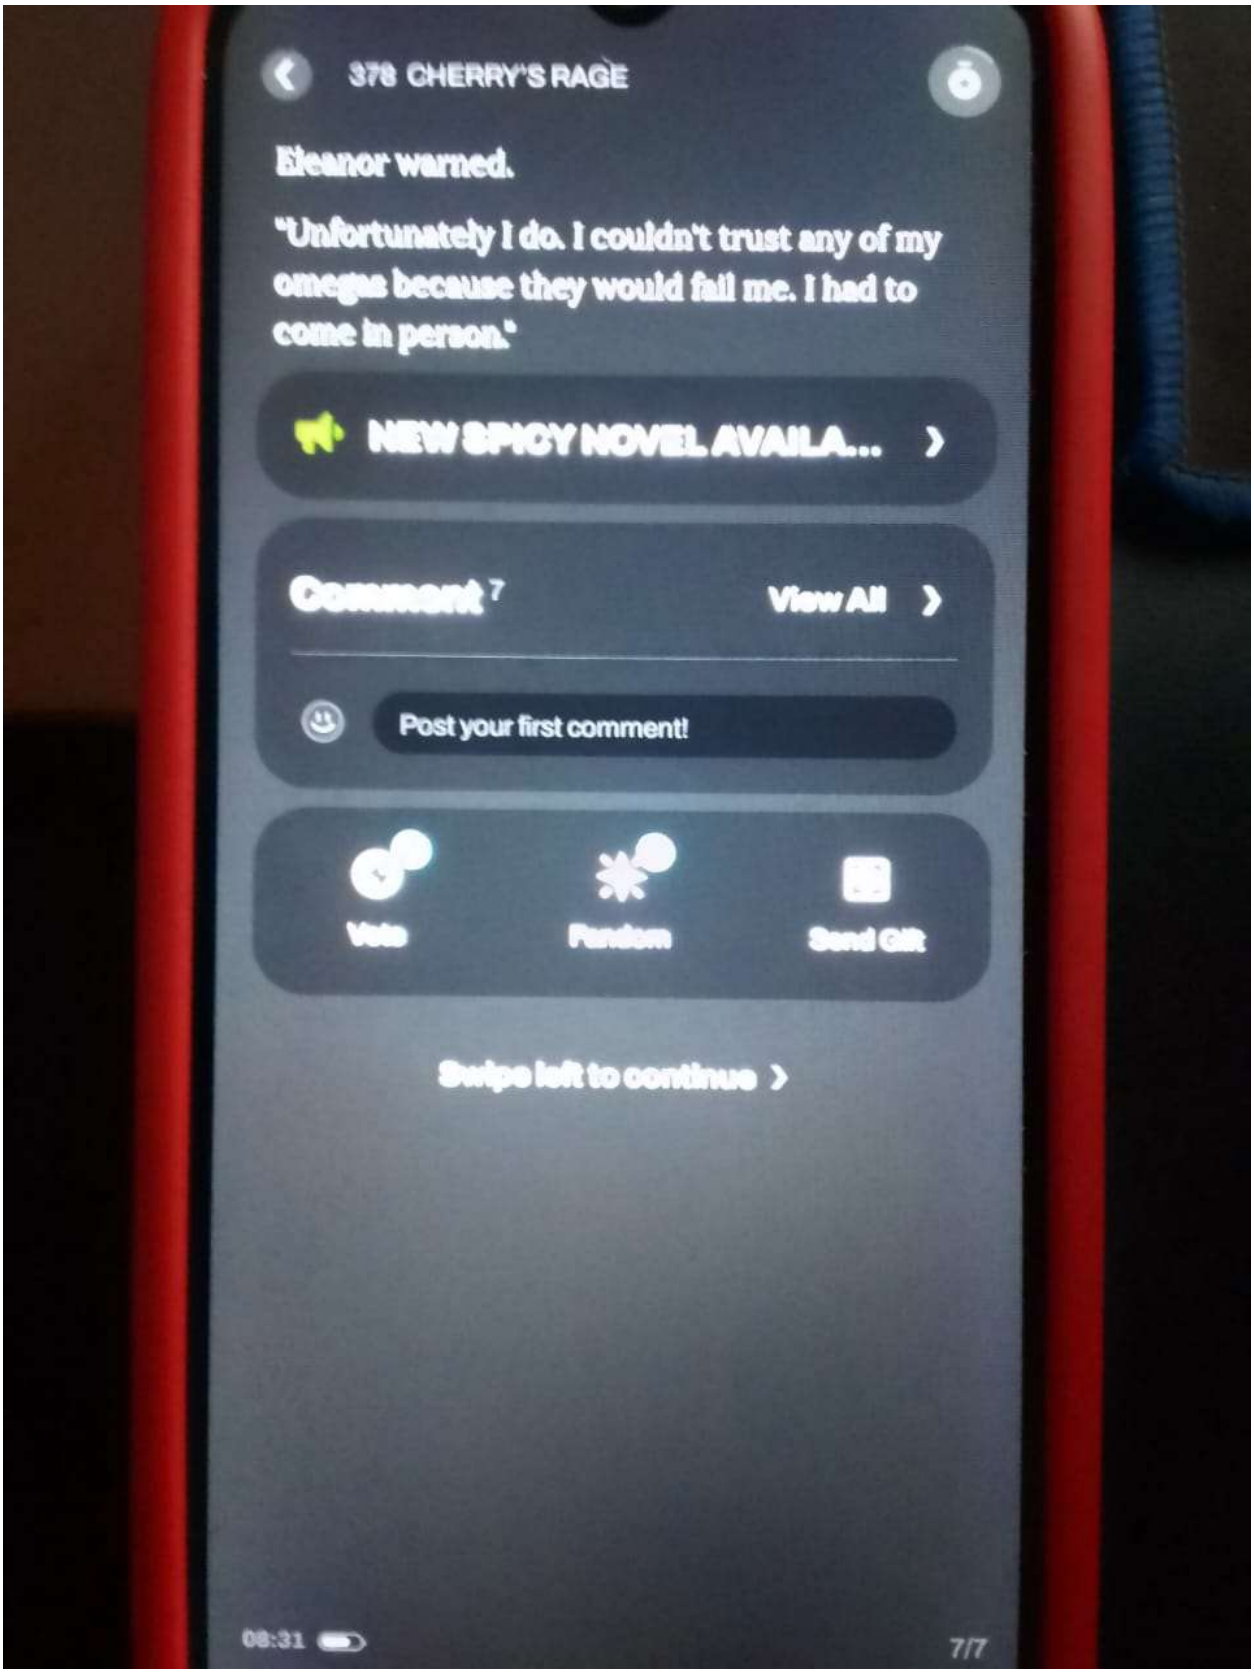

"What do you want?" Marie asked.

"I think you know." Cherry pointed out. "You know something you shouldn't. You are a loose end and unfortunately I have no choice but to get rid of you."

Marie made her stance and then used her magic to form an ice shield and then spear.

There were other ice daggers handing beside her, aiming at Cherry.

"You don't want to go down this road with me."

378 CHERRY'S RAGE
Eleanor warned.
"Unfortunately I do. I couldn't trust any of my omegas because they would fail me. I had to come in person."
