Leia was extremely puzzled at Bennen's attitude, Bennett was friendly to Noelle. How could he still smile at me as if nothing had happened? Indeed I don't understand him at all!

"Bennett, why did you do that to Noelle?"

"What did I do to Noelle Bennett smiled and asked a question

Leia felt a wave of frustration rise within her upon hearing the question. She clenched her fists tightly, biting her lip, and finally said to him, "Why" alad you lug Noelle the moment you saw her? You were so kind to her"

If he didn't want to embarrpse his family, he could just ignore Noelle. There was no need to act like a good brother. And he even called Noelle little princess, which she thought was hier exclusive title.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she became.

Berit chuckled solily when he heard her question. He glanced at Leia and replied, "Leia, what do you expect me to do in that situation? Should I ruin the mood and make things awkward when everyone is happy and getting along"

Bennet's question made Leia choke. She paused, condused agains

"That's not what I mean!.." Leu spoke hesitantly

Leia pursed her lips, her gaze fixed on Bennen. "Of course, you didn't want to ruin the atmosphere," she said, her yoke laced with frustration. "That you didn't have to liug Noelle like that. You acted like such a good brother..."

Before Leia could finish her sentence, Bennett sighed softly. He seemed disappointed.

Benners voice softened a trace of sadness creeping into his tone. "Leia, I've always treated you like my sister. In these ten years, have Lever hurt you or said anything harsh! I thought we were family, but now it seems like you just see me as a tool. It's really disappointing" vit Bennett's words stunned Leia. Why is he blaming me now?

She looked up at him and asked in shock. "Bennett, what do you mean that I treated you as a tool?

"Don't you?" Bennett looked at Leia with a sad expression. "I only hugged Noelle once, and you're already so dissatisfied. Do you think I will treat you badly just because I hugged Noelle!

"So tell me honestly, do you want us to love you as always, or do tools for you?"

They had promised not to treat Noelle well, but all broke their promises.

sce they no longer treated her as a sister, Leis decided she shouldn't treat them as bribers either.

But now, Bennett's words got her. She didn't know how to mower

Techdn't think it was possible for her brothers to love her and Noelle at the same time. After all, Noelle was their sister by blood, and she knew so many things. It was fair that they preferred Noelle

Many families didn't even treat their biological daughters equally, let alone Uria was just adopted. She was sure she couldn't coexist with Noelle

Just as Leia was struggling internally, Bennett spoke again...

He walked closer to Lela and spoke to her with a gentle expression, "Leia, I understand how you feel right now. Noelle is Anderson family's biological daughter, while you're not related to us by blood. So, when you see us treating Noelle well, you feel worried and threatened. I completely understand that

"Bennett.." Bennett's words touched Leia's heart. Her eyes turned red and she felt extremely aggrieved.

"But can you also think about me? Bennett continued, "If I really treat the two of you differently. I'm afraid my parents and my brothers will hate me. Do you want me to become the target of public criticism?"

"No, I didn't wish for that... Leia shook her head and said.

"I know right?" Bennett smiled.

He gently rubbed the top of Leia's head and said gently. "I knew it. Leia, you are a kind girl. I promise you that you will always be my most beloved sister. You will have whatever Noelle has and has not Hearing Bennett say this. Leia felt a little better. It seemed that before, Bennett's attitude toward Noelle was more or less an act. However, his sincerity toward her was real.

Bennett, I understand. I am sorry too. I shouldn't have blamed you" Leia apologized

However, Bennett smiled and said, "It's fine. When you saw me being good to Noelle downstairs just now, you must have felt uncomfortable. I'm not stupid: I know that. But you understand me, and for that, I should thank you

It was rare for Leia to be praised, so her heart started to flutter. She smiled shyly and said, "It's alright, Bennett. I'm just putting myself in your

"Not everyone could do that" Bennett patted Leia's shoulder and said with a smile, "Alright, you must be tired today. You're upset and aggrieved.

Have a good rest tonight I'm on annual leave these few days, so I'll stay with you"

As he spoke, he thought of something and said to Leia, "Lela, I have something for you. Wait a moment"

"Okay" Leia stood there quietly

She watched as Bennett returned to his room and came out again with an exquisite gift box in his hand. He handed it to her and said with a smile, "Leia, this is a gift for you"

Leia took it and was a little happy. “Bennett, you even bought me a gift?”

“Of course” Bennett smiled and scratched the bridge of Leia’s nose. “Thaven’t seen my little princess for so long. Of course, I have to prepare some decent gifts.

“Bennett At this moment, the gloominess in Leia’s heart was completely swept away.

Bennet even whispered to her. “Don’t tell Noelle. I only have gift for you

These words made Leia jump with joy again. Only I have gift. Noelle doesn’t! I knew Bennett was always always on my side

A smile returned to Leia’s face. She thanked Bennett and said, ‘Got it! Thank you. Bennarf good night” Bennett nodded as he watched as Leia returned to her room.

After the door closed, the corners of Bennett’s lips curled up into an ambiguous smile, which was a little cold and disdainful.

Aber settling the number with Leia Bennett turned around. When he was about to return to his room, he saw Charlie slowly walking out from the corner of the wall.

Apparently.

Charlie had heard the conversation between Bennett and Leia.

Bennett’s expression did not change. He smiled and looked calm. Charlie stared at him silently for a few seconds before turning around and going downstairs.

As his brother. Bennet immediately understood Charlie wanted to talk with him outside.

So Bennett raised his eyebrows and followed Charlie downstairs

In the pavilion outside the villa, Charlie and Bennett walked over one after another.

Bennett looked around. It was time to sleep, so there were no servants wandering outside. He turned his gaze back to Charlie and said with a smile, “Charlie, just say what you want to o say”

At this moment. Charlie also stopped.

He turned around and his gaze landed on Bennett. His gaze was cold as he asked indifferently, “Bennett, was it fun?”

Hearing that, Bennett raised his eyebrows again.

He still wore that gentle smile on his face. The night breeze brushed past, lifting Bennett’s collar and tousling his hair. But he didn’t move at all, standing there with an aura of an elegant young man.

After a while, Bennett opened his thin lips slightly and said leisurely, “I don’t quite understand what you mean.

Seeing that Bennett was still playing dumb, Charlie said even more bluntly. “Was it fun to tease your sisters?”

Chapter 183

Beumer’s smile faded a line when he heard Charlie’s straightforward question.

He retorted “What do you mean! Funny. Hone did I tease them! Are they unhappy now!”

Noefte hoped to forge a good relationship with everyone and he did her a favor, Leis felt unfair and insecure, and he comforted her by telling her he would always love her

Bennett felt that he was really a good person. He made everyone happy.

Charlie looked at him quietly with a sullen expression.

To outsiders, Bennett was impeccable. He had a good personality, a good family background, and a good career. He seemed to be perfect. And he

However, Charlie knew very well that the reason why Bennett catered to everyone was not because he liked people, but because he liked to maintain this sense of balance and keep everything in order.

In a way, Charlie and Bennett were similar. However, there was an essential difference between them. Charlie followed the rules to avoid trouble

He followed the rules because he wanted to control and have fun

For example, before Noelle returned. Leia was hospitalized, and Bennett said that when Noelle returned, he would find someone to get rid of her.

This was not because he cared about Leia. He was just taking advantage of the situation.

At that time, everyone wanted to comfort Leia and was against Noelle, so Bennett said those words just to satisfy everyone.

But now that everyone had accepted Noelle, he immediately changed his attitude and accepted Noelle too.

He was used to doing things that satisfied everyone and it was easy for him.

Then, he would look down on this group of people that he could easily satisfy with a superior attitude,

Bennett was not a good person.

Charlie was silent for a while.

Then, he pointed out, “Bennett, you may have pleased both of our sisters, but you haven’t eased their relationship. In fact, your actions have only deepened the conflict between them.

He hugged Noelle in front of Leia and then

I then gave Leia a gift on Noelle’s back. With Leia’s personality, she would definitely show off to Noelle

And the relationship between Leis and Noelle would only turn worse.

Bennett listened to Charlie. Suddenly, he laughed.

He looked at his brother mockingly and said, “Charlie, what you said is really funny!

“Leia and Noelle are two separate individuals. What can I do to stop them from doing what they want? I just want to make my sister happy. I did what would make them happiest. Isn’t that enough?”

Bennett’s words seemed so make sense, but on careful thought, they were all fallacies.

Charlie frowned and retorted, “If you truly care about your sisters, you should stop them from making mistakes! You know that Leis is vain. sensitive, yet you still indulge her. Shell only keep fighting with Noelle. When things don’t go her way, she’ll easily make the wrong choices”

“What does that have to do with me!” Bennett sneered. “I’m just her brother. And besides, Ton not even related to her by blood. Do you expect me to control everything and watch her every move! I don’t have that much time.”

“Bennett, you

“Churlic, don’t lecture me,” Bennett interrupted, his tone sharp. I heard from Leia that you watched her go to Lighting Media without stopping her. letting her get frozen out

Charlie fell silent once again. As much as he hated to admit it, there were some points he actually agreed with Bennett had always been far more articulate than him. Trying to persuade or stop him with words was simply impossible.

Charlie also knew that he could not stop Bennen. He took a step back and asked again, "What about Noelle Bennett, what do you think of our

Chapter 184

"Noelle Betmen veves Lished with interest

He said assuredly. “I’m quite interested in that girl now. Don’t worry, I won’t find trouble with her. I’ll be a good brother. Is that okay??

He had heard a lot of news about Noelle even in the hospital,

She was only eighteen years old, yet she had already done many shocking things.

For example, she was the arranger for the most popular music group “The Legend. She had even written the famous song The Shadows for Reyna

Additionally, he had heard from his Family that she was a genius racer, a skilled chef, and more. She possessed extraordinary talents and seemed to master anything she set her mind to effortlessly.

When others heard Noelle say this, they would likely attribute it to the Anderson family’s good genes. After all, Noelle’s brothers were also considered geniuses.

Bennet did not deny that genes played a role.

But as a doctor, especially one highly accomplished in bioengineering. Bennett could immediately tell that Noelle’s extraordinary abilities at such a young age were anything but natural.

Though it was only a suspicion, he had a strong premonition that his sister had been modified,

As a genius in the medical field, Bennett was naturally aware of certain hidden truths within the industry.

For instance, he knew about secret experimental institutions, unknown to the public, that were obsessed with human experimentation, and dedicated to creating so-called perfect humans.

Noelle’s current state was closely aligned with the ideals of those secret institutions.

Moreover. Bennett had previously investigated her background, everything, before she turned ten, was a complete blank. From this, he could infer that before the age of ten, Noelle had likely been confined in some unknown, mysterious experimental facility.

If that was truly the case... Noelle wasn’t just special. She was invaluable, a living embodiment of experimental success.

The blood in Bennett’s body began to boil with excitement.

He decided to observe Noelle during his free days.

Charlie looked at him steadily

In the dark of night, Bennett’s eyes flickered with a familiar glint. He had seen this expression on himself countless times before. It was the look that surfaced only when something truly piqued his interest.

He could tell that Bennett was indeed interested in Noelle.

However, it was unknown if this interest was good or bad.

Based on Charlie's experience, almost everything that Bennett was interested in in the past had been destroyed by him.

Right now, the only thing Charlie was glad about was that Bennett was a busy person and did not stay at home for long. Therefore, even if he wanted to do something to Noelle, he wouldn't have the time.

The next morning, since there w were no classes, Noelle remained at the Anderson vill. She woke up at six sharp, feeling well-rested and ready for the day

She changed into her sportswear and prepared to go for a morning run.

Downstairs, she saw Bennell

When he saw her coming down, Bennett smiled gently at Noelle and greeted her, "Noelle, good morning. Are you going for a morning jog?"

"Yup" Noelle nodded and greeted Bennett, "

"Yeah, I'm used to waking up early for work"

"Good morning. Bennett You're up so early"

"Oh!" Noelle replied as she blinked and looked at Bennett

She still couldn't believe that Bennett actually smiled and greeted her and chatted with her naturally. It turned out that she was not dreaming last ring Noelle staring at him curiously, Bennett smiled and asked, "I heard you're quite talented. Can a simple morning run really be enough to

"Oh, it's alright?" Noelle's bodily fimctions were different,

Her body had been fully developed long ago. Now, the only needed simple exercise to maintain it at its optimal state “Really! That’s good. I haven’t exercised in a long time. I’ll come with you.” Bennett suggested again.

“Aye!” Noelle was a little surprised when she heard that..

Previously, whenever her brothers exercised, she had to shamelessly tag along just to join them. Bennett was the only one who had ever offered to run with her.

“Do you mind?” Bennett’s smile was impeccable, making it impossible for anyone to refuse.

Although Noelle was curious and surprised, she still shook her head and smiled at Bennen. “Of course not, Bennen. But do you want to change into

She glanced at the casual clothes Bennett was wearing, just some comfortable home attire. But they were clearly not suitable for exercise.

Hennent also looked at the clothes he was wearing. Then, he smiled at Noelle and said, “Alright, I’ll go change. Wait for me “Okay” Noelle nodded and waited for Bennett in the hall.

After a while. Bennett returned dressed in sportswear. He was tall, Somehow, even in workout clothes, he looked exceptionally elegant.

Benuent walked to Noelle’s side and smiled at her. “Let’s go, Noelle” “Yup” Noelle answered.

Chapter 185

As they ran around the villa area, Bennett couldn’t but observe Noelle

At this moment, they were running at a slower pace, but Noelle seemed completely unaffected. Her face remained unchanged, no hint of redness. and she wasn’t out of breath. It was almost as if she were strolling rather than jogging “Let’s run faster,” Bennen said and quickened his pace.

“Okay” Noelle agreed,

At this point, their speed had reached about 12 kilometers per hour, which already surpassed the average pace of most people. After running for half an hour, Bennett began to pant. His breathing grew uneven, and sweat started to bead on his forehead.

Despite his effort. Noelle seemed completely unaffected, her pace steady and effortless as though she were barely exerting herself at

Noelle turned around and looked at Bennet

She blinked.

Although Bennett was always kind and close to her, for some reason, Noelle felt uneasy around him. She wasn’t as relaxed as she was with Charlie,

Damon, and FIL

But in order to complete the mission, she would still build a good relationship with Bennett.

A smile appeared on her face. “I used to train a lot. So I don’t feel tired”

“Used to?” Bennett raised his eyebrows and said, “Where did you train? Is it some professional institutions?”

When he heard Bennett mention “professional institutions,” alarm bells rang in Noelle’s heart.

She realized that Bennett was testing her. He seemed to be deliberately prying into her past secrets.

Noelle’s eyes flickered. She looked at Bennett again with a mysterious expression and said faintly, “Bennett, there’s a saying that curiosity kills the cat You’d better not ask too many questions!”

When Bennett heard this, he smiled. “Noelle, now that you mention it. I’m even more curious.”

Noelle was furious ‘How can he do that?’

She didn’t tell him because it was for his own good. If he casually inquired about the laboratory, she would have no choice but to make a move on him! Bennett didn’t understand her intention.

Seeing that Noelle’s cheeks were puffed up like a pufferfish. Bennet couldn’t help but laugh. “Alright, I won’t tease you anymore? Noelle was l

At this moment, Bennett suddenly stopped, trying his best to hold his breath.

Sering this, Noelle also stopped and looked at Bennett warily.

Bennet found Noelle’s nervous look ammin

He smiled and reached out to rub her head. He warned, “Noelle, let me teach you something. If you want to hide something, you can’t s a teasing tone. It only makes people more curious about your secret, understand?”

After Noelle heard this, there was confusion in her eyes again. She stared at Bennett without blinking. Weird. Was Bennett teaching me? It felt like he was a good person‘

However, Bennell gave off a strange feeling. Noelle couldn’t tell if he was really a good person.

She thought for a moment and asked again. “Bennett, can you stop asking me about my past?”

She really couldn’t say anything about the secret of the laboratory.

Although Bennett was weird. Noelle didn’t want to kill him either.

Bennett smiled and said. “Lile fool, I’m not an insensible person. If you don’t want to say.

Chapter 181

“Really!” Noelle’s eyes lit up

Bennett nodded with a smile. “Yes!

When Noelle heard that Nemert would not ask again, she immediately relaxed. Her eyes were sparkling with a smile as she thought to herself that Bennett seemed to be a good person.

Seeing that Noelle had let down her guard again, Bennett smiled as he said, “I can’t run anymore. Noelle, do you want to run a little longer?”

Noelle shook her head and said, I’m done too.

“Then let’s go back,’ said Bennett,

“Okay.” Noelle nodded.

The two of them headed back.

Bennett looked at the happy little girl beside him and the smile on his lips deepened.

It seemed that she had been hiding her past. However, although she refused to speak, he could still find clues from other details.

J

After returning home. Noelle strolled to the kitchen to find food to replenish her energy

When she came out again, Noelle had a piece of fresh meat in her mouth and a sandwich in her hand.

She walked to the hall and saw Bennett peeling fruits, “Bennett!” Due to the food in her mouth, Noelle’s voice was muffled.

She handed the sandwich to Bennett. Her eyes curved as she smiled and said, “Do you want a sandwich?”

Bennett turned around and looked at the girl. Her soft little face was now round, giving her an even more adorable appearance. With her face like that, she looked twice as cute as usual.

And what left the deepest impression was Noelle’s smile, which was very infectious, like the shining sun.

Those who saw her smile could not help but feel better. Bennett could probably imagine why everyone in the family accepted her one by one.

In addition to her outstanding abilities, her infectious smile must have contributed greatly.

“Bennett?” Because Bennett did not react for a long time, Noelle called him again after swallowing the food.

Bennett came back to his senses. “Thank you.”

He took the sandwich from her hand with a smile and handed her the fruit he had just cut. He asked, “Noelle. Do you want some a apples?”

Noelle was not

not a fan of vegetables and fruits.

But since Bennett offered, Noelle gladly accepted it. She reached out to take it and said with a smile, “Thank you. Bennett

And yet, just as she reached out to catch the apple, the knife in Bennett’s hand quickly cut a hole in her palm. In an instant, blood splattered.

Immediately after. Bennett’s slightly anxious voice sounded. “Noelle, are you alright? I’m sorry, I didn’t do it on purpose.”

The blood from the wound dyed the sliced apple red

Noelle looked at the apple and felt that it was a pity.

She shook her head and said to Bennett. It’s fine, Bennett. I’ll go and bandage in.

“Let no help” Bennett looked concerned and self-reproachful. He said, “I should have put the knife down first. I didn’t expect to cur you. Does it

Noelle smiled at him and said, "It's alright. It doesn't hurt that much."

Come on, let me bandage you" Hennett placed the knife on the coffee table and pulled Noelle over to the sofa.

He also asked the servants to bring the ointment for the wound and prepared to apply it on Noelle. "Let me know if it hurts"

Bennett first disinfected the area around Noelle's wound and cleaned up the remaining blood. Then, he carefully applied the ointment.

"Okay." Noelle answered.

_Sering how attentive Bennett was, she was confused again.

Just moments ago, she had thought that Benner had purposely hurt her, believing he hated her and wanted to bully her. But now, seeing his genuine concem. it didn't seem like it was an act

So did he hurt me on purpose?' Noelle could not help but wonder

She could not figure it out, so she quit. 11 believe he didn't mean it'

After applying the ointment to the wound, Bennett carefully wrapped gauze around Noelle's hand and instructed. Try not to get it wet over the next few days. And make sure to apply the ointment again at night."

"Okay" Noelle retracted her hand and smiled at Bennell "Thank you, Bennett."

Bennett looked at Noelle's innocent smile and raised his eyebrows slightly.

He wondered why she was so silly. This was the first time Bennett had met a young lady like Noelle, Bennen's lips curled into a playful smile as he gently ruffled the top of Noelle's head. "Silly," he said, his tone light and teasing. You're really easy to fool like this: Now, I'm starting to worry about you"

Although Bennett sounded worried, Noelle didn't quite agree.

She pouted and corrected him unhappily, "Bennett, I'm not silly! I'm very smart

"Hebe, is that so?" Bennettsmiled and said, "I also thought you were quite smart, but you are also silly"

"Lam not, Noelle protested

"Alright, you are not. Haha..." Bennett si smiled

This smile was full of mockery, and Noelle was extremely depressed.

She felt exhausted from trying to understand Bennett. His thoughts seemed so unpredictable, and no matter how much she tried, she couldn't make sense of them. So, she decided to be direct.

Hence, she stared at Bennett and asked, "Bennett, am I that easy to fool in your eyes? Are you tooting me?"

Bennett blinked at Noelle. He smiled and asked, "You are so smart. Take a guess. Am fooling you

"Heel like you are." Noelle spoke bluntly-

Bennett said in surprise, "No way! Noelle, didn't you say that you were Noelle felt like she was going crazy. No matter what she said, she could never outmatch Bennett. Being around him was exhausting

Now, Noelle felt like fooled by Bennett. This feeling was very unpleasant.

Since she couldn't win. Noelle simply slipped away

She stood up from the sofa and said. "I'll go back to my room and get changed"

"Go on." Bennett crossed his legs and smiled as he watched the girl go upstairs.

Chapter 187

In the morning

When the Anderson family was exting, Kimberly noticed that Noelle was eating with her left hand. She was a little puzzled and could not help but ask Noelle, why are you using your left hand today!"

When Noelle heard this, she swallowed the food and turned to her mother with a silly smile. "It's nothing. I accidentally injured my right hand

In any case, the left hand and right hand made no difference to her.

Is your right hand injured?" Kimberly was suspicious.

She looked down and realized that Noelle's right hand was wrapped in gauze

She was shocked. "Noelle, what happened to your right hand? Why is it wrapped in gauze?"

Noelle answered honestly. "I accidentally got cut by a knife."

"What Cut by a knife! When Kimberly heard that, she immediately held Noelle's hand and wanted to examine it

She asked. "Why are you so careless! Is the wound deep? Shall I call the doctor?"

At this moment, Bennett said, “Mom, I’m a doctor, Why would you call other doctors? Also, I accidentally hurt Noelle. I’ve already bandaged her wound. It’s not a big deal.”

Hearing that, Kimberly glared at her son and said, “Bennett, what’s wrong with you? You cut your sister’s hand as soon as you came back?

Bennett I could not help but laugh. I was just careless...

“You weren’t so rash before. Kimberly complained and ordered, “You have to take full responsibility for Noelle’s injuries! Do you understand?”

a can

“Yes, yes, yes.” Bennett quickly agreed. I’ll definitely take good care of her I’ll make sure that her wound recovers so quickly that not even a scar can be seen. Is that okay?”

“Hmph, that’s more like it.” Kimberly was very satisfied.

Slic turned to Noelle and said with a smile, ‘Noelle, did you hear that? Bennett will be responsible. If your wound hurts, look for him”

Noelle smiled brightly and said. “Got it, Mam”

“Okay, good girl” Kimberly wanted her daughter to build a good relationship with Bennett.

Although Bennett seemed to have a good relationship with Noelle, the two of them had not spent much time together after all. Therefore, she wanted to take this opportunity to make them know better about each other.

This matter also attracted the attention of the other two

When Leia heard that Noelle’s hand injury was caused by Bennett, she wondered if Bennett had deliberately cut Noelle’s hand to avenge her

With this thought in mind, she couldn’t help but secretly rejoice. He is on my side: However, she felt a little regretful. Why didn’t Bennett cut Noelle’s face”

The other person who cared was Charlie.

He glanced at Benacit indifferently and frowned slightly. He could not help but recall their conversation last night. At that time, he asked Bennett what he thought of Noelle and Bennett said that he was very interested in Noelle.

And just the next day, he cut Noelle’s hand.

Charlie didn't believe Bennett was careless, Bennett would never be careless. It must be his plan.
"Hut why did he cut Noelle's hand! What does he

Everyone had different thoughts during the meal

After dinner, Charlie found Noelle.

"Charlie?" At this moment, Noelle was sitting in the living room, eating snacks and watching television.

Charlie suddenly sat beside her. She was surprised.

handed som

some snacks to Charlie, smiled at him, and asked, "Do you to try!"

L'Charlie refused

"No, thank you."

He looked at Noelle's injured right hand and confirmed, "Did Bennett cut your hand!"

Yeah Noelle nodded

Charlie asked, "How did he do it!"

Noelle said. "Bennett was peeling fruits. When I went over, he handed me a piece, but he failed to hold the knife and it cut my hand"

"Really?" Charlie's pale eyes narrowed.

It sounded like an unintentional mistake, but everyone seemed to have overlooked one thing. That was, Bennett was a surgeon and a top-notch one at that

The knife was like a part of his body. He wouldn't accidentally injure Noelle's hand.

Anderson was now certain that Bennett hurt Noelle on purpose.

"Is the wound deep?" Charlie looked at Noelle and asked again.

"It's okay," Noelle said with a smile.

In order to show that she was fine, she even waved her injured right hand in front of Charlie.

In fact, this wound was indeed not deep for her. With her current healing ability, it took a day to completely recover. There would not even be a

Charlie was speechless, He noticed that Noelle did not seem to blame Bennett.

Charlie was not Jomcon who would cause trouble. He was silent for a moment before he said to Noelle, “You’d better be careful when you’re alone with Bennett in the future.”

“Hmm! Why Noelle asked,

Is Bennett really a bad person? she wondered.

“Because... Charlie frowned and hesitated slightly.

Just as Charlie was hesitating, Bennett’s voice sounded from afar.

He said with a hint of laughter and teasing, “Why do I feel that someone is talking bad about me? It must be my illusion. Is it. Charlie?”

dale’s heart skipped a beat when he heard Bennett’s voice.

He turned around and saw Bennett walking towards them.

Bennen had caught him “talking bad“, Charlie, who had always been calm, now looked a little stiff.

He managed to calm himself down and said to Bennett. “It’s your illusion:

“Is it?” Bennett walked over. He leaned against the back of the sofa, looking down at Charlie.

Although his eyes were filled with smiles, there was also a hint of warning. He said, “Then I think I heard you telling Noelle to be careful of me just Hon: Why? Am I a bad person or something!”

Under Bennen’s gaze, Charlie could not help but look elsewhere. His voice was still indifferent. “Bennett, you’ve misunderstood.”

“Did I?” Bennett was still smiling, but he was a little aggressive. Then explain to Noelle now. What exactly is wrong with me? Why should she be

Charlie had no way

ay but to look at Bennett. His eyes seemed to be saying, “Don’t you know?”

Bennett smiled. “Tell us then”

Charlie hated to stir up trouble. Right now, he indeed did not have any evidence of Bennett’s bad intentions. His doubts about Bennett were all based on experience, but that wasn’t enough to prove anything.

In the end. Charlie lost.

He lowered his eyelashes and said calmly. "I heard from Noelle that you accidentally cut her with a fruit knife, so I wanted her to be careful and not get close to you when you are holding a knife,"

I see... Bennett raised his eyebrows with satisfaction. He said leisurely. "Well, about that, you are right."

As he spoke, he looked at Noelle again and smiled apologetically. "Noelle. I'm sorry. I will definitely pay attention next time."

Noelle felt the undercurrent between Bennett and Charlie.

However, she was not good at this kind of intrigue and did not understand it.

She did not know what the two of them were secretly competing for Hearing Bennett's words, Noelle replied in a daze, "It's fine, Bennett. It's just small injury. Don't take it to heart."

"Okay," Bennett smiled

Then, he bent down and crossed the back of the sofa to hug Noelle from behind. He sighed and pretended to be pitiful. "A sister is so much better than a brother. I am so sad Noelle was shocked to be suddenly hugged by Bennett.

As the Anderson family, she had always been the one who had to stick to others. It was the first time someone stuck to her.

At this moment, Noelle's heart was fluttering

Although it was hard to guess what Bennett was thinking, she felt her relationship with Bennett was pretty good called her little princess and said she was sweet. Have succeeded in making him accept me?"

Before Bennett returned, Noelle would never have thought that there would be someone so easy to conquer in the Anderson family so easy to conquer, Noelle decided to ignore the "strange" parts of him

Therefore, although Bennett was a little strange, seeing that he was so easy to Noelle quickly reached out to put Bennett's head and said to him with a smile, "Bennett, don't be sad! Charlie was just worried about me, but it doesn't mean that it's against you. Don't be angry with Charlie"

"Noelle, you are so sweet. You are even helping Charlie. Alright, since you said so, I will forgive him," Bennett said to Noelle with a smile. When Noelle saw Bennett smile, she smiled too.

Charlie's eyelids twitched when he saw Noelle and Bennett smiling together. They looked like a wolf trying to fool a rabbit.

Forget it. Bennett is not a real wolf. He would not swallow Noelle anyway. And we are family. I guess he won't go too far: Charlie thought Curlie are you leaving?"

Nocile looked back at Charlie, her small face was still filled with a bright smile.

She was full of viger

Charlie looked down at the girl. He paused for a moment and explained calmly. "I have a task in the afternoon. I have to pack up and prepare to go

I see see you later then."

"And you

Charlie asked. "Didn't Radiance Media arrange any other activities for you after you finished the song for T

"No." Noelle smiled and said. "I've never thought of going into the entertainment industry. Writing songs is just a temporary interest. But if you want a song. I can write it for you"

"... Charlic subconsciously wanted to say no.

Yet thinking that Noelle was a genius composer who had written "The Shadows", a song he liked a lot, he felt that it was better not to refuse.

He said, "We'll talk about it when there's a chance"

"Okay!" Noelle agreed and waved at Charlie. "Goodbye, Charlie."

Charlic looked at her and said, "Goodbye"

After Charlie left, Bennett could not help but chuckle.

"Bennen, what's so funny?" Noelle was puzzled.

Bennett raised his eyebrows at her and said leisurely, "Noelle, you're really a talent!"

There were not many people that Charlic cared about

Charlie had always been indifferent. He had never cared about anyone. But he cared about Noelle and even bothered to remind her to be careful of Bennett Bennett felt that Charlie's concern was probably attributed to Noelle's composition talent.

After all, there were not many people who could make Charlie admire their talent.

But Noelle was just excellent.

Charlie was first attracted by her talent and then everything.

Noelle made it. She was awesome

When Noelle saw Bennett's admiring gaze, her heart began to swell again. She loved compliments.

There was a bright smile on her beautiful little face as she said, "Right, right? I also think I'm a talent Bennett, I'm awesome, right?"

"Yes, yes, yes." Bennett looked at Noelle's smug gexpression and smiled like a shrewd

He wrapped his arms around Noelle intimately and started to dig a hole for her again. He asked, "Noelle. Other than composing music, racing, and cooking, what else can you do!"

Bennett is with Noelle again. And they are so close! What is he trying in dol Leia thought

When Leia heard that Benment had injured Noelle's hand in the morning, she was quite happy. She felt that Bennett was avenging her. However › when she saw the two of them acting intimately, that little bit of joy instantly disappeared

Excine Leia's questioning gaze, Rennett showed no panic.

He did not even let go of Noelle's hand when he asked Leia with a smile, "What's wrong? Leia? What's the matter?"

"L" Leia choked at Bennet's rhetorical question. He is asking me? Does he know?

Leia's eyes were still fixed on Bennett, She hit her lower lip tightly, and the grievance in her heart almost overflowed from her eyes

However, Bennell acted as if he could not see it. He even waved at Bennett with a smile, “Leia, if there’s nothing else, come down and sit with us Don’t abays lock yourself in the room.”

Leia was speechless. “Sit with your Why would I sit with Noelle!”

She felt paseous

nauseous whenever she saw

she saw Noelle

Leia was clearly filled with resentment, but she could not lose her temper at Bennett. She could only force a smile and blink at Bennett. “Bennett, I Have a question. Can you come up and help me?”

“Questions?” Bennett knew what Leia was thinking. He stood up and smiled at Noelle, who was sitting on the sofa. “Noelle, do you want to go up and Noelle refused and said, “I am fine. I’m very smart. There’s no question I don’t know.”

She hated Leia and did not want to be with her.

Her words sounded like mockery in Leia’s ears. Is she saying I am stupid and she is smart? What a bitch!

The more Leia thought about it, the angrier she became. She shouted at Bennett again, Bennett, come up “Okay” Bennett was amused when he saw Leia’s eyes turn red from anger.

e up now

So he patted Noelle’s head and said with a smile, “Noelle, have fun. I will come back later” “Olay” Nuelle agreed.

Bennett went went upstairs and followed Leia into the study.

“Leis, what questions do you not know?” he asked with a smile.

Leis turned around and looked at him with a resentful gaze. “Bennett, do you like Noelle very much? You were chatting and laughing with her downstairs just now. You look so close.

“Yes, I do.” Bennett did not deny it

“You!” Leis panicked when she heard that. She bit her lip and said, “So everything you said to me last night was

I like Noelle, and I like you too. Is that not okay?" I Before Leia could finish her sentence, Bennett asked with a smile. His gaze was locked on Le There was a sharp glint in his deep arcan eyes as his sinile deepened. "Leia, I said that you're my favorite sister, but you shouldn't get jealous and throw a tantrum just because I stayed with Noelle, right?

"I don't care if you throw a tantrum at me. I understand you. But what will sh the rest of the family think of you when they see this?

"You've always h been a kind girl in the past. Why can't you do that now! You have forced Eli to Norlie's side. Why don't you understand?"

Leia had called Bennett over to complain about him. However, Bennett's words had rendered Leia speechless.

Her eyes were red as she sobbed and said aggrievedly. "I want to be kind too, but I can't do it. Bennent, I'm so and when I see that you guys are on good terms with Noelle. I'm so afraid that you'll all stand on Noelle's side. I won't be able to stay in Anderson family anymore."

"Why do you think so?" Bruncit similed gently

He went forward and hugged Lein, saying. "No matter what others think, I will never give up on you because I understand all your actions. I know (the pair in your heart. You love suffered these days."

"Benitett

Bennett's words pierced Leia's heart. She felt that Bennett was her soulmate.

In the entire Anderson family, probably only Bennett could understand the panic and pain in her heart, even Damon couldn't compare.

"Alright, stop crying-

It breaks my heart seeing you cry Bennett patted Leia's back, looking like a gentle brother.

After a while. Leia calmed down.

She looked at Bennett and confirmed again. "Benneit. I'll alw

"Bennett, I'll always be favorite sister, right?"

“Of course” Bennett said with a smile. “We’ve been siblings for more than ten years. This will never change”

When Leia heard this, she smiled.

She tugged at Bennett’s sleeve again and said coquettishly to him, “Bennett, can you not be so intimate with Noelle! I feel very uncomfortable when

However, Bennett looked troubled. He sighed and said, “I can’t help it. I hurt Noelle’s hand. So I have to treat him better. You heard what Mom said this morning, right?”

“I see... Leia pursed her lips and remembered what Kimberly had said in the morning.

So he is staying with Nocile because Mom asked him to. He has no choice either. With this thought in mind, Leia felt better.

She blinked at Bennett and pretended to smile innocently. “Alright, I’ll let you off this time.”

“Should I thank you for being so open-minded, my little princess?” Bennett smiled.

“Hehe, of course!” Leia was once again amused by Bennett.

She still lieved Bennett’s words without a doubt. She had the thought that the entire world was her enemy and only Bennett was her ally.

There was

was a class at 1:30 p.m. Leia and Noelle had to return to school earlier.

However, Eli was busy with the Student Union and had returned to school last night, Bennett sent his two sisters to school

Leia and Noelle walked to the entrance.

Seeing Bennett’s car, Leia immediately walked over and prepared to sit in the passenger seat

When she opened the car door, Leia even turned around and gave Noelle a provocative look. She smiled and said. “Noelle, Do you mind if I sit in the passenger seat?”

“Whatever. I don’t mind. Noelle did not quite understand why Leia was so obsessed with that place

If there was a car accident, the co-pilot seat was the most dangerous place.

Noelle preferred the back seats. They were much more comfortable.

“Heh.” Leia saw that Noelle’s reaction was ordinary as if she did not care. She could not help but sneer in her heart. ‘She must be so jealous, although she pretends that she isn’t.

Klasiked at Bennett in confusion. “What’s wrong? Bemien

Behind Beninett wax another car it was the Muderson Emily’s car, and the driver was Adum.

Benurut sunited gently and said, “Leia, go abrall and sit in Adam’s car, I et Noelle’s hand, and I think it’s safer to take her to the hospital for a checkups. We’re worried we might not make it in tinse later, so you should head to school fier”

Hub “When Leithe and this, she fich a little depressed.

Why does Bennett want to send Noelle in the hospital” She hoped Noelle’s hand would just be crippled.

What’s wrong!

Is there

a problem?” Bennett continued to smile. 18is st

smule was extremely genile

However, under Bennett’s smiling gare, Leia couldn’t shake the uneasy feeling in her chest. For some reason, she felt a bit seared. She didn’t want to disobey him, so she reluctantly agreed, her voice low “Okay. Tunderstand?

Then get in the car,” said Bennett.

“Okay.” said Leia.

At this moment. Noelle was unhappy again. She quickly said to Bermen, “Bennett, my land is almost healed. I don’t need to go to the hospital!”

“No way Bennett turned around and looked at her with a hit of inquiry in his eyes,

Bennett turned around, his gaze lingering on Noelle with a trace of curiosity. His voice was calm but sharp. “Noelle, the wound on your palm was pretty deep. Normally, it would take at least a month to heal. It’s only been half a day. How could it be healed so quickly!”

“Well. Noelle fel especially uncomfortable under Bennen’s gaze

Other than the people in the lab, Nick and Damon were aware that she recovered quickly. In truth, there was no real need to hide it

But for some reason, after being scrutinized by Bennett, Noelle felt an instinctive resistance to telling him the truth.

At that moment. Bennett, with his usual thoughtful demeanor, found an excuse for Noelle. He smiled gently and said, "I can tell that you think it's a haul, but you can't afford to be careless with your injury Mom said I'm fully responsible for it, so don't refuse."

Noelle was not good at arguing with others. She was more used to using her fists to persuade people.

But she couldn't fight with Bennett. She did not know how to refute it.

"Alright, you still have class in the afternoon. Don't dawdle."

Bennett walked over and took Noelle's hand. "Get in the car

"Ugh." Noelle was reluctantly pulled into the car by Bennett.

Bennett turned to Lesa, who was still standing off to the side, and said, "Leia, stop lingering there Hurry up and get in the car, and go to school

"Got it. Bennett." Leia parsed her lips. She was extremely unwilling, but she still obediently got into the car.

Taking advantage of this gap, Noelle quickly sent a message to Nicolas for help.

Noelle Nick, help! Help! I'll send you my location. Hurry up and pick me up!]

"Noelle.. Bennett walked over

Noelle quickly put down her phone and glared at him. She looked honest and asked, "Bennett, what's the matter?"

Bennett silently stared at Noelle, then he looked at the phone she was covering.

His eyes narrowed. He knew this very well, but he smiled and said, "It's nothing. Let's go

"Okay. Noelle agreed.

On the way to the hospital. Noelle had been looking around nervously. "Why isn't Nick here yet! Did he see the text

However, she did not dare to call Nick. She was so anxious.

Chapter 190

Noelle leaned against the car window and "sneaking around". He could not help but laugh and joke. "Noelle, what are you looking for?"

"I'm not looking for anything" Noelle quickly shook her head.

In order to sound more convincing, she tried her best to blink her eyes and look sincere

That aching was enough to fool El, but it wasn't nearly enough to deceive the sharp Bennett. When Bennett got into the car earlier, he had already guessed that Noelle must have been in contact with someone on the phone.

Other than Nicolas, no one could move so quickly.

As for Nicolas, Bennett had a different opinion from outsiders

Everyone thought Nicolas was just a playboy and a trust-fund kid, but what they failed to realize was that someone who held 20% of the family shares at such a young age and still thrived in such a talented family had to have some real skills. There was no way he could have survived this long without them.

Nicolas was much smarter than Sawyer family's so-called elites.

Bennett knew that if Noelle contacted Nicolas, they wouldn't be able to go to the hospital.

as Bennett was thinking. Noelle suddenly cried out in surprise. "Nick!"

Bennett came back to his senses. He looked ahead and saw an imposing man in a suit by the roadside. It was Nicolas.

Noelle immediately turned around and said to Bennett, "Bennett, stop the car first. I'll say hello to Nick"

Bennett was silent for half a second before he stopped the car by the side.

Noelle opened the door, walked out of the car, and pounced on the man. "Nick"

Nicolas opened his hands to catch Noelle. Then, he wrapped her in his arms.

Noelle quickly waved her injured right hand in front of Nicolas

Nicolas immediately understood what Noelle meant. He grabbed the girl's hand and asked in surprise, "Baby, what happened to your hand?"

Noelle said. "My hand was accidentally cut by a knife! Bennett was about to take me to the hospital!"

"Really? What a coincidence!" Nicolas smiled and deliberately raised his voice. "I happen to be going to the Ivy Hospital. The surgical department there is second to none in Reniam City. I'll bring you there, okay?"

"Really? Sure, Noelle immediately said.

"Okay" Nicolas smiled and took the girl's hand. Then, he looked up at Bennett behind her.

With a polite smile, he said. "Mr. Anderson! I'll take her to the hospital to take a look. Do you mind?"

Bennett quietly watched the two so of them sing a duet.

Nicolas deliberately emphasized that the Ivy Hospital was a top-notch surgical hospital. And Noelle agreed to go. Bennett had no reason to refuse Bennett smiled and said, “What a coincidence, Nicolas! There was mockery in his tone.

Nicolas was cal. He replied with a grateful smile, “That’s fate. I have a tacit understanding with Noelle “Haha” Bennett thought. “This telepathy is quite high-tech.

Bennett did not continue to argue with Nicolas. His gaze turned and landed on Noelle. He smiled and said, “Alright, since Nicolas wants to take you to the try Hospital, I’ll hand you over to him.”

“Yes, yes” Noelle nodded her head vigorously and quickly said, “Hennett, don’t worry! I’ll go to school after seeing the doctor

Wright,” said Bennett,

“Then I’ll take Noelle to the hospital now Nicolas added.

Herment glanced at Nicolas and smiled. “Thank you, Nicolas

“No problem”

After a short chat, Noelle was taken away by Nicolas

Bennett looked at the departing car and his lips curled into a smile. He sat back in the car and dialed a number.
