Chapter 31 - The Inner Struggles of the Enemies

The Ninja from the Hidden Cloud Village were sitting around the round table, everyone is yawning, around their eyes were dark, their eyes is red, eyelid that is about to fall down, and they looked like they had worked hard too long last night.

In short, they are all tired.

"Ahem!"

The Leader of the Ninja also same condition, but not like other, he is slightly good than everyone, he try to cheer them up but it's useless, anything that can motivate them is useless in their situation.

Such half-dead look, what is it? Will this war can still be win with their poor condition?

Otherwise, wouldn't they lose blood this time when they mobilized to invade the Uzumaki Kingdom? Not only they will lose precious resources, but even their family will not feel good in the village.

Therefore, if they can't fight, you need to stand up and fight.

Quick raise your spirit, wake up your blood, try to fight even if you're dead tired.

When the time they success, everyone will go home as Hero and get the richest they want to have.

However, it's easy to say than done.

Everyone knows how to fight, but if you stay up for straight for five whole days and listen to firecrackers for five consecutive days, what will happen to you?

There's even report of people who start to become crazy hearing firecrackers at night, this is making the whole war even more harder.

It is estimated that even the God of Ninja World will collapse if he is on their situation.

Not only their spirit is not good, but also the stress making them also irritable.

Just hearing the 'Bang' sounds making some of them explode in anger, even a simple conversation makes some of them flare in anger, slightly movement makes them want to stand up and fight.

Want to cheer them up?

Don't be kidding, you don't even know where the Uzumaki Shinobi is hiding, all of them are sending Shadow Clone to raise them.

Maybe not single one of them see the true Uzumaki Ninja even once in this past days.

There is something in the Great Ninja Village who don't know if it should be said or not.

They feel that they can have ten Uzumaki Shinobi by themselves now and they will be happy fighting them even using fist.

Too bully, even if us the one who want war first, be man in the end, face them, even if they asked them to not use Jutsu or weapon, they will gladly accept it.

They even willing to accept a ten vs one fight, fist to fist, body to body just to end this war.

Just stop sending firecrackers at night and let them have a proper rest for a single night can make them feel happy right now.

The Leader look at them and start to think deeply.

What are they fighting for?

Food? Well, thier own village never lack food.

Money? The village is not rich but the Mission rewards is good enough for one who family.

Resources? Don't kidding me, even if you make the Uzumaki Kingdom four times bigger, the resources of their village is still plentiful.

Maybe not only him as the Leader but also some of them are thinking same.

Why the heck they even come here?

To be bully?

Or to be torture by those Uzumaki Scum!

"Perhaps we are in a misunderstanding position."

"Oh? Tell me. What misunderstanding have we fallen into?"
