

Uzumaki 46

Chapter 46 - Hidden Lie

Looking at the Young Patriarch looking back at him, Nara Shinobi can't help but to bite the bullet and tell their mission while hiding some important details.

"We come to help the Uzumaki and at same time find the next Jinchuriki Candidate."

The Konoha Ninja around slightly flinch, they did not expect he come up such lie and tell them face to face.

"Help?"

"That's right, Third Elder asked Konoha's help last time but because of the ongoing war, we can't send many Ninja to help that's why we are here."

"Hmmm..... Only five of you? Tell me, what kind of strength do you have and who is the strongest?"

Nara Shinobi broke a sweat hearing this question, they are not a fool, a reinforcement consist of Two Chunin and one Jonin is not enough even to stop the match of a huge army.

But he still insist, he can't tell the truth, he is smart, smarter than anyone in the group, he know that this small discussion can lead to a bigger problem and the Konoha will inflicted huge damage if he can't fixe it here and right now.

"We are not strong but he are skilled enough to do some small fight and inflicted some minor damage to the enemies."

"Is that so." Xin's face did not change, he look at them passively, his expression made everyone form Konoha feel nervous.

"Do you know how come to this war?"

"No." Nara Shinobi shake his head, he also clueless who they facing right now.

"What about the number of the enemies?"

"Maybe hundred or more?"

"Enemies strength?"

"At least Elite Jonin?"

"..... Do you guys have Spy Ninja in your group?"

"Yes."

"..... I will give you advice, this is a form of good will from me, change your Spy Ninja, they are useless."

"?"

"The enemies consist of less than two thousand Shinobi, there's fifteen Elite Jonin and one Semi Kage Level, there's also the famous Seven Ninja Swordsman in the group adding bunch of S Rank Rebellious Ninja and some random Ronin."

Xin smile at them and asked again." Now tell me I will listen, how much time can you give for Uzumaki to escape?"

Chill start to run down towards their spine, a simple a calm voice can actually give such scary vibes.

"Lets add the current Senju Clan, they are only less twenty people on their group, it think that's huge enough for small team right? So tell me, how much time can you give to us so we can escape?"

"Hour I'm sure."

"Hour? That's long enough, but if the enemies is all around, how can you save the Uzumaki?"

".... I will use our lives to curve a path for Uzumaki."

Xin smile at him, he is really a member of Nara Clan, he is smarth and witty, he come up with such solution to every question he throws.

"Then let say you successfully defend us, tell me, how many days is the next Konoha Reinforcement arrive?"

Nara Shinobi turn silent, he knows what kind of decision the people form Konoha will make, he is pretty sure they will watch them die here and send another group to pick their corpse.

"Can you tell me, how many of you really come as 'reinforcement'?"

What a ironic words, it's funny to say that they are not facing the enemies when they come but facing the 'allies' they should help in the very first.
