Now yh Village is in deep atmosphere, especially when the report finally appear after many days of waiting.

And hearing that their father, child, husband had sacrifice, the Anti-war atmosphere become more and more fierce.

It's right to accept the lose, they can now said they are the biggest loser of the war.

They suffer heavy losses in this Ninja War and they don't know when and how they will going to recover in their situation.

Especially when Second Mizukage proposed that they need to remove the Uzumaki Clan and establish their dominance in the sea area.

But something goes wrong, the Hidden Mist Village suffered a blood loss especially the Seven Ninja Swordsman.

"What do you suggest?" One of the Seniors of Hidden Mist put his hand in his chin while staring at the surrounding Senior attending the meeting with a serious face.

He is from Mizukage Faction, he was send yo see the current situation.

And it seems he can't hols Thai kind of situation right now, the atmosphere is so heavy and depressing.

Second Mizukage said that he want to start a business for the future of the Hidden Mist Village so they start a war

But who knows that the performance of Hidden Mist was bleak, they suffer huge blood loss from the war.

Even if he is one of the trusted people on Mizukage Faction he can't stand this kind of heavy responsibility.

Just looking at the expression of everyone around, as if they want to push all the problem to him and he can't carry such huge problem.

Like other village, there's couple of different faction inside of Hidden Mist Village, one is the Mizukage Faction, the Neutral Faction and the lose team.

They start to doubt the Mizukage ability to lead the Village, and this is going to be huge problem until the Mizukage find or do something that will boost the whole Village.

"Ha~ I hope the lose is not so huge."

"Maybe they gain something even they lose right? I don't believe Uzumaki Clan can win with their number and strength."

"Maybe the gains from the destruction of the Uzumaki Kingdom can make up for the fleet's losses?"

They hope the lose is not huge, this is the only wish they want to get.

"What if Uzumaki win?"

Suddenly a voice came out, this words made the Seniors skip a bit for second.

Everyone looked at the person who spoke.

The Patriarch of the Hoshigaki Clan.

This Shinobi Clan is from Kirigakure, all of its known members appear to have a shark like features that resemble gills.

'It worth of the War Freak Clan, how stupid!' they inward shout.

Seeing everyone's looking at him, the Hoshigaki Clan Patriarch rubbed his braids, he look confused at them.

"Ami wrong?"

No he is not wrong, he just to damn straight making some of them shock.

"Patriarch Hoshigaki is reasonable." Funato Clan Patriarch said.

"War is full of accident after all." He sighed." Hey, although we don't want to think like this, we need to prepare early."

'Damn you Pirate!'
