

Uzumaki 64

Chapter 64 - Senju the Fool

'What a group of fool.' Xin inward said, and then look at him.

"Senju Clan can be separated to other who want to serve and those who want to survive."

"The Uzumaki Kingdom is open whatever time or day you need, and don't worry we will always treat our own allied close like our relatives."

"Even if you guys is facing danger, we will take you with us, after all, we are not enemy but people who just hoping for your own good."

Will of Fire and the Old Tradition is really poisonous.

Even if they are smart they still chose the tradition than their own survival, but for Xin, tradition should be abolished while the new generation need to create better than the late generation.

Education need to popularized, the younger generation must be given ideological and moral education to prevent such idiotic decision to pick.

"You don't need to answer me now." Xin helpless said waving his hand at them.

"I will go to Konoha at that time, and you can tell me your decision again, if you can't decide I will talk to your Patriarch."

Hearing that there is no red to decide now, Senju Hen was relieved in his heart.

Maybe he could ask the Patriarch to decide for this kind of important matter.

No matter what decision the Senju Clan made, they will consider the best they think should prioritize.

Hidden Mist Village

"Did the Uzumaki Clan answer?" One of them asked while frowning.

Five Great Ninja Village actually taste defeat of a small country, it is really embarrassing. This time, they should consider the best position to consider.

This negotiation, the Hidden Mist should try to minimize the losses.

"Dam. Konoha!"

Now Konoha has become the Victorious Country, Hidden Mist Village has become defeated country and the addition of being defeated again by smaller country makes the Hidden Mist Village standing in embarrassing position.

Maybe the Daimyo has any dissatisfaction and add another restrictions to their Village.

If this is the case, then, all of them will become sinner in Hidden Mist Village.

Now, strength is not important right now, what important is smart mind and quick thinking to prevent their own Village to lose so much.

"I hope that

Uzumaki Kingdom will not ask much to us."
