Chapter 74 - Hidden Stone Village Suddenly Move

"Compensation? Of course they have, but what confused me is the ask something from us."

A look bewildered and start talking.

"You see, we are already anticipated that Konoha will ask huge compensation, after all, The First Ninja war we did not pay anything to them, addition from the rebellion of Gold and Silver brother and what they did to Konoha, we expected they will let us bleed this time."

"But who knows when we are prepared for worst, Konoha send us pillow and blanket to sleep comfortably."

"Konoha did not ask for money, resources, good, or even weapon, they asked us to sign a treaty not attacking Konoha for twenty years."

"What made me more confused is they did not ask anything except from my sign, you know that the treaty is just a peace of paper full of hypocrite and deception, no one will take a peace of paper seriously."

"Treaty is the most simple and the most idiotic thing you can ask after the war, this piece of paper can be tear up anytime if you want to start a war." Xin said to them.

"That's right, kid your smart!"

Xin continue." Konoha ask for piece of paper as war compensation, now the whole Village is lacking with resources, I'm pretty sure that Konoha will asked money from Daimyo to tuns their village."

"And because the Konoha is the biggest winner of the war, the Daimyo will happy to provide fund for them, but the question is, is the ufnd enough to rebuild, re equip, re form, and compensate the dead soldier after the war?"

A think deeply and can't see how can the fund that Daimyo enough for all of this thing, he know the fune Daimyo give is for the war fund and not to help rebuild the village.

And rebuilding and compensating everyone need huge amount of fund, and he is sure that Daimyo will not going to send money for that kind of reason.

Senju Hen look pale, he is not a fool, he knows that what wait them back is not the glorious day for winner but the poverty that they need to endure.

"Well anyway, that Konoha's problem and not mine."

"Your right kid, I will send the compensation three days later as promised, you can also pick it in my Village or pick place to us to send it."

The Elderly stand up and start to communicate to the Kumo Shinobi, they want to designate place to pick the goods.

While everyone is happy, some of them are confused, but Xin don't care, the more they confused, the higher chance they broke.

Konoha Village

"Hokage-sama, Tsuchikage suddenly launched a war against the Uzumaki Clan, but the reason is unknown now!"

Sarutobi Hiruzen saw the Shinobi who suddenly broke in, especially the news from the report.

Sarutobi Hiruzen tremble for a while, the smoke in his hand fell in the table, and even the crystal ball in front of him was forgotten to close.

"The news from Hidden Rock Village, Kitsuchu led a large force into the boundary of Uzumaki Kingdom."

Sarutobi was stunned, how can a war start when the war just ended yesterday, there's something wrong here

He nodded blankly, closed the crystal ball casually, and then looked out the smoking pipe that fell on the table, he seriously asked. "Do you know the reason?"

"I don't know yet, Anbu is trying their best to investigate the reason."

Hearing Anbu's report, Sarutobi Hiruzen frowned, took his pipe and said "Try your best to find the cause of this, I want to know if there's something that we don't know."

"And also, call Danzo and the Elder, we are going to have meetings in Hokage Building."

He waved his hand letting him go.

"Yes!"

Anbu responded and then retreated respectfully.

Seeing that the office door was closed, Sarutobi Hiruzen also breathed a sign of relief, he didn't know if Anbu saw the content of the crystal ball or else his name will be tarnished and branded as a pervert.

But still, what's wrong in Hidden Stone Village? Why did they suddenly send an army into the Uzumaki Kingdom, did something happen on the other side? Did the Uzumaki finally disappear? What about the Konoha Shinobi? The Senju Clan? What happened to them?

All of these questions started to pop out inside of Third Hokage's head, and he didn't know if this was a blessing or a curse, he was only hoping Konoha would not be afflicted by this trouble.
