The future of Uzumaki Kingdom is on their hands, so he need to take care of their well being.

If it wasn't his own embarrassment, he would like to try to shake their hand like politicians, that surely is fun.

Anyway, the people of the Uzumaki Kingdom, whether they are civilians, refugees, or Ninja are grateful.

Only if the civilians is strong and the population is big the rehabilitation should be faster.

....

Because Senju left in the second day of the end of the war, Uzumaki Xin don't know what punishment the Senju Clan would be punished.

But if they did not leave Konoha, their fate would be doomed.

You know that two big family that founded Ninja Village, this name is really to big and famous, especially for the Senju Clan, and thr two generation of Hokage.

Even if they are not satisfied with the village, but for the harmonious development of the Village, Sarutobi Hiruzen will still do it, even if Sarutobi Hiruzen can't do it, there sit Danzo willing to do it on his own.

You must know that the future of Uchiha and Hyuga Clan end same way, the only one who is lucky enough to escape is Hyuga who chose to be neutral to anything.

As for Uchiha.

Well their clan is already doom in the very first when Madara left, they also lose the pillar of the clan.

They only have their pass glory but not the strength from the past, with their stinky reputation and the wolf waiting for them to step wrong, Uchiha future is already predicted.
