

Uzumaki 89

Chapter 89 - Hidden Mist vs Hidden Stone

With Xin's help, the building plan conti, not only that, the housing program looks better after using granite as building materials.

The whole place is made from granite, black and gray on color with dark red roof on the top making it looks more presentable in the eyes.

There's also a trending that is spreading aptuns the Uzumaki Clan, they said that Young Patriarch like to use Red Color Granite as materials on making house so everyone follow.

Then in just one day, everything around turn into rich red becois eof the use of Granite, from wall, floor, ceiling and even furniture is made from red granite.

Xin's eyes hurt when he see this, who said he like red color, now the whole Uzumaki Kingdom turn into bloody mess.

Wherever you look you can see red, if not red you can see reddish brown, it makes Xin's eyes hurt just looking at it.

Because they like using granite, Xin can only ask Third Elder to plant more green trees to balance the color.

With the help of Wood Release, the trees and plants around can grow even with cold climate, and with Xin's help the whole Uzumaki Kingdom final looks normal.

"Young Master there's a huge order!" One Uzumaki come running inside of Xin's office.

"What kind of order making you feel being chase by hundred Shinobi?"

"Here Young Master!" The guy give the list of the things the buyer want to buy.

"Five tons of meat and fish, two tons of grain, hundred stacks of Detonating Talisman, Five Hundred Set of Kunai and Shuriken.... "

Xin look at the list and feel weird, who have such huge money to buy such huge amount of resources.

"It's the Hidden Stone Village."

"Hidden Stone Village and Hidden Mist Village is fighting right now, I don't know the reason but they need food for this cold weather."

"I heard that because they go out in hurry they only bring dry food on their way, and because of suddenly snow, the animals is in hiding so no one can feed the whole army."

"Based on the order, it seems the army is huge."

"Yes, Young Master, Hidden Stone Village send thousand Shinobi to fight the Hidden Mist Village."

"Thousand? There's still plenty of Shinobi in Hidden Stone Village?"

"From the rumors I heard, Tsuchikage actually preserve half of the army by sending only small batch, I don't know why they surrender in the end when they have ability to win the war."

"What is a game for those Kage, sending people is to decrease the population of their own Village, and now they are sending more menas they found the weakest part to get huge resources."

"That's right! That's right! Hidden Stone Village will do this for profit."

"Tsuchikage is a fool, maybe he don't know that Mizukage payed huge ransom from us and still think Hidden Mist Village still have money."

"So what are we going to do Young Master?"

"Of course, sell to them, sell them the food 30% higher than market price, and the weapon is 50% higher than market."

"But, the price is so high if we do that, what if they don't pay."

"They will." Xin said.

"Tsuchikage will not let his army fight with empty stomach, they are gambling their last force to gain better from the war."

That's right, because they did not get anything from the Second Ninja War, they will surely stake everything form this fight.

The restoration of the Village at stake to this war, if they lose, the recovery of the Hidden Stone Village will going to be left behind and if they win, they can easily recover all their lost from the previous war.

This is a huge gamble for Hidden Stone Village, losing means everything for them while Hidden Mist Village will hold everything because they already paid so much from the previous war.
