

Virus 24

The God Virus Volume 2 - 24 Another Civilization

After seeing that the content were exactly the same as Virus' past world he took out an incinerator and destroyed it again by manually targetting it.

After that he walked to the exact coordinates and started digging and thirty minutes later the digging ended as a coffin was shown, opening it he saw a skeleton which gave him an impression like it would exist forever.

Other than that there was an intense light shining on the right palm of the skeleton, seeing it sent shivers down to his spine like this was everything that existed, exists, and would exist forever! after a little hesitation Virus still reached out his left hand and touched the intense light object and the next moment the shining object was gone as Virus stood there like an statue for a while before finally coming out of his daze or whatever it was.

After finally coming out of it. "Origin..."

"HAHAHAHA..." A loud laughter was heard from inside the cave as a man was laughing like a madman above the grave of a skeleton while saying loudly "NOW I'M SURE! I'm sure of exactly which path to follow! And it's gonna be my path only... good thing I didn't start cultivating as soon as I built my body, it was worth the wait as it changes everything."

This was the first time Virus had gotten this excited in a long time.

Also this object was the reason why Virus didn't start cultivating as soon as he built his body as he was waiting for this, wanting to know what it was or if it could be of help to him in his journey as he felt it was going to be of major importance in his path, otherwise he could've started with one of those powerful cultivation techniques in his mind the moment his went into his body.

Now he was feeling extremely happy and satisfied because of his patience and choice as if he had started cultivation he would've regretted it.

After that Virus closed the coffin again and filled the grave again before turning back as he started walking towards the water, before getting into the water he pressed a button on his device wristwatch as his swim suit appeared on his body.

Then he started going back with a speed like he was flying.

Seeing Virus had gone for a while Bella was getting worried 'Come back safe master...' she thought.

and it was at this moment the bottom of the spaceship opened as someone came inside, it was her master, happily going to him Bella said curiously "So... how did everything go master? did you find what you were looking for?"

"It went great! yeah I found the thing I was looking for!" Virus excitedly answered as he was still excited.

Seeing his master excited Bella was surprised as this was the first she had seen her master this excited so she said, turning excited too just like her master "Where?! where? let me see master."

hearing this Virus was awkward a little, even though he trusted the lil beauty he didn't want to say it as this was probably going to be his greatest secret, even though there would be no one other than him able to control Bella, he wasn't sure something like that wouldn't happen forever, even if he was her master. As Virus believed in the saying 'there is always a sky beyond the sky.'

So after some thinking he said "It's not something that can be seen." this wasn't a lie as it truly couldn't be seen anymore

"Oh... okay then." Bella was a really understanding person and seeing her master explain no more she changed the subject "So what do we do now master?"

Hearing this Virus answered "Now? Now we go back as we have lot's of things to do..."

He also thought inside 'Now... with this I'm pretty sure I would be able to do what those group of mad scientists tried to do but failed horribly.'

He continued his thoughts 'I would also probably be able to do that thing which was abandoned in the end by mankind, if my hypothesis is true and what's in my mind really works. '

After thinking about various things, coming out of his thoughts Virus ordered the island ugly "Let's go back home."

"Yes master." Hearing the order the island ugly followed the order, while bella thought 'So we're going back...' she didn't know why but she was a little sad they were going back.

Then the spaceship was led out of the ocean to the sky of the ruined planet invisibly by the island ugly.

As the spaceship went a little higher in the sky a portal like rift opened as the spaceship went inside.

UNIVERSE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Suddenly somewhere in the universe above a lively planet a portal like rift opened and closed.

From inside the spaceship finally in their own universe they were looking at the planet which was a lot bigger than Earth but was beautiful just like Earth filled with blue, white, green, and yellow.

"Wow, this planet seems to have inhabitants!" Bella exclaimed.

"Yes, zoom it." Virus said confirming and then ordering the island ugly.

Doing as ordered the ugly zoomed to the planet seeing an advanced civilization which seemed much more advanced than the earth of right now existing there, flying cars were moving about and there was one gigantic palace with giant towers somewhere in the planet which could be seen even without zooming.

The inhabitants of the planet looked exactly the same as human beings of Earth!

"They seem really advanced ..." Bella said.

"They are, though they are not the most advanced, not even close, anyway we've seen enough for now, let's go back." after replying to Bella, Virus ordered the ugly as the island ugly put the coordinates of the Earth on the spaceship as another portal rift opened as the spaceship went inside.

This journey was truly a big eye opener for both the golden beauty and the island ugly as they understood a little of how big the world truly was and how awesome their master actually was, even though it seemed they have just seen the tip of the iceberg of their master, which made the awe and respect they had for their master increase to another level.
