

Watch Out 171

Chapter 171: Silence (1)

According to the map, everyone needed to pass through this jungle and move Northwest. After confirming their target, Zhou xueli said,”

“It’d be best if it’s fast.”

She frowned, this forest isn’t small. Try to get through it before five o’clock.

When Zhou xuli mentioned the time, someone immediately asked uneasily,

“We’ll reach the Research Institute after passing through the forest?”

Zhou xueli didn’t even look at the person who asked the question. Her nonchalant attitude made the person who asked the question a little irritable,” “We’ll reach the Research Institute after passing through the forest?”

The worker raised his voice and asked again. Wolf one didn’t say anything. He raised his gun and pointed it at the worker. The worker was stunned.

Under the heavy pressure, no one dared to ask any more questions. However, even if Zhou xueli didn’t say the answer, everyone knew in their hearts that after leaving the forest, they might not necessarily reach the Research Institute.

She mentioned that the forest was not small, and that they could not reach their final destination even after leaving the forest. This proved that they might not be able to reach a safe environment after dark as ATr. Zhou had said at the beginning.

This proved that Mr. Zhou’s previous words were just a big empty pie drawn for everyone to coax them.

This fact crushed many people. Everyone knew what kind of danger they would encounter at night.

The lives of ordinary people were like grass on the island. One could tell their status from the fact that someone wanted an answer and was threatened by the bodyguards.

If they encountered any danger, they would probably be the first to be abandoned. In such an environment, no one would go through the trouble to save them.

When the scholars saw this scene, their faces showed pity. The worker who asked the question had a look of despair and suddenly sat on the ground.

"I'm not leaving." He muttered with a crying expression,"

"I'm going to die anyway. Just kill me."

Zhou xueli gave him a cold look and put away the electronic device in her hand.

"Let's hurry up and leave."

Wolf one didn't even look at the man. Obviously, he didn't want to waste a single bullet on this man.

Although many people sympathized with him, and some ordinary workers wanted to speak up for him, when they saw Mr. Zhou and the others move, and the majority of the group had already entered the forest, the others did not dare to stay any longer, and they all followed.

The people who were left behind were stunned for a moment. They cursed and cursed loudly. After crying twice, they quickly grabbed their things and followed.

This time, when they entered the dense forest, many of the team members had died. It might be because of the various dangers they had encountered before, or it might be because of what Zhou xuli had said, or it might be because the Research Institute was very far away from here. They didn't know if they would make it back alive, so everyone was in a heavy mood.

It was different from when they entered the island in the early hours of the morning. At that time, everyone was full of hope. Although some people had mentioned that there might be danger on the island, they had not seen it with their own eyes. So, even in the dark, many people walked side by side. Even if some people were worried, the atmosphere was still quite relaxed.

At this time, everyone was already scared out of their wits by the crocodiles, spiders, and white anteaters. Even though the sky had already brightened, everyone was still walking in fear.

As soon as there was any movement in the surroundings, it was enough to make people turn their heads to look. With every step, someone would poke the leaves on the ground with a branch in advance.

The consequence of mental tension was particularly tiring. The participants and bodyguards were in good condition because of their outstanding physiques.

The scholar-like people and the workers carrying heavy bags were already sweating and panting.

Some people gradually fell behind, but the people walking in front did not dare to stop.

"Wait for me, wait a minute ..."

The person who fell behind shouted in despair. The large mountain forest was extremely quiet. At first, only the rustling of leaves could be heard as people stepped on them. When he suddenly cried, it was as if he had woken up the entire forest.

'Wait for me ... Wait for me ... Wait for me ...'

The echoes came from all directions, as if there were people crying for help from the people in the middle. It was extremely creepy. Leaves fell from the towering tree above them. Zhou xueli, who was carrying Mr. Zhou, turned around with killing intent in her eyes,

“Do you want to attract the beasts here?”

The person who was lagging behind was also frightened. Zhou xuli's threat and killing intent made him shiver. Under the strong desire to survive, he didn't know where he found the strength to speed up and catch up with the main group.

As time passed by, the forest was so lush that it almost blocked the sun above them.

Occasionally, a few rays of sunlight would shine through the gaps between the leaves. The forest was quite humid and the temperature was also slightly low, but everyone was sweating and their mouths were dry from walking.

This forest seemed to have no end. No one knew how long they had been walking, but no one dared to ask rashly, nor did anyone dare to suggest that they stop and rest.

Zhou xueli had said that they had to cross the forest before five in the afternoon.

When she said this, her expression didn't look good, which proved that she should know something. It was very likely that there was some danger in the forest. If they didn't leave the forest after dark, something big would probably happen.

In such a situation, everyone was quite anxious. Not only did the workers not dare to clench their teeth and hold on, but even professor Yan, Mr. Zhou, and the others did not dare to ask them to stop.

'Cough', someone suddenly coughed, attracting everyone's attention.

At this moment, even song qingxiao's nerves were tense, let alone the others.

Everyone turned their heads instinctively. The cough came from a scientist beside Mr. Zhou. He looked disheveled and his face and ears were red from walking. His soft black hair stuck to his thin cheeks from his sweat. He was gasping for breath as if he had just been pulled out of the water.

The tight neckline of the protective isolation suit seemed to make it hard for him to breathe. He was carrying some tools on his back, and his back was bent very much. He couldn't maintain the demeanor of a scholar at all. After receiving the attention of everyone, he looked a little embarrassed.

"Scared to death ..." One of the workers patted his chest, but he quickly changed his words halfway through his sentence.

"You scared me."

On the island, after experiencing the stimulation of other people's deaths, it seemed that the word 'death' had become a huge taboo.

Although they were lucky that they did not encounter any danger along the way, this forest was very strange. Other than the towering trees, there were no other living things.

There was no chirping of insects or birds, only the footsteps of song qingxiao and her group, as if they had accidentally barged in. Apart from that, it was extremely quiet.

The scientist's unexpected cough stopped the team, and the rustling sound of his feet stepping on the leaves stopped abruptly.

The quieter it was, the more song qingxiao could sense that something was wrong.

She licked her dry lips, wiped the sweat from her forehead, and released her mental power. She could vaguely hear the sound of water flowing, like a stream..

Chapter 172: The great waves (1)

Song Qingxin's heart skipped a beat and she suddenly asked,"

"Miss Zhou, What time is it?"

Zhou xueli, who was asked, was taking advantage of this temporary break to rest. She and a bodyguard carried Mr. Zhou and walked quickly through the forest for a long time. She was covered in sweat, but she didn't make a sound, which was enough to prove her endurance and physical strength.

This was obviously not the time to chat. If it was someone else who asked this question, Zhou xueli would probably ignore them.

However, since it was song qingxiao who asked the question, she furrowed her brows. Even though she was a little unhappy, she still panted for a while and looked at the time.

"It's already 4:26,"

When she mentioned the time, her face revealed a trace of anxiety.

Zhou xuli had said that they had to leave the forest at five in the afternoon, but it was almost four-thirty now. They didn't know how long it would take to leave the forest.

Everyone was extremely dejected. Zhou xueli's hands trembled as she took out some electronic equipment from her bag.

Although Mr. Zhou had been injected with drugs before and his mental power had improved a lot, in order to keep up with the pace of the big team, he mostly relied on bodyguards and Zhou xuli to carry him.

However, he was carrying a silver box in his hand, and he didn't trust anyone, so Zhou xueli didn't let go of his hand all the way. It was easy to imagine how much pressure she had to bear.

The moment the electronic device was taken out, Mr. Zhou reached out his hand again and pressed the fingerprint scanner. After unlocking it, a map quickly appeared in front of everyone. A red dot flashed on the map, representing everyone's location.

From the map, everyone's position did not seem to have changed much from before, and the distance they had moved was not large. Those who saw this could not help but reveal a look of despair.

The time was almost up, and everyone had not left the forest yet. The danger that they might encounter at night was simply driving their rationality to the brink of collapse.

Even though many of them were already tired and hungry and could barely lift their legs, they were still anxious to leave this place.

"How much longer before we leave?"

Some people couldn't help but use their hands as fans, desperately making unnecessary small movements to vent the uneasiness in their hearts.

Zhou xueli slid her finger across the screen and remained silent for a while. Everyone thought that she wouldn't answer, but she said, if the map is correct, there should be a stream not far away. If we follow the direction, we can see a River. It's the upstream of the inner River we saw when we entered the island. As she said this, she looked at the crowd. Her face, which had turned red from walking away, was not frosty at all. Instead, she looked a little helpless.

"If we follow the river, we should be out of the forest in at most 15 minutes."

When everyone heard that they were going to leave the forest, they couldn't help but feel excited. Zhou xueli continued, however, this map was copied from an old data disk. After so many years, I don't know if there are any changes.

These words were like a basin of cold water that doused the excited people's hearts.

Everyone instinctively turned to look at the other end of the forest. This forest was deep and the trees grew densely. At a glance, it seemed that there was no end.

When Song Qingxiao heard this, she laughed and said,

"Maybe it hasn't changed," She held her breath and listened again. With the enhancement of her mental power, her strengthened five senses were much more sensitive than the average person. 1 heard the sound of water.

Song Qingxiao's words not only made the workers happy, but even Professor Yan, Zhou Xueli, and the others were also happy.

"That's great,"

There was indeed a water source nearby. Not only did this prove what Zhou Xueli had said, but it also proved that they were about to leave this strangely quiet forest. At the same time, it also proved that the map in Zhou Xueli's hands was still useful. This was great news for everyone.

When everyone who was already exhausted heard this, it was as if they had been given a shot in the arm, and they suddenly felt a lot more energetic. Zhou Xueli looked at the map and pointed out the direction of the stream.

Song Qingxiao was right. After walking for about five or six minutes, the dense trees became sparser, and the light was much brighter than before. At the other end of the forest were low bushes, and they could vaguely see the green and dense wild grass and uneven stones. In the gaps between the stones, water flowed, making a soft sound..

Indeed, after seeing the stream, it proved that it was as Zhou xueli had said. If they walked around the stream, they would soon be able to get out of the forest.

As soon as they left the forest, they seemed to be one step closer to the Research Institute, but also much further away from danger.

The previous fear was now replaced by excitement. Everyone scrambled to drag their tired legs and run forward, and the people behind also sped up.

The closer they got to the water's edge, the more moist the soil on the ground became. The top of the water flow was blocked by a lush dwarf forest. The water current was quite rapid, winding down, washing away the stones along the way.

The bottom of the stream was covered with cobblestones of different sizes.

After years of polishing by the water, they had become quite round. The water was not too deep, only about the height of a person's calf.

It was ironic that this Island was an experimental Island built by Mr. Zhou's father. The creatures on the island were contaminated by humans, causing genetic changes, but the stream looked so clean that you could see the bottom.

On the wild grass by the stream, there were many unknown lilac flowers. It was already afternoon, and the afterglow of the setting sun shone on the water, adding a poetic color to the horrifying Island.

Not only were they physically tired, but their minds were also tense.

On the last night on the ship, no one slept well. The strange piranhas and seabirds they encountered during the day frightened them, and then the bat attack at night. It was almost a dangerous night.

After the ship sank, everyone managed to survive with great difficulty. Then, they went to the island in fear. After that, they encountered danger one after another. In order to survive, they did not dare to stop for a moment. They carried their heavy luggage and moved forward. It was only now that they could relax for a moment.

“Miss Zhou, why don’t you take a break first?”

Seeing such a scene, many people immediately forgot about the terrifying image of this small island, and one of them couldn’t help but plead, causing Zhou xueli’s face to reveal an unhappy expression.

The person who spoke threw his backpack away and it rolled onto the grass, crushing a few blooming flowers. He picked up a clean stone and sat down, unable to stand up again.

Everyone looked tired, including Zhou xueli. In fact, they had been exhausted for a long time. They could walk before only because they gritted their teeth and held on with their breath. Now that they were relaxed, even standing and gasping for breath felt tired.

“Why don’t we take a break?”

Professor Yan couldn’t help but suggest. Many people had not even drunk water since they came to the island, let alone eat. They couldn’t hold it in any longer, miss Zhou, you said it yourself. We just need to get out of the forest before five o’clock. It’s half past four now. It’ll take at most fifteen minutes to get out of here. After resting for ten minutes, we should be able to get out of the forest at five o’clock!

Several scientists wiped their sweat and nodded in agreement.

They were all scholars, and it was already very good that they didn’t fall behind after walking for so long. At this time, under Zhou xueli’s gaze, their legs were trembling slightly, and it was obvious that they had reached their physical limits.

In addition to a few cultivators and well-trained Wolf one and the others, the others’ lips were dry and cracked. Some people’s eyes were blinded by sweat, and their faces were red. They were panting with their mouths open. Needless to say, Zhou xueli knew that she was probably not in a good state.

Hesitating, she glanced at Mr. Zhou and asked,”

“Mr. Zhou...”

Mr. Zhou’s condition was the best among the group.

Because he had the support of Zhou xueli and her bodyguards, he had an easy time. Previously, professor Yan had injected him with some kind of needle, which made him look much better than when he had first arrived on the island. After hearing Zhou xueli’s words, Mr. Zhou frowned, but in the end, he nodded.

With Mr. Zhou’s approval, everyone couldn’t help but cheer. Even Wolf one seemed to be relieved. He pulled the strap of his helmet. Zhou xueli looked at her wrist and said,” since we’re going to rest, we can only rest for ten minutes at most. We’ll immediately continue our journey after ten minutes.

Naturally, no one would disagree with her request.

Everyone hurriedly took off their backpacks and threw them aside. With a splash, someone stepped into the water and reached out to scoop some water to splash on their faces. When the cold water hit their faces, many people let out a sigh of satisfaction..

Chapter 174: The great waves (3)

Professor Yan and the others also squatted by the stream to wash their hands, while the others found a place to sit or squat. Zhou xueli also picked a clean big stone and helped Mr. Zhou sit down. She took out a wet tissue from her bag and wiped Mr. Zhou’s face and hands.

Song qingxiao didn't sit down. For a strengthened body, she only sweated a little. She was far from being tired to the point where she had to sit or lie down.

She didn't dare to let her guard down. Instead, she chose a place with a wide view, took out a bottle of mineral water and a bag of biscuits from her bag, unscrewed the cap of the mineral water, and drank more than half of it before she looked at Mr. Zhou and Zhou xuli.

Zhou xuli would only drop her cold attitude when she was in front of Mr. Zhou. When she wiped his face and hands, her meticulous action was not like a subordinate's action to her superior, but more like there was something inexplicable in it.

However, everyone was busy with their own matters and did not seem to see this scene.

After Zhou xuli wiped Mr. Zhou's face and hands, she took out the food from the bag, tore it open, and fed it to Mr. Zhou.

She was able to notice Mr. Zhou's needs in time. After feeding him a few mouthfuls, she fed him a bottle of mineral water. This action proved that she often did these things.

Song qingxiao was deep in thought. After drinking more than half of the bottle of water, she put the remaining bottle under her arm, tore off the biscuit packaging, grabbed a few biscuits, and stuffed them into her mouth.

The biscuits were only meant to fill her stomach. They did not taste good and were very dry. Song qingxiao stuffed them into her mouth a few times and drank the rest of the mineral water. After swallowing the biscuits, she finally felt full.

Perhaps it was because of the picturesque scenery here and the fact that no one had encountered any danger along the way, the few bodyguards had a rare moment of relaxation. Everyone was talking and laughing. Some people were lying on the grass with their eyes closed as if they were about to fall asleep.

A man got up and walked behind the dense bushes. Soon, his figure disappeared into the grass.

Song qingxiao released her mental power. In the sound of running water, she could hear the sound of water flowing even louder from the upper stream. She could also hear the laughter of other people in her ears. She could also hear the sound of Zhou xueli feeding Mr. Zhou water. On the other side of the bushes, the sound of water splashing should have come from the man who had entered the woods earlier.

She then released her mental power a little more, and three or four different auras burst into the area covered by her mental power!

These auras came very quickly, and in the blink of an eye, they were close to the group.

The people by the stream had just relaxed, with smiles on their faces after surviving the disaster. They ate and soaked in water. Some even took off their shoes and soaked their bare feet in the stream. The people lying on the grass narrowed their eyes and did not move, not aware that danger had come.

The rotten leaves on the ground were gently stepped on, making a 'rustle' sound, which was much lighter than the sound of human stepping on the ground.

"Be careful!"

In a moment of desperation, song qingxiao called out instinctively. Before anyone could react, the leaves of the short trees were pushed aside and shook slightly. A gray figure shot out like lightning. He rose into the air, roared, and rushed directly to a bodyguard sitting by the stream.

Before the bodyguard could react, he only heard song Qing shout 'be careful'. Then, he felt something coming at him. It was mixed with a fishy smell. A huge mouth as deep as an abyss opened, revealing white fangs, and it was aimed at his throat.

Although he was in danger, these bodyguards that Mr. Zhou had specially hired were not ordinary. When he reacted, he knew that it was too late to take out a gun. He subconsciously touched his wrist and grabbed a dagger. At the same time, he fell sideways and directly pressed down on a worker sitting nearby, trying to hide.

During the break, these most ordinary workers instinctively sat beside the bodyguards. They thought that this would ensure their safety, but they never thought that they would be crushed like human flesh at the critical moment.

Before the man could react, he was pressed down. Under the impact of the bodyguard, his upper body was folded and pressed into the water in a strange way.

The gray shadow opened its mouth wide and bit at nothing but air. Its upper and lower teeth closed together due to inertia, making a 'ka' sound. However, its raised sharp claws did not miss. The claws that were opened glinted coldly, and the sharp claws were like the tips of sharp knives. They grabbed the bodyguard's chest.

With a tearing sound, the bodyguard's combat uniform and flesh were torn.

The gray mutated creature's huge body fell into the water with a 'thump', causing a large splash. The surrounding people who were shocked by the unexpected attack finally came to their senses when the water splashed on their bodies.

"All..."

Many people screamed in pain. The bodyguard stabbed the dagger in his hand at the gray shadow in pain, but the thick fur on the gray shadow blocked most of his attacks. In a moment of desperation, he only left a shallow wound on the gray shadow.

But that was enough.

The bodyguard's original purpose was to use the opportunity of injuring it to block its movements and give himself a chance to escape.

He nimbly rolled to the side, turned over, and sat up, taking the opportunity to pull away by nearly half a meter.

The unlucky man who had been pressed into the water by him also instinctively groaned in pain and tried to sit up.

After the gray shadow fell into the water, it turned its head around, revealing a huge gray wolf head. Its action of turning its head caused its fluffy fur to shake, and a cold light flashed in its eyes. The next moment, it opened its mouth, 'awoo', and bit the neck of the man who had just sat up. It shook its head with force.

Before the man could see the scene in front of him clearly, his neck was bitten. When the gray wolf swung its head, its sharp teeth tore half of his throat. Blood spurted out and splashed onto the stream, dyeing it red..

Chapter 175: Rise again (1)

The man who sat up had a surprised look on his face. His last breath before his death turned into the sound of blood flowing because his throat was bitten off. His body fell into the stream with a 'bang', and only his instinctive twitching remained.

The gray wolf swallowed the piece of meat it had bitten off and then pounced on the bodyguard who had turned over and fallen into the stream.

The bodyguard himself did not expect that the man he had used as a scapegoat would be so useless. He had just met the man and he had already died in the mouth of this beast.

At this critical moment, he had no time to pull away and reach for his gun. The Wolf's speed was much faster than he had imagined. He held the dagger and stabbed it towards the Wolf's eye again.

Gray wolf instinctively turned his head away. Taking advantage of this opportunity, the bodyguard rolled on the ground and once again widened the distance.

The man and Wolf stirred the water, and the cobblestones at the bottom of the stream made a 'ka ka' sound as they were squeezed.

"All..."

The tranquility of the stream was broken, and the people who were originally resting around them now hated that they had lost a pair of legs and arms. They hated that they couldn't use both their hands and feet to climb a little further.

The people who were lying on the grass sat up. At this time, some of them did not even dare to grab their backpacks on the ground. They stumbled to their feet and tried to escape.

Zhou xueli and Mr. Zhou were obviously caught off guard by this sudden change. No one had expected that when they were walking in the forest, everyone was full of vigilance and did not attract any danger. They had finally relaxed, but they were attacked again.

"Protect Mr. Zhou!"

The moment the huge gray wolf appeared, it pounced on the bodyguards. Zhou xueli didn't even think before she shouted for everyone to protect Mr. Zhou first.

The bodyguards standing nearby split into two. Half of them helped Mr. Zhou up first, while the other half raised their guns, ready to shoot at the huge mutant Wolf.

The bodyguard who was being chased by the mutant Grey Wolf was in a sorry state. He had rolled twice in the stream, and although he was lucky enough to survive, he was injured quite badly.

The gray wolf's sharp claws pressed against his chest, its sharp nails digging into his flesh. The gray wolf's body had grown dramatically after its mutation, and the bodyguard felt as if his internal organs were about to move.

He resisted the pain and tried to fight back. The wolf was huge, but its movements were very flexible. When the bodyguard stabbed it with the dagger, it dodged the big wolf head, and the tip of the blade slid past the corner of its mouth. It made a threatening 'whimper' sound and bit the bodyguard's hand holding the dagger.

The wolf was cunning and quick-witted. The bodyguard had stabbed it several times, but it had revealed its beastly nature. At this time, it bit at the bodyguard. The bodyguard was quick to let go of the dagger, and the wolf bit the dagger in its mouth. Clang! Clang! Its teeth ground on the dagger, making a terrifying creaking sound.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, the bodyguard picked up the gun that had fallen into the stream beside him, raised it, and pulled the trigger at the wolf.

With a 'bang', the bullet went through the gray wolf's ear. The gray wolf let out a howl 'in pain, and half of its ear fell off. Blood dripped down the fur on its head.

In pain, it instinctively retreated halfway, its upper body lying down, as if it was going to pounce again.

The bodyguard fought for a chance to survive. He immediately sat up and tried to retreat.

The previous shot had been too close, and in a moment of desperation, he had fired randomly without hitting the vital parts, only injuring the mutated Wolf. At this time, he got up and tried to escape, trying to retreat to a safe position. The wolf was not willing to watch its prey escape, so it pounced on him again and bit his thigh.

The bodyguard endured the excruciating pain and raised his gun to shoot it again.

'Bang!' A gunshot was heard. This time, it hit the Wolf's front leg. The wolf could not stand steadily. Its pair of Scarlet eyes revealed a fierce look, and its teeth bit deeper.

The bodyguard struggled with all his might, and in the midst of this struggle and bite, his body that had just stood up fell back into the stream.

The reddened water of the stream was splashed everywhere by the man and the wolf. The bodyguard's will to live after being injured was very strong, and the wolf would rather die than let go.

Everyone had witnessed the lethality of the island's creatures. The bodyguard had a strong will to survive. He knew that once he was bitten by the wolf, he would die if he delayed any longer. Thus, he raised his other leg and kicked the wolf with all his might.

Under the attack, the wolf instinctively shook its head, and the bodyguard used his strength to pull himself back and climb up. The two sides used their strength to move in opposite directions. The gray wolf's teeth were as sharp as knives, and it bit the flesh on the bodyguard's leg, tearing it off along with his combat uniform, and swallowed it into his stomach!

Taking advantage of the force of the kick, the bodyguard supported his upper body with his hands and retreated with all his might.

On the other side, Wolf one and the others had led Mr. Zhou away from the dangerous stream. They raised their guns and aimed at the wolf by the stream, which had swallowed a mouthful of delicious food and was about to pounce on the bodyguard again. 'Bang bang bang', more than ten bullets hit the body of the mutant gray wolf, and the Wolf's fur was gradually soaked in blood.

The Wolf's ferocity did not decrease, but it was no longer as threatening as before.

Several bodyguards picked up the injured bodyguard who was lying on the grass and dragged him back. At the same time, they raised their guns and fired at the gray wolf standing in the stream.

The mutant Grey Wolf soon died, and its huge body fell into the stream with a 'dang' sound.

Everyone's hearts seemed to be in their throats. A crisis seemed to have been easily resolved.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief, but Song Qingxiao remembered the few strange auras that had entered her range of psychic power. The dead Wolf was only one of them, and at least there were a few more of the same kind of mutant wolves hiding nearby.

Her mental power was highly concentrated. Number Seven's gaze fell on her body and face, as if he was constantly observing her expression.

Number seven had suffered from number six's spiritual power attack before. Among the trial-takers, other than number one, who was still uncertain, she should be the most sensitive to spiritual power. Song Qing Xiao's spiritual power was used again and again. Even if she could hide it from others, she would definitely notice something.

Especially when she shouted 'be careful', it confirmed number Seven's guess.

At this moment, if she showed any signs of wanting to Dodge, the other trial-takers would definitely sense that something was wrong at the first moment and retreat quickly.

However, the trial mission required six sacrifices, and no one wanted to be one of the sacrifices.

These people were all observant, and it was not easy to hide from them. Only when she stood there with them would the others believe that she had not discovered any other danger.

Once the other gray wolves that were hiding in the dark pounced out, even if song Qing tried to set them up, the other trial-takers would impatiently push them out as sacrifices. This way, the mission could be completed quickly.

At this thought, song qingxiao suppressed the thought of running away. Under the gaze of number seven and the others, she pretended to be calm and stood still.

"What's wrong? What's wrong?"

The man behind the bushes pulled up his pants in a panic as he pushed the bushes aside. He was also afraid. He didn't go far, and when he heard the sound, he didn't even have time to pull up his pants.

There were still water stains on his pants, so one could imagine how terrified he was when he heard the gunshot.

"I'm fine."

Someone pointed at the wolf corpses in the stream and replied in shock,”

“A Wolf just jumped out, but it was killed by the wolves.”

The bodyguards hired by Mr. Zhou were called wolves, and each person had a different identity with different Arabic numbers.

One of the workers tried to please him, but there was still fear on his face. He smiled and said,”

“However, the fake wolves are no match for the real wolves.”

The corpses of a Wolf and a human were soaked in the stream water. The water that flowed down had a dark red color, and the picturesque stream was filled with the strong smell of blood.

The bodyguard who had a piece of flesh torn off his leg was still groaning in pain. He could no longer walk in his current state.

Now that someone had died, the smell of blood would be carried far away by the current, which would easily attract wild beasts.

Zhou xueli furrowed her brows and her face was gloomy. She obviously didn't have the patience to listen to the hired workers' flattery of the bodyguards.

don't say anymore. Hurry up and pack your things. Let's leave first...

Before she could finish her sentence, the man who came out of the bushes was scared out of his wits when he saw the body soaked in the stream. Then, he heaved a sigh of relief when he heard that the bodyguards had solved the problem. As Zhou xuli was talking, he was about to tie up his pants when a huge Wolf appeared behind him and opened its mouth silently..

Chapter 176: In the dead (1)

After the wolf had mutated, it had become extremely large. Standing behind the man, its head almost reached the man's shoulder.

When the man lowered his head to tie his pants, the back of his neck was exposed, and he did not realize the danger behind him.

It was only when the wolf opened its mouth and bit his neck that he was dragged back into the bushes before he could even scream.

As the branches shook, the branches and leaves slapped against each other, and a few drops of warm blood fell on the tender green branches, which was a shocking sight.

Here." Before Zhou Xue Li's voice had died away, something strange happened. The trees were knocked aside and three gray shadows jumped out from behind, pouncing at everyone.

After the bodyguards killed the wolf that had ambushed them, the man behind the bushes returned safely. This made everyone careless, thinking that his safety meant that there was no danger behind the bushes.

Everyone's nerves had just relaxed, and the bodyguards were still holding up the injured. When these gray wolves jumped out, some of them didn't even have time to grab their guns again.

The accident happened too quickly. Everyone had gathered together for safety, but when a few wolves appeared, they were caught off guard.

A few wolves pounced into the crowd and immediately scattered the people who were standing together. At the critical moment, everyone scattered and ran for their lives. In the face of these mutated giant creatures, after seeing their lethality, some people could not even muster up the strength to resist.

Two workers were scratched by the Wolf's claws and wailed.

Fortunately, they were not the wolves' target. For some reason, they were targeting the bodyguards with guns.

Under such circumstances, in order to protect themselves and Mr. Zhou, Wolf one and the others had to throw the injured bodyguards on the ground. Two wolves rushed towards the bodyguards, while the other Wolf pounced in the direction of the participant.

There were ghostly wails and wolf howls all around. The screams of humans were mixed with the howls of wolves. There was also the chilling sound of bones being chewed from behind the bushes.

The wolf pounced in the direction of number three, but before it could reach him, number three had already disappeared from the spot. The others hurriedly retreated.

The wolf pounced on empty air and immediately turned around. Its fur stood up like needles and it turned around to bite number seven.

Number seven quickly shapeshifted, and his movements became more agile than before. He retreated at an extremely fast speed.

It wasn't that she was afraid of this Wolf, but that she didn't trust the other cultivators. She knew very well that she couldn't fight with the wolf while the others were eyeing her covetously. Otherwise, these people might push her into the Wolf's mouth!

No. 7 cleverly took a big step forward and put some distance between him and the wolf.

The wolf missed again. After shaking its head, it turned around and pounced in the direction of number two again.

No. 2 had been holding his hand in his pocket since the beginning. When the Wolf Pack suddenly appeared, he had already taken out his pen and quickly drew the prototype of a bow in the air.

The wolf was approaching menacingly, and it was obviously too late for him to draw an arrow. Bean-sized beads of sweat instantly appeared on number two's face. He controlled his arms so that they wouldn't shake, and at the same time, his feet were still moving backward, desperately trying to buy time for himself.

At this critical moment, Song Qingxiao heard the sound of an electric current. The sound was very light, mixed with the screams of people and the roars of wolves, so weak that she almost ignored it.

However, the voice was very close to her. She had a vague feeling that something was wrong and subconsciously cried out, 'Oh no'. When she instinctively wanted to Dodge, she felt as if her body had been electrocuted. A slight numbness enveloped her body. She had fallen into someone's trap!

The electric arc was not strong, as if it was just a weak current passing through her body. It could not control her for long.

However, at the critical moment, others didn't need to use the current to cause much damage to her. They only needed to make her temporarily lose her mobility.

Song Qingxin was furious. The numbness from the electric shock quickly receded. She clenched her fist and held the dagger tightly in her palm. She wanted to kill the person who ambushed her. However, the person who ambushed her did not do anything and slammed into her back with lightning speed.

She only felt a great pain in her back. After being hit by such a strong force, she could not help but fall toward the wolf that was preparing to bite number two.

"You owe me a favor!" Number Four's voice rang out. Song Qingxiao and number two, who were in deep waters, had different feelings when they heard this.

The wolf quickly gave up on number two and opened its mouth, ready to welcome the 'prey' that had delivered itself to its door.

Its change of target immediately gave number two a chance to live.

Number two, who was originally tense, couldn't help but reveal a look of ecstasy. Sweat dripped into his eyes, but he didn't dare to reach out to wipe it.

The bow and arrow in his hand had already taken shape. At this time, he did not have time to put the brush into his arms. He bit into his mouth and pulled the bow and arrow. This time, the target was not the wolf but song qingxiao. His eyes were filled with killing intent.

After song qingxiao regained control of her body, she forced herself to stand still. When the wolf turned around and bit her, it was too late to Dodge. Other than the wolf in front of her and the person behind her who was trying to ambush her, the second person in front was already drawing his bow and getting ready to kill.

The Wolf's upper body was half-crouched, and its hind legs were tensed, but it had not jumped and pounced. Its brown-yellow eyes revealed a greedy and cruel look. It made a sound from its throat and stretched its head out to bite her.

At this critical moment, song qingxiao clenched her dagger and punched.

"Get lost!"

In order to save her life, she used the dagger to hit the Wolf's nose. This time, song qingxiao used all her strength to force it back, not to kill it.

Even though the Wolf's genes had mutated, song Qing's body had been strengthened. In addition, the Wolf's weak spot had been hit. It still let out a painful howl and was forced to take two steps back until its tail touched number two's calf.

Song qingxiao did not dare to continue the battle after the successful attack, just like number seven, and quickly retreated.

No. 2 thought that the crisis had been averted and was about to draw his bow and shoot, but song qingxiao had forced the wolf back in an instant.

The smug smile on his face had yet to fade, and in his panic, he did not have the time to turn the arrow back to the wolf's head. The wolf was hit in the nose, and it was even more enraged. It shook its fur, opened its mouth, and bit number two's calf.

"All..." In the chaos, number two instinctively opened his mouth and screamed. The brush in his mouth fell straight down. At this time, an incredible thought came to number two's mind. He didn't know whether to pick up the brush first or to shoot the arrow at the wolf's head.

After his leg was bitten, the wolf bit his leg and tried to drag him back. Number two soon had no time to think about it because a dry and wrinkled hand suddenly appeared out of thin air, caught his pen, and stepped back without hesitation.

"My pen!"

Number three took advantage of the chaos to grab the pen and clenched it tightly. Number two let out a roar of pain and shot an arrow at the wolf's head.

However, in his panic, he had long lost his accuracy. In addition, the continuous changes and the pain of his leg being bitten had made him lose his focus. His arrow did not have much power. The arrow even fell on the wolf's head with a 'poof' sound, but it only scratched his scalp and did not have much effect.

In a moment of desperation, number two raised the bow in his hand and smashed it on the wolf's head, trying to make it let go. However, the wolf refused to let go after it had bitten to death.

He endured the pain and sat up, trying to break one of the bowstrings to strangle the wolf.

However, the wolf suddenly let go. Before he could pull back his leg, the wolf bit at his wrist again. With a 'Kacha' sound, number two let out an earth-shattering scream, his wrist bone was broken by the wolf.

After crippling one of No. 2's hands, the wolf bit his other hand, then bit his leg and dragged him back..

Chapter 177: Escape (1)

This mutated Wolf was extremely cunning. After crippling number two's hands, he could no longer hold onto his life-saving bow and it fell to the ground.

However, his life was at stake, and number two was naturally unwilling to admit defeat.

He knew that if he was dragged away, his chances of survival would be very low. Although his wrist was crippled, one of his legs was bitten by a Wolf, and his greatest reliance, the brush, was snatched away by number three, number two's heart was already filled with hatred towards these trial-takers.

Anger and fear turned into unparalleled courage at this critical moment. He endured the pain and bent his elbow to support himself on the ground, trying to resist the speed of the Wolf's drag. At the same time, he raised his other leg and kicked the Wolf's nose.

He knew that he didn't have many chances, so if he wanted to kick, he had to find the weak point and hit it. He remembered that when song qingxiao was ambushed by number four, she held the handle of the dagger and hit the Wolf's nose hard, causing the wolf to feel pain.

This move was indeed effective. When he lifted his leg and kicked it with a 'bang', he was angry and his strength was extremely heavy. The Wolf's mouth let out a painful howl 'and immediately let go. It bared its teeth and revealed a ferocious look in its eyes.

Seeing that it worked, number two was overjoyed and struggled to Dodge to the side.

Although the trial-taker had run far away, there were many people around. The unexpected appearance of the three wolves scared the people in the team like headless flies, and they ran around in all directions.

At this moment, he only wanted to divert the disaster to the other side. As long as the wolf found another suitable prey, his chances of escaping would be higher.

He endured the pain and tried to crawl away. However, the moment he got up, he saw that Song Qingxiao had already taken out a dagger and was about to throw it at him.

The tip of the dagger seemed to be aimed at his neck. Number two knew very well how strong the trial-taker was.

Song Qing, whose body had been strengthened, was able to fight the strange fish with strength and force the wolf to retreat in times of crisis. If she threw the dagger, it would probably pierce her own throat.

“Don’t you dare!”

When Number Two saw this, he was both shocked and furious. He shouted on the spot and instinctively lowered his head to hide.

But the moment he lowered his head, he realized that he had made a mistake.

Song Qingxiao only pretended to throw the dagger, but she didn’t. Instead, when he retracted his head, she smiled sarcastically and slowly stopped throwing.

When No. 2 lowered his head, he missed the crucial moment to escape.

The giant gray wolf was not willing to give up on its prey after it was attacked by him.

The pain from the nose injury and the struggle of the prey infuriated the wolf. It made a threatening sound from its throat and bit on No. 2’s other leg with a ‘howl’, then shook its head hard.

“All...” Number two, who was kneeling on the ground, let out a cry of pain as if he was about to die. The giant wolf’s head-shaking action caused him to be unable to maintain his kneeling and fleeing figure, and he fell onto the grass.

This time, there was really no way to turn the situation around. No matter how hard he struggled, after the gray wolf bit the prey, it no longer gave him a chance to resist and pulled him back with all its might.

A long trail was left behind on the grass. In the blink of an eye, number two was dragged two to three meters away by the huge Wolf.

“Save me ... Save me!”

At the moment of life and death, whether it was a cultivator or an ordinary person, their performance would be the same.

Number two was shocked. A long bloody gash was drawn from his lower body. He begged with his eyes wide open,” number three, number three, save me. You have my pen, but you don’t know how to use it!

He spoke anxiously, afraid that he wouldn’t have the chance if he was too late.

He was so excited that his saliva was spurting out.”You saved me, so I’ll tell you how to use the pen! Number three, number three!”

When number two shouted, song qingxiao turned to look at number three. The old woman grabbed number two’s Pen and held back her breath. Her expression was cold and her face was sallow.

She wasn’t moved by number two’s words and didn’t have any intention of saving number two. Instead, she was cautiously retreating.

Song qingxiao tilted her head and remembered that number 3 had been ‘invisible’ more than three times since they had arrived on the island.

Even though the people who entered this scenario had gone through more than two trials and had certain powers, making them much stronger than ordinary people, but in a situation where the points were limited, even if number three had the ‘invisibility’ superpower, her superpower was not inexhaustible.

It wasn't that number two's words didn't move her, it was just that she couldn't move her heart..

Chapter 178: Escape (2)

After understanding this point, song Qing pursed his lips and revealed a smile.

She put the dagger back to her waist and looked at the trial-takers. Number seven and the others had already hidden far away. Number four, who had sneaked an attack on her earlier, had a gloomy look in his eyes and was frowning.

Number two, who was being dragged on the ground, was willing to release the pen's Secret in exchange for his life. However, he was destined to be disappointed.

Number three's reaction frightened him. His struggle was useless, and he was soon dragged behind the bushes.

The bodyguards were attacked by the two wolves and started to panic. They were more or less injured.

However, these bodyguards were well-trained after all. After they reacted, they quickly opened fire.

'Bang, bang, bang'. Although the two wolves were strong, they were quickly taken care of.

The ground by the stream was covered with blood, and the surrounding smell was pungent. The stones were splashed with blood and minced meat. The two wolves were not completely dead and were still twitching.

The bodyguards were about to collapse, but before they could breathe a sigh of relief, there was a 'sisuo' sound from behind the bushes, as if something was about to come out.

“Let’s go!”

Everyone was already like birds startled by the mere twang of a bow. Even the slightest sound was enough to make them panic.

They had used up too many bullets and many people were injured. Wolf one and the others, who Mr. Zhou relied on for survival, were already injured. If there were more wolves like this, some people would probably die Here.

“Save ... I... Save me ... You will all die a terrible death, a terrible death!”

Number two was still shouting in a shrill voice, unwilling to give up. His legs had already been dragged into the bushes, and his arms were trying to hold onto the short branches, not daring to let go.

Because of fear and resentment, his eyes were wide open and bloodshot. His hair hung down on his forehead, and the veins on his forehead were bulging. His face was twisted like a fierce ghost.

His gaze was so intimidating that even Zhou Xue Li couldn’t help but shiver when she instinctively turned her head to look at him.

At this time, no one would save him. It was too late for everyone to escape, not to mention that he was seriously injured. The bodyguards would not waste bullets to save a disabled person.

Little by little, he was dragged into the bushes. The branches swayed and slapped his face. In the blink of an eye, his figure disappeared.

“Let’s go!”

Zhou xueli suppressed the fear in her heart and decisively ordered.

Everyone retreated quickly, afraid that they would be killed by the mutant creatures if they were slow.

The bodyguard who had been injured earlier had lost his ability to move. He was seriously injured and had lost too much blood. On this Island, he could no longer help everyone.

No one was willing to bring a burden like him with them when they were fleeing for their lives.

He was lying on the ground half-dead, and the retreating team seemed to treat him like trash, leaving him where he was.

The branches and leaves of the thicket shook, and a Wolf dripping with blood slowly revealed its sharp mouth from the corner of the thicket.

It stuck out its tongue and licked the blood on its mouth and chin. It shook its huge head and slowly revealed more.

A pair of sinister eyes chased after the people who were desperately escaping. Seeing that these people did not even dare to carry their backpacks, they packed their things and quickly swam upwards, quickly disappearing into the corner of the stream.

Not until then did the huge Wolf, who had been hiding in the low woods and enjoying the dead body of the man who had entered the woods to urinate, slowly walk out of the woods.

It was a huge Wolf, much taller and larger than the previous wolves.

The color of its fur was a lot lighter than the gray wolf from before, and there was a faint silver luster, which made its blood-red eyes even more terrifying.

After it came out, it shook its fluffy fur and paced a few steps on the grass, as if it was a monarch inspecting its territory.

As if it had confirmed that there was no danger, it sniffed the ground. There were several backpacks scattered on the grass, as well as some food bags and mineral water bottles that had been torn open by people.

When they came here to rest, many of them had thrown the items on the ground to lose weight. However, as they were running for their lives, they were worried that the wolves would catch up to them. They didn't even have time to pick up the items and ran away in a hurry, leaving these items here.

The huge silver-white Wolf walked to a backpack and sniffed it hard. It even stretched out its claws and turned the backpack over, as if it was trying to remember the smell.

It sniffed every backpack, and then sniffed the mineral water bottles and food bags that were thrown on the ground. It memorized every smell before it walked to the bodyguard who was unable to move and was only breathing. Suddenly, it grinned.

The bodyguard opened his mouth, and the saliva at the corner of his mouth dripped onto the bodyguard's face. The bodyguard shivered, thinking that he was going to die. However, the wolf only stayed by his side for a moment, then returned to the three wolves that were shot and sniffed again.

The wolf in the stream was already dead, but it didn't even look at it. Even the other two wolves by the stream that had been shot were still kicking their legs, not completely dead.

After it walked over, the two wolves instinctively shrank their legs, their eyes showing fear and warning. The giant Silver Wolf sniffed for a while, as if confirming the smell, and suddenly lowered its head and stuck out its huge tongue, licking the blood on one of the wolves. Then it opened its mouth wide and bit off the twitching Wolf's neck with a 'Kacha' sound!

Large amounts of blood gushed out from the wound, and the wolf's head, which was gasping for breath, tilted to the side and fell to the ground. It was completely dead.

After the giant silver-white Wolf bit the wolf to death, it did the same to the other injured Wolf. When it raised its head, blood dripped down from the corner of its mouth along its silver-white fur. It looked in the direction that the crowd had fled in and grinned, its sharp teeth flashing with a cold light.

After escaping from the stream, no one dared to stay any longer.

No one dared to say anything along the way. The workers, professor Yan, and the others supported each other as they ran forward.

The bodyguards held their guns and looked around vigilantly..

Chapter 179: Alliance_i

Everyone walked for more than ten minutes in one breath, and they were getting further and further away from the stream where the accident had occurred. However, the roar of the wolf and the 'ka Cha' sound of the bones chewing still seemed to echo in everyone's hearts, making them shudder.

Under the urging of fear and the desire to live, no one dared to stay.

However, because the bodyguards had previously used ordinary people as scapegoats, many people were also afraid. Therefore, in the group, the ordinary workers formed their own small groups and supported each other as they walked on the left and right sides. Mr. Zhou, professor Yan, Wolf one, and a few other bodyguards formed teams.

After the previous incident, the participants were all on guard against each other. They were afraid of another sneak attack and did not dare to stay close. Number one and number three walked in front, number four was alone among the bodyguards, and song qingxiao and number seven walked behind.

The higher they went, the wider the stream became. The sound of the water was not as gentle as before, and it made a loud 'boom' sound, like a small waterfall.

Under the tension and stimulation, everyone's sweat flowed out in large amounts, but under the fear, no one even dared to breathe too loudly, afraid of attracting the hunters "pursuit.

Song qingxiao had been paying attention to the notification in her mind. After about 15 minutes, the notification finally changed.

Half of the hexagonal magic circle was still lit up, and the progress of killing mutant creatures remained the same.

However, the ritual's progress had changed from 1/6 to: It was now 2/6.

No. 2 was dead, but it had been almost 15 minutes since he had been dragged into the bushes by the wolf.

The wolf obviously had a unique way of eating, and it didn't end his life immediately.

While the wolves were eating, the trial-taker's strong physique and vitality did not bring him any benefits at all. Instead, it added to his endless pain.

The trial-takers must have received the message notification. Just as the sacrifice progress number changed, No. 7, who had been busy changing directions, suddenly turned his head.

"Number two is dead."

When she said this, there was a smile on her lips, with a hint of gloating.

Song Qing ignored her, and number seven didn't mind. She looked up and saw number one, three, and four. They were blocked by Mr. Zhou and the others in the middle, so she couldn't see them clearly.

Everyone's footsteps were unusually heavy. The sound of their footsteps was mixed with rapid heartbeats and panting, as if someone would fall to the ground and go into shock the next moment.

"can't you tell?" number seven lowered his voice, number one and number three might have already formed an alliance.

Song qingxiao had already seen through what she said.

There were seven trial-takers for this mission. Number one and number three must have formed an alliance. The two of them were inseparable, and they had acted together during several critical moments.

There should be an Alliance between number two and number four, so when the wolves attacked earlier, number two was targeted by them. Number four backstabbed song Qing and tried to save number two from danger.

“Number six is an idiot.” Number seven shrugged, he thinks number two and number four are sincere in forming an alliance with him. But he doesn’t understand that on this Island, it’s the safest for two people to work together.

Only one person could survive the mission. Because of the dangerous environment on the island, the two trial-takers formed an alliance and worked together to kill the others. Only when there were two people left would they have the greatest chance of winning.

With one more person, each of the three had a choice. In such an Alliance, no one would give their teammates the slightest trust.

Number six was already dead. When number seven mentioned him, it was obvious that he still remembered how he had ambushed him on the ship. With some disdain, he changed the topic,” the island is full of dangers. We still need to kill three more types of mutant creatures. Number five, they all have an Alliance. Why don’t we join forces and eliminate them?”

Number seven was a smart person. She knew that after traveling together, those who fought alone would be weak.

It was just like the Wolf Pack’s attack earlier, and number four had ambushed song qingxiao to save number two.

Every team planned to eliminate the others first before fighting each other. She and song qingxiao were both alone, so they were the best targets. However, when the wolves appeared, she fled after transforming. That was why number four had set her eyes on song qingxiao.

Number four and number two weren’t the only ones who thought this way. Number one and number three probably had similar ideas.

Her bloodline had been mutated, so she had a certain advantage over the others. However, number three's ability was elusive and unpredictable, making it impossible to guard against. It was the best choice for a sneak attack..

Chapter 180: Alliance_2

In addition, number three got number two's brush, which made him even more powerful.

let's form a team. Before we eliminate the others, we all swear to help each other. Seeing that song Qing was silent, number seven did not feel discouraged. He continued to persuade her," this way, we are a team. Number 1 and number 3 are a team. Number 2 is dead, and number 4 is alone. He ambushed you, so we can eliminate him first.

Out of the five surviving trial-takers, number one and number three had formed an alliance. Because number seven had been walking side by side with song qingxiao, once the two of them reached an agreement, number four would be the only one left. In that case, the other four would probably choose to attack him first.

He should be aware of this, so he was very vigilant and blended in with Mr. Zhou's group. He didn't dare to walk in front and get close to number one and number three. He also didn't dare to walk behind and get close to song qingxiao and number seven.

Song qingxiao raised her head and looked at number seven.

"Why don't you form an alliance with number four?"

Number seven said with confidence,"

"He has sneaked an attack on someone before. I don't trust him."

Song qingxiao didn't know whether to laugh or cry when number seven said that.

Number six's body hadn't even turned cold yet, and if the people in the underworld knew about it, they would probably die with their eyes wide open after hearing number Seven's words.

A woman who had sneaked up on someone and caused the tragic death of number six didn't believe that someone else had sneaked up on someone before. What a joke.

Number seven saw the smile on song Qing's face and guessed what she was thinking. Not only was he not angry, but he also laughed,"

"It's no coincidence that you've escaped death several times."

Once was fine, but she was able to escape several times. Furthermore, number Four's sudden attack failed to kill her. This proved that song qingxiao was not to be underestimated.

number one and number three aren't easy to deal with. In my opinion, their abilities might even complement each other. They're not easy to deal with. Number four isn't just a good-for-nothing, he's also very vicious. She couldn't even launch a sneak attack, let alone kill him face to face. He wasn't a good partner for her.

"If I want to live longer, I have to stay until the end. Allying with you is the most reliable way."

She smiled, let's work together to eliminate the others. We'll talk about the rest later. How is it?"

What number seven said made sense. As she said, number one and number three's abilities complemented each other. Number one's ability should be one of the nine-word secret order's spells, which were difficult to deal with.

Number three's ability was invisibility. He could hide in the dark. One was in the light and the other was in the dark. The two of them working together could easily cause trouble.

There was no disadvantage for song qingxiao to cooperate with number seven.

No. 7 was not a kind person, but she knew that once they cooperated, they could only kill the others by joining forces. As for the others, after they died, it would be easier to determine the winner between the two!

Song qingxiao thought of this and said,”

“I’m going to send number four on his way first.”

Number four had sneaked an attack on her, and the two of them had become enemies. She could not let this person live.

Her attitude was equivalent to expressing her position and agreeing to number Seven’s request.

Number seven smiled and nodded,”

“I understand.”

The two ended their short conversation, and the team had already reached the upper reaches of the stream.

After walking up for more than 15 minutes, the stream became wider and wider. The loud rumbling sound of the water was clearly transmitted into everyone’s ears. After about two to three minutes, everyone saw an extremely large pool.

The water was clear, and there were strange rocks in the distance. A large amount of water poured down, forming a small waterfall. After a long time, a pool of water had accumulated here.

It was unknown if it was because of the light, but everyone could see that there was a layer of translucent film floating on the surface of the water, as if it had a life of its own. The water rippled and moved slowly. Under the afterglow of the setting sun, it reflected a beautiful seven-colored luster.

There were a few unknown short trees next to them, hidden in the weeds that were half the height of a person. Occasionally, he could hear the buzzing sound of insects flapping their wings, but it was suppressed by the sound of water.

Everyone was at a loss when their path was blocked.

Song qingxiao was walking by the river. She could feel that number four, who was walking beside Mr. Zhou, was extremely guarded against her. He kept turning his head to observe her every move.

Number four had probably seen the scene of number seven whispering to her earlier.

She restrained the killing intent in her heart and looked at the pool..
