

Watch Out 251

Chapter 251: sudden (2)

Wherever the huge energy went, the extremely high temperature would burn and shrink her meridians. The pain that song qingxiao suffered was overwhelming.

However, the stimulation brought by the pain kept her awake and did not make her faint.

“All...”

The scorching heat evaporated her blood, and her vision turned red. She saw that the skin on her hand holding the dagger was red to purple, and it was drying up at an extraordinary speed, as if it had been burned by something.

This could not go on!

If this situation was allowed to continue, she would probably die to the potion before the Dragon snake could kill her.

The temperature was getting higher and higher. She could even hear the sound of her blood boiling in her body. On the back of her hand that was holding the knife, the blood vessels bulged and throbbed like boiling water.

With a ‘bu’ sound, the thin skin finally couldn’t withstand the collision of this energy, and became the first breakthrough point. The skin split open, and a soybean-sized wound appeared on the back of the hand. It began to spread like a plague, and in the blink of an eye, it had grown to the size of a copper coin.

At the same time, song qingxiao could clearly feel that her body was starting to crack.

It was as if his body would turn into a fireball at any moment. The energy was strange, and even the heavy rain could not penetrate it.

“Phew... Hu ... At this moment, song qingxiao’s expression was twisted. It was as if there was a fire in her throat. Every breath she took was extremely difficult. The injuries all over her body were gradually increasing. If she was not stopped, she would be burned into nothingness in at most ten seconds under this high temperature!

At the same time, song qingxiao realized with some tragedy that as this power flowed through her body, it was as if a ferocious demonic beast had been imprisoned in her body. It brought destruction, but it also contained an endless amount of power that was sealed within.

At this time, her body showed an extremely strange contrast. She could already hear that her bone armor was extremely fragile due to the high temperature, as if it would break under the rain. However, she felt that there seemed to be enough energy in her body that could destroy the world that had not been used. This feeling wasn’t an illusion she had on the verge of death, because in the next moment, she gripped the black Dagger tightly and easily pulled out the blade that had pierced into the Dragon snake’s scale.

The moment the dagger was pulled out, it brought out a few drops of light blue snake blood, ah-”

She let out a sharp cry, gripped the dagger tightly, and stabbed it into the Dragon snake’s body again, venting the pain in her body.

With a ‘pop’, the tough scales of the serpent were easily penetrated. At the same time, the bones in her arm cracked. She used the last of her strength to pull out the dagger. Her left eyelid was already burning, followed by her nose, cheek, and forehead.

Am I going to die?

The thought flashed through her mind. When the dagger was pulled out, light blue snake blood spurted out and splashed on song Qing’s head.

With a 'Chi' sound, it was as if someone had poured a basin of cold water on a raging fire. The snake's blood splashed on his burning face, and he immediately felt a cool and refreshing feeling.

Under the effect of the potion, her body was like a burning furnace. Even the heavy rain could not cool down her boiling blood, but the snake blood was useful!

The wound on her cheek felt much better after being soothed by the snake's blood. This snake's blood was simply a life-saving medicine for her!

Overjoyed, she randomly stabbed the snake's body with her dagger, hoping to get a cool and refreshing feeling when the snake's blood gushed out.

After being stabbed a few times, the giant "Dragon" tightened its grip in pain. The bones in song Qing's small waist cracked.

Number Seven's physical body was so strong after shapeshifting, but he had died from a blow from the giant "Dragon".

However, song Qing's life force was not extinguished after the Dragon snake broke her small bones.

The energy that was destroying song Qing's life force began to resist the Dragon snake's energy after she was attacked. It actually began to repair her broken bones.

The boiling hot blood flowed through the injured area, and the broken bones began to heal. This kind of pain was undoubtedly the greatest torture in the world.

The pressure from the outside world and the self-healing of her body began a cycle of resistance. Even though song Qing was strong-willed, under such repeated torture, she could not help but break out in cold sweat and scream.

As the energy repaired her body, the temperature of her blood began to rise again. She stabbed seven or eight holes in the giant "Dragon",

She did it without any technique and only relied on her instincts. A large piece of the Dragon snake's scales was pried off by her knife, revealing the tender flesh inside.

The snake's blood was of no use. Her internal organs were burning, and song qingxiao could not help but remember the effects of the snake's blood.

When the flood serpent's blood had been sprayed on her wound, it had relieved her pain. She wondered if drinking it now would be able to control the power in her body!

As soon as she had this thought, she could no longer suppress it. She suddenly opened her mouth and bit the Dragon snake's bloody wound.

Large mouthfuls of strange blood were swallowed by her, as if she was drinking water!

As she expected, as the cold blood was swallowed, the burning feeling in her body was strangely soothed.

After she swallowed the blood of the mutant serpent, it came into contact with the evolving liquid in her body and began to mutate.

The medicinal power turned into energy and fused with the flood serpent's blood. The burn wound on the back of her hand began to heal quickly, and light blue spots the size of beans appeared on it and slowly grew. They were like a layer of invisible scales, covering her cheeks, arms, and every part of her body that was covered by clothes.

At the same time, the bloody legs below the waist that were bound by the Dragon snake were also repaired. The flesh and blood began to connect, and the two legs became one and began to extend downward.

The invisible force seemed to have finally found an outlet when the legs came together and extended outwards. It flowed down without stopping.

However, song qingxiao could not care about that. She only knew that the moment she swallowed the snake blood, her pain was relieved.

It was as if she had found a wonderful prescription to focus on this disease. At this time, she changed from passive to active. Her teeth tore at the giant" dragon's " flesh, trying to suck out more blood.

Song qingxiao didn't notice it. As she absorbed more and more blood, her body started to change. A thick tail replaced her tied legs and was growing at an incredible speed!

The huge force finally found its place. Under the seemingly endless supply of energy, song Qing's tail quickly reached two meters, three meters ...

This force clashed with the Dragon snake's twisting force, and the snake's tail, which was originally wrapped tightly, involuntarily loosened bit by bit under the rapid growth of the tail..

Chapter 252: The mutation (1)

At the same time, she grabbed the dagger with both hands and stabbed it randomly. The snake, in pain, wrapped its body tightly around her and rolled on the ground, wrapping her legs even tighter.

When the flood Dragon was about to strangle her, she was still thinking of escaping. But now, the situation was completely the opposite.

The snake tail that was wrapped around song qingxiao was pried open section by section, and its scales made an ear-piercing sound as they rubbed against each other. On this Island, the Dragon snake was already an invincible existence. Now that Leng Shang was injured, he was extremely furious.

The situation seemed to have gone out of control. Its natural instincts made it make a decision. It lowered its head and pressed it against the ground, dragging song qingxiao along.

A human and a snake rolled on the ground. When the snake's tail whipped about, broken walls and tiles flew everywhere. The battle formation was even fiercer than when the giant flood Dragon had destroyed the laboratory Hall.

Under the pressure, song qingxiao's bones made 'crack, crack' sounds. Her back scraped against the uneven ground, leaving a lot of wounds.

The moment the wound appeared, it was as if it had been burned by high temperature, sealing the blood inside.

She couldn't see her back, and the pain was burning her mind. Song qingxiao didn't know that the wound on her back was healing at a visible speed. The Dragon snake moved her forward and rubbed her back, leaving a wound. This cycle repeated.

However, this pain was not even one-ten-thousandth of the pain caused by the mutation in her body, so song qingxiao did not realize that as she was injured more and more, she recovered faster. At the same time, blue lines appeared on her body, gradually blocking the injuries she had suffered from being dragged by the Dragon snake.

Song qingxiao's body was like a furnace with extremely high temperature. Under the boiling blood, she would not let go until the flood Dragon died.

A large amount of snake blood relieved her pain. Even though she knew that the giant" dragon's " gene might mutate and that she would be infected after drinking the snake blood, song qingxiao could not care so much at this time.

The Dragon saw that it could not kill song qingxiao with this method. By now, it had a feeling that song qingxiao was not as easy to deal with as the prey it had killed before. It began to slowly spit out number Seven's body. Clearly, it wanted to kill song qingxiao first.

Under the lightning, the survivors hiding in the ruins saw this shocking scene and didn't even dare to breathe.

Song qingxiao's body was covered in blue snake blood. As she sucked in more and more snake blood, a pair of bamboo shoot-like horns slowly grew on her head. Her eyes turned from brown to brown, then from brown to faint, until they became faint gold. Finally, they turned into vertical pupils like the Dragon snake's. Under the silver lightning, they shone with a bright luster and were extremely eye-catching!

Number Seven's body was slowly spat out by the snake. Her waist fell out, followed by her arms, which were covered in a large amount of mucus. As the Dragon snake struggled with all its might, her arms seemed to come to life. They swung around, and the mucus flew everywhere.

Thunder rumbled incessantly, accompanied by clanking sounds of violent collisions.

The people under the ruins watched this shocking moment with fear. Song qingxiao did not notice the change, but everyone else saw it. Her tail was still growing, and it was already five or six meters long. It was still growing, as if there was no end to it!

She had turned into a monster with a human head and a snake body in front of everyone!

But fortunately, the flood Dragon was entangled by her and didn't kill anyone else for the time being.

All the survivors were praying for her to hold on a little longer. Professor Yan had said that he had already thought of ways to spread the news. The rescue plane might arrive soon. As long as this woman held on a little longer, when the rescue plane arrived, those people would kill this monster.

Song qingxiao could no longer sense her surroundings. The temperature of her blood rose higher and higher. Every time her bones and tendons were broken and reassembled, her body would have a qualitative improvement.

However, at the same time, the pain was doubled. This situation was like a vicious cycle. She knew this, but she could not stop it.

The flood serpent became even more anxious. Its body twisted into a huge fried dough twist on the ground, and its long tail whipped wildly. Gravel flew in the air, and number Seven's body rubbed against the ground until it was a bloody mess.

It rolled itself into a ball and tried again, but no matter what, it could only barely control song qingxiao, and it felt like it was not following its heart.

The prey's aura was changing. From being as weak as an ant, it was slowly transforming into a ferocious flood Dragon.

After a few times, the Dragon snake, which seemed to have become a spirit, sensed that something was wrong.

He couldn't kill song qingxiao quickly, and instead, she added more wounds to his body.

If he allowed this situation to continue, he was afraid that song qingxiao would eventually devour him when she grew up.

Having evolved to the extent of the flood serpent, its intelligence was no longer inferior to that of a primate.

After having a bad premonition, the Dragon snake finally felt a sense of fear.

Ever since it had evolved, it was almost invincible on this half Island. It had not experienced this kind of instinctive fear for a long time.

However, other than fear, the Dragon snake also felt a faint sense of excitement.

Song qingxiao was different from other mutated creatures. Its instinct told it that if it ate her, it would get unexpected benefits.

Its greed and hunting instinct overpowered its fear, and it spat out the corpse of the seventh at a faster pace.

Number Seven's body slowly moved backward, and his shoulder was almost exposed.

A loud sound came from the snake's mouth, and its forked tongue moved. With a 'bu' sound, number Seven's head finally slid out of the Dragon snake's mouth.

With a thump, number Seven's body fell beside song qingxiao, and the arm that was hanging down happened to fall on her back.

It was cold, slippery, and had the unique chill of a dead body. Her head was tilted in the direction of song Qing's small face. Her distorted face could no longer be recognized as number Seven's shadow. It was covered in a thick layer of mucus, disgusting and terrifying.

This glance was like a nightmare, and it was impossible to remove it from one's memory.

ha! the flood Dragon spat out the corpse of number seven and opened its bloody mouth. Its pupils shrank to the size of needle tips, and a foul wind blew out of its mouth!

BOOM! A bolt of lightning struck down, followed by sizzling sounds.

Its sharp fangs glinted coldly under the lightning as it bit down on song Qing's head.

Just then, a silver bolt of lightning came out of the gloomy forest and flew in song qingxiao's direction.

The lightning was unusually fast, and with a few rises and falls, it created a large splash. In the blink of an eye, it was not far from the Dragon snake.

Before the giant "Dragon" could bite song qingxiao, it had already sensed that something was wrong and instinctively raised its head.

It was a huge silver-white Wolf. Its fur had been wet by the rain and there were some blood stains on it. At this time, it bared its teeth and the tip of its feet gently touched the ruins. Its huge body rose into the air and under the lightning and thunder, it turned into a shadow and pounced over.

Song qingxiao could hear the movement beside her and felt the open mouth of the Dragon snake approaching in front of her. Behind her, there was also a murderous intent. She could not move forward or retreat, but she was trapped and could not struggle free.

get lost! at this critical moment, she let out an unusually sharp Shout!

The brutal energy in her body turned into a fierce demon beast, swimming to her limbs and bones.

The tail, which had grown to seven or eight meters long and had been hanging on the ground without moving, instantly rose up like a sharp sword that had just been unsheathed, causing a spray of water.

At that moment, the flood Dragon had thought that victory was in its grasp. However, the moment it saw the giant Silver Wolf, a trace of human-like anger flashed in its cold Snake Eyes.

It had been the king of the island for many years. Since its evolution, no creature had ever dared to be so arrogant in front of it.

Moreover, song qingxiao was already its prey and was about to be devoured. There was no way other creatures could get a share.

The giant Silver Wolf's actions were no different from issuing a challenge to it!

Chapter 253: The end of the world (1)

The Dragon snake saw the Wolf's action as a provocation. It temporarily gave up the plan to bite song qingxiao. It endured the pain and bit the silver Wolf, ready to deal with the wolf first.

Although the wolf was fast, the Dragon snake was even more extraordinary after its evolution. The moment the Wolf's mouth was about to bite song qingxiao, the giant dragon also opened its mouth and bit the Wolf's hind leg.

The fangs glinted with a cold light and sank into the Wolf's leg. The giant Wolf was attacked, and it let out a painful 'wail',

'Wuuu...'

The venom was injected into the Wolf's mouth through its teeth. Even after being injured, the wolf was still extremely fierce. It rolled back to its upper body and opened its mouth to bite the dragon's head.

The dragon's scales were extremely thick. When the silver-white giant Wolf's sharp teeth bit on its scales, it made a sound like metal clashing, leaving several marks, but it did not cause any real damage to the Dragon snake.

Although the wolf was fierce, it was not the Dragon snake's opponent. After the Dragon snake bit it, it opened its mouth wide and tried to swallow the giant Wolf.

The silver-white Wolf was poisoned, and its Scarlet eyes gradually lost their luster. However, its ferocity didn't decrease. It whimpered and bit the Dragon snake's head, but it was nailed by the poisonous fangs. It couldn't control itself. The Dragon snake's wide-open mouth was like a deep, bottomless hole, slowly swallowing it.

The silver Wolf in the air was still struggling on its deathbed. In the muffled rumbling of Thunder, bright silver lightning cut through the sky, illuminating the dark night as if it were daytime.

A huge blue light rose slowly at this time, covering the entangled Wolf and snake.

The dying Silver Wolf instinctively moved its head. Under the night sky, a long and thick tail appeared out of thin air, standing upright in the air.

Under the illumination of the lightning, the light blue scales on the tail flickered with a sharp glint. In the next moment, the tip of the tail suddenly moved, and the shadow instantly surged like a turbulent wave, slapping in the direction of the Dragon snake with lightning speed.

Before the tail had even reached it, the wind had already arrived, bringing with it a splash of water. The silver fur on the giant Wolf's body swayed from the strong wind. The moment the Dragon snake sensed that something was wrong, it was too late to Dodge.

The long and powerful tail hit the Dragon snake's head with a 'pa' sound, making a sound of skin and flesh colliding.

The force of this slap was not to be underestimated. The head of the giant "Dragon" was covered with scales of various sizes that were hard and extraordinary, but it was smashed into pieces by this slap. Large streams of snake blood flowed down its head and into the mouth of the silver Wolf.

The huge snake's head was smacked to the left and fell down. With a cracking sound, the Fang that bit into the silver Wolf's hind leg immediately broke into the Wolf's body. At the same time, it powerlessly released the huge mouth that was swallowing the silver Wolf.

Although most of the force was borne by the giant "Dragon", under the aftershock of the force, the silver Wolf still swung its four limbs and flew into the air with a broken poisonous Fang.

With a 'bang', the silver-white giant Wolf fell to the ground, splashing the seawater that seeped out of the ground. It raised its head, but its eyes were still proud and fierce. It grinned, revealing its teeth, and even let out a threatening growl.

There was a broken Fang stuck in its hind leg, blocking the blood inside. Only a small amount of blood seeped out, which was washed by the rain and dyed its silver-white fur pink.

The wolf was severely injured, but it still trembled and refused to admit defeat. It struggled to get up, but after a few attempts, it could not even stand firmly, except for splashing water.

The blue tail's momentum did not decrease. In the end, it swept out from the top of the giant" dragon's " head, flattening a small mountain of steel bars and stones. It finally landed on the ground with a 'boom' and was covered by a large number of building debris.

The flood serpent's head hit the tree that it had swept down earlier with a clang, causing the thick tree trunk to move back a large distance. The branches and leaves cracked, and the momentum of the tree trunk was finally stopped.

The scene was a mess. The wind blew up a large number of broken leaves in the sky, and the rain fell. The Dragon snake was furious after being hit. It had been the king of the island for many years, and it had rarely suffered such a loss.

Its severely injured head slithered toward song qingxiao. It opened its mouth, revealing its fangs, ready to swallow song qingxiao.

Everything had gone out of control, and the flood serpent had lost its calm and unhurried hunting attitude. It was slowly becoming more and more anxious..

Chapter 254: The end of the world (2)

It endured the pain and pulled its body closer to song qingxiao. It opened its mouth, and its fangs glinted coldly.

The snake's tongue touched song qingxiao's back, and its cold, venomous fangs pierced through her back like the sharpest daggers, penetrating her internal organs.

"Hiss ..." In pain, song qingxiao loosened her bite on the snake. 'Bang, bang, bang, bang', as the snake's venom was injected, her heart beat so fast that it had exceeded the limits of what a human could withstand.

All she could hear was the constant beating of her heart and the sound of her heavy breathing. The extreme cold and the extreme heat were transmitted to every nerve cell of hers at the same time.

Song qingxiao had not yet reacted to what had happened. Her lower body seemed to be covered by something powerful yet unfamiliar, which made her feel extremely terrified.

The evolution medicine, the flood serpent's blood, and venom surged and mixed in her body. Her body was like a battlefield, allowing these three kinds of energy to wreak havoc.

The Dragon snake's mouth was opened to an unbelievable extent, and it wanted to swallow her.

In its memory of hunting, after its prey was entangled by it, it would inject poison into it and then swallow it. It was almost impossible for the prey to escape.

This delicious meal was already in its bag.

However, even now, song qingxiao was not willing to die.

Half of her body had been bitten. The mouth of the flood Dragon was like a huge black hole, and a terrifying suction force was trying to suck her in.

Under this terrifying suction force, her spine was broken, making a 'ka ka' sound, and it seemed like it would break in the next moment.

"Let go! Let go! Get lost!" Her whole body trembled as the shadow of death shrouded her heart.

Her body temperature was still rising, her blood was boiling, and her bone armor was making 'GE GE' sounds as it repaired her broken body bit by bit.

She used all her strength and waved the dagger around, but the Dragon snake did not let go after biting her. It slowly stuffed her into its soft mouth.

A disgusting, cold mucus stuck to her body, causing her skin to Twitch, but the temperature of her body had risen to an unprecedented height.

However, after the baptism of the snake's blood, her body had become stronger and could completely accept the transformation of this terrifying potion. It was just that song qingxiao had not realized it yet.

Under the torture of Ice and Fire, song Qing could hear his heart beating rapidly and the sound of his blood flowing through his veins.

At this time, the voices outside gradually disappeared.

The endless Thunder, the heavy rain, the rising sea water, and the silver Wolf that was lying on the ground trying to take revenge but was eventually seriously injured by the snake's mouth, struggling in its death.

Under the ruins in the distance, there seemed to be a living person peeking at her, but no one reached out to help her.

"Painting... Painting the land ..." The rain poured into her mouth, and the pain was everywhere. She gritted her teeth and said in a trembling voice,"

"I'm imprisoned..."

It was strange to say that her spiritual power was originally very weak after overusing it. Song qingxiao was not sure if she could successfully use the 'Lin' word technique of the nine-word secret order at this time and how effective it would be against the Dragon snake.

However, the moment she recited the incantation, she felt a certain natural element in her surroundings rapidly draw closer to her body.

It was an indescribable feeling. It was like the power of the water between heaven and earth, gentle and moist, repairing her exhausted spiritual energy a little.

Perhaps it was because she was on the verge of death, but she burst out with unimaginable power. The moment the 'Lin' word technique was cast, it displayed an unprecedented power.

"I'm sleepy!" She spat out the last word.

The Dragon snake's swallowing action froze, and time seemed to have stopped. The rain was blocked out of the domain. She endured the intense pain of her body being pierced, held the dagger with both hands, and stabbed it into the snake's jaw.

She was not very familiar with this foreign mental energy and was not able to control it as she wished. Thus, the 'Lin' word only had an effect on the Dragon snake for less than two seconds. When the dagger touched the body of the giant dragon, it was like a 'curse' that was broken.

However, even a second or two was enough to save her life.

The scales on the snake's head were not as hard and thick as its body, and song qingxiao's desire to live was stimulated to an unprecedented height.

The dagger stabbed into the snake's head. The snake was in pain, and it let out a hiss from its stomach. She pulled out the dagger, and a large amount of snake blood spurted out, spraying on her head, face, and hands.

In order to prevent herself from being swallowed by the Dragon snake, she stuck the dagger in her hand into the Dragon snake's wound and grabbed it tightly. At the same time, she opened her mouth and bit the snake's wound.

A large amount of snake blood gushed into her mouth, and she swallowed it.

At this moment, he didn't care about any moves or methods. He was only moving based on his survival instincts.

The giant "Dragon" was injured at this time, and its tail began to whip wildly again. It rolled wildly on the ground, once again stirring up the place that was already severely damaged with a destructive force.

The entire process was soul-shaking!

But the more she did, the more song qingxiao refused to let go.

At this point, it was either you die or I live.

She didn't know how much snake blood she had consumed, and she didn't dare to think about it. Her consciousness was gradually blurring, and the blood vessels in her mind were throbbing, almost overpowering the sound of her heartbeat.

Was she going to die?

Such a thought flashed through song qingxiao's mind.

The Dragon snake rolled with her, and the world in front of her seemed to be spinning. For a moment, lightning flashed and Thunder rumbled in the sky, and the next moment, they were on the ground.

It was as if her entire body had been stuffed into a washing machine, and it was constantly being turned and heated. In the ruins, something heavy was being dragged out, and stones rolled down with a clatter.

A tail covered in mud was slanted on the ground like a fallen tree. When it was washed by the rain, the blue scales on the tail glowed coldly under the lightning..

Chapter 255: revival (1)

The torrential rain fell on the long blue tail, and the tip of the tail that was slanted on the ground suddenly moved slightly.

The flood serpent's sharp senses detected this movement, and its biological instincts had already made it feel danger.

The Dragon snake was covered in wounds and had lost its interest in hunting. It was ready to drag song qingxiao away from this place and swallow her.

Song Qing's small body was involuntarily dragged away by the Dragon snake, but as she swallowed large amounts of the Dragon snake's blood into her stomach, it fused with the evolution potion in her body, and the tail that her legs turned into became even more terrifying.

The giant Silver Wolf was still biting the Dragon snake's tail. When the Dragon fled with its wounded body, the giant Silver Wolf refused to let go.

The dragon's body, which was more than ten meters long, was pulled straight. At the same time, it dragged the silver-white giant Wolf in the water.

Long drag marks were left on the ground, and the seawater that seeped out of the ground was divided. The waves were rolling, making a 'Hua Hua' sound.

The area within a few meters of the man and the snake seemed to have been bombed.

The sand, stones, and bricks were crushed into pieces by the powerful collision between the giant "Dragon" and song qingxiao's previous attacks. They were swept far away, leaving a large empty space.

The seawater had already seeped out of the ground about two to three centimeters high and was dyed with a faint luster by the blue snake blood.

Song Qing hung in the Dragon snake's mouth and bit its body.

Her back was bent at a terrifying angle, and her legs were replaced by a snake tail covered in blue scales. The long tail extended for more than ten meters, but song qingxiao did not notice it.

She focused all her attention on the various parts of her body. The sound of her blood vessels and tendons snapping and reconnecting was very clear. After that inhuman pain, what followed was the feeling of absolute power.

Song qingxiao even began to enjoy the process of her body being reconstructed, and her thoughts began to clear up.

She moved her swollen eyes. When she was fighting with the Dragon snake, her face had been scratched by the snake's scales. In the process of the Dragon snake's escape, half of her head had been pressed against the ground and rubbed. Now, she was soaked in seawater and rain, and she was swollen like a pig's head.

The eyelid seemed to weigh a thousand pounds, and it barely opened a gap. The heavily injured Silver Wolf moved twice in the water, then opened its mouth and bit the tail of the giant snake.

The Dragon snake's scales had cut its mouth. It lay in the water and twitched instinctively. It was unknown if it was dead or not.

The Dragon snake was in a hurry to take song qingxiao away from this damn place. It was impatient to drag a burden. With a swing of its tail, the silver Wolf, who was initially determined to not let go, was flung away by this terrifying force. It fell to the side of the snake's head with a 'plop'.

It got up unsteadily and climbed towards the snake's head. The snake sensed its movement and contracted its abdomen to give a warning, but the huge Silver Wolf was not afraid.

The giant "Dragon" was furious at this moment. If it had not been injured in the process of devouring song qingxiao tonight, the wolf King would have been like an ant in its eyes. It would not have taken it seriously.

However, now that it was trapped in the shallow waters, this mutated giant Wolf actually dared to challenge it.

It was in a hurry to devour song qingxiao and was impatient to fight with the silver Wolf. It bit song qingxiao and raised its head to hit the silver Wolf!

The silver Wolf was at a disadvantage. Regardless of whether it was injured or not, it was not the opponent of the flood Dragon that had evolved to an extremely high level. It was hit in the stomach, and the bones in its chest made a cracking sound. It fell into the air and finally fell into the water two or three meters away with a bang.

The silver Wolf was badly injured, and it let out a 'awoo' cry. However, it was not a match for him, but it refused to admit defeat, even if its breath was getting weaker and weaker.

The Dragon snake finished off the wolf and dragged song qingxiao forward. However, the silver Wolf that had fallen to the ground staggered and stood up with great difficulty. The rain washed over its huge body, and its fluffy silver fur stuck to its strong body. It was no match for the Dragon snake that was more than ten meters long.

But at this moment, its eyes flashed with a faint green light, and it bared its teeth, revealing a fierce look.

Even though it was heavily injured, poisoned, and almost killed by the Dragon snake several times, the giant Wolf did not retreat. On the contrary, it seemed to have been provoked. Its two legs were suspended in the air, and only one of its front and back legs was supporting it. It limped and barely managed to walk two steps, and a low 'Wu Wu' warning came from its throat. Taking advantage of the Dragon snake's futile attempt to swallow song qingxiao into its stomach, it seemed to use the last of its strength to jump up and put its front claws on the Dragon snake's head.

Its hind leg was injured and could no longer exert any strength. This jump seemed to have drained it of what little strength it had left. It opened its mouth wide, revealing its sharp canine teeth, and bit down hard on the flood dragon's eyes!

The Dragon snake's body was covered in scales, and ordinary weapons could not break through it. However, its eyes were extremely fragile.

It was entangled by song qingxiao, and they couldn't do anything to each other. When the silver Wolf jumped on its head, it felt like it was seriously offended by a worm-like creature.

The Dragon snake's pale golden pupils turned into a straight line. Before it could react, the silver-white giant Wolf had already opened its mouth, revealing its terrifying white teeth. Although the silver Wolf was seriously injured, it still had some strength left. Its sharp teeth pressed down on the Dragon snake's eyes and bit it hard, breaking the Dragon snake's eyes!

The snake's blood splattered all over the silver Wolf's face and mouth.

'Si si'!

With its eyes injured, the Dragon snake's stomach bulged and contracted, and it let out a painful hiss. This was no small pain. Its long body instantly curled up, and its huge snake head shook desperately, trying to get rid of the silver Wolf.

However, the giant Wolf was extremely vengeful and would rather die than let go-

Song qingxiao was dizzy from the shaking. She instinctively wanted to bend her legs and kick around to escape the snake's mouth.

However, as she moved, she did not raise a pair of bent long legs, but a long tail that was not inferior to a Dragon snake. This feeling was extremely strange. A powerful force flowed through her lower body and was awakened by her movement. Song qingxiao was both scared and excited.

The tail swept toward the snake's head again with a destructive force.

This was only her subconscious action. The serpent had lost an eye, and its movements were restricted by the giant Wolf that was not afraid of death. Its huge body shrank into a ball of thread under the intense pain. Song qingxiao swung her tail, and at the moment of death, the serpent endured the pain and raised its head to RAM into song qingxiao's tail with the giant Wolf. One man, one snake, and one wolf were hit head-on!

The giant Silver Wolf also involuntarily let go under this force and was thrown out, breaking a beam and making a loud noise. The hill-like stone pile collapsed with a 'boom', and the bricks and soil buried it in the pile of rubble.

The attack was successful, but the huge recoil was suppressed by song qingxiao's even more powerful strength..

Chapter 256: Nine deaths (1)

Blood gushed out of the Dragon snake's body, but it was still unwilling to give up. After being slapped away, it immediately stuck out its tongue and raised its head fiercely. However, its powerful blue tail was raised high again, and then slapped down with even more force!

The sound of the collision drowned out the Thunder and came from above the ruins of the laboratory. The force of this sound was stronger than before. Countless golden scales with a little blue flew in the air under the lightning. The light blue snake blood dyed the transparent rain with a dreamy color. The giant dragon's unusually large head was smacked to the ground and fell on a pile of broken walls, making an earth-shaking sound.

This violent movement seemed to have caused a small tsunami. The wind was strong, and the sand, leaves, and debris flew high, blinding the eyes of many survivors hiding in the ruins.

This time, not only did the snake and Wolf not get a good beating, but song qingxiao herself had also suffered a heavy blow.

Before she could fully recover from her old injuries, new injuries had appeared. After two head-on clashes with the Dragon snake, song qingxiao was also quite injured. She had taken half of the damage caused by the Dragon snake's force. It was as if half of her soul had been knocked away. In a moment of dizziness, the upper half of her body flew out involuntarily. Her long tail was dragged on the ground. Finally, her body crashed into a pile of rubble with a clang, and she let out a painful groan.

The flood serpent was already an arrow at the end of its flight. Now that it had lost an eye, it was in extreme pain. After suffering two heavy blows in a row, it lay on the ground. It raised its head several times, but it could not lift it up.

The thick and long body hit the stone pile randomly, rolling and struggling before death, splashing sand, stones, and water.

In the hazy rain and fog, the Thunder rumbled again, but it was much softer than before, as if it was going to stop.

When the people hiding under the ruins saw this extremely dangerous scene, they were all on tenterhooks and didn't dare to make a sound.

The seawater was dyed light blue by the large amount of snake blood that had poured in. This battle went on for about one to two minutes. The giant "Dragon"'s "struggling" speed gradually slowed down. It slowly lay on the pile of stones, exhaling more air than it inhaled.

The bones in Song Qingxiao's upper body were shattered, and her internal organs seemed to have been stirred. Her vision turned black from the intense pain, and she wished she could pass out.

The sound of 'bang bang bang' outside did not stop, and it finally calmed down after a long time.

She raised her arm shakily and pushed away a rock that was pressing down on her. She exhaled and coughed.

cough, cough, cough...

A large amount of spittle mixed with blood spurted out, and every cough in his chest caused a heart-wrenching pain.

With a 'plop', her upper body fell into the sea. The cold sea water splashed on her face, causing her to shiver and her chaotic thoughts to become much clearer.

A large amount of salty seawater poured into her mouth, washing away the dust and the smell of blood in her mouth, but it stimulated the wound in her mouth, which was cold and painful.

The dagger was still in her hand. She was still alive!

Song Qing twitched the corner of his mouth and revealed a look of relief after surviving a disaster. This action affected his wound and brought a sharp pain.

She staggered and endured the pain. She climbed up with both hands and leaned her upper body against the ruins to catch her breath.

'Ka ka ka', it was as if her bones were being forcibly restored in her chest. That kind of pain was not something ordinary people could endure.

Song qingxiao endured the pain and slowly stood up.

The ruins of the laboratory, which had just experienced a huge battle, were now beyond recognition. After everything was over, the surroundings were eerily quiet.

In the distance, a huge Golden Dragon snake lay on the ruins, making a sound of its dying struggle.

She coughed twice again, spitting out small stones and sand with blood in her throat. She turned her head with difficulty to look at the other side.

There was a small hill of rubble and sand, and something was moving inside.

She gritted her teeth and coughed again. Her broken sternum scraped against each other, causing severe pain.

Song qingxiao held the dagger tightly, and her eyes were filled with killing intent. The 'Hili' was pushed open, and a black, round nose was revealed. The big mouth of the wolf poked out, followed by its huge head.

It actually didn't die!

She suddenly remembered her mission prompt. At present, she only had one mission left. She had to kill one more mutant creature and her mission would be completed. Once the mission was completed, she could leave this damn place and return to reality..

Chapter 257: Nine deaths (2)

Her gaze fell on the wolf's head that had emerged from the ruins. It was dying, so killing it was the easiest.

It should be the king of the wolves who had ambushed her by the stream. This thing was fierce and vengeful, and she had almost been killed by the wolves.

It didn't appear by the stream, but it took revenge for the dead wolves and attacked the humans.

In the process of his sneak attack, he had left a wound on it. This Wolf bore a grudge and had followed him all the way here, trying to kill him.

After killing it, he should be able to light up the last hexagram magic array, which would also pull him into the mission progress.

On the contrary, although the giant "Dragon" seemed to be half-dead, it was difficult to guarantee that it would not counterattack fiercely before it died. Killing the wolf was the most reliable way.

The huge silver-white Wolf's eyes were already half-squinted. When it saw song qingxiao and felt her killing intent, its hair stood up again.

The dying giant Wolf seemed to have felt song qingxiao's gaze, and its eyes flashed with pride. It bared its teeth and made threatening 'wuwu' sounds from its nostrils.

This Wolf had a strong life and was about to die, but it still had a strong momentum.

‘Oh.’ Song qingxiao laughed weakly. She was not in a hurry to kill it.

When the wolf saw that she was not moving, it turned its head and used its front claws to push away the collapsed stones. It trembled and crawled out. The stones rolled into the water, making ‘plop, plop’ sounds.

Its silver-white fur was stained with dust, and the moment it came out, it couldn’t even stand steadily. It fell into the water with a ‘bang’, but it was still unwilling to give up and tried to stand up.

Song qingxiao did not care about it. After resting for a while, she clutched her chest and slowly looked down.

Her clothes had been torn during the intense hunting process, revealing large areas of her skin, which were covered with a light blue scale-like Halo.

Under her undulating chest was a soft and slender waist.

But below her waist, a huge blue snake tail stretched out and was connected to her body.

With a thought, the tip of song Qingxin’s tail, which was ten meters away, gently rose, bringing up a string of water droplets. Then, it slowly fell back to the ground and drifted left and right.

She had mutated!

Song qingxiao gritted her teeth, and her eyes were intimidating. She had felt that something was wrong before, but the moment she saw the changes in her body, she was still greatly shocked.

She lowered her head to look at her waist. The hand that was holding the dagger trembled non-stop as she tried to suppress the complicated emotions in her heart.

She had specially sewn a secret pocket at her waist in order to hide the mysterious black Dagger. After getting Mr. Zhou's evolution potion, she had hidden it in the secret pocket.

There was only some glass residue left in the place where the evolution potion was originally contained. The medicine inside had flowed into her wound when the bottle had been broken, almost killing her.

The pieces of glass were caught in the net of clothes. She reached out to pick them up and rubbed them between her fingers. The glass shards were ground into dust under her fingertips.

The place where she was pierced by the glass was smooth and flat, and she did not touch the wound. It seemed that the wound had been completely repaired in a short time.

It seemed that the rapid recovery she felt during the severe pain was not an illusion she had when she was on the verge of death, but something that had really happened.

The mutation of her body, the rapid recovery of her injuries, and the unparalleled amount of energy were all related to the evolution potion, snake blood, and genetic experiments. Song qingxiao desperately needed someone to give her a reasonable explanation.

She couldn't return to the real world in this state. The mission couldn't be completed for the time being, so she had to stay here.

Song qingxiao took a deep breath. The Thunder rumbled and the lightning was still running in the sky. The scales on her body flickered with a light blue halo. On such a night, her body was undergoing a terrifying transformation!

The mission in his sea of consciousness had not changed. He was afraid that the Dragon snake or the giant Silver Wolf would have to die first.

She suppressed the anxiety in her heart and looked up. In the night, the silver Wolf staggered forward in the direction of the Dragon snake.

At first, it could not stand up straight, but gradually, it could rely on its front and back legs to support its huge body. Although it could not walk steadily, it looked very miserable. Song qingxiao was quite surprised that it could stand up.

On the pile of rocks, the Dragon snake's tail was still moving. The rain washed over its wounds, splashing its blood all over the place..

Chapter 258: Nine deaths (3)

The giant Silver Wolf half-crawled and half-walked in front of the snake. This action seemed to be exhausting the last of its life force.

It vigilantly looked at song qingxiao, who was panting with her eyes narrowed, and then fell beside the Dragon snake. It looked for the wound that song qingxiao had made on the snake's body and stuck out its tongue to lick the snake's blood.

The Dragon snake was already unable to resist. Its tail moved unwillingly and it flicked its tongue, but it no longer had the strength to struggle.

Song Qing looked down on it and ignored its actions.

It noticed song qingxiao's indulgence and immediately felt relieved. It took a big bite of the snake meat.

Song qingxiao's mouth twitched. This Wolf was vengeful. The Dragon snake had seriously injured it, and even when it was about to die, it still did not forget to eat the Dragon snake's meat to take revenge.

She didn't realize that when she looked at the wolf, there was a hint of indulgence in her eyes.

If it wasn't for the Wolf's sudden appearance, she would have been in danger.

Never in her dreams would she have thought that she would fight with it at the critical moment and take care of a Dragon snake.

Song qingjiang looked away. She still had her own troubles. She held the dagger and looked around. When the lightning disappeared and the thick clouds blocked the light, only the shadows of large and small piles of stones were left in the night.

The muffled Thunder above her head, the sound of the rain, and the sound of the giant Wolf tearing and swallowing the Dragon snake's meat were all clearly transmitted into her ears.

She didn't know if it was because of her mutation, but darkness was no longer a serious problem for her. As far as she could see, the dense forest and the rain-soaked leaves were swaying in the wind.

There were also cowards buried under the ruins of the buildings, holding their breath and staring at him timidly.

Beneath the damaged surface, the sea water was seeping up, and the fish were wagging their tails, feasting on the mutant rats' bodies.

There was the smell of different people in the air. There was the smell of blood, the smell of wet soil, and the smell of the forest. Her vision, hearing, and five senses seemed to have undergone a qualitative leap following her mutation and were no longer the same as before.

It was as if she could see everything around her with just a glance.

Her eyes fell on the corner to her left. Under the ruins, a person was carefully looking at her like a mouse, excited, scared, uneasy, and hopeful.

That gaze was somewhat familiar.

"Come out."

Song qingxiao opened her mouth, but as soon as she spoke, she heaved a sigh of relief.

Her voice was unusually hoarse, and when she spoke, there was the smell of blood. Fortunately, the mutation did not completely degenerate her and she did not lose her ability to speak.

"I can see you."

Her words were exactly the same as the Dragon snake's. The man hiding under the ruins trembled and closed his eyes.

The line of sight had disappeared, but his Qi was still there. He was still alive.

The heavy rain slowly turned into a 'rustle' light rain. After the thunderstorm, the dark clouds dispersed a little, and it was not as dark as before.

Although her voice wasn't loud, if someone was still alive, they would have heard it.

"Come out." She coughed twice and said indifferently, ""If you don't come out, then don't ever come out again."

She wasn't joking when she said this. There was a hint of killing intent in her words.

The wind whistled through the woods, and some of the trees that had been cut by the Python fell into the ruins. She squinted and felt the bones and veins in her body being repaired. The burning and rising temperature in her body had stopped. She squinted her eyes and looked at the left side where someone was hiding. After about one or two seconds, she was impatient. A murderous intent flashed in her eyes. She was about to lift her tail when suddenly, there was a rustling sound from the ruins to her left.

Perhaps it knew it couldn't hide anymore, a hand came out of the debris and fiddled with the surrounding bricks and stones, revealing the first survivor who climbed out tonight.

cough, cough, cough ... Just as this person revealed half of his head, he let out a heart-wrenching cough.

The giant Wolf that had been lying beside the snake raised its head vigilantly and tried to get up.

“Miss, miss song...” Professor Yan’s hoarse voice was heard. He was a little timid, and his tone was mixed with a trace of despair and hope. There was also some uncertainty and doubt. “I-is that you? Miss song...”

Song qingxiao clutched her chest. At this time, the bones in her chest were also reforming with a ‘ka ka’ sound, and the blood in her body was flowing.

She was used to the heat and pain. Although it still made her tremble, it was not impossible to bear.

It was a good thing that professor Yan was still alive. He was Mr. Zhou’s confidant and seemed to know a lot of things.

At present, she had many questions to ask professor Yan about the changes in her body and what kind of infection she would get after drinking snake blood.

Song qingxiao took a deep breath, leaned over, and caught professor Yan’s outstretched hand. Then, she pulled it with all the strength she had accumulated.

“Oh...”

Professor Yan let out a painful scream and was dragged out of the ruins by her. He fell in front of song qingxiao on all fours.

The rocks that were pressing down on him started to fall, and the small hill-like place quickly calmed down.

Thanks a lot.” Professor Yan endured the pain and got out of the predicament, but his body was still shaking like a Fallen Leaf in the autumn wind. He did not dare to look down at her terrible body, afraid that he would faint from fear if he looked at it any longer. “Miss song...”

Not far from him, a giant blue tail that was more than ten meters long was slowly swaying in the sea, creating ripples that could easily take his life.

The silver Wolf King that was enjoying its meal in the distance raised its head and let out a threatening growl..

Chapter 259: A lifetime (1)

Under the alternating light and dark lightning, the previously ferocious snake lay on the ground, dying. The silver Wolf King's eyes were fierce, and the corners of its mouth were curled, revealing its terrifying white fangs.

Blue snake blood splattered all over its face, slowly dripping down the corner of its mouth.

Even though professor Yan knew that it had already been seriously injured in the battle with the Dragon snake, he was still so frightened that his hands and feet turned cold.

At this time, the wolf was only five or six meters away from him. The terrifying mutant creatures on the island had long left a deep impression in professor Yan's heart.

The scene of the wolf attack by the stream and the camp appeared in his mind. The chill drilled into his expanding pores, and the gurgling blood seemed to freeze in an instant.

"Song..." With some difficulty, he moved closer to song qingxiao. Although song qingxiao's appearance had changed greatly, she had used her extremely powerful strength to cripple the Dragon snake in the battle earlier.

However, perhaps it was because song qingxiao had saved his life after he entered the island, or perhaps it was because the silver Wolf was quite afraid of song qingxiao, but professor Yan instinctively felt that song qingxiao was a lot more reliable.

“Miss song...” He called song Qing Xiao again.

Occasionally, there were broken stones of different sizes falling into the rapidly rising sea water, making ‘ding ding Dong Dong’ sounds as the water splashed up.

Under the lightning, song qingxiao’s back was pulled very long. Her hair seemed to have grown in the previous change. It was originally shoulder-length, but now it had grown to below her ribs.

Her hair was wet from the rain and stuck firmly to her face. It was black to the point of turning blue and exuded a faint light.

The blood on her face was washed away by the rain, revealing her face that was as white as porcelain. Her nose and lips were still the same as before, but her eyes were similar to the Dragon snake’s. Her eyes were golden, and her pupils were vertical and sharp.

Its extremely terrifying long tail swayed gently under its body. Every time it swayed, it would create a row of waves in the gradually rising sea.

wuwu. the giant Wolf let out a threatening cry from its nostrils and tried to stand up. Song Qing looked down on it, and the Wolf’s fur stood on end, as if it was facing a great enemy.

“Professor Yan.” As soon as song qingxiao spoke, professor Yan’s eyes lit up.

The old professor was no longer as refined as before, and he seemed to be in a sorry state.

His body was covered in wounds, and his clothes, which had been drenched by the rain, were torn and tattered, showing his thin and weak appearance.

The glasses on his face had long since fallen to God knows where, and the blood from the big and small wounds on his head had been washed away by the rain, covering his face.

After confirming song qingxiao's identity, professor Yan burst into tears of joy and heaved a long sigh of relief. He staggered and crawled toward song qingxiao. "Miss song... It's really you ..."

The talking mutated serpent scared everyone. When song Qing was too quiet to speak, professor Yan was also very nervous, it's, it's really you.

He wiped his face and looked at song Qing's head and face. He saw her strange golden eyes and finally looked down at her long tail.

She had seen the terrifying power of this tail in her previous battle with the flood serpent. It contained an unusually powerful force.

Professor Yan's hands and feet trembled. His eyes showed excitement, fear, pride, and a little pride, which slowly turned into obsession.

"Now, you've also seen the changes in my body."

Song qingxiao allowed him to look at her. When professor Yan's eyes fell on her tail, she had an idea. A surge of power surged in her body. The tail rose from the water the moment she thought about it. It was as natural as raising her hand or breathing, but professor Yan was so scared that his upper body leaned back.

tell me about the changes in longevity technology, the research on the evolution drug, and everything else.

Song qingxiao looked at professor Yan's embarrassed look. He put his hands into the sea, and the rain beat so hard that he couldn't even open his eyes completely. He looked like he was crying and laughing at the same time.

She frowned, and her tail fell back to the ground with a 'bang'. The seawater was splashed up, and the ground was slammed with a 'boom'.

Professor Yan's entire body trembled as he came back to his senses.. He muttered,"

Chapter 260: A lifetime (2)

"W-what do you mean by everything?"

"The changes in longevity technology, Mr. Zhou's medicine, the purpose of coming to the island ..."

Before she could finish, she saw professor Yan wipe his face and look at her long tail in the water. He cried and laughed like a madman. She didn't know if he heard her.

"Hmph," he snorted. Song qingxiao squinted her eyes and let out a cold Humpf. This Humpf scared professor Yan back to his senses. The old professor was stunned for a long time. The giant Silver Wolf next to him bared its teeth for a long time. Seeing that song qingxiao ignored it, professor Yan sat down next to her again. He seemed to have thought of something. It was as if he was no longer staring at him. He lowered his head and continued to eat the Dragon snake's meat.

As the silver Wolf chewed, professor Yan was silent for a while before he said weakly,"

"So, where do you want to start?"

While he was speaking, a faint knocking sound came from the distance, as if someone was trying to push away the falling stone and was crying for help.

However, song qingxiao ignored the voice and looked at professor Yan.

let's start with ... she thought for a moment, let's start with the Zhou family's genetic deficiency.

As soon as she finished speaking, professor Yan obviously trembled. He raised his head and looked at her in surprise. His turbid eyes were filled with shock, as if he was very surprised that she knew about this.

"You ..." He wanted to say something but stopped. In the end, he sighed, to the people of the Zhou Corporation, the Zhou family's genes are like a curse in the legends.

Professor Yan lowered his head, and the rain fell on his head. The rain flowed down his white hair, forming a natural curtain that blocked his expression.

"In the inheritance of the Zhou family, there are several theories about the origin of the curse. Killing for love, or for revenge, or offending a villain, or making a fortune by means of damaging the virtue of the yin, causing the Zhou descendants to have insufficient lifespan." Professor Yan paused for a moment before continuing, ""When I was young, I've heard four or five different sayings."

The sound of someone digging at a rock in the distance grew louder and louder, but professor Yan seemed to be immersed in his own memories, excluding everything else.

the bloodline of the Zhou family doesn't allow anyone to live past the age of 35. Professor Yan raised his hand with difficulty and tried to make a gesture, if an ordinary person's birth, growth, aging, and death are a normal process, then the Zhou family's genetic inheritor will speed up this process.

The Zhou family's business was very big, and every generation tried all kinds of ways to get through the threshold of 35 years old.

more than 30 years ago, I was still following my mentor. At that time, the head of the Zhou group, old master Zhou, came to me, hoping to recruit me into longevity technology to study the secrets of genes.

That was the predecessor of longevity technology, and also the prototype of the original team. After much effort, they finally determined the reason for the short lives of the Zhou consortium's people. It was the genetic mutation in their bodies that led to the instability of the nucleus, which led to extremely serious changes in various functions of the body. After the genetic mutation, the Zhou consortium's people began to age at a speed that was several times faster than normal people.

After the age of 20, people with Zhou's bloodline would experience a genetic mutation and complete the rest of their life in a very short time. There was no exception.

This kind of premature aging was different from ordinary premature aging.

After determining the cause of the illness, the Zhou family started recruiting talents, we set up a project team to focus on overcoming this difficulty. We call it... professor Yan paused for a moment and finally sighed."The Emperor plan."

After the 'Emperor plan' was confirmed, old master Zhou found this small island in the deep ocean. After buying it, he set up a secret Research Laboratory. At that time, the first group of people who followed old master Zhou came to this small island with the great ambition of changing the Zhou's genetic defects.

it was established in the year of wuxu. professor Yan's gaze fell on song qingxiao's tail. The sea water was rising higher and higher, and it had already flooded a small part of her tail.

The sound of thunder in the sky gradually died down, and the thick clouds dispersed a little. Under the dim light, her tail was shining with a faint blue light.

The downpour turned into a 'Sha Sha' drizzle, accompanied by the sound of the giant Wolf tearing the flood serpent's meat with its big mouth and chewing it, it appeared a little strange.

In the ruins after the battle, professor Yan's hoarse voice was a little melancholic.

"Maybe it was an unlucky year, and the experiment failed."

From what he had said so far, song qingxiao had come up with a few conclusions.

First, the Zhou family's situation was similar to her previous speculation. They had genetic defects and did not have long lives. This was also the reason why the Zhou Corporation was researching genetic technology.

Secondly, from professor Yan's words, it should be old master Zhou who set up the research project in the first place. Judging from his age, he might be Mr. Zhou's grandfather or more.

Thirdly, the Zhou family was superstitious, whether it was about the curse or the 'year of wuxu' that professor Yan had specifically mentioned.

Four, crossing the ocean, buying the island, hiding the laboratory from the world, and the people Mr. Zhou chose when he first entered the island with the intention of killing them. It could be imagined that the Zhou family was crazy, and the experiments they did were 80% done. Jiu was not a legitimate experiment.

As soon as professor Yan mentioned the so-called 'Emperor plan', Song Qingxiao immediately understood why the password to Changsheng technology was 'long live'.

In the eyes of the Zhou family's leader, every person who entered the password was like a pilgrimage to him, like an ancient official meeting the Emperor.

From the way the Zhou family had thought of such things, it was clear how crazy they had been in their desire to live.

They had money, power, and status, but their lives were too short.

"Tell me about the emperor's plan," Song Qing's gaze fell on the Dragon snake, which had no strength to lift its tail. It was dying.

To her surprise, the dying Silver Wolf was still breathing. It seemed to be a little more energetic than before after eating the flood snake meat..
