

Watch Out 271

Chapter 271: Spiritual power i

Song qingxiao recalled that when she left the trial space, she had picked up the pen beside corpse number seven. After leaving the trial scenario, she had met the two men who were chasing her.

After settling this matter, there was a strange movement in her body when she returned home, so she had forgotten about this thing.

She stretched out her hand to grab the brush and slowly pulled it out. On the other end of the brush, a red whip tail was hooked out. Half of it was pressed under the silver Wolf's body. She hesitated for a moment and did not want to wake the silver Wolf up, so she gave up the action of pulling the long whip.

When she was in the trial space, the brush had passed through the hands of number three and number seven, and finally landed in her hands. She had taken it out of the trial scene, and she had not had the time to look at it in detail.

No. 2 had once used it to draw a real object, but as to how to operate it, after No. 2's death, neither the later owners, No. 3 nor No. 7, had used it again.

Although the brush was extraordinary, song qingxiao had gained a lot from this trial. She valued her own strength more than external objects, and there was still a seal in her body that she had yet to figure out the reason for.

She wasn't greedy for life-saving skills. The brush was of little value to song qingxiao. In comparison, she preferred to use her Black Dagger. She just took the brush along the way.

What she wanted the most at the moment was the 'person' token of the nine-word secret order! She thought regretfully that it would be great if she could exchange it for points.

As soon as this thought appeared in his mind, a notification came from his sea of consciousness.[ the divine brush Ruyi can be exchanged for 500 points. Do you wish to exchange? ]

Song Qing was stunned for a moment, then he was overjoyed.

She didn't expect that these items could be exchanged for points in the trial space. She touched the pen handle twice, and then chose to exchange without hesitation.

The brush in her hand disappeared instantly, and the remaining points in her consciousness became: 350 points.

Song Qing immediately chose to exchange for the nine-word secret order, and 1000 points were deducted. Her divine sense trembled slightly, and the nine-word secret order buzzed in her sea of consciousness.

On the nine words secret order in his spiritual sense, originally only the 'Lin' word lit up. At this time, a 'Zhe' word appeared, causing the light on the nine words secret order in his sea of consciousness to become brighter.

At the same time, his spiritual sense was nourished by the changes in the nine-word secret order and seemed to be stronger. Song Qing began to recite the incantation,"

"As solid as a rock, solid!"

As she chanted the incantation, the spiritual energy in her body began to move slightly. She did not have a golden glow on her body like number one in the trial scene. Instead, a layer of frost covered her body. The temperature in the room dropped, and the silver Wolf lying at her feet moved its eyes uneasily.

Her spiritual power turned into an invisible defense and covered her body. Although it was her first time using the 'Zhe' token, she could feel that her power was stronger than the first one.

Perhaps it was because the nine-word secret order had collected two passwords, and the spells were calling each other. Perhaps it was related to the strange spiritual power in her body.

But at this time, she was confident that if she were to fall into the same situation as last night, even without the help of the transformation and the silver Wolf, her current strength was enough to kill the two men who chased her last night!

After a brief moment of joy, she was a little vigilant.

The trial space encouraged participants to kill each other in the scenario, and the items they obtained could be exchanged with points. This way, the participants in the real world were not safe. If the items they exchanged were exposed, they would be killed.

At the same time, after No. 1 died in the trial space, the scene of his skills appearing on her page made her shudder.

She now had the two words of the nine-word secret order with her. Whoever wanted to kill her would probably have the special treatment of having priority in exchanging these two words. Once this secret was known by others, what happened last night would probably happen again!

She still had 350 points left in her sea of consciousness. Song qingxiao browsed through the exchange page, and a spell technique named 'spiritual power' caught her attention.

Demon island's scenario No. 6 was a mental power ability user, so this should be his cultivation method.

The nine-word secret order that she cultivated required mental power. The deeper the mental power, the more overbearing the spell would be. This 'mental power' was exactly what she was lacking.

However, song qingxiao noticed that she needed more than 1000 points to exchange for this 'spiritual power'. She tried to exchange for the long whip, and the trial space prompted: Red whip, exchangeable for 50 points. Do you wish to proceed?

At present, she did not have many points left. Even if she sold the whip, she would only have 400 points, which was still a long way from 1000 points. In the end, she could only give up this method of cultivating her spiritual power with some heartache, hoping that there would be an opportunity to exchange it for other ways of cultivating spiritual power in the future.

As for the other rewards, song qingxiao only took a quick glance at them and left her sea of consciousness. She then patted the ice on her body and a thin layer of ice fell from her body. Without the nourishment of her spiritual power, the thin layer of ice quickly melted into water and dripped on the silver Wolf below her.

The silver Wolf was still sleeping. Its huge body was like a small mountain. Even if it was lying on the ground, it was almost as tall as her bed.

Song qingxiao frowned. She felt that it was a little tricky to deal with this Silver Wolf.

This Wolf might have been seriously injured and had not woken up even now. She vaguely remembered that in the trial space, its hind legs had been stabbed by the poisonous fangs of the flood Dragon and it was on the verge of death.

Thinking of this, song Qing's gaze fell on the Wolf's hind leg. eh? "

Song qingxiao could not help but let out a surprised sound.

The fur on the silver Wolf's hind legs had dried up. The blood, mud, and seawater had twisted its needle-like fur into strands.

However, what surprised her was that there were still traces of blood on the hind leg, but the wound seemed to have disappeared.

"What's going on?"

She was a little surprised. She grabbed the old blanket and wrapped it around her body, then lowered her head to touch the Wolf's injured leg.

The wolf seemed to have felt uneasy in its sleep. Before her hand could touch its leg, its hind leg twitched slightly, but it did not open its eyes.

Song qingxiao still remembered some of the scenes from last night. When her spiritual power went wild, the lower half of her body turned her leg into her tail and broke the dragon's poisonous fangs, leaving them in the Wolf's body. At that time, the wolf was poisoned and its leg was injured, so it was difficult for it to move.

In the trial space, when professor Yan and the others called for the rescue plane, it tried several times to get up, but it couldn't.

After that, she picked up the wolf. The Wolf's hind legs seemed to have lost all feeling and were hanging down. She would not remember wrongly.

However, the wound had disappeared into thin air, as if it had disappeared.

She massaged the Wolf's leg and turned the silver fur around. Finally, she found a scab about the size of a coin on the back of the thigh.

This should be where the silver Wolf was bitten last night, but for some reason, the wound was healing.

This was simply too inconceivable. She reached out to touch it, and the wolf, who was still unconscious, twitched heavily as if it was about to wake up.

Song qingxiao pressed the dagger against the Wolf's throat with one hand and rubbed the scabs with the other. The scabs were uneven, and she could feel the traces of broken teeth, which confirmed her memory.

By right, the fangs of the flood Dragon should have been left in the Wolf's body, causing an infection and killing it. However, not only was the wolf not infected, but its body seemed to be digesting the 'fangs' of the flood Dragon.

Could it be that the silver Wolf had eaten the flood dragon's flesh and organs, causing its body to mutate and evolve?

She remembered that she had almost died in the mouth of the Dragon last night. At that time, the poisonous fangs had pierced her body, but because of the evolution potion in her body, her severely damaged body had been repaired.

When song qingxiao left the training space and picked up the wolf, the wolf bit her.

Although it quickly let go, it was probably at that time that her blood with the evolution potion entered the silver Wolf's body, causing this change and cleverly saving its life..

Chapter 272: Maternal instinct (1)

The silver Wolf being able to live until now, although it had something to do with itself, was also a matter of luck.

Seeing that the wolf wouldn't wake up for a while, song qingxiao didn't know what to do with it. She decided to take care of herself first.

She had not taken a bath since she arrived on the demon Island. The harsh environment and the numerous battles on the island had made her nervous, and she did not have the time to think about these things.

The night before she left the trial site, the laboratory of longevity technology collapsed and buried her under the ruins. Her hair was twisted by dried mud, and there were traces of sweat, blood, and all kinds of other smells on her body.

Last night, she was in danger after leaving the trial scene, and when she returned home, she couldn't think about this problem because of the surge of energy in her body, so she only felt uncomfortable now.

She looked at the silver Wolf on the ground, frowned, took her clothes and went into the bathroom.

The warm water washed away large amounts of dirt on her body, revealing her fair skin.

Song qingxiao noticed that her skin was unusually smooth. After several body enhancements and genetic modifications, her body's lines had reached their peak.

The skin on her back where the flood dragon's venomous fangs had pierced through was smooth and flat, but she still remembered the feeling of her body being pierced.

She pressed down on her ribs. When she had snatched Mr. Zhou's box and jumped off the cliff, she had clearly been injured, but the injury had been completely healed, and the scars on her body from the past years had disappeared without a trace.

When she thought of Mr. Zhou, she couldn't help but think of Zhou xueli. This woman was like a mystery. The moment she left the trial space, she had stepped forward to block Mr. Zhou's shot at her. Song qingxiao could no longer treat her as a part of the irrelevant 'plot' of the mission scene.

The warm water covered her eyes, and her thoughts flew back to the mission scene.

Under the thunder and lightning, professor Yan sat in the sea and picked up Zhou xueli.

She was the main subject of the 'Nuwa project' and an important provider of the evolution drug.

Mr. Zhou's evolving liquid came from her 'child'. She was an unfortunate person and was adopted by the Zhou consortium, becoming one of the 'beneficiaries of the Zhou consortium's' charity'.

Fortunately, she survived the scientific experiment, but unfortunately, she also survived, so she became an experimental body later.

She was an incomplete 'mother' who had once given birth to countless lives. However, under human interference, these lives eventually turned into energy bodies.

She had been repeatedly bearing the process of being pregnant by a 'mother', but she had never been a real mother for a day.

She had never seen her 'children' before, and it was impossible for her to see the true appearance of these lives. She could not hear anyone call her 'mother', and she could not embrace her own life.

Even if Zhou xueli was willing to 'sacrifice' for 'science' and the Zhou family because of the Zhou family's brainwashing, a woman's maternal instinct was an instinct.

He had accidentally used the evolution potion, and in her opinion, he had probably become one with a part of her life.

At that moment, Zhou xueli had probably developed a kind of maternal instinct.

Mr. Zhou hated song qingxiao for taking away his hope of survival, so at the last moment, he raised his gun to kill her.

At that moment, Zhou xueli stood in front of Mr. Zhou's gun without hesitation, blocking the bullet for song qingxiao.

Her death meant that the 'Nuwa project' had been completely terminated! It meant that Mr. Zhou would not be able to wait for a second miracle! It represented her betrayal of Zhou's 'charitable aid', but at that moment, her instinct overwhelmed her rationality.

The moment song qingxiao turned around and looked at her, her eyes were filled with a thousand words. Song qingxiao was still shocked when she thought about it.

She remembered the cold and arrogant woman when she first entered the mission. She remembered how much she cared for Mr. Zhou during the mission. In the end, song qingxiao's memory of Zhou xuli stopped at the expression on her face when she was shot.

At that moment, this person was not only a part of the mission, but also a story provider.

In fact, Mr. Zhou's shot might not have killed her when her body was in a state of mutation, but Zhou xueli's actions still shocked song qingxiao.

She thought that in this life, no matter how terrifying and strange the environment, things, and people she would experience in the future, she would never forget Zhou Xue Li.

Perhaps it was because she lacked a trace of motherly protection in her life that Zhou xueli's decision at that moment was so unforgettable.

Song qingxiao wiped her face. The mud on her body had been washed away. In the dark bathroom, she tried to mobilize her spiritual power and activate the nine-word secret order.

She had already tried the 'swordsmen' technique, but after leaving the trial space, she had not tried the 'Lin' technique.

In the past, she used her spiritual power to drive the 'Lin' character, but this time, due to a strange combination of circumstances, she had a spiritual power in her body. She wanted to try to use spiritual power to drive the 'Lin' character.

"Draw the ground as a prison, trap!"

As soon as he recited the incantation, the spiritual power in his body was extracted, and the hot water that was flowing stopped in an instant. As the spiritual power was extracted, the hot water began to cool down rapidly, and finally turned into thin ice crystals.

The temperature of the entire bathroom dropped rapidly. The mist on the dim mirror formed frost flowers and emitted cold air, as if magic had been cast on it.

However, in about two to three seconds, the spirit energy in song qingxiao's body was completely drained. The magic was shattered, and the ice crystals fell to the ground and shattered.

The water that had stopped spraying out from the shower head sprayed the ice crystals that were scattered all over the ground into the sewer.

Although her meridians were empty, Song Qingxiao was still overjoyed. The spiritual energy in her body seemed to have an ice attribute, and when she used her spiritual energy to cast the 'Lin' word technique, the power was much stronger than before.

After she wiped the water and changed her clothes, she came out of the bathroom. The silver Wolf was still lying on the ground, unconscious. She smiled, and the remaining murderous intent in her heart faded.

She had already left the trial scene on 'demon Island', and she had no idea where her life would go in the future, nor what she would experience.

However, no matter how long she could live, it was impossible for her and Zhou Xueli to meet again.

This Silver Wolf was once her witness on the 'evil demon Island'. It had once seen that she had seen her mother 'at that moment.

However, there was a Wolf at home. She had special abilities. Even if she couldn't kill it, it wouldn't be difficult for her to escape. Song Qingxiao was just a little worried about Tang Yun.

She stood in the living room. Tang Yun was still asleep.

As far as she could remember, her mother had always been a drunkard, often unconscious.

Perhaps he should send his mother to a place where she could be taken care of more appropriately before he could fully confirm the danger of the silver Wolf.

Unfortunately, she did not have much money. The job at the guard Station was just enough for her to make a living. That little income could not bring her more money.

How could he have a large sum of money? She didn't plan to use the remaining points to exchange for money. The points had a greater use!

She took out the red whip hanging on her waist. Before entering the 'demon Island' trial scenario, survivor No. 5 from the previous mission had come to her and revealed that he wanted to buy the red whip. At that time, she did not sell it because she was weak at that time. The red whip might be an important life-saving tool for her in dangerous situations.

But now, as her strength increased, it was very likely that the difficulty of the next trial-taker's mission would increase as well. The red whip would no longer be as useful.

The 50 points that she had exchanged for the whip wasn't very useful, so she might as well sell it to number five and Exchange it for a sum of money to solve her current predicament.

She couldn't continue to stay in this place. The two people who tried to assassinate her last night should be related to number six, who visited her.

In the real world, number six must have an extraordinary identity to be able to order around two people with such power.

However, she had killed these two people last night. Because of her violent energy, she was in a hurry to go home and did not have time to clean up the aftermath. This had also left a great hidden danger.

It was a good thing that her body had mutated when she was killing people last night, and she had destroyed the entire place. Even if number six knew that she was a participant, he knew that she had a rough estimate of his strength based on the skills of the two men she had sent out to kill him.

Number six might not think that he was the one who had lent them money.

Song qingxiao just wanted to move out of here and stay away from the trouble for a while. Even if she could only hide it from number six for a while, she hoped that when she entered the next trial site and improved her strength, she would be more capable of saving her life even if number six suspected her!

Song qingxiao didn't realize that her fear and resistance towards the Ascension trial had changed as her strength increased. She was now waiting for the next trial..

Chapter 273: Meeting (1)

Song Qing looked down on the time. The hour hand was pointing at 10 O'clock, and she was going to be late.

Because she had just left the trial grounds last night, her body had been transformed by the chaotic energy. In addition, she had consumed a lot of mental power and other influences, causing her to faint when she returned home.

After he woke up, he had spent some time exchanging for the swordsman token and checking his physical condition. Even if he went out now, he might not be able to make it.

However, there was an extremely dangerous mutated Silver Wolf at home. She could not leave Tang Yun, who was still hungover, at home. If she wanted to be alone with the wolf, she had to take Tang Yun out before going to work.

This way, she would be late without a doubt, so she decided to make a call to ask for leave first.

Ever since her job at the guard Station had been stable, the phone number of her family's debt had been restored. She dialed the phone number of Captain an's office at the guard Station.

However, no one picked up the phone after several rings.

This surprised song qingxiao. She hadn't been in the guard Station for long, but she knew Captain Yi'an's personality.

This person had a bad temper, but he was extremely self-disciplined and had a serious personality. He hated it when his guards broke the rules, and it was a big taboo to be late or leave early for no reason, so he would inevitably be reprimanded.

When she first entered the security system, Captain an didn't like her, so she kept this in mind.

Although this person was strict with others, he was also strict with himself. At this time, he should have arrived at the office.

However, he didn't pick up the phone at this time. He was either late or had an emergency and was called out.

Song Qing squinted her eyes, and there was a hint of seriousness in her eyes. She remembered the two men who tried to kill her last night. They died in the alley, which happened to be in charge of the security Department where Captain an was. Someone who got up early must have found out about the case and reported it.

The people in the guard Station should be dealing with this matter at this time.

Thinking of this, song Qing hung up the phone and decided to go to the guard Hall to find out.

Tang Yun needed a place to settle down. She didn't have many friends. Due to her family background, she was introverted and reclusive during her school days. She didn't have many close friends. The people she interacted with the most were probably debt collectors.

She thought for a while and decided to take Tang Yun out. After selling the whip, she would find a nursing home and send her there temporarily.

In that case, her late arrival and her behavior of bringing her mother out might cause dissatisfaction among Captain an and the others, which would then affect her work.

However, she was in a lot of trouble at the moment, so she was actually more focused on improving her strength and saving her life in the trial.

After making up her mind to sell the whips, the job was dispensable to song qingxiao. It was just a cover for her.

Number five had said that he would buy the whip at a price that she was satisfied with. Once the whip was sold, she would be able to solve her current poverty. Even if she lost her job, it would be of no concern to her.

The thing that she was most concerned about was the two men's bodies in the western suburbs.

Tang Yun was drunk and unconscious. Song qingwei took good care of her. She was still clean, but she had been drinking for a long time, so her fingers were curled and hard to straighten, and her nails were black.

Because she had not been exposed to the sun for many years, she looked sickly pale. Her body was a little bloated, like a swollen bun, and her facial features were somewhat deformed.

In her sleep, she was also frowning, as if she had many things on her mind.

Song qingxiao took a handkerchief and wiped her mother's face. She was stunned for a moment. Her mother's appearance was both familiar and unfamiliar. It was as if this was the first time she had seen her, but it also seemed as if she had always been like this since she could remember.

Tang Yun slowly opened his eyes. His gaze was a little cloudy and he had not found the focus. The moment he saw song Qing, he instinctively held her hand and called out in a daze,"

She was numbed by the alcohol and her tongue was swollen. She couldn't speak clearly. Song Qing was stunned for a moment. When she came back to her senses, she closed her eyes and fell asleep again. The murmuring she had just said seemed to be a groan from sleep.

Song qingxiao didn't have the time to think about her reaction. She helped Tang Yun change into a simple set of clothes. She was already familiar with this kind of thing. In the past, it was very difficult for her to do it, but now, Tang Yun's weight was not even worth mentioning to song qingxiao.

She carried Tang Yun on her back and locked the door when she went out.

She didn't do this to guard against thieves. The song family's house was bare.

For song qingxiao, the most important dagger was always with her. She couldn't hide it in the house.

The key was that there was an extremely dangerous Silver Wolf inside, and no one knew when it would wake up.

The silver Wolf was extremely fierce. Last night, it had killed a master with a single bite. Even if the door was locked, it might not be able to stop it. Song qingxiao's actions were better than nothing.

The front of the guard Hall was filled with people. To song qingxiao's surprise, most of the guards were at the door to maintain order.

There was a lot of noise at the entrance, and the angry crowd blocked the entrance of the hall.

These people looked ferocious and shouted with all their might," the guard Hall is useless. There have been two consecutive deaths in the western suburbs...

each one of them died more miserably than the last, but we still can't catch the real murderer...

"Are the people of the western suburbs not human? Does the royal family value the lives of us poor people?"

The guards on duty held riot shields and stood in a line, blocking these people outside.

The group of people who had come to block the door of the guard Hall became more and more agitated as they spoke. It was very likely that a riot would happen.

The situation was immediate, and there were even reporters rushing over from afar. They were fiddling with their cameras, trying to capture a big piece of news.

When song qingxiao appeared with her mother on her back, someone in the guard Station saw her. A trace of disdain flashed in their eyes. They turned their heads away and pretended not to notice her predicament.

“Don’t quarrel!”

A thunderous male voice suddenly rang out. The guards turned around, and Captain an’s figure appeared at the entrance of the guard Hall. He had a fierce expression on his face as he swept his gaze across the crowd.

His body was like an iron tower, and his muscles were tangled. One look and one could tell that he was not to be trifled with.

The originally noisy people temporarily stopped talking the moment he appeared and shouted.

we’re still investigating this matter and will report it to the government, his gaze fell on song qingxiao before he finally looked away, when necessary, the head of Parliament will ask the royal family to send people to help.

When Captain an talked about the investigation and reporting to the government, the people in the western suburbs were still very unconvinced, but when they heard that the head of the government would ask the royal family for help, everyone’s faces showed a mixture of surprise and joy.

“Really?”

Now, the Imperial power and political power had been separated, and the imperial family had gradually withdrawn from the political center.

However, in the hearts of the common people, the royal family still possessed supreme authority. Even with the development of time, the majority of the people still had an unusual trust in the royal family.

The crowd was appeased, and the tense guards heaved a sigh of relief. Song qingxiao carried her mother and squeezed through the crowd that refused to leave. The guards at the door held their shields and refused to let them in.

“Everyone, enter the meeting room.”

A well-built woman who was blocking the way snorted and moved away half of the shield in front of her. Her eyes showed that she was up to no good.

“This isn’t a shelter where any random cat or dog can come in!”

She lowered her voice, but it was still noisy outside. Other than the people beside her, others might not be able to hear her clearly.

Captain an’s expression froze. He glanced at song qingxiao, then turned around and prepared to leave.

Song qingxiao’s expression remained the same. As if she didn’t hear what song qingxiao said, she carried her mother and entered through the gap. However, when song qingxiao passed by her, the woman suddenly stood up and bumped her.

A security guard beside her seemed to understand her thoughts and deliberately stood up to block song Qing’s small path, making it impossible for her to escape.

The female guard was tall, almost 1.8 meters tall, and very strong. She had been working in the western suburbs Guard Station all year round, dealing with the most vicious and illegal people. Her skills and strength were not inferior to men.

She had thought that song qingxiao would fall to the ground and be in a sorry state.

She was even prepared to make a fool of song qingxiao in public, mock her, and kick her out of the guard Station.

The female guard thought that it would be easy to hit her, but she did not expect song qingxiao to not Dodge at all. She raised her head and looked at the woman.

With a loud bang, the two of them collided. The female guard felt a chill as if she had hit an Ice Mountain. Song qingxiao did not move an inch, but the strong woman lost her balance and fell backward. She hit the person beside her, and they both fell backward!

“You...”

Fortunately, the people from the guard Hall were not thin and weak. They took a few steps back and managed to stand up with the help of others.

The provocative woman’s eyes revealed a look of disbelief, which then turned into indignance. She wanted to move forward, but when she saw Captain an’s back, she swallowed her anger and turned it into a fierce expression.

“Just you wait!”

“I’ll wait for you.” Song Qing chuckled and replied.

Making a fool of her in public was just a small lesson for her. After entering the trial grounds, this kind of provocation was extremely boring for song qingxiao.

She carried Tang Yun into the guard Station, and a heavy atmosphere shrouded the entire lobby. In front of a chair on the side of the floor-to-ceiling glass wall, the short and chubby number five was wearing a suit and sitting there with his elbows on his legs.

Compared to yesterday, his smile was less greasy and his expression was more serious. He held a handkerchief in his hand and was frequently wiping his sweat. The moment he saw Song Qing Xiao, his face showed joy and he quickly stood up..

Chapter 274: Inquiry _1

“Qing Xiao ...” Number Five’s greasy face squeezed out a smile as he greeted them.

It was early in the morning, and he seemed to have encountered something, which made him look very uneasy. His suit jacket had been opened, revealing the shirt that had changed color after being drenched in sweat.

The moment Song Qingxiao saw him, she walked straight towards him.

Something happened in the morning. The guard Station was blocked by people from the western suburbs. In order to prevent a riot, the guards were all guarding the door and keeping people outside.

For number five to be able to enter the hall at this time, he was not to be underestimated.

When he called out Song Qing’s name, he was worried that she would ignore him like she did the day before. Who would have thought that she would walk over to him with Tang Yun on her back?

“You...”

“Help me take a look.” Song Qing placed Tang Yun on a chair and helped her sit down. “I’ll talk to you about the whip later.”

When number five heard this, he was both surprised and happy.

He had already visited the guard Station yesterday. When he found song qingxiao, she looked determined and didn't look like she was going to sell the whip.

Number five just didn't want to give up. He knew how dangerous the trial was. An extra weapon in the early stages meant a better chance of survival in the trial.

If he came here rashly, it would alert song qingxiao. She was not willing to sell the red whip, which was actually within number Five's expectations.

However, after No. 5 found out about song qingxiao's background and family situation, he was ready to pester her. However, the plan didn't change quickly. His family sent him an urgent message, asking him to go back immediately. He came today to try his luck. If song qingxiao really didn't want to sell the whip, he was prepared to go back in disappointment.

Who knew that song qingxiao, who had a firm expression yesterday, would look relieved today?

"This is..."

Number five tried to ask, and song Qing answered,"

"My mother."

Her expression was calm. Number five did not know if it was an illusion, but he felt that song Qing was more dangerous than yesterday.

A strange look flashed in number Five's eyes. At that moment, Captain an, who was about to enter the meeting room, turned and looked in their direction. Song qingxiao stood up straight.

"Can I?"

At this time, number five was also in a hurry. However, when he saw song qingxiao's eyes, he shivered."Of course."

He could not miss this opportunity. Other than buying the whip, he might be able to do song Qing a favor.

Song qingxiao nodded and walked towards the meeting room. Other than a few guards who were still outside to maintain order, most of the people had already entered the meeting room and sat down.

When she came in, Captain an was standing at the counter, looking a little tired.

When the female guard who was hit by her saw her, her eyes were filled with hostility, which eventually turned into ruthlessness. She lowered her head and whispered to the people next to her.

After song qingxiao sat down, the meeting room door closed. Captain an picked up a folder and gestured for his assistant to take it.

The assistant opened the folder, took out a stack of documents that he had prepared in advance, and distributed them one by one.

from the day before yesterday to the evening, two vicious murder cases have occurred in succession within the area under our control. Captain an's voice rang out in the meeting room.

Song qingxiao took the document from her assistant. It was a few paper documents that had been printed at the last minute, and they smelled of fresh ink.

A few photos were pinned to the top with paper clips. The first thing song qingxiao saw was a deep pit in the photo, and a body was lying in the pit.

Although it was called a corpse, it was more like a model that had been hit by a heavy hammer. Its entire body had been evenly flattened, and its flesh and blood were mixed with the surrounding stone debris and mud.

The corpse was covered in a thick layer of dust. The entire corpse was no longer human, as if it had been smashed flat. It was impossible to identify its face and identity.

Even through the photos, one could imagine the tragic scene. Those who got the information were shocked. Song qingxiao knew at a glance that she was the one who had killed the person last night. Her heart skipped a beat, but she pretended to be shocked.

Even though there were frequent riots in the western suburbs, murder, and arson, this was the first time that Captain an had encountered such a terrifying case in the many years he had been in charge of western suburbs.

Song Qing glanced at the information and looked up at Captain an. His face was serious and his brows were furrowed. He looked a little restless.

The people from the night before and the night before had all come for her, and she didn't know if there was any connection between the two. Unfortunately, although her strength was currently growing, and she had the capital to save her life in the God's trial, in reality, her background and identity had always been her weakness, and there were many things she still didn't understand.

He wondered if Captain an had found out the relationship between the two and if he could provide any useful information.

She glanced at the photo and stopped scrolling, which made Captain an extremely unhappy. He looked in song qingxiao's direction several times with a sharp gaze.

"Captain, this ... Who's driving such a destructive vehicle and flying equipment?"

Someone asked the moment they saw the first picture.

The scene had been completely destroyed. From the photo, the bricks on the ground of the alley had been smashed into a deep pit. Broken bricks were rolling everywhere, and a flattened human pancake was lying in the pit.

The ground was covered with a layer of soil and dust. In the corner of the photo, some fresh traces of damage could be seen on the wall.

look at the next photo. There's another victim there.

Captain an said again. The others opened the first photo and soon saw the man who died in the mouth of the silver Wolf.

His neck seemed to have been broken by something sharp, and the wound was uneven. His head fell about ten centimeters away from his body, only connected by a little flesh.

There should have been blood on the ground, but it was covered by dust. There was no trace of anything leaving the photo.

Compared to the person who had been crushed into a meat pie, although he had died in a miserable manner, at least his face was still recognizable.

The remaining two photos were of the two deceased victims found in the early hours of the morning yesterday. Captain an and many of the guards had already left the scene at that time, so they were still somewhat confident.

the two deceased were found in the early morning yesterday. One of them is called mai boyuan, or brother mai...

The projector showed the picture and background of the victim. This man was just a gangster who grew up in the western suburbs. He made a living by collecting debts and lending money. He usually extorted and robbed in the western suburbs, targeting the poor to collect protection fees and so on. Occasionally, he was bold enough to sell some drugs that were prohibited by the Empire.

Nine out of ten lawless organizations in the western suburbs did this. Everyone was in cahoots, and as long as there was no big trouble, the higher-ups would not care. The lower-ranked people could only swallow their anger in order to survive..

Chapter 275: ostracizing _i

Song Qing looked down on him. She grew up in the western suburbs and was most familiar with such people. These people were after money and would not easily kill people.

Otherwise, if the matter was blown up, it would be left unsettled in the end, but the person who did it would also hide for a while, affecting the 'business'.

However, the two people who were looking for trouble the night before had clearly come for her and Tang Yun. Their words revealed that they had the intention to kill them. This was not an ordinary looking for trouble. There should be someone behind it.

At that time, she didn't kill anyone but knocked them out. In the end, these two people were killed. Obviously, the people behind the scenes were wary of her and cut off this clue.

Song qingxiao felt that things were getting interesting.

After the person who did this behind the scenes did this, it would be difficult for the police department to find anything useful. In the end, the case might end up like the previous unsolved cases in the western suburbs, with nothing to be solved.

The guard Department was confused, but she did find some clues.

She was born into an ordinary family, and in this era, there were almost no secrets about her family background. It was easy for people to find out.

Her father had a criminal record and went missing. Her mother was an alcoholic. Her family was poor and owed a large loan. Even now, there were still all kinds of usury extorting the song family.

When she was in school, she was not eye-catching. She had developed a cautious character and did not interact much with the students around her, let alone offend others and put her to death.

The person who did this behind her back had sent someone to test her and then killed her afterwards. This proved that he was wary of her.

However, in the real world, she was just the most inconspicuous one among the few living beings, so why would they be wary of her? Unless this person had a certain level of understanding of her other side.

As for her other side, she had displayed it in the trial.

She had participated in God's trial three times. In the first and third time, all the participants had been annihilated except for her.

The second time, there were three survivors, one number five and one number six.

It was obvious who the person who made the move was.

Leaving number five aside, she had already experienced number six's killing intent last night.

She guessed that it might be because she had performed the 'confrontation' technique of the nine words secret order on number six during the second trial at the mental hospital. Number six might have been one step ahead of her and understood the rules of the trial.

Perhaps she had obtained a part of her ability after killing one of the trial-takers, so she was prepared to follow the same pattern and 'snatch' the nine-word secret order from her hands.

However, this was just song qingxiao's speculation. Number six and she were both 'newbies' in the God's trial and were still in the process of figuring out the rules of the trial.

It wasn't number six who had chased her last night. It was also possible that number six felt that her secret technique was too dangerous and wanted to eliminate the danger before it sprouted.

Perhaps there was another possibility, the black Dagger that number six had mentioned, but that was another mystery.

No matter what, number six was definitely involved in this. Her reality was transparent in number six's eyes, and she didn't know much about number six. This was the difference between her and number six!

The two people who died last night are different from mai boyuan and his brother."

Captain an's expression was complicated. He wanted to say something but stopped. In the end, he sighed.

"The identities of these two people are currently unclear."

Other than the psychic paranormal who had been crushed into a meat pie, the face of the man whose neck had been bitten off by the silver Wolf was clear. Captain an was woken up by an emergency call before dawn, but he had not found out the man's identity so far.

Since the Empire's development, everyone's information had been recorded, and such a situation rarely occurred.

Either this person had been an unregistered resident since he was a child, so there was nothing about him in the information. Or, his identity and status were far beyond Captain an's expectations. With his authority, he couldn't check it at the moment.

No matter which one it was, it gave Captain an a headache, but the latter was the most troublesome.

However, Captain an had a feeling that the victim's identity was very important. If he died in his jurisdiction, he would be in big trouble.

someone called the reporters this morning to inform them that the scene has been exposed. The media rushed to the scene to take photos. As Captain an spoke, the live broadcast of the Empire's news this morning appeared on the projection wall. The image that appeared on the screen was of the alley.

Although the police took the body away first, they didn't have time to clean up the bloodstains. From the scene alone, one could see the tragic fighting scene.

The incident happened in the western suburbs, but it caused a panic. The murderer was unknown, from the wound on victim three, it might be one. Captain an pondered over his words and finally said, ""It might be a wild beast." to cause such destruction at the scene, I don't think it's just a beast. It might be a monster.

With the development of time, culture had replaced barbarism. Although the noble families could raise fierce beasts as a hobby, it was difficult for small wild beasts to cause such great damage.

Normally, the serious Captain an would have rebuked such whimsical words, but at this time, he laughed bitterly.

"I received a call from the Imperial City's central guard. Whether it's a beast or a monster, we have work to do."

Before he could finish his sentence, the assistant's phone rang. After taking the phone, Captain an's expression was a little serious. He went out for a while and came back.

the higher-ups have requested that the people cause panic. They want us to send more people to patrol the western suburbs day and night!

As soon as he said that, many guards gasped.

The western suburbs had a higher chance of getting into trouble than other places. It was even more dangerous at night, as two or three people had to patrol in groups during the day.

The Western Jiujiang's police station had always been understaffed, and now that they had to patrol day and night, the number of people on patrol had to be reduced, which naturally caused the guards to be uneasy.

The crowd suddenly burst into a discussion, and the female guard who had a grudge with Song Qing earlier had a malicious look in her eyes.

Captain, we've always been short on manpower. It's already hard enough to patrol during the day. How can we assign enough people to patrol at night?" Someone asked, and Captain An gritted his teeth. I've already requested for assistance from the Imperial City's security Department. If necessary, I'll also ask the royal family for help.

After the royal family and the political system were separated, the head of Parliament was most reluctant to ask for help from the royal family. This would undoubtedly damage the prestige of the government.

However, there were extraordinary means in extraordinary times. The Shi family had been in business for many years and had many means. Asking them for help should be the fastest way to solve the case.

"But before we send reinforcements, we still need to pay more attention." After Captain An finished speaking, he waved his hand, the patrol team will be changed from four people in a team to two people. A part of the people in the center will be left to deal with emergency situations. The rest will go out to work.

"I'll patrol Chang Yan Street!" The female guard who had provoked Song Qingxiao spoke first, and then someone else raised their hand.

"I'll patrol the seven constellations."

Most of the people in the guard Hall were in groups. Because of the high risk factor at work, no one dared to be sure that they didn't need their teammates to save them at critical moments. Therefore, the relationship between the guards was also very close.

Everyone had chosen partners, and song Qing was left alone.

At present, the other guards had already chosen the time and Street to patrol, leaving the night patrol and the 'autumn road' to be vacant.

The autumn road was the alley where the accident happened last night. Other than song qingxiao, everyone else had a mission.

The provocative female guard gloated at Captain an's misfortune. Captain an frowned.

Even though he was a little unhappy with song qingxiao, it was obvious that everyone was ganging up to bully her.

There had just been an accident on this road, and it was full of danger. At present, the murderer was not clear, so it was not impossible to commit another crime.

Captain an didn't have a good impression of song qingxiao at first, and he had always wanted to drive her out of the guard Station, but he didn't want to use such a despicable method to drive her away.

"This road, I'll go ..."

"Captain, I'll go to the autumn road." Before Captain an could finish, song qingxiao had already spoken.

The moment she spoke, the few guards who were waiting to see her make a fool of herself and thought that she would cry and beg for mercy were stunned..

Chapter 276: The deal (1)

It wasn't just the others who were stunned. Even Captain an raised his head, his face revealing a surprised expression."You ..."

"I'll go to autumn road." Song qingxiao repeated herself. At first, everyone thought that they were hallucinating. Now that song qingxiao repeated it again, the female guard who provoked her couldn't help but exclaim,

"Are you crazy? This isn't how you earn your performance!"

She raised her voice a little, making it a little sharp, and showed a sarcastic expression on her face. The others' expressions were similar to hers, and it was obvious that they were thinking the same thing.

Captain an frowned and took a deep breath.

"It's indeed not the case now..."

Yesterday, when she went to the western suburbs to investigate the scene, her performance was not bad. In the face of the chaotic scene, she wasn't frightened. It really changed Captain an's original view of her.

He could tell that song qingxiao's family background was not good and she needed this job. He had also thought of letting her stay in the guard Station after her probation period, so that she would not need to take such a huge risk to patrol.

Captain an had a strict personality and rarely acted on his emotions. He was about to tell song qingxiao about this when song qingxiao shook her head.

I'm not being impulsive. I grew up in the western suburbs and I'm very familiar with that road. "So, I'll go," she said after a pause.

When she said this, it was obvious that she had made up her mind. However, everyone knew that she lived in the western suburbs and was familiar with the road, but it did not mean that it was safe. Something had just happened on that road, and the murderer was cruel. Moreover, from the way the two people died, it was unknown whether they were human or beast. It was too dangerous for her to be alone.

“Since that’s the case, I’ll be in the same group as you,”

The others had either lowered their heads and snickered, or revealed expressions of anticipation for a good show. When they heard Captain an’s words, they immediately raised their heads in surprise.

“Captain...”

that’s about it. The time will be given to you later. Those who are not on duty can leave to rest and wait for the patrol. Captain an waved his hand, signaling that the matter was over. Everyone left. When song qingxiao left, Captain an wanted to say something but stopped. In the end, he rubbed his forehead.

Outside, number five looked a little anxious. Tang Yun leaned against the chair and sat down, his head hanging down and his chin resting on his chest.

When song Qing came out, number five subconsciously let out a sigh of relief and smiled.

“Sorry to keep you waiting.” Number five shook his head and looked around. Seeing that no one was paying attention to them, he turned to the side and rubbed his hands impatiently.

“Where’s the whip?”

At this point, song qingxiao wasn’t afraid that number five would dare to take the red whip away in front of her. She sat down on the bench and used Tang Yun’s cover to lift up her clothes. She took out the red whip that was rolled up by her waist and handed it to number five.

Seeing her actions, number five squinted his eyes and a glimmer of light flashed through his pupils.

Both he and song qingxiao knew the value of the red whip.

This wasn't an ordinary whip, but one that could be exchanged from the trial space. It could be brought into the space and used to protect one's life at a critical moment. It was a good item that was difficult to obtain even if one had money in the real world.

Wasn't she afraid that he would rebel and take the red whip away when she handed it over so readily?

Either she didn't think of this, but the moment the idea came into her mind, it was immediately rejected by number five.

Even a fool couldn't survive the first round of the trial of gods, not to mention song qingxiao's performance in the mental hospital during the last trial. Number five had seen it all. She was a meticulous person and would not make such a low-level mistake.

If she handed over the long whip, it meant that she was certain that her strength could suppress her and was not afraid that she would play tricks in front of her.

A few thoughts flashed through number Five's mind. He reached out with a trembling hand and took the red whip. The red whip was quite heavy in his hand, and the body of the whip was slightly cold, as if it did not touch the temperature of song Qing's body.

He paused for a moment and entered his consciousness with the long whip. In his sea of consciousness, the trial space prompted, "Red whip, exchanged in the trial space.

After confirming the identity of the red whip, number Five's eyes revealed a look of joy. He immediately withdrew his consciousness and touched the whip again, feeling very reluctant to part with it.

He was still rational. He knew that they were in the guard Station, and it was not a good place for him to try his hand. Thus, he held back his unwillingness and handed the whip back to song qingxiao.

this is a product of the red whip space. It costs 200 points to exchange for it. For every 20 points, you can exchange it for 100000 Empire dollars.

When he said this, his face revealed a bit of a cunning merchant's look, of course, Qing Xiao. We're not on the same page, so I won't charge you according to the realm's price. I'll give you five million.. How about it?"

Chapter 277: The deal (2)

Number five knew that song Qing was from a humble family and had a mother who drank a lot. The woman on the chair should be her.

No matter how outstanding her performance in the trial was, in reality, she was very poor. This should be the reason why she was willing to sell the red whip.

He believed that this five million would be enough to make song Qing rich and change her life. It should be enough to satisfy her.

A poor person would be overjoyed to suddenly have such a huge amount of wealth that could change their lives. She would no longer have to work for money and could live comfortably.

Number Five's face revealed a smug expression as he looked at red whip.

In fact, the moment he said '5 million', song Qingxin's heart did move.

At her level, money was not the most important thing to her, but she needed money in a certain aspect.

She could guess that number five was able to find out her identity and was so confident in coming to her door to buy her whip. He would definitely offer a price that would satisfy her, but she didn't expect it to be as much as five million.

This red whip was only worth '50' points, so it would be best if he could sell it to number five.

"Sure." She suppressed her thoughts and nodded.

"But you have to do me a favor."

Hearing her words, number five showed a hesitant expression.

"Help?" He looked at song qingxiao's calm face, as if she had not lost her composure. He could not help but feel disappointed.

"What favor? Tell me about it first."

After he said this, he added," it's fine if it's a small matter, but if it's more troublesome," he licked his lips, ""I'm afraid I can't help."

Number five was afraid that she would misunderstand, so he explained, something happened last night. My family has received the news and asked me to leave the capital First.

When song qingxiao heard this, she lowered her eyelids to hide the strange look in her eyes. She then said," it's not a big deal. I just want to buy a suite. It needs to be big and quiet. The location doesn't matter. The most important thing is to be fast. It's best if you can move in immediately... She paused for a moment and then sighed.

as for the price, it's five million. You can do as you see fit.

Number five immediately understood. According to her information, she had lived in poverty since she was young and lived in the western suburbs, which was also known as the slum. It was very old and shabby. It was understandable that the first thing she did when she became rich was to change her house.

However, he had thought that song qingxiao was a calm person and would not be so flamboyant. He did not expect her to spend all the money in one go.

“This isn’t a big deal.” This request was not difficult to fulfill. Although number Five’s base camp was not in jingdu, his family had some connections in jingdu and knew a few acquaintances. I have a few friends that I can contact. But should we make this deal first? ”

He pointed at the red whip in song Qing’s hand and said.

Song qingxiao nodded and threw the whip at him. Number five quickly took it.

After he held the whip tightly, he put it in the pocket of his suit confidently. Then, he took out his phone and walked a few steps away. While he was making the call, he paid more than half of his attention to song qingxiao. She sat in her seat without moving, as if she was not curious about his call, nor was she afraid that he would run away.

Number five tried to walk a little further, but song qingxiao still did not move. A hint of seriousness flashed in his eyes, and he immediately stopped in his tracks.

About seven or eight minutes later, he turned back and said to song qingxiao with a smile,” the money has been transferred to your name, and I’ve contacted a few places for you to look for houses. If you’re free, we can go there now. I’ve already called a taxi.

Song qingxiao nodded. She was on duty at night, so she was free during the day.

Furthermore, there was a restless Wolf at home. She wanted to finish this as soon as possible. After the house was settled, she would move the wolf away and leave it in the western suburbs. Once the Wolf’s size was exposed, it would be too late for people to connect it to the man who had his throat bitten off last night.

When he got the long whip, he seemed a little excited. Beads of sweat appeared on his forehead, and his whole face was shining.

“When I called you just now, weren’t you afraid that I would lie to you and run away?”

“You can’t run away.” Song qingxiao laughed at his words, “Of course, I’m not afraid of the dead lying to me.”

When she said this, her tone was gentle and her eyes were calm. However, the terrifying killing intent drilled into number Five’s heart in her laughter, causing his expression to change in an instant.

Back in the mental hospital, song qingxiao was also very dangerous, but she didn’t give number five the sense of danger that she was now.

Now, she was still the same as before. No, on closer look, she seemed to have changed again.

Her thick bangs changed, as if they had grown longer overnight, covering her eyes.

Through the gaps between her bangs, her eyes were like dark Wells, unfathomable.

The moment number Five’s eyes met hers, a chill burst out from her eyes and penetrated into his limbs and bones, making him shiver uncontrollably.

It was dangerous!

His reason was reminding him. His hair stood on end at this moment, and a large number of goosebumps climbed up his skin. He did not feel any killing intent, but he felt the threat of death!

How was that possible?

What exactly happened to cause her to change so much overnight? A thought quickly flashed through number Five’s mind. Trial!

It was only after participating in the divine trials that her aura would have such a huge change after she came out.

Could it be that she had been chosen by the trial to participate in a new round of trials?

That's impossible, right? Is this a lie?

Number five shouted in her heart. She had no injuries on her body, and her breathing did not seem to be in disorder. She did not look like she was in a sorry state after participating in the trial.

Furthermore, as the number of trial participants increased, the difficulty of the mission would increase. Those who survived each time were the best of the best.

To be able to stand out from this group of people was undoubtedly more difficult than ever.

Every trial was not only physical torture for the participants, but also a great test of their spiritual power. No one knew if they would die in the next trial. Even number five was anxious about the arrival of the next trial. Song qingxiao was so calm that she didn't look like she had just experienced a life and death situation.

Moreover, it hadn't been long since he was last sent to the mental hospital. Even if the trial of entering God didn't have a fixed time frame, it was still too fast.

However, if she did not enter the trial, and she gave number five a more dangerous feeling than before, could it be that she had obtained a large number of points in the mental hospital and exchanged them for some benefits?

Number Five's heart was in turmoil, and his expression gradually became serious..

Chapter 278: Hidden from the world (1)

No matter which guess he came up with, song qingxiao's importance to number five was different from before.

His expression changed again and again. Finally, he forced a smile and looked down at his watch. After adjusting his expression, number five gave up the idea of letting others take song Qing to look down on the house. He decided to accompany her personally and ask about her background.

The car No. 5 was parked in the garage. When the driver drove out, song qingxiao had already carried Tang Yun on her back.

At this moment, someone in the guard Station suddenly called out her name, and the two of them subconsciously turned their heads.

A young girl, who was about the same age as song qingxiao, walked over with a form. She stood in front of song qingxiao and looked at number five curiously.

This person had already been in the guard Station for two days, and he had always come to find song Qing. Number five had an ordinary appearance, but he was a little perverted. He was different from the timid and weak appearance in the trial space, and seemed a lot more flamboyant.

From his age, he should be around 30 to 4.0 years old, much younger than song Qing.

The girl's eyes flickered with speculation, but when she finally looked at song qingxiao, her expression turned into pity.

this is the schedule of the patrols. The captain asked me to give it to you.

The sympathy in her eyes was too obvious. It was as if song Qing was about to get into trouble. Number five knew song Qing's background. When he saw the girl's eyes, he didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

After waiting for two days in the guard Station, plus the information he had found about song qingxiao, the people in the guard Station had a clear impression of her.

When she had carried her mother in earlier, he had also seen the scene of her being embarrassed.

These people treated her like a kitten, but they didn't know that this person was a ruthless character who pretended to be a pig to eat a Tiger.

"What patrol schedule?"

He took the opportunity when young general Song Qing took the duty form and took a look at it. His eyes quickly found the keywords: Autumn Festival road, patrol!

No. 5 clearly knew what had happened at Autumn Festival road.

The smile on his face suddenly froze, and the girl who gave him the on-call form turned and left. He watched as Song Qing folded the form and put it in his pocket. He didn't say a word until the two of them left the security Hall and got into his car. He couldn't help but speak first,"

"You're going to patrol the autumn Festival road?"

Song Qingxiao nodded. He remembered what he had said on the 5th. He had received news in the early hours of the morning that something had happened in the capital, and his family had asked him to leave the capital immediately.

"You should have heard."

When she said this, it was not a question, but a certainty.

The death of the two men last night caused a huge commotion. After the media spread it, it could not be covered up at all.

There was a commotion at the entrance of the guard Station in the morning, and there were still western suburbs citizens who refused to leave. They had arrived early on the 5th, so they should have seen everything that happened in the morning.

“Yes, I am.” No. 5 nodded. Tang Yun sat in the front seat. There was a sound-proof device in the back seat to prevent their conversation from being heard by the driver.

two people died on autumn road last night. We haven’t caught the murderer yet. After hesitating for a while, he took out his phone from his pocket, swiped it open, and showed it to song qingxiao.

“You should have already seen it.”

On the number five phone were the two masters who tried to kill song qingxiao last night but were killed by her. Captain an had already released the photos in the conference room.

However, there were more photos on number Five’s phone, and they had been taken from all directions.

Song qingxiao looked at her phone. Her number five Finger swiped across the screen, and her fingertips were still trembling.

“It’s because of this that my family feels that the capital isn’t safe, so they told me to go home quickly.”

He hurriedly swiped through the photo and put away his phone. After hesitating for a long time, he reminded,”

“It’s not safe there. You ... You’d better be careful.”

Song qingxiao was surprised to hear this.

Both of them had participated in the trial of God, and their strength had increased along with their missions. It was one thing for ordinary people to be afraid of such a killing scene, but why did number five have such an expression?

Perhaps it was because of the unconcealed expression on her face, number five laughed bitterly and said,”

“Qing Xiao, don’t tell me you think that after entering the trial and your strength has increased, there will be no more obstacles in this world?”

“I’ve never thought of that.” Song qingxiao shook her head in denial. There was always someone better.

She could improve through the trial, but there were also other trial participants. After coming out of the ‘demon Island’, No. 5 was obviously still stuck at the trial in the ‘mental hospital’. Song qingxiao felt that there were many other trial participants who were not on the same level as her in this world, but they were all hidden.

Even if she excluded these cultivators, the two men who were chasing her last night were quite skilled. In the eyes of ordinary people, they were already extremely mysterious Masters.

Number Five’s fingers rubbed against the phone, and his eyes showed a struggle. Song qingxiao’s current strength was worthy of him winning her over. He wanted to make friends with her, so he finally said after some deliberation,” in this world, besides the trial-takers, what group of people do you think is the strongest? ” he used a strange adjective.

“The royal family!”

Song qingxiao looked at number Five’s expression and pursed her lips. He obviously had something to say. What he wanted to say might break some of her previous understanding of the real world and open her eyes to a wider world.

Everyone knew that the Shi family was the most powerful force in the world.

The Imperial Guards were all top experts, and they protected the members of the imperial family.

Every year, the Empire would recruit talented people with potential. Through various strict channels, they would enter the royal family to serve and join the guards of the Shi family.

These people had extraordinary strength. Even though Song Qingxiao's status in the real world was low, she had heard all kinds of legends about the people who served in the royal family.

As soon as she said this, Number Five licked his lips.

Even after entering the car, there was no one around. The driver and the drunk Tang Yun were isolated in the front seat and could not hear what they were saying. The car was surrounded by soundproof glass, but Number Five still lowered his voice.

In this world, the relationships between the major clans are complicated. The royal family is indeed the strongest, but... He paused and said with some regret,

"There might be someone else above the royal family. Of course, this is just a guess."

Number Five's expression and tone carried a sense of loss.

"My status is not high enough, so I don't know much. I've only heard some groundless legends."

He heaved a long sigh, all in all, the autumn road is very dangerous. The two who died were not ordinary people. I'm afraid they were connected to a hidden family. Now, all parties are watching. You have to patrol and be careful. Don't get involved in the Whirlpool.

“What is a hidden family?”

Song qingxiao asked after hearing his words.

Number Five’s explanation was vague, but song qingxiao wasn’t really interested in what he meant by” other than the royal family, she only wanted to know more about the identity of the two people who tried to kill her last night.

With regards to the underworld clan, it was not something that could be explained in detail in just a few words. Number five gave an example,”

“You’ve probably seen the faces of many of the people in power in the Empire’s major financial and aristocratic families in some journals, magazines, the internet, and television. This is called a clan on the surface, including my family, which is one of the branches of this power.”

The reclusive families, on the other hand, were different from the well-known noble families and financial groups, they did not show their talents or reveal their faces, but made a fortune in silence. They were powerful and had close relationships with each other. They were hidden in various parts of the Imperium.

Number five loosened his collar. I’m afraid that only the Shi family knows the details of these hidden families. I don’t know anything else.

He then added,” if I didn’t accidentally enter God’s trial and improve my strength, I’m afraid I would never be able to understand these things in my life.

Even if he spent his entire life, he could only be a rich second generation, squandering money and living a mediocre life..

Chapter 279: Family (1)

Song qingxiao gave a half-smile as she recalled the first time she met No. 5 when she entered the mental hospital scenario.

When he was threatened by the big man with the gun, he cried and pretended to be stupid, saying that he had exchanged his points for money. Although song qingxiao was suspicious of him at that time, now that he had spoken, it was confirmed that number five had a good background in the real world.

Seeing her expression, number five also remembered the first time he met her. He chuckled a few times, but didn't look embarrassed.

If number five was as he said, born into a well-known family, then number six's existence was undoubtedly one of the hidden families.

Even if his guess was wrong, number six had countless connections with a hidden family.

The two people who were chasing him last night were most likely sent by a reclusive family. No wonder they were so outstanding.

After the two of them died, everyone was watching.

Number five couldn't have mentioned the other forces other than the royal family and the underworld clans for no reason. Although he didn't say it clearly, song Qing could guess that no one suspected him of the deaths of the two people last night after going through all the information he got from number five in his mind and organizing it.

The reason was probably that the environment at the scene was very seriously damaged. The two people who were involved in the accident were experts in the eyes of the world, but they died miserably in the end.

It could be said that when song qingxiao came out of the trial scenario, the two of them did not even have the power to fight back. They were killed in the blink of an eye, not even giving them a chance to escape.

To be able to kill two people in such a short time was not something ordinary people could do.

Even though she was a participant, number six knew her own strength very well. They had met in the mental hospital, so she knew what song qingxiao was up to.

The only thing that number six did not expect was that song qingxiao was so lucky that she accidentally entered the trial site while she was being chased.

Even if she had expected this, she was also a participant chosen by God's trial. She did not expect song Qing's small progress to be so fast, not to mention the lucky genetic mutation in the trial, the evolution drug, the lower half of the body turning into a snake tail, and the power going berserk.

The two of them did not die from a knife wound or the red whip. One died from the mouth of a Silver Wolf, and the other was hit by the tail of the whip. On the surface, song Qing had been eliminated from the competition.

They might have thought that the two of them had run into trouble while they were chasing song qingxiao, and that something had happened to her, allowing her to escape.

Therefore, number six wouldn't be able to guess that it was song qingxiao's doing in such a short time. Combined with the forces mentioned by number five, it was very likely that these hidden families would suspect that another force outside of the royal family was involved.

Although the suspicion on him had been temporarily cleared, it was just as number five had said. As more and more forces joined in, the autumn Festival road would be targeted by all parties. The situation was indeed complicated.

Song Qingxin sighed silently. Things were getting more and more complicated. Number six's assassination reminded her of the mysterious dagger.

Since number six had mentioned that dagger, it should be an extraordinary item. He had almost died under the dagger. Who was the person who killed him with the dagger? what kind of background did he have? what kind of grudge did he have with him?

“In short, you have to be careful.” After number five said this, he added another point.

For him to say such words, it was obvious that he wanted to do song Qing a favor. Song Qing nodded.

Even though song qingxiao didn't fully understand number six's identity, she wasn't as clueless as before. She needed to be more careful when she couldn't fight number six head-on.

After the serious discussion, the two of them stopped talking, and the car fell into a strange silence.

Song qingxiao was immersed in her own thoughts. Number five was smart enough not to disturb her. About half an hour later, the driver stopped the car.

The place where No. 5 brought her to was a luxurious and stylish sales office. No. 5 had already greeted them before they arrived. A group of staff in professional attire was waiting outside the sales office.

The moment the two of them got out of the car and saw number five, the man in the lead came up to them.

“Young master Luo.”

Number Five's surname was Luo in the real world. He had a name that did not match his appearance:Luo zhiyu. Song qingxiao had seen him on the business card he had given her yesterday.

At the thought of the business card, song qingxiao remembered something.

She had received the business card from the 5th yesterday. After changing her clothes after work, she had stuffed it into her pocket.

Song qingxiao's face turned pale. She reached into the pocket of the dress, but it was not the same one she wore yesterday.

She had changed her clothes in the training space yesterday, and she remembered clearly that there was no business card.

In other words, the business card had been lost before entering the trial space. It could have been lost at the place where number six treated him to a meal, or it could have been lost when he was being chased.

It would be fine if he lost it while eating, but if he lost it at the place where he was being hunted down, it would be extremely disadvantageous to him.

No. 5's business card was simple. He was from an extraordinary background, and the business card might even have a unique symbol. Once it was picked up, it would be very easy to trace it to him.

Song qingxiao's spirit energy was moving along with her emotions. Even number five, who was standing beside her, felt that something was wrong. He turned to look at her.

"What's wrong?"

The other people who were smiling at them saw the two of them talking and looked at song qingxiao curiously.

She was standing next to number five with her head lowered. Her long bangs covered half of her face, and only her delicate chin and tightly pursed lips could be seen. Her skin was fair, and she was wearing the uniform of the guard Department. Other than her tall and thin figure, it was impossible to tell what her figure was like. She was very young and looked a little nervous.

However, from her appearance, she did not look fashionable or sexy. The few people who came over exchanged looks. He didn't expect Luo zhiyu to like this kind of woman.

"I'm fine."

Song qingxiao held back her uneasiness. She remembered the photos of the scene at the guard Station. There was no trace of the business card at that time. When they were in the car, No. 5 had also taken out his phone and showed her the photos. There was no business card at the scene.

If the families of the two chasers really found the business cards while cleaning up the scene, number five, as the owner of the business cards, should be the first to be alert.

This proved that the business card was either not dropped there or picked up by someone.

She suppressed the chaotic thoughts in her heart, and the few people who came up to her said,” young master Luo, according to your request, I've arranged a few houses for you. If it's convenient, you can go and take a look now.

The group entered the sales department. The staff took out a stack of information and placed it in front of the two. Number five pushed it in front of song qingxiao. The few of them were stunned. Song qingxiao picked up the information and flipped through it. One of them said, due to time constraints, we have tidied up five houses in total. Three of them belong to cold Jade Lake.

‘Emerald Cold Lake’ was the most famous house on the north side of the central Avenue where the royal family lived. Many rich and powerful people lived there. Every inch of land was worth its weight in gold, and there were many famous people there.

In the past, song qingxiao would never have thought that she would have anything to do with such a house. But now, because of number five, this group of people had directly thrown out the house.

However, song Qing knew what she was doing. Although she had sold the red whip for five million, it was not enough to buy a house in cold Jade Lake.

In addition, the location was unique. It was close to the center of the Imperial City and the center of the Empire's government. There were many patrolling teams in and out. She had a Silver Wolf, so it was not suitable for such a conspicuous place. Thus, she asked again,”

“Besides these three, what about the other two?”

Chapter 280: House (1)

The others were stunned by song qingxiao's question. Number five did not say anything, as if he was letting song qingxiao decide.

If No. 5 wanted to buy a house, they would have to first take out the best house they had for him to choose from. However, when song Qing asked about the other houses, these people took out the two houses at the bottom of the information.

“There are two more. One is beside ‘Jade Cold Lake’, and the other is a little further away from the main road of the Imperial City.”

The price was stated on the information. Song qingxiao took a quick look at it. No matter which set it was, the price had far exceeded the upper limit of five million.

It was obvious that she could not afford it. Song Qing pursed her lips and was a little disappointed. It seemed like she had made a wasted trip. Before number five said anything, the man who greeted number five observed her expression and laughed.

there are some other houses, but they are not as good as these.

This man was younger than number five. He gave a look to the people around him, and a few young people got up to get it. He smiled and said,”

“But because young master Luo introduced us, we'll let you choose the best first.”

"I don't need those." Song qingxiao shook her head and looked outside. The car No. 5 was parked outside and hadn't been moved. The driver was smoking outside, and Tang Yun was left in the car.

I just want a big and quiet place. I don't care about the location, as long as I can finish the check-in procedures quickly. She told him her request and stretched out her hand."Within five million."

The man's smile immediately froze. Song qingxiao's request was completely out of his expectations. The capital was the center of the Empire and the headquarters of the royal family. The prices of the surrounding houses were skyrocketing. Song qingxiao's request seemed simple, but it was not.

Five million Yuan was an astronomical figure to her, but it was still a little short if she wanted to buy a house, especially a house here.

No. 5 should be well aware of this, but he sipped the tea that a female staff member had served him without any intention of interrupting.

"Young master Luo..."

The man turned around awkwardly. This was the first time he had encountered such a situation. If song qingxiao hadn't been brought here on the 5th, the man would have thought that she was just joking.

In front of number five, the man laughed bitterly,"

"This ... 'This ...' It's possible ..."

"Qing Xiao, why do you want to buy a big house?"

Number five asked as he put down his teacup after watching enough of the show.

"I've raised a dog to guard the house, afraid that it'll run wild." Song qingxiao replied calmly. Number five did not think much of it, ""It's just a dog. Even if it's wild, how big does it need a house?"

Song qingxiao thought of the giant Silver Wolf and did not say anything.

Number five looked at the time and slapped his thigh,” “Zhou ye, take a look again and see if there’s anything suitable. If there really isn’t anything, let’s see which one miss song likes the most. I’ll pay for the extra money.” He glanced at song Qing Xiao. ‘Till lend it to you for now. I’ll return it when I have the chance in the future.”

His words stunned the man called Zhou ye. From the conversation, number five seemed to be familiar with song Qing Xiao, but it was not as close as he had thought.

Song qingxiao understood number Five’s meaning. He was probably thinking that when she entered the trial space again in the future, she would be able to sell him the items she obtained.

However, the deal was successful because she had gained too many benefits from this trial. The red whip was not that useful to her.

Furthermore, he had the initiative to sell the red whip this time, and number five had a favor to ask of him.

However, if she owed him money, the situation would change immediately. Although she was not afraid of number Five’s tricks with her current strength, song qingxiao did not like to owe people. Thus, as soon as number five finished speaking, she shook her head.

“No need.”

Number five smiled and made a helpless gesture to Zhou ye. After Zhou ye saw that the relationship between the two was not as he had originally guessed, he returned to his business nature and muttered to himself for a moment,

“If that’s the case, I do have a house in my hands that meets your requirements.”

He raised his hand and beckoned for a staff member to come over. He whispered a few instructions into the man's ear. The man looked at Song Qing in surprise a few times before turning around and leaving.

this house was sold three years ago. It's a detached villa with a garden at the front and back. It's quiet and big enough. Most importantly, the location is okay.

Zhou Ye looked at Song Qingxiao and smiled, you're young master Luo's friend. I won't hide some things from you. I'll just be direct.

Song Qing Xiao slightly nodded and Zhou Ye continued, the first person to buy the house was a lady with the surname Sun. Not long after the decoration was done, the whole family moved in. The old man in the family passed away, so they moved out again, saying that the house was inauspicious and wanted to sell it.

For number Five's sake, he didn't hide anything and told her everything," but no one took over. After many twists and turns, it fell into our hands.

After that house was handed over to Zhou Ye, it had not been sold.

"In fact, the madam of that house spent nearly this amount when she bought it." He raised his fingers and made a 'three' sign. 30 million. The decoration is also very good. When I was ready to sell it, I only asked for 20 million.

Zhou Ye said excitedly, at that time, my company's staff thought that they had picked up a big bargain. However, after they went to take a look, they didn't expect that the kid who went to get the key would be so scared that he quit his job.

"Oh?"

Number five asked a question and Zhou ye sat up straight, the sun family's relative who passed away died an unnatural death, and it was quite a tragic death.

So until now, the house had been in Zhou ye's company for more than two years and had not been sold.

Rich people would not give priority to such a house. People who were short of money like song qingxiao had the intention to buy it, but after going to the site to see the house, no one dared to buy it even if it was cheap and in a suitable location.

As a result, the price of the house dropped again and again, but no one was interested.

"I'll go take a look."

Song qingxiao was a little tempted when she heard this.

That Zhou ye's face revealed a look of surprise. That house's 'fierce' reputation had spread far and wide. If it was an ordinary person who heard him vaguely say this, they would have retreated.

He didn't expect song qingxiao, who looked like an introverted girl, to have such courage even though she didn't speak much.

Number five wasn't surprised by song qingxiao's decision. After all, song qingxiao was not as weak as she appeared to be since she had survived the God's trial.

In the mental hospital, he had seen her kill people. Number four and the others had died in her hands. She was the final winner. A house where people had died was not a problem for her. She might even think that it was a gift from heaven! you can take a look, but there are some rumors about that house. I have to explain it to you first. When Zhou ye heard that she wanted to go and take a look, he revealed an expression that he didn't know if he was relieved or conflicted, someone said that the house was haunted. Some people who were on patrol passed by at night and said that there was no one inside, but they found shadows.

He said this in a serious tone and song Qing Xiao nodded her head in understanding. Zhou ye then emphasized, that house is really strange. If you really want to buy it in the end, for young master Luo's sake," he leaned his upper body over and said, ""I can give you four million.."
