

Watch Out 471

Chapter 471: Three-headed (1)

“In fact, No. 6 and No. 7 were one step ahead of us.” Meanwhile, the time it took for song qingxiao and the others to return to the terror Battalion and escape was enough for No. 6 and No. 7 to travel hundreds of times from the death altar to the draw bridge.

However, when they met on the suspension bridge, No. 6 and No. 7, who were blocking the other side, only appeared from the fog after another team of No. 6 and No. 7 appeared.

In other words, if there really was another team of ‘song qingxiao’ and the other two, the time of their appearance should also be based on the time of their appearance.

Her explanation made number one and number five feel relieved at first, but then they felt nervous.

The reason they heaved a sigh of relief was that they had been afraid that the ‘themselves’ of the other team would have appeared long ago, but had been hiding in the dark, waiting for an opportunity to launch a sneak attack.

However, from what song qingxiao was saying, it seemed like they had not appeared yet, so there was no need to worry.

However, just because they didn’t appear now didn’t mean that they wouldn’t appear in the future. Sooner or later, the group would face this problem. When they thought of this, they couldn’t help but feel worried.

After a brief discussion, they didn’t say anything more. They took a few more steps forward, and suddenly, a long ‘huchi’ sound came into everyone’s ears.

The few people who were walking forward were shocked and subconsciously stopped in their tracks. Then, another loud ‘huhu’ sound was heard.

Ever since they crossed the suspension bridge and entered the darkness, they had not heard any other sounds other than the sound of their own footsteps.

The moment the voice rang out, number one's scalp went numb and he almost jumped up.

"Who is it?"

He asked in shock, but before he could finish his sentence, everyone clearly heard a 'huhu' sound.

Three consecutive sounds were clearly transmitted into everyone's ears, so it shouldn't be an illusion.

After these sounds, everyone seemed to hear a few more 'ka ka' sounds, as if a giant full of saw teeth was smacking its mouth.

The surrounding temperature rose again and again, and number one stood frozen on the spot, not daring to move.

Song qingxiao, on the other hand, took a step forward after a moment of silence.

As soon as he stepped out, a faint orange-red beam of light came from the front. Waves of heat came in waves, as if there was a huge furnace in front of him, and flames were burning with a 'Boom Boom'.

Their expressions changed. This should be the last checkpoint to escape from the terror Battalion.

Although song qingxiao had mentioned that they were not far from the guards of hell, number one and number five did not expect that they would reach it so soon.

As soon as the light shadow appeared, the 'huhu' sound became clearer. The group carefully walked in the direction of the light for about a hundred meters. The light source became brighter and brighter. After walking out of the complete darkness, a huge cave appeared in front of everyone.

The ground of the cave was covered with dried bones, and on top of the pile of bones in the middle, there was a behemoth the size of a small mountain.

It was an extremely huge beast. Its skin was red and seemed to be burning with flames, which made the cave red.

The beast was about three meters tall, and its four limbs were curled up. Its head was buried in its strong limbs, and its huge body occupied almost half of the cave.

Behind it, there seemed to be light passing in. A few wisps of wind blew, dispelling some of the heat from the fire on the beast's body.

Number one was dumbfounded and couldn't even speak for a long time.

This was far too different from the two-headed dog he had imagined.

Even though the beast had yet to wake up, the aura it exuded was far from what the two-headed dog outside the bloody tunnel could compare to.

The sound of the burning flames and the breathing of the sleeping beast seemed to have stirred up a small whirlwind in the cave.

The two-headed dog that had been chasing them was not small, but even if this dog had not woken up yet, just by lying there, it was already taller than the two-headed dog number one had seen earlier.

A foot as thick as a stone pillar and as powerful as a rock was placed in front of the dog. It was as thick as an adult man's waist. Under the flames, one could vaguely see the sharp and extraordinary claws inside, which made people shudder.

Perhaps it was because a group of people had barged into the cave, but the giant dog's relaxed claws suddenly moved.

The sharp claws that were half-hidden in his palm extended out, and a cold light flickered.

His thick leg muscles contracted, causing number one to instinctively take a large step back..

Chapter 472: Three-heads-2

“This...”

After a long time, number one seemed to have found his voice.

“This, how can he beat them?”

In the terror Battalion, when faced with the two two-headed dogs led by giant, number one could still muster the courage to lead the dogs away when he was invisible.

However, now that he was facing such a terrifying giant dog, number one was terrified. For a moment, he didn't even dare to think about fighting it.

The cave was filled with the sound of breathing from the dog's head. Even though the beast was in deep sleep, its unbridled aura still weighed heavily on everyone's hearts.

The escapees were extremely weak and couldn't help much at this time. In order to pass through this place, they could only rely on the three trial-takers.

However, among the three of them, number one's strength was superior due to his agility. Number five could transform, but even after transforming, he couldn't compete with the huge dog's body.

If only song qingxiao was left, she would probably be able to fight against this huge dog. However, number one knew that song qingxiao might be able to do so if she was at her peak. However, after going through the blood tunnel, forcing the two-headed dog to retreat, killing the giant, and fighting the Necromancer at the undead altar, everyone's strength had been depleted by more than half.

On the way back to the terror Battalion, they had used up more energy. Number one had no confidence that the three of them could take down this dog with their combined strength.

"Even if you can't win, you still have to fight."

Song qingxiao's heart was heavy. She had already thought that even if the guard of hell was a dog, it couldn't be like the two-headed dogs from before. However, the existence of this huge dog in front of her was still far beyond her expectations.

She had already observed the terrain here. The cave was unusually wide, but most of the middle was occupied by dogs.

When the dog stood up, the entire area would be covered in its aura, and there was no way for them to hide.

"There's no use in running away." She raised her chin and looked through the sleeping dog.

"Do you guys see the light?"

On the dog's back, a few rays of sunlight shone through the red flames into the cave.

"That should be the exit of the terror Battalion."

In other words, everyone had no other choice. Only by passing this stage could they complete the mission and return to reality.

Number one was previously filled with battle intent, but after seeing the dogs, most of it was gone. He even forgot about the worry that the other team would launch a sneak attack.

Number five was frowning as well. He had also seen those beams of light. Completing the mission was an extreme temptation to him.

However, he could also clearly see that if he wanted to rush to every corner of the cave, he would be enveloped by the huge dog's aura. It would not be so easy to pass through.

When he was facing the skeleton, number five could still clench his teeth and resist. But now, the dangerous aura emitted by the giant dog made him look uncomfortable.

"Can you think of a way to sneak away?"

He knew his own strength the best.

Number Five's strength after his transformation wasn't bad, but it would be difficult for him to fight against this huge dog.

After the few of them had barged in, the huge dog was still in a deep sleep. It would be best if they could pass through the cave without waking the dog.

Number one's eyes lit up when he heard that. However, song qingxiao shook her head.

"Difficult."

Number one didn't believe it and showed an eager expression,"

"Why don't we try it first?"

As soon as he finished speaking, he disappeared. Song qingxiao used her divine sense and sensed that number one was moving to the right side of the cave. He was going to stick to the wall and leave!

Anger appeared on number Five's face. Number one's actions now clearly showed that he wanted to take the opportunity to slip away.

Just as he was about to speak, number one's figure had already approached a corner of the mountain wall. He had just taken a step forward when the giant dog, which was originally lying on the mountain of bones and immersed in its sleep, suddenly moved.

The 'panting' sound came to an abrupt end, and the muscles on the relaxed foot in front of it contracted.

On the top of the 'Hili', a pair of sharp ears moved and slowly stood up. With the sound of bones being crushed, a ferocious and terrifying huge dog head raised up. Before it opened its eyes, it opened its mouth in the direction where No. 1 was hiding and yawned.

The huge dog opened its head, revealing two rows of uneven white sharp teeth.. A large flame was spat out from its mouth, and the burning flame hit the mountain wall with a 'boom'!

Chapter 473: Three-headed (3)

The temperature in the cave soared because of the flames, and the rocks on the mountain wall turned red under the high temperature.

In the blink of an eye, the invisible number one took a few steps back and reappeared about two to three meters away from the flames. He looked flustered and frightened.

The flame climbed up the rock wall and burned. Some of the fine ores on the surface were melted by the high temperature, turning into fiery red molten iron, dripping down.

With a 'plop', it landed on the ground, splashing large and small potholes on the ground, giving off bursts of hot smoke and a burnt smell.

Number one's figure quickly retreated, his face red from the flames. His hair was curled from the high temperature, and his clothes had big and small holes in them. Some places were on fire, as if they were about to catch fire.

When he stepped back, he was still in shock. He was grimacing from the heat and kept patting the flames on his body in pain. When he saw number Five's gloomy face, he looked embarrassed.

He instinctively turned to look at song qingxiao, only to see her half-smile, her expression unreadable.

However, the more he acted this way, the more uneasy number one felt. He felt even more uneasy than when number five glared at him.

The dog's head seemed to be completely awake after spitting fire. The eyelids on its huge head opened, revealing a pair of blood-red eyes!

The eyes were the size of an adult's fist. It turned and saw song qingxiao and the others standing not far away.

Roar... The dog's head let out a threatening low growl, and the giant palm that was lazily lying in front of it was retracted.

The mountain of bones under its body creaked as it moved, and a large number of bones that had been gnawed beyond recognition slid down.

The other head that was buried in its stomach also raised up, staring at the group that had barged into the cave with a ferocious expression.

Being stared at by these four eyes, number five felt as if he was being strangled. He opened his mouth but couldn't make a sound.

The flames on the rock wall gradually extinguished. Amidst the sound of the mountain of bones sliding, a large shadow was still moving in the dog's stomach.

At this moment, for some reason, number one suddenly said,"

"F * ck. This dog, is it pregnant?"

His eyes were wide open, and his face was red and swollen from the fire. His expression was quite funny.

Even though the situation was urgent, song qingxiao couldn't help but smile when she heard these bold and imaginative words.

Number five frowned and glared at number one.

Fortunately, his jesting words eased the tense atmosphere caused by the awakening of the giant dog.

The giant dog's stomach moved, and a tall shadow was slowly projected from the opposite rock wall that was illuminated by the fiery red light.

As the shadow rose, a pair of sharp shadows appeared.

The shadow turned around, revealing a pair of terrifying Scarlet eyes!

"Three ... Three heads ..." Number one exclaimed. Song Qing's heart sank.

The Guardian of hell was a giant dog with a terrifying body, but now it had three heads.

After the three heads woke up one after another, they suddenly opened their mouths and let out fierce roars!

‘Woof...’

‘Woof...’

‘Wuuu

The sound was deafening, as if it was accompanied by a bloody rain, making people’s eardrums hurt!

The interior of the cave could not withstand the attack of this sound wave. Some of the rock walls cracked slightly, and a large number of gravel rolled down like rain.

After confirming that there were escapees invading, the three-headed dog raised its unusually thick forearms and slowly stood up!

As it moved, its aura rose, and its shadow was like a mountain that was about to crush them, slowly enveloping the people who had barged into the cave.

A portion of the White bones on the ground had scattered all over the ground. Some of them had been crushed by its feet, making a ‘creaking’ sound.

The few rays of light that had been shining through its back at the entrance of the cave were now completely blocked by its terrifying body.

The flames that were originally burning on its body burned even more vigorously as it woke up. On the mountain wall, a long and thick whip tail was swinging left and right, sweeping the White bones on the ground and sending them flying.

Number Five’s originally serious face suddenly became even more serious than before!

Under everyone's dumbfounded gazes, the Cerberus's upper body had already completely stood up. Its raised head was almost touching the top of the cave as it looked down at the people who were trying to escape!

'Roar!'

One of the dogs lowered its head and roared at song qingxiao and the others.

The sound shattered some small rocks, and countless tiny cracks appeared on the stone walls.

The stinky hot wind blew over with the shadow of flames, forcing everyone to retreat involuntarily!

"What, what should we do?"

Number one's calves tensed up. When the heat wave hit him, it reminded him of the thrilling scene of him almost being burned by the flames.

He had exhausted all his self-control to not retreat..

Chapter 474: Companion (1)

Number one's voice was filled with despair. He turned to look at song qingxiao instinctively.

Whether it was outside the bloody tunnel, when she was facing the double-headed dogs and Giants, or when the Necromancer appeared at the undead altar, song qingxiao was calm and composed.

However, what made number one's heart sink was the unprecedented solemnness on song Qing's face.

It was too late to retreat now. If they didn't rush out, everyone would be trapped in the land of spirits forever and wouldn't be able to leave the mission.

However, their way forward was also blocked. Number one had been hiding behind the stone wall and had not been able to escape. It was obvious that they would not be able to pass through the cave exit unless they defeated the hellguard Cerberus.

For a moment, number one felt as if he had fallen into an ice cellar, and his entire body kept shaking.

The three-headed dog's upper body was already completely upright. Its thick forelimbs were like two huge pillars that supported the sky, and several dagger-like claws were protruding from its feet. Number one had no doubt about the sharpness of these claws.

Its body was burning with flames, and the highest head in the middle was almost touching the top of the cave, forming a huge shadow that firmly suppressed everyone, not even daring to breathe.

"What else can we do besides fight?"

Song qingxiao retorted. Number one cursed in a low voice and said helplessly,

"How can we beat this?"

The two-headed dog that was chasing them outside the bloody tunnel was nothing compared to the three-headed dog in front of them.

"Even if you can't win, you still have to fight." Song qingxiao stared at the Cerberus and repeated what she had said before. She turned to look at number five and said,

"The exit is behind it. This dog has a sensitive nose and a big body." Standing in the middle, the attack range had almost no blind spots.

Number one had tried to use stealth before, but it was useless against it. It had three heads, so it almost blocked everyone's thoughts of trying to take advantage of the loophole. There was no other way than to fight it head-on.

Her words caused number one's face to turn ashen. In the face of absolute strength, trickery was useless, and if he wanted to fight head-on, it would be like an ant trying to shake a tree.

While everyone was panicking, song Qing's sharp and calm character came into play again.

"However, it's not completely without flaws."

It would not be an easy task for the undead to control such a behemoth.

Other than the Necromancer on the undead altar, none of the Giants, two-headed dogs, or the undead from the terror Battalion had the ability to control this monster.

Death mages had outstanding abilities, but they were only able to do so in specific environments. The undead altar was like an independent barrier, and only those who barged in would be at his mercy.

At this moment, the powerful Cerberus was trapped at the entrance of the cave as The Guardian of the land of the undead, it should be due to the restrictions placed on it.

Number one's eyes brightened at first, but then he seemed to have thought of something and the hope in his eyes dimmed,"

"It's no use." let's assume that it's trapped here. There's a boundary that can't be crossed, but it's so huge that it can attack all the exits. Almost all the roads have been blocked by it.

Moreover, he paused.

"Its three heads can even spew fire." Number one recalled the scene where he was forced to reveal himself by the flames spewed out of the Cerberus's mouth when he was invisible, and he still felt a lingering fear in his heart.

"This fire is very powerful,"

It was difficult for everyone to get close to it, so how could they kill such a big one?

Its body was burning with raging flames, and its skin was like a red-hot iron plate under the illumination of the flames. Ordinary attacks would probably have no effect on it.

If they were to fight in close combat, they would probably be burned by the flames before they even got close, let alone hurt it.

The more number one thought about it, the more desperate he felt. He couldn't help but say,"

"How can this trial be so difficult? Did you make a mistake? you simply don't give me a way out!"

Song qingxiao turned around and looked at him, her left eyebrow raised slightly.

"You think the trial is to give you a way out?"

At this moment, number one's mind was completely focused on the Cerberus, but he didn't expect song qingxiao to say this. He asked in surprise,"

"Isn't it?"

"You're thinking too much," Song qingxiao was still unclear about what the God's trial space was.

However, the existence of this trial space was definitely not just to set up a trial environment for trial-takers to enter and obtain benefits.

There was no such thing as a free lunch in the world. The trial of God might give the trial-taker far more than what it demanded..

Chapter 475: Companion (2)

They were all newbies who had just entered the trial space not long ago, and here, their lives were like ants, controlled by the trial space.

From the moment he entered the trial space, many things were already beyond his control.

Before her, there were other powerhouses, and after her, there might be even more newcomers who would be summoned one after another.

She didn't know what kind of expert was at the top of the trial space. Compared to Qian Shan, who had attacked her that day, who would be the winner?

Was there any connection or connection between the training space, the clans in heaven's beyond and the aristocratic families?

These questions had been weighing on Song Qing's mind, but the premise of understanding these was to stay alive.

Our lives are no different from those of No. 2, No. 4, No. 6, and No. 7. She lowered her eyes and reached out to touch the silver Wolf mark on her wrist, if we die, the entire team will fail the mission. Is there any loss to the trial space?

No!

Her question rendered Number One and Number Five speechless, but everyone knew the answer.

Number one was already feeling extremely hopeless, but it was as if someone had poured a basin of cold water over his head in the dead of winter. His lips were trembling from the cold.

Everyone's heart felt as if a thousand-ton rock was pressing down on it, heavy.

At this moment, the mountain wall continued to crack open under the Cerberus's roar. After a moment of silence, number Five's body suddenly expanded.

At this point, he didn't dare to hide anything and used all his trump cards.

After the transformation, number Five's figure was similar to the orcs that the members of the terror Battalion had seen. He was three meters tall, and the brown fur on his body stood up like needles the length of a finger.

But even so, in front of Cerberus, number five, who was the most muscular, appeared unusually petite, not to mention the others.

It was obvious that song qingxiao's words had a great effect on him, and he was determined to fight to the death.

As long as song qingxiao gave the order, number five would probably charge forward without hesitation.

Number one was really surprised. He didn't expect song qingxiao to have such an influence on number five. He was even willing to risk his life for her.

In comparison, number one trusted song qingxiao from the bottom of his heart.

She had saved him several times, whether it was at the Goblin's nest or at the suspension bridge, she had reached out to save him.

He believed that song qingxiao would be a very reliable teammate at critical moments. She would not leave her companion behind. At certain times, number one was even willing to let her guard his back.

But to be honest, he trusted song Qing Xiao, but he couldn't be like number five, who trusted her completely with a word from someone else.

Woof... Wuuu ... Wuwu ...'

After the Cerberus let out an angry roar, it raised its powerful front paw high up and heavily struck down!

'Boom'!

The ground trembled violently, and a large number of white bones were crushed into pieces under the claw's stomp.

A large number of broken bones and dust flew into the air. Under the shock waves, the entire cave seemed to be affected by this force, shaking violently.

With a 'hualala' sound, broken stones kept falling.

Number one's face paled under the pressure of the Cerberus's aura. The courage that he had not been able to muster was once again exhausted after seeing the huge commotion caused by the Cerberus's stomping of its foot. He did not dare to move forward.

The ground seemed to be shaking, and everyone's bodies swayed left and right, barely able to stand.

Number one's mind was in a mess. The fugitives stood in the corner of the mountain wall. Facing such a terrifying scene, they were so scared that their faces turned pale. They were of no use at all.

Number five clenched his fist and stared at the ferocious dog head stubbornly. Song qingxiao tilted her head and looked down, but her expression was gentle.

In this kind of Asura arena, a fierce battle was about to happen, but the corners of her mouth were slightly raised, revealing such an expression that was out of tune with the tense atmosphere.

She rubbed her wrist. The mark of the silver Wolf was left on her skin, as if it had become one with her. It was a mark that she was born with.

At this moment, it was impossible for her to defeat the three-headed dog with her own strength. However, other than number one and number five, she wasn't alone. She had companions!

The totem of the silver Wolf was slightly burned by her fingertips. In her sea of consciousness, her consciousness was calling out to her 'companion' hidden in her body: I know you're here, come out and help me!

At this time, number one and number five were only her teammates, and the silver Wolf was her companion.

Ever since she saw the lone wolf that had lost all of its companions in the trial scene on the demon Island, she felt that they were in the same boat and could not bear to bring it back to the real world. From then on, a bond had already formed between the man and the wolf.

She had once let it go, but it had chosen to turn back.

Outside the bloody tunnel, a man and a Wolf had once fought side by side, and now she needed the help of her companions!

Her gaze became even gentler as her fingers gently rubbed the wolf's head. Another familiar aura that was originally silent in her sea of consciousness seemed to be gradually awakened by her reluctant call!

In her divine sense, there was a familiar aura trying to respond to her.

'Woof...'

‘Woof...’

‘Woof...’

The three-headed dog’s head let out a fierce howl, causing sand and stones to fly in the cave. The dog’s aura was high, but song qingxiao was unmoved. She tried her best to communicate with the silver Wolf in her mind, I need your help!

In her sea of consciousness, there was a sudden fluctuation of aura. A pair of squinted eyes slowly opened a slit when she called out.

The silver Wolf’s gray-blue eyes were like the sharpest blades. When it opened its eyes, a biting cold aura rushed out like an unsheathed sword, revealing its edge!

“Three, three...”

Number one was so frightened that he couldn’t even speak.

His voice was as soft as a mosquito’s under the sound of the Cerberus’s barking.

After the Cerberus roared, it was already preparing to move.

Song qingxiao’s head was still lowered. How could she still be so calm at a time like this? number one was so anxious that he wanted to reach out to pull her, but he felt the change in song qingxiao’s aura..

Chapter 476: The great battle (1)

Number one's outstretched hand felt like it was on fire, and he quickly retracted it.

Under the illumination of the firelight, song Qing's rising aura dispersed a portion of the pressure the Cerberus brought.

When she raised her head, a clear wolf howl came from her body.

As the lone wolf howled, a familiar scene occurred.

Number one's heart, which had been in a state of despair, seemed to have recalled something. The heart that had almost stopped beating because of the Cerberus's existence suddenly started to beat violently under the stimulation of this intense atmosphere.

The dead ashes in his eyes began to reignite, lighting up a spark!

Outside the bloody tunnel, the huge Silver Wolf Phantom that appeared on song qingxiao's body was probably about to reappear!

At that time, the appearance of the silver Wolf had shocked him deeply. Now that he felt that terrifying aura again, number one was so excited that his face turned red. He clenched his fists and stared at the strange movements on song

Qing's body.

As soon as the Wolf's howl stopped, a silver light flickered above song qingxiao's head in the fire.

A huge Silver Wolf Phantom totem began to appear, as if it had just been awakened, stretching its head!

The moment the silver Wolf appeared, it diluted the aura unique to the three-headed dog in the cave a little, causing the people who were trembling and breathless under the pressure of this aura to involuntarily relax. Even number five, who was ready for battle, revealed a look of relief in his eyes!

When song qingxiao received the silver Wolf's response, she was extremely excited.

Since she was young, she had been used to being alone. She would shoulder her own problems and do her own things.

When she was assassinated in an alley and entered the God's trial, she had also clenched her teeth and walked step by step until now.

When she called for the silver Wolf's help, she actually did not have much confidence, but now that the silver Wolf answered, it also proved that this proud and aloof Wolf King was willing to help her. Then, for the rest of her life, it would be her companion who would fight side by side with her, and the meaning to her would be different.

"I told you, number three!" Number one clenched his fist in excitement and waved it. He was so excited that he was incoherent, how can you be so calm? it turns out that you've already prepared for this!

The moment the wolf shadow appeared, everyone's low morale was lifted.

Before he could finish his sentence, the three-headed dog's raised foot landed on the ground with a loud 'bang'. The three huge heads began to move in the direction of the crowd!

The shadow was like a violent tide, and at this time, the silver Wolf Phantom appeared on song qingxiao's body. After it raised its head and howled, it noticed the approaching Cerberus. It turned its head to look at the Cerberus, grinned, and showed its sharp teeth. Its gray-blue eyes revealed a cold luster, and it did not retreat.

'Wuuu...'

The shadow of the silver Wolf was similar to the two-headed dog, but slightly smaller than the three-headed dog.

However, even if their sizes were not equal, the aura of the wolf Clan far surpassed that of the dog clan.

Faced with the approaching roar of the Cerberus, it raised its head. The silver fur on the Phantom stood on end, and a fierce light surged in its eyes. It did not retreat.

The lone wolf was ferocious! It even revealed a look of eagerness when the Cerberus's shadow approached.

It was in Song Qingxiao's body, so it could sense the silver Wolf's vigorous fighting spirit. Song Qingxiao seemed to be affected by it as well. Her eyes darkened, but she did not retreat. She even raised her foot and took a step forward!

The will of a man and a Wolf collided at this time. Song Qing's calmness and the ferocity of the silver Wolf merged into one, and the effect of 1+1 was greater than 2!

That will was like a treasured sword, cutting away the fear the Cerberus had brought with it with a destructive force. It transformed into a threatening battle intent that charged straight into the cave!

The moment her foot landed, it only made a light sound, but in everyone's heart, it seemed to shake the earth.

The silver Wolf turned its head and stared coldly into the three pairs of eyes of the Cerberus. It then took a step forward!

The previously insufferably arrogant Cerberus was first stunned when it was stared at, and then it pressed its head down. Under its murderous gaze, it instinctively shrank back.

As it shrank, the shadow that covered everyone quickly faded away.

Under the red light that filled the sky, the silver light figure forcibly occupied its own territory and fought as an equal.

Cerberus's cowardice caused a look of excitement to appear in Number One's eyes. He couldn't help but laugh out loud, "'Haha, scared! The wolf shadow is mighty!"

However, song qingxiao was not as optimistic as him. As expected, as soon as number one laughed, the three-headed dog, which had initially retreated, was now furious!

It was the divine beast that the undead clan had left behind to guard the gate in the trial world. For many years, it had never had an opponent.

The appearance of the silver Wolf made it feel that its authority was being challenged. At once, it opened its Middle Head, and with a 'ha' sound, a flame shot out from its mouth!

Number one's laughter stopped abruptly and he disappeared on the spot.

Number Five's huge body jumped to the left like a star arrow. Just as song qingxiao was about to Dodge, she saw the fugitives who were blocked by the three trial-takers from the corner of her eye.

Up until now, most of the escapees who escaped from the terror Battalion had died in the underground river, and some were lost in the Goblin's lair.

When the remaining people crossed the suspension bridge, many of them fell because of number six's action of cutting the bridge. Now, only two or three people were left.

Even though the exit was right in front of her, song qingxiao did not dare to let her guard down before she escaped the trial.

Therefore, at the critical moment when the flames attacked, she jumped up and kicked back, kicking one of the escapees back more than ten meters with a ■whoosh', and she used the force of the kick to fly to the right.

The rumbling flames flew over and burned the two escapees who couldn't Dodge in time into ashes.

Song qingxiao jumped a few meters, and the silver Wolf Phantom followed her. It jumped nimbly to a corner of the cave and swung its fluffy long tail.

Due to the Cerberus's attacking posture, its upper body was leaning forward, revealing the cave's exit behind it.

The exit was about two meters tall and could allow two people to pass side by side. However, after the two escapees died, it began to wriggle and close, shrinking by two-thirds in the blink of an eye.

Seeing this, song qingxiao's pupils contracted, and her breathing became erratic.

Fortunately, she had a sudden thought and kicked one of the escapees away. Otherwise, if they had all died under the Cerberus's attack, the exit would have been closed!

The suspension bridge had been broken, so the road back to the terror Battalion had been cut off.

If all the exits were closed, everyone would really be trapped here, which was equivalent to death.

However, this wasn't the time for her to think about this. The Cerberus spat out flames in a fit of rage, and before it could turn its head around, she took out the dagger from behind her waist and rushed towards it.

As she charged forward, the silver Wolf also raised its front paw, revealing its sharp long claws.. Following her movements, it swung down at the Cerberus's back!

Chapter 477: One touch (1)

|

The Cerberus's body was burning with flames. As soon as it got close, a scorching heat wave hit song Qing's face, causing his face to burn.

The silver Wolf's raised claws swung down. The claws tore through the skin and flesh, making a 'Chi' sound and leaving several scratch marks.

Lava-like blood seeped out of the wound, and the Cerberus let out a furious roar.

As soon as it was injured, it moved its thick forelimbs, trying to turn around and deal with the man and Wolf before it.

Because of its huge size, its body rubbed against the rock wall when it turned around, making a violent sound.

It raised one of its front claws, and its long armor glowed. Each and every one of them was extremely sharp, and under the illumination of the flames, they flashed with a reddish-brown luster.

The shadow of its forelimbs was reflected on the rock wall, almost covering song qingxiao's body.

If the claw touched it even a little, it would be either dead or seriously injured. Song qingxiao saw that it raised its leg and nimbly tried to Pierce under its body.

She wanted to imitate the scene outside the bloody tunnel, holding the dagger and cutting the dog's lower abdomen open.

However, this three-headed dog was obviously not comparable to the two-headed dog. Just as she got under one of the dog's heads, one of the dog's heads lowered and opened its mouth. A large flame rushed out from its mouth.

The destructive power of this flame was far more terrifying than the flames spat out by the two-headed dog. Moreover, because song Qing's little spirit energy was of the ice attribute, it was greatly restrained.

She opened her hands and spiritual power circulated on her fingertips. Before an ice shield appeared, it was immediately melted by the high temperature and turned into water droplets, which evaporated in the fire without even a mist.

As a result, it was naturally impossible to fight head-on. She rushed forward in a thrilling manner, and the flames passed through her back with a 'Boom Boom', igniting the bones on the ground.

The underground suddenly became like a huge furnace, and the temperature soared.

Song Qing tried to Dodge in the other direction, but the other dog had also lowered its head. It was about to spit out another wave of flames.

At the same time, one of the Cerberus's front paws came crashing down, piercing through the silver Wolf Phantom and shattering the silver light. It slammed into the ground like a pillar that supported the heavens, blocking song Qing's path of retreat.

At the critical moment of life and death, the silver Wolf lived in her body and was connected to her mind.

The silver light that had been scattered regathered, and the wolf head appeared. It opened its mouth wide and bit down on the Cerberus's shoulder!

Its sharp fangs bit through the Cerberus's thick skin, and its eyes glowed with a vicious light. Once it bit down, it would not let go.

After it appeared, the silver Wolf lowered its body, bit its prey, and dragged it back with all its might!

With the terrifying bite force of the mutated Wolf King, a large piece of bloody flesh was torn off the Cerberus's shoulder blade.

'Woof... Woof woof... Wuwuwu ...'

The Cerberus let out a tragic wail after receiving this blow. It no longer cared about dealing with song qingxiao. Instead, it raised its two heads and spat flames in the direction of the silver Wolf.

With the crisis averted, song qingxiao immediately dodged from the Cerberus's body and only managed to regain her footing after retreating a few meters.

Before she could let out a sigh of relief, she heard a 'boom' sound and the flame burned in the direction of the silver Wolf. The silver Wolf Phantom that had just been gathered was burned by this flame. The silver Wolf Totem on her wrist suddenly became shockingly hot, and the muscles of her arm twitched heavily under the intense pain.

Most of the flames were blocked by the silver Wolf's body, and the remaining small portion rushed to the rock wall. The fire climbed up along the mountain wall, illuminating the entire cave even redder.

The silver Wolf was hit by the flame, and the image became a little more transparent.

However, because it was not a physical entity, after the flames burned it, it only swallowed the hell Guardian's meat in two or three bites and shook its head as if nothing had happened.

With this action, its huge illusionary body began to shrink, shrinking by nearly one-fifth of its previous size, but its originally somewhat transparent body seemed to have become much more solid.

Song qingxiao's heart was already in her throat, but when she saw this scene, she slowly calmed down.

"Number five." She held back the anxiety in her heart and shouted with a dark face, "we'll each hold off one dog head!"

She could clearly see that the Cerberus's long tail had been hanging in the direction of the cave's exit the entire time, not moving at all.

This proved that although the guards of hell had suffered some losses so far, they had not used their true strength.

At this time, only the silver Wolf could rely on its special conditions to fight with the Cerberus.

However, she could also see that when the silver Wolf saved her previously, it seemed to be fine after being sprayed by the flames from the two dog heads, but it had actually suffered some losses.

Only by dispersing the Cerberus's strength as much as possible, making it unable to focus, and finding opportunities for the silver Wolf as much as possible, would everyone have the confidence to win.

However, song qingxiao wasn't sure how confident she was.

Number Five's expression was grave as he nodded.

In a corner not far away, number one, who was still in shock, appeared. His face was pale and he looked miserable. He was holding the crossbow in his hand so hard that his knuckles turned white.

At this time, other than running for his life, there was nothing else he could do. The bow and arrow could not penetrate the Cerberus's defense at all. Before the arrow could get close, it was already burned by the flames on its body.

"No. 1."

When song qingxiao called his name, he trembled and subconsciously raised his hand. "Here!"

"You protect the survivors."

After song qingxiao finished speaking, he saw a flash of hesitation in number one's eyes.

He didn't expect song qingxiao to give him such a task. Even number five turned his head away instinctively.

It was just that this task sounded like a good job at first, but after thinking about it carefully, it was not easy to complete.

Under the threat of the Cerberus, number one couldn't even protect himself, let alone another child who was a burden.

The escapees had weak bodies and no strength, so they died easily. He couldn't help but ask," we're already at the entrance of the cave. All we have to do is knock that thing down. What's the point of all this?"

When Cerberus attacked, he and number five both retreated and dodged. Only song qingxiao, who had fought alongside the silver Wolf at that time, advanced instead of retreating. She took a step forward and saw the change at the entrance of the cave.

In other words, number one and number five didn't know that the death of the escapees was closely related to whether the exit would close or not. They thought that everything would be fine after they had reached this point.

Song qingxiao sneered,"

"The exit has shrunk!"

Her words made no sense, but number one and number five were not stupid. They immediately realized the problem in her words. Song qingxiao continued,

"If this person dies, the exit will close. Even if we can defeat the guards of this hell, we won't be able to escape from this land of spirits."

The mission in the trial space was to not relax even at the last moment. If he relaxed even a little, all his previous efforts would be wasted and he would lose his life!

Hearing her words, number Five's expression changed drastically. Number one came back to his senses and cursed under his breath,"

"F * ck!"

At the same time, he moved his feet and ran in the direction of the escapee who had been lucky enough to survive song qingxiao's kick. He wished he could teleport to the side of the escapee and hold him in his arms..

Chapter 478: immediate !

At this moment, the silver Wolf on the other side licked the blood at the corner of its mouth and launched another attack.

It might have tasted the sweetness of the Cerberus's meat that it had torn off earlier. It leaped up and once again jumped in the Cerberus's direction.

The nails on its two front paws reached out and it jumped to the left side of the Cerberus's abdomen. The nails were like curved hooks, hooking into its flesh, while the lower half of its body hung in the air.

It was more agile than before after shrinking, but at the same time, its strength had decreased a lot, and its nails had shortened.

Its previous attack had left several scratch marks on the Cerberus 'body.

However, when it pounced on the three-headed dog, it only scratched its skin. It didn't feel any pain at all.

However, the silver Wolf did not let its guard down. After grabbing the Cerberus with its two front claws, it used its strong and powerful forelimbs to stabilize its body. At the same time, its two hind legs kicked randomly, trying to climb onto the Cerberus's body.

At the same time, it opened its mouth again to bite the Cerberus's flesh.

However, before its teeth could touch the Cerberus, the Cerberus shook its body with great force. Its skin and flesh trembled, and the silver Wolf's grip was not firm enough. It was thrown into the air.

Its body did a beautiful somersault in the air and landed lightly.

After shaking it off, the Cerberus's three heads turned around in unison, searching for its whereabouts. They wanted to swallow this Wolf that had injured them.

The three heads turned and hit various parts of the cave, making a 'clang clang' sound.

The stone wall that had been cracked by its roar and the large rocks above its head fell like hailstones. Number one's footsteps, which were about to run toward the refugees, were suddenly stopped. He cursed repeatedly as he dodged left and right.

Several of the Cerberus's heads opened their mouths to bite the silver Wolf, but because of its huge size, the silver Wolf's body shrank, and it could not suppress it with its strength. It could only rely on its body size to Dodge nimbly.

The Cerberus was truly enraged, and its movements became even more violent. The 'Kacha, Kacha' sounds of its teeth opening and closing could make one's hair stand on end, and the angry howls of the dogs could be heard without end.

At the moment, it seemed that the silver Wolf had not suffered any losses, but it had not gained any advantages either.

It appeared in the form of an energy body at this moment, and it would be disadvantageous for it if it stayed for too long.

On the other hand, after the Cerberus was enraged, the flames on its body burned even more fiercely, and its three heads began to spew fire randomly!

The bones on the ground were set ablaze with a single spark, and the flames spread everywhere. It was as if a sea of fire had been set ablaze around the Cerberus, and no matter which direction the silver Wolf dodged in, it would still step into the fire.

Although its special form prevented it from being truly harmed by the flames, it was still affected to a certain extent.

Song qingxiao and number five looked at each other and ran toward the Cerberus.

The temperature in the cave began to rise, and the small red-hot rocks above their heads kept falling. The two of them rushed to the left and right sides of the Cerberus. Number five let out a shout and jumped onto the Cerberus's back, just like he did outside the bloody tunnel. He wanted to attack its weak point, starting from its eyes.

However, the hell watchman had three heads in total and had almost no blind spots. As soon as number five moved, it sensed him and immediately turned one of its heads, opening its bloody mouth in number Five's direction.

It probably thought that the ground was covered in fire, and the silver Wolf's fierce aura was weakening with the burning of the fire, which made it a little relaxed. Immediately, the middle Head turned to song qingxiao's direction. Just as it opened its mouth to spit fire, it saw song qingxiao's hands forming a seal and her mouth quickly chanting,

"Draw the ground as a prison, trap!"

As the nine-word secret order was released, the spirit energy turned into a domain and covered the dog head.

The Cerberus was shocked to discover that its head was no longer listening to its command the moment she finished chanting. No matter how hard it tried, it could not open its mouth.

The dog was startled by this turn of events, and the other head that was about to bite the silver Wolf immediately gave up its original plan, turning to save the other head first.

Song qingxiao gritted her teeth. The one or two seconds that the Cerberus had been trapped felt like years to her. The Ling energy in her body was being drawn out by the 'Lin' word like a flood.

But even if it was just a blink of an eye, it was enough for the silver Wolf.

As soon as the three heads moved away, the pressure on it was immediately reduced. It immediately shook its body and jumped up.

Because its body was shrinking again and again, there was a huge difference in size between the two. With this jump, its two front claws only managed to sink into the three-headed dog's abdomen, but with a kick from its hind legs, its two hind legs also grabbed the three-headed dog tightly. Using the force from the kick, it jumped up with force, instantly jumping onto the dog's back with two leaps. It lowered its head and bit down on the dog's back..

Chapter 479: immediate !

With an 'awoo' sound, it tore off another piece of meat.

The silver Wolf did not have time to chew and swallowed the meat. It then lowered its head and tore off another piece of meat.

To the silver Wolf, the Cerberus's flesh was a great source of energy. As soon as the two pieces of meat entered its stomach, its illusionary figure became a little more stable than before. When it took another bite, it had already torn out a large piece of flesh from the Cerberus's back.

This caused the Cerberus to writhe in pain. Under the intense pain, it broke free from the shackles. Its head, which had been trapped by song qingxiao, forcefully broke free of the 'Lin' word technique. It raised its head and roared,"

'Aooo...'

The cave was like a natural loudspeaker at this time, amplifying the roar, as if it was going to shake people's internal organs.

With a cracking sound, the cracks in the caves became bigger. Not only were number one and number Five's ears buzzing and their heads spinning, even song qingxiao felt her blood boiling and a fishy smell rising up her throat.

At this moment, number one's miserable howl suddenly created a bloody path amidst the angry roars of the dogs,"

"Ah!"

His voice was sharp and high-pitched, like a piercing arrow that could break through the sound blockade of the dogs and reach song qingxiao and number Five's ears.

Song Qingxin's heart skipped a beat as a bad feeling welled up in her heart. She subconsciously turned her head to look.

Countless sparks fell from the top of his head. After overcoming all difficulties, No. 1 finally arrived at the place where the fugitives were.

He was standing quite far away, so he was not hit by this violent force and the impact of the meteor shower. However, under the attack of the sound wave, he spat out blood and fell straight down.

Number one looked as if he had lost his parents. He ran over and caught him, crying and wailing,"

“Don’t die, don’t die!”

This scene caused song Qingxin’s heart to sink. Unfortunately, the Cerberus had turned its body to face the cave. Its mountain-like body blocked the direction of the exit, making it impossible for everyone to see the situation at the exit.

However, if the last escapee died, the exit would definitely be closed! No wonder number one was crying so sadly.

Song qingxiao’s heart was burning with anxiety. At the same time, number Five’s heart was almost in his throat.

When he jumped towards the Cerberus, the latter turned around and opened its mouth wide, wanting to swallow him.

Just as he was about to turn around in mid-air, he saw the dog’s wide-open mouth retract.

Its back was bitten by the silver Wolf, and in pain, it gave up the prey that was about to reach its mouth, and its three heads instinctively turned back.

Number five brushed past the sharp teeth. Although he wasn’t really swallowed, he was so scared that he broke out in a cold sweat. His body slammed into the Cerberus ‘neck, making a light’ pop ‘sound.

His needle-like fur was unable to pierce through the Cerberus’s defense. The dog’s skin was as thick as a copper wall and its bones were as hard as iron. Hitting it did not hurt or tickle it.

Moreover, the flames that covered its body had instead burned its fur. The sharp and hard fur was instantly charred by the fire.

Number five fell back into the fire after the collision. He stood up and dusted off the flames on his body.

Although he was slightly burnt after escaping from death, it was fortunate that he was fine.

It was only now that he was out of danger that he had the time to turn his head to look at number one. What he saw made him anxious.

The escapee was currently being protected in number one's arms. His breathing was weak, and it was obvious that the dog's roar earlier had greatly damaged his vitality.

"You can't die ..." Number one covered his ears with both hands, scratching his ears and cheeks in anxiety, and kept mumbling.

Song qingxiao suppressed the anxiety in her heart, and while the Cerberus's attention was attracted by the silver Wolf, she once again rushed in the Cerberus 'direction.

Even if the dog didn't turn around, it seemed to know her movements. It raised its forelimbs and wanted to step on her into the ground and crush her bones.

She avoided the raised foot and stomped on the stone wall like a swallow.

The stone wall was astonishingly hot, and the surface of the burnt rock fell off with a clatter.

She used the momentum from her stomp to leap up and pounced straight at the Cerberus's chest. She grabbed the dagger and stabbed it with all her might!

The flames on the Cerberus's body licked the back of her hand, burning her skin to a sizzling sound.

However, small scales appeared on the surface of her skin where the flames were burning, and they resisted a portion of the destructive power of the flames.

Song qingxiao endured the pain. The tip of the dagger touched the red-hot rock-like skin and pierced through it.

The dagger was extremely sharp. Song qingxiao held onto the handle and stabbed it in.

Once she succeeded, she clenched her fists and sank her Qi into her dantian.

As she pulled, the dagger cut through the air like it was cutting through tofu, leaving a wound that was tens of centimeters long!

‘Owoowoof...’

Hot blood gushed out like lava, drenching song qingxiao’s head and body. She could not even open her eyes.

She grabbed the dagger and fell down. She heard the dog’s howl and then fell into the ashes with a bang, causing dust and sparks to fly.

The Cerberus was even more enraged after being injured from the front and back. It raised its forelimbs and stomped on the ground.

Before she could get up, she felt the shadow above her head falling rapidly. She immediately rolled in the pile of bones to Dodge.

On the other side, number five also knew that this was a critical moment. They had to take down the Cerberus as soon as possible. Everyone quickly slipped out of the cave while the last escapee was still alive.

After he steadied himself, he saw song Qing fall into the pile of bones after injuring the Cerberus and was stepped on by the Cerberus.

Immediately, he used all his strength to RAM into the Cerberus’s other forelimb, which was the only thing supporting its body.

His strength was not weak even when he used his life, and the Cerberus’s forelimbs made loud banging sounds.

Even though number Five's actions couldn't truly hurt the Cerberus, they were like an annoying fly, interfering with its movements to a certain extent.

The two of them worked together to distract the Cerberus. At this time, after the silver Wolf on its back swallowed the large piece of flesh, its originally illusionary body began to slowly solidify.

Song qingxiao, on the other hand, had been rolling around in the fire. At the moment of life and death, she naturally did not notice that the burning pain from the silver Wolf Totem on her wrist was decreasing.

At the same time, she also did not know that the unusually clear silver Wolf Totem, as the silver Wolf Phantom gradually solidified, actually began to slowly become shallow, as if it was about to leave her body..

Chapter 480: Rescue (1)

At this time, song qingxiao was in the sea of fire. Perhaps it was because of the nature of the spirit power, but the high temperature was twice as harmful to her.

In addition, there were dog hooves stepping on her head from time to time, which worsened her injuries as she rolled.

The scales on her body had just appeared, but they were immediately swallowed by the flames, burning her.

The few extremely dangerous dodges had consumed a lot of her physical strength. The hot air she inhaled had eroded her internal organs, and her heart was beating like a drum. The sound of number five hitting the Cerberus 'forelimbs and the silver Wolf's howl seemed to come from extremely far away. Terrible!

The large consumption of physical strength and the damage caused by the flames caused her to lose her consciousness.

At this moment, losing consciousness meant losing one's life.

The more dangerous the situation, the calmer song qingxiao was.

One of the dogs lowered its head and opened its mouth, revealing its jagged teeth.

A hot, fishy wind came out of its mouth, and a flame rose from its throat.

As soon as it opened its mouth, song qingxiao flicked her wrist, and a vine that was wrapped around her wrist was thrown out. 'Whoosh', it hooked onto the Cerberus's teeth.

She grabbed the vine with her palm and pulled with all her strength. At the same time, she bent her legs and kicked!

With this pull, his body shot out of the burning pile of bones like an arrow released from a bow.

The flames spewed out of the dog's mouth brushed past her body, setting a bunch of her hair on fire. In the blink of an eye, the sturdy vine in her hand was burned to ashes!

Song qingxiao's momentum didn't slow down. She crashed into the gravel on the ground and only slowed down after sliding for a few meters.

As soon as she regained her freedom, she turned over and stood up. She instinctively looked in the direction of the Cerberus, and what she saw immediately gave her a shock.

The silver Wolf, which was originally just an illusion, was now in a semi-solid state, tearing and biting the Cerberus's back until it was covered in blood.

While song qingxiao and number five were distracting the two dogs, it had obviously taken advantage of the three-headed dog.

It was extremely cunning and knew how to play to its strengths and avoid its weaknesses, so it did not confront the three-headed dog directly.

Before the Cerberus could spit out the flames, it dodged left and right. The Cerberus was not paying attention for a moment, allowing it to succeed again, tearing off a large piece of meat!

After it became half-solid, its claws and teeth seemed to be even sharper than when it was a Phantom.

The hell Guardian's skin and flesh were extremely thick. Song qingxiao had only been able to hurt it with the sharpness of her dagger.

But at this time, the silver Wolf seemed to be able to tear at it effortlessly. Once it tore off a piece of meat, it did not continue to fight and temporarily retreated with the winning item in its mouth.

The Cerberus howled in pain, but even though its huge size gave it an overwhelming advantage, it was not as agile as the silver Wolf.

In addition, the silver Wolf used its flesh and blood to nourish its illusory body and gradually took shape. It was like a poor relative who was taking advantage of the autumn wind. The frequent injuries made it more irritable, and it let out deafening roars.

Seeing this, song qingxiao instinctively called out to the silver Wolf in her sea of consciousness.

When she entered the trial space, it was sealed in her body by the trial space to become a totem. Her soul resided in her body and was connected to her divine sense, so she could sense its presence.

But at this time, when she called out with her divine sense, she did not get a response from the silver Wolf. In her sea of consciousness, the silver Wolf's aura had already dissipated by more than half. On the contrary, the silver Wolf's aura in front of her was not just an illusion.

She subconsciously raised her wrist to take a look. Her wrist was burned by the flame, but she could vaguely see that the mark of the silver Wolf was very faint, as if it would disappear at any time.

On the contrary, the silver Wolf that was fighting with the Cerberus was full of vigor. The silver Wolf was an Evolver with genetic mutation on demon Island, so the Cerberus's meat should be a great supplement for it.

She thought for a moment and realized that the silver Wolf must be using the energy of the hell Guardian to transform into a physical body!

Thinking of this, Song Qingxiao was both surprised and happy.

She had been thinking about how to restore the silver Wolf to its original form. After all, after the silver Wolf was sealed, although it could reduce some trouble in reality, she did not fully trust the silver Wolf before.

Song Qing was very cautious. In addition, there was a mixed flood dragon's evolved blood seal in her body. She was also worried that the silver Wolf would become a hidden danger in the future if it lived in her body.

Now that he could use the Cerberus Silver Wolf to appear and remove the seal, he could kill two birds with one stone.

The silver Wolf finished devouring the meat and stared at the Cerberus again.

The Cerberus had been injured once again, and it was extremely furious. After a series of roars, it suddenly stopped breathing fire.

"Not good." Song Qing's brows furrowed and her eyes were filled with anxiety. "It's probably going berserk.."