

Watch Out 481

Chapter 481: Rescue (2)

Number five, who had been knocked away by the Cerberus's forelimbs, crashed into the stone wall and rolled down. Before he could even sit up, he heard song qingxiao's words, and his heart sank.

The three of them recalled the scene outside the bloody tunnel. After the two-headed dog was injured by song Qing, the pain triggered its rage and its strength increased greatly.

If the silver Wolf had not appeared and crushed her, song qingxiao might have suffered some losses.

The hell Guardian and the two-headed Hound were essentially mutated dogs of the undead race. They could also go berserk after being injured.

However, the two-headed dog could not compare to the three-headed dog in terms of strength and size.

If it were to go berserk now, the consequences might be even more dangerous than before!

The moment song qingxiao finished speaking, the Cerberus paused.

Amidst the loud 'Boom Boom' sounds of the flames burning, the clear 'ka ka' sound of its joints came from its body. Immediately after, the surface of its body flickered with fire, like surging lava.

Then, the heads of the Cerberus all groaned in pain at the same time. Its back arched high, and bumps the size of an adult man's fist drilled out from under its skin. These bumps grew bigger and bigger, as if they were breeding something that was about to burst out of its body!

After the half-transformed Silver Wolf saw the Cerberus's transformation, it lowered its body even more and let out a threatening growl from its nose.

It seemed to have already sensed the energy disturbance. Without waiting for the Cerberus to complete its transformation, it turned into a silver bolt of lightning and charged towards the Cerberus!

Cracking sounds could be heard from the Cerberus's body as the bumps on its back split open, and sharp bone spikes shot out of its body like bamboo shoots after a rain!

At the same time, the nails on its four limbs grew longer, like curved knives, and dug into the ground.

A row of white bone blades grew out of the joints of its four unusually thick hooves.

After going berserk, the Cerberus's aura was far more dangerous than before.

When it felt the silver Wolf pouncing at it, all three of its heads let out a deafening roar. It raised one of its front claws and swept it down in the direction of the silver Wolf!

The strong wind, along with the sparks and dirt it had grabbed from the tip of its claws, flew out and ruthlessly swept across the silver Wolf's afterimage. It actually smacked the silver Wolf down!

'Bang'!

The silver Wolf's body fell to the ground, and a cloud of dust flew up. A huge pit was formed on the ground. The moment Song Qingxiao heard the sound, his heart tightened. He instinctively touched his wrist and sent a stream of spiritual power into it, not caring if it was useful or not!

After the body became semi-solid, although the silver Wolf was far more ferocious than the Phantom when it used its real physical body to fight, the disadvantage was also obvious.

After materializing, it was truly injured. However, because it hadn't completely materialised yet, it didn't die from this attack.

However, for some reason, even though it had already devoured some of the Cerberus's flesh and blood, and most of its body had already been freed from the seal, Song Qingxiao felt that there was still a part of its strength that was sealed and could not be fully used.

However, when she tried to search for the silver Wolf's aura in her sea of consciousness, she could not sense the silver Wolf's existence no matter what.

She had no idea how to remove the remaining half of the seal!

As soon as she sent her spiritual power into the seal, a sound came from the dust and smoke. A Silver Wolf shadow struggled to stand up slowly. After staggering a few steps, it shook the fur on its body and finally stood firm.

Song Qingxiao was relieved to see the wolf standing.

The moment the silver Wolf steadied itself, it charged towards the Cerberus again. The berserk Cerberus turned its head around, unwilling to admit defeat!

For a moment, the barking of dogs and the howls of wolves intertwined, and the sound of claws and teeth tearing through flesh and blood made a creepy sound.

Blood and fire splattered, and the silver Wolf fur flew out with the dust, but was quickly burned to ashes by the fire.

The silver Wolf pounced on the Cerberus's front abdomen, biting a large piece of meat without letting go. Before it could tear it off, the Cerberus endured the pain and turned around with three feet on the ground. A front paw swung down on its body.

The sharp claws that were like curved hooks left a fatal wound on the silver Wolf's abdomen that was so deep that the bone could be seen!

Dark red blood gushed out, wetting the silver Wolf fur.

Fortunately, it wasn't a real entity at the moment, so this fatal injury didn't kill it.

Even after suffering such heavy injuries, the silver Wolf still refused to let go. It shook its head with all its might, forcefully tearing off the piece of meat in its mouth before it was shaken off by the Cerberus!

It flew out and crashed into the rock wall. After swallowing the Cerberus's meat, it fearlessly charged up again..

Chapter 482: Rescue (3)

The battle between the dog and the wolf was fierce and terrifying. The entire cave seemed to be on the verge of collapsing under the impact of the power.

As sand and rocks flew, sparks flew everywhere, and the cave trembled non-stop. Under the struggle of this absolutely overwhelming power, number five could not even intervene!

Before he could get close, he was blown away by the chaotic airflow.

No. 1 held the still-breathing escapee tightly in his arms, afraid that the flying sand and stones with sparks would hit him again and the only survivor would die.

However, he could only protect the vital parts of the escapee's upper body, while he himself was being beaten up until he was crying out.

The red-hot gravel was like a hidden weapon, hitting his back and burrowing into his flesh. In a short while, his back was like a hornet's nest!

"I'm going to die!" Number one was in excruciating pain, but he didn't dare to Dodge or let go. Snot and tears flowed down his face. I'm going to die! You damn dog, waa, it hurts!"

“Don’t die, hold on, hold on!” He shouted. As he cried out in pain, he lowered his head from time to time to roll the eyes of the escapees, afraid that they would die. He shouted with all his might,

“Number three, number three, hurry up and check if the cave is closed!”

Song qingxiao was also anxious when she heard his howls. The lower half of the fugitive’s body was badly mutilated. He moaned in pain as if he was going to die at any moment.

The situation was critical, and she was worried.

She used her dagger to cut the Cerberus’ forelimbs, but the hell Guardian’s leather armor was thicker than before after going berserk. Even though the dagger had pierced through the entire body, the damage was not serious.

In addition, the dog seemed to be really angry after being bitten by the silver Wolf. It ignored Song qingxiao’s harassment and focused on dealing with the silver Wolf first.

Not long after, the silver Wolf’s body was covered in wounds, and its blood had dyed its silver fur red!

However, the more injured the silver Wolf was, the more it aroused the ferocity in its bones. After a few exchanges with the three-headed dog, it realized that its head was more agile, so it turned to attack its hind legs.

It jumped up and tried to climb up from the back of the Cerberus’s tail, but its injuries were too severe. After a few jumps, it could only hang on to the Cerberus’s hind legs, and it failed after a few attempts.

The Cerberus raised its hind legs to shake it off, but it was unable to shake it off. In its rage, the tail that had been hanging at the entrance of the cave finally moved!

The long tail that was like a steel whip swung with great force. After sweeping away the burning bones on the ground, it was raised high up and then swept down in the direction of the silver Wolf with the force of a Thunderbolt!

Song qingxiao's pupils shrank when she saw this scene through the fire.

After several close-range attacks, the silver Wolf was already at a disadvantage. If it was hit by the long tail again, it would be seriously injured even if it wasn't a complete entity.

He had to think of a way to move the silver Wolf away!

In the nick of time, the stars in her body moved with her thoughts and appeared beside her!

When number five saw this magical scene from afar, he was stunned for a moment. Then, two of the stars flashed and disappeared on the spot. The next moment, the silver Wolf's body glowed with Starlight.

In the blink of an eye, the silver Wolf and song qingxiao, who had been clinging to the three-headed Hound's hind legs, disappeared at the same time. When they reappeared, the silver Wolf was standing on song qingxiao's position, and song qingxiao was on the three-headed Hound's hind legs. They were falling down at a rapid speed!

Number five was not the only one who was dumbfounded by this spell. Even song qingxiao was about to vomit blood. Before she could even react to what was going on, she heard the sound of wind beside her ear and saw an extremely terrifying tail whip coming toward her!

If she was hit by this whip, no matter how strong her physique was, she would be crushed to pieces by this powerful force.

Song Qing was in mid-air and had no way of dodging.

At the critical moment, she made a hand seal and was about to use the swordsman token. The serious-looking primordial spirit in her sea of consciousness also made a hand seal at the same time. Large scales emerged on its body, ready to take this wave head-on.

However, she had no confidence at all in whether she could withstand it.

After the silver Wolf landed on the ground, it shook its head and suddenly raised its head and shouted,”

‘Awoo ...’ Aowooo ... Wuwuwu ...’

His voice was high-pitched and solemn as it reverberated throughout the cave.

Song qingxiao’s life was in danger. When she heard the Wolf’s howl, she couldn’t help but have a funny thought. The wolf King craned its neck and howled. It was probably facing the moon at night, calling out to its fellow tribesmen.

However, there was no moon in the cave and there were no wolves in the trial scene. Could it be that the silver Wolf knew that he was about to die and was wailing in pain to send him on his way?

At this moment, her mind was still filled with wild thoughts. The next moment, something that shocked her beyond words happened!

As soon as the silver Wolf finished howling, another howl came from the endless darkness. ‘Awoo ...’
Aoaowuwu ...’

In the darkness, a Wolf was responding to the call of the silver Wolf!

It was as if song qingxiao was hallucinating before she died. Where did the wolf tribe come from in the land of the dead?

Just as she was feeling surprised, she heard number one scream like a Turkey being held by the neck,”

“Don’t die. Don’t die ...”

The tail whip was about to hit her body, but the strong wind was like a steel knife that cut through her bones. It had already blown over, making her scalp numb.

She opened her mouth and heard an extremely familiar, almost strange, cold female voice say in unison with her,”

“As solid as a rock, solid!”

Chapter 483: Two teams (1)

I

As soon as the voice fell, the double 'swordsman' token was used, turning into a majestic energy that rushed out of song Qing's body. It turned into unbreakable dragon scales that covered every part of song Qing's body!

She didn't have time to think too much. The Cerberus's long tail had already lashed out, and a terrifying shadow completely covered her. An extremely strong sense of oppression, accompanied by the sound of the wind, landed heavily on her body!

An unparalleled and terrifying force swept over. At this time, she was like a small boat at the tip of the wind and waves, being whipped to the back leg of a dog!

However, under the blessing of the 'Zhe' token, the Dragon scales on her body flashed with a demonic blue light and blocked the whip that was powerful enough to split mountains!

With a 'bang' sound, the two forces collided. The bones in his body made 'ka ka' sounds under the collision of this extremely terrifying force, and his internal organs were stirred!

Not far away, number five saw that song qingxiao and the silver Wolf had switched positions. The Cerberus's long tail whipped down from above. It was too late for him to save her!

Number three was dead!

A trace of regret appeared in his heart, and he instinctively lowered his head, unwilling to look any longer. However, the next moment, he heard two female voices chanting the spell incantation in unison.

One of the voices came from the Cerberus's direction, while the other came from the opposite side. The voice and tone were exactly the same.

In the land of spirits, other than them, where were the extra survivors? Not to mention women.

Even if there were women among the fugitives, they did not dare to speak because of the fear that had accumulated over the years.

He raised his head in shock and saw a pair of long legs walking out from the thick fog. It was 'song qingxiao' with a cold expression!

Two identical 'song qingxiaos' appeared in the same trial.

He wasn't the only one who was shocked. Number one, who was crying while hugging a fugitive, was also stunned when another 'song qingxiao' appeared. Their minds went blank, and before they could react, the Cerberus on the other side swung its tail and flung song qingxiao, who was stuck to the back leg of the Cerberus, away. Song qingxiao vomited a large mouthful of blood and slid off the leg with a Swoosh!

After the scales on her body took the hit, they quickly faded away. She landed on the ground and immediately jumped up.

Number one and number five, who were already surprised by the intrusion of another 'song Qing Xiao', were even more shocked when they saw that she was still alive.

How was this possible?

The two of them looked as if they had seen a ghost. They simply couldn't believe their eyes.

Be it the Cerberus's size or strength, the two of them did not think that Song Qingxiao would be able to survive after being hit by such a force.

Although she was powerful, she was still made of flesh and blood. Her body was not made of impervious steel.

Not to mention, with the destructive power of the Cerberus, even if one had a body of steel, it would be difficult to survive a single lash!

However, Song Qingxiao was still alive after being hit by the tail. It was unbelievable!

"Number three, what kind of monster are you?"

Number one was so shocked that he even forgot the existence of the escapee in his arms. He subconsciously muttered to himself.

Although number five didn't say anything, he had the same thoughts as number one.

After Song Qingxiao got up, she jumped a few meters away from the Cerberus. She couldn't help but spit out a large mouthful of blood before she raised her head.

When she looked up, her eyes met with the other 'Song Qingxiao'!

The two of them looked at each other, their pupils contracting as if they were looking into a mirror. Even their frowns and wary eyes were exactly the same. Song Qing clenched her fist and subconsciously thought of overlapping space. After the space folded, two teams of trial-takers appeared.

After No. 6 and No. 7 were eliminated, it was only her, No. 1 and No. 5 left. Her team was also divided into two teams. One team was directly sent back to the Terror Battalion after they promised to return to rescue her.

When 'she' from the other team agreed to return to the rescue, she led number one, number five, and the rest of the escapees back to the terrorist camp. At this point, they had already come out of the terrorist camp and happened to bump into another team of 'themselves' who were on their way back!

At the undead altar, she decided to return and save the others, while number six and number seven decided to give up on saving the others and join the camp of the defenders.

Therefore, when team No. 6 and team No. 7 met with their own people, they might have different goals and directions. It was inevitable that they would have conflicts and fight.

On the other hand, when the two teams of 'song qingxiao' met, she was trying to escape from the Terror Battalion. 'She' in the other team was returning to save people and escape from the terrorist camp. The two parties had the same goal and were likely to work together!

As she thought of this, before she could say anything, she saw the silver Wolf's howl stop, and the spiritual energy of the other 'song qingxiao' surged, followed by a burst of silver light.

An extremely large silver Wolf Phantom appeared from her body and slowly approached another Silver Wolf!

The two Wolf Kings fought side by side, and their already powerful auras began to soar.

The moment the Cerberus saw the two Wolf Kings, its six Crimson eyes revealed a hint of fear.

After a short moment of silence, number one seemed to have suddenly thought of something. He looked down and immediately let out a pig-like howl,"

"Dead... He's dead!"

The runaway who was barely breathing in his arms finally couldn't hold on any longer and breathed her last breath after persisting for a while!

At this moment, number one didn't have the time to care about the two teams of participants or whether the newcomers were friends or enemies.

He grabbed the body of the escapee and shook it hard.

"Don't die! Open your eyes and get up!"

His roar woke number five up. Number five came back to his senses and jumped to the side of the mountain wall to look in the direction of the cave. The Cerberus's tail, which was hanging at the entrance of the cave, moved, revealing a corner of the cave's exit. At this moment, the entrance of the cave began to close up at an extremely fast speed.

■'Number three ..." At the moment of life and death, number five could not help but call out to song Qing.

"Don't panic!" Song qingxiao clutched her chest and panted.

"The rescue team is here!"

When she saw her 'self from the other team, the huge rock that she had been holding in her chest finally fell to the ground.

After confirming that there were two groups of 'themselves', song qingxiao did not forget that there were four survivors left from the group of escapees that she had asked number five and number six to protect on the undead altar!

As soon as she finished speaking, number five and number one appeared behind song qingxiao in the thick fog. Then, a few other escapees who were supporting each other also appeared one after another, looking around uneasily.

After they appeared, the hole that was about to disappear reappeared, and the sun shone through the hole again.

Number five was overjoyed and danced with joy,”

“There it is, there it is!”

Number one, who was performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the dead escapees, raised his head in confusion and saw another group of people appearing in the thick fog..

Chapter 484: Two-in-two (1)

The old man in the middle was the one who had begged them to return and save the others. At this moment, they were staring at the scene in the cave with fear and trepidation.

The arrival of this wave of escapees caused the closed cave to open up again, turning everyone’s desperate situation around.

Number one’s face turned from white to green, and then from green to black.

He wiped his mouth, put his hands behind his back, and clenched his fists again and again. The veins on his forehead bulged, and then he let out a long breath and walked in the direction of the fugitives.

The other number one seemed to be connected to him. Without saying anything more, he also protected the remaining four escapees as if they were rare animals.

As soon as the two teams gathered, the two silver Wolf Kings stared at the three-headed dog and let out low growls, starting to close in on it.

Wolves were creatures that fought in groups. The previous Silver Wolf had already forced the Cerberus to go berserk. Now that it was facing two silver wolves, the Cerberus couldn’t help but feel restless.

Its three heads roared, trying to intimidate the silver Wolf with its voice.

However, this move had no effect on the wolf King. On the contrary, as soon as its roar stopped, the two silver wolves bared their sharp fangs at the same time and turned into a gust of wind, charging in the direction of the three-headed dog.

The Cerberus's angry roars quickly turned into wails of pain as the two top tier aliens tore at its flesh and blood.

As soon as the silver Wolf moved, the two 'song qingxiao's' did not stand by and watch.

Although it was a strange feeling to fight side by side with her other self, song qingxiao seemed to be able to communicate with her.

The two of them formed a hand seal at the same time, and just as the Cerberus was about to turn around and spit fire at the silver Wolf, they chanted in unison,"

"Draw the ground as a prison, trap!"

The 'Lin' word technique was strengthened by the combined strength of the two people, forming a domain that firmly wrapped around the three-headed dog's head, making it unable to break free for a short time!

The two transformed 'No. 5' also moved! He circled around to the back of the Cerberus, enduring the pain from the burning flames, and grabbed the Cerberus's long tail in his hand. The two of them let out loud shouts and dragged it back!

Although he couldn't really hold the Cerberus down, he was able to restrict the Cerberus's whipping to a certain extent!

For a moment, the ground in the cave trembled and the mountains shook. The dog's angry roars and the silver Wolf's howls intertwined. The ground was burning with flames everywhere. The three-headed dog was crazily hitting around, as if trying to break free from the pincers.

Countless cracks appeared in the cave, and large pieces of gravel rolled down, making a loud noise and shaking the underground.

The two teams worked together to pin down the Cerberus, one tail, and one wolf, reducing its combat power to a certain extent. The two silver wolves attacked from the left and right, relying on their sharp claws and keen speed. With tacit cooperation, one wolf retreated after the attack, while the other attacked.

Under such an attack, the Hell's Guardian was in a difficult position. It was soon covered in wounds, and even the flames on its body had dimmed.

On the contrary, the two silver wolves gradually took physical form, and their claws and teeth were far sharper than before.

After the two Wolf Kings each snatched a piece of loot from the Cerberus and retreated, the already berserk Cerberus was once again enraged by the pain!

It shook its huge head and forcefully broke free from the domain of the double 'confrontation' spell. It turned its head and spat fire at the two 'No. 5' who were pulling its tail!

Although the power of the flames was not as strong as it was at the beginning, when the three heads gathered together, it was still menacing. The two 'No. 5's' expressions changed and they could not help but let go.

The three-headed Hound's tail missed, so it swung its long tail like a long whip and swept across its back, sweeping two silver wolves that were about to retreat to the ground. With a 'clang', they hit the ceiling of the cave and finally fell to the ground with a loud bang!

'Woof... Woof woof... Wuwuwu ...'

The Cerberus let out a furious roar after its attack succeeded!

The two Wolf Kings fell to the ground one after another, sending a large amount of dust into the air. Then, under the roars of the hell Guardian, they staggered back up.

This time, the two Wolf Kings did not rush to attack after getting up. Instead, after looking at each other, they unexpectedly pounced on each other!

The silver Wolf's reaction stunned number five. The two wolves were extremely fast and powerful. If they pounced on each other, they would most likely crash into each other, and both of them would be at a disadvantage.

The Cerberus was already an arrow at the end of its flight, but the silver Wolf didn't take the opportunity to attack, and instead started to have internal strife?

The wolf was song qingxiao's pet. He turned to her in surprise..

Chapter 485: Two-in-two (2)

"Three..."

The two 'song qingxiao's' were frowning, and for a moment, they couldn't tell which one to call out to stop the silver Wolf's crazy actions.

Seeing the silver Wolf's action, song qingxiao's heart skipped a beat. She instinctively raised her arm and looked down at her wrist.

On the other side, 'song qingxiao' also did the same. The silver Wolf mark on her wrist fluctuated slightly.

At this time, the two silver wolves collided in mid-air. However, the moment the wolf heads collided, the scene number five had expected of the two Wolf Kings to be smashed into pieces did not happen. Instead, the two Wolf shadows began to merge when they collided!

The silver Phantom turned into a real object. Under the firelight, a huge solid silver Wolf gradually took shape. It was even bigger than the previous Phantom. The mark on song Qing's wrist began to peel off.

The seal was lifted!

The two semi-solid silver Wolf Phantoms merged into one and slowly fell from the sky!

'Awoo...'

After landing, it raised its head and let out a long howl.

The howling sound spread out and woke up the people who were dumbfounded after seeing this scene.

The howl was filled with killing intent, and a heavy pressure covered them, causing number one and number five to involuntarily shrink their necks.

The silver Wolf, which was already extremely dangerous, seemed to be even more dangerous after the fusion!

After letting out a long howl, it attacked the Cerberus again. This time, before it became even more ferocious, it leaped up and bit the throat of one of the hell Guardian's heads!

The hell Guardian let out a miserable howl and raised its forelimbs, trying to grab it!

However, the silver Wolf dragged it back. The Cerberus's body was like a mountain, and its weight was even more difficult to shake.

However, the silver Wolf was incomparably valiant after breaking free from the seal. With a single pull, it actually caused the Cerberus to stagger and take two steps back!

Its hind legs could not support its huge body, and it sat on the ground with a 'boom', causing the ground to tremble.

'Woof... Wuwuwu...'

It cried out in pain from its two heads and pulled its forelimbs forward, scratching several deep wounds on the silver Wolf's body. The silver Wolf had not let go and was still biting the neck of one of its heads, dragging it back.

At this time, song qingxiao was inspired by the silver Wolf. She raised her head and looked at 'song qingxiao' on the other side. Like the silver Wolf, they both walked towards each other.

Her heart beat faster with every step she took.

The difficulty of the trial to escape the terror Battalion was far beyond her initial expectations. However, the harder the trial, the more generous the rewards should be.

At this moment, the scene of the silver Wolf's strength increasing greatly after merging into one was also very likely to be one of the invisible rewards of the trial.

She was getting closer and closer to her other 'self' until their faces were touching. Just as they were about to collide, song Qing took a deep breath and the 'song Qing Xiao' opposite her took a step forward as well!

The 'bang' she had expected did not happen. She was like a stream of water, silently merging with another.

Her spiritual power, divine sense, and cultivation were all shared and merged at this time. A power as vast as the sea swam through her body, making up for the spiritual power and divine sense she had used up after running all the way here.

On the undead altar, the realm that had not been stable after the hasty Ascension to the spirit focus realm began to stabilize after the two 'song qingxiao' merged into one.

The face of the primordial spirit in his psyche ocean was clearer than before, and it exuded a terrifying aura. When the primordial spirit opened its eyes, song qingxiao's eyes opened as well!

Number five, who was staring at her, happened to meet her eyes. Her pupils were vertical and light golden. Perhaps it was because she had just opened her eyes and had not had time to hide it, her eyes contained ruthlessness and indifference, as if she had the power to control life and death, a Majesty that no one dared to offend, an insufferably arrogant look that made people cower!

Being stared at by her, number Five's hair stood on end, as if he was being stared at by an extremely dangerous fierce beast. He had nowhere to hide, so he instinctively lowered his head!

He had never been so afraid, not even when he was facing the mighty Cerberus. Now that he was looking at song qingxiao, he was so scared that his scalp went numb and he had goosebumps.

However, this feeling was fleeting. As song qingxiao got used to her new 'body' and her new strength, the Golden color in her eyes gradually faded, and her vertical pupils returned to normal. The sense of silence on number Five's body also faded like the tide.

He raised his head. Song qingxiao had already returned to normal, but her strength was already unfathomable before. Now, it was even more difficult for number five to figure her out..

Chapter 486: Two-in-two (3)

Number five recalled her previous actions and the scene of the silver Wolfs transformation. As if recalling something, the two 'number fives' looked at each other and also began to walk towards each other.

on the other side, the silver Wolf had already bitten the Cerberus's throat and was dragging it back with all its might.

The Cerberus's lower body was on the ground, while its upper body's two forelimbs were raised high, trying to grab the silver Wolf that was biting its throat.???????????????? &

It was as if half of its body was suspended in the air, and its upper abdomen was lost.

Song Qingxiao took the opportunity to take out her dagger instinctively!

The dagger was slightly cold to the touch, and it was not burned by the high temperature in the cave.

It was quite heavy in her hand, and when she held it in her palm, a wonderful throbbing occurred in her heart.

This should be an additional benefit brought about by the fusion of the two 'song Qingxiao's', but now was not the time to study it.

she grabbed the dagger and while the Cerberus's attention was drawn away by the silver Wolf, she pounced towards the Cerberus's heart. The dagger in her hand easily pierced through the heart without much effort!

Roar...

The three heads of the Cerberus let out a ferocious roar before its death. It struggled with all its might, but it was actually able to stop its body from being dragged back by the silver Wolf.

However, that was all it could do!

Song Qing thrust the dagger into its stomach and pulled it down!

A bone-chilling sound of flesh being sliced apart rang out. Immediately after a large amount of boiling hot blood gushed out. The Cerberus howled in pain and scratched over.

Although she had heard the sound and dodged in time, she was still a step too slow.

The three-headed dog's flaming bone spur scratched her back. Although scales appeared to block it, preventing the sharp bone spur from piercing her entire body in half, it still scratched her back, leaving a wound so deep that the bone could be seen!

With a loud thump, song qingxiao fell to the ground. She endured the pain and got up. She quickly retreated to avoid the Cerberus's final attack.

The Cerberus received a heavy blow, and blood spurted out in all directions. Very quickly, its vitality was greatly damaged, and it couldn't even sit still.

The silver Wolf that was biting its throat suddenly let go at this time. Its Three Dog heads drooped down powerlessly, and its raised forelimbs fell to the ground with a 'bang'. When it saw the silver Wolf circling around its stomach it let out a threatening roar.

However, its roar was extremely weak and did not have any deterrent effect at

The silver Wolf jumped to the side of its body, took a step back, and then rushed forward, hitting its body with force.

After the mighty Cerberus was hit, its huge body fell like a bone plate, and with a heavy 'Dong' sound, it fell backward, revealing its injured chest and abdomen.

The silver Wolf put it down and slowly approached it.

The three-headed dog seemed to have sensed the danger. It barked even more urgently and spat flames at the silver Wolf. It bared its fangs as a warning while trying to get up with its two forelimbs.

However, the silver Wolf was not afraid of it at all. It charged towards the three-headed dog's stomach, its claws and teeth tearing the wound that song qingxiao had made even wider. The silver Wolf stretched its head over and pulled out a pile of internal organs.

'Woof... Woof

The Cerberus let out an extremely shrill howl, and the flames it spat out became even more ferocious.

However, as its internal organs were dug out, its cries became weaker and the red glow in its eyes dimmed. Its forelimbs, which had tried to prop itself up several times, suddenly loosened and left several deep marks on the ground. Finally, several heads exhaled their last breath and fell to the ground one after another with a 'boom' sound!

As soon as the Cerberus died, the roars of the ferocious beast in the cave immediately disappeared. Only the sound of the silver Wolf gnawing at the Cerberus's internal organs could be heard.

After the fusion, number five opened his eyes, and his eyes flashed. Number one, who was holding hands with the escapees and protecting them, cheered, "Hahaha! He won, he won! We, the dog-smacking team, are invincible!" He was so excited that his entire body trembled, and his expression was one of pain and pleasure. "You damn dog, to think that you would have such a day! Hahaha!"

Number one laughed for a long time. Because he had been too nervous before the two 'number one's' hands had clenched tightly. Now that the mission was 'completed, his whole body was stiff, and he could not let go.

It took a lot of effort for them to finally let go of their hands, trembling. The few escapees who were protected by them couldn't help but burst into tears when they saw that the three-headed dog was dead.

"I've finally passed!"

The moment the Cerberus fell, the sunlight from the hole's entrance was no longer blocked. A cool breeze blew in, dispersing the thick, nauseating smell of blood.

Number five grinned, revealing a mouthful of white teeth, and said with joy "I survived."

This trial had been extremely dangerous from the beginning to the end. If he had been the slightest bit careless, he would have been consigned to eternal damnation. It was not easy for him to be alive.

Song Qing looked down on him. The injuries on his body and the fur that was urnt by the Cerberus had disappeared after the two '5s' merged.

Obviously, in this trial, other than the points, number five should have gained a lot of benefits.

When he saw song qingxiao's gaze, he chuckled and scratched his head. His ears were crooked from his scratching, which diluted the intimidation of his fierce appearance after his beast transformation.

The two of them had a tacit understanding of each other's change and did not say anything more.

"Yeah, we survived again." Song qingxiao sighed, but her tone did not sound happy.

"Eh?"

Number one let out a cry of surprise. It was only now that he finally realized ""Why are you all alone?"

No. 5 kept his mouth shut and jumped towards the entrance of the cave. When he passed by the three-headed dog's body, he instinctively avoided the silver Wolf that was gobbling down the body and went around the dog's tail.

Number one's eyes flashed. At this moment, he seemed to have thought of something and looked at his other 'self'..

Chapter 487: one_i

The two 'No. 1' merged into one. When they opened their eyes, the joy in their eyes had not faded. It was obvious that after merging, it had great benefits for him.

Just as he was about to walk toward the cave entrance like number five, he saw Song Qingxiao standing still.

A few of the escapees, who were like the keys to the 'gate' of the land of the undead, were about to leave with her, but they did not dare to move at all when she stared into the hole.

She didn't have any intention of stopping number five from leaving, and she probably wouldn't stop her either. However, leaving the escapees behind was to prevent them from being killed by the other two after they left, thus locking her up in the trial.

This woman was really strange. She was extremely strong and didn't kill anyone during the trial. She even saved his life several times. However, she didn't trust him and number five. She had been on guard against them from the beginning to the end, even if the three of them worked together and completed the mission.

She seemed to have a backup plan for everything, and her thoughts were terrifyingly meticulous. It was as if she could consider everything one by one in her mind, without a single omission.

However, they had already passed the trial, and the hell watchman was the entrance to the cave. They would be able to leave this place once they got out. Song Qingxiao was standing there without moving. Could it be that there were still some benefits to be gained here?

"You're not going out?" Number one asked. He carefully avoided the silver Wolf and got closer to Song Qing. He tried to stand on her side and look around the cave.

The interior of the cave had been severely damaged by the battle between the Cerberus and the silver Wolf. The walls and ceiling of the cave were filled with cracks of various sizes.

The broken stones covered the ground tightly, covering the ashes underground.

Some places were still burning, and there was nothing worth song qingxiao's time.

Song Qing knew what he was thinking, but he did not expose him. He just stared at the silver Wolf.

It was still chewing the internal organs of the Cerberus with its head tilted to the side, eating them with great relish.

"Of course I'm leaving."

She answered number one nonchalantly, but she saw the silver Wolf gobble up more than half of the Cerberus's internal organs. She didn't know if it was affected by the injury or because it ate too much, but its chewing movement became slower and slower, and it even crawled on the ground and swallowed slowly.

Number one's eyes flickered and he looked towards the entrance of the cave. He saw that number five was about to reach the entrance of the cave. His figure had returned to his original short and thin appearance, but he suddenly stopped and did not take another step forward.

"Number three." He turned around and asked with a smile,

"we've worked together once, after all. Why don't we exchange contact details? we can get together and have a drink when we're out?"

"This is good!" Number one clapped his hands, to be honest, ever since I entered this trial, I've never met anyone like the two of you. Let's be friends and help each other in the future! Hehe!"

"No, I won't." Song qingxiao shook her head. She was not moved by their suggestions.

Her eyes fell on the silver Wolf that had already eaten until its stomach was round. Most of the Cerberus's internal organs had been swallowed into its stomach, but there was still a little left. It took the last bite, hesitated for a long time, and then struggled to prop up its body, swaying and walking towards song qingxiao.

As soon as it moved, number one was so shocked that he took a few steps back in the direction of the cave.

The silver Wolf's fearsomeness could be seen from the fact that it had defeated the dogs of the land of the dead twice.

However, what shocked number one was that with every step it took, the silver light on its body shrank a little. After the silver light retracted, its mountain-like body had shrunk by a lot when it reached song qingxiao!

It let go, and the small pile of things in its mouth fell to song Qing's feet.

oof! it let out a soft groan, as if reminding song qingxiao that this was the food it was sharing with her.

Number one saw the corners of song Qing's mouth curl up slightly, revealing a faint smile.

This smile diluted the distance between her brows and melted the frost in her eyes. Then she reached out her hand and rubbed the silver wolf's head.

That previously fierce and cold Wolf King was now abnormally obedient. When she stretched out her hand, the killing intent all over his body was completely restrained. He lazily narrowed his eyes and even pressed his ears.

Song qingxiao picked up the small pile of the Cerberus's internal organs on the ground and held the huge Silver Wolf in her arms with one hand. "Let's go home!"

After she finished speaking, judge number one was stunned. In that instant, number five had already jumped out of the cave and disappeared. It was clear that he had left the trial space and returned to reality.

He did not stay any longer and followed them out of the mountain pass.

When song qingxiao came out with the silver Wolf, the mission in her mind had changed:Escape from the terrorist camp (completed).

[ mission completed: 4666.6666 points ]

The trial prompted,"mission completed. Leave the realm!"

In the next moment, there was a fluctuation of spiritual energy, and in the blink of an eye, she left the trial scene and appeared in a dimly lit room!

Something was falling and she instinctively reached out to catch it, only to see a backpack hanging between her feet.

These were the things that Captain an had packed for her. Before she entered the trial space, she had entered the reserve team under the protection of the Shi family's guards in the capital with the help of Captain an.

She put down the silver Wolf in her arms. For some reason, after eating the Cerberus 'internal organs, the silver Wolf seemed to be exhausted. It fell into a deep sleep when it left the trial scene. Now, it did not show any signs of waking up when it returned to reality.

The injuries it had sustained during the Battle with the Cerberus were quite serious, but this was a genetically mutated Wolf King. It had suffered even more serious injuries on demon Island.

When its hind leg was pierced through by the poisonous fangs of the flood Dragon, its body was poisoned, but it didn't die from such a serious injury. At this time, its injuries seemed to be quite serious, but compared to the injuries left by the flood Dragon, it was much better.

Song qingxiao injected a stream of spiritual force into the silver Wolf's body, but it did not wake it up.

However, although its aura was weak, a genetically mutated Wolf King like it had powerful evolutionary abilities. Its life should not be in danger.

She recalled the day it absorbed the flood dragon's venomous fangs to evolve. This time, other than the cultivators who had obtained certain benefits from defeating the Cerberus, the silver Wolf should have also benefited from devouring the Cerberus's internal organs.

Its current deep sleep was similar to when it had just come out of demon Island. It was very likely that its genes were self-regulating and the precursor to another evolution.

Perhaps, when it woke up, its strength would increase even further.

Thinking of this, she bent down and picked up the backpack hanging on her feet. She didn't have time to check the points she had earned in this trial when she heard a slight noise from outside the door.

Before entering the trial space, the guest who had walked to her door finally knocked on her door after hesitating for a long time..

Chapter 488: letter of challenge-1

The person's breathing was very weak, and from the nervous panting, one could tell that it was a very young girl.

Song Qing put her backpack on the table. In the trial space, the Cerberus's internal organs that the silver Wolf had brought to her were taken out of the trial space by her, emitting a fishy smell.

She found a basin to put the thing in and washed her hands. When she came out to open the door, the person outside was about to turn and leave!

Hearing the sound of the door opening, the man seemed to be frightened. His shoulders shrank, and he jumped forward like a rabbit before turning around.

"H-Hello..."

Her voice was a little soft. When she saw Song Qingxiao, she was stunned at first, and then she showed a timid smile, trying to show her kindness.

“Hello,” he said. Song Qingxiao reached out her wet hands and brushed her hair away from her face. She had no intention of inviting her in.

She had just come out of the trial space, and there were still traces of her battle with the Cerberus on her body. Moreover, the silver Wolf in the room had not woken up, so it was really not appropriate for others to see it.

“What’s the matter?” Song Qing asked.

Her expression was cold, and her words were not harsh, but for some reason, the girl felt a little nervous when she saw her.

I heard from sister Ren that there’s a new member in the team ... She was a little nervous. She reached out and pinched the hem of her clothes before saying, “I came to ask if you needed my help.”

Song Qingxiao was a little surprised. She looked at the girl as if she was trying to see into her heart.

It was a woman in her 20s, about 1.65 meters tall, wearing a flaxen combat uniform, and she looked a little uneasy.

She was thin, and her hair was tied into a ponytail that hung down to her waist. A few strands of hair hung down to the side of her face, making her look even more delicate.

From her tone, she seemed to know a lot about the reserve team. She was probably an old woman who had been here for a long time.

However, her aura was extremely weak, so she probably had not cultivated as an ordinary person.

The existence of the reserve team was to select elites for the Shi family's guards. Captain an had also said that this place advocated martial strength.

Before she entered the trial, the woman who received her had also warned her that the people here were fierce and aggressive, and told her to be careful. She didn't expect to see such a girl.

Her aura was incompatible with this place. From her nervous expression, it was clear that she had not had a good time here. She should not have joined the team with her strength, but most likely, like him, had joined through connections.

Perhaps he was just here for a transition and would find another way out in the future. After inquiring about his background, he might want to come here to form a group.

It seemed like the reserve team was also divided into factions.

After going through a few rounds of spiritual trials, the little girl's little wet thoughts were almost impossible to hide in front of her.

"No need," Song qingxiao gave a small smile, thank you.

She didn't join the reserve team to become a guard. In the future, she would become the center of power. She only wanted to avoid trouble and use this place as a temporary foothold.

She was not interested in forming cliques in the reserve team.

After rejecting the girl's good intentions, she was about to close the door. The girl didn't expect her to reject her and was stunned for a moment before saying,

"Wait..."

She rushed forward and was about to pull song Qing's hand on the door, but under her gaze, she retracted her hand.

“Miss song, you don’t understand ...”

Just as she was about to speak, song qingxiao’s expression changed. Several unfamiliar auras were approaching. She raised her head. The girl was talking, but when she saw song qingxiao’s actions, she also raised her head.

Not long after, under the dim light, a few figures strode over. When the girl saw them, she looked at song qingxiao with pity and whispered,”

“You, you have to be careful.”

After saying this, she bent her waist and slipped away in the other direction, as if she did not dare to meet the person. Soon, her figure disappeared into the darkness.

As song qingxiao watched her leave, a few people approached from the other side. The one in the lead was a young woman with a bright appearance and a very flamboyant temperament.

A girl beside her saw the back of the girl who had run away and whispered in her ear,”

“The one who just walked away looked like tan Wen.” Her voice was extremely soft, as if she only wanted the bright and beautiful young girl to hear it clearly,

II

“She might have come to tip me off.”

As she said this, she seemed to feel song Qing’s gaze and couldn’t help but look up at her. However, when their eyes met, it was as if she had been electrocuted and she quickly lowered her head. She didn’t even see her face clearly, only the sound of her heart beating wildly.

In his mind, the pair of eyes were as cold as the stars, but they were quite intimidating and intimidating.

However, there was no reason for this feeling. Before they came, they had already inquired about it. This time, the person who entered the reserve team was only a 'trash' who had been stuffed in with the protection of the elders. Perhaps he would only stay here for two years. After plating himself with a layer of gold, he might have to find another way out. How could he scare people?

She swallowed a mouthful of saliva and raised her head again, only to see that in this short while, the young girl leading the group had already taken a few steps forward. She hurriedly followed.

"Are you new?"

When the young girl arrived, she sized up Song Qing.

She was about the same age as the others, about twenty years old. Her long hair was tied up messily behind her head, and a few strands hung down to her shoulders.

His face seemed to be marked with scars, and his body exuded an extremely terrifying and strange smell.

She only pulled open the door to one side, revealing her upper body, but from the way she was dressed, it was very bad. Her clothes were torn and tattered, and her body was stained with something, so the original color could not be seen.

The young girl's eyes were filled with disgust. She pinched her nose and retreated.

"Do you dare to come to the school's training field tomorrow and fight?"

Song Qingxiao didn't know whether to laugh or cry at her.

She had just come out of the trial space, and before she could even take care of herself, she had already met two groups of 'guests'.

The young lady put down the letter of challenge, as if she could not stand the 'strange smell' on her body. Without waiting for her reply, the group of people left in a hurry, just like when they came.

Song Qing closed the door and quickly forgot about this little episode.

She couldn't stand the smell on her body, so she took a shower and changed her clothes. Then, she came out and looked at the silver Wolf.

The silver Wolf was still in a deep sleep. It didn't even react when she stretched out her leg to kick it twice.

It shouldn't be awake for the time being, Song Qing went into the training room behind and sat cross-legged, checking the rewards he had received from the trial.

In his sea of consciousness, he had a total of 5433 points.

The number of points did not surprise Song Qingxiao. She had 100 points left after the last exchange.

After escaping from the Terror Battalion, he had a total of 4666 points as a reward.

Out of the seven participants, only three survived. The dead No. 2, No. 4, No. 6, and No. 7 should be converted into points and divided among the three..

Chapter 489: Mutation (1)

The trial space's exchange interface opened, and with the increase in points, the number of items exchanged increased by a lot.

Some of the low-level weapons were directly classified as basic exchanges, and new weapons of all kinds were added, which were very expensive.

Perhaps it was because she used daggers herself, but she first noticed a dagger that seemed to be flashing red light in the trial space. As soon as her divine sense touched the dagger, the information of the dagger flashed: [ fire scale ], low-tier mid-tier weapon, 3000 points.

Song qingxiao noticed that the weapons exchanged in the trial space had a grade.

His divine sense and the dagger's Red light collided, and a heat wave came head-on. It must be the dagger's own attributes.

It seemed that after the strength of the trial-taker increased, the destructive power of the exchanged items would also increase. This also meant that the future trials and even the people they would meet might be more difficult to deal with.

Song qingxiao furrowed her brows. She couldn't help but reach out to touch her dagger.

This action pulled at the wound on her back that had been torn open by the Cerberus, and blood started to ooze out of the wound that had already stopped bleeding.

As if she couldn't feel the pain, she took out the dagger and held it in her palm.

Compared to the fire scales in the trial space, the mysterious dagger was completely black without any luster.

It was this dagger that almost took her life that day. At the same time, it was also because of this dagger that she opened the trial space and started a series of fortuitous encounters. In the subsequent trials, this dagger saved her from danger several times and accompanied her to this day.

The dagger was unusually heavy, and the material seemed to be unusual. Song qingxiao had held it for a long time, so she naturally knew that although it looked ordinary, it was extremely sharp and seemed to be invincible.

It was definitely different from ordinary daggers, but he didn't know what grade it was. Compared to the fire scale, which already had attributes, which one was sharper?

It was a pity that she didn't have many points and didn't dare to waste them. Otherwise, she could exchange for a dagger and try it out.

Song Qingxin felt a little regretful and shook his head. However, he immediately had another thought.

She endured the pain caused by her injury, mobilized 30% of her spiritual power, and flicked her finger on the dagger. A crisp clang rang out.

She had already advanced to the spirit focus realm. At the last moment of the terror Battalion trials, after the two 'song qingxiao's' fused together, her realm had already stabilized. The power of this attack that contained spirit power was no small matter.

The finger that was filled with spiritual energy flicked the dagger, causing it to emit a sound. The spiritual energy was like a stone that sank into the ocean, but the dagger was still intact!

At the same time, as she mobilized her spiritual power, her veins seemed to be on fire. A sharp pain attacked her, causing her vision to go black and she spat out a large mouthful of blood.

Song qingxiao was shocked. She did not think about the level of the dagger. Instead, she immediately adjusted her spiritual power and checked her body.

After her genetic mutation, her spiritual power had an ice attribute. When it flowed through her veins, it brought a cold feeling.

However, at this moment, there seemed to be a layer of flames within her meridians.

When the Ling power didn't move, he didn't feel that it was a big problem. However, when the spiritual power was activated, the flame was like a maggot attached to the bone. It followed the spiritual power and destroyed the ice ability in her veins. The spiritual power was restrained, and Song Qingxiao was caught off guard and suffered a loss.

Fortunately, he wasn't in the trial space, and even if he was injured, he could rest for a few days.

However, the trouble was the flame in her veins. She tried to drive it out with spiritual power, but it didn't work.

The Ice and Fire attributes were mutually exclusive, so when she circulated her spirit energy, the spirit energy within her body was restrained by the fire poison to a certain extent.

Every time he got rid of some, when he used his spiritual power and the flame turned, he would get help and burn again. It was extremely difficult to get rid of it.

This is troublesome!

Song Qingxiao wiped her mouth, her face a little ugly. She reached out and touched her back.

During the trial, when she had cut open the Cerberus 'heart, she had suffered a counterattack from the Hell's guard before she died.

Its claws had left a wound on her back that almost ran through her back. The flame poison should have invaded her veins at that time!

If it wasn't for the fact that her spiritual power was of the ice element, it would have been easier to get rid of the flames. However, because of the conflicting elements, it was a little tricky.

She tried to use a portion of her spiritual power to force the poisonous flames into a corner, stopping them from continuing to burn again. At the same time, she used her spiritual power again, and it was no longer a big problem.

However, in this way, a part of her spiritual power was restricted and unable to be used, so her strength was naturally reduced.

However, Song Qingxiao had not found a better way for the time being. She could only wait until her injuries recovered and her strength increased again to see if she could think of a way to expel the flame poison from her body.

After solving the hidden danger in her body, she opened her eyes and her gaze fell on the dagger.

The dagger was stained with the blood she had spat out. Song Qing wiped it with the pad of her finger, but after wiping it, she found out the secret.

“Eh?”

She let out a cry of surprise. The end of the dagger’s handle was stained with a trace of blood, which she had already wiped away. It was dark and smooth, and after she wiped it again and again, it was extremely clean.

However, this dagger had been with her since her first trial to become a God. She was very familiar with every part of this dagger.

There should have been a red leaf mark at the end of the dagger, which was a special mark of the dagger. However, the mark seemed to have been wiped away and disappeared!

“How is that possible?”

Song Qing pursed her lips and touched it with her fingers. The tip of the needle was cold, but there was no mark.

Her expression turned cold, and she took a deep breath to gather her spirit energy again. She then flicked her finger up!

When he fully exerted his spiritual power, the cold air spread out, causing the surrounding floor and objects to make a 'ka ka ka' sound of being frozen. The frost began to spread out at an extremely fast speed.

'Ding'!

With a crisp sound, her fingertips flicked the dagger, causing the blade to let out a clear sound.

The overbearing force struck the dagger, but it did not seem to be affected at all.

What was the origin of this dagger?

By now, song Qing was even more certain that the dagger was no ordinary object.

Although she was injured, her full-power attack did not cause any damage to the dagger. Then what kind of great divine power did the person who forged this dagger have? what kind of realm did he reach to be able to carve the red leaf mark on the dagger?

However, why would someone with such a weapon and extraordinary strength come to assassinate him?

What did the symbol of the red leaf mean? A hidden clan? The race of the heavens beyond heaven?

That day at the Imperial hospital, the nurse who took care of Captain an had also been stabbed in the throat and died. Was there any connection between the two?

Many questions flooded song Qing's mind. She thought that she would be out of the capital for the time being, but now it seemed that she had to find an opportunity to contact Captain an and go back to see the nurse's body.

As for the disappearance of the mark on the dagger, she was sure that she did not remember it wrong.

This dagger was related to the clues of the killer who killed her at that time. She often touched it and remembered every part of the red leaf mark in her mind. At this time, once she remembered it, a 'red leaf' mark appeared in her sea of consciousness.

She subconsciously touched the end of the handle. After she got the dagger, because of its special nature, she always carried it with her and never left it. It was impossible for it to fall into the hands of others.

No one else had touched it, and she didn't have the ability to move the dagger for the time being. There must be some other reason for the change in the dagger.

She recalled something.

When they were escaping from the terror Battalion, two teams of 'song qingxiao' appeared after the space folded.

The silver Wolf also fused and advanced, breaking away from the seal of the trial space and revealing its body.

She had also gained great benefits from becoming one with her other self.

It was also at that time that the dagger seemed to have undergone some changes. However, she was at a critical juncture in killing the Cerberus and did not have the time to examine it.

Now that he thought about it, it was probably because the moment the two 'song qingxiao's' merged, the two daggers combined and mutated, causing the red leaf mark to be erased.

In this way, it made sense..

Chapter 490: Nurturing (1)

Song Cling held the dagger in front of his eyes and looked at it carefully. The appearance of the dagger didn't change much except for the missing red leaf. However, it was slightly heavier and cold and comfortable to the touch.

There seemed to be a slight change in the grip, as if it was more fitting to the shape of her palm, making it easier for her to grasp.

In order to prove that her feeling was correct, she released her fingers and pressed them on the handle one by one. Once her fingers grasped the handle, they fit perfectly, as if they were tailor-made for her.

She grabbed the dagger and casually waved it twice. With a 'swish' sound, the dagger left several long black afterimages, like the long tail of a Phoenix. A layer of frost formed on the floor where the force swept!

Song qingxiao retracted her hand and spread out her palm. With a twist of her fingertips, the dagger spun in her palm, bringing with it a black whirlwind.

It seemed that during the trial of escaping from the terror Battalion, other than her and the silver Wolf becoming one and her strength increasing, dagger had also evolved during the trial.

After the dagger evolved, the original 'master' mark was erased, but it was strangely compatible with her and became her exclusive. novel.com

She was overjoyed and had an idea.

Song Qing's small palm clenched, and the handle of the spinning dagger was suddenly held in her palm. A stream of spiritual energy flowed through her palm and into the dagger!

In an instant, the blade of the dagger seemed to have a blue light rotating, and it trembled slightly as it let out a clear cry!

Such a phenomenon had never happened before!

At this moment, because of the spiritual connection, the dagger seemed to be one with her. Song qingxiao held it and stabbed it into the ground!

The training room's walls and floor were laid out with an unknown stone. In order to prevent the facilities of the training room from being damaged by the members who lived in it, the materials used were of the best quality and were extremely strong.

However, when the blade stabbed, it was like a sharp blade cutting through tofu. It silently sank into the ground, and the spiritual power infused into the blade poured out, turning into a long Dragon. The powerful force spread out and destroyed the solid stone layer underground. With the point where the dagger was inserted as the center, the ground cracked like a spider web.

She pulled out the dagger, and light blue Frost emerged from the crack, quickly freezing the broken part!

Cold mist rose from the broken floor. Song qingxiao did not expect that a casual attempt would have such an effect.

When she attacked, she had only used 20 to 30 percent of her spiritual power and because of her injuries and the fire poison in her body, her strength had ' been greatly restrained. Even so, song qingxiao was very satisfied with the power of this attack.

If she were to use her full strength at this moment, she would probably be able to flip half of the floor of the cultivation room!

Although the mission to escape from the terror Battalion this time was difficult, the benefits he obtained were numerous.

After ascending to the spirit focus realm, the spiritual power he could use was completely different from when he was in the path-understanding realm.

Song qingxiao kept the dagger with satisfaction and touched it carefully. After the dagger had evolved, it was naturally even more precious to her. Unfortunately, she could only keep such an item close to her body and could not hide it in a more secure place.

If he could seal the silver Wolf in his body like how he did when he entered the trial space, and only summon it when he needed it, it would be the best.

In this way, he didn't have to worry about being coveted by others. They were connected in their hearts, and he didn't have to be afraid of being taken away! Just as this thought emerged in her mind, she instinctively held the dagger tighter. At this time, a trial prompt from God came from her sea of consciousness: [ do you want to activate the divine weapon? ] Points: 5000.

The God's trial had only reminded her a few times, but every time, it was at a critical moment.

Just like the day she came out of the demon Island, after she absorbed the flood dragon's blood and the evolution potion, the energy in her body went berserk, and the trial space took the initiative to remind her.

Song qingxiao didn't know what it meant to nurture a heavenly weapon, but she instinctively didn't want to let go of such an opportunity. Without hesitation, she said, "Activate!"

Just as this thought appeared in her mind, her points were deducted. The dagger that was originally in her hand suddenly turned into an afterimage and disappeared from her hand in an instant!

The moment the dagger disappeared, song qingxiao was shocked. She instinctively let out a cry and clenched her fists subconsciously!

However, when she clenched her fist, she still grabbed nothing. The remaining cold touch turned into a light breeze and disappeared completely.

At the same time, a murderous aura unique to Bing GE rushed out of her divine sense.

Song qingxiao closed her eyes and used her spiritual power to inspect her meridians. She quickly found that in her dantian, there was an illusion of a dagger floating above it. It was being nurtured by her spiritual power.

With a thought, she spread out her hands and mobilized her spiritual power to activate the evil Qj.

In an instant, her heart moved, and the dagger that had originally disappeared condensed into a physical body again, held in her hand!

“Hahaha!” Song qingxiao couldn’t help but let out a surprised laugh. She tried a few more times, and the dagger was kept and released again, which made her even more successful.

In this way, hiding the dagger in her body was more secure than before. She didn’t need to make any unnecessary movements at critical moments. It was much more convenient for her to protect herself or deal with the enemy.

Within the trial space, her remaining points were displayed:433 points.

Although most of the results of this trial had been deducted after activating ‘divine weapon nurturing’, leaving only a small fraction, song qingxiao was very satisfied with this.

As long as he could take advantage of this period of time to recuperate and enter the spirit focus realm, he would be able to withdraw and retract his weapons as he pleased. Even if he were to enter the trial again, his ability to protect himself would be even stronger!

With 433 points left, she casually looked at the exchange page of the trial space.

She could only exchange for some basic, low-level items at this price, which were no longer of much use to her. She also couldn’t exchange for some cultivation spell techniques because she didn’t have enough points.

Fortunately, as her realm increased, song qingxiao noticed that the spirit concentration chapter of the God destroying technique had also been activated.

In addition to the cultivation of spiritual power, after her Ascension, the soul destroying technique also had a technique to cultivate the primordial spirit. It appeared in her soul without a teacher.

However, song qingxiao felt that something was wrong. She thought of the time when she was escaping from the death altar in the terror Battalion. She had almost been sucked dry by the Necromancer's astral formation, and she had to use the God-destroying spell.

When the God destroying spell was cast, it forcibly reversed and absorbed the power of the star formation that the Necromancer had activated, allowing her to improve her strength in a short time.

A large amount of spiritual energy almost burst her veins, causing her body to explode and die.

However, at the critical moment, a mysterious suction force was emitted from her soul, and it sucked away most of the excess energy.

No one knew where the mysterious suction came from, but it seemed to be endless. Not only did it absorb all the energy stored in the stellar array, but it also absorbed all the power of the Necromancer!

After that, song qingxiao did a quick check of her body, but she did not find anything unusual.

The energy he had obtained from the spirit altar was also hidden somewhere.

She didn't have time to think about it because of the mission, and the energy didn't explode until the mission was over.. However, this matter was like a time bomb buried in song qingxiao's heart!
