

Watch Out 521

Chapter 521: A small test (1)

Song qingxiao wanted to check on nurse Lin's body and find out the cause of her death. She wanted to see if she could find the killer who had killed her in the back alley.

Every time she thought of the scene of her being sniped in the rainy night , even if she was no longer the ignorant fool she used to be, she still felt as if blood had rushed into her throat and she couldn't breathe when she thought of the dagger piercing through her body.

Most importantly, in order to overcome her fear, she had repeatedly simulated the scene of the killer's attack in her mind.

In the darkness, a humming man stepped through puddles of water. He reached out with a dagger in his hand and easily took a life.

She had tried many times to avoid it in that situation.

However, as her strength improved and her vision broadened, she recalled the past and found that her aura had been locked on by the killer long ago, and there was no way for her to Dodge.

Now that she had ascended to the spirit focus realm and had the two-word secret technique, the God destroying technique, and the reversing stellar formation, she might be able to block the dagger with the secret technique and create an opportunity for herself to counterattack.

However, this was only her own guess. First of all, the existence of the black Dagger used by the assassin was not an ordinary item.

Song qingxiao had no idea what material the dagger was made of, who did it, and what method was used to make such a sharp object.

However, she knew that this dagger was extraordinary. On the demon Island, it could even penetrate the scales of a mutated creature that had evolved to the level of a wyrm dragon.

She even felt that the existence of her dagger was not inferior to the graded weapons that appeared in the trial space. It was very likely that it was of a higher grade than the graded weapons.

She recalled number six's attempt to borrow the dagger that day, and then she thought of number six's background. Thus, she also suspected that the person who killed her at that time was someone from a hidden family.

The fact that number six could recognize the dagger meant that she was most likely related to the person who had tried to assassinate her.

However, Song Qingxin still had some doubts. Back then, she came from a humble background and did not attract any attention. She did not have any training space and did not make any enemies.

She knew nothing about the underworld clan. If it was really the underworld clan that sent people to kill her, what was the reason?

As she thought of this, she subconsciously twisted her wrist and a Black Dagger appeared in her palm. She grabbed it.

Ever since she had spent 5000 points to nurture the dagger in her body, she had gained a faint connection with the dagger.

She tried to grab the dagger and swing it. The blade cut through the air, making a dazzling afterimage and a 'swish' sound.

Song Qingxiao looked at the silver Wolf that was lying in the distance, and a thought came to her mind.

After the silver Wolf evolved again, it absorbed a part of the Cerberus's abilities, and its claws and fangs were strengthened.

Its claws and fangs were not inferior to the lethality and hardness of graded weapons. With a light scratch of its claws, it could leave deep claw marks on the stone.

He just didn't know if the hardness of its claws could compare to the dagger in his hand!

As she thought of this, she walked in the direction of the silver Wolf. Perhaps it was because she was holding a knife and squinting her eyes, her animal instincts were extremely sharp, and the silver Wolf had once lived in her body, so it could vaguely feel her intentions. It immediately propped itself up and wanted to escape.

Before it could get up, song qingxiao stomped on it so that it couldn't get up. At the same time, she squatted down and grabbed one of its front legs.

The silver Wolf's front paw was caught by her. It instinctively wanted to struggle, but song qingxiao turned around and caught it with her arm. She said softly,"

"Don't move!"

Although she had told the silver Wolf not to move, it was extremely afraid of this dagger. When it attacked her on the demon Island, it was injured by this dagger.

At that moment, it struggled even more, trying to break free from the claws.

"I said don't move!" Song Qing simply turned around and patted the wolf's head.

With a 'pa' sound, the wolf's head was smacked.

There was no killing intent in her Pat, and she rubbed the wolf's head after the slap, scratching its fur into a mess.

The silver Wolf was stunned for a moment, but it calmed down after being patted by her.

Although it stopped struggling, it still refused to admit defeat. It issued a low warning sound from its throat. Song qingxiao ignored its pretentious act and retracted its claws. It had no intention of attacking.

She first pinched the silver Wolf's nails with her hand. The claws tightened in the middle, and she could feel how terrifying it was.

It felt like the toughest weapon, but it was also warm, as if it had been tempered with fire poison, and would drip out in the next second. She grabbed the silver Wolf's claws and tried to grab the blade of her dagger. When the claws touched the dagger, it made a sharp, ear-piercing sound. At the same time, because the dagger had been nurtured by her, she seemed to be able to feel the power of the claw through the dagger. It was just that the dagger was not damaged, so the claw did not affect her at all.

Song qingxiao was on her guard when she thought of this.

It seemed that there were certain benefits to the dagger in her body. The connection between her and the dagger had deepened, and the subtle changes in the dagger's appearance meant that it might change in the future because of her advancement. At the same time, if the dagger was damaged, it would probably have a certain impact on her.

She composed herself and took out the dagger to cut the Wolf's nails. When the tip of the dagger cut the silver Wolf's claws, she didn't use much strength and only heard a 'Chi la' sound.

The small piece of nail broke off and flew out, landing on the floor with a 'bu' sound.

The silver Wolf had been 'fixed' for no reason, and finally could not bear it anymore. It struggled to pull its claws out of Song Qing's small hands, shook the fur on its body that had been messed up by her, and turned to run out of the practice room, not spending any time with her.

Song qingxiao didn't know whether to laugh or cry as she watched the silver Wolf run away. She picked up a small piece of its armor that had fallen on the ground and looked at the dagger in her hand.

Under the light, the dagger's surface glowed with a black light. After being nourished by her spiritual power for a while, song qingxiao felt that the dagger seemed to have more spirituality than before. She didn't know if it was an illusion.

And it seemed to be even sharper than before. Even without using her spiritual power, she was able to use the dagger's sharpness to cut through the Wolf's claws. If she were to meet an opponent like the Cerberus in the trial, song qingxiao would have an extra chance of winning.

She cultivated for half a day and only came out when it was time for dinner. She brought the silver Wolf to the dining hall.

As soon as she came in, everyone who saw the silver Wolf instinctively dodged to the side, their eyes filled with fear.

Tan Wen and the others arrived one step ahead of her. When they saw her, they waved at her.

Ever since song Qing came and showed his strength, the members of the reserve team rarely looked down on tan Wen and the others.

The smile on the little girl's face was brighter than before, and even the timid Yu Yin wasn't as timid as before.

When song qingxiao and Liu Xiao were sparring in the training field, the silver Wolf had accidentally barged in and revealed some of its strength. Captain Ren had ordered the canteen to prepare the silver Wolf's meal.

Firstly it was because the reserve team's martial arts culture was prevalent, and they worshipped the strong. Secondly, this Wolf was too dangerous, and he was afraid that it would starve to death.

After song qingxiao got her food, she took the food prepared by the chefs of the reserve team for the silver Wolf and walked in the direction of tanwen.

Today, she used it to test her knife. When she put its food down, Song Qing took out a dagger and cut her palm while no one was paying attention. She dripped a few drops of her blood on the slightly-cooked but still bloody beef. When she sat up straight, the silver Wolf seemed to have smelled the smell. It moved its fluffy tail and patted her calf a few times.

This proud Wolf King had refused to get close to her since the afternoon. Now that it was beating her with its tail, it should be expressing its good will to her, showing that it had let bygones be bygones..

Chapter 522: Leave of absence (1)

Song Qingxiao couldn't help but smile. Then, she heard Tan Wen, who was originally chattering, ask curiously,"

"Qing Xiao, what are you laughing at?"

"What are you guys talking about?" she asked.

Tan Wen's attention was quickly diverted by her. He said with some excitement," it's almost time for my salary. I've discussed with Yu Yin that we want to take a few days off to go out and shop for clothes, shoes, and skincare products.

When it came to buying things, Tan Wen's face seemed to be glowing.

For a girl like her, the reserve team wasn't her ideal place to live. She was only temporarily trapped here for the sake of her future.

"We haven't been out for more than three months, and we don't have much stock left. How about you, Qing Xiao? do you want to come with us?"

There were both men and women in the reserve team, but most of the people who entered this place were devoted to martial arts, except for those who came in through family connections. Very few people took leave to go out.

Tanwen asked casually. After asking, she realized that although Song Qingxiao had entered the company through her relationship with her elders, just like her and Yu Yin, her situation was completely different.

Song Qingxiao's strength was extraordinary. After her match with Liu Xiao, she had attracted the attention of Captain Cao of the reserve team. It was only a matter of time before she entered the reserve team. A talent like her would not be focused on eating, drinking, and having fun.

Moreover, she hadn't been in the reserve team for long, so the possibility of her going out was low.

After she said that, she was already prepared for Song Qingxiao to reject her invitation. However, Song Qingxiao, who was about to eat, stopped and asked, "Can I go out?"

"You can!" Seeing that she seemed to have the intention to go out, Tan Wen's spirit was lifted.

"Although most of the time, we stay in the team, if you want to go out, you just need to ask for leave from the vice-captain in advance and get him to stamp it."

Song Qingxin's heart skipped a beat. She had been planning to go out for a while.

It had been 20 days since the last trial to escape from the terror camp. The entry time for God's trial was irregular and not fixed, but according to the previous situation, there would be a certain amount of time to rest and recuperate after completing a mission.

This period of time was not fixed. It would take from one to two to three months. If she took advantage of this time to go out and find out the real cause of nurse Lin's death, she would be able to adjust her state of mind after returning to deal with the next round of the trial.

"The vice-captain is usually very easy to talk to. He'll approve the leave once he's given it. Let's go together. It just so happens that Xiachuan can't go with us."

Song qingxiao shook her head and rejected tan Wen's invitation,"

"I have something to do, so I might not be able to go with you this time."

What she was going to do might be dangerous. If nurse Lin's death was really related to her assassin, she would only bring trouble to tanwen and the others if she stayed with them.

"Alright, then." Although tan Wen was a little disappointed, he didn't force her.

The next day, song Qing went to the vice-captain's office. She had a little conflict with the vice-captain Zhang Yi because of du xingyun. She thought that her leave this time would not go smoothly.

Even after she requested to take leave, Zhang Yi nodded and signed her leave application without any intention of making things difficult for her.

Instead, after noon, someone came to knock on her door and said that Captain Ren wanted to invite her over.

Song qingxiao stood in front of the captain's office. The door wasn't closed, and there were traces of fighting on the walls. It was quite spacious inside, but the decoration was unusually simple. There was only a table and a chair.

The sun shone in through the large window and the open door. Several stacks of documents were piled high on the table, blocking the figure behind them.

His spiritual sense caught the 'Sha Sha' sound of the pen tip moving on the paper, which was intertwined with the sound of someone fighting in the distant training field.

After entering the spirit focus realm, her body had been further improved by the flood dragon's blood, and her steps were light and agile.

She didn't try to hide her presence, but Captain Ren didn't notice her even though she had been in the office for a while.

Song qingxiao coughed and knocked on the office door.

"Please come in."

Captain Ren was woken up by her coughing and invited her in.

Behind the tall document, he raised his swollen face. The corners of his eyes, cheekbones, and chin still had bruises that had not completely disappeared..

Chapter 523: Leave of absence (2)

He stood up, and his legs moved the chair, making a creaking sound.

"You came at the right time. I can finally breathe a sigh of relief." He looked as if he had escaped from death, his hand still holding a fountain pen.

I've been delayed by these official business these days, ah, really!" When he said this, he was a little angry.

"Cao Zeng, that cunning old man, is really full of evil tricks. You specifically picked this place to fight and damage things."

He seemed to have found someone to complain to. isn't it just a few broken tables? The higher-ups just had to make a mountain out of a molehill to torture me and send me all sorts of messy documents for me to sign." Song qingxiao listened to his complaints, as if he had accumulated a stomach full of resentment.

She wasn't interested in the gossip of the reserve team at first, but there was a curious tanwen, so she had some understanding of this.

It was said that the reserve team leader's office had a history of several decades and had been in use since the establishment of the reserve team.

After finding out that the furniture was destroyed due to the irrational actions of the two 'captains', the captains who had worked in the reserve team for several generations were very angry. They believed that what they had destroyed was not only public property, but also their memories!

Most of these old captains had been promoted and held high positions. After getting angry, they sent a lot of official documents for Captain Ren to deal with. Since he had 'extra' energy to vent when he was teaching his team members, he used the rest of his mind on dealing with Civil Affairs.

Captain Ren couldn't afford to offend any of these people. Every day, new official duties were sent to him one after another. It was said that he had been trapped here for two days, and his roars could be heard from far away, what about the detailed expenditure of the reserve team? write about your experience as the captain of the reserve team... The more Captain Ren read, the darker his face became, no less than 30000 words. The handwriting must be neat and neat. It must come from the bottom of your heart.

He flew into a rage and threw the documents in his hand on the floor, not caring that song qingxiao was still in the office. He shouted,

"What nonsense is this! It was clearly Cao Zeng who provoked us, so these things should have been sent to the reserve team!"

He was so angry that the captain's assistant in the office next door was startled by his roar. He just came over to take a look, but before he could say anything, Captain Ren grabbed a stack of documents and threw them in his direction.

"Get lost!"

. "The assistant looked calm and apologetic as he looked at song qingxiao. I'm sorry, Qing Xiao. The captain has these few days every month ...

"Shut up! What the hell are you talking about!" Captain Ren shouted even louder, but after that, he seemed to have finally vented most of the anger in his heart and calmed down a lot.

When he saw song qingxiao, he squeezed out a smile and looked down at the table. The veins on his forehead were throbbing, and he looked like he was about to get angry, but his assistant quickly brought in two cups of tea from outside and soothed his anger.

"I don't even have a teapot in my office. Is it appropriate?"

Captain Ren took the cup of tea and kept mumbling.

His assistant was a young man in his 20s called he ning. He wore glasses and looked quite gentle. He didn't seem to be afraid of Captain Ren's anger and dealt with him with ease.

Captain, you just need to sign these two days. You don't have to worry about anything else. If there are guests, I will send tea over. I won't let you be impolite.

"Bastard!" The moment he ning's voice fell, Captain Ren choked on a mouthful of tea and almost choked to death.

"I'm not a signing machine!"

After the fight between the two team leaders, some of the furniture in his office had been moved away, leaving only a set of desk and chair for his office.

He ning gave song qingxiao an apologetic smile, then turned to Captain Ren and pushed up her glasses.

"Captain, these are all your duties."

“It was because I was caught up in these civilian work and neglected my martial arts practice that I was successfully sneak-attacked by that old man Cao Zeng!” He was still brooding over the fight at that time. He ning was just about to speak when he impatiently waved his hand, stopping he ning’s words.

“Hmph! You’re getting more and more long-winded!”

He ning smiled and didn’t argue with him. He lowered his head to pick up the documents that Captain Ren had thrown away.

Song qingxiao had watched a farce the moment she arrived. At this moment, Captain Ren finally calmed down a little. Her gaze fell on he ning.

“Captain, is there anything I can help you with?” The man looked weak, but he was calm and quiet. He was not afraid of Captain Ren’s anger. From the time he left to the time he came in with the tea, it could be seen that his movements were very agile.

“Ah, yes,” Captain Ren patted his forehead as if he had finally remembered that he had called song Qing over not to complain, but to discuss official business.

“I saw that you asked Zhang Yi for two days off, right?”

As he said this, he put the teacup on the table and flipped through the documents on the table. After a long time, he found a leave note with song qingxiao’s name on it.

“Yes, I am.” Song qingxiao nodded.

He ning tidied up the documents on the ground and helped him clean up the table that had been turned over.

by right, it’s not convenient for me to ask you where you’re going, but you haven’t been in the reserve team for long. Why did you choose to take a leave of absence now?”

Captain Ren stared at Song Qingxiao as if he was trying to get an answer from her eyes.

Song Qingxiao was very clear about his thoughts. After she joined the reserve team, whether it was her skills or the silver Wolf she brought, she gave Captain Ren a headache. He was a little suspicious of her identity and was afraid that she would cause trouble for the reserve team.

I want to meet an old friend, one of my 'father's' old friends. He's the head of the security Department in the eastern part of the imperial capital.

She told Captain Ren about the 'identity' that Captain Ren had made for her that day. Captain Ren frowned, not knowing if he believed her or not.

However, he had gotten the information he wanted from Song Qing's gossip, so he didn't make things difficult for her. He happily allowed her to take a leave and even generously allowed her to take two more days off.

The moment Song Qing left, Captain Ren's smile disappeared and he immediately ordered her to,

"Find out who the chairman of the Imperial City's eastern city guard Department is and call his contact number."

After applying for leave, Song Qingxiao decided to leave the next morning in the car purchased by the team.

She didn't have much to pack, so she had to bring the silver Wolf with her. After all, Song Qing was worried about leaving it alone here.

She gave Captain Ren a call in advance and left the reserve team before dawn the next day..

Chapter 524: Clue (1)

Since she was traveling with the silver Wolf, it was not convenient to travel during the day. Song qingxiao decided to return to the house she had bought before.

She had only been away for about twenty days, but perhaps because she had entered a trial halfway through, she felt as if she had gone on a long journey.

The flowers and plants in the courtyard were very lush, and it was obvious that someone had been taking care of them.

After the spirits in the house were gone, the shadow that had been shrouding the house disappeared.

After she opened the door, the silver Wolf entered the house with familiarity. The house was very clean and the furniture was spotless. Before she went to report to the reserve team, she had asked Zhou ye to help take care of it. It was obvious that he had done it very carefully.

Song qingxiao gave Zhou ye a call. As soon as she dialed the number, he quickly picked up,

“Miss song, you’re home so soon?”

“Yes, I’m here to thank you for taking care of my house.” She told him the reason for her call and Zhou ye laughed, you’re welcome. Young master Luo told me that you’re a very important friend of his. This is what I should do.

When he mentioned Luo Wu, song qingxiao was reminded of this person. Her eyes flickered and she asked,”

“How’s Luo zhiyu doing recently?”

I heard that young master Luo has been seriously ill recently. He came to the capital some time ago and is now receiving treatment at the Imperial hospital.

Zhou ye and Luo zhiyu didn't have a deep friendship, but because of song Qing's youth, they had more interactions.

When he heard song qingxiao ask about Luo zhiyu, Zhou ye wished he could tell her everything he knew, he asked about you some time ago and asked me if I knew where you went. Unfortunately, he couldn't contact you. He hoped that song qingxiao and Luo zhiyu's relationship would be closer, which would be more beneficial to him, so he continued,"

"If young master Luo knows that you've returned to the capital, he'll be very happy and will pay you a visit."

This was rather interesting.

From Zhou ye's words, she could hear three clues.

One was that Luo zhiyu was lucky enough to survive after being cut by the silver Wolf's teeth. He was really capable.

Secondly, even if Luo zhiyu was not dead, his condition should not be too good, and he was currently being treated in the Imperial hospital.

Third, he probably didn't spread the clues that he had guessed that day, so he might have his own concerns.

He probably wanted to use Zhou ye's mouth to disclose this information to him and wanted to meet him.

“We’ll talk about it later.” Song qingxiao said lightly,” this time, my return to the capital is only temporary. I’ll be leaving soon. By then, I’ll have to ask you to help me take care of my house.

The deal between her and Luo Wu had ended, so she was not interested in why Luo Wu wanted to see her.

After hanging up the phone, song qingxiao turned off her phone and cultivated for a day. She only opened her eyes when night fell.

Under the night sky, she released her divine sense and brought the silver Wolf through the streets and alleys to avoid the heavenly eye’s scanning.

A man and a Wolf were unbelievably fast. Under the cover of the night, they sometimes rushed through the streets and alleys without being noticed by the crowd on the road.

In the guard Station in the south of the city, other than a few people on night shift, it was rather deserted.

A light breeze blew past, and the infrared sensor at the door made a prompt. The bored staff raised their heads in confusion, but they did not see anyone passing by.

The hall was empty, and no one had come in.

The confused staff member scratched his head with a puzzled look.

Song qingxiao had worked in the guard Station for a while, so she was familiar with the layout of the guard Station. She went to the speaker’s office and knocked on the door.

Captain an was a serious, upright person and had a very responsible character.

At this time, everyone else had gotten off work, but he might not.

In addition, song qingxiao had told him that she wanted to see him in advance, so he might stay here and wait for her.

As expected, as soon as she knocked on the door, Captain an's voice came from inside.

"Come in."

She twisted the doorknob and opened the door. Then, she entered the office.

Captain an looked up and heaved a sigh of relief when he saw song qingxiao. Then, he saw a huge silver-white figure beside her.

The silver Wolf followed her quietly. Its huge appearance gave people a strong deterrent force, making it difficult to ignore.

Its eyes glanced at Captain an. Under the light, its eyes seemed to be glowing..

Chapter 525: Clue (2)

I

Captain an felt a strong sense of fear when it looked at him. He subconsciously threw away the thing in his hand and stood up instinctively.

However, the next moment, it seemed to be uninterested in Captain an. After confirming that he was not a threat, it turned its huge head away, crossed its fluffy tail behind it, bent its hind legs, and sat on the ground.

"This ..." The terrifying feeling did not disappear just because it turned its head away. As it sat there, even though it was clearly not aggressive, the powerful aura it emitted was still something that Captain an could not ignore. He remembered that half a month ago, he had asked Zhao he to send song qingxiao to the reserve team. Zhao he had mentioned that song qingxiao had a dog with her.

At that time, Captain an didn't think much of it, but now that he saw this 'dog', he finally understood why Showa had specifically mentioned this.

This gaze, this pressure, it was not a dog at all, but a Wolf, and it was not to be provoked!

Although the wolf didn't look at him after it lay down, Captain an felt that it was still observing him in the dark. If he moved, the wolf would probably pounce on him and bite his throat.

He looked deeply at song qingxiao and felt that he could not see through this former colleague of his.

"Don't worry." As soon as Captain an spoke, song Qing peed and said,"

"With me here, it won't hurt anyone."

Captain an laughed bitterly. Now that the wolf had come, he had no choice.

"You Wolf..." He originally wanted to ask song qingxiao where she got this Wolf from, but when the words reached his mouth, he sighed.

"Forget it," he said.

Song qingxiao had a lot of secrets, not just about this Wolf.

She might not tell him even if he asked. Besides, she had saved Captain an's life before. As long as it did not involve endangering the Empire, he was too lazy to ask about it.

"You shouldn't have come to me at this time."

He rubbed his temples. They had not seen each other for nearly a month, and he looked tired. The dark green under his eyes made him look very weak. His eyes were bloodshot, as if he had not slept for a few days.

"It's good that she's not here. Nurse Lin's body has been in the guard Station for a long time, and her family members are already very dissatisfied. The higher-ups have given orders that she can only stay for two more days. Since you're here, I'll take you there to see if you can find any clues." As he said this, he seemed to have recalled something.

By the way, the captain of the reserve team you belong to called me. He wanted to confirm your identity.

To be able to make the captain of the reserve team suspicious, she must have done something in the reserve team, and it was very likely that she had displayed extraordinary strength.

"He called the others, but I did."

Song Qingxiao wasn't surprised by Captain Ren's call. She had told Captain Ren about this when she was on leave yesterday, knowing that Captain An would help her.

She thanked him, and the two of them chatted for a while before they returned to nurse Lin's case.

The purpose of Song Qingxiao's trip this time was to see nurse Lin's body. Captain An had already made arrangements in advance. Just as he was about to take her there, the silver Wolf, which had been lying on the ground leisurely, suddenly raised its head. Its creepy gaze fell on Captain An again. Captain An's body tensed up and he subconsciously stopped.

Song Qingxiao moved sideways and stood in front of the silver Wolf, blocking its big head. The pressure was reduced a lot under her interference.

Captain An walked towards the door as if nothing had happened, but from his breathing, footsteps, and his instinctively clenched fists, it could be seen that he had not relaxed. His muscles were tense and he was in a very vigilant state. Fortunately, Song Qingxiao was there, so the wolf didn't move. The two of them walked toward the underground parking lot. Captain An's expression was heavy.

I was supposed to be in charge of this case after I applied, but about ten days ago, the higher-ups gave an order and handed it over to the southern suburbs 'chief Guard Station for investigation.

Imperial capital hospital, where nurse Lin worked, was located in the southern part of Jindo city. The higher-ups used this as an excuse to transfer the case to the headquarters in the southern suburbs.

However, the southern side was connected to the western suburbs, and the Imperial hospital side was only one street away from the chaotic western suburbs. Every year, some people from the western suburbs would 'cross the border', leading to more cases in the southern side.

Nurse Lin's case had very few clues, and once it was crossed out, it was very likely that it would be put on hold and eventually left unsettled since the security Hall did not have enough manpower.

But it's precisely because of this that I suspect the cause of her death."

As song qingxiao listened to Captain an's analysis, she released her divine sense and cleverly avoided the rotating sky eye camera.

nurse Lm's life is simple, her family background is clean, her work environment is simple, and she never makes enemies with anyone. The possibility of her killing someone out of revenge can be ruled out.

With her death, someone intervened in the case, which was enough to prove that her death was not a random assassination by the murderer, but that the murderer had done some understanding of her situation before the murder.

Knowing her identity, paying attention to her case, and being able to interfere with the process of the investigation, the person who did it was definitely not ordinary. He must have a rather powerful status.

The two of them got into the car. Captain an touched his chest and took out an envelope from the inner pocket of his clothes. He handed it to song qingxiao, who was sitting in the front seat.

The envelope was not sealed, and there was a thick stack of photos inside. They were all photos of nurse Lin's body.

These photos should have been taken at different times. Some were photos of the scene of the discovery of the body, and some were photos of the dissection. Song qingxiao casually flipped through the pages and looked at them carefully. When she reached the fourth page, her eyes narrowed.

Captain an felt that something was wrong. He turned to look at her instinctively and saw the top photo in her hand.

It was a photo of nurse Lin's body being found at the crime scene. She was sitting in a corner with her hands on the ground and her head hanging down. Her scattered hair covered most of her pale face, only revealing her sharp chin. There was a cut on the side of her chin, and it looked like the corner of her mouth was drooped down unhappily.

From the shape of the wound, it could be seen that the person who did it had stabbed it from the bottom up and cut the artery. The blood that should have splashed out was blocked by her skin and flesh, so it could only flow out in a stream, flowing down her neck and dyeing her clothes red.

When her body was found, it was early in the morning. Under the cold lights on both sides of the street, the photos captured this chilling scene..

Chapter 526: Relationship (1)

Captain an had seen this photo countless times. He could remember every detail in the photo with his eyes closed, but when he saw nurse Lin's photo again, he still pursed his lips tightly.

He remained silent in the driver's seat for a long time, then he let out a long sigh.

Song qingxiao's eyes stayed on the photo for a few seconds, but she remembered the scene when she was killed.

If she hadn't accidentally entered God's trial before she died that night, she might have died the same way as nurse Lin.

He was leaning against the corner of the wall with his head hanging down, revealing the wound on his neck, waiting to be discovered the next day.

As she thought of this, she felt a dull pain on the side of her neck, as if she was recalling the feeling of the chill that enveloped her whole body when the knife was stabbed in her throat that day.

A chill spread from her body. The air-conditioner was not turned on in the car, but it made Captain an shiver. When he turned to look at her, he saw that her expression was normal. She flipped the photo open and revealed the photo below.

we didn't get any useful information from the location where she was found. There were very few clues in this case. The murderer was like a ghost, and there was almost no evidence left in the process of the crime.

If it wasn't for the higher-ups transferring the case away and not trying to cover up the traces, Captain an would have had no clue about the case.

However, even though he had some clues, it was still very difficult to find the real murderer with very few clues.

Now that song qingxiao was actively involved in this case and showed her interest, Captain an instinctively felt that he could get some information from her, so he tried his best to explain the case.

we've collected a lot of footprints left at the scene. We've even borrowed some people from the University of Science and Technology from the Shi family to collect the smell of the scene with equipment.

After the rapid development of technology, collecting the smell of crime scenes for elemental analysis had become one of the common means of investigation.

but it's useless.

Captain an shook his head and suppressed the despair in his heart.

"I didn't find anything strange. I even saved the video from that day after the case was transferred away, and I got someone to verify if there were any traces of editing."

However, the video had not been touched. It was as if the murderer could fly. she... he opened his mouth with difficulty. His voice was a little dry. He only managed to say one word before he fell silent again.

After adjusting his mood, Captain an continued, the wound on her neck is about 3.8 cm wide and about... When he talked about the case, he regained his calmness.

after the knife entered, it slid down. Both the forensic doctor and I don't think it was an accident. Because with a twist of the blade, the severed artery and windpipe were crushed, completely cutting off the person's life.

Hearing this, song qingxiao was almost certain that the murderer had killed nurse Lin in the same way that he had killed her.

the inside of the wound is damaged, so it's hard to analyze the specific condition of the weapon. But the tissue around the wound is smooth, so the weapon must be extremely sharp. From the width of the wound, I guess it's something like a dagger.

Captain an analyzed calmly. I've been to the Empire's library for the past month and have looked through all the brands and types of daggers in the Empire for the past 30 years. I've also found some suspicious ones. I'll pass them to you after I've checked on nurse Lin.

Song Qingxin's heart skipped a beat and she nodded. Investigating a case wasn't a fast process, especially a case like this, where there were very few clues. It required a lot of energy from the relevant investigators, which was like finding a needle in the ocean.

Captain an had put in a lot of effort to be able to do this under such circumstances.

She estimated the width of her Black Dagger in her heart, size was similar to nurse Lin's, which undoubtedly confirmed her original guess.

If he could find the dagger's origin from Captain an, it would be much easier to find the murderer.

However, for some reason, song Qing felt that things would not go so smoothly.

The conversation between the two came to an end. Captain an calmed down for a while and prepared to start the car.

His eyes fell on the rear view mirror, where a pair of green Wolf Eyes were reflected. As soon as his eyes met them, he shivered, his scalp went numb, and his hair stood on end. Even the sadness, anger, and other intertwined emotions that he had accumulated earlier were washed away completely!

"That Wolf..."

He finally understood why Showa's tone had been like that when he had sent song qingxiao to the backup team. He had been so immersed in the case that he hadn't noticed it, but now that he had come back to his senses, he couldn't ignore the fact that there was a terrifying Silver Wolf in the back seat of the car.

"Don't worry, I'm here. It won't hurt you."

Song qingxiao knew that it would be difficult to make Captain an feel at ease with just a few words, so she changed the topic and brought up something, by the way, do you remember what happened after that incident when I went to the imperial capital hospital to see you?

Captain an couldn't completely shift his attention away from the silver Wolf. Although the wolf didn't show any ferocity in its eyes, it still gave Captain an an extremely dangerous feeling.

"What is it?" He asked casually as he kept his eyes on the rearview mirror, at the imperial hospital, when the people from the Shi family were admitted to the hospital, I felt a murderous aura! Song Qing explained the situation that day and added,

"I suspect that nurse Lin's death might be related to this."

When Captain an heard this, he was stunned for a moment. As expected, he didn't have the time to think about the silver Wolf's evil eyes. He immediately tried his best to recall the scene that day.

That day, he went out for a short walk with song Qing. When he came back, he happened to see an important person being admitted to the hospital. Therefore, the Imperial hospital was on high alert. However, nurse Lin was quite dissatisfied with him going out and kept talking about it.

At that time, he had a headache and did not feel any killing intent at all. However, song qingxiao wouldn't talk nonsense about such things. Captain an didn't know how powerful she was.

However, she had been able to escape from the hands of that terrifying person on the autumn road and had even saved him in passing. She must have had her own abilities.

If this was true, could it be that nurse Lin's death was related to the royal family?

"After I visited nurse Lin tonight, if you don't have to do anything about this case, then please do so." Song qingxiao lowered her head and flipped through the photos.

it might be too deep. It's better to leave as soon as possible.

She saw that Captain an had helped her before and was an upright person, so she rarely meddled in other people's business. She reminded him, "Their existences might have the same background as the two people who died on the autumn Festival road."

Captain an trembled when he heard this.

He had once served as the Shi family's private guard, and on that day, in front of Qian Shan, he had tried to use the Shi family's name to force Qian Shan to retreat several times. This proved that he was not completely ignorant of the underworld clans.

Song qingxiao had killed two people from hidden clans in the autumn Festival road. They had caused a huge commotion and alarmed all the forces. In the end, although the matter was forcibly suppressed, it did not end there. It should have been handed over to higher-ups to investigate.

If nurse Lin's death was really related to the royal family and the underworld, it was not hard to understand why the higher-ups wanted to suppress this matter and take the case from Captain an's hands to the south side..

Chapter 527: split up (1)

The car suddenly fell into a dead silence. Young general song Qing's gaze shifted from the photo to Captain an's face. He gritted his teeth so hard that his cheeks showed signs of muscle.

He was very determined to find out the truth, and what she said now might be a big blow to him.

"You won't be able to find the answer."

Even if they found the real murderer, it was possible that it was just a bobber floating on the surface of the water, and there might be deeper things involved.

"Maybe transferring the case away was just a hint for you."

She said this calmly, but Captain an's grip on the steering wheel was so tight that the veins on the back of his hands were bulging, showing that he was not calm.

"It's good for you to leave as soon as possible." Captain an shook his head after general song Qing finished his words.

"You're too late." He laughed. I'm already being watched. That's why I said you shouldn't be here at this time in the office.

Song qingxiao's words were clear to him. but there are some things that need to be done.

"I can't ignore it just because I'm afraid. If the victim can't make a complaint, I'll have to do it for her." He seemed to be very calm about the things that might happen to him in the future. I just feel a little sorry for you. I might have implicated you, and that's not what I wanted.

He paused for a moment, then continued,"

"If you don't want to get involved in this case, you can get out of the car now. I'll find a way to get you out of this."

In song qingxiao's eyes, Captain an's strength was very low, and his stubborn actions seemed to be courting death.

However, song qingxiao heard his words.

If she had been killed in the back alley of the western suburbs and died there instead of activating the trial space at the critical moment, perhaps she would have hoped to meet someone like Captain an to seek justice for herself and find out who the real murderer behind the scenes was, without fear of the other party's identity and background.

This incident was related to her. Until she found out who was behind it and the murderer's intentions, song qingxiao could not completely let her guard down.

She didn't say anything about getting out of the car, and Captain an didn't say anything else. The car drove to the south of the city and stopped in the garage of a building.

Captain an was like an old horse that knew the way. He led song qingxiao around the garage.

He must have been here many times, as he was familiar with the surveillance and the terrain. He led song Qing to a place that was perfectly hidden from the surveillance cameras, and they soon arrived at the underground morgue.

The moment the elevator door opened, the guards at the door stood up vigilantly. Then, a red dot swept in the direction of the two. Someone asked warily,"

"Who is it?"

"It's me," he said. Captain an spoke. The man heard his voice and heaved a sigh of relief. The red dot flashed twice and disappeared.

"I brought a friend to see nurse Lin's body." As he spoke, song qingxiao slowly walked out from the shadows and looked at the man in the guardhouse.

The person guarding the guard post was about 4.0 years old. He was strong and tall, but when he stood up, his lower leg was exposed. Below his left knee was a prosthetic. Even if it was done flawlessly, the moment of uneasiness was still underestimated by song Qing.

He should be old acquaintances with Captain an. When he heard what he said, his face showed a bit of pity.

"You're really stubborn!" He shook his head and sighed,"

"How many times have you been here? if you could find out, do you think you could have dragged it out until now?"

Captain an didn't refute and just smiled.

"I'm just bringing my friend here to take a look."

The tall man's expression was a little ugly. He took out an electronic device that was flashing red and threw it in his direction.

"The higher-ups have already sent people here, yet you still don't give up. Her family has already signed an agreement with the government. You're the only one meddling."

For a murder case like nurse Lin's, which was unfortunate and could not be solved by the guard Department, the family could choose to seek compensation from the government and close the case.

At present, nurse Lin's family wanted to retrieve their daughter's body. They probably did not have any hope in this case and chose to receive a high compensation from the government, not wanting to delay it any longer.

Captain an caught the key, thanked her, and led song qingxiao to the morgue where nurse Lin was.

The man's eyes fell on song qingxiao, and then he saw the huge Silver Wolf beside her. Fear flashed in his eyes, but he did not say a word. He sighed and sat back down..

Chapter 528: splitting up (2)

The entire basement five of the building was used to store dead bodies. All the dead bodies in the southern suburbs were here. They were placed according to the time, place, and method of death. The yin energy was very strong.

Even though it was Midsummer, there was no air conditioning here, but there was still a frightening cold air lingering around.

Song qingxiao's divine sense could sense the resentment that enveloped the place. Even the fur on the back of the silver Wolf's neck stood up. It clearly did not like the environment here.

Perhaps it was because the first few floors were filled with dead bodies, it was very quiet. Even when the silver Wolf walked on the ground, the light 'ka ka' sound when its claws touched the smooth floor was unusually clear.

Nurse Lin had been dead for almost a month, so she had left the body at the entrance on the third underground floor. The lower two floors and the morgue behind them were filled with bodies that were even earlier and had yet to be claimed.

Captain an held the electronic key and scanned it in front of nurse Lin's morgue. The red electronic eye on top flashed and made a beeping sound after matching. The heavy door lock opened with a click. The sound of the hinges was ear-piercing in the eerie silence of the underground morgue.

"Ahem." Captain an coughed lightly and pushed the heavy door open. A large amount of cold white mist gushed out from inside. He explained softly,"

"He was my former comrade." He briefly explained the identity of the person who had been guarding the morgue. After the two of them and the wolf entered the morgue, the door slowly closed.

There were cabinets filled with dead bodies around them. What made Captain an feel strange was song qingxiao's calm composure. She did not seem to be afraid of such an environment, as if she had been used to seeing dead bodies.

However, when he thought of song qingxiao's strength, he felt that it was normal for her to be so calm.

He had been here more than once, and he was very familiar with where nurse Lin had parked. After calming himself down, he walked to a cabinet and pulled it open, revealing a pair of legs inside.

The number that represented the identity was hung on the legs. Because they had been left in the refrigerator for too long, the water on the legs had been lost, and they looked like dried reeds.

The nurse, who was still pretty and cute when song qingxiao saw her that day, was now a cold corpse. She had long lost her liveliness and color.

Song qingxiao had already seen a lot of photos in the car before she came. Other than the fatal wound on nurse Lin's neck, there were no other signs of collision or oppression.

As soon as Captain an opened the cabinet, she pinched nurse Lin's chin and pushed it to the side, making a very dry and strange sound. It echoed in the sealed environment and made song qingxiao think of the 'xisuo' sound she heard on the phone with Chu ke during the trial.

The corpse had been there for a long time and was very hard, but when she pushed it, it was pushed to the side, revealing the fatal wound on her neck.

As nurse Lin had been dead for nearly a month, her wound was different from the one in the photo. However, it was more or less in line with what Captain an had said.

Song Qing's little finger moved to her neck. She wanted to take the opportunity to see if her wound was the same size as her dagger, but as soon as her finger touched it, she couldn't help but let out a 'huh'.

Nurse Lin could feel a faint fluctuation of spirit energy from her wound!

"Did you find anything?"

Captain an's eyes twitched when he heard her exclaim. He quickly asked," what's wrong?"

"There is." She nodded, the person who killed her must be at least an expert who has cultivated spiritual power. Moreover, his cultivation level would not be very low. He would at least be in the path of enlightenment. That was why there would be residual spiritual energy leaking out after killing someone.

But it was a pity that it had been a long time, and the remaining spiritual power was very weak, so he could not tell what it was.

However, she secretly compared the size of nurse Lin's wound, and it was indeed close to the width of the blade of her Black Dagger, which deepened her suspicion.

"I want to see the information you have on the daggers."

Song qingxiao suppressed the chaotic thoughts in her heart and said.

Seeing her like this, Captain an was not in a hurry to question her. He only nodded. After she was done, he looked at nurse Lin lying in the freezer for a long time before slowly pushing her back in.

Two people and one wolf left the morgue. Captain an returned the key and had a short conversation with the serious-looking man. Then, he walked toward the underground parking lot with song qingxiao.

Before entering the garage, song Qingxin suddenly remembered what Captain an had said before.

He mentioned that ever since he took over nurse Lin's murder case, he had been targeted.

Then today, when he came to find him, did anyone pay attention to them on their way here?

She glanced at the silver Wolf, then rolled her eyes and motioned for Captain an to go first.

Although she didn't know what she was up to, Captain an still walked in the direction of his car. Song qingxiao waited for him to leave before patting the silver wolf's head and pointing in Captain an's direction.

"Let's split up,"

This Wolf was too eye-catching and could easily become a symbol.

Although she did not find any signs of being followed, she was extremely cautious. In order to prevent anything from happening, she still let the silver Wolf go first.

Song qingxiao was not worried that something would happen to it if it acted alone. Before it evolved again after devouring the Cerberus, this Wolf had often appeared and disappeared like a ghost.

The silver Wolf's ears moved, as if it understood what she meant. It turned and ran in the other direction, its figure rising and falling, turning into a dazzling white afterimage, and quickly disappeared into the night..

Chapter 529: Suspicion (1)

When song qingxiao returned to Captain an's car, Captain an saw that she was alone. He looked around and asked,"

"Where's your Wolf?"

"He ran away."

Her words shocked Captain an. He instinctively wanted to open the car door and raised his voice.

"He ran away?"

His voice echoed in the quiet underground parking lot. After he realized that he had lost his composure, he lowered his voice again.

"Which direction did he go? Are you confident in subduing it after you find it?"

Song Qing looked down on his anxious face and seemed to understand what he meant.

Captain an might have mistakenly thought that the silver Wolf was not under her control and had lost its way in an unfamiliar environment.

don't worry, I let it go first... She was about to explain, but the moment she opened her mouth, Captain an interrupted her with a serious face," it's a Wolf after all. If it breaks free from the control, what if it hurts people? "

The wolf was dangerous, and the way it looked at him made him, who had served in the Army, feel afraid. If an ordinary person encountered it, he was afraid that it would cause a big problem.

However, the silver Wolf was tall and strong, and it had long run away. The capital was so big that he didn't know where to look for it.

He was about to contact the other people in the Imperial City guard Department to keep a close eye on the situation. Once they found out, they would rush over as soon as possible. Just as he took out his phone, before he could make the call, song Qing said,"

"I'll have it wait for me in your previous office." She glanced at Captain an, who had paused for a moment, and continued," it's useless to contact the others. It'll only increase the casualties.

The silver Wolf's claws and fangs were poisonous. Even Luo Wu, an ability user whose body had been strengthened by the trial space, had not recovered from the injuries caused by the silver Wolf. If ordinary people encountered them, it would be even more troublesome.

go back to your office first. If the silver Wolf isn't here yet, I'll go and find it. Although Captain an was still a little worried, she did make sense.

That Wolf was not to be trifled with. If an ordinary guard were to encounter it, he was afraid that there would really be a problem.

He gritted his teeth and stepped on the accelerator.

“I hope you’re telling the truth. Otherwise, if something goes wrong, I won’t side with you!”

As he was in a hurry to get back to the office, Captain an drove all the way. It took him 40 minutes to get there, but he arrived in about 20 minutes on the way back.

When the two of them rushed back, the door of the office was locked, and the door was empty. There was no sign of the silver Wolf.

When Captain an, who was panting, saw this, he immediately became anxious. He took out his phone subconsciously, and song qingxiao held his hand that was about to make a call.

“Open the door.”

Captain an was so anxious that he tried to shake her hand off. Her fingers were long and slender, and her palm did not look like the broad and strong type, but for some reason, no matter how hard he tried, he could not move her.

Helplessly, he took out his ID card and scanned it on the door. The electronic lock on the door made a ‘beep’. Song qingxiao held the doorknob and twisted it, and the door opened.

In the office, a huge Silver Wolf was lying on the ground and combing its fur. When Captain an and song qingxiao came in, the silver Wolf didn’t even raise its head.

“This ...” Captain an’s eyes almost popped out of their sockets when he saw this.

When he first heard song qingxiao tell the silver Wolf to leave first, he thought she was joking with him.

In his opinion, a beast would always be a beast. No matter how intelligent it was, it couldn’t be that smart.

However, he did not expect the silver Wolf to really listen to song qingxiao's instructions and reach his office first.

Captain an's heart returned to its original place, but then he was curious again.

"How did it do it?"

In fact, he also wanted to ask how song qingxiao had managed to tame such a fierce Wolf to this extent.

Song qingxiao was also very satisfied at this time. The silver Wolf's performance was much better than she had expected.

Because she was in a good mood, she rarely smiled. She lowered her head and scratched the wolf's head, not saying a word.

Captain an turned on the light and saw her smiling and stroking the silver Wolf. The coldness in her eyes melted because of her smile. The proud Wolf King squinted its eyes and raised its huge head under her palm. This scene looked strangely harmonious.

After the lights were turned on, Captain an saw the broken window in the office.

There was a large floor-to-ceiling window behind his office. He was in a hurry to take song qingxiao to see nurse Lin's body and wanted to find out some clues. However, he was afraid that he would have more trouble if he stayed too long, so he was in a hurry to leave. The window was not locked as usual..

Chapter 530: Suspicion _2

At this time, there were several scratch marks on the window, and the half-open window had a huge gap, big enough to allow the silver Wolf to pass through.

The door was not broken, but the window was broken. It was needless to say where the silver Wolf had come in from.

However, his office was located on the third floor, and the service Hall of the guard Hall was downstairs. His office was fifteen meters high from the street behind. If this Silver Wolf could jump in from that height, it would be too terrifying!

His gaze fell on the few claw marks left on the glass. The glass in Captain an's office was specially made. It had a hardness that could prevent bullets from hitting it and was extremely sticky. However, under the silver Wolf's claw, it had been scratched to such an extent and had such a big hole.

Such a powerful destructive force caused something to flash through Captain an's mind. His many years of working experience in the guard Hall made him instinctively feel that something was not right.

Following his gaze, song qingxiao also noticed the obvious scratch marks left on the glass. Her eyes flickered and she looked at the silver Wolf helplessly. She walked toward the glass, clenched her fist, and used her spiritual force to hit the glass.

With a soft 'bang', the glass shattered. Then, a gust of frost froze the broken glass shards, and the next second, they fell down with a 'clang'.

The glass shattered into pieces, and the claw marks left by the silver Wolf on it naturally disappeared.

Before Captain an could grasp the thought that flashed through his mind, he was interrupted by song qingxiao's actions.

"What are you doing?"

He asked in surprise and hurriedly walked over. The floor-to-ceiling window was smashed by her, and a huge gap was made. The night wind blew in, and the temperature seemed to have dropped a lot, making him shiver.

The glass was smashed into crystal shards the size of rice grains, and the claw marks on it disappeared. It was difficult to piece them back together.

Some of the debris fell to the ground, and some fell downstairs. There was a rustling sound, like rain.

Captain an was shocked by song Qing's strength. It was as if the security level of his office had plummeted ever since the man and the wolf appeared.

If he didn't reach out to break the remaining corner of the glass, he would have thought that the glass in his office was the most common and fragile kind.

"I can't leave any traces." After she finished speaking calmly, she retracted her hand. Her self-righteous look of destroying the evidence made Captain an so angry he laughed.

He was about to speak when the phone on the table suddenly rang.

"East City guard, who is this?"

Captain, the guards on night duty said that there's something strange in your office. Do you need us to come up and take a look? "

A young man's voice came from the phone. When he heard Captain an pick up the phone, he heaved a sigh of relief.

"No, I just broke something." After Captain an sent the person away and hung up the phone, his gaze fell on the glass window again and he frowned.

In fact, he remembered the case on autumn road in the western suburbs. At that time, two people with special identities were attacked by feral beasts on autumn road. One of them had half of his neck bitten off, and the other had been turned into a meat patty and sunk into the ground.

There were very few cases of such a vicious beast hurting people. When Captain an took over the case, he had no clue. Even when he saw song qingxiao appear with a Silver Wolf tonight, he didn't suspect her at all.

However, when he saw the silver Wolf break the special glass that even light energy could not cut, he connected the two incidents with his Guard's instinct.

However, song qingxiao's actions made him a little suspicious. She destroyed the evidence in front of him, and it looked like she did it very easily.

Logically speaking, if the incident at the autumn road was really done by her and her Wolf, then it shouldn't have been difficult for her to destroy the evidence after killing the person that day. She wouldn't have deliberately left behind such obvious evidence that the vicious beast had injured people.

In addition, although one of the two people was bitten to death by a fierce beast, the other person seemed to have been hit by a giant object. Although the wolf looked far stronger than ordinary wolves, if it wanted to hurt people, it should have used its claws and teeth to pounce and bite, instead of relying on its body size and the impact of the physical body to crush people into meat pies.

Song qingxiao was even more so. Looking at her thin and tall figure, it was hard for Captain an to connect her death with another person.

"Maybe I'm thinking too much!" A thought flashed through his mind. Recently, nurse Lin's case had caused him to be restless. He had been thinking about it day and night, which was why he had such suspicions..
