Chapter 551: Sneaking in _2

There seemed to be an aura guarding the ancient building from the front, back, left, and right. There might be important people living inside or some precious things placed inside.

However, at this point, song qingxiao couldn't care less. She had to force her way in.

The blue blood in her body had already devoured the sword Qi. The blue blood seeped into her veins and fused with her blood.

During the fusion process, it first brought a strange chill, which seemed to freeze her whole body, making her hands and feet tremble. After enduring it, it was extremely itchy, as if ten thousand ants were drilling into her heart, but she couldn't scratch the itch.

What made her most uneasy was that this feeling was spreading to her tail, and she couldn't control it at all.

She endured the torture and flipped her palm. Several peanut-sized ice cubes quickly appeared in her palm. She gathered her spirit energy and threw them into the distance!

When the ice block flew out, it made a slight sound, which attracted the attention of the guards in the ancient building.

At this time, the smaller the movement, the more suspicious it would be. The bigger the movement, the more suspicious it would be.

"Who's there?"

Sure enough, a man shouted and then ordered in a deep voice,"

“Those guarding the southeast, don’t move!”

The people on the left and in front of them were running towards the ice. At this time, song qingxiao’s opportunity came. She grabbed the silver Wolf’s neck and signaled it to jump upstairs.

The opportunity for the human and Wolf was limited. The ice she scattered was not big, and she was afraid that she would be hidden in the grass before the two people could find her.

If these two couldn’t find anything suspicious, they would definitely react quickly and retreat back to their original positions.

If she missed this opportunity, it might not be easy for her to hide in there again.

If it was really as she had guessed, that important people lived in the building, the people outside would not dare to break in at will. Once she recovered and adjusted the spiritual power in her body, she would have more confidence in breaking out.

The moment she patted the silver Wolf, it raised its huge head and looked up. With a kick of its hind legs, its strong body leaped into the air.

This ancient building was three stories high. The second floor and the four corners of the roof were high, forming shadows and making it an excellent hiding place.

Originally, this height was nothing to it, but the bad thing was that it had been in a series of fierce battles tonight. It was injured by the old man, and then it fought with su Wu.

He had been ‘beaten’ by song qingxiao in the eastern bamboo forest and was now injured. He had only managed to jump two to three meters, and before his front claws could land on the ground, his body began to fall.

In a moment of desperation, Song Qing forcefully gathered his spiritual energy, twisted his waist, and swung his tail to secure himself on the wooden railing of the second-floor balcony. At the same time, he held the silver Wolf tightly, and the man and Wolf hung in the air.

As expected, the two people who were ejected from below returned quickly after finding nothing. They even informed the people in the other directions,”

“I didn’t find anything.”

The one who spoke was a young man in a combat uniform. He did not notice that above his head, there was a girl hanging upside down holding a Silver Wolf, her shadow swaying slightly.

Song Qingxiao had previously complained that she was not used to her long legs and long tails, and that it was inconvenient for her to walk. However, she was now very glad that her body had changed.

Her tail wrapped firmly around the wooden railing, and as she exerted force, she slowly dragged her and the silver Wolf’s heavy bodies up.

At this time, she did not notice that as her long tail rubbed against the wooden fence, the surface of the tail, which was originally very strong, was cracked open, and a light blue skin membrane slowly emerged.

If it was any other time, Song Qingxiao would have noticed the change in her body immediately.

However, at this moment, she was fully focused on what was happening below, afraid that her small movements would be discovered.

Fortunately, this ancient building seemed to be old, but it was extremely strong. It withstood the weight of her and the silver Wolf and did not break.

She gathered her strength in her tail, grabbed the silver Wolf, and carried it to the balcony. After she stepped on the ground, she also climbed up.

Song qingxiao gasped for air and licked her dry lips.

Her original plan was to hide in the shadow on the roof, but at this time, the man and Wolf were not in good condition, and the guards had returned to their original positions. If she made a big move, it would definitely attract attention.

The balcony wasn't spacious, and it wasn't very high from the ground. If someone came, they would probably notice something was wrong as soon as they looked up. At this point, the only way was to get into the house.

She took a breath, supported herself with her hands, and slowly moved into the house.

Compared to the tense atmosphere outside, the inside of the house was quiet and leisurely. The faint aroma of incense in the air suppressed the clear smell of herbs.

There seemed to be a weak aura inside. It was breathing peacefully, as if it was sleeping.

The inner room was extremely spacious and dimly lit. There was a person lying on a bed in the middle. As if he had heard the sound of someone coming in, the person instinctively stood up.

But before he could speak, he saw a black shadow flash in front of him and a chill hit his face. Song qingxiao did not give him a chance to open his mouth at all. With a swing of his long tail, he swept him off the bed!

The silver Wolf leaped forward and stepped on the person who had fallen to the ground. When it opened its mouth to bite, song Qing saw the pale and thin face from the corner of her eye. She gritted her teeth and subconsciously called the silver Wolf,"

"Wait a moment."

The person who had been thrown to the ground was a young man. At this time, he was being suppressed by the silver Wolf. It was as if there was a mountain on his chest. His forehead and the tip of his nose quickly oozed with fine beads of sweat.

When song qingxiao was looking at him, he was also looking at her. When he saw her, he was obviously stunned. He instinctively wanted to stand up, but the next moment, he was pressed back to the ground by the silver Wolf's paw, making a muffled sound.

During this struggle, two sickly red patches appeared on his cheeks, adding a few more traces of color to his pale face.

The silver Wolf's sharp claws were on his shoulder, and it bared its sharp fangs at him. Perhaps in a panic, he subconsciously turned to look at song qingxiao. His eyes were full of color, and he was at a loss.

She had seen this delicate face before..

Chapter 552: upgrade (1)

At the Imperial hospital, when she went to visit Captain an, he happened to be hospitalized with a serious illness.

At that time, song Qing had underestimated his weak breathing and dilated pupils. It was obvious that he did not have long to live. He did not expect that he was still alive and that he would coincidentally meet him again tonight.

Captain an had once guessed that he might be the rumored heir of the Shi family and that he would not live past thirty.

Their eyes met, and the young man saw the long tail under her body. His pupils contracted, his mouth moved, and his eyes revealed a look of surprise.

Song qingxiao furrowed her brows. She noticed that her expression was not one of fear when she saw a 'foreign species' with a human body and a snake tail. Instead, she seemed to be surprised, which made her feel a little puzzled.

She slowly sat on the side of the bed and pulled the quilt down to cover her long tail, her eyes scanning the man.

Compared to the last time when he was on the verge of death, his current condition looked much better.

Perhaps it was because of his poor health, his figure was unusually thin, and the color of his hair and eyes was light. When he turned his head to look in her direction, the hair that drooped down was like the mountain forest reflected in a clear pool of water, bright and clear.

He had already seen the snake tail of song Qing's small lower body, but perhaps it was because the silver Wolf's huge foot was on his shoulder, he did not cry out in shock when he saw this scene.

The claws were half-extended, a few centimeters away from his neck. It seemed that if he struggled slightly, it would cut his throat.

Amidst the rapid thumping of his heart, the person outside seemed to have heard the commotion of him being swept out of the bed by song Qing. He asked vigilantly,"

"Your Highness, are you alright?"

The moment that voice rang out, the atmosphere in the inner room immediately became tense.

A murderous intent surged in song Qingxin's heart, and the long tail hanging on the floor slowly moved.

Tonight, she had hidden in the center of the Imperial City and was forced to come here. She had been worried that she would not be able to escape, but now that she had met this person, a thought came to her mind.

This person had a special identity, and his residence was heavily guarded by a large number of guards.

If she killed this person now, the heir of the Shi family would be in trouble and it would definitely cause turmoil in the imperial family. She could then take advantage of the chaos to escape.

However, doing so was risky, and it might cause endless trouble.

There were many cultivators like the sword Master in the royal family. At this time, her situation was unstable. Even if there was chaos, she only had a 50 – 50 chance of escaping safely.

Moreover, after the heir's death, the royal family would definitely put all their efforts into hunting down the murderer. She and the silver Wolf had revealed their whereabouts several times. Once they were wanted, Captain an in the East City guard Department would definitely be the first to suspect her!

She hesitated for a moment, and the young man who was suppressed by the silver Wolf coughed twice and raised his voice, "

"I'm fine,"

His voice was clear and elegant, but it was somewhat lacking in spirit.

As soon as he said this, the tense atmosphere suddenly dissipated a little. The guards outside, who had felt uneasy, quietly returned to their original positions, temporarily resolving song qingxiao's crisis.

She narrowed her eyes and sized him up, trying to guess his intentions.

After a moment of silence, the young man who was trampled by the silver Wolf finally moved his finger and pointed at the girl's belly.

"The wound is bleeding."

He didn't seem to be afraid of her, nor did he seem to realize that he was in danger.

Song qingxiao endured the pain and looked down at the place he was pointing at. Her lower abdomen had been pierced by a sword, leaving a bloody hole.

Although the blue blood had devoured the powerful sword intent, it had not completely healed the wound. The rush he had made while running for his life had caused the wound to start bleeding again.

She subconsciously reached out to cover the wound and instinctively pulled the blanket up to cover it.

Her situation was not good at the moment. As the blue blood fused into her body, the unbearable itchiness and coldness began to sweep through her body again. She did not know if it was because she was temporarily safe, but when she relaxed a little, the feeling became even more aggressive.

The violent Ling power in his body was colliding with his broken veins, bringing him bursts of pain, but after the pain, it was a strange itch. Under the double torture, song qingxiao gasped. She instinctively wrapped her long tail around the bedpost and rubbed it hard to relieve the discomfort. Her strength was astonishing, and under the pressure of the long tail, the bed pillar couldn't bear the load and creaked.

The chill of the long tail spread out, causing a layer of ice crystals to form on the ground and between the bedposts.

As a result, although the chill was still invading her four tendons and eight meridians, the strange itch on her long tail that felt like ten thousand ants were drilling into her heart had been alleviated a little.

However, such a method could only treat the symptoms and not the root cause. The violent energy in her body was the source of the violent energy. She was secretly anxious, but she said coldly,

"It's none of your business. You should worry about yourself."

The young man was stunned for a moment. He looked up from the corner of his eye and saw the Wolf's huge head staring at him coldly. Its eyes were shimmering, making him shudder.

He looked over and saw that the silver Wolf's claw that was pressing on his shoulder had stretched out another two inches, making it even more threatening.

"I'm going to hide here for a while. I hope you don't make a sound or have any ideas."

Song qingxiao wasn't discussing with him. She was telling him her decision. "If we alert the others, it won't be a good thing for us."

The young man who was stepped on by the wolf looked at her for a long time, and finally his eyes fell on her tail that was rolled to the bedpost. He nodded weakly and said softly,

"Don't worry,"

Song qingxiao was not afraid of what he was up to. If he dared to call for help, the silver Wolf would kill him immediately.

At most, she would just have to find an opportunity to escape in the chaos like she had planned before.

Thinking of this, she felt a little more at ease. She immediately activated the God destroying technique and prepared to guide the violent energy in her body into her meridians.

As soon as the God destroying technique was activated, a clear Meridian light appeared in song qingxiao's body.

The rampaging spiritual energy was trapped by the light. No matter how hard it tried, it could not break through the shackles.

At the same time, she guided the spiritual energy to flow along her meridians, but this energy was not something that her meridians could withstand at this time. Although it was bound by the God destroying technique, it still burst her meridians in the process of circulation.

However, as the blue blood fused into her body, the damaged veins and vessels were slowly repaired.

Song qingxiao had suffered a lot during the process of being destroyed and repaired at the same time. However, during this repeated reconstruction process, her meridians were strengthened and widened again and again to withstand the impact of the energy. The damage from the energy was reduced again and again.

After the blue blood in the seal completely merged with the blood essence in her body, her body began to change.

Like a withered tree rejuvenated in spring, his body, which had been severely injured, began to glow with new life.

A large amount of impurities were discharged from her body, and her internal organs were nourished and repaired. Song qingxiao closed her eyes and focused on the situation in her body. She did not dare to be distracted. Therefore, she did not notice that as the blue blood completely integrated into her body, a layer of skin film appeared on the long tail. The new scales under the film flashed with a dark blue luster.

After she had completely absorbed the blue blood, the spiritual power seemed to sense a familiar aura and began to become docile.

The God destroying skill led this huge amount of energy to flow through her body. A large amount of spiritual energy seemed to be attracted and entered her body. After being refined, it left behind the purest spiritual energy and integrated with her own power.

The moment the spirit power in her veins connected, song qingxiao felt a 'boom' in her sea of consciousness. Her consciousness was floating in the clouds, and her body felt like it was soaking in a hot spring. All her pores opened, and a large amount of spirit power rushed into her body.

The day she escaped from the terror Battalion trial, her cultivation level, which had almost fallen due to the spiritual power in her body being inexplicably sucked away by the consciousness of her spirit, was now beginning to rise under the nourishment of the abundant spiritual power.

Her body was strong enough to contain enough spiritual energy. In an instant, she returned to the middle stage of the spirit focus realm.. Under the impact of the spiritual energy, she quickly rose to the peak of the middle stage of the spirit focus realm and broke through to the late stage of the spirit focus realm!

Chapter 553: Fake dan (1)

Song qingxiao's body was far more powerful than before after being transformed by the blue blood. Therefore, during the process of her Ascension, her body could withstand a large amount of spiritual power.

Under the guidance of the God destroying technique, the spirit energy that entered her body was locked in her meridians, allowing her to smoothly enter the late stage of the spirit focus realm.

The excess energy in his body that had not been completely refined sank into his dantian and gradually condensed into a translucent elixir bead. It was connected with the spiritual power in his veins and circulated around his body.

As soon as the illusion of the bead was formed, the extra spiritual power seemed to find its backbone. After circulating through the veins, it poured into the bead.

The Dan bead in his dantian didn't look big, but when the spiritual power poured into it, it was like a stream flowing into the sea, being absorbed inside.

More than half of the spirit power in her veins and meridians had been poured in, and the majority of the energy contained in the blue blood in her long tail had also begun to surge into her dantian.

With the influx of energy from the long tail, the translucent bead suddenly emitted a bright golden light and instantly became much more solid.

Once the energy that had gone out of control was under control, the long blue tail began to shrink. After most of the energy was absorbed by the Golden core, it transformed back into a pair of white slender legs, wrapped in a layer of light blue skin.

At this time, Song Qingxiao used her spiritual sense to look into her sea of consciousness. The 'core gathering' chapter of the God annihilating art had been half-solved, and she could vaguely feel some of the cultivation methods. However, because she had not truly entered the core gathering stage, the cultivation methods had not been fully unlocked.

The unsealing of this small amount of blue blood made her taste Supreme sweetness.

Her strength had risen two levels in a row, and the formation of the inner core in her body had provided her with an endless supply of spiritual power, causing her strength to improve at a flying speed compared to before!

She felt a little regretful. Because her strength was too low and she was seriously injured, after the small stream of blue blood was unsealed, a small part of its energy was wasted when she transformed. The other part reconstructed her meridians, changed the strength of her physical body, and recuperated her injuries.

In addition, she couldn't completely control this terrifying power. Although she had the help of the God destroying technique, which trapped the majority of the power, half of it was still wasted in the process of cultivation.

If she could fully accept this power and make good use of it, she might be able to break through the Spirit condensation stage and enter the core formation stage.

However, Song Qingxiao was already very satisfied that she could enter the fake dan stage. The situation was urgent tonight, and in order to save her life, she had to waste that small amount of blue blood.

If it wasn't for the fact that the timing wasn't right, she should be able to use this opportunity to properly stabilize her realm.

It was a pity that her previous cultivation had already caused fluctuations in the surrounding spiritual power. A large amount of spiritual power had rushed into the inner room. If this continued, it would probably alert the guards outside.

She opened her eyes and found that there was a cold fog around her, but the surface of her body did not form ice crystals like in the past. Only the tip of her eyebrows and eyelashes were a little bit frozen.

With the advancement of her strength, her control of spiritual power was far more skillful than before, and the situation of losing control of her spiritual power during cultivation was much better than before.

On the ground not far away, the young man was still lying on the ground. The silver Wolf was half-sitting on the ground, one of its front paws still on his shoulder, making him not dare to move.

Perhaps it was because the temperature in the room had dropped too much, and there was a threat next to him, his face was pale, and the situation seemed to be a little off.

Song qingxiao pondered for a moment and looked at the silver Wolf, signaling it to withdraw its claws.

When she was cultivating, this person was very tactful and did not say a word. Now, not only had her strength recovered, but she had also risen two levels in a row. Naturally, she did not need to guard against his tricks anymore.

After the blue blood fused with her body, although her appearance did not change much, her eyes and aura were different from before.

The silver Wolf's ears twitched, and it slowly moved its claws away from the young man's shoulder.

"Thanks... Thank you,"

As soon as it moved its huge foot away, the pale-faced young man felt as if a heavy stone had been removed from his body. He heaved a sigh of relief, and after struggling to sit up with his hands on the ground, he weakly said,"

"You don't have to thank me so early." Song qingxiao said with a calm expression. Her words stunned the young man. He blinked his pale eyes, as if he did not understand what she meant.

Song qingxiao sat up as well. A soft layer of skin wrapped around her body, and a pair of long legs were faintly visible under the light blue translucent skin.

“Ah ... I’m sorry.” The pale-faced man’s face immediately turned red when he saw this.

The red mist climbed up his neck and ears. He blinked and quickly turned his head away. “I’m sorry for the offense,”

She was stunned for a moment. When she looked down, she realized that most of the blanket that had been on her had fallen off, revealing her legs that were wrapped in a layer of skin.

The skin membrane was about three to four meters long, and most of it was hanging limply on the floor, shaped like a long tail.

She immediately realized that this was the skin that had shed after her body had mutated and was stimulated by the fusion of blue blood.

On the demon Island, when she met the evolved flood Dragon, she had also found the shed skin of the snake.

The blue blood in her body happened to be formed by the fusion of the dragon’s blood and the evolution potion. After absorbing its blood, his body should also experience this phenomenon of ecdysis.

However, every time the wyrm dragon shed its skin, it would evolve and use its new body to accept a greater amount of power.

The reason why he was stimulated to shed his skin this time was probably because his original body could not accommodate the small amount of power after the blue blood was unsealed. It was an instinctive reaction of his body.

She stretched out her arms to take a look. Her arms and stomach were covered with a thin film, but compared to the skin film on her legs, the film covering the other parts of her body was thinner, like a layer of dead skin, which could be easily torn off.

The shed leather bag wrapped around her legs, and it was too long, so she couldn't move freely.

She instinctively lowered her head and wanted to tear off the skin of the snake's tail, but when her hand touched it and she pulled hard, the skin did not move at all.

"Eh?" She was stunned for a moment. This light blue skin was extremely soft, but it was also very tough. Her current physical strength was tyrannical, but she could not tear it apart.

Song qingxiao pursed her lips and summoned the mysterious dagger from her dantian. She held it in her hand and swung it.

With a 'Zi*' sound, the tip of the dagger cut a crack in the skin.

When the young man who had his eyes closed heard the wind, he instinctively opened his eyes and turned his head. He only saw the shadow of a dagger flash past and saw that the light blue tail skin wrapped around her legs had been cut open by her, revealing her Jade-like feet.

"That's ..." He only took a quick glance at the dagger before song qingxiao kept it back into his dantian. Before he could see it clearly, he saw song qingxiao's indifferent gaze on him. His face blushed again and he lowered his head again, s-sorry..

Chapter 554: Dying (1)

Taking advantage of the young man's head turning away, she held the dagger again and cut the skin membrane from the thigh to make it easier for her to move.

In the process of evolution, the pair of legs had turned into a tail, and the pants it was wearing had been destroyed. Now that the skin membrane was cut open, a pair of long legs were revealed.

After the shedding, all the old wounds and dark marks left on Song Qingxiao's body had been wiped away.

Her new skin was as smooth as Jade, like freshly peeled lychee.

She tore off a blanket and wrapped it around her waist. She slowly stood up and looked around the middle of the room.

The spiritual power in the room was extremely dense, and a large amount of white mist was still floating in the air. She had already stopped cultivating, but for some reason, the spiritual power did not show any signs of dispersing. Instead, more and more spiritual power was gathering here.

This kind of abnormal spirit power fluctuation made the alarm in her Heart Ring. If this continued, the people outside would soon notice that something was wrong.

She couldn't stay here any longer. With the help of her blue blood, she had advanced to the false core realm and was full of spiritual power. As long as she didn't attract the attention of a large number of people from the Shi family, she had a better chance of breaking out of the encirclement than before.

Killing intent rose in her heart as she looked at the young man.

As long as he was dead, with his status, the Shi family would be in chaos. She would be able to use this opportunity to escape.

However, there would still be trouble after she escaped. The silver Wolf had already been exposed, and many people had seen it. Unless she could kill everyone one by one without anyone knowing, it would take a lot of effort for the imperial family to find her.

However, there would be too many implications if she did that. Captain An had once helped her, and the people in the reserve team were innocent. She hesitated for a moment.

In that moment, the silver Wolf seemed to have sensed her thoughts. It slowly turned its head and stared at the young man who was sitting on the ground, the tip of its nose twitching.

It was unknown if the young man had sensed that he was about to die, but his expression was a little off. With the fluctuations of spiritual energy, he seemed to have lost all his blood in an instant.

What surprised Song Qingxiao was that the spiritual power that she had drawn in during her cultivation was slowly entering his body.

How was this possible?

She had already scanned him with her divine sense when she came in. This person's aura was weak, and there were no spiritual fluctuations on his body after cultivation.

He didn't look like he was meditating, but the spiritual energy seemed to have been summoned and was absorbed into his body one after another.

"Are your injuries better?" As the spiritual energy entered the young man's body, he did not seem to benefit from it. On the contrary, the spiritual energy was like a poison to him, causing his body to tremble slightly.

His breathing was unstable, and his eyes were patrolling Song Qing's lower abdomen. The hole that had been opened earlier had already recovered, and no blood was oozing out.

The young man's lips twitched as he saw this scene. He seemed to want to smile, but in the end, his face twitched slightly and he panted.

"If you're feeling better, then hurry up and leave." He clenched his fist and said with some difficulty, my old illness is about to act up, and many people will come. I'm sorry, he gritted his teeth, and his voice was light and trembling. "This place can no longer be your shelter."

Song Qing squinted at him and guessed that he was talking nonsense to save his life after sensing his killing intent.

“Wait, after the chaos, you can leave.” He panted slightly and looked up in the direction where song Qing had come from, go from the back. It passes through the garden. It’s the closest road to the Empire hospital.

After he said these words, more spiritual power began to surge into his body.

His face quickly turned gray, and large beads of sweat oozed out of his forehead. The hands on his sides clenched into fists, as if he was trying to resist the pain.

The silver Wolf felt the disturbance of spiritual energy and couldn’t help but let out a low growl.

“If I kill you, the Shi family will still be in chaos.” Song qingxiao frowned. When the young man, who was gritting his teeth, heard her words, his eyes lit up at first, but then dimmed again. He twitched the corner of his mouth and said,

“It’s no, it’s no use for you to kill me.”

His eyes seemed to be covered with a layer of greenish-gray mist, and his pupils were rapidly contracting.

“I, I can’t live for long anyway...” He tried his best to maintain his expression as if he was afraid of losing his composure. He shocked song Qing, this time, it’s unknown if I can survive...

Song Qing was stunned for a moment and instinctively took a step closer to him. He wanted to use his divine sense to check out the situation inside his body, but as soon as his divine sense touched his body, it was sucked in by an extremely terrifying energy!

The young man’s body was like a huge black hole, sweeping away all the spiritual energy in the surroundings!

This situation reminded her of the day on the undead altar when she used the deity vanquishing spell. She instantly lost control and absorbed all the energy in the stellar array into her body.

The Ling power in his body went berserk, and it was even more terrifying than the energy conflict caused by the unsealing of his blue blood!

However, he was clearly not a cultivator. He was able to contain so much energy in his body and not immediately explode.

A trace of doubt appeared in Song Qingxin's heart, and she could not help but put her hand on his arm.

The tips of her fingers touched his arm, and both of them trembled.

This slight movement was like the last straw that broke the camel's back. His arm could no longer hold on and he fell to the ground with a 'Dong' sound.

As for Song Qingxiao, she felt that the spiritual power in her body was out of control.

His body was like a magnet to her spiritual energy, attracting the spiritual energy in her veins to start moving restlessly, and it began to flow into his body through the place where the two of them touched.

The newly formed elixir shadow in her dantian seemed to be shaken by this suction force. It shook slightly, causing the spiritual energy in her body to surge even faster.

Song Qingxiao was shocked and immediately used the God destroying technique. Once the God destroying technique was used, it suppressed the suction force and firmly locked the spiritual power in her meridians. Once the spiritual power was cut off, the pressure on her was immediately relieved, and she instinctively raised her palm.

This situation was really too strange. She hesitated for a moment, and couldn't help but use the God destroying technique to firmly control her meridians. At the same time, she divided a small portion of spiritual power and divine sense and put her hand on it again.

This time, both the spiritual power and spiritual consciousness were absorbed by his body. In the blink of an eye, they were submerged in the huge amount of spiritual power in his body.

However, in the blink of an eye, song qingxiao had also sensed something.

His body was like a bottomless pit that kept a terrifying amount of power. His veins seemed to have been modified by someone, forming a restriction that trapped the spiritual power that poured into his body, so that it couldn't flow out and maintained his vitality!

The Shi clan must have thought of many ways to set up these restrictions, and it was unknown what kind of experts they had used to set them up for him.

Even so, the fluctuation of spiritual Qi could still corrode the jinzhi, causing the imbalance of power in his body and threatening his life.

He still looked very young, but his body had been eroded by spiritual power all year round. He was like an old man with one foot in the grave, gradually losing his vitality.

This spiritual power, which was extremely precious to cultivators, was like poison to him!

It was indeed as he said, he did not have much time left. This time, the spiritual power that he had drawn in during his cultivation had entered his body and caused the restriction in his body to lose balance. With his current body, it was impossible for him to withstand it.

It just so happened that because she had been surrounded by those three people tonight, another divine sense hidden in her divine soul had been drawn out, attracting the experts of the Shi family.

At this moment, there was no one in his house who had the strength to help him balance the spiritual energy in his body. He might die soon after he left.

He really didn't need to do anything. He died of an old illness and wouldn't leave any traces of his actions.

After his death, the Shi clan would descend into chaos, and he could take the opportunity to slip away. It was much safer than killing him and angering the Shi clan..

Chapter 555= A single thought (1)

Song qingxiao stood up and looked at the young man. The balance of the restriction in his body had been broken by the influx of large amounts of spiritual power, and he lost control of it in a moment.

With this body of his, he wouldn't be able to hold on for long.

The spiritual power in his body was like a bottomless pit. She couldn't even touch it when she tried to explore it earlier. Unfortunately, after his mendtans were transformed, she was not blessed enough to enjoy such a terrifying power. Naturally, it could no longer be used by him. It was simply a waste o God's gift to leave it in his body.

If she could obtain this spiritual energy, it would be equivalent to many years of her bitter cultivation.

A trace of greed appeared in her heart, and she looked at the young man with some regret.

He lay on his side, his hands and feet against each other, his body curled up, slightly trembling, and enduring the pain caused by the Ling power disturbance.

Soft strands of hair covered his cheeks and forehead, some of which fell to the floor, revealing his tightly furrowed brows and eyes that were half-blocked by his eyelashes. It made his face look even paler.

To him, this kind of spiritual power was a disaster and not a blessing.

The abnormality of the spiritual power in the room had already attracted the attention of the people outside. She could feel that there was a divine sense sweeping into the room.

Song qingxiao turned to leave, but before she could take a step, she turned back.

■How old are you?" She asked softly, but the young man didn't reply. He was probably on his deathbed and didn't hear what she said.

She couldn't help but laugh at herself.

Captain an had said that the heir of the Shi family was destined not to live past thirty.

In such an era, the average lifespan of an ordinary person was about 120 years old. He was a member of the Shi family, and if there were no accidents, he would probably have a longer life after cultivating.

However, he looked like he was in his early twenties, but he seemed to be on the verge of withering.

His death was not his own doing, but it had something to do with her. She frowned.

"Let's see how good your luck is."

She sighed and flicked her finger. A small drop of blood essence flowed out from her fingertip and was wrapped in spiritual energy. She flicked it gently and it fell between the young man's eyebrows. Because it contained spiritual energy, it was quickly absorbed by the strange restriction in his body!

After fusing with the blue blood, this small drop of her blood should be able to support his body for a while.

It all depended on whether the Shi family could make it back in time to save his life.

■ ■ "I don't owe you anything." The blood seeped into the space between his eyebrows, leaving behind a dark red spot before it disappeared without a trace.

As soon as she finished speaking, the silver Wolf sitting next to her suddenly jumped up and let out a dissatisfied 'awoo'!

The moment Song Qingxiao's blood came out, the silver Wolf's eyes lit up. It looked up at her with anticipation, thinking that the blood was for itself. However, she turned around and flicked it into the young man's body.

The silver Wolf was instantly enraged and opened its mouth to roar. ■ ■ "Why are you shouting so loudly?" Song Qingxiao didn't expect the silver Wolf to get angry. After roaring, it glared at the young man on the ground with its teeth bared, as if it wanted to bite his throat.

"Your Highness?" Alarmed shouts could be heard from outside.

There was an abnormal fluctuation of spiritual power in the room, and then the howl of the wolf made the guards feel that something was wrong.

Song Qingxiao glared at the silver Wolf and waved her hand.

"Let's go!"

She could feel several powerful auras rushing in this direction. If she stayed any longer, it would be difficult to escape when people arrived.

But when she took a step, the silver Wolf did not follow. Instead, it howled and pounced in the direction of the young man.

Song Qing's little head was about to explode. He quickly grabbed the silver

Wolf's fur and dragged it forward.

■Awoo...' It was still roaring, and with a whoosh, a green light broke through the outer wall of the ancient building and shot toward song qingxiao!

This sword's aura was similar to the one that had injured her before. However, at that time, she was injured and the spiritual energy in her body was in chaos. She was also focused on plotting against number six and was not prepared for it. In addition, the difference in strength was too great, so her lower abdomen was pierced by the sword.

Her spiritual power had been adjusted. After the blue blood merged with her, not only was her body strengthened, but she was also lucky enough to use the power of the blue blood to advance to the fake dan realm, so her strength was much better than before.

At this moment, the person on the sword was probably worried about the heir in the inner room and was in a panic. In a moment of desperation, the sword flew out with the intention of driving the enemy away instead of killing. Therefore, when the sword light flashed again, song qingxiao carried the wolf in one hand and the blanket wrapped around her waist in the other. She leaped up to the roof and disappeared from the balcony!

The green light was nailed into the wall of the inner room with a 'ding', and the hilt of the sword trembled with a 'Weng Weng' sound.

The moment song qingxiao disappeared, the door of the old building was slammed open. The man who had sent the number six sisters away earlier appeared at the door with a cold face!

■■He ran away!" His face was ashen. He could feel that the aura in the room had disappeared, but he could still hear the Wolf's roar in his ears. The long sword he threw out missed and did not hurt the 'demon beast'.

The demonic beast did not have the strength to escape under his sword earlier, but it was able to retreat in one piece in just a short time. Could it be that during this period of time, the bloodline awakening had caused 'its' strength to increase so rapidly?

The young man's lips were tightly pursed, but his attention was quickly attracted by the young man lying on the floor, and he quickly entered the house.

As soon as he entered, a few figures also flashed one after another, their faces full of fear and uneasiness.

don't chase after him for now. Open the restriction again and block the spiritual power from entering. Inform Shi Jin to get ready. Once His Highness's spiritual power is stable, he will be sent to the hospital immediately.

Shi Yue was still breathing. Although he didn't know why the 'demon beast' who had barged in earlier didn't kill him, the man heaved a long sigh of relief. Then, he gave an order with a solemn expression. The few people who came in later nodded their heads hurriedly after hearing this.

After Song Qing escaped from the ancient building, she followed the instructions of the young man and ran forward.

The young man was still breathing. The Shi family must have been held back by him, and the real experts didn't have the time to pursue him.

The ordinary guards in the Imperial City could not even touch her shadow, allowing her to leave the city smoothly.

After running for about seven minutes, just as the young man had said, Song Qingxiao saw the existence of the Imperial hospital. It seemed that the dying man did not lie to him.

She dove into the forest Park on the side of the Imperial hospital. The heavy stone that had been hanging in her heart slowly fell to the ground as she escaped from danger.

At this moment, the royal family should be busy with their own affairs, and the heir's situation should have caused the center of the Imperial City to be in a mess.

Song qingxiao raised her head and looked in the direction of the Imperial hospital. She suddenly remembered something. When she called ye Zhou yesterday, he mentioned that Luo Wu was at the Imperial hospital and wanted to see her.

Tonight, she had barged into the Shi family's house and caused such a huge commotion. Furthermore, the silver Wolf had already been exposed. As someone who knew about her background and the existence of the silver Wolf, number five, she really had to meet him..

Chapter 556: In between _1

Song qingxiao made up her mind and immediately looked at the silver Wolf.

"You hide."

The appearance of the silver Wolf at this critical moment was too eye-catching.

The silver Wolf turned its head away, looking as if it was throwing a tantrum.

Song qingxiao looked at it helplessly. After greeting it, she released her divine sense and chose a place with no one around.

Fortunately, it was already night time, and the hospital was much quieter than the last time she came in the day. She avoided the heavenly eye's gaze and the crowd, sneaked into the hospital, found a set of patient clothes, and changed into them. She wrapped the bedsheets and snakeskin she had torn from the Shi family's house inside.

After doing all this, she released her divine sense and searched for Luo Wu in the hospital.

After she had obtained a blessing in disguise and entered the fake dan realm, her divine sense's sensitivity was much stronger than before. She had dealt with Luo Wu several times, so she was familiar with his aura.

After passing two buildings, Song Qing stopped and looked up. "I found it!"

This building was the main building of the Imperial hospital. Most of the people who lived here were of extraordinary status. Luo Wu's aura appeared on the second floor. When Song Qingxiao's aura locked onto him, he did not notice at all.

The management of the Imperial hospital's floors was strict. There were specialists guarding the elevator doors, and they had to scan the visitor's identity and leave the visitor's information on each floor.

She had come here to prepare for Luo Wu, so it was naturally not appropriate for her to take this route.

The door of the emergency exit on the first floor was locked, and there were two family members of the patient standing nearby. They seemed to be chatting.

Song Qingxiao left the building and was ready to enter from the window like the silver Wolf had entered Captain An's office.

There were windows at the staircases of the safety passage on every floor. For safety reasons, the windows were locked, but that was not a problem for her.

She found the window and jumped up. Her fingers quickly grabbed the edge of the window. Song Qingxiao used her spiritual power to break the lock. She went into the corridor and closed the window.

After sensing that there was no one near the emergency exit on the second floor, song qingxiao opened the door and swaggered into the second floor.

The second floor of the Imperial hospital was much quieter than the first floor.

The wards in the hospital were designed like hotels to ensure the comfort of patients during their stay.

She found the door to Luo Wu's ward and covered the sensor with a layer of ice.

The red light on the sensor was immediately extinguished.

Song qingxiao held the door handle and used her spiritual power to destroy the lock. She gently pulled it down and slowly pushed the heavy door open.

As soon as the door was pushed open, two auras inside seemed to have sensed it at once and rushed over to check. Song qingxiao entered the ward and closed the door. Before the two people could react, she divided her divine sense into two and attacked their sea of consciousness.

Before the two of them could even see the person, they felt a sharp pain in their heads and their bodies fell straight down. With a 'plop', they lost consciousness.

Luo Wu, who was lying on the bed, felt that something was wrong with the atmosphere in the room. He sat up in shock and looked toward the door instinctively. He saw song qingxiao, who was wearing a patient's uniform, slowly walking in from the doorway.

The moment Luo zhiyu saw that it was her, his pupils contracted, and his palms tightly clenched the bed sheet under him. The muscles on his face twitched slightly, and it was only after a long time that he opened his mouth with difficulty.

"You ..." As soon as she came over, she used some unknown method to make the two people in the room faint.

These two were not ordinary people. They had stayed in a reclusive clan and had cultivated some basic breathing techniques.

After he was injured, he had spent a lot of money to invite him over.

Luo Wu had tested their skills before, and he had entered the trial three times. However, even if he was not injured, he might not be their match if he were to fight one against two, no matter how many tricks he used.

However, song qingxiao had just appeared and had knocked him down without anyone knowing!

He vaguely remembered that song qingxiao's performance was outstanding in the trial of mental illness, but in terms of real strength, they were only about the same. At most, she was slightly better than him. When did she grow to such a level?

Luo zhiyu was shocked beyond words. At the same time, song qingxiao's arrival made him feel uneasy.

He was like a prisoner about to be judged. As her eyes fell on him, it was as if a heavy burden was pressing on his heart, making his heart beat wildly.

Compared to his Haggard appearance, her appearance did not change much, but there was a subtle difference in her expression.

She had changed into the Imperial hospital's patient's outfit and looked very natural after she barged in. She even looked around the ward as if she was a friend who was here to visit him.

But what made Luo zhiyu feel relieved was that after she came in, the unusually tall Silver Wolf beside her did not come with her, which made him feel a little more at ease.

After he was injured by the silver Wolf that day, he realized that he had been poisoned. The poison was very terrifying, and the medicine that he had exchanged with points in the trial space did not have much effect at all. He had only barely managed to keep his life.

After being poisoned, the damage to his body was extremely serious. The poison was nibbling away at his special ability and vitality, causing him to look like he had aged more than ten years in just a month. He was unable to use his special ability at all.

Luo zhiyu had no choice but to use his family's influence to get admitted to the Imperial hospital.

Before this, he had both hatred and resentment towards Song Qing, mixed with a trace of fear. But now, when he saw Song Qing appear and knock down the people he had spent so much effort to hire, he did not even dare to harbor any hatred in his heart. All that was left was fear.

As soon as she entered, he felt a cool breeze. The last time Luo zhiyu had met her, she had used her ice-type special ability. At that time, he could vaguely feel that her strength was much higher than his. However, when she stood in front of him now, he could not sense her strength at all.

In other words, it was very likely that after their last encounter, she had entered the trial again, and her strength had increased again!

This situation made Luo zhiyu's scalp tingle. She had just rejoiced when she found out that the silver Wolf was not with her, but because of this tiny discovery, her heart began to beat wildly again.

At this moment, there was no one around him, so he was in an extremely dangerous situation.

■'Long time no see, Qing Xiao." She had come to visit him so late at night. Although he didn't feel any killing intent from her, Luo zhiyu didn't dare to imagine that she was here to visit him. He suppressed the fear in his heart and forced himself to smile.

"I didn't expect you to come and see me."

Luo zhiyu could be considered quite a character. That day, he had failed to intimidate her and was instead injured by the silver Wolf. In the end, he was able to adapt and escape in a sorry state. After that, he even asked Zhou Ye to meet her.

He probably already felt that it was inappropriate for her to visit him at this time, but he could still pretend that nothing had happened and greet her calmly. Song qingxiao could not help but smile at this ability..

Chapter 557: Spare him (1)

“Didn’t you want to see me?” Song Qing looked down on Luo zhiyu. If it wasn’t for the fact that his aura hadn’t changed, she wouldn’t have recognized him. After a month or so, his body had shrunk by more than half and his complexion was terrible. The energy in his body was also faintly discernible. From his complexion, he was even worse than when he had been on the verge of death.

Luo zhiyu carefully observed her expression, and when his eyes met her half-smiling eyes, a layer of cold sweat emerged on his back, soaking his clothes and sticking to his body, rubbing against his standing hair.

He had indeed heard about song qingxiao through Zhou ye. He knew that not long after her Silver Wolf had injured him, she had entrusted the house she had just bought to Zhou ye and the two of them had disappeared.

After the incident, he asked Zhou ye about it, but Zhou ye did not know where she had gone. He only knew that from the last call she made, she had disappeared for almost twenty days.

Luo zhiyu had also guessed that after he had gotten hold of her secret, although she had hurt him, she was also afraid of the underworld clan and was afraid that he would reveal some clues, so she went into hiding.

However, Luo zhiyu had never dreamed that she would reappear in just 20 days.

After receiving a call from Zhou ye in the afternoon to confirm that song qingxiao had returned, Luo zhiyu had actually been thinking that since she had dared to come back even though she knew that she had killed the two people from the underworld families, did it mean that she was no longer afraid of the underworld families?

As Luo zhiyu thought of this, his hands, which were hidden under his sleeves, trembled uncontrollably.

When Zhou ye called, he mentioned that he wanted to see song qingxiao. However, Zhou ye clearly said that song qingxiao didn't want to see him for the time being. What was the reason that made her change her mind in such a short time?

"Come, have a seat." Luo Wu suppressed the chaotic thoughts in his mind and forced a smile. He got out of bed with difficulty and his gaze fell on the small sofa in the room, would you like some tea or wine?"

Song qingxiao's gaze fell on him. Because of the poison, he had lost a large amount of essence energy. Even standing was very difficult for him, but at this time, he was eagerly taking care of it.

She smiled and walked towards the sofa.

"No need,"

As soon as she finished speaking and sat down slowly, Luo Wu's body stiffened. After a while, he turned around and knelt down with a thud. Then, he moved toward song qingxiao.

"Qing Xiao, Qing Xiao, please spare me!" He cried with snot and tears, using both his hands and knees, not caring about his dignity at all.

Song Qing raised her eyebrows and didn't say anything.

As if he was afraid that he would not have the chance to open his mouth if he said it too late, he said in rapid succession," don't kill me. I've kept my mouth shut about you. I didn't tell anyone about it, not even the people closest to me! He crawled in front of song qingxiao. I've paid for your mother's expenses again. I also told them to take good care of me and not kill me ...

His body trembled, which was similar to the time when he was found by song qingxiao in the mental hospital.

“You want to use my mother to threaten me?” Song Qing looked down on him.

He quickly raised his head and waved his hands.

“No, no, no, how would I dare to?” He spoke very quickly, the reason why I contacted Zhou ye to meet you was to tell you that I have no intention of going against you.

Song qingxiao stared calmly at Luo Wu who was kneeling in front of her and begging for mercy. There was a dark shadow under his eyes. His loose and soft clothes seemed to hang on his body without any gaps. His shoulder bones were very prominent. It was obvious that he had not been having a good time, look,” his body trembled like a sieve and he said sorrowfully, “”I’m already in this state, what’s the point of killing me? I’m more useful if I’m alive. If there’s anything you need my help with, just order me around.”

He suppressed the uneasiness in his heart and forced himself to bravely meet her eyes. He did not dare to miss the slightest expression on her face. He wanted to see a trace of information from her eyes, but unfortunately, he could not see anything.

what did the hospital say about your injury after the examination?” After a long while, when Luo Wu heard song qingxiao’s question, he did not dare to neglect her and answered in full detail,

“They said it’s an unknown poison.” He forced himself to remain calm, and it will evolve according to the treatment plan. Two days ago, an old man from the hospital came to me very seriously, saying that even cultivators can’t withstand this poison. He asked me how I got infected.

He seemed to be trying to curry favor with her. I said that I was bitten by an unknown snake.

Luo Wu looked at her and said, “”I won’t say anything’.

He wasn't afraid of pleasing song qingxiao, but he was afraid that she wouldn't even give him a chance to speak. Seeing that she was interested in this matter, he wanted to tell her everything that had happened since he entered the Imperial hospital.

There were some unverified things, even if they were only his guesses, he did not hesitate to say them.

I suspect that the people behind Imperial hospital have taken my blood samples for experiments. That old man doesn't look like an ordinary person. Even the person in charge of the hospital didn't dare to breathe loudly in front of him. I suspect that he's someone from the Shi family headquarters.

Luo Wu's tongue was as smooth as a lotus flower, but he was extremely depressed in his heart. He was even more afraid of the silver Wolf beside song qingxiao.

If the poison in his body could really shock the higher-ups of the hospital and cause headaches for these people, one could only imagine the poison from the Wolf's claws and teeth.

Speaking of which, he was really unlucky in eight lifetimes. He didn't expect that the wolf was tall and fierce, but its claws and teeth were poisonous. That day, he was so miserable with only a little cut on his skin. If he had been bitten by the wolf, he would have died long ago.

Sure enough, he should not have provoked this fiend. During the trial in the mental hospital, he knew that she was a ruthless character. She had quietly killed several of her strongest opponents at that time and survived to the end. It was a pity that he was in a daze at that time and thought that he had gotten hold of song Qing's weakness. He wanted to threaten her to work for him, but who knew that he would end up in such a situation?

He didn't dare to ask song qingxiao why the wolf didn't come with her tonight. He only wanted to save his life first.

"You didn't tell anyone about the silver Wolf?"

As soon as song qingxiao said this, Luo zhiyu instinctively felt that he might be able to save his life. He was so excited that his cheeks were trembling.

"No, I didn't, I really didn't." "I didn't even tell my own parents," Luo zhiyu raised his hand and swore.

"Then keep your mouth shut." She stood up, and Luo zhiyu felt as if he had been pardoned after hearing her words. His tensed body relaxed at once, and he could no longer hold on. He fell to the ground and sobbed.

He was a man, and he didn't think that such an action was too spineless..

Chapter 558: Trade-off (1)

After a while, song qingxiao's voice was no longer heard in the room, and the cold feeling disappeared. The surroundings were extremely quiet, and Luo zhiyu, who was crying sadly, slowly raised his head.

There was no one on the sofa in front of him. Song qingxiao, who had been sitting there earlier, was nowhere to be seen. He did not even hear her leave or the sound of the door opening. It was as if she was a ghost.

Luo Wu, who had been wailing, relaxed after making sure that song qingxiao had left. He sat on the ground weakly. After a while, his face sank, and his humble and timid look was gone.

He struggled to get up from the sofa and sat on it for a long time. Then, as if he had remembered something, he hurriedly walked to the head of the bed. There were surveillance cameras installed in the ward. If there was anything wrong, the hospital's security guards should be here soon.

However, song qingxiao had been here for a long time, but there was no news from the hospital. He moved to the bedside table and moved it with great effort, only to find that the light of the sensor below had been turned off.

It was impossible for the facilities of the Imperial hospital to malfunction at such a time. The only possibility was that song qingxiao had already noticed that something had been done when she entered the room.

But how did she do it? Luo Wu didn't feel anything when he was talking to her.

This meant that song qingxiao's strength was much more terrifying than he had imagined.

He shuddered as he thought of the woman's eyes. Luo Wu sat for a while before he picked up his communicator and dialed a number. When the call went through, he said in a low voice,

"Help me find out if something big happened in the imperial capital tonight." Song qingxiao's visit tonight was strange. She had specifically mentioned the silver Wolf. She must have caused some trouble and wanted to kill him to silence him because she was afraid that her whereabouts would be exposed.

Luo zhiyu guessed that the trouble she had caused was not small. Otherwise, she wouldn't have made this trip especially for ordinary matters since she didn't have any killing intent after he guessed that she had killed the people of the underworld clan.

He didn't know what kind of trouble song qingxiao had caused, but the bigger the matter, the scarier the person was.

Every time he met her, Luo zhiyu felt that she was growing rapidly.

About an hour later, the silent communication device finally lit up. The moment Luo Wu heard the sound, he picked it up in a hurry. The person on the other end of the phone only said one sentence," someone broke into the center of the Imperial City tonight and caused a ruckus!

The moment Luo Wu heard the news, he felt cold all over and was unable to speak for a long time.

For some reason, even though the people who had asked for information were unable to provide any details about the intruder, Luo Wu still felt that the intruder was most likely song qingxiao.

If it really was her, everything that happened tonight could be explained.

The fact that she had been able to enter and leave the Shi family's residence in one piece, and that she had not been injured at all, and that the Shi family members had yet to see her face clearly, was enough to send a chill down Luo Wu's spine.

The silver Wolf must have been exposed, so she made this trip!

I absolutely can't tell anyone!

This thought emerged in Luo Wu's mind. He could not go against this woman!

After all, there were benefits to joining the Shi family. As a reclusive royal family, if Luo Wu were to sell this information to the Shi family, it was very likely that he would receive some rewards from the Shi family. However, he would also offend song qingxiao.

She could enter and leave the Shi family's residence freely. Tonight, she had entered the hospital without anyone knowing and could possibly take his life again.

If he didn't say anything, he would at most have done nothing, but he wouldn't have done anything wrong either. Luo zhiyu naturally knew very well which was more important between the favor the Shi family had given him and his own life.

Song qingxiao left the hospital and returned to the forest Park to meet the silver Wolf, who was hiding in the dark.

When he returned to the imperial capital today, other than finding out a little about nurse Lin's death and the unexpected discovery of number six's identity, he also had some other gains. However, he had also caused a lot of trouble.

She had temporarily spared Luo Wu's life, not because of Luo Wu's words, but because she had thought about it again and again.

This person was flexible and could only trust 30% of his words. The silver Wolf had made him suffer such a big loss, so he might have made preparations.

However, this person was very tactful and knew how to sail with the wind. As long as his strength could make him feel fear, he would keep his mouth shut. Perhaps, for the sake of his life, he would even think of ways to clean up the aftermath for song qingxiao and would not hit her when she was down.

Moreover, she had caused too much of a commotion tonight. Luo Wu's death would attract even more attention in such a situation.

Especially after she had met number six at the Shi family's house tonight. From her conversation with the bright and beautiful young lady, she could deduce that the PEI and Shi families had in-laws.

She had almost died in her own hands on the 6th, so she would definitely pay attention to the Shi family's Affairs.

This person was very scheming. If Luo Wu's death was discovered by her, it was hard to guarantee that she would not guess that it was him.

In addition, although Luo Wu was not a reliable person, it was an undeniable fact that he had taken the initiative to pay for his mother's treatment fees. In his current state, even if song Qing did not kill him, he would still be in danger.

He was poisoned and didn't know when he would enter the trial. How long he could live would depend on his own fate.

However, this person's existence was always a hidden danger. If she could be a little stronger, she wouldn't have to think so much.

She sighed. The silver Wolf, which had just sensed her aura, opened its mouth and yawned. It made a sound, waking song qingxiao from her thoughts.

She could not stay in the imperial capital any longer. The Shi family would definitely investigate her intrusion into the Imperial City tonight. It would not be easy for her to leave the city with the silver Wolf by then.

She glanced in the direction of the nursing home. It seemed that she would not be able to see Tang Yun this time. She could only think about it later.

However, she knew that Tang Yun was doing well now and Luo Wu would keep an eye on her for her, so she had one less thing to worry about.

Song qingxiao looked at the silver Wolf and waved her hand,

“Let’s go!”

When she left this time, she didn’t borrow a car from Zhou ye.

After her body was cleansed by the blue blood, she became much more agile and entered the fake dan stage. The fake dan in her dantian provided an endless stream of spiritual power to the meridians in her body. When she ran, it made her feel like she was riding the wind.

She and the silver Wolf were extremely fast. They left the imperial capital in the middle of the night and did not dare to rest. In less than two hours, they had returned to the reserve team.

It was already past two in the morning. Other than those on night duty, most of the reserve team had already gone to bed. She did not disturb anyone and went straight back to her room.

After closing the door, song qingxiao’s tensed nerves finally relaxed.

She pulled open the clothes she was wearing, revealing the clothes she was originally wearing.

Her clothes were torn and almost soaked in blood. Some of the wounds were from when she was attacked by the old man and the other two. There was also a wound on her abdomen from when she was at the Shi family's residence, where she was injured by a young man who was secretly controlling a sword.

However, as the small amount of blue blood repaired her body, not only were the wounds healed, but even the scars disappeared without a trace after she shed her skin..

Chapter 559: Inkling I

I

General song Qing tore off some of the thin skin on his body, revealing the flawless skin underneath.

She pulled open the blanket wrapped around her waist and saw the half-shed tail skin inside. She suddenly remembered something.

When she was in the Shi family, she had cut off half of the skin on the back in a moment of desperation and left it in Shi Yue's room.

Later on, as the Shi family rushed over, she was in a hurry to escape and forgot to deal with that piece of snakeskin.

Song qingxiao frowned, but no one else in the world knew about the blue blood seal in her body except for herself and the silver Wolf.

During the demon island's trial, she was the only survivor of the seven trial-takers, so even if the Shi family had the snake tail, they would not be able to find her.

Song qingjiang took off the tail skin that was like a skirt. The light blue skin membrane with the patterns of scales glowed slightly under the light.

From bottom to top, the color of the tail skin became darker and its flexibility seemed to be thicker.

She tried to inject her spiritual power into it and tear it with her hands. The shed skin was soft and cold, but it could resist the erosion of spiritual power and was not torn by her.

This thing seemed to be able to resist the damage of spiritual power and weapons. She was delighted. If she could make it into a soft back armor and wear it to protect the important parts of her body, it should be able to resist some damage.

It was a pity that this skin was difficult to cut with ordinary knives and swords. Although the mysterious dagger could cut it, there were no tools to sew it back. Therefore, song qingxiao could only think about it for now.

However, she still kept it well in case she would need it in the future.

After doing all this, she went into the bathroom to take a shower. Under the warm water, she finally had the time to think about what happened tonight.

It started after he parted ways with Captain an and met the young man with the dagger.

Although the young man was only a small fish, the dagger he had caught song qingxiao's attention.

She couldn't help but summon the mysterious dagger from her dantian. She held it in her hand and examined it carefully. The water flowed through the dagger, leaving no trace.

Although the dagger in the young man's hand tonight could not be compared to his mysterious dagger, its appearance was exactly the same. This was definitely not a coincidence.

She had seen Captain an's collection of daggers produced by major weapon designers in the country for nearly 30 years, but she had never seen a dagger with such an appearance.

In other words, even if the person who killed him was not the young man who died tonight, he was definitely related to them in some way.

She remembered the consciousness that had come out at the critical moment to kill the old man and the other two, and she still felt scared when she thought about it.

At this time, she carefully scanned her body with her divine sense, but she did not find anything wrong.

That consciousness was indeed hiding in her body, but she didn't know where it was hiding. Perhaps it used some secret technique, but it could also be that the level of the divine sense was higher than hers, so she couldn't find it.

Although he had his suspicions before, he couldn't find anything unusual, so he left it at that.

This time, when she was besieged by the three people and her life was in danger, this consciousness appeared and almost devoured her.

At that time, she was in a hurry to escape and didn't have time to think about it carefully. Now, a question involuntarily emerged in her heart. Who was this person? How did he possess her body without her noticing?

He had heard the conversation between the PEI sisters at the Shi family's house tonight. If nurse Lin's death was really caused by the beautiful girl, then did his death that day have anything to do with the PEI family?

What kind of existence was God's trial? from number six's words, it seemed like the underworld clans had a way to enter.

The name 'su Wu' that number six had mentioned was no stranger to song qingxiao.

She had also heard this name when she met Qian Shan. It was because the people who had rushed over at that time had distracted Qian Shan's attention that she had been lucky enough to survive. It was also because of this that she had a particularly deep impression of the scene that day.

"Su Wu ..." She mumbled softly, "su Wu ..."

She vaguely remembered that after being seriously injured by Qian Shan, the visitor had mentioned 'su five' and 'God destroying technique'.

Thinking of this, and then thinking of the undead altar when she escaped from the terror Battalion trial, she had cast the God extermination spell, but she lost control and almost suffered a backlash. Suddenly, all the messy clues in her mind were connected. What else was there that she didn't understand?

Song Qing's eyes narrowed and he almost cried out in shock.

The strange man's voice from that day rang in her mind again: "Su Wu is dead! The appearance of the God annihilating technique ..."

At the Shi family, when the PEI sisters were chatting, number six's words revealed that the underworld families could enter the trial at will...

All these situations showed that 'su Wu' and 'God annihilating technique' should be inextricably linked.

Number six had mentioned that 'su five' had been surrounded and killed by the people from the heavens beyond heaven. This was enough to prove that 'su five' was not an ordinary person. It was very likely that he was a high-level existence in the God's trial.

After his death, the 'God destroying technique' reappeared and he obtained it by chance. It was possible that the remnant soul of 'su Wu' was not destroyed and his consciousness was attached to the 'God destroying technique'.

After he had exchanged for the deity vanquishing technique, it was very likely that his remnant spiritual sense had also entered his soul.

At this moment, song qingxiao thought about it carefully. The first time the hidden divine sense in her divine soul appeared was after she exchanged for the God destroying technique and was seriously injured by Qian Shan!

When she thought of this, she suddenly felt a headache.

It was no wonder that after tonight's battle, most of the experts of the Shi family had been lured away. The appearance of 'su Wu' at that time should have been a major event for many people.

Thinking that 'he' had died at the hands of a Grandmaster, and that number six's words implied that the reclusive family had yet to come into contact with such a high-level organization, song Qing's heart sank.

In the human realm upon heavens, a figure like Qian Shan almost killed her. Now that she had ascended to the fake dan stage, she still had a vague feeling that she was no match for Qian Shan when she thought about the power of his finger.

One could imagine how dangerous 'fifth su' was to be surrounded and attacked by people from the heavens beyond heaven. Such a terrifying person was currently hiding in her body, coveting and wanting to take over her body!

If word got out, no matter if it was the 'God annihilating technique' or 'su five', it would be enough to bring her countless troubles.

What was the trouble caused by the ruckus at the Shi family tonight compared to this?

Not to mention, with his current strength, how could he completely drive away and destroy such a dangerous person?

Su Wu had come because of the 'deity vanquishing art'. If the 'deity vanquishing art' disappeared, it was very likely that he would also be annihilated..

Chapter 560: Exchange (1)

However, even if there was such a method, song qingxiao would not be willing to do so.

As one's cultivation level increased, the power of the 'deity vanquishing technique' would gradually be revealed. When one cultivated it to the highest level, it was as if they had stepped into another world. How could song qingxiao bear to give it up?

Since he couldn't bear to give up, he could only accept this fact.

It was just that such a terrifying existence could appear at any time and devour his consciousness. Song Qing felt as if there was a time bomb in his soul.

Once again, she tried to use her divine sense to find 'su five' who was hiding in her spirit and called out to 'su five' with her divine sense, but she did not get any response.

For some reason, song qingxiao felt that 'su five' should be able to hear her call, but it was very likely that he just ignored her.

After a long time, she had to give up temporarily.

However, she needed to be more careful in the future. She could not give 'su Wu' the chance to occupy her body like this again. In general, her current strength was not enough. If she was strong enough, where would she have these troubles?

She suppressed the matter of su Wu and couldn't help but think of the dying heir of the Shi family.

After she left tonight, the Shi family would arrive one after another. They should be able to save his life.

However, if he did that, there was a possibility that his secret would be exposed.

He had seen her lower body transform into a human form with a long tail. Once he told her, it would be troublesome for her.

Fortunately, this was the first time the heir of the Shi family had met her, so he might not be able to find out her identity. (Song qingxiao guessed that he probably didn't even notice her when they met at the hospital.)

However, she didn't know if it was because she knew that su Wu existed in her consciousness, but song qingxiao actually felt that this matter was not the most troublesome thing for her.

This heir of the Shi family had a special Constitution. He had a huge amount of spiritual energy in his body, but his consciousness was weak. He didn't know how to cultivate, so he could die from the backlash of the energy in his body at any time.

It was a waste for the spiritual power to accumulate in his body. Compared to hiding in his body and preparing to take over his body, it was better for su Wu to think of a way to take over the weak Prince.

One's physical body was already dead, leaving only his divine sense;

One didn't have long to live, and it would be a pity for his spiritual energy to dissipate if he died. It was better to contribute it to solve his urgent need and save his life!

This way, they hit it off and each took what they needed.

As soon as she thought of this, a cold snort suddenly came from her soul. "Hmph!"

This 'Hmph' caused song Qing's body to tremble, ""Who is it?"

As soon as she finished it, she seemed to realize something.

"Su Wu?"

There was no longer any response from the previous cold snorting divine sense. Song qingxiao's expression was uncertain. This voice appearing in her sea of consciousness made her even more certain of the identity of this divine sense.

Su Wu was hiding in her body, sharing the same body with her. Her strength and divine sense were far inferior to his, so it was possible that he knew everything she was thinking.

But before this, he had not said a word. Even when he had escaped from the trial of the terror camp and suspected his existence because of the loss of control of the God-destroying spell in the undead altar, he had not said a word.

She recalled what she had been thinking about before. She thought of Shi Yue's special physique. His body contained a terrifying spiritual power, but he did not have long to live. It was as if he had a Treasure Mountain but did not know how to use it. It was more suitable for su Wu to possess!

When this thought came to his mind again, the voice in his sea of consciousness sounded again,"

"Hmph!"

This time, it was obvious that he was disdainful. The voice was cold, and it was a man. From the voice, he seemed much younger than song Qing had imagined, and there was a hint of arrogance.

Song qingxiao's eyes flashed when she heard su Wu's cold snort again.

"You don't agree with this?"

It was a good thing that the divine sense in her body could respond to her. Once she could communicate with it, it meant that she could negotiate with it and live in peace for the time being, which was beneficial to her.

However, su Wu had spoken twice because of Shi Yue. She was not sure if he would answer her after she asked this question.

She waited for a while and was about to ask again when su Wu's voice rang in her mind again,"

“A man-made defective product is worthy of being mentioned in the same breath as me?”

He seemed to be extremely dissatisfied with song qingxiao's previous thoughts, but after he spoke, song qingxiao was delighted.

However, after the joy, she couldn't help but have doubts, man-made defective products?”

Although the meridians in Shi Yue's body had been transformed into some kind of restriction that balanced the spiritual power, she guessed that this transformation was to appease the spiritual power in his body that was obviously not under his personal control.

What did su Wu mean by 'man-made defective product'?

“It's just a meaningless effort to try and resist the divine incarcerate.” Perhaps it was because he had made a sound, but when song qingxiao asked again, su Wu actually answered her question.

When he mentioned 'fighting against the divine incarcerate', his tone seemed to be a little complicated.

“Fight against the divine incarcerate?” Song qingxiao couldn't help but mumble,” what's a divine prison?”

But no matter how she called out with her divine sense, su Wu in her body no longer responded to her.

Unexpectedly, she managed to get some information from su Wu through her conversation with him. Although she did not understand what he meant, song qingxiao still remembered a few key words in her heart.

After coming out of the bathroom, he saw the silver Wolf lying in the house, licking the wounds on its body alone.

When it heard the sound of song Qing coming out, it stopped and slowly raised its head to look at her.

The lights in the room were not on, and there was a dim light in the bathroom. Under the light, its eyes were green, like two flickering lights.

After a while, as if it was certain that she would not go over, the silver Wolf lowered its head again, and the sound of it licking its fur came from the house.

Its breath was a little weak. Tonight, it was besieged by Sangu and the others. When it was besieged, it forced its way into the battle and suffered two attacks.

After hiding in the Shi family's residence, she had 'taught' him a lesson, worsening his injuries.

After that, the man and the wolf rushed back to the reserve team. Under such circumstances, even if the silver Wolf's physique was strong, it was inevitable that it would be injured.

However, perhaps because of its previous living environment, it was used to not showing its weakness. The more injured it was, the more likely it would be on guard against others, just like before.

She found a plate in the house, summoned the mysterious dagger, and walked closer to the silver Wolf.

The silver Wolf saw her coming over and stood up immediately. Its eyes revealed a vigilant look, and it whimpered as it slowly began to retreat.

'Oh.' Seeing its guarded look, Song Qing chuckled and cut her palm with the dagger. Blood dripped down and covered the basin..
