

Watch Out 59

Chapter 59: Don't say

Everyone in the hospital was shocked. No one expected that song qingxiao would accuse Zhang Xiaoyu of being the murderer of doctor ou.

actually, from the beginning, I didn't suspect you, even though I had many doubts in my heart.

Song qingxiao sighed. Zhang Xiaoyu closed her eyes and sniffed.

Every word she said seemed to be a huge blow to Zhang Xiaoyu, making her lower her head and her sharp chin almost touching her chest.

Because of the mission, song qingxiao had set her sights on the participants from the start and treated all the 'people' in the hospital as citizens who needed her protection.

The first thing she was wary of was the trial-taker who was also in the mission scene, and she did not suspect the character in the scene.

As more and more suspicious points appeared, number Five's previous words had also woken song Qing up.

He mentioned that at the beginning of the mission, the big man with the gun should be a Hunter. After some consideration, song qingxiao agreed with number five.

The big man with the gun had an unruly character. After becoming a Hunter, the moment he entered the mission scene and saw doctor Zhou, who might have been killed by him in the last trial, his first reaction as a Hunter should be to shoot and kill.

What he didn't expect was that after killing the man, he would be quickly subdued by the other nurses and security guards who had rushed over.

After his gun was confiscated and he was injected with drugs, he was placed in a level one Ward due to the uniqueness of the scenario and became one of the new patients in the hospital.

In other words, from that moment on, in this trial, the spear-wielding burly man was the first to undergo a change in identity among the six participants. After losing his weapon and being imprisoned, his identity changed from one of the participating hunters to the one who should be protected, and he lost the qualification to participate in the trial.

When number five said this, he emphasized the change in number six's identity. After number six killed the burly man, he changed from a protector to a Hunter. When number five mentioned this and tried to incite song qingxiao to fight with number six, song qingxiao thought of a key point that everyone had overlooked.

If the identity of the gun-wielding man was accidentally changed with the identity of the character in the scene, did it mean that once the character in the scene changed his mind, his identity would also change and become a source of danger like the Hunter?

Song qingxiao looked at Zhang Xiaoyu and said with some regret,"

"I really didn't expect you to be the murderer who killed doctor ou."

Number six was in disbelief, and even number five was a little dazed. The other nurses around them heard song qingxiao's words and were both afraid and angry. Some of them wanted to refute song qingxiao, but because she had killed Jia Yue, they found number five when they went upstairs. She had also mentioned to number five and number six that the woman who fell down the fourth floor's emergency exit had also died in her hands. They were afraid of her and did not dare to yell at her for fear of angering her.

"That's impossible."

Liu yixun frowned and shook his head. He didn't want to believe song qingxiao."We've made it clear to you. We've been working together in the hospital for many years, and we're very close to each other. We all know Xiaoyu's character. She didn't kill doctor ou. It was you outsiders who killed him!"

“Doctor ou died of asphyxiation. He was strangled to death by a soft tube with an IV drip.” Song qingxiao had expected their intense reaction.

Not only did the ‘people’ in the scenario not believe her, even No. 5 and No. 6 were probably skeptical.

“On the night of doctor ou’s death, No. 6 made some noise on the fourth floor and killed the burly man. He then led No. 4 upstairs.”

She pointed at No. 6. When she mentioned No. 4, Liu Yichen and the others knew that she was referring to the new female doctor under doctor ou.

When everyone heard her mention the scene that night, it seemed that many people followed her words and recalled the situation. A few nurses bit their lips and cried in fear.

“When I heard the commotion that night, I also rushed upstairs and fought with No. 4.”

At that time, the people on duty on the fourth floor had heard the noise clearly. However, the third floor was also very noisy. The hospital had always been tight-handed, so they could not free up anyone to help at the moment.

“When doctor ou died, I was still in the safety corridor.”

In other words, song qingxiao was not on the third floor when doctor ou got into the accident, however, after the incident subsided, everyone came to the scene. Liu Yichen once asked everyone’s whereabouts to find out who the murderer was..
