Chapter 101 Worry

Mrs. Qi smiled and shook her head, then she glanced at Xiao Ming Wei and said, “Vivi, the dress you’re wearing looks the same as the one you’re wearing.” Aside from the size, the color and style were identical.

“Mhm, they are the same. Before coming to North City, I bought these back home, thinking that Vivi and I would look nice wearing them together.” Recently, the clothes worn by Kang Li and the three little ones were all from that system lottery draw.

“Ruirui and Hanhan are also wearing clothes you bought in your city, aren’t they?”

Xiao Ming Rui and Brother Ming Han wore pure white, round-necked short-sleeve shirts and dark blue overalls shorts, looking exceptionally cute and fair.

Kang Li nodded: “Mhm.”

Mrs. Qi: “You have good taste, girl. Let’s go shopping at the department store together sometime.”

Kang Li: “Okay.”

After sending off Mrs. Qi and her grandchildren, Kang Li prepared dinner. After the family had eaten, many visitors had already arrived to watch TV without even waiting for her to tidy up the kitchen.

Like the previous days, Kang Li had the neighborhood boy move the television to the entrance of the living room while she busied herself with other things.

After two episodes of the drama series ended, the neighbor boy named Xue Chong moved the television and its stand back to their original spots in the living room without waiting for Kang Li to say anything.

“Aunt Kang, I’m heading back now.”

“Okay, goodbye.”

“Aunt Kang, goodbye.” After sending the young man out the gate, Kang Li returned to the courtyard and casually closed the gate behind her.

At first, it was quite awkward for Kang Li to be called ‘auntie’ by a teenaged boy taller than her, but she understood that he addressed her as such according to Luo Yanqing and his parents’ generational status. Once she realized this, her discomfort vanished like smoke.

“Aren’t you sleeping yet? Can’t fall asleep because you’re so excited that Dad is coming home tomorrow?”

Kang Li pushed open the bedroom door of the three little ones, and not only was the light on, but the three kids were lying on their beds with their eyes wide open and shimmering, showing no sign of sleepiness.

“Mommy!”

The twins climbed up and sat up in bed, calling Kang Li with their babyish voices.

Ruirui also sat up, but he pursed his lips and remained silent.

Closing the door behind her, Kang Li replied and then said with a smile: “You’re all so happy, it seems Mommy guessed right.”

Caught off guard, the twins stared blankly for a moment, then Xiao Ming Wei raised her little childish voice: “Mommy, Vivi really, really misses Daddy, but Vivi... but Vivi doesn’t know what Daddy looks like. Mommy, do you think Daddy will like us when he sees Vivi, big brother, and second brother?”

Xiao Ming Han: “Mommy, is Daddy really coming home tomorrow?”

“Mhm, Granny Qi told us when she came over, didn’t she? Your daddy is coming home tomorrow.”

Kang Li said, looking at Xiao Ming Han, and then shifted her gaze towards Xiao Ming Wei and back to Xiao Ming Han with a gentle expression and answered Xiao Ming Wei's question:

"Daddy is your daddy, of course, he likes you. But Dad is so busy with work that it is hard for him to come home often. It's understandable that you don't remember what Daddy looks like. Oh, wait a moment..."

She left the room of the three little rascals and returned shortly after. Kang Li handed Xiao Ming Wei a photo: "This is your daddy. Take a good look, then show it to your second brother and big brother."

Speaking of which, Kang Li thought it was quite strange. In this house, whether it was the bedroom or the study, there was not a single photo to be seen—no one's, not a single one.

Even the photo she just gave to Xiao Ming Wei was merely a two-inch black-and-white one that seemed to have been taken recently.

Could it be that someone disliked having their photo taken?
