Chapter 103: Little Little Fairy

Xiao Ming Wei: “Really? Mommy!”

Kang Li had a smile at the corner of her lips and nodded with a “Hmm”.

“Mommy, Hanhan wants to go with Mommy,”

Xiao Ming Han persisted.

Kang Li: “Mommy isn’t going to play, she’s going to buy groceries for our family.” She pinched the little one’s chubby face and added, “And Mommy will buy meat and big chicken legs for our Hanhan.”

Having heard what Kang Li said, Xiao Ming Han tilted his head, thought for a moment, and finally gave in, “Then... alright then!” He wanted to taste the big chicken legs, the “braised pork” Mommy made.

Remembering the delicious aroma of braised pork and big chicken legs, Xiao Ming Han couldn’t help but lick his lips.

Having settled the twins to come along, Kang Li said no more and took the three little ones to the Song Family’s home.

“Auntie Qi, could you please take care of them for a while?”

Looking at Mrs. Qi, Kang Li had a graceful and serene smile that was both warm and refreshing. She added, “By the way, Auntie Qi, do you still have vegetables at home? I can buy some for you as well!”

Mrs. Qi shook her head with a smile, “No need, I bought quite a bit yesterday. We have enough for today.”

Upon hearing this, Kang Li smiled, “If that’s the case, I’ll make a quick trip.” She then looked at the three little ones, “Mommy will be back very soon.”

The three little ones stood next to Song Xuan, bobbing their little heads in agreement.

As soon as Kang Li left, Mrs. Qi’s face beamed with a smile, inviting Min Rui and the three little ones along with her grandson, Song Xuan, to the living room to play.

“Vivi, did your mom buy the little dress you’re wearing today?”

Xiao Ming Wei wore a white princess dress today with slightly raised little dots of the same color. The dress had a doll collar and short sleeves, with a dark blue ribbon tied into a bow at the center of the flip collar, which was also adorned with ribbons of the same color and width at the collar and the hem.

It is worth mentioning that there's a single loop of ribbon at the collar and two at the hem, spaced about the width of a finger apart.

The whole dress was simple yet elegant but lively. Xiao Ming Wei, wearing it, looked no less charming than the dress she wore yesterday.

"Grandma Qi, the pretty dress was bought by Mommy for Vivi, and Vivi really, really likes it,"

Xiao Ming Wei said sweetly, twirling in place as she held her dress. She then touched her bun hairdo and the two strawberry hair clips adorning it, her eyes curving into crescents, "Mommy made a bun for me today and pinned strawberry clips in it, Grandma Qi, do you think it looks nice?"

"It looks lovely."

Mrs. Qi responded with a kind smile, nodding, "Your mommy is very skillful, dressing our Vivi every day as pretty as a little fairy."

Batting her eyelashes and tilting her head thoughtfully, Xiao Ming Wei then solemnly said, "Grandma Qi, Vivi's mommy is a fairy, and Vivi is the fairy's daughter, um... a tiny fairy, exactly!"

...

Kang Li carried her vegetable basket and headed to the nearest vegetable supply point. As she had thought before, there were indeed quite a few people queuing to buy vegetables and meat.

“Big sister, are you also here to buy vegetables?”

Hearing a voice near her ear, Kang Li was initially startled but then nodded slightly as she realized she was being addressed, her lips twitching imperceptibly.

She was holding a vegetable basket; it was evident she was here to buy vegetables. Was there really a need to ask?

However, it was clear that the person wanted to strike up a conversation, and naturally, Kang Li wouldn't be rude by showing annoyance. She said, “I'm going to the meat section to line up.”

Getting meat wasn't easy, and without hurrying to line up, it might be difficult to buy any today.
