

Weak B 1081

Chapter 1081:

“I am not making false accusations; the child is Kang Guoan’s!”

Yang Zijuan hysterically said, “It was you who destroyed the relationship between Kang Guoan and me, you who caused Kang Guoan and me to separate, leaving my child fatherless. You are a vixen, and shameless!”

Pointing her finger at Kang Li, Yang Zijuan’s eyes were filled with fury, her mouth spouting vulgarities.

The commotion here was significant, attracting not only many students but also the department and school leaders mentioned by Kang Guoan.

As onlookers heard what Kang Li said, all of them looked at Yang Zijuan with disdain, believing Yang Zijuan to be of poor character, causing trouble for Kang Guoan and Kang Li, the siblings, at Shuimu University.

Since Kang Li was already quite famous, and Kang Guoan was a prominent figure in their department, along with their frequent appearances together and transparency about their sibling relationship, based on this, the onlookers undoubtedly chose to believe Kang Li’s words, feeling deeply that Yang Zijuan was like a mad dog.

“Comrade Yang Zijuan, please watch your words!”

Kang Guoan’s expression was calm; his deep eyes stared directly at Yang Zijuan as he spoke deliberately: “There has never been any relationship between you and me. Before, at the workplace, when you pestered me and proposed a relationship,

I rejected you at the first opportunity, yet you blatantly ignored my refusal and continued to pursue me. To make you give up, I said I already had someone, but even though I made it clear, you refused to let go... It was indeed very troubling for me then, and I thought about directly going to the leadership to clarify your persistent harassment, but considering you are a female comrade, I decided to save you some face, so I asked my sister to pretend to be my girlfriend at the workplace, hoping that upon seeing her, you would come to your senses, realizing that emotions cannot be forced. But even after saving you face, you insist on bringing shame upon yourself with your desperate actions. Don’t you find your behavior disgraceful?”

“Big brother, don’t get angry; it’s not worth it.”

Kang Li noticed Kang Guoan gradually changing his expression and gently advised him.

"I'm fine." Kang Guoan shook his head at Kang Li and turned his gaze back to Yang Zijuan: "After you were taken to the hospital, your two brothers blamed me without discernment, came looking for trouble and attacked me, and because of your family's chaos, your family's employment situations changed later.

Now you're making things up and bringing a child to falsely accuse me. Do you think that just because you left North City, no one will know what happened afterward?"

At this point, the leader of their department, a middle-aged man, spoke: "Comrade Yang Zijuan, I have already clarified these matters with the supervisors of Kang Guoan's previous workplace, and with the officers at the police station near his former workplace. The leaders of the company where Kang Guoan worked got in touch with your parents, and from them, we learned that you married half a year after leaving North City, had the child after marriage, and divorced at the end of last year due to marital discord. You actively sought custody of the child. What else do you have to say now?"

This department leader, surnamed Gao, is the department head, medium in stature, wearing black-rimmed glasses, which generally gave a gentle impression, but at this moment, his gaze towards Yang Zijuan was anything but friendly.

It's understandable, really; a talented student from his department was unjustly accused by a young woman from society. Knowing the reason, no one would show the other party a kind face.

Chapter 1082 -

"I won't listen, I won't listen! Kang Guoan is mine, you're all bullying me!"

Yang Zijuan covered her ears, her eyes were red, shaking her head as if she had gone mad.

The little boy standing by her legs was trembling, but he pressed his lips tightly, not daring to cry out loud.

"Let's all disperse. Regarding the rumors about Classmate Kang Guoan, I have clarified the truth here. I hope students won't spread misinformation and tarnish Classmate Kang Guoan's reputation."

After Director Gao's words were heard, some school leaders also spoke a few sentences. Soon, the surrounding students began to disperse.

Kang Li stood without moving.

Kang Guoan did the same.

Yang Zijuan obviously seemed unwell, as if she had lost her mind.

As for Yang Zijuan's child, Director Gao had taken him aside.

Father Yang and Mother Yang arrived quickly.

They used their connections and were transferred back to North City in early March, but not to North City Petrochemical. Instead, they were transferred to two different units.

Upon learning that their daughter had brought their grandson to Shuimu University to cause trouble, the couple hurried to meet, called a taxi, and rushed over.

"Classmate Kang, I'm really sorry, our Juanjuan... she's got some mental issues. She's not trying to bother you intentionally; it's just... she can't control herself. Please don't take it to heart."

Mother Yang tightly hugged her daughter, preventing her struggle. The person apologizing to Kang Guoan at this moment was Father Yang, whose temples were gray and eyes filled with sorrow, clearly having been troubled by this daughter for quite some time.

"If there is an illness, it should be treated. I don't want today's situation to happen again."

Seeing the sincere attitude of the other, Kang Guoan did not make things difficult for Father Yang. He spoke while looking toward Director Gao: "Director, thank you!" Then he also thanked the school leadership.

Director Gao shook his head and said gently, "It's nothing. Your innocence speaks for itself, and as your department head, I was just doing my duty."

The school leadership just waved his hand without saying much.

Father Yang picked up the grandson, and together with Mother Yang, forcibly took Yang Zijuan away.

"You don't have class this afternoon?"

That's what Kang Guoan said to Kang Li.

"Huh?" Kang Li was first startled, then realized and said, "I do have class!"

"Then why are you not headed back to class?"

Kang Guoan raised an eyebrow.

Kang Li blinked: "I'm leaving now." With that, she greeted Director Gao and the school leadership before quickly walking away.

"Classmate Kang Guoan, your sister Classmate Kang Li seems very lively!"

Hearing Director Gao say that, Kang Guoan withdrew his gaze from Kang Li's departing back, looked at Director Gao, nodded, and laughed saying, "She is indeed quite lively."

"Alright, Classmate Kang Guoan, please return to the classroom. Don't let today's matter affect your studies."

The school leadership was an elderly man, his hair was white, and he looked at Kang Guoan with a very kind gaze.

"Okay."

Kang Guoan nodded, bid farewell to the school leadership and Director Gao, then turned and entered the classroom.

...

"Kang Li, wait a moment!" Wang Pan saw Kang Li preparing to leave the classroom after finishing a large class and two small classes in the afternoon and couldn't help but call her back.

"What's up?"

Kang Li hugged all the textbooks she had brought to class today, looking at Wang Pan with a puzzled expression.

"Let's talk outside." Wang Pan bit her lip, got up from her seat: "Let's go." Her expression was aggrieved, whereas Kang Li remained calm, as if she hadn't noticed anything amiss.

Both walked out of the classroom and headed to a flower bed nearby.

"Why didn't you speak to me all afternoon?"

Chapter 1083

Wang Pan's eyes glistened with tears.

"I have to listen in class, and during the break, I'm reading." Kang Li said succinctly, her meaning was obvious—not that she didn't want to talk to you, but she didn't have time.

"No." Wang Pan shook her head, she said, "You're upset with me."

Kang Li frowned, "Why do you say that?"

"You were fine at noon; we went to the bathroom together after class, chatting and laughing. Even in class, when I talked to you, you'd respond occasionally. But this afternoon, you changed... Kang Li, you're definitely blaming me for not trusting your big brother, right?"

Wang Pan stared into Kang Li's eyes, trying to clearly see the emotional changes in Kang Li's gaze.

However, Kang Li's eyes remained calm and indifferent, showing no signs of abnormality. She said, "You're overthinking." After a slight pause, she curled her lips into a smile, "If there's nothing else, I won't say much more."

Wang Pan's lips quivered, but she remained silent for a long time.

Seeing this, Kang Li said "Goodbye," then turned and walked away.

Unexpectedly, after standing still for a while, Wang Pan quickly caught up, "Kang Li!" She called out to her again, asking, "You won't tell your big brother, right?"

Hearing this, Kang Li's expression became slightly complex. She sighed secretly, and when Wang Pan stood in front of her, she said lightly, "I said I wouldn't interfere in matters between you and my big brother. I will keep my word."

After saying that, Kang Li was about to walk past Wang Pan, but then Wang Pan asked again, "Why didn't you talk to me this afternoon?"

"Wang Pan..." Kang Li's expression was somewhat indescribable. She said, "By the flowerbed, I already told you clearly, and now you're asking me again. Do you really find my words so unbelievable?"

In fact, Kang Li did have some feelings.

She was very protective, whether before she came to this world or after, she couldn't tolerate anyone wronging the people she cared about in any way.

And Wang Pan's lack of trust in Kang Guoan wasn't actually a big deal. After all, they hadn't officially started dating and didn't know much about each other. Suddenly hearing that someone they liked already had someone, and had left both that person and their child, would probably make anyone somewhat doubt Kang Guoan's character.

But understanding was one thing, Kang Li still felt uncomfortable.

Maybe these feelings would dissipate before long, but right now she wanted to follow her heart; she didn't feel like chatting and laughing with Wang Pan as usual.

"I..."

Wang Pan wanted to say no, that she did trust Kang Li, but the words just wouldn't come out.

"See you tomorrow."

Withdrawing her gaze from Wang Pan, Kang Li didn't hesitate anymore and walked away quickly.

"What happened?"

Back at the small building, as soon as Kang Li stepped into the living room, she heard Luo Yanqing's voice.

"Didn't you leave the courtyard this afternoon?"

Placing her textbooks on the coffee table, Kang Li sat on the sofa.

"I stayed in the study reading all afternoon," Luo Yanqing said as he carefully observed Kang Li, "Did something happen?" Kang Li pursed her lips, was silent for a moment, nodded, and with evident irritation in her voice said: "Do you remember my big brother being pestered by a female colleague from his work unit?"

Luo Yanqing pondered for a moment, then said, "Vaguely. I recall the director mentioning it. I wanted to go directly to North City Petrochemical, but the director stopped me at that time. Why, has that female colleague come to Shuimu University to pester your big brother again after all these years?"

Chapter 1084

"Mm." Kang Li nodded, with a hint of annoyance, said, "That woman is named Yang Zijuan. After leaving North City for half a year, she got married, divorced her husband last year, and now she's brought her son to Shuimu University. As soon as she entered the campus, she spread rumors saying she's my little brother's partner, claiming my little brother abandoned her and their child..."

Upon hearing this, Luo Yanqing frowned, "Then why didn't you come back to find me?"

"I heard about it from classmates in the classroom, so I hurried to find my little brother..." As Kang Li reached this point, she stopped talking, only for Luo Yanqing to continue, "You're worried about your little brother being taken advantage of." It was not a question, but a statement.

Kang Li: "I am indeed worried about my little brother being taken advantage of, but everything is resolved now."

Luo Yanqing remained silent for a while, then asked, "How was it resolved?"

"My little brother told their department head about it, who then contacted the leader of my little brother's previous workplace, and then their workplace got in touch with Yang Zijuan's parents. That's how the truth came out, narrated word by word by my little brother's department head, and the classmates present heard everything clearly. Surely they won't spread rumors about my little brother anymore."

Upon hearing Kang Li's explanation, Luo Yanqing relaxed, "That's good." Yet he noticed Kang Li still seemed unhappy, and couldn't help asking, "Is there anything else?"

"I... I told you not to laugh at me!"

Puffing her cheeks, Kang Li looked straight into Luo Yanqing's eyes, "Promise not to laugh at me, and then I'll tell you."

"What would I laugh at you for?"

Finds it amusing, Luo Yanqing said, "Go ahead, I swear on my personality, whatever you say, I won't laugh at you." Seeing the man's expression turn serious, unlike joking with her, Kang Li finally confided about her issue with Wang Pan, "I understand, you don't have to overthink. If I were you, I'd have my feelings too."

Sitting beside Kang Li, Luo Yanqing embraced his little girl, "So you really don't plan to intervene in your classmate and little brother's matter?"

"No, I won't."

Kang Li said, "You know..." Before Kang Li could finish, Luo Yanqing spoke up, "Know what?"

"Relationships involve two people, outsiders meddling is not good."

Kang Li laid her head on Luo Yanqing's shoulder, with a bit of nasal sound; well, she was actually acting cute to Luo Yanqing at this point, and she heard:

"Wang Pan is not bad, she's just too naive, even more so than Yangyang's girlfriend, clearly spoiled by her family. Perhaps..."

Perhaps she and my little brother are not suitable for each other. I'd rather remain a spectator; if my little brother feels good about Wang Pan while interacting, thinks they're compatible, as a sister, I would congratulate them!"

Luo Yanqing: "During the Spring Festival, I didn't hear your little brother mention he's dating someone?"

Kang Li: "Even if he's dating, why would my little brother tell you? Wang Pan visits my little brother every now and then, I know, and I know every time Wang Pan goes to see my little brother, she brings love letters, but my little brother has only received one so far."

Pausing slightly, Kang Li added, "That was during winter break. Just not sure if my little brother has opened it."

"If you really want to know, you can ask in front of him."

Luo Yanqing suggested.

Kang Li shook her head, "No, that's impolite."

"Should I ask for you?" Luo Yanqing, his Phoenix Eyes filled with laughter and doting, hearing this, Kang Li straightened up and looked at Luo Yanqing:

Chapter 1085

"I won't allow it! You're a big man, gossiping like this isn't good, maybe my little brother will laugh at you."

Luo Yanqing laughed and said, "I don't care."

"I care." Kang Li glared, "Don't go asking my brother, I'll tell you, I'm not the least bit curious, my brother's business is his own, even my parents don't care, naturally, as his sister, I won't either."

"Alright, I won't ask." Luo Yanqing felt warmth in his heart, being cared for by his girl, it made him very happy! "Xiao Li, once I return to the institute, you must take good care of yourself, don't overexert yourself studying."

Kang Li: "I'm not a bookworm. Besides, I have a photographic memory; I can finish a book in no time, and my comprehension skills are top-notch. Getting the hang of a book is a piece of cake for me, I definitely won't be burning the midnight oil studying."

"Did you forget?"

Kang Li was puzzled, what did she forget? Why didn't she know?

"You're not only pursuing two majors but also planning to graduate early, are you sure you won't be staying up late studying?" Luo Yanqing's eyes showed a hint of teasing, looking at her, Kang Li snorted with pride, "Underestimating me, huh?! I'm not going to exhaust myself just for pursuing two majors and early graduation."

"I don't know now, but you have to remember what I said."

Holding Kang Li's hand tightly, Luo Yanqing said, "You rest in the living room, I'll go to the kitchen to cook."

"Is the porridge ready?"

Kang Li casually asked.

"It was just done before you came in, once the dishes are ready, we can eat." Luo Yanqing said, standing up, stretching his long legs, and headed towards the kitchen.

Kang Li raised her voice to ask, "You don't need my help?"

"No need."

Luo Yanqing responded.

"So we... so we're really not going back to the courtyard?" When Kang Li said this, Luo Yanqing paused, turned back to look at Kang Li: "We can't break our promise."

Kang Li asked, "You're actually saying I can't break my promise, right?"

"You knew, that's good."

Curving his lips into a smile, Luo Yanqing chuckled, then returned his gaze, continuing towards the kitchen.

In the next three days, apart from attending classes, Kang Li spent cozy days with Luo Yanqing in their little building.

This day was Saturday.

The time was almost nearing one in the afternoon.

As the two returned to the courtyard, before reaching their home's gate, they saw Min Rui and his bunch playing under the big banyan tree outside the courtyard with Xiao Loh En.

And just then, Xiao Loh En inadvertently looked up, the next moment, the little guy got up, with his two small legs moving quickly, ran towards them.

"Mommy Daddy! Mommy Daddy..."

Xiao Loh En's young and cute voice called out, he called to Kang Li and Luo Yanqing repeatedly.

Kang Li naturally responded with a smile.

When Xiao Loh En ran to her and Luo Yanqing, Luo Yanqing, for some reason, flicked his fingers lightly against the little guy's forehead.

"..." Xiao Loh En tilted his little head back, with a tense face looked at Luo Yanqing for a moment, then, in his soft voice, complained to Kang Li: "Mommy, Daddy is being mean!" His little hand touched his forehead, Xiao Loh En's big eyes full of grievance.

Kang Li squatted down, laughingly said, "Your daddy is just playing with you."

Luo Yanqing bent over, picked up Xiao Loh En, raised an eyebrow to ask, "Does it hurt?" He just flicked lightly.

Shaking his little head, Xiao Loh En used his little hands to wrap around Luo Yanqing's neck, with a "muah" sound, gave Luo Yanqing a kiss.

Instantly, Luo Yanqing's expression looked a bit awkward.

Chapter 1086 Going Home

"Alright, let's go home."

She lightly patted Luo Yanqing's arm, then chuckled aloud, "Feeling so awkward just because our little En kissed you?!"

"No."

Luo Yanqing definitely wouldn't admit that he felt awkward.

"Dad, Mom, you're back?!" the three of Min Rui exclaimed with smiles appearing on their faces as they saw Luo Yanqing holding Xiao Loh En and walking over with Kang Li.

"Yes."

Luo Yanqing nodded to the three of Min Rui, responding to them.

Kang Li smiled with her eyes, "Let's go, we're heading home." The three of Min Rui nodded in agreement and followed Kang Li and Luo Yanqing through the garden gate.

Mid-afternoon.

"Little bro, you came to the compound without even telling me. It would've been nice to call you when Luo Yanqing and I headed back!" Kang Li hadn't expected Kang Guoan to come to the compound, and when Kang Guoan came into the living room, she couldn't help but say with a laugh.

Upon hearing this, Kang Guoan explained, "I suddenly wanted to come over to see mom and the four little ones, Ruirui and the others."

"Oh, I see..." Looking at Kang Guoan, Kang Li's gaze turned slightly gossiping, "You weren't just feeling troubled, were you? So you thought to come out for a walk and see mom, but only as a side thing?"

Kang Guoan was stunned for a moment, then he asked, "You found out?"

Kang Li blinked her beautiful fox-eyes, looking puzzled, "I don't understand what you're talking about, little bro."

The three of Min Rui were having their afternoon nap and hadn't woken up yet, while Luo Yanqing was reading in the study. In the living room at this moment, only Kang Li and Cai Xiufen were present.

Seeing this, Kang Guoan pursed his lips slightly and fell silent for a while, before sitting down on a nearby bamboo chair, saying to Kang Li, "That classmate of yours has been coming to our department every day for the past two or three days. She sees me and looks like she's about to speak but then stops, and before long, her eyes are full of tears. I ask her what happened, but she doesn't say a word. What's going on?"

Kang Li rested her head on Luo Yanqing's shoulder with a bit of nasal sound, well, truthfully, she was acting spoiled to Luo Yanqing at this moment. She said,

"Wang Pan isn't bad, she's just a bit too naive, even more so than Yangyang's girlfriend. She's obviously been pampered while growing up, so perhaps..."

Maybe she's not right for my little bro. I think I should just be an observer. If he feels she's good and thinks they get along while seeing Wang Pan, as his sister, I'll congratulate them!"

Luo Yanqing: "I didn't hear little bro mention he's dating anyone during Spring Festival."

Kang Li: "Little bro wouldn't tell you even if he was. Besides, I've known that Wang Pan frequently goes to see him, and I know every time she does, she delivers love letters. But up till now, little bro has only accepted one."

After a brief pause, Kang Li added, "He accepted it during the winter break. I just don't know if little bro has opened it to read."

"If you're really curious, you could ask him directly."

Luo Yanqing suggested.

Kang Li shook her head, "No, that would be very rude."

"Then should I ask on your behalf?" Luo Yanqing's phoenix eyes were filled with laughter and affection. Hearing this, Kang Li adjusted herself to sit upright, looking at Luo Yanqing. Kang Guoan explained, "I suddenly wanted to come over to see mom and the four little ones, Ruirui and the others."

"Oh, I see..." Looking at Kang Guoan, Kang Li's gaze turned slightly gossiping, "You weren't just feeling troubled, were you? So you thought to come out for a walk and see mom, but only as a side thing?"

Kang Guoan was stunned for a moment, then he asked, "You found out?"

Kang Li blinked her beautiful fox-eyes, looking puzzled, "I don't understand what you're talking about, little bro."

Chapter 1087 Weren't You Raised Spoiled by Our Family?

Hearing Kang Guoan say this, Cai Xiufen was momentarily at a loss for words; she too disliked girls who constantly cried and felt wronged.

Especially when thinking about having such a daughter-in-law in the family, she's unsure of the conflicts it might create for the Old Kang's Home.

But if her son likes her and insists on marrying her, she wouldn't stand up to be the villain. After the two get married, she'd just let them live on their own, out of sight, out of mind, letting the couple live their own lives.

However, what did she hear now?

The brat says he's unsure whether he likes the girl; how is she supposed to respond?

There's a good feeling, but not liking the girl being teary-eyed and looking gravely wronged. Thinking this, Cai Xiufen felt her younger son was truly creating trouble for her.

Kang Li also didn't know how to speak to Kang Guoan; for a moment, the living room was silent enough to hear a pin drop. After a while, Kang Li broke the overly quiet atmosphere, and she said:

"Little brother, Wang Pan probably needs you to be proactive in caring for her. After all, she was pampered growing up, and although you accepted her love letter, you haven't officially established a romantic relationship with her.

But in her view, you seem willing to date her. Moreover, from receiving that love letter to now, you haven't been without seeing each other, which easily creates a misunderstanding for Wang Pan, thinking you are already dating, and you never express your emotions in front of her, like showing concern or caring about her preferences, so she harbors these thoughts, but she has reservations and doesn't know how to speak to you, so she can only use her own way to catch your attention and have you care for her."

Upon hearing this, Kang Guoan frowned: "Did she tell you this?" Showing concern and caring about a person's preferences? When did his relationship with the classmate named Wang Pan become this close?

"Not at all." Kang Li shook her head: "I'm just guessing based on Wang Pan's personality." She paused slightly, then continued: "In Wang Pan's family, she's the only girl, whether it's her parents or her brothers, they all adore her, and Wang Pan's family conditions should be quite good, so her personality inevitably became a bit pampered."

"Li Bao, aren't you worried if your little brother dates such a girl, he will be exhausted in the future?"

At this moment, Cai Xiufen developed a dislike for Wang Pan. She had many sons, but this didn't mean she, as a mother, didn't care about her own children. If her son truly marries a crybaby who also loves throwing tantrums, she didn't need to think much; she could already foresee her son's future life.

Kang Li was stunned; her intention was only to inform her little brother Kang Guoan that girls like Wang Pan need to be pampered, and require their partners to take the initiative in their relationship, why did her mother think otherwise?

As if her little brother and Wang Pan would really become a couple, and her little brother would surely be exhausted in the future...

With a blink, Kang Li snapped back, but didn't speak for a long time.

Kang Guoan: "Weren't you pampered growing up by our family?"

His gaze fell on Kang Li as Kang Guoan spoke: "Our parents and we brothers, and Yangyang and these nephews, we all pampered you. This kind of pampering isn't less than what your classmate got from her family, but why didn't you turn out like her, needing others to revolve around you in everything? Why didn't you become like her, unable to express your own thoughts, needing others to guess?"

Chapter 1088 I've Never Seen That

Cai Xiufen: "That's right, our Li Bao has been sensible since she was little. Even though we raised her with love and affection, and her personality is somewhat spoiled, she is clearly different from that girl."

Kang Li blushed: "Mother, I'm actually a bit of a crybaby too." Just not into shedding golden teardrops! Alright, including her mom, the family sees her through rose-colored glasses, which makes her feel quite sweet!

"Do you often end up in tears, as if you've suffered a major grievance?"

This was Kang Guoan's voice.

"Have I never?"

Kang Li's clear and bright eyes seemed fathomless as she tilted her head towards Kang Guoan.

In the memories left by the original body, there indeed was no constant tearful gaze like a little white lotus, as if showing great grievance in front of the family. The girl was typically smiling, even if she was unhappy, it was only short-lived, without needing family persuasion, she could figure out things on her own.

So to speak, the girl could be called a true "sweet and naive", using more pleasant terms would be very innocent, yet caring for her family!

In Kang Li's view, she's a good girl.

In fact, the original was indeed terrific, otherwise, she wouldn't have been adored by the young and old. It's just unfortunate she had Zhou Weimin as a lousy fiancé, leading to her being tricked to the creek at the foot of the mountain by Zhou Weimin through Xu Chunxia, resulting in an incident that switched her essence with someone else's.

Sighing quietly, Kang Li wished that the original owner of this body could... like her, travel to another world or directly become her, experiencing a completely new life.

This isn't pretending to care like a cat crying for a mouse, Kang Li genuinely thinks so.

If the original could awaken in her body, without doing anything, she believed her young brother would surely take good care of the now different sister.

As for the parents who care more about each other than their children, upon learning of her incident and "accidentally" waking up, becoming different from before, they would likely try to compensate for their lack of love and concern.

Because she understands those two, although their feelings are sticky, they do care about their children, but she personally had always been different from kids her age, very self-disciplined, hardly needing parental care, knowing what she wanted to do.

Simply put, her self-discipline never gave their parents a genuine chance to raise a child, nor did it let them experience the joy of parenting.

Especially after her brother Kang Yi was born, she took over everything, making their parents seem like child-making tools, thinking about it made Kang Li chuckle.

Feeling like Kang Chen and Yun Xi often looked at her resentfully, and this resentful gaze followed her since she was a little bun!

I wonder how they would react upon hearing about the incident?

"I've never seen it."

Kang Guoan affirmed.

His voice undoubtedly pulled Kang Li's thoughts back. She then heard her mom say: "When you were little, you smiled at everyone, the villagers all said you were a lucky baby, while Chunxia who was born the same day cried every day, the women in our village secretly called her a crying baby."

Kang Li exclaimed "Oh," and she shifted the topic back to the matter between Kang Guoan and Wang Pan, saying: "Big Brother, Wang Pan is my classmate, but I've told her I won't interfere in the matters between her and you. So now I'm telling you, whatever happens next between you and Wang Pan, I won't intervene either!"

Chapter 1089 You Say I'm Indecisive?

"So what do you think of her?"

Kang Guoan asked.

"Big brother, you just said you wouldn't interfere in my matters with Wang Pan, so why are you asking for my opinion now?" Kang Li pretended to be unhappy: "It's Wang Pan who wants to date you. If you like her, you can try getting along with her. If not, don't give her false hope."

"Li Bao is right."

Cai Xiufen agreed with her precious daughter and turned to Kang Guoan: "Our family hasn't split yet, but in the future, you'll live your own lives. When choosing a partner, since you've said not to let your father and me worry about it, you should make sure of your own feelings. Whatever person you choose, you need to own it. Even if things don't work out, don't come to me regretting it!"

With a playful glint in her eye, Kang Li teased Kang Guoan: "Big brother, mom means that whatever decision you make, stick to it even if you have to kneel."

Kang Guoan: "I'm not really involved with your classmate!"

"That's just your perspective," Kang Li said, pausing slightly, her expression turning serious: "Big brother, sometimes being soft-hearted is good, but in certain matters, being too soft can make you appear indecisive, and that's not good."

Just like the issue with Yang Zijuan, not wanting to embarrass a female colleague, you endured your annoyance and had me pretend to be your girlfriend to help solve the problem.

Now, with the situation with Wang Pan, despite rejecting her love letters all the time, last winter break you accepted one just to prevent others from gossiping about her.

He may think it's no big deal, but what would Wang Pan think?

Kang Guoan: "Are you saying I'm indecisive?"

Kang Li raised an eyebrow: "Don't you think so? Wang Pan hasn't just started chasing you; it's been a while. She sent you love letters more than once or twice, but you always refused them, yet during last winter break, you accepted one. And haven't you been meeting every now and then?"

"..."

Kang Guoan had nothing to say.

After silently locking eyes with him for a while, Kang Li stood up: "Mom, I'm going to the study to find Luo Yanqing. You and my big brother can talk slowly."

After Kang Li left, Kang Guoan scratched his head and asked Cai Xiufen: "Did I upset Li Bao?"

"Your sister isn't that petty!" Cai Xiufen rolled her eyes at Kang Guoan and said: "I think you're not even as good as Yangyang and Xiao Hong. When Yangyang was pursued by a girl, he said he didn't want to enter a relationship too early, so he kept a cold face to her. When he got into college and saw that the girl still liked him, he had a good impression of her too. So, he didn't hesitate and tried dating the girl, and by the end of last year, they confirmed their relationship without any unnecessary fuss.

And look at Xiao Hong, although I wasn't happy at first when he suddenly announced he wanted to marry Yan Rou, and Yan Rou wasn't marrying into our family out of love for him, Xiao Hong persisted and was willing to take responsibility for his actions.

Your big brother and sister-in-law couldn't do anything but agree, and your father and I had to keep our thoughts to ourselves. Now that Yan Rou has had a child, when I saw her during the New Year, I noticed she clearly cares for Xiao Hong, and Xiao Hong's concern for Yan Rou was apparent too. The two of them are genuinely living their lives together.

And you? You're older than Yangyang and Xiao Hong, their uncle no less. First, that situation happened at your workplace, and now you're in college... Forget it, I won't say more. It's up to you. If you think that girl is good, then have a proper relationship with her."

Chapter 1090 Then Listen Carefully!

After receiving the little girl's letters, they kept meeting. Back in their hometown, if the villagers saw this, they would definitely think the two were dating!

Thinking about this, Cai Xiufen really had nothing left to say.

Study room.

"You finished your work?" After entering the study, Kang Li didn't call out to Luo Yanqing. Instead, she sat on the chair opposite his desk, resting her chin on her hand, tilting her head to look at the man.

Luo Yanqing, perhaps pondering some problem, appeared focused, his gaze fixed on the scratch paper in front of him. Holding the Parker pen that Kang Li had given him in his right hand, he hadn't even noticed her enter the room and sit just across from him.

At that moment, he wrote two lines of formulas or something else on the paper with a "swipe swipe," and his expression suddenly relaxed. As he put down the Parker pen and pinched the bridge of his nose, he heard Kang Li's voice.

"When did you come in?" Afraid that Kang Li might misunderstand, Luo Yanqing added, "You should have called out to me, so you wouldn't have to sit there idly for long."

"Idly sitting?" Kang Li's beautiful eyes smiled as she raised her right index finger, wiggling it slightly, and said with curved lips, "I'm sitting here watching you, so I'm not idly sitting at all!"

Luo Yanqing smiled somewhat helplessly, "What's so interesting to see?"

Kang Li: "You don't know?"

"Hmm."

Luo Yanqing nodded.

"Then listen up carefully!" Kang Li cleared her throat and said, "Good-looking people, no matter what they do, look good. For example, you—from your words to dining manners, everything is delightful to me. Not to mention when you're working, you're absolutely stunning!"

Upon hearing this, Luo Yanqing's face slightly warmed. He moved his lips, wanting to say something, but no words came out for a while.

Seeing this, Kang Li couldn't help but laugh aloud, "Professor Luo! Luoluo! Your skin is still so thin!"

"Xiao Li, you..."

Luo Yanqing became even more embarrassed. At this moment, his ear tips and neck were turning red.

Kang Li's beautiful eyebrows arched slightly. In her gentle voice, there was a hint of playful sweetness: "Do you know? There's a saying that a man who works seriously is the most charming. And the way you just focused on solving a problem, to me, was both charming and unbelievably handsome!"

Being teased by his little wife one sentence after another, Luo Yanqing, enduring his uneasy heart, got up from behind the desk. Before Kang Li could react, he picked her up and placed her on the desk, sitting properly.

"What... what do you want to do?"

Kang Li's eyes widened in surprise.

Luo Yanqing: "What do you think?" He leaned in closer to her. Seeing this, Kang Li placed her hands on the desk behind her, leaning back as much as possible.

"Scared?"

Luo Yanqing curved his lips into a smile. Supporting himself with both hands on the desk edges beside Kang Li's body, he leaned in close. "Hey! Stop joking around!" Kang Li glared, "Mom and little brother are in the living room! And didn't you hear Ruirui and them?"

At this point, Luo Yanqing let out a low chuckle from his throat. He stood up straight, scooping Kang Li into his arms and sitting her onto the chair, laughingly asked, "Still teasing me?"

Kang Li shook her head, "Nope." She wouldn't admit it!

Luo Yanqing: "Are you sure?" Their eyes met, his ink-like phoenix eyes looking at Kang Li's clear fox-like eyes, the curve of his lips becoming even more noticeable.

"Yes."

Kang Li nodded firmly.

Absolutely refusing to admit it, lest he "bears a grudge" and uses some other method to bother her at night!

"I heard it loud and clear."

Saying this, Luo Yanqing, with one hand tightly encircled Kang Li's waist and the other hand cupped the back of her head, and gave her a deep kiss.
