

Weak B 1201

Chapter 1201

"I am Lisha Davis..."

"Say what you need to say."

"Ten years ago... ten years ago, you and I had one night together, I wonder if you remember?" As she spoke, Miss Lily mentioned a hotel name and gave the exact date.

Upon hearing this, Jiang Boya was first taken aback, and then his expression turned very unpleasant.

Being forced by a woman for the first time in his life was a disgrace to him!

Ten years is neither long nor short, he has been avoiding thinking about that matter, and now someone brings it up face to face, what does it mean?

Raising his eyes, Jiang Boya stared straight at the woman in front of him.

"What exactly do you want to say?"

That night he drank a bit too much due to social engagements and simply stayed at the hotel.

In a daze, he felt someone pounce on him, and then...

When he woke up the next day, to be honest, he wished he could strangle the woman beside him!

What does it mean that his room door wasn't closed, what does it mean that she accidentally came in...

No matter how many excuses, it couldn't change the fact that he was taken advantage of by a woman he didn't know.

Jiang Boya stared at the other party with a gloomy face, "Miss Davis, seeking me out after ten years, could it be that you want me to take responsibility?" he practically ground his teeth as he spoke.

Miss Lily shook her head, "I want to ask you to help my son."

"Miss Davis, are you sure you're not joking? Why would your son need help from an outsider like me?" Jiang Boya sneered coldly, "You can leave now."

Upon hearing this, Miss Lily blurted out, "Half of the blood in my son's body is yours."

Stunned for a moment, Jiang Boya said expressionlessly, "So what?"

"I beg you to save Allen, he is still a child, he knows nothing, but he is sick now and needs a bone marrow match, my family and I have all tested and are unsuitable, now I can only implore you!"

For her son Allen, Miss Lily lowered herself immensely.

"Why should I do you this favor?"

Jiang Boya sneered, "Even if I forgot to close the room door that night, you trespassing is a fact, and that kind of thing happening when I wasn't conscious, the fact that I didn't hold you accountable is me being merciful, now you suddenly come to me, telling me you had my child and need me to save him, do you think I'm a good-tempered person?"

"Mr. Jiang, the child is innocent, I'm truly sorry for that night but I explained to you, I was also set up by someone..."

Tears welled up in her eyes, Miss Lily was on the verge of kneeling before Jiang Boya.

"Leave, I can't help you."

Seeing Miss Lily stand still, Jiang Boya called his assistant to come in and directly took her away.

Thinking back to the past, Miss Lily's eyes couldn't help but become moist, she thought Jiang Boya would refuse to help her Allen as he said, but unexpectedly, half a month later, Jiang Boya called her saying he would go for testing.

Yet God did not favor her Allen, Jiang Boya's bone marrow was also unusable, so she asked Jiang Boya to have Chairman Jiang tested too.

Jiang Boya ignored her and walked away quickly.

As time passed day by day, her panic and anxiety intensified, afraid that when the deadline the doctors mentioned arrived, she would lose Allen forever.

With thick skin she sought out Jiang Boya again last year, asking if he had children...

She was kicked out of the office by Jiang Boya.

Moreover, he interrupted the business cooperation with her family and suppressed her family on the market, his methods were quite ruthless.

Finally, her father stepped in personally to calm the storm she caused.

The specifics of how it was discussed, she didn't know, but it's easy to imagine: concessions of interests!

But she didn't rest her mind from saving her son Allen, she privately released word, whoever can bring news of whether Jiang Boya has children, will receive a considerable reward.

Gathering her thoughts, Miss Lily stood up, walked to the window, stood still, looked at the roses she particularly liked, and murmured, "For Allen, I don't mind kneeling down to beg you, Jiang Boya..."

Jiang family estate.

Kang Li got up and washed up, wearing a simple long dress downstairs.

"Come sit, breakfast is ready."

Jiang Hongfa saw Kang Li and invited her to breakfast, "I don't know what kind of breakfast you like, so I had the home chef make more varieties, try the flavors, if you find something you like, let Aunt Fu know, and she will instruct the chef to make it according to your taste in the future."

"No need to go to such trouble."

Chapter 1202 [Part 4]

Kang Li shook her head. She had a small bowl of wontons, then said to Jiang Hongfa, "I'm going to make a call home." Right now, in China, it's around seven thirty in the evening, so surely everyone is home.

"Go ahead."

Jiang Hongfa nodded, indicating he understood.

Standing up, Kang Li went to the living room.

Back in China.

Luo Yanqing had been sitting by the landline ever since returning to the compound from the hospital.

"Will Li Bao really call again?"

Cai Xiufen asked Kang Guoan.

"Will do, Li Bao said so on the phone with me." Kang Guoan nodded, then told Kang Yiyang and Kang Yihong, "Tomorrow morning you both return to school, did you hear me?"

Kang Yiyang: "I need to make sure Aunt is fine."

Kang Yihong echoed: "As long as Aunt is okay, I'll naturally return to school."

"I've said, from the sound of her voice, your aunt doesn't seem out of sorts. I reckon she's safe now."
Despite saying this, Kang Guoan also needed to reconfirm his precious sister's safety.

Luo Yanqing sat by the landline, lips pursed, not making a sound.

"Grandma, when do you think Mom will come back?"

This was Ming Han's voice.

"When your mom calls, we'll ask her."

Cai Xiufen couldn't fathom why the family abroad would suddenly take Kang Li away but knew there had to be something amiss, and it wasn't small.

Suddenly, the landline rang.

Before it rang a few more times, Luo Yanqing grabbed the phone, lips trembling, voice quivering, "Hello..." Confirming it was Kang Li's voice, he immediately choked, tears streaming, "I'm sorry... Xiao Li, I'm sorry..."

"Why say sorry? Idiot!"

"I..."

"Don't speak now, listen to me."

"Okay."

Luo Yanqing tightly gripped the phone, carefully listening to every word Kang Li said from the other end, after a moment, he said, "I know... Don't worry, are you okay? Yeah, I'm fine, you don't need to worry, I'm doing well... Okay, I'll do as you say..."

"... If you have something to say, say it, I'm very busy!"

Jiang Boya was dealing with documents, told by his assistant that Miss Davis wanted to see him, given there was some business cooperation with the Davis Family, Jiang Boya decided to meet.

But since Miss Lily, that is, Miss Davis was brought by the assistant to Jiang Boya's office, he didn't even raise his head to look at her.

"I am Lisha Davis..."

"If you have something to say, say it."

"Ten years ago... ten years ago you and I spent a night together, do you remember?" she said, giving a hotel's name and the exact date.

At this, Jiang Boya was first stunned, then his expression turned very unpleasant.

Being assaulted by a woman for the first time in his life was a disgrace! To him.

A decade could be long or short, he hadn't thought about the event, but now it was brought up face-to-face, what did it mean?

Raising his gaze, Jiang Boya looked intently at the woman.

"What on earth do you want to say?"

That night, due to excessive drinking from socializing, he had stayed at that hotel.

In a blur, he sensed someone on top of him, then... After waking up the next day, truthfully, he'd wanted to strangle the woman beside him!

What did it mean when she said he hadn't closed the room door, or that she entered by accident...

No excuses could change that he had been taken advantage of by a stranger.

Jiang Boya's face darkened as he looked at her, "Miss Davis, after ten years, here you are, are you seeking responsibility from me?" He almost ground out these words.

Miss Lily shook her head, "I want to ask you to help my son."

"Miss Davis, are you seriously joking with me? Your son, and he needs an outsider's help?" Mocking, Jiang Boya coldly said, "You can leave."

Tears welled up in Miss Lily's eyes, she nearly knelt before Jiang Boya.

"Leave, I can't help you."

Seeing Miss Lily stand unmoving, Jiang Boya called the assistant in to lead her away.

Reflecting on the past to this point, tears involuntarily wet Miss Lily's eyes, believing Jiang Boya would reject helping her son Allen, as he declared, yet half a month later, Jiang Boya called her to say he could go for testing.

But the Lord showed no mercy to Allen, Jiang Boya's marrow was also unusable, so she asked Jiang Boya for Director Jiang to test as well.

Jiang Boya ignored her, striding away.

Day by day the panic and unease grew inside, fearing the doctor's deadline would mean losing Allen forever.

She cheekily sought Jiang Boya again last year, asking if he had children...

She was expelled from Jiang Boya's office.

And Jiang Boya severed the commercial cooperation with her family, suppressing their family in the marketplace, in a ruthless manner.

Ultimately, her father intervened to calm the storm she caused.

The terms of the negotiation, she didn't know, but it wasn't hard to guess: relinquishing interests!

Yet she hadn't abandoned the hope of saving her son Allen, spreading the word privately, offering a substantial reward to anyone who could reveal whether Jiang Boya has children.

Gathering her thoughts, Miss Lily rose and walked to the window, fixedly gazing at her beloved roses, murmuring, "For Allen, I wouldn't mind kneeling to plead with you, Jiang Boya..."

At the Jiang family estate.

Kang Li got up to wash and dress, then descended wearing a simple, elegant long dress.

"Come sit, breakfast is ready."

Seeing Kang Li, Jiang Hongfa invited her to breakfast, "I didn't know your breakfast preferences, so I had the chef make a variety. Try it, and if you like anything, let Aunt Fu know so she can tell the chef to prepare it according to your liking in the future."

"No need for the hassle."

Kang Li shook her head. She had a small bowl of wontons, then said to Jiang Hongfa, "I'm going to make a call home." Right now, in China, it's around seven thirty in the evening, so surely everyone is home.

Kang Yihong echoed, "As long as Aunt is okay, I'll naturally return to school."

"I've said, from the sound of her voice, your aunt doesn't seem out of sorts. I reckon she's safe now." Despite saying this, Kang Guoan also needed to reconfirm his precious sister's safety.

Luo Yanqing sat by the landline, lips pursed, not making a sound.

"Grandma, when do you think Mom will come back?"

This was Ming Han's voice.

"When your mom calls, we'll ask her."

Cai Xiufen couldn't fathom why the family abroad would suddenly take Kang Li away but knew there had to be something amiss, and it wasn't small.

Suddenly, the landline rang.

Before it rang a few more times, Luo Yanqing grabbed the phone, lips trembling, voice quivering, "Hello..." Confirming it was Kang Li's voice, he immediately choked, tears streaming, "I'm sorry... Xiao Li, I'm sorry..."

"Why say sorry? Idiot!"

Chapter 1203

After listening to what Luo Yanqing said, Cai Xiufen, Kang Yiyang, Kang Yihong, and Min Rui didn't show any unusual expressions; they believed what Luo Yanqing said. However, Kang Guoan slightly frowned and asked, "How did Li Bao determine that the person taking her away was Grandma Yu's family from abroad? Did she mention this to you?"

Nodding lightly, Luo Yanqing said, "The person initially asked Li Bao for directions and casually inquired about where Grandma Yu lived. Therefore, Xiao Li learned their identity, and after hearing that Grandma Yu's only concern before she passed away, her son, had an accident, she decided to follow them."

Upon hearing this, Kang Guoan dispelled his doubts. However, he thought for a while and asked Luo Yanqing about his next plans: "What do you plan to do?"

"I will seek instructions from the leaders and arrange for two people to go abroad to protect Xiao Li." Speaking of this, Luo Yanqing paused for a moment, then continued after glancing over at Kang Guoan and the others: "Once I finish the current project, I will head over immediately. Oh, by the way, Xiao Li asked me to help her with the formalities for studying abroad; she wants to take this opportunity to complete her advanced studies while overseas."

Basically to pursue a degree.

Kang Guoan: "Did you agree?"

"Yes." Luo Yanqing nodded, a small smile appearing on his lips: "I will support all of Xiao Li's decisions! Since she wants to pursue further studies, I have no reason to stop her."

"But she'll have to stay abroad for at least two or three years." Kang Guoan said this not because he didn't support Kang Li's further studies, but because he couldn't bear the thought of not seeing his beloved sister for two or three years. On one hand, he was worried, and on the other hand, he just missed her dearly.

Moreover, compared to them as brothers missing their sister, their parents would miss her even more. Is this really okay?

Luo Yanqing: "Xiao Li said she would call and write home often." His gaze shifted to Cai Xiufen: "Mom, when I go to see Xiao Li, I'll take you and Dad with me."

"Daddy, daddy, what about me and my brother and sister?" Ming Han said pitifully, "You can't leave us behind, or I will write to Mom to complain!"

Ming Wei widened her eyes: "I will too!"

Luo Yanqing: "Don't worry, I'll take you all along."

At that moment, Ming Han's expression suddenly changed, but the others in the living room didn't notice.

"What's wrong, Da Minghan?"

"I'm about to leave."

"Huh? Are you going to be reborn?"

"Yes."

"Is Mom having a baby?"

Ming Han was sitting on the sofa, looking a bit dazed, but in truth, he was filled with joy and excitement.

"I don't know, but there's a good chance I will be Mom's child."

Da Minghan responded.

"I'll know as soon as I ask the next time Mom calls."

"What are you going to ask?"

"I'll ask if Mom has a baby in her belly; if she does, then it must be you, Da Minghan!"

"Then you ask." Da Minghan's spirit form was almost transparent, and he smiled: "Xiao Ming Han, thank you for letting me stay in your body these past few years, and thank you for your companionship. I'm very happy!"

Ming Han: "I'm happy too to have Da Minghan's company!"

"I'm going to leave now. You must study hard, and if we can be brothers in the future, you'll be my big brother. You have to set a good example for me, or I'll be embarrassed."

"Don't worry, I'm really good at studying!"

"Goodbye, Xiao Ming Han!"

"Goodbye, Da Minghan!"

As Da Minghan disappeared, the expression on Ming Han's face returned to normal, and he couldn't help but say, "Is my mom going to have a baby?"

Suddenly, the living room became so silent you could hear a pin drop.

After who knows how long, Cai Xiufen asked Ming Han: "Hanhan, what did you just say?"

Ming Han's eyes sparkled like stars, his childish voice ringing out: "Grandma, I think I'm going to have a little brother or sister!"

"Could the good news Li Bao said she was going to tell me be this?"

Cai Xiufen looked a bit astonished; she turned to Luo Yanqing: "The day before visiting you, Li Bao went out in the afternoon... When she came back, she seemed in a great mood and said she had some good news to tell me. Could this good news be that she's expecting?"

At this moment, not only was Luo Yanqing stunned, but so were Kang Guoan, Kang Yiyang, and Kang Yihong, as well as Min Rui and Ming Wei who also widened their eyes.

"Grandma, I bet the good news that Mom wants to tell you is definitely this. That day when Mom came back from outside, she was especially, especially happy!"

Ming Han spoke seriously, and to add credibility, he even nodded his little head heavily: "Grandma, believe me, I won't guess wrong!"

Chapter 1204

"To know if it's truly good news..." Cai Xiufen suppressed her immense joy and said to Luo Yanqing, "You just need to go back to the institute and take a look in Li Bao's bag."

Luo Yanqing regained his composure: "I'll head back to the institute right now." As he spoke, he prepared to stand up.

Undoubtedly, Luo Yanqing's emotions were equally stirred, though his expression didn't reveal much.

"No need to rush right this moment."

Glancing outside at the night beyond the living room and at his watch, Kang Guoan said, "It's nearing eight o'clock!" His meaning was that it was already late.

"There's a car at the courtyard."

As Luo Yanqing spoke, he picked up the phone and dialed a series of numbers. Two or three minutes later, he hung up and said, "A car will be here shortly to pick me up."

"You..."

Cai Xiufen opened her mouth but ultimately didn't say anything further.

Luo Yanqing: "Mother, everyone wants to know. A quick trip won't hurt."

"...If it's true, just call back. No need to come back to the courtyard at night."

After hesitating for a moment, Cai Xiufen instructed.

"Okay."

Luo Yanqing nodded.

The sound of a car horn came from outside the courtyard gate.

"Mother, I'm heading out." Standing up, Luo Yanqing said to Cai Xiufen, and then turned his gaze to Kang Guoan, who said, "Travel safely!"

Luo Yanqing responded with a sound and quickly left the living room.

...

On his way to the research institute, Luo Yanqing got off the car and walked towards the dormitory building.

"Group Leader Luo, did you just come from the courtyard?"

Wen Siyuan was about to take a shower when he saw Luo Yanqing walking towards him, and couldn't help but ask.

"Yes."

Luo Yanqing nodded, taking the key out of his pants pocket to unlock the door.

Beside him, Wen Siyuan's mouth twitched, eyes flashed with hesitation, and finally couldn't resist asking, "Did something happen at home?"

Upon hearing this, Luo Yanqing was stunned initially, then quickly shook his head: "No." He didn't want to disclose family matters to outsiders, to avoid spreading rumors that could negatively affect his young girl's reputation.

Of course, this didn't mean he didn't trust Comrade Wen Siyuan; it's just that he couldn't guarantee whether he'd share it with others.

Since once people have free time, they inevitably discuss things, whether important or trivial.

To avoid trouble, less is more.

Especially as Comrade Wen Siyuan's significant other and his young girl have never gotten along well. If she found out, he didn't need to think twice to predict she'd surely spread rumors.

Opening the dormitory door, Luo Yanqing glanced at Wen Siyuan: "You go ahead and handle your business." With those words, he went inside and closed the door with his hand.

Seeing Kang Li's bag, Luo Yanqing stood still for quite a while. Once he calmed his emotions, he picked up Kang Li's bag, feeling his heart race noticeably faster.

Could it be true?

Luo Yanqing's hand trembled slightly as he unzipped the bag. Then he saw a thin piece of paper.

This piece of paper was folded together. Luo Yanqing locked his gaze on it for a while, his slender, jade-like fingers trembling slightly as he took out the paper.

As if watching slow-motion playback, he gradually opened the paper, revealing a pregnancy ultrasound sheet, complete with images.

After reading every word on the ultrasound sheet, and examining the black-and-white images carefully, Luo Yanqing's eyes and nose felt a sting.

His young girl is truly expecting!

It's their child... The day she came to the institute to visit him, she was undoubtedly intending to share this good news, and he... and he mistakenly thought the young girl was fine, suggested divorce...

Tears welled up at the corners of his eyes. Luo Yanqing wiped his face and, holding the ultrasound sheet, headed outside.

"Hello, mother, it's me. Xiao Li is indeed expecting... Yes, I understand, I'll be back at the courtyard first thing in the morning... Okay, that's all, goodbye!"

After ending the call with Cai Xiufen, Luo Yanqing returned to the dorm, fetched water to wash it thoroughly, changed the sheets and quilt covers, feeling both guilty and joyous, took a shower, cleaned and aired the clothes and sheets, then lay in bed.

His guilt was undoubtedly toward Kang Li, deeply sensing that the day he suggested divorce was overly impulsive.

And his self-assuredness likely hurt his young girl.

Picking up the ultrasound sheet beside his pillow, Luo Yanqing pressed it against his heart, wishing he could appear before Kang Li immediately, to admit his mistake to his young girl.

But he knew it was not realistic.

As for Huai Xi in his heart, no need to say more, naturally because his young girl is carrying hers and his child. Though he previously agreed with what the young girl said, whether they have their own children or not should happen naturally, but deep down, he's still hoping for a little one who resembles him or her.

Chapter 1205

Of course, it would be best if she could be like her!

...

It was noon the next day.

Aoli Village.

Captain Kang was preparing to leave the office to go home for lunch when the phone suddenly rang.

"Hello, this is the Aoli Village production team, who am I speaking to?"

Picking up the receiver, Captain Kang asked.

"It's me."

Cai Xiufen's voice came from the other end of the line.

"What's going on? Did something happen to Li Bao?" Captain Kang's heart tightened, and he quickly heard Cai Xiufen start to talk about what happened to Kang Li, which made Captain Kang very anxious:

"Why didn't you call earlier?"

"How could I manage that? You old fool, if you keep losing your temper with me, I'll hang up, believe it or not."

"Something so big happened to Li Bao, and you're telling me now, aren't you being unreasonable?"

"And what could telling you do?"

"What do you mean what could it do? Li Bao is my daughter. If I knew she was missing, I would have rushed to North City immediately to look for her."

"Many people are looking for Li Bao, and considering Yanqing and Li Bao's status, the leaders directly arranged for troops and public security to search for her..."

"How is that the same? My daughter is missing, and I, as her father, didn't know, nor did I search for her. Haven't you thought that I would be worried sick?"

"Alright! I called you because I thought you might hear it from Yangyang and get anxious. Rest assured, Li Bao is doing fine now. Also, I have good news: our Li Bao is pregnant!"

"What? What did you say?"

Captain Kang's eyes widened.

"I said our Li Bao is pregnant, did you hear it clearly now?"

"But Li Bao is overseas, what should we do?"

"What's there to do? It's all arranged. Soon, two people will go abroad to protect Li Bao. Besides, Li Bao was taken abroad by Grandma Yu's relatives. Won't they take care of our Li Bao? Plus, Yanqing said he'd take me to see Li Bao abroad later..."

Cai Xiufen went on and on, but deep down, she was more worried about Kang Li's safety than anyone else, especially now that Kang Li was pregnant and couldn't afford any mishaps.

But Cai Xiufen also knew that once Kang Li decided on something, it was usually hard to change.

"Li Bao wants to study abroad, to get some kind of PhD?"

"Yes, that's what Li Bao and Yanqing said."

"This will probably take several years, right?"

"Yanqing said with Li Bao's learning ability, she can do it in two or three years."

"I see... then you have to help take good care of Ruirui and the others. Once I finish my work here... I'll go to North City with Big Brother and his wife."

"Are you still going to be the team leader?"

"I'm already this old, not as energetic as the young ones. Besides, we've already implemented the household responsibility system, and it's a good opportunity for young people to showcase their talents."

Captain Kang made it clear that he wanted to step down and give the opportunity to the younger generation to lead the villagers to prosperity.

To be honest, Captain Kang didn't really want to step down from his position. It's not because he was attached to the little power, but because he wanted to continue contributing to the village, after all, he was an organized person.

But what happened to Kang Li recently made Captain Kang make the painful decision. He had to go to North City, and hopefully later, go abroad with Luo Yanqing to see his precious daughter. When his precious daughter returns from abroad, he would stay in North City, beside his precious daughter.

Yes, he was afraid, afraid of losing this daughter, even if...

Without thinking further, Captain Kang continued speaking into the phone: "In no more than half a month, I'll leave with Big Brother and them."

Cai Xiufen: "Alright."

"When you receive another call from Li Bao, remember to remind her to take good care of herself. She's so far away; we, as parents, can't look after her easily, especially with her being pregnant. We can't afford to be careless!"

"Got it."

Cai Xiufen responded.

The two chatted a bit more before ending the call.

...

"Dad, what's wrong?"

With hands behind his back, Captain Kang walked into the main hall and sat on the bamboo chair. Seeing his father with a serious face and a troubled look, Big Brother Kang couldn't help but feel curious.

"Li Bao... Li Bao went missing half a month ago; we only got confirmed news yesterday."

"What?" Big Brother Kang was stunned. The next moment, he came to his senses, eyes full of anxiety:
"Dad, what did you say? Li Bao is missing?"

Captain Kang made a sound of acknowledgment.

"Then we must quickly go to North City to find Li Bao, Dad!"

Big Brother Kang was anxiously pacing around, about to call out to Elder sister-in-law Kang in the backyard, when Captain Kang stopped him, sounding annoyed: "Did you even listen to everything I said just now?"

Chapter 1206

Big Brother Kang: "..."

"I said the second half of the sentence, your mother and the others got definite news of Li Bao yesterday." Captain Kang looked full of disdain and continued, "No danger in the end, Li Bao is fine now. Let your wife know that after we finish up the chores at home, we'll head to North City."

"Oh."

Big Brother Kang replied.

"Li Bao will be studying abroad for two or three years. Over in North City, your brother-in-law is busy with work, and only your mother is at home taking care of Ruirui and his siblings. I'm worried she won't manage. When we get there, I'll live in the big courtyard with your mother, and you and your wife can stay in the house Li Bao bought. As for what needs to be done later, Li Bao mentioned it to you two before, just handle it yourselves."

After Captain Kang finished speaking, Big Brother Kang nodded, "I'll tell Yangyang's mom in a bit." He paused briefly, mouth slightly open, looking as if he wanted to say something but didn't. Seeing this, Captain Kang glared, "If you want to say something, just say it. What's the point of acting all coy?"

Big Brother Kang chuckled foolishly, "Dad, why did Li Bao have to go overseas to such a far place?"

"It's quite complicated, ask your mother or Little Wu when we get to North City."

Captain Kang didn't want to elaborate; he's still worried about his precious daughter.

Her health wasn't good since she was a child. Although she was well taken care of after coming to North City, suddenly getting pregnant made him happy as a father, but also concerned about whether her health could handle it.

Time flows like water, and in the blink of an eye, twenty days have passed.

During this time, Zhou Heng and Zhang Lei, along with a female comrade in her thirties, brought the overseas study procedures Luo Yanqing prepared for Kang Li and came to her side.

Whether male comrades Zhou Heng and two others or the female comrade, all three are very skilled.

But among them, Zhou Heng and Zhang Lei mainly ensure Kang Li's safety, while the female comrade named Song Sa is responsible for taking care of Kang Li's daily life closely.

"What's this..."

After dinner one night, Kang Li and Jiang Hongfa left the dining room, heading to the living room. Before sitting down, Jiang Hongfa glanced at Kang Li's slightly protruding belly, with some hesitation in his eyes, wanting to ask if she was pregnant, but he didn't voice the rest.

"Almost three months."

Kang Li gently caressed her belly, a tender expression on her face.

"The child... it must be tough for you!" Jiang Hongfa felt very emotional, knowing he not only has a granddaughter but soon will have a great-grandchild. However, he didn't let those emotions show excessively, saying, "Your pregnancy is still early, but it's already quite noticeable. So there might be more than one baby?"

"Yes."

Kang Li nodded, "There is indeed more than one."

Upon hearing this, Jiang Hongfa felt a surge of excitement again, but he maintained his composure, saying, "Being able to stay here with your father makes your grandfather genuinely happy... However, you have to take care of yourself now that you're pregnant, and make sure nothing goes wrong. By the way, when you go out, I'll arrange more bodyguards to follow you; how does that sound?"

"No need. Comrade Zhou, Comrade Zhang, and Sister Song accompanying me are already sufficient."

Kang Li said, knowing that aside from Zhou Heng, Zhang Lei, and Song Sa, there are three other black-clad bodyguards constantly by her side.

Whenever Kang Li goes out, they follow in another car, not too far or too close.

This was arranged by Jiang Hongfa, solely to ensure Kang Li's safety while outside.

"...Alright, I'll follow your wishes and not arrange more people around you."

Saying this, Jiang Hongfa decided internally to assign three more bodyguards to protect Kang Li secretly.

Firmly guarding his granddaughter and unborn great-grandchild to ensure their safety.

Kang Li returned Jiang Hongfa's smile and then sat on the sofa, picking up the newspaper to read.

After about fifteen minutes, she put down the newspaper and stood up, saying, "It's time for reading, I won't sit here with you any longer." Watching her head upstairs to the second floor until she was out of sight, Jiang Hongfa then withdrew his gaze.

He's thinking now how wonderful it would be if one of the great-grandchildren could bear the surname "Jiang."

But, he's uncertain.

Because up to now, Kang Li, his little granddaughter, hasn't acknowledged him as her grandfather, something evident from how she's called him "Old Mr. Jiang."

Jiang Hongfa feels bitter in his heart, even extremely regretful for not finding this granddaughter sooner. If he had brought her home more than ten years earlier, surely they would now enjoy harmonious family relationships, three generations together happily.

He sighed inwardly, his expression tinted with worry, afraid his wish for a great-grandchild bearing the surname "Jiang" might not come true.

On the second floor.

Kang Li entered Jiang Boya's room, switched on the bedside lamp, picked up a foreign essay collection placed at the lamp's edge, and directly translated the original text to read aloud to Jiang Boya.

"What to do now? Everything's settled; soon two comrades will go abroad to protect Li Bao. Moreover, Li Bao was taken overseas by relatives from her Grandma Yu's family; how could they not take good care of Li Bao? Besides, Yanqing promised to take me to visit Li Bao overseas later."

Cai Xiufen chatted away, though she was more worried than anyone about Kang Li's safety, especially now that Kang Li is pregnant, they can't afford any mishaps.

However, Cai Xiufen also realized that once Kang Li decided on something, it's usually hard to change.

"Li Bao is going abroad to study; for what doctoral degree?"

"Yes, that's what Li Bao mentioned to Yanqing."

"Won't it take several years?"

"Yanqing said with Li Bao's learning ability, two or three years would be enough."

"I see... Then you better help Li Bao take good care of Ruirui and his siblings. After finishing things at home, I'll go to North City with the oldest and his wife."

"Is your position as team leader still on?"

"Then let's hurry to North City to find Li Bao, Dad!"

Big Brother Kang was anxious and was about to shout out to Elder sister-in-law Kang in the backyard, then heard Captain Kang retort irritably, "Did you even fully listen to what I just said?"

Big Brother Kang: "..."

"I said the second half of the sentence, your mother and the others got definite news of Li Bao yesterday." Captain Kang looked full of disdain and continued, "No danger in the end, Li Bao is fine now. Let your wife know that after we finish up the chores at home, we'll head to North City."

"Oh."

Big Brother Kang replied.

"Li Bao will be studying abroad for two or three years. Over in North City, your brother-in-law is busy with work, and only your mother is at home taking care of Ruirui and his siblings. I'm worried she won't manage. When we get there, I'll live in the big courtyard with your mother, and you and your wife can stay in the house Li Bao bought. As for what needs to be done later, Li Bao mentioned it to you two before, just handle it yourselves."

After Captain Kang finished speaking, Big Brother Kang nodded, "I'll tell Yangyang's mom in a bit." He paused briefly, mouth slightly open, looking as if he wanted to say something but didn't. Seeing this, Captain Kang glared, "If you want to say something, just say it. What's the point of acting all coy?"

Big Brother Kang chuckled foolishly, "Dad, why did Li Bao have to go overseas to such a far place?"

"It's quite complicated, ask your mother or Little Wu when we get to North City."

Chapter 1207

Knowing he wouldn't get a response from the person on the bed, Kang Li stood up, her face unchanged: "We'll talk about this later, good night!" Just as Kang Li stepped out of the room, the middle finger of Jiang Boya's left hand moved imperceptibly, but immediately lost all motion.

"Miss, are you inside?"

At this moment, Jiang Hongfa came to Jiang Boya's bedroom door and casually asked the two bodyguards at the entrance. Upon learning Kang Li had returned to her own room, Jiang Hongfa pushed open his son Jiang Boya's bedroom door, leaning on his cane as he entered.

The door was closed from the outside, and upon reaching the bedside, Jiang Hongfa immediately said, "You brat, I have good news. Would you like to know?"

Sitting in the chair where Kang Li had previously sat, Jiang Hongfa's eyes filled with joy as he said, "Never mind, I'll just tell you. In about six months, you're going to become a grandfather. Excited, right?"

You must be very happy, after all, the little girl is your daughter. The child she is bearing is undoubtedly your biological grandchild! Truth be told, I'm also very excited, especially when I heard the little girl say she's not just carrying one child; at that moment, I was almost overwhelmed with excitement!

However, to avoid scaring the little girl, I stayed calm... But I have an idea to share with you, whether you support it or not, I'll tell you first."

With a solemn expression, Jiang Hongfa spoke clearly, "I want to wait until the little girl safely gives birth, then discuss with her whether one of the children could take our family name."

He sighed deeply, involuntarily knitting his brows: "To this day, Lili hasn't once called me grandfather, and I'm really worried she will always feel distant from us. If you say she doesn't want to acknowledge us, yet she is willing to leave her relatives back home and stay here to care for you, making time every day to talk to you, to read to you, to awaken you.

You brat, if you've slept long enough, wake up! The little girl is pregnant now, and how can you, who is about to become a grandfather, not ensure their safety before your grandchild is born?

Also, why is Ian's daughter Lisha secretly inquiring whether you had a daughter back in our country? And why did she bring Ah Mei's 'daughter' here?

Though it wasn't Ian's daughter Lisha doing it directly, that Jack is under her employ, otherwise, how would a mere errand-running lackey dare to stand before me and negotiate terms?

Ha! He claims to bring me a counterfeit granddaughter, and if I haven't guessed wrong, this granddaughter surely has something to do with Ah Mei." Speaking of this, it's necessary to mention that the "Ah Mei" Jiang Hongfa spoke of is actually Fang Su.

And Fang Su is Fang Sumei, a maid of the Jiang Residence, and the daughter of the estate's butler.

To be precise, she is the daughter of the former butler of the Jiang Residence.

After all, it's been some time since Jiang Hongfa drove Fang Huai out of the Jiang family estate.

"You brat, are you not anxious? Ian's daughter Lisha was able to find a fake from Ah Mei's side to impersonate a young lady of our Jiang Family; who knows if she will also inevitably discover Lili's existence."

The person who had been in a coma for several months had actually regained consciousness a week earlier; he could hear sounds from outside but couldn't respond, not because he didn't want to, but because he couldn't move his limbs, nor open his eyelids.

Yet today, at the moment Kang Li left Jiang Boya's room, his finger moved, and he knew he was gradually regaining bodily functions.

Honestly, Jiang Boya was extremely happy, yet also afraid.

He was happy that the daughter he sought had come to him, happy that his daughter wasn't someone else, but precisely that little girl he had once picked up on the street, named Kang Li.

As for what Jiang Boya feared, it was undoubtedly that Kang Li might leave once he awakened.

So, in a state where he couldn't respond, he wasn't in a hurry, thinking he would be able to move and make any expression he wanted once he could open his eyes.

In short, Jiang Boya had adopted a Zen-like attitude.

But now things were different; Jiang Boya was desperate, wanting to open his eyes quickly, and to tell his father, Jiang Hongfa, to ensure Kang Li's safety.

Unfortunately, no matter how anxious he was in his heart, he couldn't move his limbs or lift his eyelids. What use was that?

But Jiang Boya didn't give up; under the strong control of his will, he managed to make not only his left middle finger twitch slightly, but also his eyelids move.

Perhaps the desire to awaken was too strong, as the heart monitor attached to Jiang Boya started beeping alarms. Instantly, Jiang Hongfa's heart raced with panic; he stood up hurriedly, leaning on his cane as he quickly made his way to the room's door.

Chapter 1208

"Quick! Quickly call Doctor George over!"

Opening the door, Jiang Hongfa immediately spoke to one of the two bodyguards.

Inside the room, Jiang Boya was struggling with all his might against his physical limitations, wanting to move freely right away, to call out to Jiang Hongfa, and tell him to absolutely not let Ian's daughter Lisha know about Kang Li's existence.

The reason for this was merely because Jiang Boya knew what Lisha, this woman, would do after confirming Kang Li's identity.

Watching the bodyguard walk away, Jiang Hongfa turned back into Jiang Boya's room, and his eyes widened, face full of surprise.

Yes, it was surprise.

Because Jiang Hongfa saw his son Jiang Boya slowly raise his hand, saw his eyelids twitching, and saw Jiang Boya slowly open his eyes.

"You brat, you're awake?!"

Upon hearing this from Jiang Hongfa, Jiang Boya wanted to roll his eyes in irritation.

His daughter might be in danger, if he doesn't wake up now, when will he? Besides, his grandson will be born in a few months, and as a grandfather, he must wake up quickly to take care of his daughter and the small grandchild in her belly, protecting them from any harm.

It must be said that in Jiang Boya's mind, there's no such thing as a grandson.

His daughter is his, so the child his daughter gives birth to naturally should call him grandpa or grandfather, not any terms like maternal grandpa.

"Did you wake up because you're so happy? Knowing you're soon to be a grandfather, you're too happy and woke up, am I right?"

"...Water..."

Jiang Boya's voice sounded like it was scraping out.

"Hold on, Dad will bring you some water."

Confirming he wasn't hallucinating or mistaken, Jiang Hongfa was overwhelmingly excited, dispensing with his cane, poured half a cup of hot water, added some cool boiled water and then came to Jiang Boya's bedside, lifting his son up, he said, "Come, drink from Dad's hand."

At this moment, the door was pushed open from outside, and familiar footsteps approached, Jiang Boya suddenly made a decision, when the person neared, his gaze grew blurry, staring directly at Kang Li, he asked Jiang Hongfa: "Old man, who is this?"

"You called me old man?"

Jiang Hongfa didn't understand Jiang Boya's intent, his face fell immediately: "Look closely, what relation is this old man to you?"

"I don't recognize you."

Jiang Boya shook his head, his face entirely innocent.

Upon seeing this, Jiang Hongfa, the old fox in the business world, surely understood his son's meaning, he asked: "Do you know what your own name is?" This brat wanted to feign amnesia in front of the young girl, fine, he would cooperate.

Jiang Hongfa knew Jiang Boya wouldn't act recklessly without a reason.

"Old Mr. Jiang, Mr. Jiang, what's this..."

Blinking his bright fox-like eyes, Kang Li couldn't help but ask Jiang Hongfa.

"I suspect your father might have forgotten some things." Jiang Hongfa said, as three more people entered from outside, one of whom was Doctor George, and the other two were nurses.

As time ticked away, Doctor George performed a thorough examination on Jiang Boya and gave his diagnosis.

Jiang Boya had amnesia, but not complete amnesia; it's selective. For instance, he remembers things learned from childhood through university, but doesn't recall having any relatives.

However, at the moment Doctor George provided this diagnosis, Jiang Boya suddenly said, "Daughter, I want to find my daughter, her name is... her name is Lili, yes, my daughter's name is that!"

Before Doctor George could say anything, Jiang Hongfa patched things up for Jiang Boya, saying, "My son was on his way to the airport before his car accident, intent on flying back to find his daughter, because of this matter, he often argued with me at home."

Doctor George: "From a medical standpoint, finding his daughter is very important for the patient, hence, even though he lost part of his memory, he remembers wanting to find his child."

"I've realized, in his memory, my presence feels relatively minimal, probably due to the numerous arguments we've had over the years, hence in the forgotten portion of his memory, he included forgetting me as the father."

Jiang Hongfa said this, and then asked Doctor George: "Does my son have any other abnormalities?"

Doctor George nodded: "In the upcoming period, he needs to rest well!"

Jiang Hongfa further asked: "Is there any chance my son can recover the lost portion of his memory?"

"The human brain structure is complex, whether it can be restored, that can't be predicted."

Chapter 1209

"Can't say for sure?"

"Yeah. Just don't know whether it'll be today, tomorrow, or some day later it'll suddenly return; or if it might never be remembered for the rest of life."

"Thank you, I understand."

Kang Li expressed gratitude.

Doctor George: "No need to be polite, it's my duty." After speaking, Doctor George mentioned a few points of caution and left with the two nurses.

Now, in the room, only Kang Li, Jiang Hongfa, and Jiang Boya remained.

"Old man, you still haven't told me who she is."

"My granddaughter, your daughter."

Suddenly, Jiang Boya clutched his head, looking very pained. Moments later, he looked dazed and pointed at Kang Li: "Like... like my mom..."

"You remembered your mother?"

Jiang Hongfa's eyes showed delight, practically the Drama King in action.

Alright, including Jiang Boya, the duo's performance in front of Kang Li was worthy of Drama Kings.

"Yeah."

Jiang Boya nodded.

Jiang Hongfa: "Do you still remember your mother?"

Jiang Boya nodded again.

"Seems like, among the family, you've only forgotten me as your father." Jiang Hongfa looked dejected, recounted how he arranged Lawyer Wang to find Kang Li domestically, and why Kang Li was present, telling Jiang Boya all of it.

After his speech finished, Jiang Boya smiled and looked at Kang Li: "Love the daughter, I love daughters!"

"Old Mr. Jiang, wouldn't you want Doctor George to check Mr. Jiang again, I feel like his intelligence might be problematic."

Hearing Kang Li's words, Jiang Hongfa almost couldn't hold back his laughter.

While Jiang Boya only felt like "the cold wind blows over Yi River."

Is the daughter calling him silly?

But it doesn't seem that way, the young lady's gaze was sincere, purely worried his brain had issues, not thinking him a fool... Jiang Boya analyzed this and yet inexplicably felt Kang Li did think he was a silly fool.

"Don't mind, your father's current state is probably due to losing part of his memory, so his words and actions appear rather childish,"

Kang Li's eyes showed a bit of doubt, she quietly watched Jiang Boya for a while, said "Oh" to indicate understanding, and then said: "You two chat, I'll go rest in the room."

Watching her figure disappear out the door, Jiang Hongfa glared, lowered his voice and asked: "Aren't you old enough, why acting emotional in front of your kid?"

Jiang Boya, looking weak, lay back on the bed: "I'm so tired, you can leave now."

"I'm not leaving until it's clear."

Jiang Hongfa didn't move from his seat.

"If you want to sit, keep sitting then."

What can he act emotionally for?

Isn't it just wanting to gain sympathy and get closer to the daughter!

Hearing Jiang Hongfa's words, Jiang Boya really wanted to roll his eyes uncouthly.

His daughter will be in danger, when will he wake up if not now? Moreover, his grandchild will be born in a few months, as a grandfather, he must wake fast, taking care of daughter and grandson in the belly, protecting them from slightest harm from others.

It must be said, in Jiang Boya's mind, there's no such thing as a grandson.

Daughter is his, so the child daughter gives birth to naturally calls him grandpa or grandfather, not using names like granddad from mother's side.

"You woke up out of happiness? Knowing you'll soon be a maternal grandfather, and the happiness woke you, am I right?"

"...water..."

Jiang Boya's voice sounded like it came from a saw.

"Hang on, Dad will get you some water now."

Determining he wasn't hallucinating or seeing things, Jiang Hongfa was overwhelmingly excited, didn't even bother with his cane, poured half a cup of hot water and mixed with a bit of cool white boiled water, and came to Jiang Boya's bed, lifting his son, he said: "Come drink from Dad's hand."

At this moment, the door was pushed open from outside, familiar footsteps approached, Jiang Boya made a decision suddenly, when the person neared, his gaze was puzzled, looked straight at Kang Li, and asked Jiang Hongfa: "Old man, who's this?"

"You're calling me old man?"

Jiang Hongfa didn't catch Jiang Boya's meaning, face fell immediately: "Take a closer look, what am I to you as this old man?"

"I'm listening, in his memory, my presence is quite low, should be due to our father-son disputes over many years, hence, in the part of memory forgotten, included me as the father."

Jiang Hongfa mentioned this and asked Doctor George: "Any other anomalies with my son?"

Doctor George nodded: "The coming period needs careful rest."

Doctor George nodded: "The coming period needs careful rest."

Chapter 1210

Jiang Hongfa looked solemn: "Have you ever considered the consequences if she finds out that we've already found Lili?"

"I will protect my daughter!"

Jiang Boya lay on his back, staring at the ceiling, still refraining from telling Jiang Hongfa about that incident which was extremely humiliating to him. Seeing Jiang Hongfa's impenetrable demeanor, Jiang Hongfa could only feel helpless and persuasively said:

"Even a tiger takes a nap. Although I have arranged for bodyguards to protect Lili both openly and secretly, and her lover from our country has also arranged three security personnel to closely follow her in daily life, but what if something happens?

What if the Davis family's young lady finds out about Lili and confirms her identity, and uses underhanded means to abduct Lili? By then, it will be too late for us to regret!"

"Do you want a grandson or a granddaughter?" As soon as Jiang Boya said this, almost instantly, he saw Jiang Hongfa freeze, but he showed no abnormality and instead looked at Jiang Hongfa: "I want the truth. You can only choose one between a grandson and a granddaughter."

Being the seasoned player in the business world that he was, how could Jiang Hongfa not realize that Jiang Boya was setting a trap for him? Moreover, he inexplicably sensed a wave of crisis approaching him, so without thinking, he replied directly:

"Of course, I want my granddaughter! Although Lili has not yet acknowledged me as her grandfather, I am fully aware of how outstanding she is. Why would I want some silly grandson when I have such a wonderful granddaughter?"

"Are you sure?"

Jiang Boya stared unblinkingly at his father, Jiang Hongfa.

"Do you want your father to swear an oath?"

Jiang Hongfa looked serious, glaring at Jiang Boya.

"There's no need for that." Jiang Boya shook his head. "But before I tell you about the events between me and the Davis family's young lady, I can confidently tell you that for me, there will always only be Lili as my child."

Hearing this, Jiang Hongfa roughly guessed what Jiang Boya was about to say, but he showed no surprise on his face and replied, "Don't worry, you're my only son. Whatever you say goes, I won't object."

Jiang Boya remained silent. He looked at Jiang Hongfa for a long time, then recounted the entanglements he had with Lisha Davis many years ago, and finally, with a low, emotionless voice, said, "Whether it was unexpected, I won't pursue it any longer. She had a child behind my back... that's her own business. When she found out the child was sick, she came to me for help.

Out of ordinary kindness, I went for a test, but the results couldn't help her... When she approached me again, trying to get me to ask you to do a test too, I refused. She was relentless, even asking if I had children. At that moment, if I hadn't considered she was a woman, I would have wanted to strangle her."

"Is that why you terminated the business cooperation with the Davis family?"

Jiang Hongfa asked, although he already knew the answer in his heart.

"Since she dared target my child, she should bear my revenge!" When Jiang Boya said this, he asked Jiang Hongfa: "What was it about that impersonator you mentioned earlier?"

Upon hearing this, Jiang Hongfa did not conceal anything. He explained to Jiang Boya everything that Lawyer Wang had discovered domestically, as well as the meeting with Fang Su.

After a long silence without hearing Jiang Boya speak, Jiang Hongfa said: "I've told you long ago, that woman is no good, but you were blinded and wouldn't listen to me. Do you have anything to say now?"

Jiang Boya's lips were tightly pressed, still not speaking.